CASTE CHOSEN FOR SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY

Post-Lenten Event to Take Place in the Casino for Sweet Charity.

TAMING OF THE SHREW

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS IN LEADING ROLES.

The Dancing Will be in Charge of Lewis G. Timpson—Twelve Couples in the Wedding March—To be Produced During April.

When society resumes its activity after the close of the Lenten season, one of the happenings which will attract much attention in local social circles will be the production of "The Taming of the Shrew" by local amateurs. The leading roles will be played by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Saunders, who have already been very successful in their previous dramatic appearances. Selections has been made of those who are to assist them and the list includes a number who have already participated in local theatricals. This list is now announced:

Baptista, a rich gentleman of Padua .....William R. Cock
Vincentio, an old gentleman of Pisa .....Chas. H. Lyman
Lucentio, his son, in love with Bianca .....H. M. Curtis
Petruchio, a gentleman of Verona.... .....W. L. Saunders
Cremio, Hortensio, | Suitors to Bianca.....
..... | Geo. S. Ring, Wm. T. Pelletier
Tranio, Biondello, | Servants to Lucentio,....
..... | Clifford W. McGee Chas. E. Faber
Grumio—Servant to Petruchio, Laurens H. VanBuren
A pedant, set up to personate Vincentio.....Chas. B. Morse
Katharina, Bianca, | Daughters to Baptista..
..... | Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Miss Nanon West
A widow.....Mrs. Clifford W. McGee
Curtis.....Mrs. F. W. Iredell
A tailor.....Allen B. Laing
Servants ..... | James Dodd, A. Willis West, William Rushmore, Herbert S. Rogers

Stage settings and properties—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis and Miss F. E. Kenyon.

It was originally intended to give the Shakespearean play in the new hall of the Park Club but the demands of the comedy made it necessary to utilize the larger stage at the Casino where the performance will now be given. The date has not yet been selected but it will be late in the month of April.

In addition to the cast already given, there will be twelve couples of "lords and ladies" in the wedding dance and in a minute at the end of the last act. The dancing will be in charge of Lewis G. Timpson. The affair will be given for a charitable object.

Alfred Young, a well-known dramatic expert and Shakespearean scholar, of New York, will coach the members of the cast.

MISSING CANNON.

"Little Giant," Used to Celebrate Democratic Victories Here, is Missing.

A question that is seriously agitating the minds of local Democracy just now is the whereabouts of the famous cannon that has been used for so many years in political campaigns. The "little giant," as the cannon was familiarly known, has not in recent years been overworked.

It happened that the cannon was wanted during the McClellan-Low campaign in New York. Frank Voeseller, formerly of this city, who is now a resident of one of the wards in New York, used his influence to secure a loan of the piece and after much persuasion succeeded in getting it. The cannon was forgotten until a few days ago. James E. Martine raised the question as to its whereabouts. No one could give the desired information and it has been suggested that a committee from the Democratic Club be appointed to visit New York and make a search for the missing property.

Democratic Club's Headquarters.

The Democratic Club has leased the I. O. T. Club rooms as a place for holding meetings, the club being forced to give up its quarters in East Second street. The new arrangement will not effect the I. O. T. Club in any way.

FIRST BIRTHDAY IN 8 YEARS

ERNEST F. LOWE AT LAST GETS OPPORTUNITY TO CELEBRATE THE EVENT.

A party was attended by about thirty young people last night at the home of Ernest Franklin Lowe, of Fairview avenue, in honor of the first anniversary day of his birth, although Master Lowe is eight years old. The evening was pleasantly spent by the young people in playing games and at a late hour refreshments were served. The house was decorated with flags and flowers, many of the latter being gifts from his playmates. Prizes were offered for the winners of the various games and the successful ones were: Margorie Hart, Lucille Ewart, Alfred Korff and William Woodruff. The birthday cake concealed a ring and a silver pin. The former was discovered by Miss Mamie Caldwell and the latter by Harold Tomlinson.

Among those present were Marjorie Burtis, Dorothy Neal, Hazel Hyatt, Marion Phillips, Margaret Woolston, Lucille Ewart, Ethel Ewart, Elsie Schwed, Burnise McClintock, Miss Browning, Helen Adams, E. Lowe, R. Lowe, Anna Anderson, Marion Feustman, Florence Berkman, M. Berkman, Mary Buchanan, Francis Caldwell, Charles Beckman, Eddie Windham, William Woodruff, Arthur Woodruff, Leon VanZant, Harold Tomlinson, Edmond Kinney, Valentine Goldsmith, Alfred Korff and Bernard Feustman.

The little host was born on February 29, 1896. That day has not been on the calender for eight years and consequently it was his first birthday.

CRITERION GIRLS' DANCE

LEAP YEAR AFFAIR HELD IN THE COWARD BUILDING LAST NIGHT.

The Criterion girls gave a leap year dance last night in the Coward building on Park avenue, which was one of the most successful ever given by these young women. There were about thirty couples present.

The women invited their escorts. The dancing began at 8 o'clock and ceased at midnight. The affair was arranged by a committee of three young women, the chairman of which was Miss Grace Rowland. The patronesses were Mrs. John H. Rowland, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Peter A. VanFleet. So successful was the affair last night that the young women plan to hold another in April.

DAYTONA DAYS.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward White Add to the Number of Jolly Outings Which Plainfielders Are Enjoying.

Plainfielders at Southern resorts are having a jolly time these days, an instance of their delightful outings being a pleasant time which a party sojourning at Daytona enjoyed on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward White, who are staying at their house boat on the Halifax river, entertained a merry company of Plainfielders on the fastest launch which Mr. White could procure. When the Halifax inlet was reached the boat was made fast and the entire party stepped ashore to see the beach. Incidently a picture of the entire group in an authomobile was taken and afterwards an excellent luncheon was served. The nose of the launch was turned about and after a fast run to Daytona, Mr. and Mrs. White entertained the Plainfielders aboard their commodious house boat. The company from the Queen City of New Jersey was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Edward White, Mrs. Gorton and daughter, Miss Evelyn Gorton, Miss Ida Recap, Mrs. Mary Moore, Miss Ernestine C. Smith, Miss Lillian A. Force and Edward J. Cooley, Miss Combs, of Vermont, and Miss Parmenter, of Illinois, were also guests.

Star Course Entertainment.

The next event in the Star Entertainment Course at the Y. M. C. A. will be "An Original Idea," a combination of wit, wisdom and humor, to be presented Thursday, April 14, by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Labadie. Performances on the banjo and mandolin will be given by Fred and William VanEps, with William E. MacClymont accompanist.

Criterion's Last Dance.

The last dance of the Criterion Club, of this city, will be held on Thursday night, March 24. It is planned to hold the affair at the Casino.

—Mr. L. W. Randolph, of 143 W. Front St., has a wonderful cure for coughs and colds called "Electricura." It will pay you to try it. Only costs 50 cents.

BUDGET FIXED FOR THE BOROUGH SCHOOL

North Plainfield Public Institution Will Require $17,810 for Current Expenses.

AN INCREASE OF $2,000

ANOTHER PIANO AND MORE TYPEWRITERS ARE NEEEED.

Manual Training Department Will Need $1,970 for Next Year—Clock Programme System May be Adopted—Bills Ordered Paid.

Only routine business occupied the attention of the North Plainfield Board of Education at the meeting held last night. But little was said regarding the location of a new site for the proposed school house and the only thing of importance transacted was the announcement of the budget for the coming year by John Valiant, chairman of the finance committee.

The amount required next year will be $17,810. This is about $2,000 more than the budget last year. The amount for manual training department will be $1,970 and for the general fund $15,840.

In fixing the new budget several additions to the general school equipment were considered. Among these was the installation of one of the new clock programme systems. This will cost about $225. The need of a new piano was also discussed and also the matter of furnishing two class-rooms with single desks. Three new typewriters were ordered purchased for the commercial department.

On account of the illness of District Clerk Robert Fountain, Hiram Woodruff was chosen secretary of last night's session. A report of the total receipts of the year was submitted by Supervising Principal Homer J. Wightman, showing the expenditures of the year as secured from Mr. Fountain's books. As there were several additions yet to be made, the report was not complete and will not be made public at present.

Miscellaneous bills amountiong to $3,028.16 were ordered paid.

COBBLER'S SHOP DESTROYED

FIREMEN ARRIVED JUST IN TIME TO SAVE MARTINE BUILDING.

The shoemaker's shop next to the Martine building on West Front street and all its contents were ruined by fire which started last night at 10:40 o'clock. The shop is merely the space between two buildings roofed over. It was occupied by Morris Deitz, a shoemaker, and owned by James E. Martine.

Chief Doane thinks that the fire caught in some way from the stove. It was under such headway when the apparatus arrived, in response to an alarm from box 12, rung in by W. S. Ayers, that there was no hope of saving the shop and the firemen devoted their attention to preventing the flames from spreading to the buildings on either side. In this they were successful. The loss to the building and contents was $200 covered by insurance.

One of the most remarkable features of the fire was the quick response of the firemen. They were on the spot almost as soon as the alarm had ceased sounding for the first time.

A strange fact in connection with the fire was that the ceiling of the building was left almost untouched by the flames.

For Rural Delivery.

Persons living in the vicinity of Watchung, Warrenville and Martinsville are now interesting themselves in securing a Rural Free Delivery. Former Assemblyman Cooper is taking the lead in the matter of securing signers for the improvement in the delivery of mail and there seems to be no doubt but what the postal authorities will eventually grant the request.

Quietly Married.

A quiet wedding was celebrated last night at the residence of Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel. The principals were Edward A. McConville, of White Plains, N. Y., and Mrs. Melle Rountree, of Grove street. A reception was later held at the home of the bride, and after a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. McConville will reside at White Plains.

King's Daughters Meeting.

The Executive Board of the City Union of King's Daughters will hold a meeting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

LATEST WAR DISPATCHES

The terrific bombardment of Port Arthur by the Japanese continues today; according to a dispatch from Yinkow. The great stronghold cannot last much longer. It is now believed that Port Arthur will fall into the hands of the Japanese before the day is over. The reply of the Russian guns is not as vigorous or heavy today as during yesterday's bombardment, because the remnant of the Russian fleet has been put out of commission. During the attack yesterday the Russian cruisers Novik, Askold and Bayan—the only movable ships remaining—were compelled to run back into the harbor.

PLAINFIELD Y. M. C. A. TEAM BADLY BEATEN

Brooklyn Central Association's Aggregation Easily Vanquished Local Team.

PLAINFIELD NOT IN IT

THE SCORE WAS THIRTY-SEVEN TO TWENTY.

Crack Team of Metropolitan District Played Well—Home Five Needed Practice—The Detailed Score.

Decisive defeat was the portion of the local Y. M. C. A. basket ball five in its game last night with Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., one of the crack teams of the Metropolitan district. Plainfield never had a show to win. She was up against a stronger team and, to add to the painfulness of the situation, was suffering from a woeful lack of practise. The Brooklyn men were the better shots and their team work was far superior. They eluded Plainfield's attempts at guarding with ease and never tried for a basket unless they had dodged their opponents for a clear field. The score was 37 to 20, 18 to 11 at the end of the first half. The summary:

Brooklyn Central—A. Behrens and Boggs, forwards; B. Behrens, centre; Bogle and Salman, guards. Plainfield—Denton and Hand, forwards; Cahoone, centre; Scull and Neal, guards. Goals from the floor—A. Behrens, 3; Boggs, 4; B. Behrens, 2; Bogle, 4; Salmon, 5; Denton, 2; Hand, Cahoone, 2; Scull. Goals from fouls—B. Behrens, Denton, 3; Hand, 8; Cahoone, 2. Referee—C. B. Morse. Umpire—S. K. Saunders, physical director of Brooklyn. Timers—W. Deane and Dr. W. Kempton Browning. Scorer—John Doane. Time—20-min. periods.

READY FOR ARGUMENT.

Mayor Smalley and Others Will be at Borough Republican Headquarters Tonight.

An invitation has been extended to all voters in the borough to make their general headquarters during this week at the store of John McDonough at the corner of Somerset and Race streets, where Mayor Smalley and other prominent Republicans will be present to discuss the issues of the present campaign.

The first meeting will be held tonight and prominent voters will be present to make addresses. Mayor Smalley will be there to debate any question with any Republican who is dissatisfied with the present administration or who believes the best interests of the borough will be served by the election of any other candidate outside of the Republican ticket. Everybody will be welcome.

Swackhamer's Bill.

Bill No. 264, in the House of Assembly, has been introduced by Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of Somerset county. It provides for an appeal from a recorder's court in boroughs. It has been referred to the committee on boroughs and borough commissions. This bill is the outcome of the trouble between John Goodwin and the Mayor and Common Council of North Plainfield.

COMPANY K'S FAIR COMES TO A CLOSE

Successful Bazaar Conducted by Local Soldier Boys Will Net About $550.

LAST NIGHT'S EVENTS

NEW YORK MAN WON THE HANDSOME SEWING MACHINE.

A Record Breaking Attendance—Walter Ells Won the $5 Gold Piece—Dancing a Feature—A Meeting Thursday.

The fair of Company K, Second Regiment, came to a close last night, after a most successful run of a week. Each night the attendance was larger than the previous one and last night was a record-breaker for attendance, there being at least one thousand people present. There were 460 tickets sold at the door, exclusive of the season tickets used. Of course, dancing was the feature of the evening, a large number taking advantage of this form of amusement.

Considerable interest was manifested in the drawing of the ticket for the sewing machine. No. 505 was the lucky number. It was learned that Percy Clark, of Co. K, bought this ticket and sold it to a man in New York. His name will be announced tomorrow. Walter Ells won the $5 gold piece, and J. Bailey won the dollar for making the highest possible score on the parlor bowling alley. His score was 150. Several other articles were disposed of and before the fair closed a successful auction was held. Everything was then disposed of at good prices.

The dancing was continued until 2 o'clock, when to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" the happy, but weary dancers reluctantly departed for their homes. In all respects the fair was considered a model one, the management being successful in carrying out the details of the plans. The chairmen of the sub-committees will meet at the armory on Thursday night to settle accounts. It is believed that at least $550 was realized as net profit.

TROLLEYMEN PETITION P. S. C.

MEN ON ELIZABETH-PLAINFIELD LINE WANT A STARTER OUSTED.

Although it is denied by officials, the trolleymen on the Elizabeth-Plainfield line of the Public Service Corporation have been getting more and more discontented at the treatment said to be accorded them by Charles Howard, a starter at the Westfield Junction. This discontentment culminated last week in a petition being sent to President Thomas N. McCarter, of the P. S. C., asking him to remove Mr. Howard.

The petition which is now in the hands of the President contains this complaint: "Our reason for submitting this petition to your kind consideration is that Starter Howard is not fit to fill the place and his behavior is anything but that of a gentleman and in our opinion is a detriment to the interests of the company. He is not only bulldozing the men with unjust treatment, showing favoritism to one, and casting reflections upon the whole system and interests of the company."

Fuel Saving Device.

Fred Wilcox, of Dunellen, has patented a combination device for a kitchen range whereby the whole house can be heated by it the same as from a furnace in the cellar. He claims that the arrangements will save fully one-half of a year's supply of fuel, the one stove being able to do the work of a furnace or several stoves.

Two Bad Boys.

Harry Bowser and George Sadler, colored, arrested yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Annie Bryniarski who charged them with preventing her children from going to school by throwing stones at them from a railroad bridge, were sentenced to a $5 fine or twenty days in jail this morning by City Judge Runyon.

Addition to Force.

Archibald Hacquer, who has been engaged on the reportorial staff of the Courier-News, of this city, for some time, will become a member of The Daily Press reportorial staff on Monday. Mr. Hacquer is a good newspaper man and possesses a polished style of writing, which makes him of special value.

SCRAPPERS HALED TO COURT

TWO DRUNKEN TOUGHS FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT AT FIRE.

While the fire was in progress on West Front street last night a struggle between two drunken toughs and Patrolman Overbaugh contributed much excitement. John Callahan and David McLernon were the "scrappers." Callahan was fined $10 by City Judge Runyon this morning for fighting and resisting arrest, and McLernon was fined $5, for being disorderly and interfering with an officer.

The fight started when Private Weaver, a member of Company K, slipped on the sidewalk near the scene of the fire and accidentally tripped Callahan, who immediately became pugnacious. When Patrolman Overbaugh pulled him away and placed him under arrest, Callahan transferred his attentions to the officer and struggled wildly to get free all the way along West Front street to the police station. To add to the officer's troubles he was obliged to arrest David McLernon, who insisted upon having a hand in the fray.

In his struggles to break away, Callahan tripped and patrolman and the two rolled around in the mud several times before the officer could quiet his prisoner and get him caged. Mr. Weaver was in no way responsible for the fight.

WARREN CO.'S LAST MEETING

VOLUNTEER FIRE LADDIES TO HOLD FINAL REGULAR SESSION TONIGHT.

Warren Engine Company holds its last regular monthly meeting in the headquarters on Somerset street tonight. The company will disband, according to the present programme, on March 15, but no action regarding the future of the company will be taken at tonight's meeting. It is expected that a large representation of the members will be present as the final payment of bills will come up.

A special session will probably be called after the meeting of the Common Council Friday night and at that time whatever action is to be taken by the members of the company in the proposition to reorganize into a social organization will come up then. The date for this meeting has not been set. The company has already organized an exempt association and now many of the members are in favor of organizing for social advantages, with a view primarily of taking a hand in the mayoralty election next year.

MRS. HURLBURT DEAD.

Wife of J. B. Hurlburt Dies After Long Suffering With Rheumatism and Weak Heart.

Mrs. Eugenia E. Hurlburt, wife of Joseph Burton Hurlburt, foreman of the job department of The Daily Press, died suddenly at her home, 30 Lincoln place, yesterday afternoon. She passed peacefully away while asleep after suffering with rheumatism and heart weakness for ten years. The terrible affliction she bore patiently during the many years of her suffering.

Mrs. Hurlburt was a resident of this city for many years and was a teacher in the public schools here for a long time. She was a Miss Eugenia Mulford before her marriage. She is survived by her husband and two children, Mrs. C. G. Wood, of this city, and Mrs. J. E. Cobb, of Dickinson, North Dakota. Mrs. Hurlburt is also survived by three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapin, Mrs. Andrew Lutkins and Mrs. L. A. Hummer, and Mahlon T. Mulford. Mrs. Hurlburt was a member of the Congregational church.

The funeral will be held from her late residence, 30 Lincoln place, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Plainfielder Arrested.

John Long, of this city, got into the wrong house at Cranford Sunday night, when he was found in the hallway of the Fett building on North avenue. The stranger frightened one of the colored women tenants, who screamed for help. Long was arrested by Policeman William Hennessey. He refused to pay $3 and costs in Judge Mendell's court yesterday morning and was therefore sent down to the county jail for ten days. On entering the jail he reconsidered his determination not to pay the fine demanded, handed over the amount of the fine and costs, and was permitted to go his own way.

—There is a report that a newspaper will soon be started at East Millstone.

ANNUAL RECEPTION OF KNIGHTS' TEMPLAR

Members of Trinity Commandery Appropriately Observe "Ladies' Night."

A FINE PROGRAMME

THE COLLATION WAS SERVED BY W. W. WARNOCK.

H. W. Marshall Was the Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements—The Reception Committee.

"Ladies' Night" appropriately observed last night, the odd day of 1904, was celebrated by Trinity Commandery, No. 17, Knights Templar, with the presentation of a delightful musical programme in their rooms in the Babcock building and the serving of an excellent collation. There were about 160 knights and their ladies present. The guests were received by a committee consisting of Sir Samuel Bingaman, Eminent Commander; Eminent Sir Jacob Kirkner, grand generalissimo; Right Eminent Sir Daniel C. Adams, grand commander.

The programme began with selections on the organ by Sir Knight W. E. MacClymont, followed by "Water Lily," rendered by the Enterpean Quartette consisting of Elmer Cutting and Maxwell Honeyman, tenors; Mr. Lewis, baritone; Sidney Titeworth, bass; C. A. Braider, accompanist. "The Swing," Brooks, and song, "Thursday," were given by J. Williams Macy, as were also several other songs, "The Little Hero," "The Young Man Waited," "Silly Billy," "The Goose," "The Whistling Boy" and "The Colored Lochinvar," all of which proved popular.

A string quartette with piano rendered two selections. The quintette consisted of M. A. Audsley, R. Higham and D. W. Winckler, violins; G. W. V. Moy, violin; C. K. Shupp, 'cello; V. Sokol, piano. Other numbers by Mr. MacClymont, the Enterpean Quartette and string quintette, completed the programme.

After the entertainment refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

The committee of arrangements consisted of H. W. Marshall, chairman; James A. Stafford, Samuel Bingaman, Jacob Kirkner, Nelson Y. Dungan, Bogart T. Conklin, William E. MacClymont and Lemuel B. Woolston.

DRESSMAKERS' CONVENTION.

The preparations for the exhibition of French gowns, which is to be the opening feature of the Dressmakers' Convention in the Masonic Temple, Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue, New York, today were in full swing. Of pale blue embroidered batiste, one of the striking gowns of the collection is a garden party model. The skirt is in graduated shirrings to the waist, the lowest shirring falling out into a graceful puff just above the finishing flounce. The dainty blouse is covered by a Zouave jacket of pale blue embroidery with insertions of white valenciennes lace, which also falls in a cascade down the front of the bodice. The sash of silk shaded from white to deep blue is caught in sunflower knots.

Another charming frock for the coming summer is in pink batiste. Tucks of varied depths form the skirt, which is overlaid by panels of English eyelet embroidery in the same color, with a point of white lace at the edge. The same effect is repeated in the round bodice, the embroidery rising to the high stock. The crush girdle is of pink shaded silk.

J. C. Kinney Buried.

The funeral services of John C. Kinney were held last night at 8 o'clock from the late home, 16 Grandview avenue. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, assisted by Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp, had charge of the services. There were present many friends and neighbors and there were also a number of floral tributes. The interment will take place today at Readington, N. J.

Y. M. C. A. Orchestra Affair.

Fifteen members of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. orchestra will go to Ridgewood Monday, March 14, to give a concert with the Ridgewood Y. M. C. A. orchestra. JAPS ATTACK AGAIN

Admiral Togo's Fleet Hammers Port Arthur.

CZAR'S SHIPS RETREAT, BATTERED

Japanese Squadron Ordered to Attack and Capture Stronghold Today at All Costs—Tokyo Claims Victory In First Land Fight.

LONDON, March 1.—A dispatch from Yinkow says:

"Fifteen Japanese warships furiously bombarded Port Arthur from 10 until 12 o'clock noon yesterday. The Russian cruisers Novik, Askold and Bayan, accompanied by four torpedo boats, steamed out to meet the attack. They were, however, forced to retire. The Askold was in a sinking condition. The Novik was badly damaged, and a torpedo boat was sunk. The Russian battleship Retvizan was again damaged. The Japanese withdrew in good order."

A Tokyo report says the first shots of the war on land have been exchanged at Pingyang. A small detachment of Russian infantry, evidently scouts, appeared to the northward of the town. The Japanese outposts opened fire from a range of 1,700 meters, and the Russians retired.

It is presumed that there were no losses on account of the small number of men engaged and the distance separating the opposing armies.

In northern Korea the Russians are scouting over an extended area close to the Japanese positions, but a general engagement is not expected to occur for some time, as the Russian force south of the Yalu river is inconsiderable, its greatest strength seeming to be in the vicinity of Wiju. North of the Yalu the Russian army is constantly increasing in numbers and is being mobilized, but the chances of it assuming the offensive are slight.

The Japanese are constantly strengthening their position and increasing their forces in Korea.

A report from Liaoyang, Manchuria, says that the Japanese fleet has received orders to attack and capture Port Arthur today at all costs.

A Port Arthur dispatch says that General Stoessel, commander of the garrison, has issued a general order directing the attention of the troops and inhabitants to the fact that the Japanese intend to land and seize the fortress.

The general declares the Japanese consider the seizure of Port Arthur to be a question of national honor, and from their obstinate attacks and bombardments of the fortress and bays he can only conclude that the enemy will make every effort to capture the fortress, failing which the Japanese will destroy the railroad and withdraw.

"The enemy, however," proceeds the general order, "is mistaken. Our troops know and the inhabitants are herewith informed by me that we will not yield. We must fight to the finish, as I, the commandant, will never give an order to surrender.

"I bring this to the notice of those less daring and call on all to become convinced of the necessity of fighting to the death. Those who leave without fighting will not save themselves.

"There is no way out. On three sides there is the sea, and the fourth will be the enemy. There is no means of escape except by fighting."

Notwithstanding the heavy gale which is blowing, the lights of Japanese scouting vessels were visible in the offing during the night.

A Seoul dispatch says that General Mishtchenko, with a detachment of mounted Cossacks, has reached Kasanja, Korea, and is expected to arrive at Ichioyang during the day. His men and horses are in good condition, and he is well supplied with provisions. The Korean officials are fleeing from the places traversed and are informing the Japanese of the approach of the Russians.

The Cossacks have seized the telegraph line in north Korea.

A Japanese major, Togo Tazusiro, and five men, captured by Cossacks at Wiju, are prisoners at Liaoyang.

The concentration of Chinese troops westward of Mukden, in the district of Gubantsa, is not relished by the Russians. War material is being brought up, and the militia posts are being strengthened. The people at several points refuse to sell produce to the Russians.

Snowstorms are raging here, and the frost is intense.

It is reported from Hakodate that Vladivostok is blockaded by Japanese vessels. During the Japanese landing operations in Korea the Russian warships to the north were a constant menace, and blockading them would be the most effective means of securing noninterference.

It is the belief that the Japanese have commenced important land and sea operations against Port Arthur, with a view to its immediate fall.

Advices from Seoul say the Korean court has donated $100,000 to the Red Cross hospitals.

The ministers of the United States and Great Britain at Seoul are favorably inclined to the Japanese-Korean protocol.

The Tokyo government has instructed the local authorities to extend special protection and facilities to the Russian consul at Fusan, Korea, who is to reach Moji, Japan, today, and proceeds thence for Nagasaki, whence he will sail for home.

The pause in the war operations in the far east has been broken by another Japanese attack on Port Arthur, of which only the foregoing brief account is yet to hand. This report, however, shows a repetition of the now familiar tactics of Japan.

It is presumed that this attack was made in bad weather, previous telegraphic advices having reported a severe gale raging at Port Arthur. As usual, the Japanese did not remain long enough off the harbor to enable the gunners at the forts to get their range. Again also the same three cruisers—the Bayan, the Askold and the Novik—came out to meet the attack, and this suggests that either they were the only effective ships there or that the larger battleships were unable to get out.

The Russians are transferring the guns from the disabled ships to the Port Arthur forts.

A dispatch from Chefu says a Japanese cruiser and torpedo boat entered that harbor without lights at 1 o'clock on the morning of the 29th, and it is believed they embarked the Japanese who took refuge there after the attempt to bottle up Port Arthur.

A dispatch from Weihaiwei says a Japanese fleet has been seen off the Shangtung coast.

A Tokyo dispatch says the steamers sunk by the Japanese on either side of the Russian battleship Retvizan at Port Arthur partially obstruct the entrance to the harbor.

Mr. Richard Day, of 134 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time, or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better, so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

IN THE HOUSE.

Scott Said That Roosevelt Imitated Cleveland In Dining Negro.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—During consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill in the house Mr. Scott (Kan.) made the declaration that a negro had dined at the White House with President Cleveland during the latter's first administration. The statement was prompted by a reference by Mr. Gilbert (Ky.) to the dining of Booker Washington at the White House. When the name was demanded Mr. Scott said it was C. H. J. Taylor, who was appointed by President Cleveland as recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia.

Mr. Gilbert observed that he and others never had heard of the incident, but the Democrats were not "particularly claiming" Mr. Cleveland, and Mr. Cochran (Mo.) said it was but cumulative evidence that "there is no better Republican in the country than Grover Cleveland."

Mr. Scott in contrasting Booker Washington with Taylor said the former was a man of recognized ability, while he declared there was nothing to commend the latter.

A discussion of the question of reciprocity by Mr. Dalzell (Pa.) and Mr. Williams, the minority leader, consumed the greater portion of the day. Another feature of the day was the declaration by Mr. Lovering (Mass.) that while the Republican party was talking about "standing pat" thousands of dollars were being lost to manufacturers and that "our boasted prosperity is fast coming to an end" because of the failure of the party to enlarge the drawback system and give the new markets which he declared were now demanded. Mr. Lovering was loudly applauded on the minority side when he took issue with his party.

Continuing, Mr. Gilbert said that in the Spanish war there was General Miles, commanding general of the army; Admiral Dewey at Manila, Admiral Schley, Generals Lee, Wheeler and Bell, all of whom were Democrats. On the other side, he said, there was a member of the Republican cabinet accused of sending embalmed beef to the soldiers. "Then," he said, "there was a Republican horse doctor sent to Cuba who was accused of befriending the gamblers and lawbreakers." He referred to the conviction of Rathbone and Neely and alluded to General Funston, who, he charged, had violated the rules of civilized warfare in wearing the uniform of an enemy in the capture of Aguinaldo. He next referred to General Davis, "who," he said, "sold rice and other provisions to starving natives at enormous profits."

The Republicans had promised to destroy trusts, declared Mr. Gilbert, but they now had a bill in the senate "making lawful all reasonable trusts and repealing the imprisonment clause of the Sherman law as to criminals."

Parker May Be Indorsed.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 1.—Ex-Senator David B. Hill was seen at his office and asked as to the truth or falsity of a story current to the effect that a resolution would be offered at the Democratic state committee meeting next Saturday by Judge Parker's friends indorsing Judge Parker for president. In reply Mr. Hill said, "Nothing is expected to be done at the meeting of the Democratic state committee on Saturday next except the transaction of its ordinary business and the selection of a time and place for the holding of the state convention."

Suit Against Adelina Patti and Grau.

NEW YORK, March 1.—James W. Morrissey, business manager of the Adelina Patti company, has brought suit through his counsel against Robert Grau, Incorporated and Adelina Patti company for breach of contract for the sum of $1,700 and has instituted a separate action against Mr. Grau as an individual for $25,000 for defamation.

Virginia Y. M. C. A. Gets $40,000.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 1.—John R. Mott, general secretary of the World's Student federation, has announced that Mrs. William E. Dodge, widow of the late philanthropist, who first suggested the intercollegiate movement among Christian students, had agreed to give to the University of Virginia a Y. M. C. A. building to cost $40,000.

Blizzard at Schenectady, N. Y.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 1.—What at first promised to be a light fall of snow early last night developed into a blizzard. The local trolley company, not expecting a heavy storm, made strenuous efforts to maintain its schedule. Railroad trains are delayed.

MOROS WIPED OUT

Major Scott's Command Defeats Hassan's Dattos.

OUR LOSS ONE KILLED, SIX WOUNDED

Destruction of This Band Was a Case of Retributive Justice For Shooting Major Scott While Protesting Friendship.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—General Wade in a cablegram to the war department from Manila advises the department of a report of General Wood concerning an engagement at Jolo with the remanants of Hassan's datto Moros. The American expedition was in charge of Major Hugh L. Scott.

During the fight General Wood states that firing was twice stopped to give the Moros a chance to surrender, but they declined. The entire force of the enemy, with the exception of Hassan, is either dead or captured, but Hassan escaped. His whereabout is known, however, and it is thought he cannot long escape capture.

Second Lieutenant Eugene R. West, Eighteenth battery of field artillery, was seriously wounded in the thigh. A number of troopers also were wounded.

It is said at the war department that this destruction of Hassan's band is a case of retributive justice. Major Scott suffered at the hands of this fanatical Moro. The chief enticed the major off into the jungle, pretending to be friendly, and in ambush shot him. Since that time Major Scott has been on his trail and now has destroyed his band.

Hassan, who was a priest, is one of the irreconcilables. When the navy was making some surveys a year ago off the coast of Sulu, Hassan construed the setting up of survey marks as an act of hostility and attacked the troops. He came into General Sumner's headquarters under summons, but made his escape and ever since has been at war. His band numbered about 600 and has been entirely destroyed in this final fight.

In the engagement with the Datto Moros under Hassan six privates as well as Lieutenant West were wounded. One of them has since died. Hassan succeeded in making his escape at the close of the fight. His original force of 3,000 is now practically wiped out. The island is now under control of the American authorities, and influential Moros are aiding in the pursuit of the outlaws.

The members of the constabulary who revolted at Vigan are all in custody. The arms and ammunition taken by them have been recovered.

Will Use Submerged Torpedoes.

WASHINGTON, March 1. — Important to the efficiency of the American navy was the action of Secretary Moody in signing the order for the equipping of the eighteen battleships and armored cruisers now building with submerged torpedoes. The board on construction recently decided to omit torpedo tubes from all battleships. There was such a protest, however, from many officers in the navy that at the instance of the secretary the board reconsidered its decision. It is believed that the torpedo tubes with which the Japanese battleships are equipped are responsible for the damage to the Russian battleships in the Port Arthur day attack, as the Russian vessels were hit below the water line.

Atlantic Coast Train Wreck.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 1.—Westbound passenger train No. 90 on the Atlantic Coast line was wrecked at Alapaha, Ga., by running into an open switch. Engineer Potter saw two men at the switch tampering with it and applied the brakes, but was too close to stop his train, which collided with freight cars on the siding. The engineer, fireman and porter were injured. The lock on the switch had been broken by the wreckers. An unknown white man has been arrested at Alapaha as a suspect.

Twelve Burned to Death.

ROBERVAL, Que., March 1.—Twelve lives were lost in a fire which destroyed the home of Thomas Guay at St. Felicien. When the fire was first noticed by neighbors, who live some distance away, the house had been burned to the ground. In it at the time were the eight small children of Thomas Guay, Mrs. Thomas Gagnon and her three small children. Not one of the inmates escaped. Both Gagnon and Guay, the fathers, were absent working in the woods.

Election Frauds In Cuba.

GUANTANAMO, Cuba, March 1.—The Nationalists are charged with election frauds in keeping the ballot boxes secreted and in counting out Republican votes and substituting Nationalist votes for them. The police ejected the Republican inspectors, but a judge of the primary court, with the rural guards, took the steps necessary to check the frauds. No arrests have yet been made.

Corporation Notice.

The undersigned, Commissioners heretofore appointed by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield to make an estimate and assessment of damages that any owner or owners of land will sustain by the opening and laying out of Myrtle Avenue from the centre line of Compton Avenue to the City Line in Green Brook, pursuant to the ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance for the laying out and opening of Myrtle Avenue, from the centre line of Compton Avenue to the City Line in Green Brook," approved November 2, 1903, and also to ascertain the amount of damages that shall be assessed as aforesaid, and of all necessary expenses incident to such opening and laying out and to make a just and equitable assessment thereof among the owners and occupants of the lands, tenements and real estate benefited thereby, in proportion to the benefits each shall be deemed to acquire, said assessment to be made pursuant to the valid laws now in force in the State of New Jersey governing such assessments, any unconstitutional provisions of the City Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, hereby give notice that they have this day filed their report and assessment in the office of the City Clerk, and that the same is open to inspection to the public, and will be presented to the Common Council at the meeting of that body to be held at the Council Chamber, No. 151 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, on the Seventh day of March, Nineteen Hundred and Four, at eight o'clock p. m.

The character of the work and improvement is the opening and laying out of Myrtle Avenue between the points stated in the abovementioned title of said ordinance.

The lands taken are designated on a map and schedule accompanying said report and assessments, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, entitled "Assessment Map for the laying out and opening of Myrtle Avenue from the centre line of Compton Avenue to the City Line in Green Brook, February, 1904," to which map reference is made for greater certainty.

The lands assessed for benefits are the lands fronting on Myrtle Avenue as ordered laid out and opened by said ordinance, and other lands fronting on Dunellen Avenue (including its intersections with Compton Avenue, Albert Street, and Mariners Place, respectively), which lie on the southeasterly side of Dunellen Avenue between the southwesterly terminus of Myrtle Avenue, as so ordered laid out and opened, and the centre line of Mariners Place, and on the northwesterly side of Dunellen Avenue between said terminus and a point one thousand five hundred and sixty-eight feet southwesterly therefrom, and are also shown and designated on said map and schedule, to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty.

CANAL COMMISSION

The President Sends Appointments to the Senate.

REAR ADMIRAL WALKER TO BE CHIEF

The Commissioners Are All Men of Great Skill as Engineers, Some Having Already Engaged In Work on the Isthmus.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Roosevelt has sent the following nominations to the senate:

For Chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission—Rear Admiral John G. Walker, U. S. N., retired, District of Columbia.

For Members of the Isthmian Canal Commission—Major General George W. Davis, U. S. A., retired, District of Columbia; William Barclay Parsons, New York; William H. Burr, New York; Benjamin M. Harrod, Louisiana; Carl Ewald Grunsky, California; Frank J. Hecker, Michigan.

REAR ADMIRAL WALKER.

The Panama commission as constituted by the president is essentially a body of engineers, six of the seven members having distinguished themselves in engineering works. The law under which the commission was created provided that four of the members should be skilled in the science of engineering. Colonel Hecker is the only man on the commission who may be classed as distinctively a business man. He is a man of large affairs and during the Spanish-American war served the government as director of transportation.

Arrangements already have been made for an early visit to the isthmus of Panama by the commission.

Buffalo and Vicinity Suffer.

BUFFALO, March 1. — A terrific downpour of rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, passed over western New York late in the afternoon. Considerable damage was done. A large barn near Otto, owned by Mrs. E. M. Poole and occupied by Joseph Dunkert, was struck by lightning. The building, together with twenty-five head of valuable stock, was burned. The torrent of rain and the melting snow caused a serious flood at Jamestown. The street department of that city had every available man at work to prevent serious damage along the streams which run through the city. Country highways in that vicinity are impassable.

Governor Vardaman on Lynching.

JACKSON, Miss., March 1.—Governor Vardaman has said in an interview on the subject of lynching: "I can sympathize thoroughly with one whose friend or relative has been outraged or atrociously murdered by a black brute, and I am not going to censure people who act a little indiscreetly under the influence of passion thus aroused, but there is one thing certain—the law must be upheld, and so long as I occupy the gubernatorial chair I shall do all within my power to see that the laws are enforced. The courts must perform their functions. When this is done, the people will be satisfied."

Carriage Workers' Strike Off.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Fifteen hundred locked out carriage and wagon workers have accepted a proposal made them by employers whose shops have been tied up for six weeks. The men were granted an increase of 4 per cent over the scale paid before the lockout. The settlement also provides for the "open shop" and arbitration of all differences. One hundred and seventeen shops affected reopened today.

Bill to Aid Baltimore.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Representative Williams of Mississippi has introduced a bill in congress extending the same relief to the Baltimore fire sufferers that was extended to Chicago after the great conflagration in that city. The measure provides for a rebate of duties and revenue taxes.

Hull Carried the County.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 1.—Early reports of the primary election in Polk county indicate an overwhelming victory for Captain J. A. T. Hull over his opponent, Judge S. F. Prouty. Captain Hull carried nearly every precinct in the county.

Strike Leader Dead.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 1.—Daniel Young, aged forty-nine, district president of the United Mine Workers and leader of the recent Meyersdale (Pa.) strike, is dead at Lonaconing from the grip.

Worst of Season at Geneva.

GENEVA, N. Y., March 1. — The worst snowstorm of the winter raged here last night. The snow began falling at noon, and the wind is drifting it badly.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 1, 1904.

Tell the truth in advertising if you never did before.—Effective Advertising, Knoxville, Tenn.

The alternative is presented of either appointing Grover Cleveland as receiver of the Democratic party or calling upon W. J. Bryan to act as its funeral director.

A rumor that Union County's assemblymen have introduced more bills in the House than have been sent up to the speaker by any county delegation is probably without foundation.

Dowie has appealed to the United States consul at Melbourne for protection from howling mobs. The consul will do his full duty if he gives some sort of protection to John Alexander's weak-minded followers and has that arch-rascal placed in jail.

The enemy has not replied to the cannonading of Czar Smalley, but advices from Generalissimo Honeyman's headquarters give the impression that a broadside will be sent this week into the absolute administration that will ever stagger Privy Councillor Reed.

Despite the Wall street influence, Roosevelt delegates to the Republican National convention are being selected every day. Wall street trembles over the renomination of Teddy, because he is not "safe." The word "safe" in the dictionary of practical politics means "easy."

Some persons in North Plainfield are being fooled by a statement to the effect that before Plainfield adopted a paid fire department system the matter was decided by a popular vote. There is no truth whatever in this story. Plainfield's Common Council brought about the desired improvement of its own accord and the citizens of this city are glad that they had a wise set of men in office at that time. If every question that comes before a Council has to be referred to the voters, what in the name of common sense is the use of having a Council?

A man who does not sell good stuff cannot afford to advertise. A man who does sell good stuff cannot afford not to advertise. Yet the cost of good stuff is higher than the cost of poor stuff; and the expense of advertising has also to be added on before the profit comes in. Because the people who argue otherwise are utterly and eternally wrong. It is sometimes said, "Advertising is not an element of cost." But advertising is an element of cost. Every advertiser in his senses figures it so. He could not make his calculations safely otherwise. What these amateur economist butt their heads over is the fact that by submitting to one element of cost—viz., advertising—the merchant saves himself a multitude of other costs, or reduces them.—T. Russell.

—The Union Veterans' Union will hold a social and entertainment tomorrow night.

—The Y. M. C. A. orchestra will hold a rehearsal tonight in preparation for its next concert.

SECESSION IS LEGAL.

Decision in Litigation of Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

The Court of Errors and Appeals at Trenton, decided yesterday against the National Council of the Junior Order United American Mechanics in its suit to compel the New Jersey State Council to pay over several thousand dollars of national per capita tax, which it is claimed was collected by the State Council from the members of the order in this State.

The effect of the decision is to sustain the legality of the New Jersey State Council in seceding from the National organization. The decision is important, because New York, Pennsylvania and other State councils have seceded, leaving the National organization in control of only a small minority of the total membership of the order in the United States.

Colored Church Affair.

Under the auspices of the choir of Bethel chapel a birthday reception was given at the chapel, last night. During the evening Alfred White sang "Navajo," in an excellent manner. He was accompanied by Miss Alice Maynard. Messrs. Robert and Thomas Toney rendered various selections on the mandolin and guitar received hearty applause. There were also piano solos by B. Green and C. VanHorn. About $40 will be realized as profit from the affair.

ANXIETY OVER APPROPRIATION

AGITATION TO HAVE NORTH PLAINFIELD'S ALLOWANCE CUT DOWN.

Members of the North Plainfield Board of Education last night informally talked over the agitation being made by the various school districts in Somerset County to have the State appropriation for schools in North Plainfield reduced on the ground that the appropriation for the borough exceeds that of any other school district in the county, not even excepting Somerville.

Mr. Joy, president of the Board, said that the Somerset County school districts were discussing the matter and it is probable the borough Board may take some action at a later date.

Mr. Joy stated that the appropriation received by the borough was $12,000. This, he said, was larger than that given to any other district in the State. He explained that this was because North Plainfield had the larger percentage of school attendance proportionate to the population of any district in New Jersey. The appropriations are based on the actual school attendance and is governed by the State law. It is believed that the agitation will not bear much fruit because the borough is clearly entitled to the appropriation it receives according to the new school law.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., has withdrawn from the membership of the Essex County Funeral Benefit Association. Hereafter the Council will pay the entire funeral benefit from its treasury. This plan is considered far more advantageous to the council.

Supreme Representative V. W. Nash, of the A. O. U. W., has completed his campaign against the new plan of assessments adopted by the Supreme Lodge. He will do no more speaking until the final battle at Trenton, which will be followed by definite action. The campaign has been a strenuous one for Justice Nash, whose speeches in all parts of the State have done much to turn the tide of sentiment in favor of a separate jurisdiction for New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton F. Randolph, who have been spending some time in Newark, have returned to Truell Court.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hart, of West Front street, who have been detained at home with attacks of pneumonia, are convalescing.

A. D. Thompson, James Manning and J. D. Loizeaux are contemplating a pleasure trip of three or four weeks to Cuba. If they decide to go they will sail on Saturday. Mr Loizeaux has not definitely decided as to whether he will make the trip or not, but the other two men will undoubtedly go.

Thanks for Firemen.

J. E. Martine desires to express thanks to the Plainfield Fire Department for its promptness and efficiency in extinguishing the fire on Front street last night. A few seconds delay would have resulted in the destruction of a large section of the business portion of our city. Again, thanks and all honor to the Plainfield Fire Department. Respectfully, JAMES E. MARTINE.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Timely and Interesting Gossip from the National Capitol.

INTEREST IN EASTERN WAR

The Hero of Chemulpo Is a Graduate of Annapolis—The Tantalus Club to Be Perpetuated — Japan Copies American Policy.

Washington.—Admiral Uriu, whose splendid victory at Chemulpo has given him a place with Dewey and Sampson among the great naval commanders of this generation, is not unknown in Washington. Like Dewey and Sampson he is a graduate of the United States naval academy at Annapolis, where he completed his course in 1881. He served there for four years and then went to the British military school at Greenwich, so that his great achievement may properly be attributed in some degree, at any rate, to his Anglo-Saxon training. His wife, who is a Japanese, is a Vassar graduate.

Admiral Uriu.

There are several naval officers in Washington who knew Uriu at the academy and who have run up against him on occasions since that time. A classmate of his was Joseph H. Leonard, naval constructor in the United States navy. He says that three Japanese boys entered the academy in 1877 and were graduated in 1881. They were Tasuka Serata, Sotokichi Uriu and Yenoske Inouye. All of them have made fine records in the Japanese navy. Serata died an admiral, just a year ago. Both he and Uriu distinguished themselves in the war between Japan and China. At the academy they were very religious; both of them were members of the Young Men's Christian association.

The Japanese officers were lucky enough to receive very rapid advancement when they got home and some of them were rear admirals while their American classmates were still drudging along with the single bars of lieutenants. This made it a little bit embarrassing for the American naval officers who met their old Japanese friends while touring on the Asiatic station, but they indulged freely in Saku and champagne, called each other by their old academy nicknames and lived over the old days together. Uriu was the most dignified of the lot.

Follow America's Lead.

Secretary Moody is the happiest man in Washington just at present. He is rejoiced that the Japanese navy should have won so signal a victory at the very beginning of the war with Russia. This is not because of any special sympathy for Japan, although feeling among all public men in Washington is exceedingly friendly to the island empire, but solely on professional grounds. Japan for the last few years has been pursuing a naval policy exactly in accordance with that which Secretary Moody has insisted should be pursued by the United States. The Japanese navy has spent money in maneuvers, has used up powder and has worked its officers to the limit of endurance. The result was shown at Chemulpo.

Secretary Moody.

Now that is exactly what Secretary Moody has been doing with the American navy at the risk of severe criticism by the economists in congress and of some ridicule by the opposition newspapers. So he regards Japan's victory over Russia as a complete vindication of the programme which he had adopted.

Russia for the last few years has pursued a policy directly contrary to that of Japan. Its navy has been subordinated to the army, there has been an absence of discipline and general slovenliness in control. Russia has been paying only half as much for armor plate as we have been paying and the result is shown in the celerity with which its battleships yielded to the Japanese attack. Altogether the situation is one which is especially gratifying to the men who have the destinies of our navy in their keeping.

The Tantalus Club.

The Tantalus club is to be given a new lease of life. Sam Powers, its founder and president, does not intend that the organization in which he has taken such pride shall go out of existence when he leaves congress; for he has announced in advance that he will not be a candidate for reelection and that he is going home to Boston to make money while the spirit is yet strong within him. It has been a costly luxury for Powers to be a member of the house. His professional income is three or four times as great as his salary as a member of congress, and while he has been in Washington he has spent not only his $5,000 salary, but a goodly proportion of the money he had saved while practicing law. But even though Powers abandons Washington, his memory will still linger. To have been the founder of the Tantalus club is in itself a distinction which raises Powers far above the level of the ordinary member of the house.

Congressman Powers.

At home in Boston Powers had regarded himself as something of a man. He was popular, prosperous and was supposed to have a political future. When he was lucky enough to be elected to congress, he had glowing ideas of what he would accomplish in Washington, but he had been here only a week or two before he discovered that there is nothing of less consequence in the national capitol than a new member of the house of representatives. He talked around a little among the new men and found that many of them had come to a similar conclusion. Then he had an inspiration. He organized all the new members on the republican side into a club. The idea was to have a dinner every little while at which the youngsters who were unable to get recognition at the capitol could throw themselves a little and raise themselves out of the dull level of mediocrity.

That was the origin of the Tantalus club. Powers was made president by unanimous consent, for there has never been anything like the formality of an election. It goes without saying that the dinners of the Tantalus club were a tremendous success.

Now, in order to perpetuate it, Powers has maneuvered so that all the republican members of the house new to the present congress shall be eligible to membership. They have all filed applications and there will be a dinner pretty soon at which all of them will be present and duly initiated. Thus the club will be in a position to perpetuate itself through succeeding congresses.

Question of Precedence.

The society experts who have the social doings of the white house in their charge have at last come to an understanding on the burning question of precedence. Mr. Adee, the assistant secretary of state who has devoted a long life to the study of questions of this kind, and Maj. McCawley, the social aide of the president, whose main business at present is to wrestle with the question of who shall go in first to dinner, have put their heads together and have arrived at a very gratifying conclusion.

THE DIPLOMATS

The Diplomats Disposed Of.

It seemed a little hard that such distinguished dignitaries as the chief justice of the supreme court, the speaker of the house of representatives, the admiral of the navy and the lieutenant general of the army should be compelled by the rules of social precedence to wait in line at the white house reception until a miscellaneous collection of ambassadors and diplomats had been ushered into the presence. It is no wonder that the supreme court justices who were the first to run up against the edict of the social arbiters should file an indignant protest. So Adee and McCawley got into conjunction and evolved a scheme by which everybody will be satisfied.

At the reception given in honor of the diplomatic corps, the diplomats will head the line. Nobody objects to that. At the other three receptions, that to the judiciary, to congress and to the army and navy, the diplomats will not be in line at all. They will form a little group by themselves in the oval of the blue room in front of the door, where the president stands and they will watch the procession go by. Thus they will be honored spectators and they will not interfere with anybody. Everybody will be satisfied and the game can go on.

Senator Kittridge.

Senator Kittridge, of South Dakota, is one of the most promising of the men who have come into congress in several years. There is no man in the senate, no matter how long he may have been in congress, who has a shrewder understanding of the ways of legislation than Kittridge, who has been up against it for only a single congress. He is always in his seat in the senate; he watches every play and knows the reason for every move. He is popular and strong and has already arrived at that enviable stage in a senator's career where he has to be consulted with regard to the adoption of any important party policy.

Kittridge Likely to Be Consulted.

Kittridge is one of the youngsters, although he seems older than he is. He was graduated at Yale in 1882 and is only 42 years of age. He is a great friend of John Kean, who left Yale 15 years before. He is noted in the senate for his good nature, for his imperturability and an inscrutable face, which would be a money-maker at a poker table.

He has an idea that so long as South Dakota remains a republican state he can remain in congress as a South Dakota senator and he intends to make the most of that possibility. There are too few senators nowadays who come to Washington with the idea of making this their permanent career. Kittridge is one of them. There is not one chance in a hundred that he will not win out. LOUIS A. COOLIDGE.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE WORLD OF VANITY.

Trimmings Are Now Horizontal. Hood Effects Very Smart.

There seems to be a complete revolution in trimming. It is placed horizontally instead of vertically. This is especially true of the full gathered skirts, which are decorated with bands of velvet silk and lace in some instances four or five inches wide. Kilt-ed skirts are similarly decorated with these bands, usually three or five in number.

Tiny velvet bails are among the latest dress trimmings, and these are outlined on both sides of a straight lace band.

The hood effect, drooping off the shoulders, has come to be considered more smart than the bertha. It is faced with lace or velvet.

Little stoles of ermine and lace will be worn far into the spring with street costumes and gowns.

Veiling will continue to be one of the favorite spring materials, particularly in gray and black.

Separate white skirts of novelty veiling are very smart to wear with lace waists of the same color.

The number of blouses that are requisite to complete the wardrobe of the fashionable woman makes a very serious hole in her dress allowance. At the best of times there is very little wear in mousseline de soie or chiffon, and when it means, in addition, the constant drawing off and on of a fur coat or mantle the problem becomes quite a grave and important one. It is good hearing that some of the newest shantungs, both natural and dyed, are being fashioned in a chiffon weight, which offers a way out of the difficulty for reasons of economy as well as expediency. There is a certain suggestion of plainness about a shantung, but it can be trimmed and decorated to the pink of modistic perfection. It is a point in its favor, too, that the natural silks of this description have the added advantage of being none the worse for immersion in the washtub, which saves those alarming cleaner's bills which represent the heavy toll levied on extravagance.

The picture shows a white mull gown made over turquoise blue silk. It is trimmed with turquoise blue and white bowknots. JUDIC CHOLLET.

DRESS NOVELTIES.

Some New Dress Skirts—Black and White Effects.

Much black and white are seen in the new spring millinery, and this was exemplified in a three cornered hat seen recently. It was of fine straw in a dead white shade, the upturned brim being of heavier black satin straw. The sole trimming was on the left side—two tips, one black, the other white, passed through a small Louis XV. wreath of tiny white roses and held down by a knot of gold galloon.

The triple skirt is one of the novelties in fashion. It is eased in slightly at the waist, so that it falls in graceful fullness.

Another up to date skirt is gathered at the waist and trimmed with five wide folds to simulate tucks.

A skirt not quite so new, but popular, is made with two clusters of bias folds high in the back and coming down into a point in the front. The lowest of these clusters heads a gathered flounce which is similarly graduated. The back is finished with a double box plait.

The cut shows a hat of black tulle having a band of black velvet and a steel buckle. It is trimmed on each side with a black ostrich tip.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

JAPAN-GUAM CABLE.

Government Has Been Approached as to Its Consent.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Thus far the United States government has not received formally an application from the Commercial Cable company to land a Japanese cable on the island of Guam. The government, however, has been appealed to in a tentative way by representatives of the company so as to ascertain how the United States would view such an application if it were made. No decision has been reached, although, in the light of present information, there is a manifest disposition to regard such a request as entirely reasonable and proper.

Russia has made no protest to this government against the granting of permission to land the cable at Guam. It is assumed by Washington officials that if a protest is made it will be filed through regular diplomatic channels. What action the United States would take in that event cannot be foretold, as it would depend entirely on the circumstances of the case.

Striking Boys Restrained by Courts.

CHICAGO, March 1.—A temporary injunction has been issued by Judge Kohlsaat in the United States district court restraining the messenger boys of the Illinois District Telegraph company, who went on strike last Friday, from interfering with the delivery or collection of interstate telegraph messages of the Western Union Telegraph company, the American District Telegraph or the Illinois District Telegraph company. The order also prohibits the strikers from attempting to interfere, by intimidation or otherwise, with persons desiring to enter the employment of the plaintiff companies or from loitering in crowds in the vicinity of the companies' offices or by threatening by force or violence any persons having business with the companies.

Public Cannot Use Private Lake.

TRENTON, N. J., March 1.—In the case of Andrew Albright against the Sussex county lake and park commission the court of errors and appeals reverses the supreme court. The decision denies the right of the state to condemn for park purposes certain lakes owned by private individuals that possess valuable fishing rights. These lakes are owned principally by rich New York persons, and an attempt was made to condemn the lakes for public use.

Fatal Rabbit Hunt.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 1.—District Attorney Lee has received a report of the fatal shooting of James McCarthy, aged seventeen, by a companion named Thorpe of about the same age while hunting rabbits near Dover Plains. Investigation by the district attorney showed that the shooting was entirely accidental.

To Honor Memory of Mercer.

RICHMOND, Va., March 1.—A committee of citizens from Fredericksburg, Va., has accepted the model of a statue of General Mercer of Revolutionary war fame, made by Sculptor Valentine of this city. The statue is to be placed in Fredericksburg and is to cost $25,000.

FIANCE CALLED HER.

Strange Story of a Narrow Escape Stirs the Spiritualistic Circles of London, England.

Ever since those two great scientists, Sir William Crookes and Sir Oliver Lodge, declared their belief in a spirit world there has been a boom in spiritualistic circles in London, and "mediums" and "clairvoyants" are reaping the usual harvest.

A very pretty girl, who has only been "out" one season in London, was traveling down to the country to meet her fiance, who was one of a big house party gathered together for the benefit of the newly engaged couple. In the first class carriage with her was an elderly doctor unknown to the lady.

As the train was just leaving a station some ten miles from her destination the girl made a spring at the window and an attempt to get out on the platform. The elderly man retained her, however, and pointed out that it would be better to go a station further than risk her life in that manner. At the next station the very same thing occurred, and the girl seemed terribly distressed when she was again prevented from jumping out.

Finally the doctor gave the frightened girl his card and asked her in a kindly way what he could do for her. Then the girl told her story. She had seen her fiance on the platform beckoning to her to come out of the carriage at both the stations which they had left.

The doctor, a little incredulous, of course, told her that she had better get out at the next station as she felt so distressed. It was only three miles from the house and she could take a cab.

The girl saw nothing when she stepped out onto the foggy platform, and just as the train moved on a man stepped into the carriage and took his place beside the doctor.

Within three minutes of its departure that train was in collision with a goods train, and the only man who was fatally injured was the stranger who had taken his place opposite the doctor.

Young German Didn't Propose to Give the Woman Preacher a Matrimonial Chance.

A certain small village in the west, far removed from the noise and bustle of commerce, boasts a female preacher, and the lady's duties are many. One day she may visit the sick, another attend a funeral, and the next baptize a baby. One afternoon she was preparing the sermon for the following Sabbath when she heard a timid knock at the parsonage door. Answering the summons she found a bashful young

"I VANT ME TO KIT MERRIET."

German standing on the step and twirling his straw hat in his hands.

"Good afternoon!" the preacheress remarked. "What do you wish?"

"Dey say der minister lifed in dis house, hey?"

"Yes, sir."

"Yess? Vell, I vant me to kit merriet."

"All right; I can marry you," she said.

The lady's hair is beginning to silver, and the German glanced at it. Then he jammed his hat on his head and hurried down the path.

"What's the matter?" she called after him.

"You gits no chance mit me," he called back. "I don't vant you; I haf got me a girl alretty."

Woman's Lot in Corea.

In no country is the life of women more pathetic than in Corea, where it might be termed imprisonment with hard labor from the age of seven until death. Little girls are secluded from the time of their betrothal. At an age varying from 10 to 16 years they are married to men they have never seen, and go away to take their places as menials.

SPORTING EVENTS.

Jeffries and Munroe Matched to Fight in San Francisco.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Jim Jeffries and Jack Munroe have signed articles to fight for the heavyweight championship of the world at the Yosemite Athletic club, San Francisco, during the last week in May. A purse of $25,000 is guaranteed.

Little Sister Died on Track.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Fine weather favored racing at Oakland, but the track was heavy. The surprise came in the race for three-year-olds over the Futurity course. The start was marred, Solanus bumping Soufriere. They were pulled up by their riders. Celebrant was regarded as a good chance, but stopped badly and finished third. Lord Wadsworth, a 12 to 1 shot, won from Red Cross Nurse. In the first race Little Sister, after running about a quarter of a mile, staggered and fell, dying almost instantly. She ruptured a blood vessel.

Dwyer Won Two Out of Three Falls.

RICHMOND, Va., March 1. — In a wrestling match here between Professor M. J. Dwyer, American middleweight champion, and Joe Carroll, the English middleweight champion, Dwyer won two falls straight, the best two of three falls.

Governor Murphy's Nominations.

TRENTON, N. J., March 1.—Governor Murphy sent to the senate last night these nominations: Thomas W. Trenchard, to succeed himself as president judge of Cumberland county; Joseph H. Gaskell, to succeed himself as president judge of Burlington county; J. Hampton Fithian, reappointed prosecutor of Cumberland county; Emily E. Williamson of Elizabeth and Charles A. Anderson of Vineland to the board of managers for the Home For Feebleminded Women; Everett T. Tomlinson of Elizabeth, member of the public library commission; Nelson Y. Dungan of Somerville and Thomas Smith of Newark, managers of the State Home For Epileptics; E. C. Stahl of Trenton, Amos R. Dease of Camden and Gilbert D. Bogert of Bergen, members of the Home For Soldiers and Their Wives at Vineland; Franklin W. Hopkins, member of the Palisades park commission.

Mind Cure Healer Sentenced.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 1.—In the United States court sentence was passed upon Mrs. Helen Wilmans-Post, the mental science mind cure healer convicted of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. The sentence was that she be confined for one year and one day in the penitentiary at Nashville, Tenn. An appeal was at once taken and granted. When asked if she had anything to say, Mrs. Post said: "You cannot pronounce sentence of guilt against me. The sentence you are going to pronounce will be against the ignorance of the age, and this sentence will not only fail to condemn me, but it will exonerate me from all participation in such ignorance."

Thunder, Lightning and Snowstorm.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 1.—Variety has been added to this season's weather records in this city by a thunderstorm, accompanied by snow. There were two sharp flashes of lightning about 7 o'clock last night, accompanied by thunder, while a driving snowstorm was in progress. Several inches of snow have fallen here, and the storm is one of the worst of the winter. Traffic on all steam and trolley roads is suffering as badly as at any time this winter. Thunderstorms, accompanied by rain, were reported from several places in this locality.

Livingston Hotel Destroyed.

LIVINGSTON, Mont., March 1.—Fire that started in the Park hotel has destroyed the postoffice block, in which the hotel and a number of business houses and professional offices were located, and for a time threatened the business section. The loss is about $100,000. All the records, mail and the money in the postoffice were saved. A number of guests escaped from the hotel in their night clothes.

To Fireproof Valuable Books.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 1.—Asbestus covers for books of public record, city, county or state, is the stipulation of a bill introduced by Assemblyman McKeown. The edges of the leaves must be made fireproof, and papers, maps and all sorts of public documents must be filed either in fireproof boxes or files made of asbestus.

Strict Quarantine on Dogs.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 1.—State Veterinaries Ambler and Kelly are enforcing a strict quarantine on dogs in the township of Saugerties to prevent the spread of rabies from a mad dog which ran at large there several weeks ago. Deputy sheriffs have begun the destruction of dogs not quarantined.

Dominicans Buy Warship.

SANTO DOMINGO, March 1.—The Morales government has bought from Venezuela the gunboat Miranda for $200,000, to be paid in six installments; 5,000 Mauser rifles and 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition. This war material was offered by President Castro through the Dominican minister at Caracas, Senor Lopez.

British Battleship Ashore.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 1.—It is reported here that the British battleship Bonaventure, the new flagship of the north Pacific squadron, en route from Port Smouth to Esquimalt, is ashore on the South or Central American coast and is in a bad position.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The announcement in Saturday's Press regarding the arrangements made between the Alis Club baseball management and Manager Denman, of the Westfield Club, was a trifle premature. Arrangements have not been completed as yet, but it is expected they will be soon. As to the basis of the guarantee this is yet to be fixed.

The management of the Westfield Baseball Club has arranged a series of five games with the Aeolians, all to be played at Westfield. The first two will be played May 21 and June 18 and one a month later and the others later in the season. The Westfields will also play a series of five Wednesday games with the Y. M. C. A. team at Trenton. Most of last year's players will be retained. The battery will be Waller and Burke. Mallen, McManus and Friedburg will play in the outfield. Barry and Burch will be on third and second, while Stallings, a new man, will succeed Jones at short stop. Waller, who is in Porto Rico, is expected home during March. He has been playing all winter on one of the army teams and has kept in fine condition.

BASKET BALL.

Leal's School is endeavoring to make arrangements for a game with a team from the intermediate department of the Y. M. C. A.

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. will seek revenge for its decisive defeat by Brooklyn Central last night in a return game at Brooklyn probably March 19.

The Y. M. C. A. business men's team is trying to arrange a game with Leal's school for some night this week. The business men are also desirous of another trying out with the first team.

The next basket ball game on Plainfield Y. M. C. A.'s schedule is with Orange Y. M. C. A. at Orange next Saturday night. There is a hitch in the negotiations for the game owing to the fact that Orange wishes Plainfield to send its second team whereas Plainfield wants its best men represented.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Alis will bowl at the Casino tomorrow night.

The Y. M. C. A. five will probably bowl the Fanwood Suburbans Friday night on the association alleys. Manager Koons, of the Y. M. C. A., has received offers for games from the Letter Carriers' Association and members of the Reform Club.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

There will be a meeting of the New Jersey branch of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic League of North America in Jersey City next Thursday to select a date and discuss plans for the annual inter-association gymnastic contests. Physical Director Heywood will probably represent the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. at the meeting.

GOLF.

The annual meeting of the Park Golf Club will be held tonight, at which time reports will be presented and officers for ensuing year elected. Plans for the coming season will also be formulated.

AMUSEMENTS.

Not in many years has a play scored such a tremendous success as has James K. Hackett's production of "The Secret of Polichinelle" now at the Garden Theatre, New York. It is a most delightful mingling of comedy and pathos, of laughter and tears and the actors in the cast which Mr. Hackett has selected are considered the best balanced body of players seen in New York since the days of Ada Rehan, Mrs. Gilbert, John Drew and James Lewis at Daly's Theatre under the direction of the great Augustin Daly himself. The cast includes besides William H. Thompson the star, W. J. Ferguson, Grace Kimball, Harriet Otis Dellenbaugh, Florence Conron, Alice Chandler, Katherine Keys, Frank Patton and Master Charlie Barriscale.

At Wallack's Theatre, New York, "The County Chairman" approaches its 100th performance, with every indication of repeating this achievement two or three times over. At a period when many American writers for the stage complain of overimportation of foreign made material it is pleasant to observe that unquestionably the greatest success of the year is the work of a native dramatist. In fact, Henry W. Savage, owner and manager of "The County Chairman," has never produced any original plays of other than American authorship, and, what is still more to the point, every one of his ventures has commanded wholly enviable favor in all parts of the country.

Miss Mae Naudain, who has been on the stage only five months, has been promoted from the chorus to the important part of "Bo Peep" in "Babes in Toyland," at the Majestic Theatre, New York city. Miss Naudain is twenty years old and possesses an excellent voice and winning ways and much is expected of her. Miss Grace Fields of "The Babes in Toyland" has been selected by Julian Mitchell for the role of "The Poppy Queen" in "The Wizard of Oz" which follows "Babes in Toyland" at the Majestic. Saturday, March 19, will be the twenty-third and last week and the one hundred and ninety-second performance of "Babes in Toyland" and while its departure from New York will be greeted with tears by many, the advent of "The Wizard of Oz," on March 21 will be hailed with delight by old friends.

PERSONAL.

Irving Martin, of Albert street, has recovered from his recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fraleigh, of this city, have been visiting friends in Bound Brook.

I. C. VanNatta, of East Seventh street, who has been ill with the grip, is convalescing.

Miss Neighbour, of Middle Valley, Hunterdon county, has been spending several days in this city.

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of Park avenue, returned Saturday night from Maine, where he has been visiting for a few days.

LITERARY.

The Metropolitan Magazine for March will contain an unusual, short story by John Fox, Jr., entitled "The Pardon of Becky Day." As to Mr. Fox's popularity and the demand there is for his work, it is only necessary to cite the fact that his latest book, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," has now reached a sale of over 100,000 copies. In "A Plain Statement About Russia and Japan," Frederick McCormick, special war correspondent (now in Pekin) for the New York Sun and Metropolitan Magazine, tells the unvarnished truth about both the Russian and Japanese forces, land and sea; analyses the relative strength of both nations; and gives his opinion as to which will win the impending war. This is the timeliest magazine article of the year.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Miss McKeen, president of the New Jersey State Federation of Woman's Clubs, addressed the Woman's Literary Club, of Bound Brook, yesterday. She expects to visit Plainfield in the near future.

—William A. Kline, of 611 West Third street, and Frank DeHart, of 402 East Third street, have formed what is known as the Plainfield Window Cleaning Company. This new concern has already secured considerable business in the city. Floors and furniture cleaned, oiled and polished, and general house-cleaning work is done in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

Mrs. T. E. Davis, of West Fifth street, who has been ill for some time, does not improve as rapidly as her friends would like.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Washington Tours.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's fifth three-day personally-conducted tour to Washington will leave New York, Brooklyn, Newark, Elizabeth and Trenton March 10. Round-trip rates—only difference being in the hotel selected in Washington—are $12 and $14.50 from New York; $10.50 or $13 from Trenton, and proportionate rates from other points. Tickets cover railroad transportation for the round trip and hotel accommodations. A special side trip to Mt. Vernon may also be taken. All tickets are good for ten days, with special hotel rates at expiration of hotel coupon. For itineraries and full information apply to Ticket Agents; Tourist Agents, 263 Fifth avenue, New York; 4 Court street, Brooklyn; or Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa. 3 1 2 tn.

Freeholder S. D. Drake?

At the behest of men prominent in Middlesex county politics, Silas Dewey Drake, of Lincoln, has consented to stand as a Republican candidate for freeholder from Piscataway township. The Republican and Democratic primaries will be held at New Market tomorrow. Mr. Drake's candidacy has been urged on the ground that he is one of the largest property owners of Middlesex.

Caught Stealing Coal.

Caught by Roundsman Flynn yesterday stealing coal from the cars of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, Roy Johnson was fined $3 this morning by City Judge Runyon.

—A. C. Hoagland, of Park avenue, has given up his position at Hill & Shupp's store and has gone to Long Branch, to accept a similar position.

BILL HARMFUL TO PLAINFIELD.

Measure Applying to Second-Class Cities Infringes on Council's Power.

Plainfield is interested in a bill which has been presented in the Assembly, which provides for the appointment by the Mayor of two commissioners to have general control of the police and fire departments, taking those branches of municipal government out of the jurisdiction of the Common Council. The measure is a general one and applies equally to all second class cities. It was presented by an assemblyman from Essex county and is intended primarily to accomplish an aim of the common council in Orange which wants some dirty work done for it. Plainfield's Common Council is opposed to the measure and it is believed that it will die in committee.

Special Common Council Meeting.

Instructions have been given to the members of the police force to arrest all persons engaging in carting or similar business without a license. Expressmen who omitted to renew their license at the proper time last week are hard hit by the order. Chief Kiely has asked for a special meeting of the Common Council for tonight in order that the necessary licenses may be granted.

—Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville, has been appointed as a manager for the State Home for Epileptics.

—William A. Smith, colored, died this morning at his home in South Plainfield at the age of twenty-two. He was coachman for Mr. Wheeler, of Park avenue. Funeral services will be held Thursday.

MISS LEICHTENTRITT MARRIED IN NEW YORK

Plainfield Girl Becomes Wife of Nathan Samuels, Jr., at Largely Attended Wedding.

ELABORATE CEREMONY

REV. ALEXANDER LYONS, OF BROOKLYN, OFFICIATES.

Couple to Reside at Somerville—Gift of Bride's Parents, a House Handsomely Furnished—Plainfielders Who Were Present.

A wedding of interest to Plainfield, Newark, New York and Brooklyn, was that yesterday afternoon of Miss Nettie Leichtentritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Leichtentritt, of West Front street, to Nathan Samuels, Jr., of Brooklyn. The ceremony was performed shortly after 5 o'clock in the Imperial Lyceum, Fifty-fifth street and Third avenue, New York, by Rev. Alexander Lyons, of Brooklyn. The bride and groom, according to the Jewish custom, were married beneath a canopy which was of white satin trimmed with gold. It was brought from the Eighty-second Street Temple of New York.

The bride was gowned in white satin crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and a Hebrew Bible. She was attended by her sister, Miss Sadie Leichtentritt, maid of honor, who was dressed in white French voile and carried white roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Adelaide M. Schwarz, of Newark; Miss Emma Hahn, of Newark; Miss Louise Frankenheim, of New York, and Miss Rose Marx, of New Brunswick. They were gowned in white lousine silk and carried bouquets of pink roses.

William Marcus, of New York, was best man, and the ushers were Charles Samuels, of Brooklyn, brother of the groom; Joseph Semel, of Brooklyn, the groom's cousin; Philiip Leichtentritt, brother of the bride and Fred Samuels, brother of the groom.

The flower girls were Miss Nettie Haase, the bride's cousin, of New York, and Miss Mildred Samuels, sister of the groom, of Brooklyn.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony after which supper was served in the dining hall. The color scheme in the decorations of the Lyceum was pink and white.

Among the guests who attended from this city in addition to the members of the family and bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. M. Abrams, William Newcorn, Fred H. Huff, S. Dreier, David Dreier, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dreier, Mr. and Mrs. Rothberg and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kapp. From Newark there were present Mrs. Cecelia Schwarz, Mr. and Mrs. S. Semel, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gold and H. Netheim. Brooklyn guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Samuels, the groom's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Otto A. Samuels, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. I. Michaels, D. Semel, Mrs. F. Davis, J. Samuels, brother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Max Semel and Simon Semel. From New York, there were Mr. and Mrs E. Frankenheim, Mr. and Mrs. I. Rubenstein, Mr. and Mrs. H. Heims, Mr. and Mrs. L. Heims, Mr. and Mrs. Max Heims, Mr. and Mrs. A. Haase, Mr. and Mrs. I. Haase, Mr. and Mrs. Moe Leichtentritt, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Leichtentritt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fox, Mr. and Mrs. E. Moses, Assemblyman Charles S. Adler and Mr. and Mrs. Max Adler. Other guests were Miss Rose Goldsmith, of Chicago; Robert Wolfheim, of Belfontaine, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. D. Hamburg, of Elizabeth; Miss Pauline Drucker and Miss A. Drucker, of Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Marx, of New Brunswick.

Gifts to the bride were almost innumerable and included beautiful articles in silver, cut glass, oil paintings, furniture, bric-a-brac, an onyx urn, set of steins, and many others. The groom's gift to the bride was a particularly handsome gold watch, set with diamonds. The best man received as a souvenir from the groom a gold stick pin, set with pearls, and the ushers also received stick pins. The bride presented her maid of honor with a silver brooch with stone settings and her bridemaids were also given silver brooches. A handsome home, well furnished was the gift of the bride's father and mother to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuels left last night for a short wedding tour which will include Niagara. They will reside in Somerville where Mr. Samuels will open a cloak store on West Main street. They will reside on West Cliff street.

SWACKHAMER MOVES TO BLOCK SMALLEY

Somerset's Assemblyman Has a Bill in Legislature Which May Help Volunteer Men.

REFERENDUM DESIRED

IF MEASURE PASSES PEOPLE MAY VOTE ON TYPE OF SYSTEM DESIRED.

North Plainfield Council's Move to Disband Present Organization and Establish Paid Department May Be Frustrated.

Whether or not a paid fire department is desired by the majority of the people of North Plainfield may be left to a vote of the taxpayers if a bill introduced in the House of Assembly at Trenton by Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer passes its third and final reading.

As Mr. Swackhamer stated at the meeting last week when the site for the new school house was discussed, he is not in favor of a paid fire department because he thinks the present department is able to cope with the average fires in the borough and that a police department on a better scale is more to be desired just now. Believing, too, that the majority of the people of the borough are opposed to paying out so much money from the borough coffers for a paid department he introduced the bill in the Assembly which, if it passes, will give the people a referendum in the matter.

It is said that every effort is being made to have the bill defeated when it comes up for a final reading today, but Mr. Swackhamer intends to fight to a finish. If the measure passes the North Plainfield fire department will not disband on March 15, a special election being necessary before its disbandment can take place.

This bill will not only effect North Plainfield but New Brunswick, Somerville and other cities in New Jersey where a volunteer system now exists which will sooner or later have to be replaced with a paid department. The present law gives the Common Council the power to say whether or not the public should be saddled with this extra burden while the bill, if it passes, will leave the matter to a referendum.

PARK GOLF CLUB'S ELECTION

TRUSTEES ELECTED AND OTHER OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR THE YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Park Golf Club was held last night at the Park Club, with a good attendance of members. Vice President George T. Rogers presided. W. R. Faber, treasurer, presented his report showing that all dues have been paid and other charges against the members collected, leaving a substantial balance in the treasury. The secretary, Charles B. Morse, reported that there are 130 members in the club. There is absolutely no truth in the report that the club intends to disband. The prospects for the coming season are exceedingly bright and a strong schedule will be arranged.

In the selection of trustees, Nelson A. Miller and Charles A. Reed were chosen as a nominating committee and these names were presented and unanimously elected: Charles W. McCutchen, S. St. John McCutchen, George T. Rogers, Charles B. Morse, T. W. Morris, Jr., Leon R. Thurlow and T. U. Dudley.

After the meeting the trustees met and elected these officers: President, Charles W. McCutchen; vice president, George T. Rogers; treasurer Leon R. Thurlow; secretary, Charles B. Morse. Upon the return of the president from his trip abroad he will appoint and announce the various committees.

New Fire Hose Received.

A consignment of new hose has been received at the local fire headquarters for immediate use. There are about 2,000 feet in the shipment and it will be placed upon the various trucks at once. No. 3 truck was loaded with the new hose yesterday and other wagons will be equipped with it today. The old hose will be used for emergency.

It is now just 'twixt seasons and preserves of the right kind are a tasty relish for breakfast, luncheon or dinner. Neuman Brothers can offer the best reasons why you should buy preserves of them. They have the standard brands, guarantee their purity and warrant entire satisfaction.

AMERICA'S OLDEST MAN DEAD IN PISCATAWAY

Uncle Noah Raby Succumbs When Approaching 132d Anniversary of Birth.

THE STORY OF HIS LIFE

INTERESTING OLD CHARACTER A WONDER OF THE AGE.

Passed Away Yesterday in Poorhouse, Where he Had Resided for Many Years—Funeral This Afternoon at His Late Home.

Noah Raby, the oldest person in America, is dead at the age of 132 years, lacking a month. His death occurred yesterday morning. Rev. J. A. Cubberley, pastor of the South Plainfield Baptist church, will conduct the funeral this afternoon. For more than thirty years this centenarian has made his home at the poor house in Piscataway township. Though totally blind for several years old Noah has been otherwise in possession of his faculties. Some time ago the old man was taken ill and since had been quite feeble.

It is believed that Noah Raby's age is well authenticated. He was born at Eatontown, Court House, N. C., April 1, 1772. His mother, Morning Raby, was a native of North Carolina and his father an Indian named Andrew Bass. Noah was never sent to school. He learned to read but could not write his name. He boasted of the fact that he had smoked for 120 years. He started first smoking his mother's pipe when a child. It made him sick but he kept at it until he could smoke as readily and freely as his mother. Until quite recently "Uncle Raby," as he is sometimes called, had used liquor and never had appeared to be the worse for it. But he had only been drunk twice in his life. Once when in Virginia he became intoxicated and had to be brought home in an ox cart. The next time was after he came North. Some young men at New Brunswick sought to have sport with the old man and they induced him to take several drinks which made him grossly intoxicated. This was several years ago. He had never been the worse for liquor since that time.

In telling of his early life Noah said that his mother lived in a small hut built upon poles. When he was seven years of age she married and Noah was compelled to shift for himself. He was bound out to a Mr. Field who owned many slaves, but would never sell any of them becuse he did not believe in doing so. When Noah was twenty-one he decided to strike out and obtain a job. He succeeded in inducing Widow Penelope Parker to give him work about her place in North Carolina. He staid with Mrs. Parker five years and she paid him $300 a year. He left her to work for her daughter-in law, Sarah Parker.

It was while in the employ of the latter woman that Noah fell in love. He became infatuated with Miss Parker, his new mistress and thought he might marry her and thus come into the possession of all her slaves and extensive plantation. But he was too bashful to ask her. Instead Noah told an old darky named "Uncle Mingo" of his infatuation. The old darky offered to bewitch Miss Parker so she would marry Noah. The ardent young lover, however, would not consent to such an idea and finally upon the advice of Miss Parker's half brother he went to sea to drown his sorrow. Without saying good-bye or even stopping to draw what wages were due him Noah left on a long sea voyage. Some months later he obtained a leave of absence from the ship and went back to see his lady love. Miss Parker asked him why he left home so suddenly without receiving his pay. Noah then screwed up his courage and told the lady that it was because he loved her. In reply Miss Parker said: "Faint heart never won fair lady." But it was then too late. Miss Parker had married her overseer two weeks before Noh's arrival. In mentioning the matter to a friend the old man said he was sorry then but had not been since. "Had I married perhaps I wouldn't have lived so long," he replied in closing the conversation.

In politics Noah Raby was a Democrat. He had not voted however in a number of years because he had been unable to pay his poll tax. He used to say that the only thing to regret in all his life was that he had not learned to write his name.

For the past ten years Noah had spent most of his time sitting in a chair in his room. On pleasant days he would walk about the grounds about the poor house. He always slept sitting in a chair as he feared a rush of blood to the head. At the time of his death he weighed less than one hundred pounds. His frame was slightly bent but his muscles were quite firm and his intellect clear. Beneath heavy eyebrows and surrounded by a bushy snow white beard a pair of coal black eyes shown forth like small beads previous to his blindness. Noah Raby was a picturesque figure and was one of the most remarkable characters in may respects that ever lived. The oldest man in New Market now that Noah Raby is gone is Abner S. Coriell, who remembers that Noah worked for his father when he was a boy. He was then a white-haired old man.

THOMAS E. MAC DONALD DEAD

AGED RESIDENT SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA AFTER A WEEK'S ILLNESS.

Thomas E. MacDonald, aged 75 years, a well-known resident of this city for twenty years, died yesterday afternoon at his home in East Front street, following an illness of one week with pneumonia. Prior to that he possessed excellent health and attended to business every day. He was for many years the New York representative of the Moses Pottery Company, of Trenton. This concern is one of the largest in this section of the country.

Mr. MacDonald was a faithful and consistent member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. He was of a quiet disposition and nature and took no part in public affairs in this city. He is survived by a widow, three daughters, Mrs. Moses, of Trenton, the Misses Sadie and Bertha MacDonald, of this city, and two sons, Harry B. MacDonald, of this city, and Charles MacDonald, of Philadelphia.

The funeral services will be held from the late home Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will be in charge. The interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

U. V. U. ENTERTAINMENT.

Old Soldiers Have a Jolly Time at a Dime Social.

An interesting programme of music and recitations was presented last night at a dime social given by the Union Veterans' Union together with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the order. Among those who took part were Samuel Frazee who sang songs, comic and otherwise, to the accompaniment of Mrs. H. L. Gibbons; William Jeffery who sang inspired ballads; Comrades Naylor, Perry and Raybert, who made remarks, and Mrs. John Manley, who sang a solo. The most unique event on the programme was a dialogue between the years 1776 and 1904, represened by Mrs. Gibbons and her niece, Miss Edgar. The committee having charge of the programme consisted of Edward Drake, chairman; John Naylor, Albert G. Perry and Edward Vanderweg, from the U. V. U., and Mrs. O. K. Cox, chairman; Mrs. Edward Townley, Mrs. H. S. Gibbons and Mrs. Johnson, form the auxiliary.

P. H. S. DRILLS.

Lads Form Into Two Companies at Company K's Armory.

The Plainfield High School battalion began its drills yesterday afternoon in Company K's armory. There were enough cadets present to form two companies which were placed under the command of Captains Koons and Thompson, and drilled without guns in the facings, salutes and steps in squads. At a later date, guns will be used and company manoeuvres will be tried. The drill was in charge of Commandant Macnab.

A large number of boys from the Whittier School was present and from them and from the smaller High School boys, a third company will probably be formed.

Told of the War.

The causes of the war in the far East were discussed and the relations of the United States to Japan described in a lecture given before the members of the High School yesterday by Arthur C. Maclay, of this city, who was a resident of Japan for some years. This lecture was given in the Franklin School chapel and dealt with Japanese scenery, architecture and people. The stereopticon illustrations were excellent.

Tea for Miss Alden.

The Misses Bowen, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue, have sent out cards for a tea in honor of Miss Alden, to be given Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

CHARLES S. COOK HAS PASSED AWAY

Plainfield's Veteran Compositor Dies in Muhlenberg Hospital From Complications.

WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN

COOK HELD A SINGLE POSITION FOR THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS.

Honest and Faithful Employe—Sterling Democrat—Member of Trinity Reformed Church—Funeral Saturday Morning.

Charles Sylvester Cook, Plainfield's veteran compositor, is dead, after a short illness. The faithful old fellow passed away in Muhlenberg Hospital at 6 o'clock last night, a complication of troubles being responsible for his end. Arrangements have been made to hold his funeral Saturday morning.

"Cookey," for that was a name of affection used by those with whom he came in daily contact, had been in bad health for many years. A fortnight ago he became so ill that his friends and employer insisted that he should cease work and recuperate. Asthma and bronchitis were among his afflictions. After much urging he was prevailed upon to seek the benefits of Muhlenberg Hospital. The care and attention he received at that institution proved so beneficial that on last Saturday it was supposed that he would be able to return to his work in a few days. Late in the afternoon of that day, he was seized with a brain trouble and from that time on he sank slowly away. He became delirious, though at times he was able to recognize his employer, his physician and his brother, but he was not able to speak. Death relieved him of his suffering last night.

The veteran compositor was born in a house which adjoined the old Spicer & Hubbard mill in West Third street on August 18, 1850. In 1866 he was engaged by W. L. & A. L. Force, who had a printery on what was then Cherry street and is now known as Park avenue. One year later the Messrs. Force established The Constitutionalist and Cook was engaged as a compositor. For many years he was the only bill poster in Plainfield and old residents tell many humorous stories of those days in which Cook figured as a principal figure. When The Daily Press was established in 1887 the dead man was "put on the case" at the plant. He continued in A. L. Force's employment until the time of his death and no man ever had a more faithful workman.

In politics Cook was a Democrat of the most pronounced type. In his earlier days he took an active part in city politics and was noted for his honesty and loyalty. A short time ago he became a member of Trinity Reformed church and attended its services whenever it was possible for him to do so.

The dead man's only immediate relative is Albert G. Cook, a younger brother, who lives in Weston, N. J.

The funeral services will be held in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck will officiate. Interment will be made in the Hillside Cemetery. During the funeral The Daily Press office will be closed in order that all those connected with the plant may attend the services.

MARTINE'S TRIBUTE.

Plainfield, March 2, 1904.
Cedar Brook.

Editor The Daily Press:

Poor Charlie Cook "has gone to that home from whence no traveller returns." Born under most humble surroundings, and in after life surrounded by elements not the most elevating, yet "Cookey," as he was familiarly known, possessed a thousand qualities to be esteemed. He was a loyal true friend—generous to a fault—and honest as Heaven's sun light, these qualities can be said of Charlie Cook. While a pretentious monument of stone may not mark his final resting place, yet he has left that which is better, a "good name."

J. E. Martine.

Had Fainting Spell.

Manning Field, of Plainfield avenue, an aged colored man, fell in a fainting spell at the corner of West Second street and Elmwood place, late yesterday afternoon and was removed to the hospital in the ambulance. He was revived and later was able to return to his home.

Mrs. Charles E. Utter, of West End avenue, has recovered from a recent illness.

EDWIN S. HOOLEY AGAIN IN CONTROL

Borough Banker Heads Syndicate Which Acquires Option on Des Moines Stock.

LONG CONTINUED FIGHT

ROCK ISLAND HAS HELD ROAD UNDER LEASE ABOUT TO EXPIRE.

Hooley Sent Circular Letter to Holders of Des Moines and Fort Dodge Railroad Offering to Purchase Their Stock.

Edwin S. Hooley, of North Plainfield, announced yesterday that control of the Des Moines and Fort Dodge Railroad, which was scattered last summer by the suspensions of W. S. Stow & Co., and Edwin S. Hooley & Co., had again been acquired by a syndicate, of which his firm is the active head. Mr. Hooley about two weeks ago sent a circular letter to holders of Des Moines and Fort Dodge stock asking for an option to purchase their stock at $25 a share.

Options, it was stated yesterday, had been exercised on 30,000 shares, the capital stock of the company being a little more than $5,000,000.

The Des Moines and Fort Dodge Railroad, since 1887, has been operated by the Rock Island under a lease, the Rock Island guaranteeing to the lessee 30 per cent. of its gross earnings, or a minimum amount equal to 4 per cent. on its first mortgage and extension bonds, and 2½ per cent. on its second series bonds This lease expires January 1, 1905, and, according to Rock Island officials, will not be renewed, nor will the Rock Island purchase the road, as the Des Moines and Fort Dodge territory is now covered by the Rock Island's own lines.

Either the Illinois Central or the Iowa Central and the Minneapolis and St. Louis could utilize the Des Moines and Fort Dodge, and it was generally believed in Wall street that the Hooley syndicate in reality represented Edwin Hawley and his friends, who own the Iowa Central and the Minneapolis and St. Louis. This, however, was denied, and it was stated that for the present control of the road would remain with the Hooley syndicate.

Stock upon which E. S. Hooley & Co. held options was delivered yesterday.

MORE LICENSES GRANTED

COMMON COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL SESSION TO ISSUE PERMITS.

Although a call was issued by President Tolles for a special meeting of the Common Council to be held last night, for a time it looked as though there would not be a quorum present. President Tolles and Councilmen Lee, Gloak, Bullock and Higham put in an appearance at 8 o'clock, but it was not until three-quarters of an hour later that the sixth member in the person of Mr. Murphy came around, making it possible to hold a meeting. Word was sent to Councilman Randolph's house in the hopes that he might be induced to attend, but he was found to be ill and could not come out.

The session was called for the purpose of granting thirty-six applications for hack and cartmen's licenses. At the meeting held last Thursday these persons failed to put in their applications and their old licenses expired Monday night at midnight. Legally they could not do any business yesterday, although many of them did. It kept the police busy hunting those who were violating the ordinance. In view of the existing conditions, Chief Kiely called on President Tolles and asked him to call a special session to help the derelicts out of their predicament. This was done and the applicants are now allowed to continue their business.

Before the meeting adjourned Councilman Lee offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted. The resolution provided that Smalley Brothers, owners of the building in which the Council meets, be instructed to purchase a perfectly reliable thermometer to be placed in the Council rooms, that the members may know whether the temperature calls for putting on or taking off their overcoats.

David Smalley was present at the meeting and he said that if the Council would appropriate the money he would secure the thermometer.

Mrs. J. A. Powlison, of the borough, has been detained at home by illness.

AUDUBON SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL SESSION

Lecture by Henry Oldys, of Maryland, on Bird Music a Feature of the Meeting.

DEFENDED THE ROBIN

STATE ORGANIZATION CHOOSES MANY HONORARY VICE PRESIDENTS.

New Jersey Could Not Exterminate the Robin—Useful and Beautiful Bird—Large Attendance at the Lecture—Imitations of Birds.

Lovers of nature who attended the lecture of Henry Oldys, of Forest Glen, Md., on "Bird Music," before the Audubon Society at the Crescent Avenue church last night, were treated to a valuable description of the songs of some of the more familiar birds together with imitations of their notes that were the accurate results of careful and appreciative study. Mr. Oldys described particularly the robin and mentioned good reasons why no law should be allowed to become effective that aims at its destruction.

He stated that an examination of the stomachs of 500 robins had shown conclusively that the robins were more of a benefit to the farmer as to all others than a source of harm. The only crop that suffers severely from their attacks is the cherry crop and the remedy for this is to protect the orchards so far as possible by scattering about roots for which they have a strong appetite and by the use of stuffed owls or similar "scarecrows." The extermination of the robin would mean a loss of the service of one of the best and most useful birds. But as a matter of fact its extermination is impossible owing to the fact that is breeds in all parts of the country, from ocean to ocean and from tropics to arctic regions.

Mr. Oldys' imitations and interpretations of the bird notes were fascinating revelations of the beauty of art that is unconscious of itself. The bird melodies that he whistled were often more simply and truely expressive of the primal emotions than is the effort of the schooled musician. Though of course but broken and unsustained bits of musical expression, many of the songs had considerable variety. Among the particularly pretty ones that Mr. Oldys imitated were the carol of the chewink, the bright and breezy note of the Carolina wren, the fearsome call of the titmouse, the sad strain of the meadow lark, the doleful plaint of the wood pewee, the mope of the owl, the foolish medley of the chat, and all the other "profuse strains of unpremeditated art" known to students of bird lore.

The meeting was the annual one of the Audubon Society of the State of New Jersey, which the report of the secretary showed had a membership list of 600. The society is in good financial condition as indicated by the report of the treasurer, Miss Julia S. Scribner, which was read by Rev. A. C. Nickerson. President Alexander Gilbert presided and these officers were re-elected:

President, Alexander Gilbert; honorary vice presidents, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Mrs. Pierre Mali, Charles J. Fisk and Mason W. Tyler, of this city; Mrs. Sophie B. Herrick, of Bayonne; Mrs. Charles B. Yardley, of East Orange; Hon. C. J. Baxter, James M. Green and Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, D.D., of Trenton; Frank M. Chapman and Thomas L. James, of Englewood; Wilson Farrand, of Newark; John Gifford and Rev. Henry VanDyke, D.D., of Princeton; John W. Grigg, of Paterson; George Pfeiffer, Jr., of Camden; and Austin Scott, of New Brunswick. As secretary and treasurer, Miss Julia S. Scribner was elected and as an executive committee the following: Rev. A. C. Nickerson, chairman, Miss Mary A. Mellick, Miss Caroline Havilland, Mrs. David Hall Rowland, Miss Florence Tweedy, Charles C. Abbott, Henry M. Maxson, Austin C. Apgar, Andrew J. Gavett, Charles A. Shriner, William M. Stillman, Waldron D. W. Miller.

Mrs. Vail Buried.

The funeral services of Mrs. Hulda M. Vail, widow of Wallace Vail, were held yestreday afternoon at 2:30 from the home, 1314 Dunellen avenue, a large number of friends and neighbors being present. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, officiated. The interment was in Evergreen Cemetery in Plainfield avenue.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

You can't find any store in Plainfield where they sell better bread or pies than John Wirth, of West Front street.

An examination of Plainfield hotel registers will show that experienced travellers invariably go to the Kensington.

Fine wines and liquors at the Hotel Waldorf on Front street. This is the gentlemen's rendezvous of the city. Drop in and see for yourself.

J. Hervey Doane, the Park avenue jeweler, is showing a fine line of jewelry, silverware, watches and diamonds, making an easy selection possible.

Nobody who smokes knows the true flavor of a cigar until they have tried M. C. Dobbins' famous nickle Yara cigars. These cigars are made here in this city of the best material.

The acme of electrical work is done by Allen B. Laing, of North avenue. He has done large work and small and is thoroughly competent to handle any kind of electrical wiring in large and small buildings.

L. Moraller & Son, of Park avenue, is offering a number of tempting Lenten bargains. Fine silverware, watches and diamonds are only a few of the great bargains offered. A specialty is also made of fine clock repairing.

If you contemplate having any papering or painting done this spring or summer, do not delay selecting your papers or paint. Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place, is now prepared to make contracts and the firm will guarantee all work and material to be the best.

The H. E. Gayle Hardware Company is prepared for a large spring and summer trade. The company will have a very large stock of goods, including everything in the hardware line, kitchen, as well as farming utensils and implements. There is also carried in stock a fine assortmen of cutlery and builders' materials.

Roth & Co., the East Front street butchers, are rapidly securing a very desirable trade not only in meats, but in fish, poultry and salt meats. This firm has long been known as one of the leading ones in New Jersey and quality is never sacrificed for price. However, the prices will compare favorably with those in the largest cities, while the quality is never questioned.

Preparatory to removal from his present place of business on West Front street to his own building on the same street, adjoining Compton's alley, M. Weinberger, the clothier, will sell at a sacrifice men's and boys' clothing, as well as men's furnishings. Mr. Weinberger carries one of the largest stocks of clothing in the State and all goods are just as represented. Mr. Weinberger intends making extensive alterations in his building and will have, when completed, one of the finest clothing stores in New Jersey.

The business of the Great A. and P. Tea Company has grown to such immense proportions because its managers have the interests of the customers at heart. Nothing that can assist in obtaining for customers the highest quality of goods for the least money has been left undone. Some specially remarkable bargains in goods and trading stamps are offered this week, A. and P. baking powder being the leader. Borax soap is another good thing on the list. The A. and P. tea store on West Front street is the busiest store in town every day in the week.

Dr. D. O. Adams, of Grove street, is detained at home by illness.

Miss Carrie D. Sayer, of Sayreville, who has been the guest of Miss Monroe, of Somerset street, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kleinert, of Jersey City, have returned home after visiting friends in this city for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Saunderson, of Fairview avenue, who have been spending the winter in Florida, have returned home.

Rev. Milton A. Graf, of Grace church, Trenton, a former worker in the local Y. M. C. A., visited relatives in this city Saturday.

Miss Ella Saunderson, of Fairview avenue, who has been visiting friends in Philadelphia, returned last night with her parents, who have been enjoying the winter in Florida.

William M. Tallman, of Maple avenue, was severely injured at Elizabeth last week by falling and severely spraining his ankle. His physicians declare that the tendons are broken and will place the member in splints today. This could not be done before because of the great swelling.

FOLLOW THE WAR AT FIRESIDE

THE NORTH AMERICAN'S CHART WILL ENABLE YOU TO KEEP TRACK OF IT.

What means have you at your disposal of keeping pace with the daily march of events that go to make up the fascinating history of the great conflict that is being waged in the Far East between Russia and Japan?

How do you permanently fix in your memory the losses and victories of the striving nations, the movements of their troops and fighting craft, the vessels that have been disabled by the Japanese, the stations of the fleets as they are sent hither and thither by orders from St. Petersburg or Tokio, or at the wills of their commanders?

What strategic endeavors, consummated in the investment of this town or that, or the transferring of a naval or land base from one point to another, did Japan or Russia make last Friday, the Tuesday before that, or during the preceding week?

To enable its readers to answer what has been suggested in these questions—in a word, to transfer in miniature the theatre of war from Korea, Manchuria, Japan, or wherever it may extend, into the home—The North American next Sunday will provide the necessary equipment.

This will consist of a full-page map in colors of the territory embraced within the area involved or likely to be involved in the war. With the map will be provided fac-similes of all the Russian and the Japanese battleships, each correctly named, together with groups of Russian and Japanese soldiery.

The war chart will be printed on the first page of the magazine section of The North American on Sunday, March 6. The edition is limited, and your order should be filed with your newsdealer without delay. This war chart can be obtained with no other newspaper.

AMUSEMENTS.

With all her original company around her, Miss Annie Russell is appearing at the Garrick Theatre in her last year's success, "Mice and Men." Mrs. Gilbert is still on hand, and her entrance is greeted with loud applause and even cheers. In place of Orrin Johnson is Oswald Yorke. The Garrick is crowded and genuine enthusiasm is in evidence. John Mason still has the role of the scholar teacher. Miss Russell herself proves as great a favorite as ever, and is called before the curtain again and again. The play will be in the city only two weeks, after which Miss Russell will go on tour again in "The Younger Mrs. Parling." Order seats by mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brokaw, of Newark, are visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs. Charles Emmons, of the borough, has been removed to the hospital for treatment.

Mrs. David Bowden, of West Fourth street, has been discharged from the hospital, but is now ill with grip

Miss Kizzie Neagle, of this city, has been visiting Miss Linda P. Rowland, of Bound Brook, for a few days.

J. C. Martin, of Duer street, has returned to his position at Woodhull & Martin's store, after a week's vacation.

C. B. Clifton, who has been enjoying life at Daytona, Florida, sailed for home on Saturday and he expects to reach here March 6.

Irving Cooley, son of Dr. Justus H. Cooley, of the borough, is visiting in the borough for the first time in seven years He is engaged at Buffalo as a marine engineer.

If You Have Any Spare Time

We Want to Make You a Proposition for Its Use

THE magazine subscription business has grown enormously within the past three years, and hundreds are finding it a pleasant and lucrative employment, especially at this season of the year. A large sum will be spent in every community this winter in subscribing for new magazines and renewing old subscriptions. Most of the money would ordinarily go direct from subscriber to publisher; but the latter would just as soon receive it through an agent, and the subscriber would usually prefer to patronize a "home industry" by placing his subscriptions through a fellow-townsman.

By putting this idea into practice, one of our subscription representatives, in a recent month's canvassing, earned $524.00; another, in the same month, $494.00, and still another, $334.00. And this, mind you, at work calling for investment of not one penny, and no previous experience. You may do as well. Will you try it?

in every community this winter to whom we can send lists of expiring subscriptions for renewal, also to obtain new subscriptions. The pay is the largest offered by any first-class magazine, and the assistance rendered subscription-getters the most helpful. Any person of average intelligence and energy can earn much more in this way than could be earned in any ordinary salaried position.

at least, will be earned in commissions and cash prizes by our representatives within the next six months. Write today for our proposition and special methods of work.

Conference at Washington on Anti-Russian Feeling.

WHY ILL FEELING AND PRESS ATTACKS?

Russian Ambassador Inquired as to the Reported Japan-Guam Cable Project—St. Petersburg Would Probably Object.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—An important conference lasting more than an hour has occurred between Secretary Hay and Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador. The growing ill feeling in Russia against Americans and the continued attacks of certain parts of the American press upon Russia was the main subject discussed.

Count Cassini also informally inquired about the report that the Commercial Cable company had applied for landing privileges at Guam for a cable from that island to Japan. He was assured by Mr. Hay that this government at present was considering no such application. The ambassador did not give any intimation as to what the attitude of his government would be in this matter. Dispatches from St. Petersburg, however, have stated that the Russian government would view askance the granting of such privileges by this government during the present war. It is assumed that this government has declined for the present formally to consider such an application.

When interviewed Count Cassini said that the Russian people long since had learned to regard the people of this country as their fast friends and that it had been a bitter disappointment to them to find American newspapers attacking the Russian government, the Russian people and Russian policies. He said the first feeling of his people had been one of painful surprise, but that this is now crystallizing into a deplorable feeling of unfriendliness.

"The tone of Russian newspapers," said the ambassador, "a consequence of the tone of many American newspapers, is beginning to take a very painful direction in their references to the United States, and, in my opinion, it is in the interests of both countries that some measures shall be taken to check this before it is too late.

"Fortunately the relations of the two governments continue, as always, absolutely friendly, and for this reason I am hopeful that the present unfriendliness on the part of the press of the two countries will not be lasting. The friendliness of the American and Russian governments, it is my firm belief, furnishes the basis for the restoration and preservation of the traditional friendship of their two peoples, and I hope some means may be found for the latter to reach a better understanding."

Moderates Won In Cuban Elections.

HAVANA, March 2.—More complete election returns indicate that the Liberal Nationalists elected fifteen congressmen, the Conservative Republicans eleven and the Moderate Nationalists, a party peculiar to Santiago, five. Of the six provinces in the island the Republicans won only in Matanzas and Santa Clara. Moderate Liberal candidates, however, were elected in the provinces of Santiago, Puerto Principe and Pinar del Rio. While twenty of the thirty-one congressmen elected are so called Liberals, half of this number are opposed to the principles declared by the Havana Nationalists, and the result of the elections is therefore generally regarded as a victory for the Moderate element in politics.

Irving's Theater Going.

LONDON, March 2.—The last scene on the stage of the old Lyceum theater was enacted when the interior fittings or the playhouse and the paneling, furniture and iron grid of the historic Beefsteak club were sold at auction. A sprinkling of actors, some of whom had participated in Sir Henry Irving's successes at the Lyceum, sought to pick up mementos, but the bidders mostly were east enders, and the prices betrayed that there was little demand for relics of the famous theater.

World's Oldest Man Dead.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 2.—Noah Raby is dead here. He lacked one month of being 132 years old and was an inmate of the Piscataway poorhouse. As far as any records go he was at the time of his death the oldest man in the world. Raby had been in the poorhouse for nearly fifty years and was an object of such curiosity that visitors were only allowed to see him on one day of the month, as a large number of callers seriously taxed his strength.

Dutch Ship Believed to Be Lost.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The agents in this city of the Dutch schooner Voorwaarts believe that she has been lost, with her crew of fifteen men. The craft left here Oct. 18 for Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, with a general cargo. Several bad hurricanes swept the Atlantic shortly after the schooner left, and as she failed to reach her destination or be reported from any other port it is supposed that she went down in one of these storms.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The bill providing that supplies for the army and navy should be carried in American ships has passed the senate—35 to 17.

JAP ADVANCE READY

Army Landed In Korea Will Move Toward Manchuria.

RUSSIAN ARMY BARS THE WAY

Armies Must Come Together Soon. Mikado's Troops Occupy Ichioyang and Fortify It—Noncombatants Leave Port Arthur.

LONDON, March 2.—According to a report received here all the Japanese troops necessary for the forward movement have been landed in Korea, and it is expected the general advance toward Manchuria will begin at once.

It is believed that a land battle in Korea must occur within a very short time. The Japanese, according to a late report, have occupied Ichioyang, near Pingyang, and are now fortifying it. It was announced that a considerable body of Russian troops were already in the neighborhood of Ichioyang and that a detachment of mounted cavalry was expected there.

Twenty-five hundred Russian troops are reported to have reached the Yalu, and two regiments of mounted infantry, with artillery, hold the mountain passes some thirty-five miles south of Wiju.

A Chefu dispatch says that the Japanese have renewed the attack on Port Arthur. The fleet kept beyond the range of all but the most powerful land batteries.

The engagement lasted one hour, the Japanese retiring. Their loss is unknown. The Russian cruiser Askold had one gun dismounted and two men injured.

At low water the Russians discovered a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer which had been sunk on the shore of the outer harbor. They also found five unexploded torpedoes.

A Port Arthur report says the military authorities are causing to be removed from all strategic points the women and children and all aged and infirm men, so that the necessity of protecting them will not be added to the other duties of the troops and in order that all supplies may be available for the use of the actual combatants.

The Russian torpedo boat which sought refuge in Pigeon bay was subjected to a terrific fire from the Japanese cruisers. One shot pierced her hull. The boat was beached, the leak was stopped, she was refloated at high water and returned to Port Arthur.

Advices from Vladivostok say that 500 Chinese brigands are terrorizing the district of Ninguta. Their leader, Yavanten, proclaims himself invulnerable to bullets.

Advices received by mail from Irkutsk, Siberia, say that local firms whose employees have been called to service in the army are continuing to pay the married men full wages and the unmarried men half pay.

A report from Vladivostok says that the warships in the harbor are the Rossia, Gromoboi and Rurik and the transport Moskova. The port is frozen hard, and the ice breaker is scarcely able to clear the channel.

Two Japanese attempted to blow up a dock at Vladivostok, but did not succeed. They escaped.

A Japanese barber at Vladivostok deeming himself insulted by a Russian officer shot him dead and then dramatically announced that he was a captain on the Japanese general staff and was not used to taking insults.

Vice Admiral Bezobrazoff has left here for Cronstadt to take command of the second division of the Baltic fleet. Admiral Bezobrazoff is greatly beloved by the sailors, many of whom gathered at the railroad station to bid him farewell.

A Tokyo dispatch says that general elections were held in Japan and were without disturbance of any kind.

An imperial rescript convening the diet in special session at Tokyo on March 18 will be issued today. This session will last for ten days, and the most important bill to be presented is one which increases the land tax by 1½ per cent. This increase will result in doubling the income from this source.

Direct telegraphic advices received here from Port Arthur make no mention of the bombardment of that place reported yesterday.

Advices from St. Petersburg say that General Kuropatkin has returned to St. Petersburg from his home, where he went to take leave of his family. His departure for the front remains fixed for March 11.

Vice Admiral Makaroff is expected to reach Port Arthur March 11.

A Shanghai report says that 4,000 additional Chinese soldiers have been posted in northern China and that the Chinese government has recently placed large orders for guns and ammunition.

Advices from Seoul report that 1,400 Russians are at Chongfu, 500 at Kusong and 50 at Anju. These forces probably are only feelers sent out to locate the position of the Japanese.

All the Americans formerly at Sunchun, with the exception of one family, have arrived at Pingyang.

The emperor of Korea has dissolved the organization of the Peddlers' guild, which has been a disturbing factor in the situation.

It is reported from Tokyo that the general staff and a regiment of the guards have left Japan for a port on the west coast of Korea, probably Chemulpo.

Korea's Hope the United States.

PARIS, March 2.—A consideration of the attitude of the European powers shows that Korea has little to hope for from them, Great Britain being expected to agree to greater Japanese control over the Hermit Kingdom, while France and Germany would not oppose Russia in the event of her being victorious. The hopes of the Koreans, therefore, are centering on the United States, and so soon as the cable and other lines of communication are restored it is understood that representations will be made to the Korean government with the view of inducing it to designate a leading diplomat as minister at Washington, the post now being occupied by a charge d'affaires. The Korean government will be urged to authorize its representative to conduct a campaign designed to arouse the interest of the American people in Korea, and when the negotiations are begun then an urgent appeal will be submitted to the president to use his good offices, as provided by the treaty between the two states. Min Yeung Tchan, the Korean minister in Paris, who was secretary of legation at Washington several years ago, is expected to be considered by his government for transfer to the United States.

Japan Ignored Hague Tribunal.

PARIS, March 2.—M. Jacobsen, an advocate of the Paris court of appeals, has published a pamphlet on the sittings of The Hague arbitration tribunal in the Venezuelan matter, to which Professor Demartens, the Russian member of the tribunal, has contributed a preface, in which he touches on the far eastern question. Professor Demartens says the fact that Japan was a party to The Hague convention of 1899 and that she attacked her opponent without having made a declaration of war will make many persons ask of what use is the arbitration tribunal. He explains that the first Japanese attack at Port Arthur was not merely Japanese ships attacking Russian ships, but Asia attacking Christian Europe. These two civilizations have totally different ideas on the subject of arbitration, the Russian member of the court continues, and, although the Port Arthur incident seems to be discouraging, there is no doubt that the future will bring arbitration between nations, if not in Asia at least in Europe.

Russia Unwilling to Receive Morgan

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Edward V. Morgan, United States consul to Dalny, has arrived here. At present the Russian government is unwilling to receive a representative of this country at Dalny, so he will remain in this city for some time awaiting instructions. He said in an interview: "I do not consider that Russia's refusal to receive a consul of this country at Dalny is at all unfriendly, as she had informed the United States it would be impossible at this time to extend to our representative the courtesies customary between friendly nations. At present the harbor of Port Arthur is blockaded by Japanese ships, and Dalny is liable to suffer from want of supplies. The United States has no hostile intentions in establishing a consulate at that port, and I believe if conditions were different the Russians would only be too glad to receive me."

Under Military Law.

KINKOW, March 2.—Liaoyang, Manchuria, is now essentially a Russian military city. An area comprising three and a third square miles adjoining the railroad has been inclosed for a military camp and magazine purposes. There is also a military camp at Haicheng, Manchuria, thirty-two miles from Newchwang, which, with its defenses, covers 1,000 acres.

Czar Was Overcome.

BERLIN, March 2.—The Schlesische Zeitung publishes a statement said to have been received from court circles in St. Petersburg that the czar was overcome with emotion at the friendly spirit shown in Emperor William's recent letter to him on the war in the far east and that when he read it he burst into tears.

Russian Destroyers on Watch.

PORT SAID, Egypt, March 2.—Five Russian torpedo boat destroyers sailed from here in the direction of Algiers. It is thought they intend to search for vessels bearing contraband of war in the Mediterranean. The Russian cruiser Aurora will follow them.

Farmer Did Not Want War Game.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 2.—The war department's proposition to acquire the consent of owners of a large tract in this vicinity for the purpose of holding annual maneuvers of troops was submitted to a large meeting of farmers by Captain Moss of the United States army. Captain Moss made an earnest plea in behalf of the government, but it was unanimously rejected by the farmers, who feared that much destruction of property would result from the movements of large bodies of troops.

Venezuela Asked to Accept.

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 2.—Congress met here, and the presidential message was read by Castro himself. He asked the Venezuelan people to accept the decision of The Hague tribunal giving preference to the claims against Venezuela of Great Britain, Germany and Italy. The president's message revealed the financial resources of Venezuela to be much greater than previously had been supposed.

Prices of Oil Cut.

LIMA, O., March 2.—The prices of crude oil were cut 3 cents per barrel on the high grade product and 5 cents on the heavy grades in Kentucky and Kansas. No cause for the reduction is apparent except that drilling will be more active in the spring and production is expected to increase.

Cashier Took Carbolic Acid.

WATERLOO, Ia., March 2.—M. T. Blake, cashier of the First National bank of Dunkerton, has committed suicide here by taking carbolic acid. The bank officials are examining the accounts of the bank.

FIRST CANAL BILL

Senate at Albany Discusses Measure to Appoint Officials.

FEAR IT MAY LEAD TO EXTRAVAGANCE

Senator Davis of Buffalo Wanted Three Special Salaried Examiners Appointed—The Anticanal Men Objected Vigorously.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 2.—The first of the preliminary bills for the 1,000 ton barge canal has created a heated discussion in the senate here. The bill, which was introduced by Senator Davis of Buffalo, provides for the appointment of three special examiners and appraisers of land, structures and waters for the canal improvement. The appraisers are to receive $5,000 a year.

Senator Malby of St. Lawrence, who has always been a leader among the anticanal men, objected vigorously when Lieutenant Governor Higgins referred the bill to the committee on canals. He maintained that the bill should be referred to the committee on finance, of which he is chairman.

"The precedent involved is more important than the $5,000 salaries," said Senator Malby. "In a little while you will be putting bills through for appropriations for millions, and you will want those bills referred to the canal committee instead of to the finance committee."

Senator Davis replied hotly that it was not strange that anticanal senators should display an eagerness to attack anything in relation to the canal improvement.

After more words of this character the lieutenant governor declined to change the reference of the bill.

Navy Must Be Ready For War.

LONDON, March 2.—In the course of a discussion of the naval estimates in the house of commons last night Premier Balfour, while admitting the magnitude of the estimates, said the house should not only consider the amount, but should watch the general European and Asiatic situation, which alone could justify what the country was asked to expend. The country should not lose sight of the possibility of war between Great Britain and two great maritime powers, which could hardly end without great losses on the part of both the enemies and Great Britain, in which event the other navies would be intact and in a maritime position which they did not now hold. Continuing, Mr. Balfour said he was reluctant to mention the possibility of war. He did not think such a dreadful contingency was one which they at present had any reason to apprehend. But when talking of the navy they must always be talking of the possibility of war, and he was forced when indicating the general outlines of the reasons which compelled the government to ask for this sacrifice to indicate possibilities which did not exist twenty-five years ago. The dependence Great Britain placed on her navy was purely defensive.

Military Guard Against Lynchers.

MERIDIAN, Miss., March 2.—Warren Monroe and wife and Ella James, all negroes, have been arrested in connection with the recent mail car robbery and murder of Mail Clerk Stockton. They are charged with conspiracy and complicity. One hundred and fifty soldiers keep a close guard on the county jail, where the negro Paris is confined. Only twice were there any indications of a riot, and both times the collecting mob was dispersed, with no casualties. Scouts were kept moving throughout the city all night, and wherever too many people gathered the police were notified. Circuit Judge Hall has issued an order for a special term here on March 21 to try Paris.

To Honor Memory of Senator Hanna.

CLEVELAND, O., March 2.—The Marcus A. Hanna Memorial association has been incorporated at Columbus by several prominent citizens of Cleveland. The purpose of the association is to establish a chair of political science at Western Reserve university in memory of the late Senator Hanna. The incorporators will meet in a few days and choose a board of trustees, open an office in Cleveland and begin active work for the collection of sufficient funds to endow the proposed chair. The movement was instigated by Rev. J. S. Rutledge and found immediate favor.

Dying Murderer Pardoned.

CONCORD, N. H., March 2.—Arthur G. McLean of Henniker has been pardoned by the governor and council from the state prison, in which institution he was serving a thirty years' sentence for the murder of Nettie Douglass, a fifteen-year-old girl. McLean is critically ill of tuberculosis. He was sentenced for murder in the second degree in November, 1894. While McLean and the Douglass girl were riding in a buggy at Henniker he shot her twice with a revolver.

Italian Arrested as Murder Suspect.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 2.—Benjamin Alverson of Pleasant Valley was found on the road at Millbrook, with several stab wounds on his body, one in the back penetrating the right lung. He was removed to the county house, where he died about 10 o'clock last night. Suffreno de Lengo, an Italian, has been arrested for the crime.

Alleged Counterfeiters Caught.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—Secret service agents have arrested Horatio Wrigley and his brother, Samuel Wrigley, charged with counterfeiting small coins. The brothers were taken to Trenton for trial on indictments returned against them by the New Jersey grand jury.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 2, 1904.

Mayor Smalley opened the Republican headquarters in the borough last night. The "Cits" say that he will open his eyes on election day.

That story about the Trenton man who hasn't slept for twelve years is flaby considering the fact that he is the driver of a grocery wagon.

The once-in-a-while small buyer has friends and his friends have friends. By getting his good will, you may start an endless chain system that will prove a strong ally to your newspaper advertising—Jed Scarboro.

Assemblyman Finch's bill, in the New York Legislature, to reform the police officers of New York by giving them fat salaries may be all right but his argument is a little lame. He declares that such a measure will put the police officers beyond the temptation of blackmail, thus measuring a man's conscience by dollars and cents.

The assistant district attorney of Newark has instituted legal proceedings against the North Jersey Street Railway Company for operating a flat wheel car in that city. Once upon a time a flat wheel car was running in North Plainfield, but it didn't take long for Mayor Smalley to find a remedy. He telephoned the company that unless it was removed he would smash it. The trolley car disappeared.

The Cincinnati Commercial Tribune says:

"The Boston Herald vouches for the fact that Uncle Noah Raby, of the local almshouse, is 131 years old, was born on February 29, is in astonishingly good health, always took his tod regularly, is an inveterate smoker and occasionally is inclined to profanity. Thus are all our idols smashed to little bits!"

The Commercial Tribune would have Noah Raby a resident of Massachusetts. Its campaign against Roosevelt has so bedfuddled the mind of the editor that facts have become like printers' "pie" to him.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

We noticed strange visitors in our shrubbery today in two birds of gorgeous plumage. The one we opined to be the male was about the size and shape of the mistle-thrush, with a long body; the head and breast were of a most brilliant scarlet, like the tanager; this shaded off first to reddish brown, and then to grey on the back. The tail was long and reddish brown in color. The head bore a small tuft of brown of the same bright royal color. The female was of smaller size, but of more sober dress. They seemed much out of harmony with the bleak surrounding as hardly to be natives of this country; but to have escaped from some confinement. Can any of your readers tell us what they were? F. C. Jennings.

Mrs. Jennings' Funeral.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Andrew J. Jennings, of Martinville, were held yesterday at 1 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. George Bowers and the interment was in the Springfield cemetery. A large wreath was a conspicuous object in the funeral cortege, sent by Columbia Lodge, A. O. U. W., of this city, which also was peresented by a large delegation. Mr. Jennings is a member of the local order.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The tenth anniversary of the Ladies' Aid Society, of Warren chapel, will be observed tonight in the chapel.

Preparatory services will be held in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

A regular business meeting of the Young Men's Assembly of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, was held last night.

Tomorrow night at the residence of Eugene VanCourt, Oak Tree, a turkey supper will be given for the benefit of Maroonnier chapel.

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will meet his class at the church this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will lead the meeting at the East Third Street chapel tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Schenck, a former missionary in Japan, will speak to the Young Women's Mission Band in the parlors of Trinity Reformed church, on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Special services will be held tomorrow night at Whosoever Mission on Whitewood avenue, opposite Regent street. It will be a special song and prayer service and all are invited to attend.

The women of the First Baptist church are planning ways and means for the building of a kitchen at the church, one that will suitably answer their needs in arranging suppers or social affairs of any kind.

Thethird in the series of mid-week Lenten services at Hope chapel will take place tomorrow night. The subject will be "The Kingdom as the Object of Constant Effort," and the leader will be Rev. L. R. Howard.

The speaker at next Sunday afternoon's meeting for men at the Y. M. C. A. Hall will be Rev. William I. Campbell, of Ringoes. Mrs. Charlotte Ravenscroft, of New York, will be the vocal soloist, and violin solos will be presented by W. Frank Malin.

Tonight will be Rev. Dr. Algernon Crapsey's last service in the seven days' mission in Grace Protestant Episcopal church. The clergyman, who resides in Rochester, is an eloquent speaker and has attracted large congregations. The service begins at 8 o'clock.

Church extension will be discussed tonight at the regular weekly prayer meeting at the Grace M. E. church. The meeting will be in charge of the committee in charge of this work which consists of W. N. Warren, E. P. Stevens, J. S. Lunger and the pastor, Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp.

Rev. Walter J. Swaffield, who is well known in this city, having preached in the First Baptist church, has resigned the pastorate of the Summit Avenue Baptist church, Jersey City, to accept the pastorate of the Lexington Avenue Baptist church, New York. He will take a short rest before entering upon his new charge.

The Army of Standard Bearers of Monroe Avenue M. E. church held a social last night at the home of Miss Marion Pierson at 410 Grant avenue. An address was made by Mrs. E. Trewin, of Elizabeth, district secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. The social was of an educational nature and during the evening refreshments were served.

There will be a special gospel service for the intermediate and boys' departments of the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Harry Thompson, of the High School, will be the leader, and Francis Anderson, William Flanders and Martin B. Stutsman will speak. A cornet solo will be given by Martin Dewey, of Westfield, and the boys' musical club will play.

The Democratic caucus will be held in the borough hall tomorrow evening.

Miss Frances Hunt is visiting friends in Brooklyn for a few days.

NEW MARKET.

The First Baptist church fair opened last evening in Friendship Hall with a good attendance. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and several fancy booths have been arranged by the ladies. The fair promises to be a success.

A straw ride given by Miss Mae Brower last eveving was attended by many young people from here and a pleasant time was enjoyed.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The Republican and Democratic primaries will both be held tomorrow night. The two principal offices to be filled this spring are that of freeholder and town committeeman. There is hardly any likelihood of a contest at either primary. The Republicans will re-nominate John Robinson, the present Freeholder, while the Democratic nomination will probably go to William R. Stanbury. Theodore Bruchman, the retiring committeeman, will be re-nominated by the Democrats. His opponent on the Republican ticket has not been announced yet, on account of a scarcity of candidates who are willing to be put up for the purpose of being knocked down by factional fight.

W. A. Beekon died at the home of his brother, A. D. Beekon, of the borough, Tuesday afternoon, after a lingering illness from consumption. Mr. Beekon has been a resident of the borough for several years, removing there from New York, hoping the change would benefit his health, but the relief was only temporary. For several weeks past his condition has been considered serious and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was a member of Fanwood Council, Royal Arcanum, and until a short time ago took an active interest in the welfare of the borough. A widow survives him.

By doing away with the police department and no exemption being allowed to firemen, the tax rate in the borough would be reduced nearly 40 points. Those who favor a reduction in the expenses point to the fact that the borough tax rate is the fourth highest in the county, and nothing to show for it but one policeman, who has never made an arrest.

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Anna Raymond, who died suddenly on Sunday night, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late home on Bartle avenue. Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, will have charge of the services. Interment will be made in the Methodist Cemetery, North Plainfield.

John S. VanArsdale, the blacksmith of the borough, is being urged to accept the nomination for justice of the peace at the borough primaries. Mr. VanArsdale, if he will accept, will receive the full support of all ticket, as the residents are very anxious to elect a justice who will qualify for the office.

Work at the stone crusher in the valley, will be resumed again as soon as the weather will permit. This is the first winter since the crusher has been in operation, that it has been impossible to keep running at least part of the time.

William E. Collins and J. P. Stevens have been at work for the past week auditing the books of the borough collector, Charles Sheelen. The statement will be ready for the tax payers in a few days.

Fanwood Council, R. A., holds a special meeting tonight to take action on the death of their late brother, W. A. Beekon, who died at the home of his brother on Tuesday afternoon.

The Tuesday night dancing class held each week in the I. O. T. rooms, corner Park and North avenues, is well attended by the young people of the village.

Harry Darby, son of Douglass L. Darby, of Alton, is seriously ill with appendicitis. He was taken to the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

The class in Bible study held its semi-monthly meeting for study last night at the home of Miss DeMott, of Park avenue.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company holds its regular monthly meeting in the company rooms tonight.

Several new names were added to the registry list at the Board meeting held in the town rooms Tuesday.

Adam Gray, of Newark, has been spending a few days with his brother, Joseph Gray, of Front street.

Judge Clark has been detained at home for several days, suffering from a severe cold.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Noah Raby, said to be 132 years of age, and for some years living at the township home, has passed away. His funeral service will be conducted by Rev. J. A. Cubberley this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at his late residence.

An unique entertainment and social, called a sock social, will be held this evening in the lecture room of the Baptist church. Admission free to all.

William A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Smith, died yesterday morning, aged twenty-two. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

The friends of Charles Gaffney will be pained to know that he has been suffering for some time with typhoid fever and is still very sick.

TenEyck & Harris for sometime past have been running four coal wagons to Plainfield quite steadily.

Stephen Staats, of Highland Park, will sell his personal property at public vendue, March 4, at 10 o'clock.

ON NEW ORLEANS TRACK.

Floral King Was Defeated by Lelia In the Feature.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—The defeat of Floral King, a topheavy favorite in the third race, was a blow to his owner's aspirations in the Crescent City Derby. The colt, always a favorite in the betting, led for the greater part of the distance, but failed to respond in the final pinch. Princelet, Port Royal and Trossachs were the other defeated favorites. H. Phillips has bought from W. Harris the three year contract for the services of Jockey J. Hennessy for $4,000. Summaries:

First Race—Mintbed won, Henry of Franstamar second, Hickory Corners third.

Second Race—Burning Glass won, Past second, Balm of Gilead third.

Third Race—Lelia won, Redman second, Floral King third.

Fourth Race—The Regent won, Port Royal second, Vestry third.

Fifth Race—Prodigal Son won, Gus Heydorn second, Port Warden third.

Sixth Race—Trio won, Tancred second, Lou Woods third.

On Oakland Track.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Prince Blazes proved the surprise of the racing at Oakland. He was quoted at 12 to 1 for the mile event and after leading all the way won, ridden out, from Elmer L., the third choice. Lady Wadsworth, the favorite, made a poor showing. Possart, the favorite, gained a nose victory over Flaneur in the fifth race. Cardinal Sarto was thought to be the best in the two-year-old race, but he finished third. Light of Day won, with Veina, an outsider, second.

Stuyve Got the Handicap.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 2.—The feature of the day's racing at Ascot was the Randolph handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, in which Stuyve carried top weight. He was favorite. Nitrate was second choice. Stuyve led all the way and won in a gallop from Bragg by two lengths. Nitrate was third.

Columbia Basket Ball Champion.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—Columbia university defeated the University of Pennsylvania at basket ball last night by a score of 23 to 12. This victory gives Columbia the intercollegiate championship.

Hague Decision Caused Sensation.

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 2.—The decision of The Hague arbitration tribunal that the three powers which blockaded Venezuela—Great Britain, Germany and Italy—have the right to a preference of 30 per cent of the customs duties at La Guayra and Puerto Cabello has produced a sensation in this city. The general opinion here is voiced by high officials, who say the value of future decisions handed down by the arbitration tribunal is destroyed, because in this finding the tribunal has consecrated the triumph of might over right. In an interview United States Minister Bowen said: "The tribunal was called upon to establish a new principle in international law—namely, that all creditor nations should be treated with equal consideration and that preferential treatment should not be obtained by blockades and bombardments. The tribunal refused to establish this principle, and other principles now recognized as sound by international law were also at first rejected. We must therefore have patience." The local press attacks the decision bitterly.

King Peter's Ominous Words.

BERLIN, March 2.—The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger at Belgrade, Servia, telegraphs that King Peter, addressing the officers of the army on the occasion of the Servian centenary supper, said, alluding to the Balkan situation, that they must prepare themselves for great days. General Putnik, the war minister, responded, saying that the army would defend Servian rights. This incident is taken in Berlin to mean that Servia and Bulgaria may have reached an agreement to co-operate.

Fight With Moonshiners Reported.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., March 2.—A rumor has reached here that a battle has been waged in the mountains of Knott county between moonshiners and revenue men. According to the rumor, William and John Haddix, moonshiners, were killed, and Jack Combs, a moonshiner, was fatally wounded. One deputy marshal was reported killed. The moonshiners were said to be working in a cave when surprised by the revenue men and resisted arrest.

Beaulieu's Daughter Ill.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 2.—It is announced that the very serious illness of his daughter had prevented M. Anatole Leroy Beaulieu from sailing for this country on the day planned and that he could not therefore reach America in time to lecture tomorrow at Harvard university. M. Beaulieu was engaged to lecture under the auspices of the Cercle Francais, the address on March 3 to be the beginning of a series at Sanders' theater.

Coal Breaker Destroyed by Fire.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 2.—No. 3 breaker, located between here and the town of Parsons, owned and operated by the Delaware and Hudson Coal company, was completely destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at $30,000. Origin unknown. Several hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment.

Irishwoman Died at 101 Years.

UTICA, N. Y., March 2.—Mrs. Margaret Gagan, the only centenarian in Waterville, died at her home there, aged 101 years. She was born in Ireland and had been a resident of America fifty-six years.

GAY YOUTH WAS SILENCED.

How Archbishop Farley Made Short Work of a Chap Who Had More Lip Than Brains.

Archbishop Farley dedicated last month at New Rochelle a handsome church that Adrian Iselin had built and given to the town.

During the dedicatory ceremony a friend of the archbishop said:

"When he was private chamberlain to Pope Leo some 20 years ago, Mgr. Farley, as he was then called, had occasion to meet all classes of people. Wits of the world tried their hands against him now and again, but in these encounters the wits met with defeat always, for a keener, readier mind than the archbishop's does not exist on the globe.

"They say that Mgr. Farley was crossing one day from New Haven to Dieppe when a young Frenchman attempted to take him in hand. This young man scoffed at religion and at clergymen, but he was, of course, unable to anger monsignore, or to draw him into an argument.

"Finally the foolish youth resorted to open ridicule—to sheer impudence.

"'Gentlemen,' he said in a loud voice, addressing himself to the entire company, and at the same time winking in the clergyman's direction, 'gentlemen, I am informed that in the strange land of Madagascar, whenever they hang a priest they hang a donkey along with him.'

"The young man laughed, and Mgr. Farley, looking at him mildly, said:

"'Well, let us both be thankful, my young friend, that we are not in Madagascar.'"

GEN. ALEXEI KUROPATKIN.

Famous Military Leader Chosen to Lead the Russian Land Forces in the East.

Gen. Alexei Nicholaevitch Kuropatkin, who is to be commander-in-chief of the Russian army in the east, has been minister of war since 1897. He is a man with a remarkable military record, having fought in the Pamirs, in Turkestan, in Africa and in the war with Turkey, distinguishing himself especially at Plevna, where he was chief of staff under the renowned Skobeleff. He is now 55 years of age, and comes of a noble family. At Paris, in 1874, he won the Legion of Honor for assisting in reorganizing the French cavalry, being the first Russian officer to gain that prize. Then he engaged in the campaign in Turkestan, wrote a book about his adventures, and was accorded the gold medal of the Geographical society. Kuropatkin entered the Turkish war as a lieutenant and emerged a colonel, and from that time his advancement has been rapid. He is the man who engineered the usurpation of Finland, and he has been a prominent figure in promoting the Trans-Siberian road. He is credited with being a master of the science of war, and his history of the Balkan campaigns is considered to be a military classic.

Happiness Made Her Tell.

Clara Nurenberg, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., kept her marriage to Herbert Foshay a secret for two years and then told it because she was so happy that she wanted all her friends to know it. Clara and Herbert were married on April 3, 1802, one evening when their parents supposed they were at the theater. It was a runaway match, but last week they revealed the secret, were forgiven, and are keeping house in a New York flat.

Sewed Button on Finger.

While operating a button-attaching machine at a Portland, Ind., shirt factory, Miss Nora Teeters had her thumb caught in the machine, and a steel button was tightly riveted into her thumb, the staple binding the two parts of the button being forced cleanly through the member. The button was removed with a pair of pincers.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE STAGE FOR WOMEN

It Involves Hard Work and Sacrifices

"STAGE struck, eh?" The veteran actress looked ruefully at the blushing aspirant, then, after a pause, she added, "Can you do anything else?"

The girl shook her head. "I haven't tried," she said.

"Then allow me to suggest that you do," answered the actress. As she noticed the look of astonishment on her listener's face she went on: "I think I can tell you exactly why you are going on the stage. You are young, you are full of life, you are pretty, you think you wouldn't have much of a chance in private life—you might marry well and yet again you mightn't. Have you good health?"

"Fairly good," the aspirant ventured to state timidly. "Of course I couldn't be a typewriter or anything shut in like that, but"—

"Oh, my dear child,"—the actress put up her hand to hide a smile—"you must excuse me, really you must, but I wonder have you really any definite idea of the hard life you are going in for, the unceasing hard work, the disappointments, the associations, the"—

"But you took it for your life work; you still persist in it!" the girl interrupted in injured tones.

"Yes, and do you know why? Because it was the thing at my door, the thing which it was the easiest for me to do. I hadn't any other talents—few actresses have—and I was born of theatrical people, so that I had a fair chance from the first. I wonder if you realize what that means. What do you suppose they are going to do with you, untrained as you are? You will be lucky if you get a walk on by haunting theatrical managers offices. You will rehearse that walk on for three weary weeks, and then you will walk on seven times a week in exactly the same way and at exactly the same time for the number of weeks the play runs, until it seems as if you would go mad with the monotony of it. Then by the next season, if you have shown a particular and original way of walking on, and if it hasn't been knocked out of you by the never ending repetition, you will perhaps get a line such as 'Here they come!' or 'Here is the morning mail, madam,' or 'Penelope, the queen!' This again for another season if you are not in a failure which bursts and lands you somewhere in the country a hundred miles from nowhere. At that rate, by the time you have spent seven or eight years on the stage you will be acting real parts."

"But I thought the hours were not so long. I thought"—

"My dear child, the hours are not regular—that is the trouble. Rehearsals are called at half an hour's notice, Sunday being a favorite time. If you happen to be rehearsing at mealtime, goodby to your meal. If night overtakes you still rehearsing, fifteen minutes for a bite and then rehearse till morning. You have to be at the theater every evening at 7:30, which never gives you time to finish your dinner decently and, it goes without saying, never gives you time to dine with your friends when you are in the same town with them. I say same town with them because, as the seasons are running at present, four weeks is about your limit in any one town. One week is a long time in the smaller towns, only I do not choose to consider one night stands at all. You live in an atmosphere of packing and unpacking, with your things perpetually rumpled. Saturday night after the evening performance you proceed in a melancholy procession to the depot, where you wait, a silent, sleepy group, for your train. Your Sundays you spend in being jolted over the rails, your Sundays and all your days you are thrown in the society of the same dreary—oftener than not vulgar, oftener than not totally uneducated—people who can talk only the grease paint gossip of the theater. And this for months. Meantime your youth and your freshness and your ideals are slipping away from you, and each day your chances of success are growing less unless you have the wonderful streak of luck which makes one woman in a thousand a star. You want to think very carefully, my dear, of what you are giving up and the chances you are taking. Is it worth while? If you feel convinced it is, why, grit your teeth and go ahead; that is all."

COMING OF SPRING

Nature Begins Early to Prepare for Her Awakening.

While Yet Snow Is on the Ground Birds Are Busy Seed-Sowing—The Hybernating Animals — Mr. Croaker's Spring Song.

It seems early for out of door gardening, but nature is forever preparing for the season to come. No human gardener perhaps would be found sowing his seed when the thermometer stood at 15 below zero, and when the snow lay three feet deep upon the ground, yet under these conditions nature is sowing myriads of seeds of the berry-bearing shrubs and creepers. She employs, as her sowers, the grouse, the pine grosbeaks, the redpolls and many other birds, which at this season live chiefly on the pulp of the berries, and afterwards distribute the undigested seeds through the forest, thus securing a perpetuation of the shrubs whose berries they eat, and providing winter food for future generations of grouse and pine grosbeaks and redpolls.

If you walk across the swamps at this season, and look down where the ice is thin and clear, you will not see a lifeless brown mass of decaying vegetation, but a living army of plants looking upward hopefully at the light above them and waiting perhaps impatiently, for a "Forward! March!" from nature, that they may advance upon wavering winter.

Nor is it necessary to visit the swamps to be aware of the preparations for spring. Look at the treetops and note that swelling buds give the branches a rosy hue; notice that the willows are turning a golden yellow, and that many of the shrubs are taking on a purple tinge. In fact, amongst all the plants of forest, field and swamp, there is a whisper, not too loud, but quite audible, that the spring is on the way.

Many of the animals, too, are aware of the approach of winters end, and they show it. The skunk, who, some six weeks ago, retired to his burrow well lined with fat, and who has snoozed through the time of bitter weather and deep snow, now comes out every night, and we may find his footprints after every light snowfall. The woodchucks will soon be turning over in their sleep, and after we have had a warm day or two, we may get a glimpse of a hoary head poked inquiringly from the mouth of some sheltered burrow. But the old fellow will surely go back and take another nap, for the foraging will not be quite to his liking until March at least. The chipmunks will be getting active, too, for they never sleep so sound as the woodchucks do, and it will not be long before we hear the startled "chip" from some venturesome little hackhee, darting back to his burrow, as we pass by through the woods. And the big black bear, lean and hungry, will be leaving her den before long, to seek food for herself and her cubs, and woe to the lesser creature which crosses her path, for she is not a vegetarian at this season.

The gray squirrels, which have been seen only off and on during the harder part of the winter, will soon be busy every day, raking up the leaves for nuts hidden long ago, or nibbling the tender buds of the trees. And before the cold weather has really gone, they will be caring for their little families in brown leafy nests in the tops of the taller trees.

As yet we have had no sign from that vigorous little herald of spring, the peeping frog, but we know, as we look down through the thin ice at the water plants, that he is down there with them, and that even before them he will come to the surface and tune his shrill bagpipe. How few, even among the country people, seem to know this tiny frog, or, after having seen him, will believe that it is he who makes the loud piping they hear in the swamps. To be sure, on this point, all one has to do, is to go down to the marsh when the frogs are peeping and after wading into the water, stand perfectly still. If the piping ceases, stand until it begin again, and then advance as before. At last you will see, upon some reed or close to the surface of the water perhaps in a tangle of dead grass, a small object which pulsates at more or less regular intervals. At each pulsation you will hear a shrill "peep," and you will know that you have found what you sought. Slowly and carefully put out your hand, and with a last sudden movement put it over the little peeper. You will see that your captive is about an inch long, with a yellowish brown back, on which you may trace a cross of a darker shade. If you take him home and place him in a glass vessel, with a little water for him to stand in, you may at dusk see his white throat swell out into a glistening round bubble as he tupes his pipe and sends forth his shrill "peep, peep, peep," which means as plainly as anything does, "Spring, spring, spring."

ERNEST HAROLD BAYNES.

BURGLAR IN PETTICOATS.

One of the Best Domestic Servants in France Proves to Be a Man Disguised as a Woman.

It is not easy, even in France, to find good help. The best help is discovered through personal inquiries; the "employment offices" (bureaux de placement) recommend too frequently undesirable persons. Last year all the papers reported a strange occurrence, which frightened many Parisian women. A physician and his wife had secured a housemaid about 23 years old, who came with the best certificates. She was devoted, attentive, laborious, capable, always smiling—in short, an ideal girl. After a fortnight, when the physician's wife was visiting her friends, she excited their jealousy by her reports of such a wonderful "bonne," for that question is the most frequent topic of women's conversation in France.

One morning a grave gentleman called on the physician. "Have you

"GOOD-MORNING, MARY."

here," he said, "a housemaid named Mary?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you pleased with her?"

"Perfectly, sir."

"Could I see her?"

"But——"

"Do not be alarmed, I will cause you no trouble; there is my card." It read: "M. Hamard, chef de lau surete" (chief of detective service).

Mary, modestly blushing, entered the drawing room. "Good morning, Mary," said Mr. Hamard, as he pulled off the girl's wig; "I arrest you, at last."

"She" was a man, a member of a band of burglars, and had been in the habit of giving them keys and information about houses which could be easily plundered in the absence of the owners.

THIS BEAR OBSERVES.

Attacked Mail Carrier Who Wore Coat Made of Bruin's Departed Relative.

Dr. Harry M. Ulsh, a civil war veteran, who is driver of rural route No. 2 from Lewistown, Pa., was held up the other morning near Strode's Mills by a black bear.

Ulsh, who wears a large coat made of the fur of the bear family, was driving leisurely along, when a black bear crossed the trail ahead and stopped by the roadside to take a good look at the doctor and his coat, as if he recognized in it a long-lost brother.

But the physician, not desiring any closer acquaintance with his bearship, put the whip to his horse, and, deviating somewhat from his usual route, he made a record run to the next farm house, where he asked for help.

BRUIN TOOK A GOOD LOOK.

The farmers took their shotgun and started to hunt for bruin, but as yet they have not reported his capture.

Ulsh declares he will never wear that coat along the mountains again until that particular bear has been slaughtered, as bruin acted just as though he had identified the skin as that of a departed relative.

Hides Coins in Her Shoes.

The many counterfeit ten franc pieces lately circulated have been traced to a Marseilles coiner, who, with seven others, was arrested. The coiners made a huge profit for several months, the principal being a woman, who concealed the coins in her high heel, Louis Quinze shoes. She lived with a young prodigal son of a Lyons merchant with an income of only $800, and wished to increase it by her partnership with the Marseilles coiner.

Wheelbarrows in Brazil.

A cargo of Connecticut wheelbarrows was shipped to Brazil, and some natives filled them full of stone and materials and carried them on their heads. They declared wheelbarrows were very ingenious contrivances, and wondered how the Brazilians had managed to get along so many years without them.

NOTICE TO PARTIES IN INTEREST TO REDEEM UNDER MARTIN ACT.

To Montana or Montanus Allen:

You are hereby notified, That at public sale made by the Collector of the City of Plainfield, on the thirtieth day of March, Nineteen Hundred, the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield purchased for the sum of twenty-one dollars and one cent, all the land and real estate situate in the City of Plainfield in the County of Union and State of New Jersey, which is laid down and designated as lots Nos. 305-307 Watson avenue, in Block No. 139, in the First ward of said City, upon the assessment maps annexed to the report made by the Commissioners of Adjustment heretofore appointed in and for said city by the Circuit Court of the county of Union, a certified copy of which report and maps was filed in the office of the City Collector of said City of Plainfield on the 29th day of April, A. D. 1899, said report and maps and said sale being made pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of New Jersey, passed March 30th, 1886, entitled "An Act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rates or water rents in the cities of this State, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to future taxation and assessment," and the several supplements and amendments thereto.

And the certificate of such sale was afterward assigned to me. And you are further notified, that you appear or claim to have an estate or interest in said land and real estate, and unless the said land and real estate shall be redeemed, as provided in said act, before the expiration of six months from and after the service hereof, a deed for the same will be given, conveying to said Elston M. French the fee simple of said land and real estate according to the provisions of said act.

TO RAISE PRESIDENT'S PAY.

Bill Introduced to Increase Official Salaries.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Senator Gallinger has introduced a bill increasing the salaries of the executive officers of the government and also of senators and members of the house of representatives. The bill fixes the following scale:

President, $75,000.

Vice president, $15,000.

Speaker of the house of representatives, $12,000.

Members of the cabinet, $15,000 each.

Senators and members of the house, $8,000 each.

The bill provides that the new salaries shall take effect March 4, 1905.

Champion Woman Swimmer Dead.

NEW YORK, March 2.—After an illness of three weeks Ethel Golding, the champion woman swimmer, is dead at the home of her parents in Bath Beach. She had always had perfect health until she was stricken with acute Bright's disease, and then blood poisoning set in. She would have been twenty-three years old on Friday. Miss Ethel had never been defeated in the water, and all her brothers and sisters are well known throughout the country as expert swimmers. Her sister Elaine, who is much younger, is considered the champion swimmer of her age in the United States. At Bath Beach last summer Miss Golding won the title of champion. She won her first medal, of which she had many, in the series of ocean races off Coney Island when a mere girl.

Situation In Santo Domingo.

SANTO DOMINGO, March 2.—United States Minister Powell has been informed that the insurgents at San Pedro de Macoris have seized the tugboat Burro, belonging to the Clyde line of New York, and armed her. The Clyde line steamer Cherokee has gone to Azua de Compostela convoyed by the United States training ship Hartford. Many arrests have been made here, and several politicians were sent out of the country on board the steamer Julia of the Cuba line. Edward C. Reed, United States consular agent at San Pedro de Macoris, is said to be in danger. Minister Powell has taken steps to secure the protection of all interests.

The Cowboys' Trial.

NORTON, Kan., March 2.—William McBride, one of the three defendants in the trial for the murder of Burchard Berry, took the stand in his own defense and told of the fatal fight at the Berry ranch. He corroborated previous testimony to the effect that the Berry boys had opened fire and said: "Burch Berry fired directly at me twice. I put a cartridge in my gun and fired at him, and he fell. I fired at him because he fired at me and to protect my life." McBride denied that he had ever said that if Dewey could not buy ont the settlers in the vicinity of his ranch he would drive them out or "kill them out."

Alaska to Have Delegate.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A favorable report was made from the senate committee on territories on Senator Nelson's bill giving Alaska a delegate in congress. The bill was reported in order to get it on the calendar before Thursday, which is Alaska day in the senate. Three important measures for Alaska are pending in the senate—the bill for the construction of a wagon road, maintenance of schools and care of the insane, the bill relating to municipal corporations and the bill amending the mining laws.

SPORTING NEWS.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

There are now four more series of games to be rolled in The Daily Press Bowling League and there is every reason to believe that the Westfield Club will be the winner of the tournament. Tomorrow night the Parks will roll Cranford at the latter place and on Friday night Westfield will roll Roselle at the latter place. The Parks last game will be on Monday, March 14, when the Roselle five will visit the local alleys, and the last match in the tournament will be rolled between Westfield and Cranford at Cranford on Tuesday night, March 15.

TENNIS.

It is understood that the committee on tennis from the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will make an effort to arrange even a stronger programme of events for the coming season than was had last year. Tennis is again becoming very popular and no doubt several matches will be included in the schedule.

BASKET BALL.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. basket ball five attribute their lack of success against Brooklyn Central Monday night in part to the fewness of their opportunities for practice. Their time for practice on stated nights of the week does not extend over fifteen minutes.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The outing committee of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department will hold an important meeting Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

There will be business of importance at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., tomorrow night.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., will hold its first meeting in the new lodge rooms, Knights of Columbus Hall, tomorrow night.

The Order of the Temple will be conferred at a special conclave of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., tomorrow night, and on Monday night at a regular conclave the election of officers will take place.

Mr. Wilmarth Weds.

Announcement was received in this city this morning of the marriage yesterday of Rhodes A. Wilmarth, manager of the New Jersey Loan Company, with offices in the National Bank building, and Miss May Florence Valpey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Valpey, of Providence, R. I. The ceremony was performed at Providence. Mr. and Mrs. Wilmarth will reside in Newark. Mr. Wilmarth will continue his office in this city as well as Newark.

REGISTRAR BILL HAS PASSED

FRANK H. SMITH WILL GET NEW OFFICE IF GOVERNOR APPROVES MEASURE.

Senate bill number 5, which creates the office of registrar of deeds and mortgages in all counties of the State having a population of more than 99,000, has passed in the Legislature and awaits the Governor's signature to become a law. The bill divides the office of county clerk making the duties of the registrar the recording of all legal papers. City Collector Frank H. Smith, of this city, is according to all indications, slated for the position. The county clerk, by the new measure, would in effect become the clerk of the Court of Common Pleas.

The bill was drawn up for Union's benefit by Senator Cross, of Union, and favored by the county committee and Senator Kean. The first election of registrar will take place next November. Provision has been made in the new court house at Elizabeth for offices for both county clerk and registrar. A bill known as the Murphy bill, which fixes salaries of county officials from $1,500 to $7,500, according to a regularly graded system, is at present before the Legislature.

A registrar bill last year was vetoed by Governor Murphy on the ground that it conflicted with his particular ideas concerning remunerations for county officers.

PERSONAL.

Miss Sarah DeMott, of Metuchen, is the guest of relatives in this city for a few days.

Miss Mary Hoffman, of Allenhurst, is the guest of Mrs. G. E. Coles, of West Front street.

Mrs. Charles Chamberlain, of New Brunswick, is the guest of friends in this city for a few days.

Miss Mary Griggs, of Somerville, who has been visiting friends in this city, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Johnson, of Jones avenue, Jersey City, have returned from a visit in this city.

Letter-carrier Charles Stephens has recovered from injuries sustained recently by a fall on the ice and is again attending to his duties.

Mrs. C. E. Dudley, of Pittsfield, Mass., is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Yates, of East Seventh street.

Justice R. P. F. VonMinden, of New Market, has recovered from an attack of the grip, which has confined him to his house for the past two weeks.

Miss Irene Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Miller, of Myrtle avenue, who is a student at Bryn Mawr College, has been spending several days at home.

Henry Leifke, of West Front street, who a few days ago fell and fractured his arm, is still detained at home The arm, which was fractured in two places, is in splints and the breaks are knitting favorably.

Although W. A. Codington, of the firm of Reed & Codington, is able to attend to business, it will be some time before he will again have the use of his hand which was so badly cut a few days ago while playing with a pet dog at his home.

Borough Republicans Active.

North Plainfield Republicans last night held a handshaking bee in the store of John McDonough at the corner of Somerset and Race streets. Mayor Newton B. Smalley explained the questions of war propounded by the Independents. The fire department matter was talked over and its advantages discussed pro and con. "Smalley's One-Man Government" was the subject of former Senator Reed's address in which he argued that that campaign slogan advanced by the Independents is an empty one.

Improving Ulrich Building.

Building Inspector Doane has granted a permit to Alexander D. Findlay to make general repairs and alterations to the building in which the Democratic Club formerly had its headquarters. The partitioning of the building and the staircase will be altered. Two areas will be built in the sidewalk to light the cellar which will be deepened a floor made of concrete. New electric wiring will be installed and new plumbing and steam heating apparatus.

Henderson-Austin.

Miss Ella Austin, of Myrtle avenue, and William M. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown, of Stone street, were quietly married Monday night by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor emeritus of the First Baptist church. The ceremony was performed at the home of Dr. Yerkes, after which a reception was held at the home of the groom. Following a honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will live in Rochester, N. Y.

Serving Time in Hotel-Jail.

Chief Marshal Campbell, of North Plainfield, this morning took Hebert Williams to Somerville to serve a term of forty days for habitual drunkenness and for resisting arrest.

POLICE ANSWER FALSE ALARM

REPORT THAT MEN WERE ATTEMPTING TO BREAK INTO THE STATION.

Word was received by the police this morning from a train crew that two men were attempting to break into the Netherwood station. The patrol wagon was hurried to the station, but there were no indications that the doors or windows had been tampered with. George Smith, a colored man, who was found hanging about the station, was arrested on suspicion. He said he lived in this city but had no home. The police regarded him as slightly demented and City Judge Runyon suspended sentence this morning. Before Smith's final arrest last night he had been stopped and searched by three officers separately, Patrolmen Myers, Kelly and Messler.

POWDER THAT KILLS MOSQUITO

STATE ENTOMOLOGIST THINKS HE HAS MADE A DISCOVERY.

Dr. John D. Smith, State entomologist, and professor of entomology at Rutgers, has, after much investigation, produced a material which he believes will effectually kill off the mosquitoes either in their hibernating or active state. The material is a compound composed of vegetable powders with the addition of salt peter to aid combustion. The fumes of the powder are deadly to the insects, but harmless to human beings. The new powder is inexpensive, and may be procured from any druggist, after the formula has been made known to the public which will be before the mosquito appears in the spring.

Professor Smith proposes to have the powder burned in dwellings, stables and outhouses long before the insect shows signs of life and in this manner the mosquitoes will be killed off in the hibernating state and the dwellings will be protected from the first visitors, which usually are found in June. This attack will be followed by a combined action of the various boards of health in filling up unnecessary pools of stagnant water and thus destroying the mosquito larvae. They will be greatly aided in their work by the passage of Assembly bill 96, which gives the local boards of health the power to compel property-owners to remove nuisances in the form of water in which mosquito larvae may breed. An exhibition is to be made at the St. Louis Exposition showing the progress of the work in New Jersey.—Newark Evening News.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Governor Murphy has sent to the Senate the nominations of Eckert P. Budd, of Burlington County, and Stephen J. Meeker, of Essex County, to fill the vacancies in the State Board of Assessors.

Stopped Runaway.

Patrolman Matthew Vanderweg yesterday stopped a runaway on Park avenue. The horse was attached to one of the United States Express Company's wagons and dashed down the crowded thoroughfare from Front street to North avenue.

SMALLEY SMASHES SWACKHAMER SCHEME

Attempt to Frustrate Borough Council's Action Meets With a Disaster.

THE REFERENDUM BILL

FORMER SENATOR REED'S SUCCESSFUL ONSLAUGHT AT TRENTON.

Swackhamer Makes An Explanation—Declares He Was Justified in Not Giving Notice of His Proposed Measure.

Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer's bill, which provided for the paid fire department scheme to be left to a vote of the citizens of North Plainfield, and which, it is claimed, was destined to be rushed through the House on an express train—no stop plan—was smashed in collision yesterday afternoon by a vote of 30 to 18. The defeat of this measure, it is said, was due to the fact that former Senator Charles A. Reed used his influence against it. As a consequence of the measure's defeat there was much glee and satisfaction in the borough this morning among the friends of the administration.

To the charge of attempting to run the bill through the House without any notice, Mr. Swackhamer said this morning:

"The law does not compel advertising of the bill excepting as in the case of the annexation scheme, where there is to be a change of boundary lines. I believed of course that there would be no opposition to the bill because its fundamental object was to leave the question of whether or not a paid fire department in the borough was needed, to the vote of the people whom the Council represents. This, I believed, of course would ratify the action of the Council, if as they say, the majority of the people want the change rather than a new police department.

"The defeat of the bill was secured by the fact that many of my backers were not present when the vote was taken. When I saw that the bill was to be defeated I changed my vote so as to be able to bring the bill up again for reconsideration at an opportune time. There was no suppression of publicity. It was put through the same as any other bill. The vote was a direct partisan one.

"The opposition declared that the bill was unconstitutional holding that the Legislature has not the right to interfere with the rights of holders of offices made by the Council."

Assemblymen Moffett, Hague and Gunn, of Union county, voted for Swackhamer's bill.

TIMES INCORPORATED.

Elizabeth Publishing Company File Certificate.

Certificate of incorporation has been filed in the office of the county clerk by the Elizabeth Publishing Company The incorporators are Nelson E. Barton, John Moody and James C. Connolly.

The total authorized capital stock is $30,000, divided into 300 shares at a par value of $100 each. Of the 300 shares, Messrs. Barton and Moody each hold 149 and Mr. Connolly 2. The object of the company is the printing, publication and circulation of the paper which on and after Monday, March 7, will be known as the Elizabeth Evening Times.

One on Mr. McCardell.

Andrew McCardell entered the Kensington Hotel yesterday with a poster in his hand bearing the legend in big letters, "Side Tracked." The genial proprietor of the hotel stopped him. "What's the use of advertising it, Andy?" he said. "Advertising what?" "Why, what the Council did to you," answered Mr. Staats, and a look crept into the eyes of Mr. McArdell like unto that which came to the manager of the show "Side-tracked" when he was stranded in a strange town last week and deserted by his chief supporters.

Negotiating for Hotel.

Gus Dangler, of this city, who has recently returned from a vacation trip spent on battle fields in the South, has been negotiating for some time for the purchase of a large hotel for invalids in Long Branch. It is Mr. Dangler's intention to open the hotel as an infirmary.

—Owing to the state of the ground there was little activity in building circles last month. But four permits were granted by Building Inspector Doane.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

Hillside Tennis and Golf Club One of the Seven Members of the New League.

THE OFFICERS SELECTED

T. M. DAY, JR., OF THIS CITY, A MEMBER OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Will Join the National Association—Competitions Have Been Arranged—A Tournament to Take Place in September.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club is a member of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association which has just been organized. Bergen Point Tennis Club, Elizabeth Town and Country Club, Jersey City Golf Club, Ilderan Outing Club, of Rahway; Roselle Casino and the Westfield Club are the other organizations in the association. These officers have been chosen from the clubs represented: President, Gardiner H. Miller; secretary and treasurer, Sydney L. Smith; executive committee, Thomas M. Day, Jr., of this city; Miles S. Charlock, F. E. Ferris, I. O. Bunn and E. C. Moody.

Th Park Club, of North Plainfield, and the Land and Water Club, of Sewaren, have received invitations to join the association and it is believed that they will accept. That there is to be a revival of interest this season in tennis is an assured fact and the new association gives promise of being a successful one. Application for membership in the United States National Lawn Tennis Association will be made at once and a request for a date for an open tournament under the direction of the National organization.

A championship tournament will be held on the courts of the Elizabeth Club commencing September 1. In addition to this there will be tournaments open to members of the clubs in the new association. There will also be competition at men's singles and doubles, mixed doubles and women's singles.

M'ALL AUXILIARY PROSPERS

ENCOURAGING REPORTS READ AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF LOCAL BRANCH.

The election of officers and the presentation of gratifying reports were the principal features of the annual meeting of the Plainfield Auxiliary of the McAll Mission held yesterday at the Public Library. According to the custom, the evangelist and his wife who are in charge of the two mission halls being supported at Limoges, France, by the Plainfield Auxiliary, regularly write of the work being done there, but for some reason a letter did not arrive in time to be read at yesterday's session. A friend of the organization did communicate, however, reporting that the work is progressing favorably. This fact was also shown in the report of the secretary of literature, who stated that the subscriptions for the American McAll Record have doubled during the last year.

There are now 290 subscribers in the local auxiliary toward maintaining the two mission halls. The evangelist's wife as a Bible reader and is a valuable assistant to her husband. Monsieur and Madame deSt. Vidal are in charge of the halls, which are being supported by the local auxiliary.

During the past year $979.49 was raised in the Plainfield branch toward carrying on this work and the members are much encouraged. During the coming year even a larger amount is expected from the members and friends of the auxiliary.

After the presentation of reports these officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead; vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Myers; treasurer, Mrs. John Gray Foster; secretary, Mrs. A. V. Healy. These representatives from the churches were also chosen: Grace church, Mrs. F. O. Herring; Trinity Reformed church, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck; First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Petrie; Congregational church, Mrs. William B. Wadsworth; Seventh-Day Baptist church, Mrs. J. N. VanSickle.

MISS ELIZABETH VALIANT WEDS BALTIMORE MAN

Daughter of John Valiant the Bride at Nuptial Ceremony in First M. E. Church.

A RECEPTION FOLLOWS

THE BRIDE'S SISTER AS HER MAID-OF-HONOR.

Groom a Business Man in Monumental City—Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass Officiates at Wedding—Bride Receives Many Gifts.

Miss Elizabeth Gordon Valiant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Valiant, of Myrtle avenue, and Charles Francis Corning, of Baltimore, Md., were married at 6:30 last night in the First M. E. church. Rev. Dr. William C. Snodgrass, pastor of the church, officiated. The reception which followed the ceremony was a distinct social event, at which many prominent people in this city as well as from Baltimore and New York were present. After a short wedding tour through the South, Mr. and Mrs. Corning will reside in Baltimore where the groom is a member of the wholesale twine and paper company of Hubbs & Corning, one of the concerns burned out in the recent conflagaration.

The bride entered the church leaning upon the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. Preceding her were the ushers, followed by the maid of honor and the bridesmaids. Miss Jessie Utter played the Mendelssohn wedding march as a processional and the wedding march from Lohrengrin as a recessional.

Miss Mary E. Valiant, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the four bridemaids were Miss Margaret Corning, of Baltimore, a sister of the groom; Miss Isabelle Milne and Miss Elsie Brokaw, of North Plainfield, and Miss Nellie Valiant, a cousin of the bride, of Churchill, Md. The best man was John W. Corning, of Boston, a twin brother of the groom. Parker Dix, Joseph D. Chesney and A. J. Corning, Jr., of Baltimore; E. Parmley, of Philadelphia and John Valiant, Jr., brother of the bride, and George Baldwin were the ushers.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white embroidered chiffon over white liberty satin trimmed with duchess point lace. She wore a tulle veil. The only piece of jewelry worn by the bride was a diamond horseshoe of much value, which was the gift of the groom. She carried a magnificent bouquet of lilies-of-the valley tied with white ribbons.

Miss Mary Valiant's gown was of plain white chiffon trimmed with California roses. She carried a large bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaids were gowned in white liberty silk trimmed with white Venician point lace with green pan-velvet girdles. Each bridemaid carried a bouquet of Easter lilies tied with a shower of narrow white ribbons.

After the ceremony the bridal party and invited guests were driven to the home of the bride's parents on Myrtle avenue in the borough where a reception lasting from 7 until 11 o'clock was held. The guests were received by the bride and her mother beneath an arch formed as a bay window made of flowers. Mrs. Valiant wore a lavender pan crepe de chine gown trimmed with rare lace to match.

There were about two hundred people present at the reception, representing some of the most prominent families in this city, Boston, New York and Baltimore. A wedding supper was served during the evening. In the dining room the decorations were of yellow and white while the decorations in the parlor where the guests were received were of white and green. American beauty roses, carnations, Easter lillies and other flowers set off to advantage by large quantities of Southern smilax, predominated. The church decorations were especially attractive. The entire organ front and pulpit platform was one great bank of rare flowers; smilax and other greens setting off the color effect delicately. Suhr's orchestra provided the music.

The groom presented his best man and ushers with very handsome stick pins and the bride gave her maid of honor and bridemaids pretty rose gold brooches.

Owing to the serious illness of the groom's father, his parents were unable to be present at the wedding. His father is A. J. Corning, Sr., a prominent citizen and retired merchant of Baltimore. The bride's father is a New York broker and is a member of the Produce Exchange. He was a member of the North Plainfield Council and later a member of the Borough Board of Education.

Among the members of the two families present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valiant, the Misses Valiant, Miss Louise McNeil, Mrs. A. J. Corning, Jr., Mrs. Sarah J. Valiant, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Valiant and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hubbs, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Faber, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. West and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Budman, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kemp, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Parmly, of Philadelphia.

WANT COUNCIL TO RECONSIDER

EFFORT BEING MADE TO HAVE LICENSE APPLICATION BROUGHT UP AGAIN.

It is asserted by certain persons that a strong effort is being made to have the Common Council reconsider the liquor license applications that were refused at a recent meeting of that body. The fact has been talked of considerably and there have been indications since the meeting when licenses were acted upon that the applicants have been using their earnest endeavors to have their applications taken up again.

After the meeting on Thursday night, February 25, when licenses were granted, all the members expressed themselves as being glad that the business was over with for this year. No disposition was shown at all toward a reconsideration and the opinion seemed to be that the action of the Council on the license question had given general satisfaction.

MAYOR ITCHING FOR A DEBATE

SMALLEY CHALLENGES COOLEY TO MEET HIM TONIGHT.

Mayor Smalley patronizes the "want ad" columns of The Daily Press but he finds fault today because one of his wants has not been satisfied. In a communication to this paper he challenged Dr. Justus H. Cooley to debate some questions concerning municipal affairs as to which they apparently hold different views. The Mayor says that he has received no reply and wishes to insert the following open letter to Mr. Cooley who is the Citizens' party candidate for assessor:

"My Dear Doctor: Inasmuch as you have not answered my reply to your communication in The Daily Press, an opportunity will be given you to square yourself at the Republican headquarters any evening this week. I will meet you there.

"Yours truly,
N. B. Smalley."

The Borough Republican headquarters will be open this evening and Mayor Smalley and other leaders, including former State Senator Reed will be there to discuss the issues of the campaign.

CAPTURED ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER.

Brother of Plainfield Woman Did Some Successful Detective Work.

Bert Cook, clerk in the Burkley Hotel in Elizabeth, and brother of Mrs. Katherine Cook, of West Front street, this city, figured in a sensational capture of an alleged counterfeiter in that hotel yesterday. He will probably get the $1,000 reward offered by the Government for the arrest of this man. Cook noticed the man in the office and becoming convinced that he was the fellow wanted by two detectives who visited the place earlier in the day and followed the supposed counterfeiter to this city. He traced him to the Hotel Kensington in this city and was about to call in the police when the man suddenly departed and returned to Elizabeth. Cook still followed the man and when he arrived in Elizabeth, communicated his suspicions to a policeman whom he met and caused his arrest. The man is being held there by the police pending further developments.

Weather Signs.

According to the old weather prophets as the weather was on March 1 so will it be for the month and as it was yesterday so it will be for April while today is supposed to be a sample of the weather for May.

SWACKHAMER REBUKED FOR INCONSISTENCY

Alleged Sneaky Action on Part of Assemblyman, Subject of Sharp Criticism.

THAT FIRE DEPT. BILL

GAVE NO NOTICE OF IMPORTANT MEASURE INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE.

In Communication to The Daily Press, Writer Recalls Annexation Argument and Connects It With Swackhamer's Volunteer Bill.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Two years ago before the annexation and consolidation bills were introduced in the Legislature, the fact that they would be offered was advertised in three local papers for two weeks beforehand. In spite of that a great hue and cry was raised because public meetings had not been held in North Plainfield before the introduction. It was claimed that before the Legislature was asked to interfere and pass any bill effecting a local mater, even with a provision that that matter should be submitted to a vote of the people, the public should be consulted. Criticisms of the severest sort were made and great indignation was pretended by various speakers about the "sly methods" adopted.

Now behold those very methods, only more pronounced, have been adopted by the very people who denounced them.

By accident only it was discovered last week that Assemblyman Swackhamer had introduced a bill to nullify the borough ordinance establishing a paid fire department. It provided that no such ordinance passed by a borough since February first of this year should be valid until ratified by a vote of the people. As no such vote could be had before the fifteenth of March, on which day the ordinance takes effect, the result would be that the North Plainfield ordinance could be void. The intention to introduce this bill was never advertised. It was never even publicly mentioned. When it was introduced not a word about it was published. Its title was deceptive and calculated to disguise its purpose that a public meeting was held nor nor a single demand for such interference in our local affairs, was heard. The bill was sneaked into the House of Assembly and quietly pushed along by our Assemlyman and those for whom he acts, without discovery until it reached its third reading. Then accidentally its existence was discovered. While "sneaking Sammy" was being congratulated upon his sly methods by his friends, who two years ago had been so loud in their cla ms, that such measures should never be introduced except after the fullest public discussion, the real purpose of the bill was discovered.

Yesterday it came up for final passage and the trick was exposed. When the vote was counted both Sammy and his bill were downed and out. Only eighteen votes were cast in its favor and thirty against it.

In what light does the attempt to slyly slip this bill through without the knowledge of the people, place those who are behind it? Are their practices consistent with their preachings? Are they men of convictions who mean what they say and say what they mean, or are they mere tricksters, denouncing men, measures and methods when it serves their own ends, and resorting to worse measures and methods when they seek to achieve some purpose of their own? Are such men to be trusted with the control of public money and business? It is for the people to decide on Tuesday next.

Consistency.

Public Library News.

Every Thursday's issue of The Daily Press contains part of a column of such Public Library news as its likely to be of interest to its readers. Once a month it publishes the list of books added in the previous month, and on other Thursdays, lists, items of books news and the like. Among other items, lists have been published on house decoration, trip to Italy, amusements and indoor games, a few good books for children, list for machine workers, gifts during September and October, a list of 100 good short stories, and list on Russian and Japan. It is suggested that The Daily Press readers who are patrons of the Library, preserve these by attaching them to their copies of the Library's published catalogues.

—There will be a meeting of the Board of Trade in the Board of Trade rooms, 109 Park avenue, tonight at 8 o'clock.

WOMEN'S CHURCH SOCIETY CELEBRATES

Ladies' Aid Society of Warren Chapel Observed Its Tenth Anniversary.

ENJOYED PROGRAMME

MRS. A. V. D. HONEYMAN RECEIVES TOKEN OF ESTEEM.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey Makes An Address—Room Neatly Decorated—Reports Deferred Until Annual Meeting—Committee in Charge.

The tenth anniversary of the Ladies' Aid Society, of Warren chapel, was observed last night, a special programme having been prepared by the entertainment committee. The Sunday-school room, where the meeting was held, was decorated prettily with bunting and Japanese parasols hanging from the chandeliers while about the sides of the room were distributed a large number of small oriental flags and lanterns.

There was a large number of people present. The programme as rendered follows: Mandolin solo, Irving S. Cooley, accompanied by Mrs. J. O. McKelvey; vocal solo, Miss Catherine Mitchell; recitation, Miss Marie Neuman; vocal solo, E. Maxwell Honeyman. An address was made by Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, who has been president of the society for seven years. She reviewed the work and gave an interesting talk on the purposes of the organization.

The pastor, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, gave a talk on the valuable work done by the society during its ten years of existence. He spoke in a congratulatory vein of the assistance rendered the church by the society and outlined the organization's work. A feature of the evening was the presentation by the pastor of a handsome cut glass jar containing a bunch of fine large roses. In presenting the gift on behalf of the appreciative members of the church to Mrs. Honeyman, the president of the society, Mr. McKelvey paid a high tribute to the work done by Mrs. Honeyman.

No reports were read at the exercises last night, it being planned to present these at the annual meeting which is to be held on Friday night, March 18.

The decoration committee consisted of Samuel Taynor, chairman; William Demarest, Theodore Martin, Theodore Mason, J. W. Gavett and others. In charge of the general arrangements were Mrs. George Demarest and Mrs. H. W. Rankin.

LEAL'S DEFEAT THE P. H. S.

WREST VICTORY BY NARROW MARGIN OF ONE GOAL FROM FOUL.

One of the most exciting basket ball games that has taken place on the Y. M. C. A. floor this season was that between Leal's School and the business men's team of the Y. M. C. A. last night. Leal's pulled out a winner by the margin of one goal from foul after hopelessly trailing their opponents in the first half. The final score was 17 to 16. The teams were evenly balanced, though the tendency of the business men to keep the ball along the ground instead of playing it up worked to their disadvantage. Fouling was prevalent all through the game, both teams being offenders, Leal's to the extent of twelve fouls and the business men for eight. Leal's passing was good.

In individual work for Leal's, Doane, who substituted in the second half, was accurate and scored most of the goals in the half. For the business men, Spicer did some good shooting from the floor, though not quite so successful on tries from fouls. The score at the end of the first half was 10 to 4 in favor of the business men, who fell off in their work in the latter period as the Leal's boys put on steam. A previous game between the two teams was won by the business men, 18 to 13. The summary:

Leal's School—Chapman and L. Haughey and Doane, forwards; Abbott, centre; Strong and J. Haughey, guards. Business Men—Whitford and Spicer, forwards; Lott, centre; Clark and Utzinger, guards. Goals from the floor—Chapman, Doane, 4; Strong, J. Haughey, 2; Whitford, Spicer, 3; Clark, 3. Goals from fouls—Abbott, Spicer, Clark. Referee—Scull. Umpire—Dr. Browning. Timers—Glenny and O. Utzinger. Scorer—Collier. Time—20-min. periods.

LIEUT. L. H. RAND BECOMES A BENEDICT

Former Plainfielder Marries Miss Myra Lewis Buchner, An Illinois Girl.

QUIET HOME WEDDING

GROOM A LIEUTENANT IN THE U. S. ENGINERING CORPS.

Marrage Ceremony at Home of the Bride's Grandmother—Couple to Reside at Detroit—Groom a Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rand.

Lewis H. Rand, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rand, formerly of this city, but now a lieutenant in the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., now stationed at Detroit, Mich., was quietly married on Monday, February 15, to Miss Myra Lewis Buchner, of River Forest, Ill.

The wedding, which was a quiet affair, being attended by twenty guests, was celebrated at the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Hagans. Lieut. Rand was attired in his military uniform. For the present the couple will reside at Detroit, where the groom is temporarily stationed.

Later Lieut. Rand expects to take a full course of instruction in the Boston School of Technology. He is also expecting a promotion to a junior captaincy, a bill for that purpose having been introduced in Congress. The promotion was expected about March 1.

Lieut. Rand was graduated from the Military Academy at West Point in the Class of '99. He afterward served four years in the Philippines with the Corps of Engineers. Soon after his graduation he went to Montgomery, Ala., and it was there that he met his bride.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS MEET

REPORTS OF VARIOUS COMMITTTEES CONSTITUTED THE BUSINESS.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library was held last evening and in the absence of the president, the chair was filled by the vice president, J. Evarts Tracy. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $2,572.56 for the Babcock fund, and a balance for the Babcock Income fund of $1,280.45.

The library committee reported progress in the matter of salaries, which was referred to them at the last meeting. This committee also erported the purchase of 132 volumes of the Journal of the Franklin Institute, early volumes of the abridged Report of the Royal Society, and the first twenty-six volumes of the Proceedings of the United States Naval Institute and the purchase of other valuable sets for the Babcock Library were reported on.

Bills to the amount of $329.20 were ordered paid from the library fund. From the Babcock principal $17, and from the Babcock income fund $33.56. The February report of the librarian was read and ordered on file.

The president was authorized to certify to the Common Council the amount that will be required for the maintenance of the Plainfield Public Library during the ensuing year.

FIRE AT BOUND BROOK.

Middlebrook Country Clubhouse Totally Destroyed.

The clubhouse of the Middlebrook Country Club, of Bound Brook, was totally destroyed by fire, last night, the piano being the only thing among the contents saved. What caused the fire is a mystery. It was discovered in an upper part of the clubhouse about 7 o'clock and a few minutes later the whole structure was ablaze. The fire department was called out but was unable to save the building. This clubhouse, which was located on Mountain avenue, was often the scene of many social events, and the club was one of the oldest of the kind in Somerset county.

Talented Violinist.

Miss Florence Emerson, teacher of violin and harmony, is in her studio, room 304, Babcock building, on Mondays and Thursdays from 1 until 5. She is a talented musician, being a pupil of Professor Carl Markees, of the Royal School of Music and Marguerite Melville, of Berlin.

—The North Plainfield Board of Health has removed the quarantine on the home of Henry Seader, of Lincoln place, where there were scarlet fever cases.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

The wear and tear of expressing your goods will be minimized to the utmost degree if you have the work done by Hoagland, the Park avenue expressman.

For the best grade of stationery, pens, pencils and all kinds of writing materials call on A. M. Harper, of Park avenue. He always keeps a good stock of toys and dolls.

Putnam & DeGraw, the West Front street dry goods merchants, are showing an attractive line of the new spring and summer laces and embroideries, as well as a complete line of spring dry goods.

Women in search of good values in fur and cloth cloaks should not fail to visit the Boston Cloak and Fur store on West Front street. A fine stock of suitable and seasonable garments for women is offered at low prices.

Meissner's hand laundry on Watchung avenue, is the best place in this city to take delicate fabrics to be laundered. Only hand work is done and the clothes are returned, not only free from tears but absolutely clean.

A butcher appreciating the patronage of his customers will not sell any meat of inferior quality. He knows it will kill his business. That is why the meats sold at M. R. Giles' store on Park avenue and Second street are so fine.

If vaule can be placed upon the settled opinions of the greatest number, the Rogers seafood market on West Second street is the best place to buy fish in Plainfield. The store has the most customers and keeps the most customers.

When you are hungry go to Timbo's restaurant on North avenue and your appetite will surely be satisfied, provided good substantial food, well cooked and well served will do it. You will find the prices to be very reasonable.

Painters supplies at the most reasonable prices at Woolston & Buckie's store on North avenue. A fine line of paints is carried at this enterprising place of business and all painters will do well to secure prices there before seeking those from New York.

You will go a very long way before you find a store that has so complete and attractive an assortment of dry and fancy goods as Peck's, West Front street. Peck's prices are always fair and many of his goods cannot be duplicated in New York stores for twice the money.

Who has visited The Fair in the Babcock building that has come away dissatisfied? No one. Why? Because they are treated fairly and are satisfied when they leave the store. The firm believes that a satisfied customer is its best advertisement. Unequalled bargains at reasonable prices.

L. W. Randolph, the West Front street druggist, is at all times prepared to serve the public with the best medicines and drugs and he promptly and accurately fills all prescriptions. An exceptional line of toilet articles is always found in stock at popular prices, and if you desire a superior kind of confection you should try Huyler's make. Mr. Randolph has the agency for Plainfield.

The Plainfield Surprise store is opening its business in this city in clothing, furnishings and shoes, with an opening sale that includes some of the most remarkable bargains ever offered by local merchants. Their prices are so low that you wonder how it is possible to sell at such rates. That it is possible and that the materials in their men's suits are the best and most serviceable all purchasers at their store will learn. Red star trading stamps are given with every purchase.

AMUSEMENTS.

Richard Mansfield at the New Amsterdam Theatre is presenting for the first time in English a five act tragedy by Count Alexis Tolstoi, translated from the Russian by Mme. S. R. de Meissner. The drama draws a powerful picture of the Tsar who in the sixteenth century ruled Russia with an iron hand after putting down the enemies who had plotted against him. After terrorizing his court and killing his eldest son in a furious passion the ruler became prematurely old. The play opens soon after this episode in the life of Ivan. Mr. Mansfield has before now given admirable portrayals of the strange and terrible in senile decay. Here he shows a dominating mind and will re-asserting themselves and the superstition of those early times. In the scene where Ivan recognizes the avenging hand of God in the disasters that afflict him and endeavors to prove outwardly humble and repentant while inwardly he was in rage and agony there was a grewsomeness that appealed equally to the sense of terror and humor. The death scene was quiet and realistic, appropriately ending a performance of great strength. There is no end of applause for Mr. Mansfield's every scene.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

MORMONISM PROBED

Head of Church Before Senate Committee.

SHALL SMOOT RETAIN HIS SEAT?

Never Before Has There Been an Inquiry Into Religious Creeds to Determine if Unlawful Influence Is Exerted by Them.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—An effort to air the innermost secrets of the Mormon faith was manifested in the first day's proceedings before the senate committee on privileges and elections, which is investigating the protests against Reed Smoot retaining his seat as senator from Utah.

The investigation is to decide whether Reed Smoot of Utah is to retain his seat in the senate and incidentally to define the political status of the Mormon church. Never before has there been inaugurated an inquiry into creeds or political factors to determine whether an unlawful influence is exerted in political affairs of the nation.

At the opening session it was conceded that hearings would extend over several weeks and that legal talent would fight every inch of the way. Interest increased with the announcement that Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, would be the first witness called and in all probability would occupy the attention of the committee for two or three days.

When President Smith, the highest official of the church, took the stand he was questioned closely in regard to the principles of divine revelations. He said he adhered absolutely to all the teachings of the church in that regard and that he himself had been visited with divine inspirations from God directing him as to details in matters pertaining to the welfare of the church, though no angels had come to him, as in the case of the revelation to his uncle, Joseph Smith, Jr., the founder of the church. He subscribed to the standard of authority for the church in relation to the revelation commanding polygamy as made known to the first president in a visit from "an angel in black." He also said that he still believed in polygamy. The testimony was directed in a slight degree only at Senator Smoot, and no attempt was made by the defense to curtail the admission of testimony until President Smith was questioned in relation to polygamous cohabitation of certain officials of the church before the manifesto of 1890. The attorneys then objected, and much time was devoted to the relevancy of such testimony.

Mr. Tayler asked Mr. Smith a number of questions relating to Abraham H. Cannon and others of the Mormon faith in order to bring out the witness' knowledge of the question whether or not they were polygamists and whether they had married since the manifesto of 1890.

Mr. Smith said he was acquainted with Lillian H. Hamlin, who was known as the wife of Mr. Cannon, but that he had never seen her before 1896.

Mr. Van Cott in behalf of Senator Smoot made a protest against going into the conduct of persons not interested in the case and asking questions which could have no bearing on it before the committee.

He referred to questions which had been asked by Mr. Hoar concerning Mr. Smith's belief and questions by Mr. Burrows in relation to the inconsistency of his belief.

Mr. Van Cott declared that the state laws protect a person in his belief, no matter what the tendency of the belief, so long as there is no practice in violation of law and that therefore the line of questioning was not reaching any end. He read from Mr. Tayler's statement that Mr. Smoot was not charged with any offense cognizable by law.

Mr. Tayler said he was pursuing the line of inquiry set out in the protest against Mr. Smoot to the effect that the president of the Mormon church and a majority of the twelve apostles were practicing polygamy. He referred to Mr. Smith as the daily associate and superior in the church of Mr. Smoot and said that Mr. Smith is the husband of five wives and believes still in the principles of polygamy.

"Do you expect to prove in that connection that the president and the twelve apostles form a propaganda of polygamy?" asked Mr. Beveridge.

"We do," said Mr. Tayler.

The committee went into executive session and after a full discussion determined to allow the utmost latitude to the hearings, which means that court practices will be avoided. The protestants said they regarded this as a victory for them. The committee will hear practically all the prosecution has to offer and determine for itself what is competent testimony. The committee will hold daily sessions.

Mr. Richard Day, of 134 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time, or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better, so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

BUILDING DISASTER

Great Steel Frame of New Hotel Collapsed.

MANY DEAD AND INJURED IN RUINS

Had Reached Tenth Story When It Gave Way—Caused by Boiler Explosion or Weight of Material Placed on the Floors.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The big steel skeleton of a ten story apartment hotel that was being erected at 57 and 59 West Forty-sixth street collapsed at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, carrying a large gang of workmen down in the wreckage. There were about fifty men at work on the structure when the disaster came, it was estimated, and but few of them escaped without injury.

The collapse of the building was accompanied by a mighty roar that was heard for blocks. One or two persons who were in the vicinity said that just before the crash they heard something like an explosion. Some one thought that there was an explosion of the boiler used in connection with the derrick engine in the basement, and this was advanced as a theory for the collapse. The engineer of the derrick engine, who escaped, said that the boiler did not explode.

A body taken from the center of the building was identified as that of Fred Morley, foreman in charge of the concrete works. Many of the workmen have been taken out badly injured.

Coroner Scholer stated that he believed the collapse was caused by overloading the fifth floor with building material. Assistant District Attorney Rand began an examination of witnesses on the spot.

Coroner Scholer estimated the dead at eight, the injured fifteen and the missing twenty.

A young man who said that his name was Allison, but who refused to give his first name, reached the ruins of the building in a state of frantic excitement.

"My brother Frank, one of the owners of the building, was up here and telephoned to me at 1 o'clock. I have not seen him or heard of him since, and I fear he is dead."

When the building collapsed it broke every pane of glass in the rear of the Pattison apartment house, which backed up to the new structure.

Frederick Weisenmiller was carried out of the Pattison and taken to a cab. It was said that he was not seriously injured.

When Fire Chaplain Wakeley arrived he found two men pinioned in the basement. One was Frederick Mohn, a foreman of the Roeblings, who was in a cage formed of the entangled steel. He said he was not seriously injured and begged that great care be exercised in removing the debris, so that none of the iron would crush him. Another workman of the name of Armstrong was also in a similar cage of steel.

Only ten of the fifty or more men known to have been at work on the building had been accounted for as having escaped injury. One theory offered for the disaster was that the steel girders buckled, allowing the whole structure to collapse.

Mrs. Frank Storrs, who was eating luncheon in the dining room of the Pattison apartment house, was taken out in a dying condition and expired a few minutes later in Dr. Barclay's office in the Pattison. Mrs. Storrs owned a large summer house at Rye, N. Y. Her husband is traveling in Europe.

Ernest Meyers, a waiter, was carried from the dining room of the Pattison badly injured.

Policeman Frank Martin of the East Fifty-first street station, who was on post near the wrecked building, discovered two dead bodies in the rear. Two more bodies were found later near the front of the building.

The building is a complete wreck. The collapse once started, everything was carried down. Nothing was left of what was to have been an imposing building but a vast pile of twisted steel and wreckage.

Edward Greenfeld stated:

"I was walking along toward Sixth avenue on the other side of the street and had reached a point just about opposite the building, which I was not especially observing, when my attention was attracted to it by a sort of roaring sound.

"I looked up to see the iron work at about the third story sort of melting in, away from the street. Then the whole network of iron above that point slowly swung in, then out, and then it seemed to buckle in at two or three different places, and I ran for my life."

Shot Wife While She Leaned on Him.

FARGO, N. D., March 3.—Gottlieb Seivert beat his wife with a revolver until she was forced to lean upon him for support, and when her head was resting upon his shoulder he shot her, causing instant death. He then turned the weapon upon himself and is in a serious condition. Jealousy caused the crime.

Rubbers Workers Strike.

BOSTON, March 3.—Seventy-five men and women stitchers went out on a strike from the plant of the Union Rubber company because the company refused to recognize their union or to make a contract for prices. The strikers belong to the Rubber Garment Makers' union.

Veteran of the Iron Brigade Dead.

BARABOO, Wis., March 3.—James Whitty, who served four years under General Bragg in the Iron brigade, is dead here, aged sixty-one. He lost a leg in the battle of the Wilderness.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 3, 1904.

Since St. John left it, The Elizabeth Evening Times has become a howling success as a provider of patent plate matter.

Five years ago today George Dewey was made admiral of the Navy. George Dewey? Oh, yes, he's the man who cut the cable, or something of that sort.

'Taint good judgment to plant a field and then never cultivate it—it ain't good judgment to plant a store and then not cultivate it with advertising.—White's Sayings.

Now that the robin is safe, the Audubon Society can well spend its time by having that anti-pigeon killing bill brought out of committee and passed in the Legislature.

Governor Murphy has named the Democrat whom he wishes the Legislature to appoint as a member of the State Board of Assessors and as usual Jim Martine got it—in the neck.

The New Brunswick newspaper correspondents have lost one of their revenue-getting space topics through the death of Noah Raby, but they still cling to Professor Smith and the mosquito.

Every Plainfielder is glad to know that Edwin S. Hooley has again gotten control of the Des Moines and Fort Dodge Railroad and is slowly but surely recovering the position he lost by the successful onslaught of which he was made a victim in Wall street.

If "Pedestrian" will send his name and address to this office, his communication will be published. No anonymous communication receives attention. The name and address of the writer will always be required though not necessarily for publication in connection with any article furnished.

"The Japanese language," says Dr. Toyokichi Iyenaga, "lacks a word that can take the place of the strong swearing words in this country, so that before a Japanese can learn to play golf or tennis he must first learn the English language."

Not at all necessary. Just memorize the swear words: "Oh, fudge," "by Jove" "and the 'deuced beastly thing."

The New Brunswick Home News says:

"Governor Pennypacker must have given up hope of stopping the newspapers from cartooning him. He is going back to the Supreme Court bench. Judges aren't usually cartooned."

Won't some one wake up that New Brunswick man and get him to read his exchanges. Philadelphia newspapers cartoon judges whenever they deserve it and sometimes when they do not.

The Daily Press has always had a good opinion of Swackhamer as a member of the Legislature, but we must admit that his action in attempting to shove that North Plainfield volunteer fire department referendum bill through the Assembly was most disappointing. The bill usurped the jurisdiction of the North Plainfield Council and was wrong in theory as well as harmful in effect. The least that he could have done under the circumstances would have been to give due notice of his proposed measure to his constituents before presenting the bill in the House.

Mr. Swackhamer's statement at this late day that he is not obliged to give public notice is offensive to his constituents. No one expects him to go down in his pocket and pay for the advertisement of any bill he may introduce, but it is expected that he will not conceal affairs of such importance from the newspapers, which have their reporters interview him daily in order that the people of North Plainfield and Plainfield may keep informed of all measures introduced in the Legislature which may concern them.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Wm. F. Richards will lead the meeting at the Reform Hall tonight. Special musical programme.

The Young Ladies' Mission Circle, of the First M. E. church, will hold a social and entertainment in Vincent chapel tonight.

Miss Elizabeth Long, cousin of Miss Clara Long, of Park avenue, has resigned her position as soloist in the choir of the Reformed church, Somerville.

Charles Titsworth will sing at next Sunday afternoon's gospel service for the members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. The service will begin at 4 o'clock.

The choir of the First Baptist church, under the direction of E. J. Fitzhugh, of New York, has commenced rehearsal for a musical work to be presented just before Easter.

The Lenton sermon in the series on "The Christian Life" at Hope chapel will be preached by Henry A. Pearce, of this city, a graduate of Union Theological Seminary, next Sunday night. Mr. Pearce's subject will be "Think Before You Act."

Rev. William I. Campbell, of Ringoes, who will be the speaker at next Sunday afternoon's meeting for men in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, will be entertained during his stay in town by George M. Rittenhouse, of Sandford avenue, chairman of the religious work committee of the Y. M. C. A.

Unusual interest is being shown in the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, to be held in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. John Willis Baer, assistant secretary of the Board of Home Missions, and a forcible speaker, will make an address. Tea will be served at 5 o'clock.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The Democratic caucus will be held in the Town Hall this evening. Albert Wilson has finally decided to become a candidate for Council. John Kinney will, no doubt, be the other nominee. The Republicans will hold their primary tomorrow evening.

The foundation and track for the new turn table is about completed and the table will be set in place in a few days. An electric dynamo will be installed in the round house to furnish the electricity for moving the heavy table.

Manager Smith has leased the Madison avenue grounds for the coming season. The grounds will be put in condition as soon as the weather permits, and a new grand stand will be erected.

The local bowling team will meet the Bound Brook team on Taylor's alleys this evening for the final match. Each team has won two matches and the games tonight will end the series.

Mrs. Fred Schafer lies in a critical condition at her home on Walnut street with a lingering disease. All hope of recovering has been given up and her death is expected daily.

Lenten services were held in St. John's church last evening. Father Farley, of Jersey City, officiated and delivered an interesting sermon.

The first car of machinery for the new West Dunellen factory arrived yesterday. The shop expected to be in operation by the first of June.

Mrs. George Luckey, of Schenectady, has returned home after a week's visit with Mrs. Samuel Luckey.

The stone quarry of Garretson & Gray has resumed work after remaining closed for a month.

Joseph Meeker and family have removed to Plainfield, where they will reside in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. David Monday are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter.

William Conley, of Port Reading, visited relatives in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. John Dent has returned from a week's visit with Easton friends.

Mrs. John Hunt has recovered from a very severe attack of the grip.

Barney Scanlon has been confined to the house with a severe cold.

Winfield Hetfield has recovered from a severe cold.

NEW MARKET.

The Owl Club has issued a challenge to the Dunellen whist fiends to play a series of matches during the spring months.

The yearly financial statement of the township has been prepared and is now ready for distribution.

Mrs. Bessie McKinsie has returned to her home in New York after visiting with friends in town.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The Democratic and Republican primaries will be held tonight, the Democratic voters meeting in the rooms of Bucket and Engine Company and the Republicans assemblying in the parlors of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company. Unless some strife develops at a late hour both meetings will be very harmonious and devoid of any contest. Theodore Bruchman will be renominated by the Democrats for township committeeman, his opponent has not been named yet, although pressure is being brought to bear upon James Johnston to accept the nomination. Mr. Johnston has so far refused to consider the offer. John Robison will be the Republican nominee for Freeholder, his opponent probably being William H. Stansbury, although some of the township Democrats are desirous of having Fire Chief Charles Haberly accept the nomination. Whatever the tickets are the voters should accept the appropriations as recommended by the Township Committee in their annual report, as they are in a position to know just what is needed and how much.

For some time past a gang of boys in town have been making life miserable for some of the residents on East Front street. Several nights ago a door at one house was opened and a bowlder was thrown in the room, narrowly missing upsetting a small cylinder stove in its travel across the room. An appeal has been made to the proper authorities to have an end put to the nuisance and it is quite probable that some of the young culprits will face a charge of malicious mischief in the near future unless they make themselves scarce on Front street at least.

The horse and buggy which was stolen from Douglass L. Darby nearly two years ago, have both been recovered. The rig was stolen from the Westfield Presbyterian church sheds, while Mr. Darby and family were attending services. Chief Kiely's roundup of the horse thief Brown, untangled the mystery the horse was located and returned to its owner several weeks ago, and on Tuesday the buggy, none the worse for wear, was located at Long Branch and returned to Mr. Darby.

Funeral services of the late W. A. Beekon, who died Tuesday afternoon, will be held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the home of Mrs. Beekon's parents in Brooklyn. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery at convenience of the family.

The residents on Front street are enjoying all the delights of modern improvements. The connections to the water main are about all frozen up and the residents are obliged to fall back on their pumps and wells again.

The boys of the Chautauqua Club, of the Methodist church, held one of their interesting weekly meetings in the church last night.

H. M. Douglass and family, who have been residents of the borough for sevreal years, will remove to Plainfield April 1st.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., holds its weekly meeting tonight in the library rooms.

Sunday will be the fifth anniversary of Rev. G. M. Shott's pastorate of the Baptist church

Harry Wade has been detained at home for the past week suffering from a severe cold.

Mrs. John K. VanNess is seriously ill at her home on Front street with pneumonia.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The social committee which aided in arranging the sock social held last night in the Baptist church was Mrs. Peter Johnson, Mrs. David Bigley, Mrs. Oscar Thorn and Mrs. William H. Clawson. The invitation committee consisted of Mrs. T. C. Laing, Mrs. M. W. Payne and Mrs. Oscar Thorn. Others also assisted. Miss Emma Faulks gave her service in typewriting the unique invitations which were sent out.

Miss Kathline Phillips, of Plainfield, visited Mrs. Peter Johnson, yesterday and took part in the programme at the social last night at the Baptist church.

The Freeholders of this county do not draw a salary but entitled to charge $2 a day for each day necessarily and actually employed.

The sock social last night under the direction of the Aid Society at the Baptist church was successful socially and financially.

Mrs. Luther Mundy and son, of Dunellen, have been the guests of her sister, Mrs. Wesley Carkhuff, of South Plainfield.

The monthly Piscataway neighborhood social will be held this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Randolph.

Charles Fecliner is entertaining his father-in-law, Mr. Hackman, from Easton.

Stage to Turkey Supper.

A stage will leave from in front of Trinity Reformed church tonight at 7:45 for Oak Tree, to attend the turkey supper to be given at the residence of Eugene VanCourt for the benefit of Marcoonier chapel.

—Invitations have been issued for a dance to be given at Fanwood by a number of members of a Plainfield club calling themselves the I. D. K. Club. The date of the dance has been changed from Thursday, March 10, to Wednesday, March 9.

—The councilmanic street committee is preparing to do some street work as soon as the weather becomes settled. The past winter being a long and severe one has made it necessary to do much repair work. This will be looked after promptly when the weather permits.

'PLAINS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

NEW INSTITUTION BEING SUCCESSFULLY CONDUCTED BY 'PLAINS PEOPLE.

The industrial school which was organized several weeks ago by Scotch Plains women of the village, is proving more successful than the most sanguine had hoped for. About a month ago a number of the workers in the several churches in town, saw the need of an auxiliary to the public school, something that would teach the boys and girls of the town something of practical use.

A meeting was called and the matter was discussed and the interest manifested was so encouraging that it was decided to organize an industrial school. Several other meetings were held for the purpose of fulfilling the plans and several weeks ago the school was opened at the close of the regular school session on a Friday afternoon. At first the school met in the library rooms and then in the parlors of the Baptist church, the attendance has been so good that the promoters have decided to rent permanent quarters, so have taken the hall over Henry C. Myers' store. Alterations are being made.

The first meeting in the new rooms will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The boys are at present taught basket making, but later other useful trades will probably be taken up. The girls are instructed principally in sewing, but later other branches of women's work will be taken up by the class. The success of the school in the few weeks it has been organized gives promise and hope of it becoming a permanent and useful organization in the town, and the work receives the commendation of all.

—A. E. Hendrickson, magician and shadowgraphist, will give a performance in the Y. M. C. A. hall next Tuesday night, March 8, in the Y. M. C. A. boys' entertainment course.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 6: "Christ Stilling the Storms of Life."—Ps. cvii, 23-31.

"They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters—these see the works of Jehovah and His wonders in the deep."

There is unceasing fascination in the ocean from whatever point of view it may be seen. Whoever has stood on the bluff at Highland light, near the end of Cape Cod, and looked on the beach far below, with the long ocean swell breaking gently upon the sands in pleasant weather, and has listened to the lightkeepers as they have told of the great storms, when the surges beat at the base of the cliffs with shock which shakes the massive lighthouse till the lights in the lantern tremble and the spray dashes far over the top—whoever has seen the steamers and white winged ships swing past this point as they come and go from all parts of the world does not feel the sublimity of this passage from this wondrous song of adoration. How impressively the littleness of man and the majesty of God come to one as he gazes afar over the waste of waters! How felicitously this sentiment is expressed by the psalmist in this selection!

It is God who commandeth and raiseth the stormy winds, and they fulfill His word. Whatever our science may teach us as to laws and modes of nature, our religion goes beyond all this, and deeper than all philosophy also, and teaches us of the cause and also inspires the spirit of adoration and trust. This is more than the emotion of awe at sight of immensity and boundless power or any natural phenomenon. It is the worshipful reverence of a devout soul trusting the Fatherly protection of Him who holds all powers of natural and spirit worlds in His grasp and uses them to accomplish His own desired purposes.

"They cry unto Jehovah in their trouble!" Many never would think of Him if they did not get into trouble from which they find no one else able to deliver. Their cry to Jehovah is the outcome of desperation and despair. Though they have neglected Him and refused obedience and only seek Him in distress, He does not refuse their prayer. "He bringeth them out of their distresses." "He bringeth them to their desired haven." He makes the storm a calm, and the waves are still, and they are glad because of the quietness.

How true all this is of experiences in every department of life! Not only on the coast and great lakes and mighty rivers can this psalm be read as an expression of experience, but whoever knows heart trouble and anxiety, whoever becomes conscious of the powers of sin and worldliness beating against him with almost resistless force, knows the deep relief of the calm which follows the true appeal to Christ. That night on Galilee when he spoke peace to the waters and saved the frightened fishermen is the prose comment of the New Testament on this poetical burst of praise from the Old Covenant.

We need to look into our own lives and recognize how often the Lord has delivered us from the peril of great waters. We will praise Him not only for deliverance and calm, but also for the tempest if the stormy wind has aroused us from our forgetfulness to a recognition of our dependence on God.

"Oh, that men would praise Jehovah for his loving kindness!"

If on a quiet sea
Toward heaven we calmly sail,
With grateful hearts, O God, to Thee,
We'll own the favoring gale.

But should the surges rise
And rest delay to come,
Blest be the tempest, kind the storm,
Which drives us nearer home.

Soon shall our doubts and fears
All yield to Thy control;
Thy tender mercies shall illume
The midnight of the soul.

Teach us, in every state,
To make Thy will our own,
And when the joys of sense depart
To live by faith alone.

—A. M. Toplady.

The Sunshine of Praise.

If you see anything that is worthy of praise, speak of it. Even if you cannot do a worthy deed yourself, commend one who does. Praise is a power for good; both God and man prize it. No prayer is complete without praise. The best worker for his fellows who fails to give praise fails of doing as well as he can. Mrs. Stowe states the truth effectively when she says: "Praise is sunshine. It warms, it inspires, it promotes growth. Blame and rebuke are rain and hail. They beat down and bedraggle even though they may at times be necessary." Do we do our part in giving praise?—Sunday School Times.

Gems of Thought.

A woman without religion, a flower without perfume.—German.

There is many a golden ladder resting upon the weary pillow of pain where attendant angels make sorrow's midnight beautiful.

Instead of a gem, or even a flower, cast the gift of a living thought into the heart of a friend.—George Macdonald.

Nature has given us two ears, two eyes and but one tongue, to the end that we should hear and see more than we speak.—Socrates.

Our Food From God.

Behind the snowy loaf is the mill wheel; behind the mill is the wheat field; on the wheat field rests the sunlight; above the sun is God.—Lowell.

Faith in Man.

Look full into thy spirit's self,
The world of mystery scan!
What if thy way to faith in God
Should lie through faith in man!

—Bright.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 6.

Topic.—How Christ stills the storms of life.—Ps. cvii, 23-31.

Life has often been likened to a sea, and in this portion of the One Hundred and Seventh Psalm God's providence to those upon the sea in the midst of a storm is described, and it may speak to us of God's power in Christ to still the storms of our lives. God's chosen people were not especially a seafaring people. For the most part they dreaded the sea, and yet they had an important seaport at Joppa, and some of them engaged in maritime pursuits. They went down to the sea (the Mediterranean) and did business in great waters—great in contrast with the inland seas of Palestine. "These saw the works of the Lord and His wonders in the deep." They saw sudden and great storms, common on the Mediterranean as on the sea of Galilee, and God's deliverance of His people even as Christ stilled the waves of the Galilee by saying, "Peace, be still."

The storms of the mighty deep are symbolical of the storms on the sea of life. The wind is contrary, the waves mount up to heaven, our souls melt away in trouble, we reel to and fro and are at our wits' end. Human ingenuity seems to be at an end, and we indeed know not what to do. Nor are these exceptional cases. Every life has its storms as well as its calms, its sorrows as well as its joys, its afflictions as well as its satisfactions. "Into every life some rain must fall and some days be dark and dreary." And yet we need never despair. Our "extremity becomes God's opportunity." We can call upon the Lord in our trouble, and He will bring us out of our distresses. "He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still," and we can be glad because they are quiet and be brought by Him to our desired haven, and the goodness of God thus manifested toward us should lead us to praise Him.

God stills the storms of human life by His Son Jesus Christ. Christ spoke to the waves of the sea, and they were stilled, and so He can speak peace to the human heart and cause it to be still. To us, as to the disciples of old, He says, "Let not your heart be troubled," "I will not leave you comfortless," "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you," and if we will trust Him we will have peace of mind and stillness of soul instead of mental restlessness and spiritual disquiet.

Christ is also our guide, our pilot over the sea of life. He not only stills the storm, but "He bringeth us unto our desired haven." Some of us may think that we can guide our own lives, but we are much mistaken. We need Him every hour of life, and He never fails. By His holy spirit, by His word, which is "a lamp to our feet," by His providence and by His church and its sacraments and other means of grace He brings us at last to heaven, our desired haven. Let us therefore accept Him as our pilot and ever pray:

Jesus, Saviour, pilot me
Over life's tempestuous sea.

A Midocean Request.

On his journey to Australia, in the interest of Christian Endeavor, Dr. Clark sent this mid-Pacific request:

"Will you not (as many as are like minded) join with me for the next three months, or whenever you keep the Quiet Hour, in this form of united prayer?

"Our Father in heaven, bless us who unite in this prayer to Thee and our Christian Endeavor brothers and sisters in every land.

"Enlarge our fellowship; increase our faithfulness; make us more useful in Thy church. Move our hearts not only to pray, but to give as Thou hast prospered us, for this and every good cause. Bring young people who know Thee not to Thyself. Bless, we pray Thee, the Juniors that the boys and girls may be Thine.

"For the Christian Endeavor brotherhood in all denominations and in all the world we thank Thee. Make us worthy of large blessings and able to receive them. For the sake of Jesus Christ, our only Lord and Saviour. Amen.

"Perhaps you will cut this out or copy it; it is not long. There is a fellowship in words even, and the fact that we are using the same petitions, framed in the same words, at the same time, will make us realize our kinship.

"Aside from this, in our Quiet Hour we shall have time for many and varied petitions, for this will hardly occupy sixty seconds, but it will be a golden chain to bind to the throne of God the hearts of all who use it."

Never Uncertain.

I thank God that Christian Endeavor has never been uncertain as to the inspiration, the infallibility, the inerrancy of the word of God.—Rev. Dr. John F. Carson.

Do the Hard Thing.

Do anything—anything that God gives you to do. Occupy the hard places if those are the ones he calls you to fill.—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark.

Five Anonymous Nuggets.

Remember, Junior workers, it is awfully important to catch the young men when they are boys.

When a society ceases to be active it's dead, and when it's dead it's no good.

We may pray for a hundred and a thousand, but they must be saved one by one. Keep this in mind, Endeavorers who labor as soul winners.

There is no substitute for the personal work in the church or in the Christian Endeavor society.

Some think that in the pledge we aim too high for them. Don't drop the standard to meet such. Bring them up to the standard.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE BATHROOM.

How It May Be Made Artistic as Well as Practical.

The bathroom is seldom treated of in books of interior decoration, and as a result it is often the most ugly as well as the most insanitary spot in the house.

In the first place, let me urge that the bathroom be built as large as possible and with an outside window. I know there are cities where the building laws require this, but it is not always observed, and often, too, the bathroom opens upon a tiny air shaft or has a northern exposure where there is no sun. Place the towel rack directly in the sunlight, where your sponges, etc., can absorb the beneficent rays. Have your bathtub plain, but of porcelain, never of tin or enameled tin. Have (and this is most important of all) every bit of the plumbing open, so that no dust, dirt or microbes can accumulate.

I suppose it is useless even to speak of such a foolish thing as carpeting the bathroom floor, and yet I have actually seen it done.

If you cannot have a concrete floor, polish the wooden floor and have for sole covering a serviceable bath mat.

A medicine closet, with a mirror and a chair, is most convenient, and in many bathrooms in the newer houses a full length mirror is placed in the bathroom door.

The picture shows the pretty green and white bathroom of a house in England. The tiling is green, and the medicine closet has a design burned into its door and enriched with touches of green paint in different shadings.

R. DE LA BAUME.

MAKING SELF PROGRESS.

The Two Ways of Urging a Child to Improve.

There are two ways of making people do things—one by compulsion and the other by persuasion.

The trouble is that the "must" way seems to be the most popular. Parents do not like to give reasons to their children. They argue that they know what is best and that is sufficient—the children should be satisfied with the fruit of their experience.

As parents we try to improve our children. We want them to progress. But how do we do this? Half the time by forbidding them certain things which we believe will impede that progress, so that the child, if he has any spirit, comes to regard parental discipline—in spite of what his parents tell him—as one list of forbidden things and restrictions. What is the result? As soon as he is old enough he breaks through all of them and runs amuck for two or three years until by actual and bitter experience he comes back to the point from which he originally started and makes for himself a mental list of undesirable things which really comes very close to that made by his parents long before.

Did you ever have a person take a painful splinter out of your finger, and notice how much less it hurt when you took that splinter out yourself?

That is the way with self improvement. If parents would only have common sense talks with their children, talks which would show them the desirability of certain things and the undesirability of certain others with examples of cause and effect true on themselves and a general talk on the pleasure and the profit of self improvement so that the child would feel interested in it from his own personal point of view, how much more would be gained! FIGHT AT PINGYANG

Russian Scouts Advance Close to Town Gates.

JAPS OPENED FIRE FROM WALLS

Great Alarm Caused by Cossacks' Approach, as Garrison Numbers Only One Thousand—Japs Land 2,400 Troops Near Vladivostok.

LONDON, March 3.—A Tokyo dispatch says it has been learned there that the Russians have occupied the telegraph offices at Anju and Yongpyon, north of Pingyang. They have imprisoned the district governor and have confiscated official papers. The Russian force near Anju numbers only about forty men. The main Russian force is concentrated at Liaoyang.

The Russians near Antung aggregate 2,000. No important engagement is expected south of the Yalu river, which, it is believed, the Russians will make their main line of defense.

Major General Pflug, chief of staff, sends in the following telegram from Harbin, dated March 2:

"According to additional information which has reached me, our patrols, having passed the night twelve versts (eight miles) from Pingyang, approached that town on Monday morning. They were closely pressing a Japanese patrol of seven officers. Lieutenant Lonchakoff attacked this patrol with three Cossacks, forcing it to retreat at a gallop toward the gates of the town.

"The presence of our patrols near Pingyang caused great alarm, and soon the enemy's sharpshooters manned the wall and towers and opened fire, expecting an attack. According to the report, our patrols approached within 700 paces of the town, which they found to be surrounded by both old and new ramparts. These, however, were not yet occupied by the enemy, and it is supposed that the Japanese have not more than 1,000 men in Pingyang."

In a dispatch to the czar Viceroy Alexeieff says:

"Admiral Stark, telegraphing from Port Arthur, says the enemy has not appeared off Port Arthur lately. Reconnoissances made by cruisers for torpedo boats over a radius of sixty miles from Port Arthur also failed to discover the enemy's vessels."

Count Benokendorff, Russian ambassador to Great Britain, arrived in London last night from St. Petersburg.

Great excitement was occasioned in the lobby of the house of commons by the circulation of a rumor that would not down that Port Arthur had fallen.

Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, said he had no information bearing out the statement.

A Seoul dispatch says the commander in chief of the Japanese army, General Prince Komatsu, with all the members of the general staff, has reached Seoul and has taken charge of the active land operations.

All the movements thus far made have been formulated by the general staff and have been preliminary to a general advance upon Manchuria by way of Korea. A sufficient number of troops have been landed in Korea to allow the immediate working out of the plan of campaign.

There is a Japanese cruiser ashore and abandoned thirty miles south of Chemulpo, Korea. She may have been disabled in the engagement at Chemulpo, in which the Russian war vessels Variag and Korietz were destroyed. The officers of the Variag reported at that time that they had sunk a cruiser and a torpedo boat destroyer.

Orders have been issued to dispatch 2,000 troops to re-enforce the British garrison at Malta. It is believed that this movement is made to facilitate the re-enforcing of the stations in China later should necessity arise.

Four hundred troops were also ordered to China to raise the local stations there to war strength.

The cars on the ice railroad over Lake Baikal are now drawn by horses, a locomotive which performed this service having broken through the ice.

Advices from St. Petersburg say the Russian government earnestly desires the conservation of the ancient friendship between the United States and the empire. The belief is expressed here that the two countries are now on the eve of a better understanding of the points concerning which differences have existed. The campaign of recrimination which is progressing in a portion of the press of both countries is deprecated, and the government here specifically disavows responsibility for the utterances of some Russian newspapers against the United States, which in turn have inflamed a portion of the American press against Russia.

An official of the foreign office has pointed out that the erroneous impression prevailing abroad that Russian newspapers, owing to the censorship exercised over the news, expressed only such views as are sanctioned by the authorities, whereas, as a matter of fact, the newspapers editorially have the widest latitude, and they frequently embarrass the government by their unrestrained criticism of other countries.

The correction of the original version of the Vicksburg incident at Chemulpo has already affected Russian public opinion favorably. The report of Commander Marshall, captain of the Vicksburg, has been communicated to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff by United States Ambassador McCormick, and the formal thanks of the Russian admiralty will be tendered as soon as a detailed report is received from the captain of the Varing.

Negotiations have been completed with France, Great Britain and Italy for the repatriation of the Russian sailors who were taken on board vessels of those countries after the Chemulpo fight. These men will be brought to Odessa under Russia's pledge not to allow them to fight again during the continuance of the war.

Numerous offers have been received here from women in Germany, France and especially England to go to the front as nurses. Dr. Nutzer, a woman physician of Breslau, has already been enrolled for this work.

Lieutenant Newton A. McCully, U. S. N., who has obtained permission to observe the Russian fleet operations, may go to Port Arthur from London via Suez owing to the delay which now prevails on the Transsiberian railroad.

Siberian gold miners have petitioned the government to permit the transportation of their equipment over the railroad and to let off the railroad employees who have been conscripted into the army, declaring that otherwise the entire gold mining industry will be ruined.

A report from Vladivostok, dated March 2, says that, according to private reports there, three Japanese detachments of 2,400 men recently landed at Chiungchan, Korea, about 130 miles north of Wonson (Gensan), with the supposed object of reaching the valley of the Tumen river and threatening Hunchun, Manchuria, nine miles north of the Korean boundary and about eight miles west of Vladivostok.

SOLDIERS' FATAL CAROUSE.

Three Artillerymen Are Dead From Drinking Wood Alcohol.

NEW LONDON, Conn., March 3.—Corporal Thomas O'Brien, Private Morris O'Connor and Private John Reynolds, members of the One Hundredth company, coast artillery, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Terry, Plum island, are dead and Private John Walsh and Private William Harrigan confined to the military hospital at the post in a precarious condition. The men were poisoned by drinking wood alcohol. Proprietor Piskell of the military barber shop, at which place the men secured the stuff, is under arrest pending an investigation.

According to the story told by a noncommissioned officer, O'Brien, O'Connor, Reynolds and Walsh obtained a quantity of liquor Monday in some manner unknown to the officers at the post, and after it had been drank the men desired to get another supply. They visited Piskell's barber shop to secure a quantity of alcohol. Piskell told the soldiers that wood alcohol was deadly poison.

The soldiers seemed to take this as a joke and later managed to secure a quantity of the poison, and all drank some of the liquor.

Indians Dying of Hunger.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, March 3.—Trappers and traders from the north report terrible suffering among the Indians due to lack of food and a scourge of smallpox. At Isle de Cross sixty deaths are reported. Commissioner Laid of the Indian department has sent a relief expedition accompanied by mounted police under the medical direction of Dr. McCullough of Battleford. He has sent back word that the epidemic is of greater proportions than at first reported and requests a larger supply of vaccine. The natives are fleeing from the infected district and are spreading the disease. Dr. McCullough has orders to vaccinate every person he meets and to stay there until the epidemic is wiped out.

No Way But to Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 3.—The joint scale committee on miners' wage questions has adjourned without effecting an agreement. The counter demand will be referred to a subscale committee composed of two miners and two operators from each of the competitive states, which will resume the endeavor to amicably adjust the differences. A member of the committee said: "From the way things look I can see no way out of the deadlock but a strike. The miners will accept no compromise, not a cent. Besides, the operators have not said anything about a compromise."

Prominent Metallurgist Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—Russell W. Davenport, one of the leading metallurgists of the country, is dead at his home here of pneumonia. Mr. Davenport was one of the best known authorities on the manufacture of steel for guns and armor plate. He held at one time an important position with the Midvale Steel works, had been general manager of the Bethlehem Steel works and at the time of his death was general manager of the William Cramp & Sons' ship and engine building company. He was a graduate of Yale university.

Pet Dog's Bite Caused Death.

SPEARFISH, S. D., March 3.—Miss Henrietta Carlisle-Kent, a wealthy and eccentric Englishwoman, is dead at her ranch in Cook county, Wyo., not far from Spearfish. Once a lecturer and with ample means and prominent connections in England, she preferred to live on an isolated western ranch. Death was due to blood poisoning caused by being bitten by a pet dog.

Payments For Panama Canal.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Preparations are being made for the immediate payment by the government not only of the $10,000,000 which the Panama republic is to receive on account of the isthmian canal, but of the $10,000,000 which the New Panama Canal company of France is to receive for the canal right of way.

Whitney Estate $11,000,000.

MINEOLA, N. Y., March 3.—Harry Payne Whitney, executor of the late William C. Whitney, has filed with the surrogate of Nassau county a provisional estimate of the value of his father's estate at $11,000,000.

VIPERINE WINS AGAIN.

Morris Filly Wins Premier Stakes at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. — The Morris filly Viperine won her second stake at the meeting when she galloped home two lengths in front of her field in the Premier stakes, worth $1,000 to the winner. Sweet Pepper was a hot favorite at evens, backed down from 3 to 2, while Viperine's price receded from twos to fours. The pair divided the honors to the stretch turn, when Sweet Pepper swung wide, and Viperine, coming on, won easily. Lady Radnor and Frank Bell were the other beaten favorites. Summaries:

First Race — Banana Cream won, Sabinal second, Prince of Endurance third.

Second Race — Stella Allen won, Pinkie second, Guadaloupe third.

Third Race—Presentation won, Frank Bell second, Sid Silver third.

Fourth Race—Viperine won, Sweet Pepper second, Delaval third.

Fifth Race—Gravina won, Lee King second, Mauser third.

Sixth Race—Wreath of Ivy won, Docile second, Overband third.

Judge Got $1,000 Handicap.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3,—Judge proved to be the surprise at Oakland by taking the $1,000 handicap at odds of 10 to 1, beating a good field. Proper, the heavily played favorite, finished a bad second. G. W. Trahern, a 6 to 1 chance, led the field home in the last race, while Evea G., the favorite, was outside the money.

Surprises at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 3.—There were several surprises at Ascot park, the biggest one of the day being in the fourth, when Fustian, at 6 to 1, defeated Golden Rule, Pat Bulger, Americano and Buccleuth. They finished in the order named. Americano was a 4 to 5 favorite.

Drexel Badly Beaten.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 3.—The Princeton university basket ball team has defeated Drexel institute here by the score of 56 to 15.

Russia May Exhibit at St. Louis.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 3.—The cablegram received by Mr. Watts from President Francis was submitted to M. Trimiviazoff

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

"Smiling Jimmie" Montross will pitch for the Johnstown baseball team in the Amsterdam, Johnstown and Gloversville League.

Manager Koons, of the High School baseball nine, has arranged a number of games with prominent nearby school teams. The schedule will be announced in a few days. The material for the nine is good and a successful season is anticipated.

Manager Denman will open the baseball season at Westfield on Saturday, April 23, when the Seventh Regiment team from New York will be the opponents of the Westfield colts. May 28 and Decoration Day morning are being held as reserve dates for the Alis Club team.

Reports of supplementary examinations at the High School which have been coming in of late indicate that the High School will be without the services of several of its best baseball players this spring. It is possible that basketball may also be affected by failure of the athletes to "get by."

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The bowling match between the Y. M. C. A. and Fanwood Suburbans will start at 7:45 tomorrow night on the association alleys.

The Park Club bowling team will go to Cranford tonight and make a determined effort to win at least two out of the series of three games. Now that it is impossible for them to land in first or second place, they are anxious to hold third position against Cranford.

BASKET BALL.

The game between Leal's School and the High School in basket ball which takes place in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday, March 11, will be the last of the season for both teams and will decide the school championship of the season.

FUNERAL OF OLD NOAH RABY

SERVICES HELD OVER REMAINS OF MAN WHO DIED IN HIS 132D YEAR.

The funeral of Noah Raby, who was said to be the eldest man in America, took place yesterday, services being held at the Piscataway township poor farm. Rev. J. A. Cubberley, pastor of the Baptist church at South Plainfield, officiated. The remains were taken to New Brunswick by Miss Emily Denman and were removed this afternoon to the burial ground in Springfield. The old man was employed at one time by Miss Denman's father.

Rev. Mr. Cubberley applied the meaning of the last verse of the ninety-first Psalm to the departed aged man, "who for many years has put his trust in God, and has been sheltered 'in the secret place of the Most High.'" The comfortable home which by public charity had for a number of years been afforded this man, was under an evident manifestation of the loving kindness of God to him.

REFORM CLUB'S IMPROVEMENTS.

Billard and Pool Tables Have Been Installed.

Tables for billiards, pool and shuffle board have been placed in the basement of Reform Hall and a punching bag and other games and gymnastic equipment make the hall attractive. A young men's club in connection with the hall has been established and has a membership of thirty to forty. The hall is open every night.

Judgments Obtained.

Judgment for full amount and costs has been rendered by Justice Hand in the case on contract of H. E. Boice against Warden. F. J. Blatz, Esq., represented the plaintiff.

STATE'S SMALLEST RAILROAD

IT IS IN UNION COUNTY AND CONSISTS OF ENGINE AND THREE CARS.

New Jersey has one of the smallest steam railroads in the country, and considering its length, it is one of the busiest.

The little road is called the New Orange and Four Junction Railroad. It is but two and a half miles long, running from Roselle and Aldene on the Central Railroad of New Jersey to New Orange. All the line, which is a single track affair, is in Union county, and those who work on it declare the name is as long as the road itself. When it was first built the name was New York and New Orange Railroad.

The equipment owned by the road, which by the way, is not a "Trunk Line," although in Trunk Line territory, consists of one engine, No. 8, the first two having become defunct; two combined cars, one now out of use, and one box car, without a number. It is customary for railroads to engage in an interchange of freight rolling stock, but this lone box car never goes off the line, because it is not equipped with air brakes, or the kind of couplers that are standard and prescribed by the Master Car Builders' Association. Whenever the engine breaks down one is hired from either the Lehigh Valley or Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The road is built in the shape of a "Y," Roselle and Aldene being each at the ends of the fork and New Orange at the end of the stem. There are five stations, Roselle, Aldene, Michigan Avenue, New Orange Central Station and Twentieth Street.

The contingent in the train service consists of Conductor Bill Harding, Engineer Mike Trioli, who used to clean fires for the Central at Roselle, and Fireman Jack Shellcross. The superintendent of this little road is H. F. Dankle, whose office is at New Orange.

There is quite an interesting history connected with it. Baron Hirsch, who sought to better the condition of the Hebrews, established the town of New Orange, and after laying it out on scientific principles, built the railroad and erected about one hundred houses. For a time things looked bright and the houses were occupied. Then the occupants, who had a tender spot in their hearts for the crowded East Side of New York, became tired of the quietude of the country, and fled back to the city. Just now there are about 500 persons in New Orange, and the place supports two factories that give employment to them. There has been talk for several years of extending the railroad to Millburn, Summit and Morristown, and the talk is still going on. The Lackawanna will see to it that no opposition is allowed, and should the line become a reality the big road will swallow it.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has been keeping the rails of the New Orange road warm for the past two years with a working train, of which Sam La Bar is conductor and Dick Blake engineer, with engine No. 1,562. This train, in connection with a steam dirt shovel, is engaged in the big task of removing a mountain of sand and gravel from New Orange, all of which is carried to Greenville and used to fill in the enclosure where the new freight yard is to be established. The working train, when it leaves the New Orange Railroad, connects with the Lehigh Valley and comes to Greenville over the long Newark Bay trestle. On account of the recent cold weather, the mountain of sand at New Orange is frozen up, and the steam scoop and Sam La Bar's train are out of business temporarily.

Another boom is promised the railroad if a scheme fostered by a syndicate of wealthy New Yorkers goes through. At New Orange there is a low piece of land that is well watered with springs. The New York syndicate has secured control of it, and by way of experiment has built one or two small dams to establish an artificial lake. Later other dams are to be built and a lake ten feet deep made. The scheme is said to be a private fishing preserve, but it is being kept very quiet.—Jersey City Journal.

INDIVIDUAL COMMUNION CUPS

CRESCENT AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TAKES DECISIVE ACTION.

The question of adopting a style of new individual communion service for the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church was decided at a meeting of the congregation last night. It had previously been decided that the individual service should be used and Dr. E. W. Hedges and F. H. Andrews, from the Session were selected to inquire into the matter and recommend the service thought best suited to the congregation. Out of several styles seen, the committee recommended one which consists of circular silver trays, about the size of an ordinary dinner plate, and holds about twenty-five glasses. There are a number of indentations which are receptable for the small glasses, each of which will contain about a teaspoonful of wine.

The trays are not provided with handles, but a rim serves the purpose equally as well. There is no covering to the trays. The style received general approbation owing to its simplicity. The style being voted to have that kind, the question of how to pay for the service was raised. The idea of taking a collection seemed to meet the approval of all, while some one suggested that if there were any persons in the congregation who desired to give a tray as a memorial this would afford an excellent opportunity. The name in memoriam could be inscribed on the plate given.

A resolution was finally offered and adopted that the service be purchased and paid for by the trustees out of the regular fund. This of course, does not prevent anyone giving a tray as a memorial.

The Ship That Came Back.

A great ship has recently limped into New York more than five months overdue, and bringing with her one of the most remarkable tales of a long battle with the sea that has ever been told. Scientists are beginning to believe that tired eyes kill people. A Salem, Mass., man has just succeeded in "cutting out" his son in the affections of a young girl and has married her, to the son's discomfiture. The underground man promises to be a big factor in the future life of New York city, when the Subway, with its many ramifications, gets going. These and other interesting subjects will be cleverly treated in the Magazine Section of next Sunday's New York World.

PARK BOWLERS WIN FROM CRANFORD MEN

Capture Two of a Series of Three Games in The Daily Press Tournament.

THE DETAILED SCORES

THE NORTH PLAINFIELD TEAM MAY FINISH THIRD.

No High Scores Made—Cranford Won First Game—Another Contest on Thursday, March 10.

The Park Club bowling team went to Cranford last night and took two of a series of three games with Cranford Casino in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament. The result is that the Parks strengtened their position and made it less likely for them to finish last in the tournament. This luck will evidently come to Cranford. The first game the Parks lost to their opponents by a score of 754 to 855, but in the next game they won out by a score of 827 to 744, while they also won the last game by a score of 854 to 735. The bowling of both teams was of the ordinary kind, that is there were no very high scores. The work of the Park five was more even and this counted in the long run. The highest score in the entire series was rolled by Morris Dumont, who put up 195 in the third game.

It has been arranged to roll the postponed Park-Cranford game on the Park Club alleys on Thursday night, March 10.

This is the detailed score of last night's series:

Parks.
William McCutchen	146	153
William Barlow			142
R. T. Willis	148	156	158
M. J. Dumont	131	155	195
F. O. Ball	173	165	176
Dr. Thiers	156	198	181
	754	827	852
Cranford.
Crane	192	107	106

Baylis	189	142	144
Bates	148	172	134
Plummer	163	167	198
	855	744	735

This is the standing in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament:

	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	24	6
Roselle	19	11

ANOTHER SCHOOL MEETING

BOROUGH BOARD OF EDUCATION ASKS THAT $17,810 BE APPROPRIATED.

The North Plainfield Board of Education has called a regular school meeting for Tuesday night, March 15 at 8 o'clock. The principal object of holding the session is to vote on the annual appropriations for teachers' salaries.

The Board asks that the amount to be used for teachers' salaries this year be $15,840. This is an increase over the appropriation of last year caused by the necessity of employing more teachers to meet the large enrollment of children and the necessity of introducing the half time and ungraded classes. With a vote for $1,970 which is asked for manual training purposes, the total appropriation which will be brought up for the discussion of the voters of the borough, will be $17,810.

A large representation of citizens is expected to be present at this meeting which falls on election night. The polls will remain open one hour.

Doughty in Skating Contest.

John Doughty, of this city, is entered in the annual contest for the figure skating championship of the United States, which began yesterday in New York. The sport is under the auspices of the Amateur Skating Association of the United States.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL FLOURISHING

GEORGE H. BATCHELOR RE-ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT AT FIRST BAPTIST.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist church Sunday-school was held last night in the lecture room of the church and owing to the very stormy weather there was a small attendance, just a quorum being present. Superintendent George H. Batchelor presided. Various reports were received, showing the school to be in excellent condition spiritually and financially. The treasurer reported a balance of $125 and the Sunday-school is now self-supporting.

The reports from the finance and missionary committees were encouraging. Miss Laura J. Runyon, superintendent of the Home Department, reported a membership of 128 and she indicated an increase in the contributions and interest in this department of the Sunday-school.

It was reported that Thursday, July 7, was the date selected for the annual excursion to Asbury Park, and the officers and committees will meet Sunday afternoon to confirm the date.

These officers were elected: Superintendent, George H. Batchelor; secretary, C. B. Rittenhouse; treasurer, Samuel P. Case; librarian, B. J. Shreve.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

STEPHEN CAHOONE AGAIN CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF ORGANIZATION.

Election of officers was the principal business before the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. last night. Stephen Cahoone was re-elected president; Edwin L. Bonny, vice president; Albert B. Beers, recording secretary, and Curtis M. Thorpe treasurer. Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and Rev. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, were chosen to honorary membership of the association.

The thanks of the Board were extended to the members of the women's auxiliary for the installation of a telephone in the association building. Kenneth Robbie, boys' secretary, illustrated the work in his department with the aid of a chart. These members of the Board were present: A. B. Beers, C. M. Thorpe, H. M. Maxson, W. D. Murray, H. O. Newman, G. M. Rittenhouse, O. S. Rogers, Nelson Runyon, W. S. Tyler.

A DRAMA IN FOUR ACTS

A DUSKY LOVER'S IDEAS OF FIANCE'S DUTIES EXPLAINED IN COURT.

Alonzo Randolph, colored, has peculiar ideas on the duties of a fiance to his lady love. He informed City Judge Runyon this morning that, because he was engaged to marry Miss Fanny Acrugga, of 208 Park avenue, he had a perfect right to draw a gun on her and compel her to show him the tender attentions rightly due a prospective Benedict from his Beatrice. The Judge wasn't convinced and sentenced Alonzo to forty days in the county jail, the colored man drawing an effective climax to the scene in the court room by dramatically removing the engagement ring from his affianced's dusky finger. All was over between them.

The testimony of Miss Acrugga showed that she had been preparing to go out one evening recently when her lover called. He told her to come back in the house, because he wanted to talk to her. She refused and he drew his gun and threatened to shoot unless she would agree to accept his loverlike advances. This was Act I in the little drama. Act II came when the dusky Juliet registered a formal complaint in regard to carrying concealed weapons. Act III deals with the broken engagement in the very effective court room scene, and Act IV will witness the sad finale in the tragedy and the impassioned Romeo cooling his heels and his temper in a cell of the country jail.

Randolph has been arrested before on a similar charge. He is out of State's Prison on parole.

Athletic Meet Report.

Director C. E. A. Heywood, of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. has sent in his report of the recent inter-association athletic meet in the local gymnasium. He announces that a balance has been turned over to the secretary-treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic League of North America, section of Northern New Jersey, after all the expenses of the meet had been defrayed. Plainfield takes just satisfaction in the meet which was a pioneer movement in the interests of clean sport in Jersey.

WANT GOVERNMENT TO BUILD POSTOFFICE

Need for Such a Building One of the Subjects Discussed by the Board of Trade.

DEMAND FOR THEATRE

CHAIRMAN OF PAVEMENT COMMITTEE MAKES A REPORT OF INVESTIGATION.

And the Trolleys Came in for a Share of the Time at the Boar of Trade's Session—Lace Company Desires to Locate Here.

To advocate the building of a government postoffice in this city, the Board of Trade adopted a motion last night calling a special meeting to be held soon. The matter was brought up by Harry C. Runyon, who said that the returns from the Plainfield postoffice were large enough and the station of sufficient importance to warrant the erection of a government building. He thought that if the demand for it was strong enough and influence brought to bear in the right places there could be little doubt of the government's acquiescence.

The motion for a special meeting was made by T. O. Doane with the idea of discussing the subject with a full attendance including the postmaster and city officials. Unanimous approval of the project was expressed by the members present, who dilated upon the general benefits it would bring the city.

The need of a good theatre in Plainfield was discussed, opinion being unanimous that it would be a largely patronized institution. President Woolston expressed the view that Music Hall's failure was due to the fact that the people turned their attention to clubs having facilities for giving private shows. In this Chief Doane took issue with Mr. Woolston, saying that poor management was the cause of the shutting down of Music Hall. In the first place, the Chief said, the hall was a fire trap to such an obvious extent that men were unwilling to bring their families into it. It was also, in the Chief's estimation, furnished with no proper apparatus for heating, and on many occasions when entertainments were on was not heated at all. A further cause for complaint was alleged dirt in the theatre that made evening dress impossible.

Though the members of the Board thought that a theatre would be a paying investment as well as a general benefit for the city, and that it would draw patronage from surrounding towns from Bound Brook and Roselle, nevertheless they were no hopeful of its becoming an immediate posisibility and took no action in regard to the matter.

Harry C. Runyon, for the permanent pavement committee, reported that data was being obtained from several cities, especially Jersey City, which has experimented with granite block, asphalt and macadam pavements, Trenton, whose brick pavements, Chief Doane said, were responsible for much noise, and Buffalo, generally reputed to be one of the best paved cities in the country. Mr. Runyon has not yet received a answer to several communications he has sent to Buffalo on the subject.

Mr. Runyon announced that a communication had been received from Boese, Peppard & Company, manufacturers of Swiss embroideries and laces, asking information in regard to a site for a factory or an available factory building. The company emplcy about 100 people and if they could secure a suitable building would agree to take a long term lease.

The desirability of insisting upont he use of a new patent fender on trolley cars was discussed, the subject being introduced by Mr. Runyon. The tendency of the fenders now used, it was shown, was to throw a victim down and under a car, whereas the new one, a steel net, would pick a man up automatically and carry him. The new one would cost little more than the old. It was stated by Mr. Runyon that the P. S. C. had refused to allow a demonstration of the invention, though admitting that it was an improvement over the one now employed. Their excuse was that they had put all the money into fenders that they could afford. The existence of a city ordinance requiring the trolley company to use the safest fender obtainable was pointed out, and action was taken recommending the street committee of the Common Council to investigate.

The likelihood of obtaining better gas was considered at some length, the present poor conditions being ascribed in part to the necessity for repairs at the gas plant and the fact of the large increase in the numbers of people using gas. F. A. Pope expressed the belief that better gas would be forthcoming within a month.

It was reported that there was a good chance that the P. S. C. would establish a street railway line to Metuchen this spring with a branch line to South Plainfield. The wisdom of providing a good city park was also indicated.

C. Frank French, who received the nomination for collector, is in Florida at present and being unable to be at home to qualify or to take part in the campaign, has communicated his declination to the committee on vacancies. Besides this the ticket is changed by the withdrawal of B. S. Braider and William C. Smith as the candidate for the office of Commissioner of Appeal.

Mr. Whitenack was connected with the local postoffice for fourteen years as chief clerk. Mr. Hummer is a resident of the borough and a property owner living at 163 Somerset street, while Mr. Case is a retired carpenter and builder and has occupied a prominent position as a Democrat in past campaigns.

Mayor Smalley announced this morning that there are no vacancies to be filled on the Republican ticket. Although Captain William C. Smith has refused to run on any ticket his name will not be removed from the Smalley ballot.

There was a fair attendance at the Republican headquarters last night when the issues of the campaign from the Democratic as well as the Republican standpoint were reviewed by Mayor Smalley, Recorder Thomas Doud, former Senator Charles Reed and several Democrats. The canvass books were gone over at a special meeting before the speech-making began. All are invited to attend these nightly meetings at the corner of Somerset and Race streets.

CLIFFORD CRANE WEDS.

Marriage of Plainfield Young Man to a Brooklyn Girl Just Announced.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Clifford Murray Crane, of West Eighth street, to Miss Martha Minnie Werth, of Brooklyn.

The nuptial event was celebrated on Saturday, February 27, at the home of the bride's mother, 591 LaFayette avenue, Brooklyn, Rev. John J. Heischman officiating. Mrs. Charles F. Voliner, Jr., was matron-of-honor, and Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr., was best man. The bride was given in marriage by Dr. George Roademan, of Brooklyn.

FANWOOD VOTERS HOLD PRIMARIES

Democrats and Republicans of Borough and Township Hold Their Caucuses.

THE APPROPRIATIONS

STANBURY DEFEATED FOR FREEHOLDER NOMINATION.

John Robison Named by Republicans and Charles Haberle by the Democrats for Freeholder—The Town Committee's Budget.

The Democratic and Republican voters Fanwood township held their primaries last night to nominate candidates for the several offices to be of filled at the election on Tuesday, March 8. The Republicans convened in Excelsior Hall. The first part of the evening's business being the joint borough and township primary for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Chosen Freeholder, the two places being entitled jointly to one representative on the board. John Robison, the present incumbent, was the unanimous choice of the meeting.

William D. Johnston, chairman of the last primary, immediately called the primary for the township voters as soon as the motion to adjourn was carried. This meeting proved equally as harmonious, no contest developing for any of the offices, Secretary J. E. Ruth being empowered to acts the ballot for all candidates as fast as nominations could be made and closed.

The only friction at all at the meeting developed when appropriations was called for the Township Committee in the annual report recommended was made for a $2,500 appropriation. This, after some discussion, was defeated and $2,000 was the amount carried. The recommendation for sidewalks was $250. This was carried as was the appropriation of $400 for poor. The fire department appropriation was placed at $200, as asked, but the police department allowance was cut down to $100. The recommendation of $400 for the purchase of a lot and the erecting of a suitable building for the storing of township road machinery was defeated, a motion being carried that it was the sense of the meeting that the building was an unnecessary expense at this time for the taxpayers.

The Democratic voters held an equally harmonious primary across the street in Bucket and Engine Company rooms, with the exception of the joint primary for the freeholder nomination. Two candidates developed, Charles Haberly and William R. Stanbery, the former winning out.

George A. Clark was elected chairman of the Township Democratic primary and Charles French secretary. No contest developed for any of the offices and the meeting was a regular love feast. The committee on appropriations decided to adopt the appropriations as recommended by the Township Committee, town building and all. Both primaries were well attended and the interest manifested was most encouraging for a large vote on Tuesday by both tickets.

These are the tickets:

Mrs. Schaefer's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Schaefer will take place tomorrow afternoon from her home on Chatham street. She was seventy-nine years old and is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Eugene Zeisz and Miss Schaefer, of the borough, Mrs. Elisha VanNostrom, of Elizabeth, and Mrs. Conrad Schuck, of Rahway. She was a member of the German Reformed church.

—Neuman Brothers are having a special sale of fine preserves this week at their store. They have the celebrated Hartley's marmalade and the very best brand of jams.

AFFAIR IN VINCENT CHAPEL

YOUNG LADIES' MISSIONARY CIRCLE OF FIRST M. E. GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental music, and recitations, followed by a social was enjoyed in Vincent chapel, last night, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Missionary Circle, of the First M. E. church. This organization, a new one, recently formed under the direction of Miss Helen Whitney and Miss Lillian Snodgrass, is composed of a large number of the younger women of the church.

The chapel was attractively decorated with palms and flowers and there was a number of people present to enjoy the programme which consisted of vocal solos by Mrs. Stephen H. Tugwell, Mrs. Thomas McDonald, Miss Martin, Miss Helen Whitney; piano solos by Miss Frances Rittenhouse, Miss Emmons, Miss Margaret Robley and Miss Helen George; violin solos by Miss Helen Shupp; recitations by Miss Helen Whitney and piano duetts by Miss Muriel Collins and Miss Florence Dickerson.

After the programme, which was well received, there was a social time and refreshments were served.

MR. M'MURRAY'S SUCCESSOR

NEW PASTOR AT MONROE AVENUE M. E. CHURCH TO BE REV. GEO. MOONEY.

Rev. George Mooney, now pastor of the M. E. church at Mendham, Morris county, is talked of as the possible successor to Rev. John McMurray, at the Monroe Avenue church. Mr. Mooney is a graduate of the Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown; Wesleyan University and the North western University. After preaching in the Nebraska Conference he concluded his studies at Drew Seminary. He then was sent to Caldwell, Essex county and then to Mendham. It is also reported that Mr. McMurray is to receive an appointment to one of the large churches in Newark.

BRUNSON KNOWS HIS FATE.

President of First National Bank Told of His Misfortune.

The fact that he will never be able to see again is known to Augustus J. Brunson, president of the First National Bank. On Tuesday, Dr. Kipp, the eye specialist, of Newark, who has visited Mr. Brunson several times, and who has assisted Dr. G. W. Endicott in the treatment of the man, made another examination of the eyes and found that the sight was entirely gone and that hope of restoring it was useless.

The fact was disclosed to Mr. Brunson, upon his request, by Dr. Endicott. The injuries to his face have healed and fortunately there will be no scars. Is is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Brunson will soon return to the homestead property on Greenbrook, there to make their home permanently. It is Mr. Brunson's suggestion for he knows the farm so well that he would need practically no assistance in getting about.

There is every reason to believe that Mr. Brunson will continue as president of the First National Bank. The duties of the position can be performed by him with the aid of a private secretary, although the loss of his sight will always be a great handicap.

Co. K Netted $600.

William V. Carolin, Jr., of 806 Park avenue, was the winner of the sewing machine, shares in which were sold with tickets of admission to the recent Company K fair. His number was 505. A meeting was held last night of the chairmen of the sub-committees on the fair. The proceeds, it was announced, will reach more than $900. The date for the annual dinner of the company will be decided upon next Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the company.

Miss Patrick's Birthday.

Miss Hazel Patrick, of 204 Somerset street, gave a party yesterday afternoon to a number of her friends, marking her twelfth birthday. There were about twenty young people there and the afternoon was spent in playing games. Refreshments were served at 6 o'clock. Miss Patrick received a number of presents.

Agriculturists Meet.

The Union County Board of Agriculture met yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of E. L. Beebe, East Grand street, Elizabeth. The subject for discussion was "Fruit Spraying." W. H. Rogers, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, was present.

PERIL AT FIRE, BUT LITTLE DAMAGE DONE

Upsetting of a Lamp at Mr. Cruikshank's Residence Caused Much Excitement.

DARING OF CALL MAN

MRS. CRUIKSHANK FAINTED WHEN FLAMES WERE FINALLY SUBDUED.

Narrow Escape for Daughter—The Prompt Action of the Fire Department Averted a Big Loss.

A fire that caused much excitement and little damage burned last night in the chimney of the house of Simon A. Cruikshank, a New York broker, who lives at 881 Belvidere avenue. Mr. Cruikshank's daughter, Miss Leila Cruikshank, caught her dress on a stand in the reception room on the third floor and upset the stand and the lamp on it. Hasty action of Mr. Cruikshank, who threw the lamp into the fire place, prevented the igniting of his daughter's dress and saved her from serious burns.

The flames from the lamp quickly spread to the soot with which the chimney was filled, the draught fanning the flames and sending the soot in live sparks as big as baseballs to the roof. All that saved the roof from igniting in a score of places was the fact that it was still thoroughly wet from the rains and fog.

A telephone alarm was sent to Assistant Chief Jennings at fire headquarters at 9:20 o'clock and the chemical was sent out. When Chief Doane arrived on the scene the roof appeared to be all ablaze and the Chief ordered the ringing in of an alarm from box 29. A line of hose was taken to the roof through the sensational efforts of Callman Frank McCabe, who made a climb from the attic window to the roof that would have daunted a circus performer. McCabe had to push himself between the chimney and a projecting corner window and draw himself up to the edge of the roof at the same time, by main strength of hands and arms. With the slippery condition of the building, his success in reaching the roof was remarkable. Two tanks of the chemical were pumped down the chimney and conquered the flames. There was no damage except to the chimney itself.

After the fire was completely out, Mrs. Cruikshank added a final touch to the excitement by collapsing, the services of Dr. Endicott being necessary to revive her.

RABY ESCAPED MUSEUM MAN

SCHEME TO PLACE OLD MAN ON EXHIBITION FRUSTRATED BY MR. HUMMER.

Noah Raby escaped the museum man, and was one of the remarkable specimens of human nature who did so. This was not because he did not have a chance. Two years ago word of Noah's great age reached Maine and a man from Portland went to see him. Making himself known to Charles Hand, of this city, he asked the latter to drive him over to Stelton to see Noah. Overseer of the Poor Hummer received the Portland man courteously, but would listen to no proposition about taking the old man to exhibit. So Noah was able to live his life quietly at the Middlesex County poor farm.

MRS. HURLBURT BURIED.

Rev. Dr. Earp Officiated at Services Held in Her Late Home on Lincoln Place.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Joseph B. Hurlburt, who died suddenly early this week, were held yesterday afternoon from her late residence on Lincoln place. Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp, pastor of Grace M. E. church, officiated. The floral tributes were particularly handsome. Some of these were sent by Mrs. L. A. Hummer, Mrs. Andrew Lutkins, Miss Wood, C. Hummer, L. A. Hummer and by employes of The Daily Press, where the dead woman's husband is employed. Relatives were present from Elizabeth, Middlesex and Hunterdon Counties. An expected and loving letter from her dear daughter Florence, in Dakota, came just after she passed away. The interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

Fourteen Years Old.

Miss Anna Cooper, of Sycamore street, celebrated her fourteenth birthday yesterday with a social gathering at her home.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Neuman Brothers, of Watchung avenue and Fifth street, have for years made a business of catering to the wants of their customers. They not only keep the best line of groceries in the greatest assortment but also have the lowest price. Their canned goods —White Label Brand—is not equalled here, and their line of preserves and jams, which they are featuring this week, is made as carefully as the home made variety.

The man who has a fearful cough and wants to have it cured should visit the store of B. J. Schreiner, druggist at the corner of Park avenue and Second street, and secure some of his famous cough remedy. This will stop the most violent cases.

The best buildings in this city have been erected by local contractors. That is why it pays to patronize home industry. W. H. Kirch makes the closest contracts and puts up a house of the latest style.

Hats that will make you happy, hats that are a fit crown to feminine beauty, hats that are trimmed artistically, and modeled in the latest shapes and style are the kind they sell at H. A. Bonn's store on West Front street.

Whatever your tastes in wall papers you can satisfy them at J. C. Hansen's East Front street store. All sorts of strikingly effective designs in rich colors.

Reliability, up-to-dateness and completeness are applicable to every article sold at T. S. Armstrong's drug store on Park avenue. Special care in compounding prescriptions.

The most healthful article of food for breakfast or as a desert is fruit. The best place to get fruit is Alex. Lusardi's stores on Front street.

As the season for weddings approaches there will be many in search of suitable gifts. A visit to Charles E. Vail's jewelry store in Park avenue, will help to solve this perplexing problem. From his large stock of silverware and many novelties a selection is easy.

Dudley Miller, the Park avenue druggist, is at all times prepared to sell his patrons drugs and medicines that are absolutely pure and if you want a prescription compounded he will do this work for you accurately and at reasonable prices. His stock of toilet articles, cigars and confection is complete.

S. Scheuer & Co., of West Front street, are up-to-date grocers and butchers. Anything that you should find in a modern store of this kind can be purchased at Scheuer's at the lowest market prices. Besides the staple articles in the grocery line all the delicacies that are so appetizing are constantly kept in stock. Prompt attention is given to all orders.

There is a great difference in coal as many persons have discovered this winter, perhaps to their sorrow. The kind sold by TenEyck & Harris is the one grade, the best. It gives the most possible heat with the least waste.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. F M. Lunger, of the borough, is quite ill.

Seely Edsall, of Sandford avenue, has recovered from a long and tedious illness.

Clarence E. Mead, of New York, is the guest of W. H. Murphy, of West Fifth street.

Firman A. Long, of New Brunswick, was a guest yesterday of friends in this city.

Mrs. Mary Sutphen, of Central avenue, is suffering from a severe attack of pleuro-pneumonia.

Mrs. T. G. Goodwell, of this city, who has been the guest of friends in Elizabeth, has returned.

Miss Anna McGinness, of Manning avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Bound Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Berry, of New York, who have been the guest of relatives in Netherwood, have returned home.

Miss Ira D. Lovell, of New Haven, Conn., who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Martin Hutchens, of Jackson avenue, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. TenEyck, who were married on January 25, have returned from an extended western trip and are now living at 215 East Fifth street.

Miss Lavina Dickson has returned to her home in Verbank, Duchess county, N. Y., after a lengthy visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. E. A. Heywood, of Grandview avenue.

William Tallman, of North Plainfield, who recently fell and sprained the ligaments of the leg, is still confined to his home. He is quite comfortable, however, and hopes to be able to leave the house in the near future.

No such thing. These waists are largely samples, that are very slightly bruised, as it were, through handling, and for the same reason, begrimed. We could almost offer a prize to anyone who can find serious detriment about a single one of the waists. These waists have be grouped in one grand lot, and will be sold at the uniform price of..... 1.75

It is a beautiful and worthful collection of waists that now are and will be all the rest of the year. Among them are these superior numbers:

Imported Irish Linen Waists, Renaissance applique, hand made, both sides appliqued, large balloon sleeves, double-stitch tucks, backed with cluster of tucks and plaits; also Madras and Plain Linens, with hemstitchings and tucks, trimmed with large, fancy buttons.

Note—There are, likewise, several Black and White China Silks in the lot, with clusters o of tuckings and plaits back and front, and the materials are very fine.

Note—Don't wait long after 10 o'clock for this chance is our sincere advice.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—A typographical error appeared in these columns a few days ago, and the appropriations needed for the expenses of the borough schools being given as $17,810. This is divided into $15,840 for general purposes and $1,970 for manual training.

—G. N. Norris, of West Second street, has taken a position in Port Richmond, S. I.

—The Scandinavian Society Thule will hold its annual dance in Coward's Hall, Park avenue, Wednesday evening, March 9.

—Summons has been issued from Justice Nash's court, in the landlord and tenant case of Honan against Spencer, returnable Monday, March 7.

—Rev. William I. Campbell, of Ringoes, will speak and Mrs. Charlotte Rovenscrott, of New York, will sing at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. W. Frank Malin will be the violin soloist.

—Marion M. Richey, who recently resigned the office of acting general superintendent of the New Jersey Central, is now assistant general superintendent of the Southern Railway, in charge of the Western District.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Mean Trick.

It must have been a Gorman or a Parker sympathizer who threw red pepper into the fire at the Hearst banquet at Camden on Monday just as "Farmer Orator" Martine began his speech. The trick broke up the meeting.—Trenton Times.

May Be Costly for Somerset.

The proposition that the federal government be asked to purchase ten thousand acres of land in Somerset County for use as camp grounds for the regular army maneuvers, is one that should not be indorsed without investigation and serious consideration. If the lands are bought by the Government, they will not be liable for taxes in the future, and the taking of ten thousand acres of land out of the ratables may be a serious thing for Somerset County.—Trenton Times.

Audubon Society in Bad Order.

The Audubon Society of New Jersey has not strengthened its hold on popular favor by its conduct during the robin controversy. It first took strong ground, in its circular letter, against any law or amendment that would permit the shooting of robins, flickers, meadow larks and doves; but when the crucial time came, at the hearing on the De Cou bill, it wavered and vacillated and finally consented to the measure after it had been amended slightly. By agreeing to a compromise which in no way protected the birds, the Audubon Society, or its representatives at the hearing, set an example in weakness, if not in actual treachery, and lost standing with bird-lovers throughout the State. It is difficult to imagine John J. Audubon doing anything of the kind, and the society that has taken his name will have to do better in future if it really wishes to be effectual for good and to reinstate itself in the good opinions of the people of New Jersey.—Newark Evening News.

Plainfield for Home Rule.

The saloon question was not entirely settled in Plainfield when the Common Council recently refused to raise the license fee from $750 to $1,000. The people and the pastors of the city rose up in indignation, not so much at the action of Council as over the appearance of representatives of large brewery interests in the Council chamber the night the vote was taken and their efforts to defeat home rule. As a result of the citizens' activity and their energetic work, the Plainfield Council not only refused to increase the number of hotels and saloons in the city, but actually took away one license, reducing the total number to thirteen. The action of the Plainfield councilmen is taken as an effort to square themselves with the people who elected them, and also as a deserved blow to the brewers and wholesale liquor dealers from outside the city, who attempted to control the Council and to open as many saloons as they chose. The principle of home rule is strong in the breast of every citizen of Plainfield, and this is not the first time it has made its presence known.—Newark Evening News.

Telephone Franchises.

The Common Council should go slow in the matter of granting any further franchises for new telephone companies. The experience of other cities in such matters should be investigated before any action is taken on the application now before the Council. The New Brunswick Home News of Saturday last, referring to the matter, says: "It is almost a year since the Central New Jersey Telephone Co. got a franchise in this city, which gave it practically all the privileges of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Co. It was confidently predicted that within a year we should have a competing company in operation. But we have not, and don't seem to be much nearer getting one than we were before the franchise was voted." Plainfield's Council recently refused to grant a franchise to this company, after fully investigating the company's claims and promises. The report of the committee appointed on the matter was very full and complete. It can readily be obtained by any of our councilmen who care to be enlightened on the subject.—Rahway New Jersey Advocate.

—Miss Mattison, of the Board of Health office, has been on the sick list for several days.

—The Imperial Social Club will hold a dance in the Olympia Hall on Sycamore street, St. Patrick's Day night.

—Frank Neal, who was employed by the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company for many years, has resigned his position and in the future will give his time to the management of his property.

—David Dreier will soon open a leather-goods' store in the building now occupied by Horace M. Sherwin, the shoe dealer. The latter will move to the store occupied at present by Vail & Gardner, on East Front street.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 4, 1904.

Creditable reports lead to the belief that the bill which has been framed for the purpose of making it unlawful to kill or maim pigeons for mere sport's sake will died in committee unless the public demand that the Legislature take prompt action on the measure. The lobby, which held its important session at the Hotel Walton in Philadelphia, last year, was successful in preventing a similar measure from becoming a law, and it is supposed that the same gang is still active. This indefensible sport is resorted to in New Jersey, principally by residents of Pennsylvania and New York and they have used every means to kill the bill. The Audubon Society of New Jersey is interested in the passage of the present measure, but it has not accomplished much up to the present time. There is no excuse for the State allowing the brutal practice to continue. The man who finds enjoyment in such sport as killing pigeons is of a low order to say the least. As United States Senator George F. Hoar remarks: "If there be any practical confirmation of the theory that we are descended from orang-outangs or baboons or, at any rate, from the savage and barbarous ancestors in whom the mere animal preponderate, it is the continuance of the practice of shooting birds for pleasure, one of the worst forms of which is the shooting of live pigeons at the traps." Wipe out this blot on the name of New Jersey!

—Letter-carrier John Hines has been on the sick list for several days.

—Children's Home, 146 Jackson avenue, corner Westervelt. Mrs. Sarah A. Hendrickson, matron. Take Somerset street car to Jackson avenue and walk east two blocks. tf

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Most of the Sunday-schools are practising Easter music.

The Epworth League of Grace M. E. church, will hold its regular monthly business meeting tonight.

The first anniversary of the Young Men's Brotherhood of Warren chapel will be observed Thursday night, March 10.

St. Patrick's day services will be held in the local Roman Catholic churches on March 17. A lecture will be given in St. Mary's R. C. church at night by Father Clifford, of Englewood, N. J.

The officers of the Park Avenue Baptist church are meeting with excellent success in securing subscriptions from among the members for the purpose of placing a ceiling in the main part of the chrch.

Preparatory service will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tonight and on Sunday the communion service will be observed. The individual communion service adopted at a meeting of the congregation on Wednesday night will not be used this time, but will probably be secured before the next observance of the Lord's Supper.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Lederer offers a lot of specials for Saturday in his ad. in this issue.

—Paul Meissner, of Watchung avenue, has given up the cab business at the North Avenue station, to take a position at the Westfield Golf Club.

—A well-known lawyer of this city has had sixteen divorce cases in seven years and all but two have been granted. These are now in the courts.

—All the vegetables of summer, almost, can be secured at this season of the year at Neuman Brothers. Their assortment is large and of high quality. Householders will do well to secure their vegetables there.

—Nothing but routine business was considered at the March meeting of the Plainfield Board of Health, held this week. It is expected that at the next meeting of the Board there will be several matters of interest.

—The March meeting of the Common Council will be held Monday night, at which time it is expected that the report on the municipal collection of garbage will be received and other important business considered.

—It is expected that Alexander Stills, the small-pox patient, will be able to leave the isolation hospital within the next three weeks. As soon as she is released, Mrs. Gerold, the trained nurse, who has been caring for Mr. Stills, will return to her home in Delhi, N. Y., where she expects to remain until summer.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The Board of Education held a special meeting in the Whittier School Hall last evening and after a lengthy discussion decided to cut the budget for the year down $500. This leaves the amount for school purposes the same as before, $4,000.

The Republican caucus will be held in the borough hall this evening at 8 o'clock. This party is having considerable difficulty in finding suitable timber for a ticket and there is some talk of their not putting a ticket in the field.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Douglas have moved from New Brighton, N. Y., and have taken up their residence in the Dealaman house on Front street.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held a cottage prayer meeting at the home of A. H. Lake last evening.

Lenten services will be held in St. John's church this evening. Father Dumphy will preside.

Engineer William Conolley, of the Port Reading Railroad, is enjoying a few days' vacation.

Mrs. Sarah Stryker is spending the week visiting with friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wearren are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. John Logan visited friends in Newark yesterday.

Miss Winifred Schenck is laid up with an attack of tonsilitis.

Hervey Walters has recovered from an attack of the grip.

Miss Ruth Apgar has recovered from a week's illness.

Miss Ruth Apgar is on the sick list.

NEW MARKET.

Both political parties in the township have strong tickets in the field for the coming election. It is expected that party lines will be smashed to pieces and that a split ticket will be the result.

Lakeside Council, Daughters of Liberty, held an interesting meeting last evening. A sociable will be held shortly after the close of Lent.

Charles Ward has returned to work after being laid up for a few days with lumbago.

A number of young ladies are planning to give a leap year dance in the near future.

Several from town attended a stag party given at Oak Tree last evening.

Miss Frances Finch is among the late victims of the grip.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Mrs. Edward L. Hand is seriously ill at her home on Park avenue, from an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Hand, who has been ill for the past week, is improving, being able to leave his room for the first on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Palmer and family, who have been boarding in Plainfield during the winter months, have returned to their home in the borough again.

The weekly prayer and teachers' meeting will be held in the parlors of the Baptist church tonight. Rev. Mr. Shott will have charge.

William B. Noble, who has been detained at home for several days, suffering from a severe cold, is able to be around again.

A number of young people from Plainfield and the village, will hold a dance in Myer's Hall on Tuesday night, March 8.

The members of the gun club will hold a clay bird shoot on their grounds tomorrow afternoon, if the weather will permit.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held a well attended meeting in the library rooms Thurday night.

The home of Alexander MacCauley, on Bartle avenue, is being improved by a neat coat of paint.

The industrial school held its first meeting in its new rooms over Myer's store this afternoon.

Borough Collector Charles Sheelan is able to be around again after an illness of several days.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ryno has been brightened by the arrival of a daughter.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

At the Democratic primary meeting one hundred and sixty-three votes were cast for the nomination of a freeholder, of which Alexander Manning received 118, and Joseph Field 50.

Mrs. Katherine Brantingham is visiting at the home of her brother-in-law, L. D. Walker, of Piscataway township.

Plainfield avenue is being badly cut up by the heavy carting while the frost is coming out of the ground.

The Republican nominee for the office of freeholder of this township is John M. Dayton, of New Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulmer entertained Mrs. Fulmer's father, Mr. Hackman, of Easton, yesterday.

L. D. Walker is improving from his sickness from an attack of grip.

Township Supervisor Wilson visited the local school yesterday.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Somerset Council No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., will confer the initiatory degree on several candidates at the meeting tonight.

The Order of the Red Cross was conferred on three candidates at a special conclave of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., last night.

Preparations are being made by the members of Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M. for a smoker and entertainment to be held tonight in the meeting rooms in the Coward building. It is expected that a number of out-of-town people will be present.

Dr. A. H. Dundon, a delegate to the Great Council of Red Men at Trenton, made his report to the members of Wetumpkah Tribe at their regular meeting last night, explaining the changes in the constitution and by-laws. A special entertainment will be provided by Wetumpkah at its next week's meeting.

Delegates to the State convention of the A. O. U. W., to be held Thursday and Friday, March 10 and 11, in Trenton, are Supreme Representative V. W. Nash and J. W. A. Bauersachs, of the State finance committee, of Columbia Lodge, and William New corn, John A. Wilson and Clark T. Rogers, of Central Lodge.

AMUSEMENTS.

William Norris, the star, and Mabel Barrison, one of the principals in "Babes in Toyland," now in its twenty-first week, at the Majestic theatre, took part Tuesday in the Actor's Fund Benefit performance given in New York and Miss Barrison's singing of the "Put Down Six and Carry Two," song was a distinct hit. For the Benefit performance Frank Hayes wrote several verses which Miss Barrison sung with great effect. One follows:

If Goodwin took a Hacket, Boy,
And rPoctor, Pastor, Seaman,
And Mitchell, Hamlin, Hammerstein,
And Frohman, Hyde & Behman
Should battle on a Warfield
With Liebler as a Pascoe
How many Zaza's would it take
To write a new Belasco?
Chorus.
Borrow six and blow in two
On Broadway it is a case of do
You can buy and buy and buy
'Til your pocket's sore
You'll always find someone around
Who thinks you should buy more.

—Charles Remsen, a messenger in the employ of Mulford Estil, is not able to be on duty on account of a heavy cold and heart trouble.

—Mrs. A. W. Rand, formerly of Watchung avenue, is now at New Foundland, N. J., conducting a large boarding-house. She has nearly one hundred patrons.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

THE NEW WOMAN

She Works and Thinks

I LATELY saw a picture with a curious story attached to it. It was a photograph in the office of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt representing a piece of sculpture made by a young lady in Holland. It showed a stalwart Dutchwoman wheeling a barrow of bricks. The story of the picture is this: A number of years ago the Holland government thought it would enact legislation for the protection of women working in factories. The law decreed that no woman should do factory work at night under severe penalty. The factory women had been accustomed to work overtime and get extra pay. The law therefore cut off a part of their income. At the same time there was no law against men working overtime in a factory. Neither did the law forbid men laborers toiling overtime in the brickmaking and certain other trades. The Dutchwomen saw themselves deprived of a considerable part of their earnings. They went to the men laborers and proposed an exchange of evening tasks. They said, for instance, to the brickmakers: "You go into the factories and work during evening hours. We, on our part, will come into the brickyards and perform your part of the evening and night labor." The exchange was actually made. The broad, strongly built Holland women were quite equal to molding and carrying bricks during two or three hours of the evening or even all night when necessary. The men, on their part, were quite willing to swap the hard labor of the day for a lighter task in the evening. So everybody was satisfied. The evening money was still earned, and at the same time nobody violated the law forbidding the night work of women in factories.

During the past year the national grange and national unions of miners, typesetters and general labor have passed resolutions or inserted in the platforms of principles planks indorsing woman suffrage. Thus woman is finding her best friends among the men who work.

Anybody can be in the fashion, but it takes a strong mind to be out of it.

A little while before her death Rosa Bonheur declared she had ahead of her pictures enough to keep her painting for two or three lifetimes. Lately Tolstoi, the great Russian, said, "I have material enough for 300 years of continued literary work." This is what it means to have mental resources and spiritual inspiration within oneself. One who has this is never lonely, never ennuled, but always cheerful and glad, always planning and achieving happy work. It is only shallow, empty minded people who do not know what to do with themselves.

Note the reason given by the father of Jeffries, the prize fighter, why his son always wins: "There are men as scientific as Jim, but they lose their tempers, and then they're off. Jim has learned that a man must never get mad if he wants to win a fight." Just so!

One thing is dead certain—Providence won't help us unless we hustle for ourselves.

Whatever worthy thing you desire hustle for it persistently and with determination and you will get it. Don't think of the time it takes at all, but just go on.

You suffer and have poor health. You wish to be well? Set before yourself calmly and with determination the ideal of perfect health and work up to it. Whatever comes, though you break down a thousand times, hold always in your mind that ideal of perfect health. The eternally recuperative power of the life-principle within you is infinite. Many a time has a chronic ailment at last been worn out by help of the constantly held thought of health.

Susan B. Anthony, eighty-four years old Feb. 15, hopes to go on and work, incessantly active for her sex, so long as she lives, without any breakdown or illness till her time to go comes. Then she wants just to drop out, suddenly and with no fuss. Who would not like to do the same? Let us all hope Miss Anthony will obtain her wish. Meantime, the coming summer, she expects to go to Europe to attend the meeting of the women's international council at Berlin.

In a small Pennsylvania town no man would accept the office of tax collector, because it did not pay. People would not pay their taxes. Thereupon the court appointed a woman, Mrs. Mary A. Conway, tax collector, without her solicitation. She accepted the appointment and announced at once that she meant to collect those taxes and get her own commission out of them, thus managing her office so that it would pay. Mrs. Conway, who is a teacher, said: "No delinquent shall escape. If necessary I shall invoke the law to accomplish my object." Takes a woman to do things.

Mrs. Annie McLean Moores of Texas is a member of the board of women managers of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. Although still a very young woman, she is president of one of the largest banks in Texas and has extensive estates and business interests, which she manages entirely herself.

KINSMAN'S TIMELY ACTION

LIABILITY OF DISASTER ON CENTRAL ROAD AVERTED BY PLAINFIELDER.

Through the presence of mind of F. E. Kinsman, of Sherman avenue, what might have been a serious accident to a train on Newark Bay bridge was averted yesterday morning. When Mr. Kinsman boarded the express, that leaves the North avenue station for New York at 7:55, at Grant avenue, he noticed that the brake shoe of one of the wheels on a middle car had dropped off. This produced a grating sound that was perceptible all the way from Plainfield to the Newark Bay bridge and which then, probably on account of the application of the brakes, caused so much jolting of the car as to create a general alarm among the passengers. Mr. Kinsman called the attention of the brakeman to the matter, but the latter was inclined to regard the trouble as trivial. Mr. Kinsman then reached for the signal cord and by his threat to pull it, finally induced the brakeman to stop the train. An examination after the train had been halted showed that the frame work of the shoe had dropped between the wheel and the track and lifted the wheel about an inch, in such a position that the least additional accident would have been liable to derail the car.

COAL THIEVES CAUGHT.

Railroad Detectives Arrested Four at Pistol Point—Eleven Escaped.

After a hot running fight, the detectives of the Central and Lehigh Valley Railroads captured four coal pickers at the water tanks at Greenbrook yesterday afternoon. Five of them surprised a gang of fifteen men and boys stealing coal from loaded cars, but succeeded in capturing only four who were taken to New Market at the point of the pistol. The prisoners were William Pernell, Irvin Runyon, Chas. Hill and a negro named Greene. The rest of the gang fled to the woods and swamps.

Successful Church Affair.

The turkey supper given at the home of Eugene VanCourt, Oak Tree, last night, for the benefit of Maroonnier chapel, was a success, despite the bad weather conditions. Fifty suppers were served and everyone was generously served. About a dozen people from this city attended. The superintendent and teachers of the Sunday-school had general charge of the supper.

Dunellen Nominations.

Albert Wilson and John Kenny were nominated for Councilmen at the Democratic primaries in Dunellen last night. Theodore Apgar and Winfield Hetfield were named for commissioners of appeal and Westley Blain for constable. The appropriation for borough purposes was fixed at $3,000 and the poor fund at $125. The primary was held in the borough hall.

Acres of Furniture and Carpets.

Spring's best furniture and carpets at the Amos H. VanHorn, Ltd. House (73 Market street) are brim full of interest to every home body; there seems to be an unusually vast variety this season in patterns and ideas, yet this aggressive house seems to have captured them all and when it is remembered that acres of floor space are needed for display samples alone, one realizes in a way how easy for the VanHorn people to satisfy every conceivable taste; the long standing reputation of the Amos H. VanHorn, Ltd. house as leaders in low prices and accommodating terms is certainly well earned, and judging from the immense patronage they enjoy, it is a big factor in the success of their business. Success to such an enterprise.

Manchuria Invaded From Three Different Points.

THREATEN RUSSIAN COMMUNICATIONS

Japanese Army Corps Landed Near Songchin Will Descend Upon Maocurchan, on Yalu—Large Force Now Massed at Pingyang.

LONDON, March 4.—Japan is invading Manchuria from three points, and at least two of Russia's strongholds in the far east are in grave danger, according to latest advices from the far east.

Port Arthur and Vladivostok are reported to be practically isolated, and Japanese troops are said to have penetrated far inland south of the latter, threatening Kirin and the Russian line of communication.

A great Japanese army is also said to have been massed at Pingyang and to be moving toward the Manchurian border. The Russians are also reported to have concentrated along the Yalu river to meet the Japanese advance.

It is officially stated that the 2,500 Japanese that landed near Songchin, halfway between Gensan and Vladivostok, immediately started across Korea, leaving a small force to go north along the coast and connect with troops that are believed to be at Possiet bay, only eighty miles from Vladivostok.

The main body have good roads to march on through the country. They are now near Samsu, where they are preparing to descend upon Maocurchan, a fortified town on the Manchurian side of the Yalu at a junction of the tram roads that lead to Kirin and Mukden.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says: "In reply to a telegram sent him by General Bogdanovitch, Viceroy Alexeieff replied, 'Your message has strengthened our unalterable determination to fight until the death for faith, the czar and the country.'

"The czarina inspected with much interest a hospital train of thirteen cars, with a capacity of 160 men and officers, besides attendants, which is ready to be sent to the front. The cars are going out under the auspices of Grand Duchess Tatiana Vichelaevna."

Advices from Yinkow say the Russo-Chinese bank is closing, preparatory to removing to Mukden. Women and children are preparing to leave Yinkow in anticipation of the arrival of a Japanese fleet, which is expected when the river opens, probably a fortnight hence.

The United States gunboat Helena and the British cruiser Espiegle are making preparations to leave the drydocks.

The mainmast of the Russian gunboat Sivoutch has been cut off. This would indicate that she is being dismantled, but otherwise she would appear to be clearing for action.

On account of the impossibility of defending the coast at Yinkow until such time as a thaw permits the construction of intrenchments and forts the Russians have prepared to retire up the main railroad line. There are practically no defenses here, and, although the shifting and reshifting of troops and artillery to the small forts at the mouth of the Liao river has the appearance of an intention to defend Yinkow, the military authorities depend upon an inland engagement to put a stop to the Japanese advance.

As far as is yet known the only plans decided upon are, first, that General Kuropatkin's headquarters are to be at Mukden; Viceroy Alexeieff proposes to remain at Mukden indefinitely, as that city is the center of the Chinese administration and has a viceroyal bureau; second, that the plain west of Tashihchiac, which is almost impossible of defense, will be held if possible on account of the railroad connecting with Port Arthur, and, third, Haicheng and Liaoyang are the extreme limits to which troops will be withdrawn on account of the exposure of the railroad at these points.

That the Japanese will arrive before a thaw permits the construction of defenses is thought here to be practically certain. It would appear also that the authorities expect Port Arthur to be besieged.

St. Petersburg advices say that since the disappearance of the Japanese fleet from before Port Arthur the Russian authorities have been awaiting anxiously for the next move of the Japanese on sea. There is an inclination here to believe that the Japanese have been discouraged by the failure [illegible] and perhaps by losses they have not announced.

It is evident even from the meager information regarding the Russian dispositions in northern Korea that the plan for checking the Japanese land advance is perfected and that heavy reserves are being brought up to the Yalu river.

Every energy of the authorities is now directed to prevent a blockade on the Siberian railroad. Twenty new sidings, each of 2,200 feet, are being erected. Owing to the heavy movement of rolling stock carrying re-enforcements, war munitions and commissariat stores eastward there is great danger that in bringing back the empty cars the whole line may be stopped.

With the sidings now building the authorities hope to be able to keep the line clear and to send eleven trains in each direction daily.

The Japanese, according to General Pflug, have gone to a point whence a mountain pass leads to the headwaters of the Yalu, eighty miles from Vladivostok. Marching in that mountainous region is declared by experts here to be almost impossible.

The absence of roads, it is added, will completely upset the Japanese plans, the only good road in Korea, leading through Pingyang, being already in possession of the Russians.

A report from Seoul says the Russian forces at Anju are compelling the Koreans to supply them with rice, fodder and fuel. The Russians are fortifying Antung heavily, with the apparent intention of preventing the Japanese from crossing the Yalu.

Russian Destroyer Sinks a Cutter.

PORT SAID, Egypt, March 4.—As a result of a collision between a Russian torpedo boat and an Egyptian revenue cutter at Kantara, in the canal, the latter was sunk. There were no casualties. The Russians stood by and saved the crew of the revenue cutter. The canal will be blocked for at least twenty-four hours. Three of the four Russian torpedo boats which returned here after having sailed ostensibly for Algiers were considerably weather beaten. They refused an additional supply of coal and were ordered to leave port.

Japs Loyal to the Mikado.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 4.—About sixty Japanese laborers from the southern section of Santa Clara county walked in a body to San Jose yesterday bearing the Japanese and American flags, where the party took a train for San Francisco, whence they will sail for Japan to take part in the war.

SNAP SHOTS.

Over in the borough the popular phrase is: "Do you wear a Smalley collar." It is the opinion of the Citizen voters that after March 15 the style of the Smalley collar will be of the turn down variety while the Republicans declare that the stand up variety will still be popular.

LITERARY.

George Kennan is now on his way to Japan. His special articles relating to the progress of the war and to the larger aspects of the Eastern question will be published exclusively in The Outlook. Mr. Kennan's reputation as a keen observer, judicial interpreter and brilliant parrator has been attested by his books on Siberia and his work as a special correspondent in Cuba and Martinique.

There are five things to remember to help rest an over-tired brain: 1. A healthy indifference to wakefulness. 2. Concentration of the mind on simple things. 3. Relaxation of the body. 4. Gentle rhythmic breathing of fresh air. 5. Regular nourishment. If we do not lose courage, but keep on steadily night after night, with a healthy persistence in remembering and practicing these five things, we shall often find that what might have been a very long period of sleeplessness may be materially shortened and that the sleep which follows the practice of the exercises is better, sounder, and more refreshing, than the sleep that came before. In many cases a long or short period of insomnia can be absolutely prevented by just these simple means. Here is perhaps the place to say that all narcotics are, in such cases, absolutely pernicious.—Leslie's Monthly for March.

ROUTINE BUSINESS AT BOROUGH COUNCIL

Five Members of North Plainfield Volunteer Fire Department Granted Exemptions.

MR. NORTHROP PRESIDES

MEMBERS EULOGIZE ROBERT CLARK, WHO RESIGNATION WAS ACCEPTED.

Claim Amounting to $2,200 Were Ordered Paid—Street Expenditures During Month $58.20—Mayor Smalley Absent.

There was just a quorum present at the meeting of the North Plainfield Common Council meeting last night and but little business was transacted. It was the last meeting of the Council for three of the members on their present terms, and Councilman Northrop, who occupied the chair of the Mayor in the latter's absence, delivered a valedictory paying a tribute to the Mayor and Council, commending their action especially as to changing the volunteer fire department to that of a paid one.

Charles Keller, Herman Hansen, William G. Pasch, Peter Stramm and August Feiring, all firemen who have served their requisite seven years in the department, were granted exemption on motion of Councilman Arnold. Claims amounting to about $2,200 were ordered paid. A bill presented by Assessor Elston M. French for $150, was ordered paid when properly sworn to. Mr. Arnold reported expenditures on the streets of $58.20 for clearing away snow and dirt.

The resignation of Councilman Robert M. Clark, Jr., which has laid upon the table several weeks, was reluctantly accepted. President Northrop, in listening to the motion, said that during his three years' term in office his association with the resigning member was most pleasant and was convinced that Mr. Clark was not only a kindly man but had the best interests of the borough at heart. He said he knew that a great deal of pressure had been brought to bear to try to induce Mr. Clark to remain in the Council. Mr. Arnold also paid a tribute to Mr. Clark by saying he knew him to be a conscientious man and was sorry to be compelled to accept his resignation.

Just before the meeting closed Mr. Northrop took the floor and said that during the last three years it has been a pleasure for him to meet with the Council in North Plainfield. He said his experiences have been varied and while he has not always agreed on the different questions which have come up he has nevertheless taken pleasure in participating in the debates. He did not believe in the annexation proposition and in voting against it he did so from an honest conviction.

"The borough," said he, "has good cause to congratulate itself upon what has happened to the fire department and it will always redound to to its credit and benefit on account of lower insurance rates which will follow the installation of a paid department. We have a city of our own; good schools and good streets and in fact a town to be proud of. I hope the work begun during the last six years will continue for the next sixty years. Regarding the park question, before we can appropriate one single cent for this purpose we must lay the matter before the people the same as was done in the new fire house proposition and the new school building. It is impressed on all, I think, that the expenditures of great sums of money must be voted upon by the people."

REPORT DELAYED.

Joint Municipal Garbage Disposal Committee Not Ready to Report.

The joint committee from the Board of Health and Common Council having under consideration the question of the municipal collection of garbage, met last night to consider some propositions to be incorporated in the report to be presented to the Council. It was thought that this report would be ready for the Common Council meeting on Monday night, but unfortunatly it cannot be prepared in time. It will, however, be ready before the annual budget is fixed, which will be by April, at least.

—The Exempt Firemen's Association will meet on Monday night and take up several matters of interest.

Wm. M. Sandford, wife and daughter and Mrs. Penfield, who have been enjoying a tour of Florida, are expected to return home today.

ANNUAL REPORT OF A. O. U. W.

V. W. NASH, SR., MAKES MINORITY PLEA ON NEW ASSESSMENT PLAN.

The annual report of Grand Master Workman Tomlinson and the Grand Lodge officers of the A. O. U. W. has just been issued. The medical examiner, Dr. Elmer Barwis, of Trenton, reports eighty-three deaths for 1903, the same number as in 1902. There was one Plainfield death from Central Lodge. The death rate was very slightly increased and the average age at death was slightly lower than in 1902. The reports of the representatives to the Supreme Lodge are included in the report, Representatives Barrows, of Mt. Holly, and Colyer, of Newark, making the majority report in favor of the new assessment plans and V. W. Nash, Jr., of this city, making the minority and opposing report. The majority report emphasizes the fact that under the present step-rate plan of assessments, all members of the order past fifty-seven years of age have failed to pay the cost of their protection and have become a constantly increasing burden. There were 90,000 members of the order January 1, and, it is argued, even if these men should pay the level rate of $4.20 for each $1,000 of protection they would fall far short of paying their cost, and leave a burden of $30,000,000 to be borne within the next twenty-five or thirty years.

CONTROL FOR COUNTY BOARDS

MOVEMENT STARTED IN UNION COUNTY HAS NOW REACHED THE ASSEMBLY.

The movement started several years ago by the members of the Union County Board of Election to have all the matters pertaining to elections placed in the hands of the County Board has culminated in the introduction of a measure by Mr. Manners, of Essex, which makes this provision.

Since the movement started the Union County men have been joined by the boards of Essex and other counties and a bill was drafted which is known as House bill No. 311, which is designated "Amendments to the general election act, revision of 1898," and contains no less than forty pages of amendments.

The bill seeks to take over the control of the ballot boxes, the stationery, naming of polling places and every detail pertaining to any and all elections.

The friends of the bill urged the advocates of the measure to wait until the bill placing county clerks on a salary basis be passed, so as to do away with that much opposition, but they were unwilling to postpone it and now it is said that there would be manifold opposition to it from various sources from city clerks, all of whom get some fee for the services performed round about election time. On the other hand, the advocates of the bill claim that it will simplify the election system and not add anything to the cost of an election in the smallest borough. The bill has been referred to the committee on elections.

Y. M. C. A. BOWLERS WON

FANWOOD SUBURBANS DEFEATED IN THREE STRAIGHT GAMES.

The Y. M. C. A. bowling five had no trouble in winning three straight games from the Fanwood Suburbans last night on the association alleys. The scores did not run high. Capt. Morris Sutphen's 171 in the second game was the highest. Sheehan with 151 was high roller for the visitors. The first game was close, the Y. M. C. A. winning by only three pins, 631 628. In the second game the margin was 55 pins, and in the last game Fanwood gave the home players another hard rub, falling eleven pins behind in a score of 641-630. The results:

NO CHANGE IN R. C. CHOIRS

POPE'S DECREE WILL NOT EFFECT THE LOCAL CHURCHES.

Considerable talk has been caused by a letter recently issued by Pope Pius at Rome, ordering all women in choirs in Roman Catholic churches, succeeded by men. In local Roman Catholic circles there has been much speculation whether or not the order will go into effect in this city.

Andrew M. Egan, pastor of St. Mary's R. C. church, said last night that the order will not effect the local churches. He said that no orders have been received by him from the Bishop of this diocese and until some instructions are given him to the contrary the present choirs will be maintained.

In speaking with a reporter for The Daily Press last night Father Egan declared that some of the Bishops have taken the matter up but so far nothing has been done to affect the local choirs. He said that the Pope did not make his orders compulsory and therefore it is probable the present choirs will continue to occupy their positions as heretofore.

RED MEN HEAR REPORTS

MIANTONOMO TRIBE LISTEN TO DELEGATES TO GREAT COUNCIL.

The most largely attended and enjoyable meeting of Miantonomo Tribe, No. 118, I. O. R. M., in years took place last night. Charles McKinley, representative to the Great Council of New Jersey, made an elaborate report of the proceedings of the Council for which he received a vote of thanks. The changes in the laws governing the order were explained by Past Sachem William Newcorn, particularly the changes in the age limits for admitting members from eighteen and fifty years; the prohibition of the introduction of liquors into lodge halls and the restraining of members from entering public barrooms while wearing the regalia of the order; and the increase of benefits in the aged men's fund.

A programme of violin, banjo and guitar, piano and vocal selections was rendered by David Dreier, Harry Dreier, Harvey Wentrick, A. J. Stiglitz, A. D. Pope, C. L. Holstein and Edward Carney. Brief remarks were made by Past Sachems Holstein, Doeringer, Sodden, Osmand, Weber, Sneider and Sheridan and also by three guests of the lodge, Past Sachems Firstbrook and Humphrey, of Wetumpkah Tribe, and Past Sachem Julian, of Wichoocheche Tribe, No. 24, of Flemington. A highland fling was danced by Robert Siorah, accompanied on banjo and guitar by the Dreier brothers.

CAN NOT OUST SHATTLE

PLAINFIELDER STILL ENTITLED TO MEMBERSHIP IN COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Andrew J. Nolan, J. V. F. Dilts and Frank J. Shattle represented this city last night at the regular meeting of the Union County Democratic Committee at Elizabeth. The question of F. J. Shattle's resignation as a city committeeman debarring him from being a member of the county committee was taken up and a lively discussion followed. The County Committee decided that as Mr. Shattle had not resigned from that body he was still entitled to membership.

The County Committee plans to organize clubs in every city, town and township in the county. Nelson E. Barton, editor of the Elizabeth Evening Times, the official Democratic organ of Union County, was present and addressed the meeting. He was given a cordial reception.

The resignation of Ira Hulbert, of the Fourth ward, this city, was received by the County Committee. The cause of the resignation is ascribed to poor health. It was reluctantly received.

Finger Amputated.

John Cooper, aged 12 years, of Warrenville, was taken to the hospital yesterday suffering with a badly lacerated hand which had the day before come in contact with a saw. The index finger was considerably torn and necessitated amputation. Barring complications the lad should be able to return home soon.

Improvements at Inn.

S. T. Williams, of this city, has secured the plumbing contract for the remodeling of the Mountain Park Inn. About $4,000 will be expended on the building in improvmeents and the contract secured by Mr. Williams included the heating apparatus.

PRICE OF BREAD TO TAKE A JUMP

Local Bakers Forced to Raise Prices Because of Exhorbitant Rate for Flour.

BOSS BAKERS' ORGANIZE

FIVE-CENT LOAF TO BE RETAILED AT SEVEN CENTS.

Rolls Will be Twelve Cents a Dozen—Meeting of Association at Warnock's Tonight—The Officers as Chosen.

The price of bread in this city is to go up, the bakers of the city having effected an organization and decided upon the step as one absolutely necessary at this time. The rise in the price of flour is responsible for the action. The plan is to increase the price of five cent loaves of bread from five to seven cents and to reduce the weight of ten cens loaves so that they can be sold for ten cents as heretofore. Rolls will probably be twelve cents a dozen.

Though the rise has been practically decided upon, definite action has been left until a meeting of the bakers' organization tonight in the store of W. W. Warnock. The organization will be known as the Boss Bakers' Association of Plainfield. At last night's meeting, these officers were chosen: President, W. W. Warnock; secretary, Herman Klinsman, and treasurer, Stephen L. Schleif.

The organization was made after a rise in the price of bread in other places. For flour which sold at $3.90 a barrel two years ago, the bakers are now compelled to pay $6. Definite action of the bakers will not be taken until the matter is given the fullest consideration as the fact is appreciated by the bakers as by consumers that a rise in the price of bread affects all classes more than a rise in any other article of food.

BEWARE OF THIS INDIVIDUAL

MAN TELLS A FALSE, BUT PLAUSIBLE STORY TO GET MONEY.

Persons in this city who have susceptible dispositions are warned against the operations of a man well known about town who wants to borrow $5 "to bury his eight-year-old boy who has just died." The fellow tells a most pathetic story, working upon his victim's feelings by pleading poverty and lack of work and weeping copiously. He was successful in obtaining $5 from a woman who ascertained later that he was "faking." The fellow has been employed by several bakers and grocers in this city, spending the proceeds of whatever he earns in saloons instead of supporting his wife and children.

MR. COOK BURIED.

Funeral Services Held Over Remains of Faithful Employe of The Daily Press.

Charles Sylvester Cook, a faithful employe of A. L. Force, owner and editor of The Daily Press, was laid at rest in Hillside cemetery this morning. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church, in the lecture room of the church, and were attended in a body by the employes of The Daily Press. The lecture room was filled with "Cookey's" friends. Dr. Schenck spoke feelingly of the dead man's character, his fidelity to duty, his trustworthiness and earnestness in trying to do right, and his faithfulness in Christianity. The pall bearers were selected from among Cook's fellow employes at The Daily Press, Corra Ryno, E. C. Searing, W. C. Dobbins and Thomas Lynch.

John MacDonald Arrested.

VALUABLE MAPS FOR STATE

DUPLICATES OF RARE OLD RECORDS SECURED BY CONGRESSIONAL LIBRARY.

The libraries of the State may soon add to their reference room copies of two or three hundred ancient maps of New Jersey and other eastern States.

At a recent meeting of the public library commission a committee was named to wait upon Governor Murphy and try and interest him, in behalf of the State, in the acquisition of them and the Governor was enthusiastic over the matter.

Some time ago the congressional library at Washington, D. C., secured from various sources in this country and in England all the authentic maps to be had of the various sections of the country as it was known to the early geographers and then made a complete set of them. In this collection there are between two and three hundred pertaining to New Jersey, some of which were traced by officers of the Revolutionary Army and some by the English officers, and it is these copies the commission thought would be a valuable addition to the public libraries of the State.

MIZPAH LODGE'S SOCIAL

MASQUERADE AFFAIR HELD BY LOCAL I. O. O. L. ORGANIZATION.

Mizpah Lodge, No. 10, I. O. O. L., held a masquerade social last night at the home of Mrs. Andrew Mattis, on West Fourth street, corner of Arlington avenue. It was one of the most successful affairs yet held by that organization, there being no less than fifty present. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing until a late hour.

All the members came en masque. Some were represented as Bedelia, while others mimicked his Satanic majesty and other characters. A prize was offered for the woman appearing in the neatest costume. This was awarded to Mrs. Bush. Naylor's orchestra supplied the music for dancing.

The committee in charge of the arrangements were: Mrs. Andrew Cox, Mrs. Gussie Dodge, Mrs. Agnes Randolph, Mrs. Albert Dawe, Mrs. Hattie Gibbons, Mrs. David Bush and Miss Sadie L. Sweeney.

UNION CO.'S SUNDAY-SCHOOL

SOME STATISTICS COMPILED BY THE LOCAL ASSOCIATION.

There were 4,169 officers, teachers and members of Sunday-schools in this city last year according to the twenty-third annual report of the Union County Sunday-school Association just issued. The report divides Plainfield Sunday-schools into two districts.

The first district, of which Charles M. Dolliver is secretary, includes the Sunday-schools of Trinity Reformed church, Grace P. E., St. Stephens, Seventh-Day Baptist, All Souls' Unitarian, Crescent Avenue, Monroe Avenue M. E., Bethel chapel, Mt. Olive and Calvary Baptist. In this district, with no report received from the Crescent Avenue school, there were 162 officers and teachers, 1,680 pupils, and a total of 1,842. The average attendance for the district was 952. Twenty-three dollars was contributed for county, State and international Sunday-school work.

In the second district are included the schools of the First M. E., First Presbyterian, First Baptist, Park Avenue Baptist, East Third Street chapel, Congregational, Hope chapel and Heavenly Rest. There were 234 officers and teachers in this district, 2,093 pupils and a total of 2,327. There was an average of 1,257 pupils in attendance every Sunday. The county, State and international work received $33 from the district. A. V. Searing, Jr., was secretary.

In the entire county there was a membership list of 22,510, of whom 17,318 were pupils. The average attendance in the county was 11,280.

Officers and members of committees of the county association include Miss Edith Cairns, primary and junior superintendent, of this city; G. E. Hall, of Netherwood, member of the State executive committee; Rev. G. M. Shott, of Scotch Plains, and Miss Florence M. Hawkins, of this city, members of the executive committee.

EXEMPTION BILL WAS STOPPED

ATTORNEY-GENERAL M'CARTER WILL LOOK IT OVER THE PROPOSED LAW.

Assemblyman Dalrymple's bill to overcome the objections found by the courts to the tax exemptions heretofore allowed to firemen, veterans of the war and officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, was favorably reported by the committee on judiciary this week at a session of the Assembly.

During the day it had been reported about the House that Attorney General McCarter had expressed the belief that the new bill would not meet the objections. Leader Colby had a consultation with Mr. Dalrymple with the result that when the report had bene read the leader took the floor. In view of the statements which have been made regarding the validity of this measure," said Mr. Colby. "I do not think it would be well to proceed any further with the bill until we are sure of our ground, to the effect that the bill be referred to the Attorney General, with the request for his opinion as to its constitutionality."

The resolution was adopted and a copy of the bill and resolution sent to Mr. McCarter. The provisions of the bill make it applicable also to all exempt firemen, members of salvage corps, members of the National Guard and all veterans of the Civil War, the war with Spain and the war in the Philippine Islands.

ALIS CLUB'S ARRANGEMENTS

OPENING GAME TO BE PLAYED WITH THE STRONG AEOLIAN TEAM.

The reception and entertainment which was to have been given by the Alis Club to the members of its baseball team tonight, has been postponed for one week, owing to the inability of some of the members of the team to attend on account of business. The Alis Club has decided to open the baseball season on Saturday, May 7, with the strong Aeolian team from Garwood, with whom a series of five games have been arranged. These games will all be played on Crescent Oval. The baseball management is now arranging the season's schedule. On Decoration Day it is hoped to have the strong Seventh Regiment, N. Y. N. G., for two games, morning and afternoon, and so far as possible the management hopes to arrange all games for Crescent Oval. As the season will be opened earlier than usual, the work of puting the oval in condition will be commenced early in April.

The season tickets will be out early next week and the baseball management as well as the club hope that the citizens of the city will give liberal support. At Westfield over two hundred season tickets have been purchased for the support of that team and it is believed that Plainfield will do even better in supporting a first-class team that will fairly represent the city. It is proposed to give Westfield a good show in the schedule, which is sure to arouse great interest between the two towns.

WOMAN MISSIONARY TALKED

MRS. SCHENCK TOLD TRINITY REFORMED SOCIETY OF FOREIGN WORK.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church was addressed yesterday afternoon by Mrs. J. W. Schenck, a returned missionary from Japan who described her work in that country in educational, evangelistic and literary mission fields. Her work lay among women and children and especially among young men students who were anxious for the knowledge that the missionaries could give them, and who prove apt pupils of American methods.

The resignation of Miss Abbie VanCleef from the office of secretary of the Band was received and Mrs. H. F. Crawford was elected to the vacancy.

In Justice Warden's Court.

Summons has been issued in Justice Von Minden's court at New Market in the contract cases of John B. Field against William McCullough and George Conover & Son against David Brittin and Harriet H. Brittin. Both cases will be heard Wednesday morning, March 9.

—Miss Chapman, of the firm of Adams & Chapman, has returned from New York where she has been for the past month studying the spring styles. They still have a few trimmed winter hats which they are selling for one to two dollars.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY DOING MUCH GOOD

Annual Meeting of a Women's Organization of the Crescent Ave. Church.

J. W. BAER'S SPEECH

DURING YEAR OVER $1,400 HAS BEEN RAISED BY SOCIETY.

Mrs. I. C. Pierson is Chosen President—Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon—Social Features of the Session.

Encouraging reports were presented, officers elected and an able address delivered at the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, held yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the church. The attendance was large and considerable interest manifested. Mrs. I. C. Pierson, president, was in charge of the meeting. After the reading of secretary's report, which showed that much had been accomplished during the year, the treasurer presented her report. This showed that between $1,400 and $1,500 had been raised during the year for home missions. The secretary for literature also had an interesting report giving the members an idea of the large amount of reading matter distributed.

Following the reports, these officers were re elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. I. C. Pierson; vice presidents, Mrs. W. E. Honeyman, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore; treasurer, Mrs. William W. Myers; secretary, Miss Mary W. Ketcham; secretary for literature, Mrs. Henry R. Halloway; Young People's secretary, Miss Blanche Randolph.

After the business session there was an address by John Willis Baer, formerly associated with the Christian Endeavor Society, but now assistant secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presybterian Church. Mr. Baer is an interesting speaker and he told in a graphic manner of the extent of the work being done in home missions. He referred to the promising work in Cuba, Porto Rico and among the immigrants and he also spoke impressively of the great amount of work yet to be accomplished on the home field.

At the close of Mr. Baer's address there was a social hour and tea was served. Mrs. F. H. Martin and Mrs. Jacob Vandeventer presided at the table and they were assisted by a number of young women.

BASKET SOCIAL.

Affair Given Under Auspices of the Swedish Lutheran Girls' Society.

A basket social was held last night at the Swedish Lutheran church on Grove street and a pleasant evening was spent.

Those who took part were Miss Esther Johnson, the Echo quartette from Upsala College, Miss Adelaide Von Ohl, C. O. Thumberg, Mrs. Johnson, O. Lundgren and W. J. Wilson. The committee in charge of the social was composed of the Misses Thompson. It was given by the Young Women's Sewing Circle.

Mr. MacDonald's Funeral.

The funeral services of the late Thomas E. MacDonald were held yesterday afternoon from the home on East Front street, there being a large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, conducted the services. The interment was in Hillside cemetery.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

When you want to make yourself solid with the girl buy her a box of candy at H. Mehrten's East Front street candy store.

Tier makes ice cream for Sunday. All flavors at the right price. Telephone to his new place of business on Bank place. Order early.

Herman Hansen is a competent carpenter and builder. He does all kinds of work at most satisfactory prices. Let him figure on that contract.

John P. Powers, of Somerset street, does not keep drugs; he sells them. Among other specialties this week is his witch hazel cream for chapped hands.

If you contemplate moving this spring consult William Hand & Son first. This firm will contract to move your goods carefully and at right prices. Only the best men are employed by the firm to do its work.

The place to get your special bargains in groceries and provisions today is R. H. Keenan's store East Fifth and Richmond streets. Keenan's Friday and Saturday specials cannot be equalled at any other Plainfield store.

Before making selections of wallpapers examine the desirable stock carried by I. N. Wyckoff, of West Front street. From so large a stock you certainly will find just what you want. Mr. Wyckoff also contracts for first-class painting.

A specialty has been made for many years by Charles L. Stanley in catering to the preparation of lawns and private flower gardens for the opening of spring. For that reason persons wishing to have their flower gardens put in order, should see Stanley.

There is no furniture store in Jersey that has an assortment more complete than Powlison & Jones' store on East Front street. Whatever your tastes in furniture you can have them quite as well satisfied at the Plainfield store as in New York, besides saving the wear and tear and expense of the trip in and out.

A. M. Griffen, the East Front street hardware merchant, has an exceptional stock of hardware, cultery, stoves, ranges, household necessities and builders' materials in general, all of which are sold at low prices. The quality of these goods are unsurpassed. If you need any plumbing or tinning done, Mr. Griffen will attend to it promptly for you.

Woodbull & Martin furnished the furniture and housefurnishing goods for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Samuels, Jr., who were married in New York on Tuesday and who will reside in Somerville. The goods—three truck loads in all—were conveyed to Somerville by the firm's teams. They also sent a truck load to another party in Somerville this week. Mr. Vanderhoef, who has charge of these departments, which occupy one-half of the big store, is always on the look-out for business and he generally gets it too.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—James E. Martine, of Watchung avenue, visited New Brunswick Thursday on business. Upon his return he spoke not very complimentary of the condition of that city's streets and sidewalks. He pronounced them about the worst that he had ever seen and by way of comparison said that Plainfield is a paradise to the old town on the Raritan.

—Application has been made to the Summit Common Council for trackage rights in Park avenue, Ashwood avenue and Russell place for a steam railroad to connect Summit with Elizabeth by the Cross Steam and Electric Railway Company. The communication was signed by Louis Keller, the organizer of the Baltusrol Golf Club, and who is the owner of the larger portion of the land between the Summit city line and Springfield along the Mountain road.

A Wonderful Saving.

The largest Methodist Church in Georgia, calculated to use over one hundred gallons of the usual kind of mixed paint in painting their church.

They used only 32 gallons of the Longman & Martinez Paint mixed with 24 gallons of linseed oil. Actual cost of paint made was less than $1.20 per gallon.

Saved over eighty ($80.00) dollars in paint, and got a big donation besides.

EVERY CHURCH will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of linseed oil mixed therewith.

Wears and covers like gold.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

AMUSEMENTS.

Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott and their London company, who, earlier in the season, presented "The Light That Failed" with great success at the Knickerbocker Theatre, will return to this house next Monday evening, in a very noteworthy revival of "Hamlet." Mr. Robertson will play the title role and Miss Elliott "Ophelia." The remainder of the cast will be splendidly portrayed by their company. Mr. Robertson first played "Hamlet" in London in 1897 and subsequently appeared in this character in Paris and Berlin. In each of those cities his impersonation was pronounced the greatest contemporary Hamlet. Several weeks ago he appeared in this role in Philadelphia and Baltimore, astonishing the critics, who were most lavish in praise of both him and his company. Mr. Robertson's interpretation of "Hamlet" is a powerful portrayal and ranks with the best ever seen on the English-speaking stage, not excepting that of the great Edwin Booth. All lovers of the best of Shakespeare's plays will miss a great artistic treat should they fail to see Mr. Robertson in this role. Seats on sale for all performances.

Manager Adelberg's Work.

"Well done" is the message Manager Adelberg, of the People's Credit Clothing Co. at 131 E. Front street, received in answer to his half-yearly report from the main office and it is certainly remarkable to say for a new store in a city only a little over six months in existence. During this time they have made over 2,000 customers on their easy credit system. Manager Adelberg claims the reason for his remarkable, quick success—first: The system of credit is the most easiest one ever attempted by any other credit house; second: Every promise made by the above concern when they opened up has been kept up to the standard—no false representation whether in quality or in prices has ever been made. Honest and square dealing has been their motto and will continue to do so. They claim and expect to do still better for the coming spring. If you will walk up and take a stroll through the different departments of the various selections of spring clothing for ladies, gents and children, you wouldn't know the reason why they shouldn't.

Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Liquid Cream Balm is becoming quite as popular in many localities as Ely's Cream Balm solid. It is prepared for use in atomizers, and is highly prized by those who have been accustomed to call upon physicians for such a treatment. Many physicians are using and prescribing it. All the medicinal properties of the celebrated Cream Balm are contained in the Liquid form, which is 75 cts. including a spraying tube. All druggists, or by mail. —The decorations at the Valiant-Corning wedding Wednesday were arranged by Mrs. L. J. Denton, the West Front street florist. These were especially attractive both at the house and at the church. The awnings and other arrangements were in charge of the carpet and awning firm of Shirley & Johnson, of West Front street.

—One of the trolley conductors who has been working in this city, it is said, has been asked to resign for the reason that he failed to ring up fares on his car. It is reported that a few days ago a passenger on the car he was running called his attention to his failure to ring up five fares which he had collected. He remonstrated, it is alleged, by saying that conductors are poorly paid. Afterwards he rang up the fares.

If You Have Any Spare Time

We Want to Make You a Proposition for Its Use

THE magazine subscription business has grown enormously within the past three years, and hundreds are finding it a pleasant and lucrative employment, especially at this season of the year. A large sum will be spent in every community this winter in subscribing for new magazines and renewing old subscriptions. Most of the money would ordinarily go direct from subscriber to publisher; but the latter would just as soon receive it through an agent, and the subscriber would usually prefer to patronize a "home industry" by placing his subscriptions through a fellow-townsman.

By putting this idea into practice, one of our subscription representatives, in a recent month's canvassing, earned $524.00; another, in the same month, $494.00, and still another, $334.00. And this, mind you, at work calling for investment of not one penny, and no previous experience. You may do as well. Will you try it?

in every community this winter to whom we can send lists of expiring subscriptions for renewal, also to obtain new subscriptions. The pay is the largest offered by any first-class magazine, and the assistance rendered subscription-getters the most helpful. Any person of average intelligence and energy can earn much more in this way than could be earned in any ordinary salaried position.

$50,000.00

at least, will be earned in commissions and cash prizes by our representatives within the next six months. Write today for our proposition and special methods of work.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Recent Rate War and Higher Prices Prove Stimulating.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The International Mercantile agency from leading cities and towns throughout the United States and Canada has received reports indicating that the past week has been the most broken and irregular in general trade circles since the year began. Railroad operation since Jan. 1 has been disappointing to both roads and shippers.

Rate wars between Chicago and Missouri river points, with higher prices for cereals, have stimulated the movement of grain and, as an indirect effect, have increased buying throughout the entire winter wheat region. St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth spring wheat country centers do not find trade as active as anticipated.

Prices have advanced $2 a ton for steel pipe and for wire products and 75 cents a ton for bessemer pig, at Pittsburg, consequent on the trust purchase of 100,000 tons. That interest is also reported to have options for 40,000 tons of bessemer, each for April and May deliveries. A leading southern pig interest has sold its output to May 1. Advances have been shown by cotton and sugar, while declines are noted in the overstimulated cereals, in provisions and in Ohio petroleum.

There is less call for money for mercantile purposes at banks at a number of cities, notably at New York and Boston.

General trade is showing relatively most activity at Chicago, Pittsburg, New Orleans and St. Louis. At Baltimore it is 20 per cent less than a year ago, due to interference by the fire. Cincinnati reports a moderate gain, and Boston rather less trade than a year ago, but with hopefulness for an early increase.

Among some of the larger cities wages in industrial lines are stationary.

In the Canadian Dominion trade has been more active owing to an influx of country buyers at important centers.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade gives manufacturing failures for February as 223, with liabilities of $3,826,935; trading failures were 734, with liabilities of $5,289,801; banking failures were 13, with liabilities of $15,-812,553.

PRAIRIE FIRE VICTIMS.

Loss by Fire and Storm Will Reach Half a Million Dollars.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 5.—Three persons perished in the great prairie fires near Lawton, and the financial loss by the fire and gale is estimated at $500,000.

The dead are: W. H. Moyer, near Walter, overcome while fighting fire; Dr. Harmon, near Lawton, burned to death in his stable; unknown boy, near Lawton, body found on prairie burned to a crisp.

Further reports of property loss by both fire and wind indicate that the first estimate was too low. The damage by wind extends over seven counties in the southwest. The total losses from fire and storm can as yet only be estimated, but it is the general opinion that they will reach $500,000. Hastings, Olustee, Leger, Walter, Granite, Elk City, Cache, Temple, Snyder, Willow, Bloomington, Sayre and Mountain Park all report damage both in town and the surrounding country by wind.

Scores of people are suffering from burns and broken limbs.

The area from which reports of damage by wind come covers a hundred miles square, and means of communication over the district are meager. This difficulty is increased by the fact that poles are burned and wires blown down.

The little town of Francis, west of Mangum, has been totally destroyed by fire.

All His Predecessors In the Church Have Been Polygamists—Said He Would Put Revelations Before the Law of the Land.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Interest in the investigation before the senate committee on privileges and elections of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot of Utah is unabated, although most of the time was devoted to introduction of documents subscribed to as the law of the Mormon church. In that connection President Joseph F. Smith, who again was on the stand, testified that if the principle of plural marriages should be attacked it would be defended by the church.

Intense feeling was exhibited by President Smith against individuals who, he said, had spied on the domestic and marital relations of the high officials of the Mormon church, and for that reason he had favored the passage of the Evans bill to prevent prosecutions for polygamous cohabitation unless complaints were entered by husband or wife against the other. This bill was passed, but vetoed by the governor of Utah.

It was brought out that all of Mr. Smith's predecessors as president of the Mormon church had been polygamists and that the man chosen to succeed him has more than one wife. Mr. Smith was asked which he would obey, the law of the land or revelations from God if the two were in conflict. He said he might obey the revelation, though it was not compulsory. He added: "I should not like to be put in a position where I would have to desert my children. I could not do that."

President Smith was so keenly questioned that he grew restive more than once.

The status of plural wives, their helplessness against the desire of the husband to add to their number and other peculiar conditions in the Mormon church were intimately probed.

Senator Foraker persisted in knowing when, where and how the injunction in favor of polygamy had been received by the Mormon church so as to find out whether the practice was compulsory or merely permissive.

It was set forth that if one wanted to espouse a second virgin he could do so by obtaining the consent of the first, but that if the consent of the first was withheld he was at liberty to proceed without it. It is set forth also that where the first refuses consent to share her husband with another woman she would be "destroyed."

Senator Pettus asked the meaning of the word "destroyed" in that sense.

Mr. Smith answered that she would be destroyed by the Lord, but that he was not informed "just how the Lord would go about it."

"Then it does not mean that the husband could destroy her?" Senator Pettus asked.

"No; never."

"I take it then that the question of getting a wife's consent to marry again might just as well be eliminated entirely?" said Senator Beveridge.

"Just as well," answered the witness.

Senator Dubois asked Mr. Smith how many of his predecessors had been monogamists; and Mr. Smith said he believed that all of them had had plural wives.

"And I believe you said that your successor to the throne has more than one wife?" said Senator Dubois.

"I wish to correct the senator," responded Mr. Smith. "There is no successor to the throne."

Senator Dubois said he would withdraw the offensive term; that he merely wanted to ascertain that the successor has been determined upon and that he is now a polygamist. The witness admitted that this was the case.

In quoting from the New Testament Senator Hoar said there is a command that a "bishop shall be sober and have one wife"—

"At least one wife," Mr. Smith interrupted.

"Well, we don't construe it that way in our church," said Senator Hoar amid laughter. "What I wanted to get at is this: Now, I know several bishops in our church who are bachelors. Do you regard it a divine command that the bishops shall have one wife or more? What I want to know is how you construe that command."

"I believe the practice of polygamy was general among the Jews at the time the Scriptures were written," said Mr. Smith. "I believe that it was commanded that a bishop should be a married man because his duties made it necessary that he should be an experienced man."

Here the chairman had to rap loudly to restore order in the committee room.

"What would you do if the principle of plural marriages was publicly attacked?" Senator McComas asked.

"We would defend it," said Mr. Smith.

Maine's Victim Will Recover.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Officials of the war department have received word from the Army General hospital that Manning, who was shot by the insane ex-soldier, would probably recover. The ball has been located in the fleshy part of the back, and unless some unforeseen complication sets in there is every hope for him.

LEWISTOWN, Mont., March 5.—Three trains are buried in the snow between here and Lombard. It is not known just where, although repeated efforts have been made to reach them with snowplows.

AMERICA AND RUSSIA

St. Petersburg Hails With Joy Tokens of Our Friendship.

MAKAROFF AT PORT ARTHUR.

Czar's Torpedo Boats Will Take an Active Offensive Part—Another Large Army Reported Landed by Japanese In Korea.

LONDON, March 5.—Dispatches from St. Petersburg say that the Japanese fleet has been so weakened by damages sustained that operations against Port Arthur have ceased altogether. Admiral Makaroff claims that six cruisers, five torpedo boat destroyers and one gunboat have been put out of action.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says Major General Pflug, commanding the Russian forces at Port Arthur, reports an eyewitness has stated that a Japanese cruiser having three funnels lies near Chemulpo, having recently sunk there.

VICE ADMIRAL MAKAROFF.

The cruiser is said to be of the Niitaka type and is beached at the entrance of Namyang creek, which is about fifteen miles south of Chemulpo.

Japanese naval vessels of the Niitaka type have three funnels.

According to information received at Seoul, forty Japanese transports, escorted by the entire naval fleet, have been energetically landing troops in Korea at Fusan and Chemulpo. It is estimated that fully 100,000 men have disembarked, and it is supposed that an immediate advance into northern Korea is contemplated.

From the fact that the Japanese fleet is thus employed it is felt that no immediate attack upon Vladivostok or Port Arthur will be made.

It is expected on the part of the Russian squadron, now that Admiral Makaroff has arrived there, that offensive operations will be started. Torpedo boats especially will be brought into play and that in spite of reports to the contrary Russia is understood to have an ample supply of torpedoes for these craft.

From official sources in Korea reports come to the effect that Chinampo is free from ice, that the Japanese have ceased debarking troops at Chemulpo and that they have taken advantage of the opening of Chinampo to land troops there.

St. Petersburg advices say the Russian press hails with great satisfaction the American dispatches of the last few days indicating a change in the disposition of the Washington government toward Russia. The press discuss in a sober minded fashion Russo-American relations and the danger of a permanent estrangement. The Gazette says:

"In Russian social circles there has ever been a veritable worship of the classic land of liberty, and the Americans have always heretofore made Russian friendship the cornerstone of their foreign policy.

"Suddenly, as if an evil spirit had broken loose, the Americans, despite their practical turn of mind, began to do everything to stimulate Japanese aggressiveness and seem now to be anxiously awaiting Japanese victories in Asia, where important American commercial interests are centered. As a matter of fact, hostility between the United States and Russia would be as great a misfortune to civilization in the twentieth century as was the rivalry between France and Germany in the nineteenth. The duty of every right minded man is to arrest the growth of this animosity."

There exists a high authority for the statement that Russia now has reason to feel more tranquil regarding the attitude of Great Britain.

The real reason of the visit to St. Petersburg of Count Benckendorff, Russian ambassador to Great Britain, while ostensibly to see his son off to the far east, was personally to assure his government of his belief that the suspicions harbored here concerning Japan's ally were ill founded, and Great Britain, although standing by the obligations of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, would not move unless compelled to do so by the entrance into affairs in the far east of a third power.

Count Benckendorff had a long interview with the czar as well as with Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, and it has been learned that he convinced the authorities that Great Britain was acting in good faith. He conveyed an autograph letter to the czar from King Edward with Great Britain's assurance that the Anglo-Japanese treaty contained no secret clauses and that it was not directed especially against Russia, its sole purpose being, according to the British authorities, the preservation of the balance of power in the far east which might be threatened by another coalition such as followed the Chino-Japanese war and which resulted in the exclusion of Great Britain from further international settlement of far eastern questions.

It is also officially stated that the British and French governments have reached a thorough understanding by which they have pledged mutual non-interference, causing Russia now to feel much more secure against European complications.

Dispatches from St. Petersburg say the merchants of Moscow have decided to boycott all American goods until such time as American hostility to Russia shall cease. A high officer of the general staff has pointed out how important a part artifice plays in the Japanese tactics, especially in the use of the English press, to spread abroad news intended to deceive and which is confirmed later by more or less fictitious operations. He suggested that the repeated attacks on Port Arthur were apparently without purpose and that the Japanese landing at Possiet bay was merely intended to divert attention from the Yalu.

A Tokyo report says it is evident that several vessels laden with coal, provisions and other contraband articles have recently effected the passage of Tsugaru strait and succeeded in reaching Vladivostok. Their exact number and names are unknown, but it is stated that they included British, Norwegian and German vessels. Two of them are said to have carried cargoes of Australian coal. Japan evidently refrained from making a special effort to prevent their passage, and it is not impossible that she calmly permitted the delivery of the contraband goods, calculating that they would prove useful to herself at a later stage of the campaign. The Vladivostok squadron continues inactive, though it has an ample supply of coal, and the ships are in good condition. It has evidently been instructed by the Russian government to remain close to the Vladivostok batteries in preference to risking a fight in the open seas. It is declared to be only a question of time before this squadron will receive the attention of the Japanese navy.

NURSES FOR JAPAN.

Ten American Women Will Tend the Wounded Japs on Battlefields.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—Ten nurses have left this city over the Pennsylvania railroad for Seattle en route to Japan, where they will render volunteer service on the battlefield. The party is under the guidance of Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee of this city, who tendered her services, together with those of her companions, without hope remuneration.

The party consists of Misses Ella V. King, Minnie Cooke, Adelaide Mackereth, Elizabeth Kratz, Adele Neeb, of this city; Miss E. Sophia Newall, New Jersey; Miss Genevieve Russell, New York city; Miss Mary Gladwin, Boston, and Miss Alice Kemmer, Indiana.

They will embark on the Japanese mail steamer Iyo Maru, which will sail for Yokohama on March 9. Their expenses on their trip to Seattle will be paid by the Philadelphia Red Cross society, and the Japanese minister has secured free transportation for them to Japan.

Nicholas and Edward Friendly.

LONDON, March 5.—The Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff, who returned to London from St. Petersburg Wednesday, visited King Edward and presented his majesty with an autograph letter from the czar. This was in answer to a letter sent by the king, who, on hearing that Count Benckendorff intended going to St. Petersburg to bid farewell to his son (who was bound to the front with his regiment), sent for the ambassador and asked him to hand the czar an autograph letter, in which King Edward in the most friendly terms emphasized Great Britain's complete neutrality during the war in the far east, and said he trusted that the czar would pay no attention to the press reports intimating Great Britain was not neutral, nor to any unfriendly comments of the English papers, which the king regretted.

Three Horribly Mangled.

TOWANDA, Pa., March 5.—By the explosion of the boiler of a sawmill at Greenwood, P. L. Brown, the proprietor, and his two helpers, Wallace Tice and Robert Compton, were instantly killed. The bodies were mangled horribly. Both of Brown's legs were blown off, Tice's head was blown away, and every bone of Compton's body was broken when he struck the frozen earth after being thrown into the air.

Girl Strike Breakers Put On.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Fifty girl strike breakers were put to work by the Western Union Telegraph company to deliver messages. A number of other girls who were employed in place of boys when the strike occurred and who quit when an injunction against the strikers was issued by the federal court appeared in the vicinity of the Western Union main office and helped the strikers picket. There are 700 boys on strike.

Respite For Collins.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 5.—Governor Dockery has granted a respite of fifteen days to George Collins, who is now in the St. Louis jail and who was to be executed on March 11 for the murder of Detective Schumacher.

Millionaire Has Mastoiditis.

PASADENA, Cal., March 5.—Michael Cudahy, the millionaire packer of Chicago, who has been removed from his winter residence here to the Pasadena hospital, is suffering from an attack of mastoiditis.

Corporation Notice.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING CRUSHED STONE AND MATERIAL FOR CULVERTS AND CROSSWALKS.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, at the regular adjourned meeting held February 25, 1904, notice is hereby given that the Committee on Streets and Sewers will meet at the office of the Committee, No. 151 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, on Thursday, March 17th, at 8 o'clock, P. M., at which time and place said Committee on Streets and Sewers will receive sealed proposals for furnishing crushed stone, and for furnishing material for culverts and crosswalks as follows:

For crushed stone for the remainder of the year 1904, the bids to state the price per ton of 2,000 pounds, for furnishing the following sizes, viz:

Fine screenings, ¼ inch stone, 1¼ inch stone and 2½ inch stone, in such quantities, and delivered at such places in the city as the Street Commissioner may direct.

The above must be of the very best quality of trap rock, free from weathered stone, dirt, clay or other foreign matter, and in every way acceptable to the said Street Commissioner.

The stone must be weighed on such scales as the Street Commissioner may direct, and a voucher or weigh bill must be delivered with every load to the said Street Commissioner or his authorized representative.

Also for furnishing the following materials for culverts and crosswalks:

Cover stone for culverts not larger than 4 ft. by 3 ft. by not less than 3½ inches in thickness, per square foot.

Curbing 16 inches by 4 inches, 3 to 6 feet long, per lineal foot.

Curbing 20 inches by 4 inches, 3 to 6 feet long, per lineal foot.

Crosswalk stone 24 inches by not less than 4 inches, 3 to 4½ feet long, flag edge, per lineal foot.

All to be of the best quality hard blue stone from the Hudson River quarries, equal in quality to sample in Street Commissioner's office.

No Erie, Pennsylvania or similar stone will be accepted.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Committee on Streets and Sewers will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or their agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the prices and terms.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved.

By order of the Common Council and the Committee on Streets and Sewers.

FAIRBANKS WILL ACCEPT.

Washington Star Says Senator Will Not Resist Nomination.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Star says:

"Senator Fairbanks will not resist a movement to make him the vice presidential nominee of the Republican party. If the convention nominates him he will accept. More than that, he will not attempt to discourage efforts looking to his nomination.

"It is only fair to say that no explicit declaration by Senator Fairbanks to that effect has been made. The Indiana delegation in congress is convinced that Senator Fairbanks has yielded to the solicitation of men high in the councils outside of Indiana to take second place on the national ticket.

"Almost without exception his closest political friends in Indiana have advised him in his own interest against accepting the vice presidency. Influential Republicans in the senate, such men as Spooner, Allison and Platt, have urged him to take it on the ground that he would strengthen the Republican ticket, especially in financial circles, and that his first duty is to his party rather than to his own political future."

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

League Has Arranged For a "Three Trip" Schedule.

NEW YORK, March 5.—With the adoption and announcement of the schedule of playing dates for the season of 1904 the representatives of the National league baseball clubs finished their annual spring meeting at the Victoria hotel here.

Like the American, the National league has arranged what is known as a "three trip" schedule, the eastern clubs making the initial trip first to western territory.

The season will open on Thursday, April 14, with New York in Brooklyn, Boston in Philadelphia and Chicago in Cincinnati, and on April 15 Pittsburg will begin the season in St. Louis.

The opening games in the other cities will be played on April 21, with Brooklyn in Boston, Philadelphia in New York, Cincinnati in Pittsburg and St. Louis in Chicago.

The holiday morning and afternoon games have been arranged as follows: Memorial day, May 30, New York in Philadelphia, Boston in Brooklyn, St. Louis in Pittsburg and Chicago in Cincinnati; June 17, Philadelphia in Boston; July 4, Brooklyn in Boston, Philadelphia in New York, Chicago in Pittsburg and Cincinnati in St. Louis; Labor day, Sept. 5, Boston in New York, Brooklyn in Philadelphia, Cincinnati in Pittsburg and Chicago in St. Louis. The season will close in the east on Oct. 8, with New York in Brooklyn and Boston in Philadelphia, and in the west on Oct. 9, with Pittsburg in Chicago and Cincinnati in St. Louis.

Crusados Beat Elfin King.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 5.—At Ascot Jockey Arthur Redfern was ruled off the turf, together with his father, W. W. Redfern, for disobedience of the orders of the judges. Presiding Judge A. W. Hamilton instructed Redfern to ride Laureatea in the last race of the day and asked if he had any objections to the horse. The jockey replied that he had not, but would see his father, who looks after his interests. Redfern, Sr., stated that his boy would not ride the horse, and an official ruling was then issued barring the two Redferns from the turf. In the race of the day, the Green Meadow Handicap, at six furlongs, Baldwin's Cruzados, the extreme outsider in the betting, came from the rear in the stretch and won by a length from Elfin King, with Golden Rule third.

Sad Sam Stayed In Front.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Five favorites won at Oakland, and the bookmakers were hit hard. Interest centered principally in the Six Furlongs handicap. Sad Sam, the favorite, did not open up the usual gap of three or four lengths, but Sherwood managed to keep him in front, and he won by a head from Soufriere, who was the contender all the way. There were three other interesting finishes, the horses winning by narrow margins.

Knighthood For Great Cricketer.

TORONTO, March 5.—John E. Hall, secretary of the Canadian Cricket association, has received a blank from the Metropolitan Cricket association of New York and accompanying a request to have the Canadian association co-operate with the New Yorkers in petitioning the king to honor Dr. W. G. Grace with a knighthood.

Columbia Defies Defeat.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Columbia defeated Princeton at basket ball by the score of 28 to 16. This makes Columbia's ninth victory in the intercollegiate series and assures her claim to the championship, there being but one more game to play, that with Cornell.

Coal Miners' Wage Scale.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 5.—President Mitchell and F. L. Robbins are present at a general joint session this morning to receive the scale committee report. If the terms offered by the operators are accepted or but little changed a scale will be signed at once. The operators say that such a small reduction will practically make no change in the coal market.

Uruguayan Rebels Routed.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 5.—It is officially announced that General Muniz, commander of the Uruguayan forces, has routed the troops of the revolutionary leader Saraiva at Puntas de Quequaychico. The rebels fled, abandoning a number of killed and wounded.

DAMAGE BY FLOODS

Industrial Plants and Railroads Suffer by Inundation.

COLD WAVE HAS CHECKED THE WATER

The Closed Factories Throw Thousands of Men Out of Work—Susquehanna Three Feet Above the Danger Mark.

PITTSBURG, March 5.—The wave of flood is now receding from the Pittsburg region. The crest reached here when the Herrs island mark showed twenty-nine feet one inch in the Allegheny river at that point.

The water is now slowly receding, and no further danger is apprehended, the cold wave having checked the rise.

The damage done by the flood will probably not exceed $250,000.

Along Pine creek and in the Turtle creek valley especially the havoc was beyond any done in recent years. In the two cities it was not so great, but many industrial establishments along the two rivers were compelled to close down, and thousands of men were thrown out of work. The railroads of the districts suffered to an unusual extent, and landslides added to the handicaps imposed by the high water itself. The northern lines are still crippled, but the railroad officials expect to have all trains running as usual before nightfall.

A Harrisburg (Pa.) dispatch says the Susquehanna river is gorged for several miles below that city and has reached a height of several feet above the danger mark. There is a heavy flow of ice up the river which is crowding down upon that city, and serious trouble all along the river is feared. The ice and high water have forced many of the industries of Harrisburg and Steelton to suspend operations.

The Pennsylvania railroad tracks east of Harrisburg are covered with water at several places, and the company is sending passenger trains east via York and Columbia.

A report from Wilkesbarre, Pa., says the ice in the Susquehanna river is breaking between there and Tunkhannock, a distance of thirty miles, though it has not yet started to move out. At noon the river measurement showed fourteen feet above low water mark, and it is now sixteen feet above.

The flood from New York state has not yet reached here. The prevailing cold weather has prevented what would have been disastrous floods in the north branch of the Susquehanna.

THE DARLINGTON RUINS.

Thought Some May Yet Be Alive Under Wreck of Building.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The statement was made at the scene of the Darlington ruins that a letter has been found on the body of Frank Allison, sent by the building department and ordering that work on the building be stopped forthwith.

Coroner Scholer would say nothing about it when asked if such a letter had been found.

After an interview with James Halpin, foreman of the ironworkers, the coroner said he believed that there still were nine or ten men buried in the ruins. He expressed the oponion that some of these men might yet be alive.

Halpin told the coroner that nine or ten men were working as housesmiths and lathers on some of the upper floors, and he is certain they have not all been accounted for. While the number of men reported missing does not reach that high, the coroner believes that Halpin's fears are well founded. The big steam derrick and a large gang of men are working with renewed vigor in the rear of the ruins, where it is thought the bodies must lie.

The finding of a man alive pinned under the ruins stimulated the workmen removing the debris to more heroic efforts.

A corpse supposed to be that of Alexander L. Johnson of 661 East One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street had just been removed when another body was seen. Suddenly one of the men shouted that he saw the victim move.

An electric shock could not have more completely thrilled the workmen, policemen, spectators and reporters near the scene than did this cry. The big derrick was immediately stopped, and the foreman ran to the scene.

A man who said he was a physician from Connecticut, but who refused to give his name, came forward and, reaching his arm through the twisted girders that pinned the man down, felt his pulse and announced that he was alive. Work was at once concentrated on this spot. The man was rescued alive, but died at the hospital very soon after reaching it.

From the fact that one man was taken out of the wreck alive and that another body taken out gave every appearance of recent death it is thought that if there are many more victims in the ruins some of them may be alive, possibly protected by a cage formed by the falling ironwork or pinned down by the leg or in other ways that would not of themselves cause death.

The fifteenth body, which has been in view in the front of the building at the spot where the hoisting engine was located, has been recovered. It was covered with cement and dirt. It was taken to the East Fifty-first street station. Shirley Greene, brother of William R. Greene, the foreman of the fireproofers, who is missing, said he believed the body was that of his brother.

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. D. M. Stearns will have his Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday at 2:15.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, has recovered from his recent illness, and will occupy his pulpit tomorrow morning and evening.

Owing to the severe illness of Mrs. Annie Hand, who lives so near the Baptist church, the church bell will not be rung for the services tomorrow and probably not for the Friday night service. All the services will be held as usual.

At the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow at 4, Rev. William I. Campbell will address the meeting and Miss Charlotte Ravenscrofs, of New York, will sing and W. Frank Malin will play his violin. All men welcome.

Services preparatory to the communion to be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow were held in the chapel of the church, last night. It is expected that a large number of new members will be received tomorrow.

A boy's Gospel song service will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 tomorrow afternoon. Leader, Harry Thompson. Talks will be given by Francis Anderson, William Flanders and M. B. Stutsman. Charles Titsworth will sing and the Boy's Musical Club will play.

The Junior Epworth League, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, held a social yesterday afternoon at the church. The committee in charge of the arrangements was: Miss Charlotte Aldrich, superintendent; Miss Evis Aldrich, Miss Daisy Gilbert, Miss Agnes Brown and Miss Christella McMurray.

There were no special features of the meeting of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church held in Vincent chapel, last night. There was a short business meeting, after which the members enjoyed a social hour. At the same time the Young Men's Brotherhood held a routine business meeting in another part of the chapel.

The Borough Democrats' Position.

Editor, The Daily Press:

That Honeyman, Cooley and Co., as Republicans should be indifferent to the interests of the Democratic party was to have been expected, but that Democrats should allow themselves to be so used is surprising. Right on the eve of a Presidental election with the chances bright for the election of a Democratic President those in command of the organization deliberately desert and allow themselves to be used to further schemes for personal revenge, sacrificing the Democratic name and emblem in exchange for nominations to a few offices. If these disgruntled Republicans wanted to oust the present administration why not come to the Democratic party which must furnish nearly all the votes. The only victories ever won in the borough over the Republicans have been with a straight Democratic ticket. This attempt to make our party the tail to a conglomerated kite ought to be and surely will be resented by old time Democrats.

CITIZENS' CALL.

North Plainfield's Independent Party Issues An Address to the Borough Voters.

The Citizens' party of North Plainfield has issued a lengthy address to the voters in which the present Republican administration is bitterly arraigned. After stating the reasons for the present independent political movement, attention is given to the administrations of former mayors and a comparison is made with that of the present incumbent of that office. Much space is devoted to the fire department and fire house agitation and in conclusion a call is made on the voters of the borough irrespective of party to support the ticket.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

Manager Smith, of the baseball team, has already scheduled games with strong teams in this vicinity. The season will no doubt open on Decoration Day with a strong team from New York city.

Charles Boice has rented the Hamilton house on Jackson avenue, and will take possession the first of the month.

The Dunellen band will reorganize shortly and will give weekly concerts during the spring and summer months.

Albert Doolittle has left for an extended trip through Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico for his health.

Services in the Presbyterian church tomorrow will be conducted by Rev. T. E. Davis, of Plainfield.

Mrs. W. H. Taylor, who has been suffering with the grip for the last week, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Staats are entertaining Mrs. Thomas Robinson, of Newark, for a few days.

Mrs. Barney Siriski has been entertaining Miss Mary Pitkoff, of Raritan, for a few days.

Charles Davey and family have taken possession of the Mills' house on Walnut street.

Milton Smith, of New York city, is visiting with his uncle, O. A. Douglas, this week.

Mrs. Smith has moved into one of the Craig houses on Dunellen avenue.

Miss Rose Haynes has returned from a visit with friends in Nyack.

John Laughlin has taken a position at the new West Dunellen factory.

A new floor has been put down in the waiting room of the depot.

William Winges spent yesterday in New York city on business.

Mrs. Peter Merschrod is laid up with an attack of the grip.

Lenten devotions were held in St. John's church last evening

NEW MARKET.

There will be a special meeting of the Y. M. A. Monday evening for the purpose of electing a manager and captain for the baseball team.

R. Dunbar of the borough, has leased the Garretson farm in Piscataway, which he will take possession of shortly.

Miss Cora Dayton has returned from a week's sojourn with her aunt. Mrs. Calvin Drake, of Piscataway.

Edward Windor and family, of West Dunellen, have taken up their residence in town.

John Nelson, of Rutgers College, is visiting his parents for a few days.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The borough primary will be held in the fire house tonight at 8 o'clock. Only one call has been issued to the voters, but it will be a strange thing if the voters do not find several tickets in the field on Tuesday morning when the polls open. It is customary in the borough to call a citizens' meeting to nominate the borough officers. Every one attends, and of course some are disappointed and after the primary adjourns a secret primary is called by those who have been left out in the cold and another ticket is sprung on the voters, often two surprise tickets are found in the field on election day. There are only about ninety voters in the borough, but the residents get plenty of excitement out of the political game, as well as the larger towns.

Funeral services of the late William A. Beekon, who died at the home of his brother, A. D. Beekon, on Tuesday; were held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Beekon's parent's in Brooklyn. A short service was held at Mr. Beekon's home at 2 o'clock to permit the neighbors and friends of the deceased to pay their respect to the departed. Interment was made in the family plot in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Regular services will be held tomorrow at the Baptist church. Sunday-school, 9:30 a. m.; morning preaching, 10:45, at the close of the sermon, monthly communion will be held; B. Y. P. U. meeting, 7 p. m., followed by the evening sermon at 7:45. The day marks the beginning of Mr. Shott's fifth year as pastor of the church.

There will no doubt be some cutting on appropriations at the election on Tuesday. The Democrats will work for the carrying of the amount as recommended by the Township Committee in their annual report, while the Republican ticket will have several of the appropriations cut down several hundred dollars.

Councilmen Stevens and Babcock are the two members of the Borough Council whose terms of office expires on Tuesday. Both have served the borough faithfully, and both will no doubt receive a renomination at the primary to be held tonight.

I desire to announce to the voters of Fanwood Township that I have accepted the nomination for Township Committee on the Democratic ticket. Any support which my friends give me will be appreciated. Theodore R. Bruchmann. 3 5 2

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Co. is increasing its membership at an encouraging rate. The membership of the company now numbers thirty, an increase of about ten members since January first.

The condition of William Earl, who has been seriously ill for some time, is reported as being slightly improved. Mr. Earl is taking a course of treatment at a sanitarium near Paterson.

William Fields, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia for several weeks, is doing nicely and will soon be able to be around again.

The Democratic and Republican party leaders are making a determined effort to get the vote out at the township election on Tuesday.

Edward Fancher, of Newark, has been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. W. Westcott, of the borough.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Rev. John McMurray will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church tomorrow at the morning service The pastor will preach at the evening service at 7:45. Good music will add to the enjoyment of the service.

The topic of the sermon Sunday evening will be "The Humanity and the Deity of Jesus; What is it to us?"

William Fitz Randolph, the district clerk of the Board of Education, visited the local school yesterday.

GOSSIP OF CHICAGO

ITEMS OF TIMELY INTEREST FROM THE LAKE CITY.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURTS

An Odd Case That Has Attracted Attention—Some Effects of the Eastern War—Increased Cost of Living.

Chicago.—Of the odd cases that come and go in the criminal courts of this city none of recent years has attracted more attention than the trial of Nathan Breen for the murder of Irene Donner.

Mrs. Funk.

Breen was a sweatshop clothing manufacturer. He became infatuated with a pretty Jewess of the Ghetto district, but after they had become engaged they quarreled, she broke the engagement, and last November Breen shot her in front of Hull house.

For the first time in the history of Illinois a woman lawyer, Mrs. Antoinette Funk, undertook the defense of a murderer. That is one reason why the case attracted such widespread attention. A second reason was the peculiar defense which Mrs. Funk offered for her client, that of "propinquitive" insanity, she claiming that Breen was rational save when in the presence of the sweetheart who had jilted him, until after the shooting, when he became permanently insane.

From the day of his arrest Breen palyed the part of the maniac to perfection, and while a portion of the expert testimony introduced by the state to prove that he was shamming insisted that such was the case, others were not so confident, and some went so far as to say they believed the prisoner really insane. In her plea to the jury Mrs. Funk painted a brilliant word picture of the agonies endured by the infatuated man when his sweetheart broke their engagement. It was effective, and, together with the actions of Breen in the courtroom throughout the trial, carried the jury by storm, and they brought in a verdict of second degree murder, the maximum penalty for which is 14 years imprisonment.

The third sensation connected with the trial came when Breen stood before the bar to receive his sentence. He was no longer the maniac he had been for three months, but perfectly rational, and confessed that he was shamming to save his neck, in which he was successful.

The Cost of Justice.

That the administration of justice is often an expensive process is evidenced by the trial of the car-barn murderers. The conviction of these self-confessed villians has cost the state several thousand dollars. It is scarcely probable that any one of the 12 men who composed the jury secured after a month of effort ever doubted the guilt of any one of the trio, but the same expensive processes were necessary as though there was the gravest question of their guilt. Great as is the expense connected with the conviction of a known murderer when he wishes to make a defense, it is but small by comparison with the expense incurred by the state where conviction must be secured through circumstantial evidence. In such cases the attorneys for the defense can tangle the skein of evidence offered by the state as fast, as a rule, as the attorney for the state can unravel it. The Cronin case of 1890 is an evidence of this, and it cost the state $85,000 before a conviction could be secured.

Extravagance of Dame Justice.

Another case is that of the sausage maker, Luetgert, tried for the murder of his wife. The police department, and the state's attorney had but little more than theories to work on, and though the public generally believed in the guilt of the accused, it was not proven to the satisfaction of a jury of 12 men until after the expenditure of an enormous sum by the state.

The long-drawn out trials of such characters as the car-barn murderers is to be regretted because of its effect upon the community.

The War and Yellow Journalism.

Apropos of the many startling stories of terrible battles on land and sea printed by the Chicago American during the first week or so of the war between Russia and Japan is a paragraph by Henry Barrett Chamberlain in the current number of "The Voter." Chamberlain represented one of the Chicago papers in Cuban waters during the war with Spain, and his duties kept him in touch with the blockading fleet at Santiago, and it was of a newspaper experience he had while there that he writes. I give the story as he tells it:

The Hearst Style of Journalism.

"During the summer of '98 I was trying to earn my living as a tug boat reporter on the blockade line in front of Santiago de Cuba. I was doing the best I could and thought that I was as active as the other fellows, but one day I received a copy of Hearst's New York Journal dated in May and telling in detail of the battle of Santiago. I had not heard of the battle and was wondering how it had been pulled off without my knowledge. I inquired of Commodore Schley, but he was unable to give me the desired information, nor could the Journal men assigned to duty in those waters aid me. One of them finally allowed, however, that some fellow in the New York office had had a psychic moment at the wrong time. That eased my mind and I hung around until the following July, when the battle was finally fought."

Something of the same thing seems to be the policy of the Chicago American at the present time. Taking its cue from the first attack on Port Arthur this paper had practically the whole Russian navy destroyed before the war was a week old, and not content with that it had fought several big land battles besides.

Berlin, Vienna, Paris and Shanghai are noted centers for news (?) of the startling variety. News stories from these places are very much like the old fable of the shepherd and the wolf. The newspaper editor who is looking for authentic reports seldom places any credence in anything that comes from them during times of great excitement. In these places there are maintained veritable news (?) factories, which are capable of turning out instantly anything that is needed to sell papers. But there is a demand for the product of these factories among a certain class of papers.

Books That Are in Demand.

The war in the far east has been productive of a campaign of education in Chicago.

In the Library Reading Room.

The Chicago public library contains several hundred volumes of descriptive and historical works of Russia and Japan. They are all in use, and have been since the first shot of the war was fired. The craving for information regarding the combatants has led many a person to the library building who never frequents the place save at such a time. The reference reading room is filled with them from the opening to the closing hours. They have no choice of books, but are content with anything that will inform them in anyway in regard to either nation.

The statement that they have no choice of books is not entirely true. Nine out of ten applicants want works on Japan, and take books on Russia only as a secondary choice. This shows the preponderance of sympathy for the Mikado's empire in this city.

At the book stores and the book sections of the department stores there is a rush for works along these lines, and the display windows are filled with them. The manager of one of the big book stores told me a few days ago that within a week his house had sold some 2,000 volumes relating to Russia or Japan, and that the sale only stopped because of the exhaustion of the supply. Books that have been packed away in storerooms for several years, and regarded as a loss, have been brought out and disposed of at a good price. In fact the stores are practically denuded of works on these lines, and while the Jap and Russians are fighting for supremacy the reading public of Chicago are acquiring a lot of information in regard to them.

The Cost of Living.

Eggs at 50 cents a dozen is but illustrative of the present high cost of living at the present time.

Eggs Are Soaring Skyward.

Practically all the necessities of life show an increase within the last ten years. Meats of all kinds are practically double what they were ten years ago. The better qualities of steaks and rib roasts have almost entirely disappeared from the tables of the working elements to be replaced by flank cuts, pot roasts, shanks for boiling purposes and stews. Because of the high price of beef the butchers are having a greater demand for pork than ever before, but the price of this is becoming almost prohibitive. Sirloin steaks bring 30 cents a pound, veal cutlets 28 cents, roast beef 25 cents, while but a few years ago 18 cents would buy a pound of the best meat carried by the butchers.

Vegetables, like meats, have soared skyward until they are almost out of reach for the working classes. Potatoes at $1.25 a bushel are higher than at any time since 1881. The same is true with other vegetables and the staples in northern grown fruits. Milk, butter and lard have gone the same road other table necessities have traveled, and are being dispensed with as far as possible by the economical housewife.

Fuel is more expensive by more than ten per cent. than it was three years ago; rents are up about 25 per cent., and in many of the staple lines of dry goods, clothing and shoes there is a noticable rise in prices. For example, bleached sheeting that sold for 16 cents a yard in 1902 is now worth 27 cents a yard. And the end, it seems, is not yet.

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

VIOLET CULTURE.

Properly Managed in a Good Locality, It Is Profitable.

Violet farming! That sounds easy and inviting. Undoubtedly the right woman in the right location can take hold of it in this country and make a good living, as thousands of men and women do in France and Great Britain. Near Cork, Ireland, a refined and accomplished lady, Mrs. Egerton Coghill, conducts a violet farm that is noted throughout the kingdom. It consists of only three acres, to be sure, but three acres are quite a farm in some parts of Great Britain. Mrs. Goghill started her violet venture in 1891. She has shrewdly looked out for a market and now sends her fragrant blossoms to florists regularly. Besides this, she also supplies large private orders for dinner parties, luncheons, charity bazaars and other fashionable gatherings. Her business is wholesale.

The violet gathering season in Europe is during the autumn months, beginning late in September. The quickest pickers are boys and girls. They pass along the edges of the violet rows, reaching in and breaking off the flowers. They collect as many as fifteen or twenty in a bunch, then put them in a tin of water and pass on to pick another bunch. The picker must be careful not to wet the flowers when he puts them in water. It is believed that leaves absorb the perfume from flowers, and so the violet leaves are kept carefully away from the blossoms. When the day's picking is ended, all the bunches are placed for an hour in tepid water before being packed in the shipping boxes. These are of wood, are shallow and lined with oiled paper. One layer of blossoms is laid in each box.

A VIOLET FIELD.

Although she is a society woman, Mrs. Goghill conducts her violet farming for profit, and she gets a large profit because so many flowers can be grown upon a small space. The market is never ending, for sweet violets will always be in fashion, whatever other floral fads may prevail for a time. Mrs. Coghill's violets are planted in the open ground in long beds four feet wide, with a narrow trench between the beds for the cultivator and picker to walk in. In the gathering season these beds are a beautiful sight—long stretches of vivid purple, with flowers clustered so closely together there is scarcely room for a leaf to be seen.

There is nothing in the work of violet culture a woman cannot do after the ground is broken up and fertilized. For growing plants in the open a warm, sheltered situation is needed. A southern exposure is best for early violets. In many parts of the United States sweet violets live outdoors the year round and bloom in February. This is an industry that would specially thrive in the south in moist regions. While the violets like warmth, a drying hot sun injures them quickly and dwarfs the flowers. For this reason the sites in which the violets bloom in the late winter and early spring will be the best. A skillful gardener can, however, make violets flower both in spring and autumn. February and March are good months in which to begin.

Neapolitan violets are a profitable variety for market, but they are also somewhat tender in some climates and need to be partially shaded. The variety called the Princess of Wales is one of the best to cultivate for cut flowers.

In the United States the largest profit from violet growing is realized in the northern and middle states from raising these flowers in greenhouses or even on a small scale in cold frames. The woman who wishes to begin the industry must first see how near she is to a good market. The prosperous suburb of a large city is one of the best places. Undoubtedly many a woman living upon a farm not far from a city could become a violet culturist with success. She should begin in a humble, inexpensive manner, experimenting her way along. A good book on floriculture is a necessity for the beginner, but, fortunately, these are to be had at little expense. One by an American gardener must be got, as our climate is different from that of Europe.

Plants or seeds must of course be first obtained from a dealer, but in time the violet farmer can grow all her own runners. Mrs. Coghill does this. After setting out a small number of plants or seeds this March and tending and watching them through the summer the amateur will know by next autumn something of the business she wishes to go into. Then she may have a few cold frames made for hurrying her flowers forward.

MARCIA W. CAMPBELL.

A PROBLEM SOLVED

Chicago Is to Put Her Freight Traffic Under Ground.

TWENTY MILES OF TUNNELS

Changes the War in the East Has Made in the City—Season of the Grapevine Extra—Other Gossip.

Chicago.—The Illinois Tunnel company claims to have a solution for the congested condition of the streets in the business center. They propose not to take the people off the streets by putting the street cars under ground, but to take the teams off the streets by hauling the freight of the city under ground. If their dreams prove realistic their solution will sound the death knell of the strong organization of teamsters that has held the business interests of the city within its grasp for the past four or five years.

The Death-Knell of the Teamsters.

Some years ago, during the operations of the boodling aldermen, there was passed in the city council an ordinance giving an unknown company the right to construct tunnels under every street and alley within the city limits. Like many a franchise voted by the Chicago city fathers, nothing more was heard of it until some three years ago, when excavations were begun in a quiet way in the rear of Alderman Powers' saloon. One after another little galvanized iron sheds, about three by six feet square, were erected at various places throughout the business district, and the public wondered what they were. Finally came the public announcement that the city had been undermined by a system of tunnels, 20 miles of them, cut 40 feet under the surface of the streets.

The tunnels are there, every mile claimed, and through them are rushing small electric cars at a maximum rate of 40 miles an hour. They connect with practically every wholesale and retail store of any importance in the down-town district, with every railroad and steamship depot, and through them it is expected that 90 per cent. of the outgoing and incoming freight of the business district will be hauled at a less expense than is possible with the present methods of teams.

Two Telephone Systems.

In a general way the public has understood that a new telephone company was preparing to begin operations as a competitor of the Bell system, and that they were putting their wires underground. As a matter of fact the tunnels are utilized for this purpose, and the original incorporation of the present tunnel company was as a telephone company.

Is It But a Friendly Bout?

The 'phone system they are installing, and of which they now have 10,000 'phones in operation, is an automatic one, in which the services of the "hello" girls are dispensed with. The rates charged by the Bell system for an unlimited service, single wire, are $175 per year. The new company proposes a maximum charge for the automatic service of $85 per year, and the 'phones are put in under an agreement with the subscriber that he is to pay for only such calls as he makes at a rate of five cents a call, until the maximum shall be reached, after which there is to be no additional charge.

As a competitor of a telephone monopoly that has become irksome, it is a tempting bait that is offered, but the question the public would like to be able to answer satisfactorily is "are the two companies the bitter business rivals they profess to be, or is it but a method of installing a double telephone service with a double charge?" If it is a fight to the death, the public are willing to side with the new company, but if it is simply a friendly bout, the public prefer to keep out.

The new company certainly has an abundance of funds. The 20 miles of tunnels constructed so far represent an expenditure of $5,000,000. There is $30,000,000 more to be spent, and the tunnels are to be extended into every section of the city.

The Grape Vine.

A grapevine special, in newspaper parlance, is a fake telegram or cablegram, written, as a rule, in the office of the paper printing it, but purporting to be authentic. It is a comparatively new factor in Chicago journalism, having made its first appearance some four years ago, but the present war excitement has given the business of issuing special editions of the newspapers containing them a great impetus. The old adage of Lincoln about fooling all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, is well illustrated with these extras. Since the opening of the war there has been scarcely a night that the enterprising newsboys have not made the nights hideous with their cries of startling war news extras. Before the close of the first week of the war the writers of these fake cablegrams had killed off the entire armies and navies of both Russia and Japan, and had drawn all Europe into the conflict.

Hour of the Grape-vine Extra.

It is the exceptional publisher who will permit the issuing of these extras, and the product is limited to one or two papers. Virtually all the papers give prominence to startling rumors, but they do not permit the manufacture of these rumors in their own editorial rooms.

This kind of journalism is popular with the newsboys of the city. They haunt the doors of the theaters and the restaurants with great bundles of such papers, and the public, eager to secure the latest from the seat of war, though knowing that in all probability the so-called news is a fake, buy them eagerly at the price asked, five cents, a profit of 4½ cents to the newsboy. Others of the street urchins invade the residence districts at all hours of the night, and their shrill cries of "double war extra" bring the populace to doors and windows in negligee attire in their eagerness to secure the news(?).

The "grapevine extra" is a product of modern journalism, intended to satisfy the appetite of the sensation lover.

Healed Old Sores.

The Japanese and Chinese residents of Chicago have not been on speaking terms for the past ten years, not since the Japanese-Chinese war, until the breaking out of hostilities between Japan and Russia. During those ten years the numerous Chinese restaurants of the city were never visited by a Jap. The subjects of the mikado were never forgiven by their Chinese cousins for the trouncing the island empire gave the dragon, and much as the Chinaman likes the jingle of coin, money could not tempt him to serve food to a Jap. Now the old sores are all healed, and the Jap is the most welcome visitor at the Chinese restaurants. He is even urged to attend the joss house on Clark street, where prayers are offered daily for the success of Japanese arms.

Renewing Old Friendships.

Chicago has a very limited population of Japs. At the breaking out of the war there were not more than 100 of them in the city, and within a week several of these had started on their return to the fatherland to take up arms against Russia.

Unlike the 1,200 Chinese of Chicago, the Japs are well-to-do. The majority are engaged in mercantile pursuits, such as the selling of Japan teas and other products of the empire, and when not in business for themselves are the representatives of big exporting concerns of Nagasaki, Yokohama or Tokio. Among the merchants of the city they have the reputation of being shrewd, but strictly honest, business men. They are easily assimilated, are never seen in native dress, but wear stylish American clothing, and their trade is much sought after by the fashionable tailors. Though at the present time they are consorting with the Chinese to a considerable extent, as a rule they have not cultivated acquaintances in this direction, and have given such of their less progressive neighbors as they meet in this country a wide berth. Just now sentiment has made them regular patrons of the better class of Chinese restaurants where they are the heroes of the day.

An Auto Center.

That interest in automobiles is growing in Chicago is evidenced by the increased attendance at the annual exhibition which but recently closed. This year more than 75,000 people visited the show, against less than 35,000 last year. Among these were found all classes, and automobiling is no longer the exclusive pastime of the wealthy. The craze has spread until the $100 a month clerk owns his auto, and goes to and from his business in it.

The Style for 1904.

Something of the increase of interest may be gathered from the fact that the sales of machines at this exposition netted the manufacturers more than $1,000,000, a greater sales record than was reached at the New York show.

Fashions in automobiles change as in everything else. Last year's fashionable touring car was without a top, and the entrance, except for the chauffeur, was from the back. This year the canopy top machine is the correct thing, and the entrance is from the side. Practically none of the new cars of elaborate pretensions but what have the side entrance. Another feature in this year's cars is the increase in motive power. Now the 24-horse power touring car is more the rule than the exception. Various mechanical details are being changed also. For instance the gasoline cars are dispensing with the use of water for cooling purposes, and instead are using fans operated by the running of the machines. The electric vehicles show a wonderful improvement both in point of practicability and popularity.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Ice hockey has been followed closely during the present winter. In discussing the game recently, a veteran player had the following to say: "I've noticed a lot of young fellows playing hockey, and their faults are glaring in many cases, naturally. In the first place, there is a tendency to do what the Canadians call 'hogging the puck.' That is, one player, playing a strictly individual game, takes the puck all to himself and works it up the sideboards and up the ice all himself. I've noticed that the crack Canadian team forwards rarely try to pass an opposing forward by running over him; that is, unless they have a clear field. They take no chances, but whip it over with a quick, accurate pass to a partner and the opposing forwards rarely know where the puck is going, so well is this style worked up. Again, after the forwards have lost one puck, they often seem to take this for a resting period and watch the single opponent to see what he does with it. The result is that the opposing forwards go up the field on the poor coverpoint and he is discredited for not breaking up the combination and is naturally overwhelmed with the point and goal man. The forwards ought to keep digging all the time, whether they have the puck or not. That is what they are there for. Another fault is that the wings will not keep their position. If there is nothing doing on their side they get restless and cross over and mingle in the fun. That is ruinous. Then, again, when a wing is threatened, he shoots the puck with the greatest amount of speed on a hit-and-miss journey clear across the ice to the other side board and it hits this and bounds back, perhaps into an opponent's stick. A boy should learn to shoot the puck without getting braced for it. He loses time getting set for a shot and a splendid chance is often lost. By using a fairly loose foothold on the club—by that I mean not stiff—with the hands not very far apart he gets the heel of his stick on the puck with the toe of it pointing ahead and toward the other goal he is shooting at. A wrist movement gives the force and lift to the puck at the same time and practice will enable a boy to shoot it along about two feet from the ice—a cracking good shot for a goal. Again, young players waste too much time fussing with an opponent and lose sight of the game. It is too fast for talk or anything but good hard work."

A Hockey Player.

The national bowling tournament at Cleveland has been held and a new set of champions have succeeded those who won the honors at Indianapolis last year. The Ansons of Chicago, captained by the veteran ball player, have succeeded the O'Learys, also of Chicago, as the five-man team champions, putting up 2,737 for the three games. Kraus and Spies, of Washington, captured the two-man event, with 1,184; while Martin, of St. Louis, has been returned as the individual champion, with the score of 647. Kern's victory pleases those who have been pulling for a man with a national reputation to ascend the throne which Brill, Strong and Jones have already occupied. That Kern is such a man there is no denying, for he has always been one of the first sought when an all-star team has been formed. He is more than 50 years old and a top-notcher. His victory not only gave him the individual championship, but the Timm trophy, which he had won once before. The trophy was originally put up by Dr. Timm for delegates to roll for. The first time, at Chicago, Gus Burkhardt captured it; but at Buffalo it was Martin Kern who landed it. As the trophy contest was not popular with the delegates to the congress the congress this year decided that it should become the permanent property of the new champion, whoever he might be. It turned out to be Kern. Kern's average of 215 2-3 is the lowest that has won the individual, but is only one pin less than Strong won with at Buffalo.

Martin Kern.

Considerable interest was taken in the general averages for the nine games, a cup having been hung up for this contest. Kern got it with a general average of 199 3-9. Brill landed this honor, too, the year before he took the individual, but at Buffalo J. Koster headed Strong for the nine games, while last year Strong bobbed up with better than 210 for his three series.

Newberry, of Detroit, finished second to Kern, with 298 2-9; while Kiehl of Cleveland, was third, with 195 2-9. Meyer, of Chicago, was fourth.

Arthur Duffy, champion sprinter of the world, has established another world's record for 50 yards. At the Georgetown indoor meet the other night. He was placed two feet behind the scratch in his heat and breasted the tape in a dead heat in 0:05 2-5, caught by four watches. The record time, 0:05½, has stood since 1881.

Vinco, owned by John J. Cunningham, of Sandy Hill, trotted a mile on the ice at Lake George in 2:14¾ in a special race with Wyreka. This equals the world's record on ice

Fire at Mrs. Waldron's.

A fire causing $100 damages, burned shortly after 12 o'clock this noon in the building on the corner of Watchung avenue and Fifth street, owned by W. R. Codington and occupied by Mrs. E. E. Waldron, manicurist and hairdresser. The door, ceiling and a lounge were burned. The room to which the firemen confined the blaze, is on the first floor and was unoccupied when the fire caught. The cause is not known.

—An informal tea was given yesterday afternoon by the Misses Bowen, of Watchung avenue, for Miss Alden, of Camden, Maine.

—Ezra Welter, of Middle Valley, was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital a few days ago by Dr. Simpson, for an X-ray examination of his arm which was broken some time ago.

O. G. Waring, of Park avenue, who has been abroad in the interest of the Standard Oil Company, has returned home.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

One candidate was initiated last night at the meeting of Somerset Council, No. 104. Members of Franklin Council were present.

National representatives of the Junior Order United American Mechanics are in Trenton with an idea of reorganizing the State Council of the organization. The latter body has been, with other "insurgents," refusing to pay the per capita tax levied by the National Council, and has been sustained by the Court of Errors and Appeals. William H. Miers, secretary of the New Jersey State Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., declared the talk of reorganization of the latter by the National Council was all nonsense. "We have a perpetual State charter granted by the Legislature," he said, "and until this is annulled or declared unconstitutional we are not to be disturbed. Of 38,700 members in 284 subordinate councils, all are loyal to the State Council save the members of Enterprise Council, No. 6, of Trenton, and Harry Wood Council, No. 29, of Long Branch. These councils have been suspended and will be disciplined according to our charter rights."

DUNELLEN NOMINEES.

Wilson Frederick Selected by the Republicans as a Councilmanic Candidate.

Wilson Frederick, the man who was the most severely injured of all the victims of the Westfield wreck, was nominated for councilman by the Republicans of Dunellen who held their primary last night. Fowler Vail was the other nominee for councilman. For commissioners of appeal George Huff and George Giles were named, and Wesley Blain was made the candidate for constable. The appropriations decided upon were the same as usual, $3,000 for borough purposes, and $125 for the poor fund.

Mrs. F. W. Runyon, of Madison avenue, who has been ill several weeks, may be obliged to submit to an operation. Her condition has not improved as fast as had been hoped.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

The old saw about the best laid plans of men and mice had an apt illustration in an incident in connection with the Corning-Valiant wedding Wednesday. A bridal coach had been engaged especially for the occasion by the friends of the couple who decorated it elaborately with white ribbon, and a patent arrangement for displaying lights of different colors, with the horses and driver bedecked in a manner calculated to attract the greatest amount of attention. This coach was carefully drawn up at the church door to receive the bridal couple after the ceremony, everything up to this point going according to programme. But the playful friends of the couple had reckoned without Frank Hedden, the man who had charge of the arrangements, and who had been interviewed previously by bride and groom. Under Mr. Hedden's direction, a carriage extremely modest in appearance and proportions was also drawn up at the door and in this Mr. and Mrs. Corning quietly drove to the station to the astonishment and dismay of the conspirators who were at no pains to conceal their disappointment or their wrath at Mr. Hedden.

Painters Make Demand.

Unless the boss painters in this city accede to the demands of their employes for a twenty-five per cent. increase in wages and a half holiday Saturday afternoons, trouble is liable April 1. The demand for an increase was made January 1, the three months notice giving the employers until April 1 to act. It has been said by a prominent painter that the demands would not be granted in toto but that a compromise would probably be effected.

Abused His Wife.

Because he addressed his wife in strong language while drunk, Mulford W. Casterline, of West Second street, was arrested on his wife's complaint yesterday by Patrolman Vanderweg. He pleaded guilty before City Judge Runyon this morning and on his promise to behave himself sentence was suspended.

West End Lumber Yard

Having closed our Watchung Avenue yard, we are now most conveniently located on Rock Avenue, along the tracks of the C. R. R. of N. J., where we have every facility required for an up-to-date Lumber and Masons' Materials Yard. We have at present sixty car loads of dry lumber under cover, and this is only a start.

Mr. John E. Dunn is in charge of this yard and his Call is 201. Call him up, or, better go and see him.

The East End Yard, corner North Avenue and Berkman Street, is, as before, in charge of J. D. Loizeaux, where you will receive the same prompt service. Telephone 218. If you want ten feet of lumber or ten million feet, you will find us in either case eager to quote you the lowest possible prices. Call on either of these yards and be convinced. Hoping to receive at least your inquiries, we are,

Yours Faithfully,

Astonishing Reductions.

We've cut down prices until they are too thin to cast a shadow. We have sacrificed profits on the altar of quick sales. Only two weeks more to the time of our removal to 214 West Front street. Those will be the busiest two weeks of all our business experience. They must be. We must sell these goods. We want to start in at our new store with only new goods. That's why we've cut prices with a ruthless hand—made these the most remarkable bargains that Plainfield has ever seen. Now read every word.

COME EARLY—Prudent buyers will be as busy as bees at this sale. If you're wise you'll be among the first to call and inspect and buy. It's rare indeed that such an opportunity is offered, and these genuine gilt edged bargains will be quickly snapped up. It means money saved to come early. EXAMINE CLOSELY THESE MONEY-SAVING FIGURES:

$5.00 Skirts now 1.98
Unprecedented reductions on our fashionable elegant skirts. The fabric, finish and cut are faultless. All lengths and a wide variety of styles. Many of them were priced $5.00, and none less than $2.98. All will go at this sweeping sale at just $1.98.

$1.50 Wrappers now 74c
We've cut more than half off the price of our handsome, stylish Wrappers. Most exceptional value in Flannelette Wrappers—rare bargains every one.

$3.50 Skirts now 98c
Not all sizes in all styles, but a large assortment. It's safe to say that such remarkable value in stylish, handsome, durable skirts was never before offered in this city. None of these skirts were sold for less than $2.00, and many were $3.00 and $3.50. Your choice while they last only 98c.

$1.50 Kimonos now 69c
Extra heavy material. A multitude of handsome, stylish patterns in popular colors.

HORSE SHOW HERE SOME TIME IN JUNE

Feasibility of Scheme to Inaugurate Annual Affair Discussed at the Meeting.

MR. BLITZ AS DIRECTOR

PROMINENT CITIZENS WHO ARE INTERESTED IN THE IDEA.

Gathering at George P. Mellick's Home at Which Matter Was Discussed—Plan is to Have Several Classes of Exhibitors.

Plainfield is to have a horse-show this year, probably on Saturday, June 4, or at some other early date in June. This is under the condition that sufficient interest is shown in the project to satisfy those who will have the affair in charge of its probable success. A meeting was held Friday evening at the home of George P. Mellick to discuss the feasibility of the scheme, and decision to put the matter through, if conditions seemed to justify, was taken informally.

The prime mover in the plan is Mr. Blitz, of New York, who has been secretary of many successful horse-shows throughout the country. Mr. Blitz will direct the arrangements for the Plainfield show when it is definitely decided to hold it.

There will probably be several classes of exhibitors, including many from out of town, more especially from Morristown, which has had several horse-shows of its own. Those who attended the meeting Friday and who are prominently connected with the movement were J. W. Johnson, W. J. Buttfield, R. A. Fairbairn, Daniel F. Ginna, George P. Mellick, Dr. M. O'M. Knott, E. H. Ladd, Jr., Lewis E. Waring.

DR. COOLEY ATTACKED.

Assessor Elston M. French Makes Strong Allegations.

Editor, The Daily Press:

In last Saturday's issue of the North Plainfield weekly, Dr. J. H. Cooley is upheld as the only good assessor the borough has ever had, and a reflection is cast on all other boroughites who have held that position before and after that time.

After carefully looking over the record of assessments made by Doctor Cooley during the last year of his term, I am unable to find any assessments made on the following properties, and without searching the records back during previous years, I have reason to believe that these properties were never assessed during the nine years which he held the office of Assessor.

These properties are: Mary P. Welles, real estate, $1,000; Est., W. R. Clarkson, $200; Letitia Myers, $100; Wm. M. Stout, $200; Judson B. Bonnell, $100; Kathleen A. Ryder, $100; Francis Coon, $200; American Bell Telephone Co., $400; N. Y. and N. J. Telephone Co., $1,000; Est. of Stanbury, $500.

It is a matter of record that Doctor Cooley has sworn off more taxes on account of indebtedness than any other man in the borough. I would like to say that a prominent young resident of the borough told me, during the first year of my term, that he had not seen Doctor Cooley for five years and he readily consented to an increase of $500 in his assessment, saying "that it could have been advanced before had Doctor Cooley called upon him, but that he supposed Cooley knew his business and had assessed him the same manner as other tax payers." This is only one of many similar cases.

The other Republican candidate for this office, J. P. Emmons, is in every way qualified for this position, having been a contractor and builder and now being in the real estate business.

Elston M. French.

TRAMP KILLED.

Body of Unknown Man Found Along Central's Tracks Near Dunellen.

The body of an unknown man, thought from his dress to be a tramp, was found early yesterday morning on the tracks near the Greenbrook water tanks, West Dunellen. Patrick Costello, a track walker, made the discovery. The body was cold when found and had been struck by a train probably early Saturday night. It was bruised about the head and both leg were broken. The man was of slight stature and wore a light moustache. No indication of his identity was obtained. The body was taken to Runyon's morgue at Dunellen.

STATIONARY ENGINEERS EFFECT ORGANIZATION

Temporary Officers Elected by Safety Branch, No. 12, at Meeting Held Saturday.

A. L. CASE CHAIRMAN

OBJECTS OF THE ASSOCIATION WHICH HAS A MEMBERSHIP OF TWELVE.

National Association of Stationary Engineers Supervises Organization of Local Branch—Regular Election to be Held March 26.

On organization of stationary engineers was effected in this city on Saturday night in the Exempt Firemen's Association rooms. A delegation from the National Association of Stationary Engineers, including Organizer John Callahan, of Jersey City, attended the meeting and assisted in getting the local branch started. The new organization will be known as Safety No. 12. Twelve members compose the charter list.

Temporary officers, including Arthur L. Case, chairman, and Alonzo Brokaw, secretary, were chosen to serve until March 26, when there will be a regular election and installation of officers. All engineers in this city and vicinity have been invited to join the association.

The objects of the association are for the better education of its members in the art of steam engineering, to protect the interests of competent engineers in their vocation, to enroll all competent engineers, to impart beneficial information, to assist members out of employment and to procure by legal enactment greater safety in the operation of steam plants.

The State association now has a bill in the State Legislature providing for the licensing of every stationary engineer.

A MONDAY IN POLICE COURT

USUAL BATCH OF CASES BEFORE CITY JUDGE RUNYON.

More than the ordinary number of Saturday night revellers faced City Judge Runyon this morning. For fighting on the Watchung avenue bridge after a night of drinking and gambling, Charles Everett, Grover Cashin, James Cashin, Herbert Perry and Arthur Gaub were arrested by Patrolmen McCarthy and Overbaugh. They said they would be good boys hereafter and City Judge Runyon suspended sentence. Emil Santers imbibed more than occasion demanded and will have $5 less spending money this week. Herman Mintz and William Brown, colored, couldn't arbitrate their differences and Judge Runyon lent a helping hand this morning. He touched the colored man for $10 worth and dismissed Mintz. The expenses of John Ragen's Saturday night merry-making were increased $5.

Mrs. Swick Dead.

Mrs. Catharine S. Swick, wife of Joseph B. Swick, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 137 Berckman street, following a long illness with pulmonary trouble. She is survived by a husband and one son by a former husband. The funeral services will be held from the late residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at Bound Brook.

Poles Gathered In.

Seven unidentified Poles were captured by the borough police in a raid on a house in upper Grove street Saturday night. Some of the prisoners tried to give their names, but the officers could make nothing of them. The batch will be arraigned tonight.

Sewer Pipes Choked Up.

In order to clear the pipe of tree root, that forced their way in and choked the passage completely, the street department was compelled to rip up thirty feet of sewer at New and Fifth streets Saturday.

Teachers Ill.

Grip and kindred ills have crippled the borough High School force. Last week five teachers were out, and three of them are still absent.

Political Ethics.

Assemblyman Swackhamer made a speech on political ethics at a Democratic rally and banquet in Garwood Saturday night.

BOTH PARTIES ARE CLAIMING VICTORY

Opposing Political Leaders Make Predictions to The Press on Eve of Election.

PARTY LINES VANISH

FORMER MAYOR HEGEMAN'S DEFENCE OF PRESENT ADMINISTRRTION.

Mayor Smalley Ill at Home—A Large Vote is in Doubt—A. V. D. Honeyman Sanguine of Victory—What Others Think of Situation.

On the verge of the last and deciding clash, both sides of the political fight in the borough are confident of sweeping victory. At any rate, leaders of each of the opposing clans claimed everything this morning for themselves and conceded nothing to the enemy.

Former Senator Charles A. Reed, the recognized leader of the Republican forces, declared himself entirely satisfied with the outlook this forenoon in an interview with a Daily Press reporter. "We will win by the normal Republican majority," he said. "Party lines have been lost sight of in this campaign, and what votes the other people may gain from the Republican party will be more than made up by Democratic defections. The Citizens are claiming a lot of votes that I know will be cast for us. Our ticket is as strong a one as has ever been put up in the borough; the Citizens' is miserably weak."

Just as confident, but not so ready to be quoted, the Democratic leaders are preparing to celebrate the downfall of what they call the Smalley ticket. Assemblyman Swackhamer was seen this morning, and would not consent to be interviewed on the outlook. He said he had not studied the situation in that aspect. It is understood, however, that he has expressed himself quite confident of the success of the Citizens' in conversation with his followers.

Chief Stahl and the rest of the leaders among the firemen freely predicted the defeat of the Republican ticket. A group of them, including Chief Stahl, and Former Chiefs William Debele and George Fairchild, held a pre-election celebration over the expected defeat of the Republicans in Chief Stahl's store this morning.

A. V. D. Honeyman, interviewed by a Daily Press reporter, expressed the same belief in the favorable outcome for the Citizens. "I am one of those who believe in sawing wood and saying nothing, but I have faith in the people and look for a victory for the entire ticket. The people are aroused, and I expect some surprises."

Disinterested observers disagree with the sweeping claims made by the opposing leaders. It looks to them as if Collector George Brown will be re-elected on the Republican ticket, and that the councilmanic elections are in doubt. It is around the latter that the whole fight appears to centre.

One unexpected phase of the campaign is the sudden and confining illness of Mayor Smalley. He was seized with an aggravated attack of quinsy sore throat yesterday, and it is highly improbable that he will be able to get out and take a hand in the battle at the polls tomorrow. His absence may have a decided effect on the outcome.

Former Mayor Hegeman arrived from New York this afternoon and he said to a Daily Press reporter: "I have perfect confidence in the good judgment of the voters of North Plainfield and from this standpoint I feel certain that the entire Republican ticket will be elected. It hardly seems possible that the people of the borough will permit themselves to be influenced or misled by the stuff which was served up last week by the North Plainfield Weekly Review, and register an adverse opinion of our progressive Mayor and Council. Having been connected with the borough government for seven years, as Councilman and Mayor, I feel that I am in a position to speak of borough affairs with a certain degree of accuracy and from this standpoint I say, that it was a wise act when our Council passed the ordinance which will provide us with a paid fire department on March 15th. If the efforts of the Citizens' movement to improve the efficiency and character of the borough is sincere, why did they leave our present able assessor, Elston M. French, a consistent Democrat, and our most satisfactory collector, George F. Brown, a staunch Republican, off of their ticket? It looks to me as though Assemblyman Swackhamer lost a great opportunity to make a last stroke for his party when he joined the Citizens' movement. Mayor Smalley seems to come in for a generous amount of criticism just now. You would almost think that he was running for some office himself to read the Review. We have had eight mayors since the borough was incorporated, I having had the honor to be one of the eight, and I do not hesitate to say that Mayor Smalley has been the most energetic and consistently progressive Mayor of the number. He has his faults and shortcomings, but he is fearless, outspoken and honest. What he does he does for the good of the borough always at heart. I know this to be the case, because I have fought the Mayor and have fought with him and no matter whether as foe or friend, I never had a doubt as to how he stood.

RESERVE MILITIA FOR STATE

ALL ABLE-BODIED RESIDENTS BETWEEN 18 AND 45 SUBJECT TO DRAFT.

The bill before the Legislature calling for a reorganization of the National Guard and providing for a "reserve militia" has aroused considerable interest in every section of the State. Opponents of the bill say that it is to provide for a "standing army" of all citizens for which there is no need. Those in favor of the measure say it is simply a plan for keeping in touch with the available military force of the State.

The bill flatly provides in its first section: The militia shall consist of every able bodied male citizen of this State and every able bodied male of foreign birth, who has declared his intention to become a citizen, who is not less than 18 and more than 45 years of age, and who are residents of this State and shall be divided into two classes, the organized militia to be known as the National Guard and the remainder to be known as the "reserve militia," subject to the usual legal exemptions of the State and United States.

When the Governor deems it necessary he may organize a board to make an enrollment of all persons "liable to service in the militia." Each person enrolled shall be notified. The list shall be filed with the county clerks. All records are to be open to the enrollingboard and all persons under penalty must give information concerning names of persons in hotels, boarding houses and residences.

The bill continues:

"Whenever it shall be necessary to call out any portion of the reserved militia for active duty the Governor shall direct his order to the chief of enrollment and drafting, who upon receipt of the same, shall proceed to draft by lot as many of the reserve militia, or accept as many volunteers as are required by the Governor," and shall forward a list of such names to the Adjutant General.

Every member of the militia ordered out who does not appear at the place and time designated within twenty-four hours, and who is not exempt, "shall be taken as a deserter" and shall be subject to trial and punishment by a court-martial.

When the reserve are ordered out they "shall immediately be mustered into the service of the State for one years," or such less period as the Governor may direct. A section follows for the regular organization of the reserve in companies "or assigned to organizations of the National Guard already existing."

The men in the "National Guard" are to be enlisted for a "term of not less than five years," and shall make oath of allegiance "to the State and the United States."

As the National Guard men swear allegiance to the United States, and as the "reserves" are easily made a part of the "National Guard," it is claimed in some quarters that the effect of the bill will be to compel the "reserves" to act under the orders of the President of the United States."

The bill accepts the Dick law, which allows the President to call out the National Guard for three months' service.

Louis Mattox Dead.

Louis Mattox, aged eleven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Mattox, of 9 Spruce street, died last night of heart disease, following a complication of troubles. The funeral services will be held from the residence of the parents tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock, where a requiem high mass will be said for the repose of his soul. The boy was the subject of a special discourse by Rev. Father Egan, at the children's mass in St. Mary's church yesterday morning. The St. Mary's Cadets, of which he was a member, will escort the body to the grave.

PASTOR DISCUSSES PROBLEM OF ASIA

Rev. Charles E. Herring Expresses His Admiration for the Japanese Race.

CHRISTIANITY IN ORIENT

TYPE OF RELIGION IN RUSSIA NOT THE RIGHT SORT.

To Preserve Its Integrity China Must Embrace the Christian Faith Declares the Minister—Cause of Japan's Progress.

Sympathy for Japan in her struggle against Russia was expressed again last night by Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, in a sermon on "The Problem of Asia."

Recapitulating his remarks of last week, Mr. Herring illustrated the truth that until all the nations of the world adopt the Christian faith, we shall not understand what Christianity means. Like Phillips Brooks, he would have the East "formulate Christianity according to its own genius," giving in return for its teachings a new aspect to Christianity. He illustrated the rightness of the fact that Japan after being Europeanized still remained Japanese.

We want Japan and China to be themselves, said Mr. Herring, but to keep abreast of the times, taking the truth and bringing out new phases of the truth. Christianity is needed to make China progress and to preserve its integrity.

The hatred of the Chinese for Christianity was explained in the fact of their veneration for their ancestors and their reliance upon Confucius' chart framed for antique conditions. Their faith opposes them inevitably to the progressiveness of Christianity, the adoption of which they think would make them like the hated foreigners.

"With all due respect for the good feeling existing between the United States and Russia," said Mr. Herring, "I would not like to see Russia impose her ideas of Christianity upon China and Japan." Referring to Russia's harshness to those outside of her own church he asked: "Is that the sort of Christianity that we want in Asia?"

Although appreciating fully Russia's friendliness to our own country, nevertheless, continued Mr. Herring, when it comes to a great moral issue, we cannot sympathize with her against a nation fighting for her life and liberty. Think of Japan in her war against China, winning territory of which she was diplomatically robbed by France, Germany and Russia to "preserve the integrity of China." Each European nation is trying to grab a portion of Asia. Japan is absolutely right and deserves our sympathy.

The speaker concluded with illustrations of the importance of Christianity as a factor in Japan. It has brought into the language such words as "God" in its Christian sense, "eternal glory" and "praise," and has shown the Japanese the importance of monogamy. Though polygamy was once generally practised in Japan, yet when an attempt was made to introduce Mormonism and its custom of plural marriages, it was utterly without success, a striking instance of the effect of Christianity. Many of the Japanese government officials high in power, including a member of the imperial cabinet, are Christians; two of their largest battleships are captained by Christians; and there are three Japanese daily papers which are Christian.

No Fire After All.

Escaping steam from the apparatus connected with the heating of Codington & Swackhamer's law offices on the corner of Park avenue and West Second street, made its way out from the top of the building yesterday morning in such volume as to frighten a passer-by, who turned in an alarm from box 13 at 11:13 o'clock.

Bridget Monks Dead.

Bridget Monks died Saturday at her home, 448 West Second street. The funeral will be held at the late home tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock and from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock, where requiem mass will be celebrated.

GOOD BILL PROMISED BY HOPE'S MINSTRELS

Performance This Year Will Sparkle With Abundance of Wit and Cleverness.

BRAND NEW SKETCHES

"IF I ONLY HAD A PULL," AN ORIGINAL TOPICAL SONG.

Costumed Sextette to Render "Essence of Ole Virginie—The Oleo Sure to Make a Hit—Those Taking Prominent Parts.

Anybody who has a prejudice against laughing is warned not to attend the Hope chapel minstrel show which will be the big event of next week. Anyone who has an rooted dislike for enjoyment himself is requested to absent himself on the nights of Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, March 15, 16 and 18, when the Hope boys will put on the boards the biggest laughing show they have ever produced. The songs are all new, and brighter and more tuneful than ever. The acts are original and the actors elaborately costumed. The jokes are all fresh and guaranteed to make even a North Plainfield politician forget his troubles.

The show is divided into three parts. In the first, one of the features, the only one repeated from last year, will be the singing by a sextette costumed as scarecrows of "Essence of Ole Virginie." The topical song, "If I Only Had a Pull," words and music by William N. Runyon, will be sung by George B. Cose and is sure to make the hit of the night. William Jeffery will sing a solo. Firstbrook and Sweeney will "show you the way to go home babe," and M. D. Sweeney will give his unequalled "feather dance" and sing the celebrated coon song, "Let Me In, Dat's All." There will be twenty acts in this part of the show, with forty "artists" in the chorus.

The oleo, the second part of the performance, will include illustrated songs by Elmer D. Cutting, musical stunts by A. E. Willard and songs by the Tallamy brothers. There will be acts in this part of the programme never produced on any other stage.

The "after-piece" which concludes the fun-making will be a farce comedy, "The Coming Man," in which the principal parts will be taken by John H. Cose, George Cose, M. D. Sweeney, William S. Holbert and John Galvin.

W. N. Runyon is engineering the production. His chief accomplies are the end men, B. C. Firstbrook, George B. Cose and Leonce Texier, tambos, and M. D. Sweeney, John H. Cose and W. S. Holbert, bones.

COMMUNION IN THE CHURCHES

INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP MARKS OBSERVANCE OF LORD'S SUPPER.

Accessions to membership were made in six of the local churches yesterday morning, at which time the Lord's Supper was observed. The largest number was received at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, there being nine on confession and eighteen by letter. The next highest number was at the First Presbyterian church, nine in all being taken in by letter.

At the First M. E. church four persons were received into full membership from probation and at Grace M. E. church two were received by letter. Two were received on confession at Trinity Reformed church and at the Congregational church two were received by letter.

Godliness, His Subject.

"Godliness" was the subject of the address at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting of Rev. William I. Campbell, of Ringoes, yesterday afternoon. The vocal soloist was Mrs. Charlotte Ravenscroft, of New York, and violin solos were given by W. Frank Malin.

JOHN VALIANT DEFENDS THE BOROUGH COUNCIL

Denounces the Citizens' Party Managers for Declaring That Councilmen Are Dominated.

CHARGE IS ABSURD

MR. VALIANT CRITICISES ASSEMBLYMAN SWACKHAMER.

Mayor Smalley Not An Issue in the Present Campaign, Declares the Writer—Cites Names of Those Upon Whom Statement Reflects.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The managers of the Citizens campaign publish a statement which is to the effect that Mayor Smalley "dominates" the Councilmen and with a high hand carries through such legislation as he wishes.

It needs no great amount of intelligence to see the absurdity of such a statement when one carefully considers the citizens who have filled the position of Councilmen since the present Mayor has been the head of the borough government.

The Mayor cannot legislate of and by himself, but must have at least three Councilmen to agree to any proposition he may wish passed, before it avails, or becomes a law. This being so, any change of legislating with an "imperial will" must bear equally upon the Council as upon the Mayor; unless we are to assume that those comprising the membership of the Council have been men wholly without personality and only the "hypnotized" followers of the Mayor. These are the men who have been in the Council since Mayor Smalley assumed office and I leave it to the intelligence of the citizens of the borough whether at any time during the past five years the Mayor could have exercised autocratic power and have ridden rough shod over the wishes of his "partners" in government—Burtis, Clark, Coddington, Rogers, Swackhamer, Valiant, Lee, Nichols, Northrop, Arnold, VanArsdale.

Mr Swackhamer was a member of the Council for three years. Is there any record of his publicly denouncing the Mayor as an usurper of power, and a dangerous man to be at the head of affairs? On the contrary I think it is a matter of record, that when his term had nearly expired he arose in Council and made in that public way, eulogistic references to the Mayor's courtesy and fairness. Mr. Clark and Mr. Coddington were also members, and until the recent controversy over the law, creating a paid fire department, I have no knowledge that either of these gentlemen found fault with the Mayor, considering him a man whose disposition was to "overawe" them.

But, the issue is not whether Mr. Smalley be elected or not. The candidates presented by the Republican primary are men whose names are sufficient to ensure there performing the duties required of them without a suspicion of their being the tools of any man, be he the present Mayor, or some other who might wish to assume the role of dictator.

Sues for $40,000.

Suit against three railroads has been brought by Craig A. Marsh, Esq., of this city, for Nathaniael Koerber, who was injured by a train at Goodman's crossing on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near Fanwood, about a year ago. Koerber, who lives near the crossing, was seriously hurt, his arm being broken in four or five places and the bones failing to knit. Mr. Marsh has brought suit for $40,000 against the Lehigh Valley Railroad, the Lehigh Valley terminal and the Easton and Amboy Railroad.

JERSEY'S COW POPULATION

STATISTICS CONCERNING STATE COMPILED BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

According to a report just issued by the Federal Government bureau of animal industry, there are 154,407 dairy cows in the State of New Jersey. In land area New Jersey ranks forty-fifth among the States and territories; in population sixteenth, in cow population thirteenth, milk producing twenty-eighth, butter producing thirty-sixth, cheese producing thirty-first; in cows per square mile eighth, in butter produced per square mile sixteenth, and in cheese produced per square mile twenty-second.

In the number of inhabitants per square mile New Jersey ranks third among the States, only Rhode Island and Massachusetts outranking it. New Jersey has a density in population of 250.32 per square mile; the cow population of the State is 22.30 per square mile. This means that there is about one cow for each eleven inhabitants in the State. In the number of persons engaged in agricultural pursuits New Jersey ranks twelfth. New York State is first in population, the number of cows, amount of milk produced, amount of cheese, cows per square mile and cheese per square mile. This makes New York the banner dairy producing State. New Jersey has eighty-nine cows for each 1,000 inhabitants, while New York has 212 for each 1,000 persons.

New Jersey produced last year 77,714,055 gallons of milk; 5,894,363 pounds of butter on farms, and 1,325,519 pounds are made at creameries, 24,327 pounds of cheese made on farms and 100,000 pounds of cheese made at factories.

United States ranks second in the countries of the world in the number of milch cows, having 18,112,707 head, and 69,438,758 cattle of all kinds.

LAUNCH TAFT BOOM

Ohio Society Banqueters Say "Come to Govern Us."

SECRETARY DEFENDS IMPERIALISM

War Head Responded to "United States In Philippines" and Gave a Brief Review of Government's Responsibility For Colony.

NEW YORK, March 7.—It is said that a veiled effort was made at the annual banquet of the Ohio society to give momentum to the boom of William Howard Taft for the presidency. One of the speakers referred to the secretary of war as "the governor of the east who has returned to govern us, as he undoubtedly will do."

Few of the 400 present were quick enough to catch the point of the remark in time to give it force, but among those who did see its meaning was Secretary Taft, who had been introduced. He was on his feet in a second, and before the applause had started he began with his address. After that, with much skill, he turned the enthusiasm of the sons of Ohio into an indorsement of the American policy in the Philippines inaugurated by William McKinley and "carried to a legitimate conclusion by his successor, President Roosevelt." Mr. Taft's entire remarks were a defense of the present administration.

"The United States In the Philippines" was the toast to which the secretary of war responded. As governor of the Philippines he had qualified to discuss the subject, and he showed his familiarity with the matter by going into details as they never were gone into before in any speech delivered in this city.

He had the sympathy of his hearers, and often he was compelled to pause that the applause might subside. More than once he announced with much force that the United States had been forced into the Philippines by fate and that it could not abandon its position there.

Most pertinent of all his remarks was one regarding the attitude assumed soon after the war with Spain by President McKinley. Talking with the president, Mr. Taft said that he had expressed regret that the United States had ever been compelled to send its navy to Manila bay.

"You are not more sorry than am I," was the response of the late president, as quoted by the speaker. "But I hope that we have acted for the best. No one is more conscious of the responsibility that rests upon us than am I. And no one can be more regretful that we had to assume it than I."

It was the eighteenth annual banquet of the Ohio society and was regarded by those present as the most successful ever held.

The toasts were:

"The President of the United States," responded to by all present standing, while the orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner."

"The United States In the Philippines," Secretary Taft.

"An Adequate Modern Navy In Constant Readiness the Best Safeguard of National Prosperity and Peace," George Edmund Foss, chairman of the committee on naval affairs in the house of representatives.

"The Sons of Ohio," Charles B. Landis, representative in congress.

"Our Native State, the Mother of Us All," Myron T. Herrick, governor of Ohio.

"The Army of the United States," General Adna R. Chaffee.

"The American Navy," Rear Admiral John Crittenden Watson.

In his speech the secretary of war plunged at once into the subject of the Philippines. He gave a brief review of the conditions in the far east previous to the last decade. "Now, I think you all know better than I can state it," he went on, "the dilemma in which the United States found itself after Dewey's victory and after the signing of the protocol. What were we to do? Were we to turn the islands back to Spain? Could we turn the islands over to the insurgents?

"I know upon this point there is a great difference of opinion. I do not think there is any difference in the obligation which we were under with respect to those islands. Were we to leave the islands and the protection of that property drift into an international complication to some other nation?

"It is concluded that we might have formed a protectorate—that is, we might have seen a government formed; that we might have stationed our navy in the bay; that we might have said to the foreign nations: 'We will see that your property is protected, but we withdraw all power to protect it. We will assume the responsibility for this government without retaining the right to say that it is properly conducted.' That course our government did not follow, but it proceeded to administer the government of the Philippine Islands for the benefit of the Philippine people."

SHELL VLADIVOSTOK

Japanese Squadron Pour In Heavy Fire For an Hour.

CORPS MOVING TO FLANK RUSSIANS

Official Report Claims No Loss by the Bombardment, but Private Advices Say Four Sailors and One Woman Killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 7. — A Vladivostok official report says shortly after noon on Sunday, March 6, a squadron of five Japanese battleships and two cruisers, believed to be part of Admiral Togo's fleet, appeared off the harbor mouth here and bombarded the town and shore batteries for fifty-five minutes.

The fleet approached from the direction of Askold island, at the east entrance to Ussuri bay and about thirty-two miles southeast of Vladivostok. Entering Ussuri bay, the enemy formed in line of battle, but did not approach to a closer range than five and one-third miles. They directed their fire against the shore batteries and the town, but no damage resulted, as most of their 200 lyddite shells failed to burst.

The Russian batteries, commanded by Generals Veronetz and Artamonoff, did not reply, awaiting a closer approach of the enemy.

The Japanese fire ceased at 2:20 p. m., and the enemy retired in the direction of Askold island. Simultaneously two torpedo boat destroyers appeared near Askold island and two more near Cape Maidel. The Japanese ships were covered with ice.

The attack resulted in no loss to the Russians, but cost the enemy $100,000 in ammunition. Most of the projectiles were six and twelve inch shells.

During the bombardment by the Japanese fleet private dispatches say that five persons were killed, four sailors and the wife of an engineer. It is apparent the Japanese were afraid to risk exposing their ships to the plunging fire of the land batteries, and it is considered probable here that the attack was really for the purpose of drawing the fire of the Russian forts, compelling the Russians to disclose the position and caliber of their guns and also for the purpose of ascertaining whether the Russian squadron was in port. If this was the object of the Japanese, it is believed to have failed signally, as the batteries did not fire a shot, and if the squadron was in port it could not be seen from the Japanese position in the bay of Ussuri on account of the high land which rises from the coast on that side, obstructing the view of the harbor.

Two vessels in the squadron are supposed to have been the first class cruisers Idzumo and Yakumo.

The population of Vladivostok was warned in the morning of the presence on the horizon of a hostile fleet and of the prospect of an attack during the day, but it remained tranquil.

The report from Vladivostok says that the 2,500 Japanese troops who landed at Plaksin bay, on the east coast of northern Korea, are advancing toward Musan, 218 miles from Gensan, with the intention of ultimately reaching Hunchun, on the left bank of the Tumen river, about 100 miles west of Vladivostok, and threatening the Russian flank. In order to checkmate this move the Russian outpost, 1,500 strong, which crossed the Tumen, is advancing to occupy Koyryong, on the Tumen, a walled city, commanding the trails along which the Japanese must pass.

A naval mobilization has been decided upon. Three eastern provinces of European Russia, Vyatka, Perm and Ufa, are included in the plan, the purpose stated being to strengthen the crews of the Pacific squadron.

The Russian press is very conciliatory toward Great Britain and argues that the understanding between the two countries with regard to an Asiatic policy will assure peace in Asia, without which the normal development of Russian and British interests there would be impossible. If Great Britain would agree to an outlet for Russia to the Indian ocean Great Britain's possessions in India would be unconditionally guaranteed by Russia.

The Novoe Vremya discusses the offers of British friendship, but with bad grace, saying, "John Bull believes he has a better chance of reaching the winning post with Great Britain and Japan in double harness than with a troika including the American mustang."

Direct through telegraph communication is now established between Viceroy Alexeieff's headquarters at Mukden and St. Petersburg. This is believed to be the longest circuit in the world, being over 6,000 miles, whereas the direct communication between London and Teheran, a distance of only 5,000 miles, has hitherto been the longest.

Prince Louis Napoleon, who has been in command of a grenadier brigade in the Caucasus, has arrived here, and the understanding is that he will receive an important command on the frontier.

Advices from Tokyo say the Russians are briskly fortifying Antung, which, it is believed, they will make a base for resistance. Scouts near Anju are being withdrawn toward Kasan.

It is denied here that the French government in behalf of the holders of the concession has made any objection to Japan completing the Seoul-Wiju railway.

A Yinkow dispatch says the removal of the furniture of the police and military quarters at Newchwang, the withdrawal of unnecessary rolling stock and equipment from the Newchwang railway terminus and the removal of silver from the bank indicates an intended evacuation of Newchwang. The bank authorities have arranged to leave French and German agents in charge of their interests.

A large force of cavalry is expected to return to Newchwang before the river opens for the purpose of maintaining patrols between the main railway and the sea and of reconnoitering the coast.

Russian private letters disclose the fact that in the recent engagements between the Yalu river and Pingyang the Russians, with superior numbers, defeated the Japanese, but lost heavily.

Refugees arriving here say that Port Arthur has not been attacked since Feb. 26, but that stores and ammunition are still arriving. Work on the mud dock in which it is expected to repair the battleship Cesarevitch has been abandoned for the past three days, the foreign engineer, being unable to raise the Retvizan, quitting Port Arthur, together with the only other Anglo Saxon there.

That considerable damage within the fortifications has been caused by the Japanese fire from Pigeon bay is corroborated, and the defenses on that side are being strengthened by barbed wire entanglements and additional artillery.

Cossack scouts report that a Japanese column from Plaksin bay on arriving in the snow blocked defile of the mountains separating Korea from Manchuria was forced to halt owing to avalanches and other obstacles. The scouts say that one-third of the strength of this column is invalided. It is now supposed that the column is returning for the purpose of seeking an easier route.

It is reported from Seoul that recent thaws broke up the Seoul-Pingyang road, which again has become frozen over, while from time to time there are severe snowstorms. One pass is covered with sheets of sloping ice. The country as far as Hwangdu is mountainous and impregnable from the north, but afterward it becomes more open. Reports say it is piteous to see the terror of the Korean refugees fleeing through the snow with their household goods.

The missionaries are averse to leaving Pingyang and are not likely to accept the offer of United States Minister Allen to allow refugees to go aboard the United States cruiser Cincinnati, as they believe they will be able to escape later should the situation become acute.

The advance of the Japanese outposts from Pingyang to Anju is reported from Seoul. This seems to be the main line of advance toward the Yalu, and there are fresh confirmations of a landing of troops at Possiet bay and heavy reenforcements of the garrison at Wonsan. Some of the shrewdest military men predict the concentration of a Japanese right wing on the upper Yalu from Wonsan and other points on the coast and a rapid march across the country to Mukden.

A Tokyo report says an Austrian steamer has brought the news that the Russian cruiser squadron had left Vladivostok. It was supposed to be cruising in northern waters.

It is reported that there will be no advance of the Japanese from Pingyang until 100,000 men have been concentrated there. It is thawing inland, and the roads are almost impassable, but the waterways are greatly helping the transportation arrangements. The Japanese are busy at every suitable landing place and are buying all available craft along the coast.

Transport steamers convoyed by the cruiser Takao and two torpedo boats have landed men and stores ten miles below Hwangju.

Cossacks are keeping a sharp watch on the Japanese movements.

Bank President Indicted.

CHICAGO, March 7. — Arthur L. Kemper, president of A. L. Kemper & Co., bankers, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of embezzlement. The amount of the alleged theft is given as $25,000, and the complainants are Eli M. Upton and Thomas B. Levis, members of the Upton Coal company, Rochester, N. Y. Kemper is charged with having retained the proceeds of notes sent for collection.

Brakeman Hurt; May Die.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 7.—Stephen A. Murree, a freight brakeman employed by the Boston and Maine railroad, attempted to board a moving freight train at the Fitchburg station and fell, sustaining a fracture on the left side of his skull and having his left arm horribly mangled. He is at Burbank hospital, Fitchburg, and may die.

Keazim Bey Will Come From Mecca.

ST. LOUIS, March 7.—It is stated by Alexander Konta, son-in-law of the late William J. Lemp, who has just returned from Jerusalem, that Keazim Bey, governor of Jerusalem and Palestine, has promised to come to the world's fair. Keazim Bey is the son of the governor of the Mohammedan city of Mecca.

Chancellor of Legation Held.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 7.—Charles Laroussie, the fugitive chancellor of the French legation, charged with having embezzled nearly $10,000, has been brought here from Salina Cruz. He has confessed his crime, but has asked for pardon and a chance to make good the defalcation.

Samuel A. Groff Sentenced.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Justice Pritchard overruled the motion of Samuel A. Groff, one of the recently convicted defendants in the postoffice trial, and sentenced him to two years in the Moundsville penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000, sentence to begin on arrival at the penitentiary. Groff will appeal.

SMOOT AND THE SENATE.

Mormon Chief Declares He Is Only Answerable to Utah.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—With his voice shaking with emotion and exhibiting more intensity of feeling than at any time during the Smoot hearing Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, declared that congress had no right to interfere in his private affairs and could not call him to account for his marriage relations, whatever they might be.

"It is to the laws of Utah that I am answerable," said Mr. Smith. "It is the law of my state that has the right to punish me. The courts of Utah are of competent jurisdiction. Congress has no right to interfere in my private affairs. If the courts of my state don't see fit to call me to account I cannot help it. Congress has no right to interfere, and it has no right to pry into my marriage relations."

This statement by the head of the Mormon church evidently made a serious and unpleasant impression on the minds of all his hearers. It is thought it will have a farreaching effect on the case of Senator Reed Smoot, who is trying to hold his seat in the United States senate against thousands of protests of the women of America.

RAILROAD BUILDINGS BURNED.

New York Central General Office at Oswego In Ruins.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 7.—The general office building of the New York Central railroad here has been entirely destroyed by fire, involving a loss estimated at more than $100,000.

The building contained, in addition to the general offices, the ticket office, baggage room, the American Express company's office, four retail stores and the Lake Shore hotel, which was recently vacated. Several adjacent buildings were damaged.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The destruction of the dispatcher's office caused a suspension of all traffic on the Rome and Watertown division owing to the impossibility of sending out train orders.

Recommend the Better Flag.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 7.—The house has unanimously passed a bill, recommended in a message from Governor Hunt, the purpose of which is to prevent the desecration of the United States flag and the use of the black flag in Porto Rico. The United States lighthouse tender Nina, the sailors of which were recently charged with mutiny, has sailed for Pensacola for repairs manned by a crew from the gunboat Gloucester. The members of the crew of the Nina who were arrested for mutiny have been discharged, and several of them will remain here to swear a complaint against Captain William G. Cutler for false imprisonment. The men claim that they were shanghaied in New York and that when they recently signed what they believed was the payroll they learned that they had unwittingly contracted for service on the Nina for a year.

Floods at York, Pa.

YORK, Pa., March 7.—Flood conditions along the York county shore of the Susquehanna river are at present rather uncertain. The ice is being held by Hartmans island, near New Holland, but it is expected to start at any minute, and if it does great damage is expected. For miles towering gorges present a magnificent spectacle, and here and there is devastation and ruin. Shelly island, near Goldsboro, is partly submerged, and on it are John and George Burger, their mother, their wives and eight children. The governor has sent state officials to the scene in an effort to remove the families from their perilous position.

Worst of Flood Now Over.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 7.—The Juniata and Susquehanna rivers have been falling all day, and Weather Observer De Main said that they will continue to fall for twenty-four hours. The gorges above and below Harrisburg are still intact, and there has been no ice movement in the Susquehanna since the break in the gorge at Highspire. The conditions in the flooded district show an improvement, and unless there is a sudden rise in the river it is thought the worst is over.

Boston Team Wins at Racket.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—Quincy A. Shaw, Jr., and Matthew Bartlett of the Boston Athletic club have defeated Joshua Crane and C. G. Winslow, also of the Boston Athletic club, for the national racket championship in doubles on the courts of the Philadelphia Racket club. The championship was held by the Philadelphia Racket club, but its representative team was defeated in the preliminaries.

Murderer Called Up the Police.

YORKVILLE, Ill., March 7.—Standing over the body of his victim, Carl Nylen coolly called up the sheriff on the telephone and confessed to having murdered George Pearce, a wealthy farmer. The murderer is now in the Kendall county jail. Nylen had been acting as Pearce's housekeeper for some time past. Jealousy is believed to have been the cause of the crime.

Officers Did Their Duty.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 7.—The officers of the steamer Queen are free from blame for the loss of fifteen lives in the fire on that vessel by a decision of the marine inspectors. The decision was that the officers did all in their power to save the passengers and that the exact cause of the conflagration could not be ascertained.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, Senator Dolliver of Iowa, the British ambassador and Lady Durand and many other persons prominent in official, diplomatic and social circles attended the service yesterday in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the British and Foreign Bible society at St. John's Episcopal church. Justice Brewer and Senator Dolliver were the principal speakers. Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, president of the American Bible society, presided and made a few remarks, in which he said that during the lifetime of the British and American societies they had circulated 270,000,000 copies of the Bible and parts of the Bible to the nations of the world.

Justice Brewer said the poorest way to estimate the value of a life, whether of an individual or an organization, is by numbering the years. We should count by deeds, not years. So, said he, we celebrate the anniversary of the British Bible society not so much because it has endured for a century as because of the gigantic good it has accomplished.

"It is scarcely necessary before this audience," continued Justice Brewer, "to enter upon a eulogy of the great book of books. But this is the age of the iconoclast, when destructive criticism runs rampant. Some criticism, indeed, is reverent and useful—that which seeks simply by correcting wrong translations and arranging in chronological order the matchless truths of Scripture. It is striving to remove from the sacred volume the dust that careless centuries have strewn upon it.

"But there are other critics without such lofty aim who strive to destroy the faith of other men simply because it is held. The iconoclast is a popular man. To him the Bible appears merely as a sort of crazy quilt of untrue history, distorted science, weak poetry, impractical morality and vague foreshadowings of the unknown and unknowable. Yet we who believe know there are passages in the Bible unsurpassed in solemn beauty in the literature of the world; that its ideals of morality are those to which the best within us is always aspiring; that its promises are the sweetest and most comforting that have ever come to the tired hearts of man."

Justice Brewer declared that the greatest glory of this nation lies in the fact that ever and always she has striven to translate into the vernacular of international law the parable of the good Samaritan and the Golden Rule.

Senator Dolliver said that the Bible society had contributed more than any other influence to unite the creeds of Christendom into one grand whole, representing universal Christianity.

"One of the grandest enterprises I ever heard of any organization," Senator Dolliver said, "was the offer of this society to make a language for a barbarous people, whose speech had not even attained to the dignity of an alphabet. The society undertook to make first an alphabet, then a translation of the Bible and finally a literature. Certainly the brain of man never conceived a grander philanthropic purpose."

Celebration of Bible Sunday.

LONDON, March 7.—The celebration of Bible Sunday by the Bible society at St. Paul's cathedral was robbed of considerable interest owing to the absence of King Edward, who is suffering from a cold. Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria and the Prince and Princess of Wales drove to the cathedral and were met at the west door by the lord mayor, the high sheriffs, the bishop of London and the dean of St. Paul's, who escorted them to a railed off portion of the cathedral in front of the choir. The archbishop of Canterbury, who preached the sermon, referred regretfully to the absence of King Edward and then traced the history of the Bible society during the past century. He said that when people realized the great obstacles of poverty, distance and language which the society had to overcome in placing the sacred book in the hands of every potential student they would realize what wonderful work had been accomplished.

Charges Against Boston Professor.

MEDFORD, Mass., March 7.—Rev. George P. Cooke, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at West Medford, who has brought charges of heresy against Professor Borden P. Bowne of Boston university, has issued a pamphlet under the title, "Are Professor Borden P. Bowne and Dr. Charles Parkhurst Safe Leaders In the Methodist Episcopal Church?"

Diphtheria Rife on Monongahela.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 7.—There are four new cases of diphtheria among the apprentices on the United States training ship Monongahela, two of them occurring yesterday. There are seventeen cases now in the hospital, and the departure of the vessel has been indefinitely postponed.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 7, 1904.

The other day we took occasion to "nail a lie" which was being used to make capital for the Citizens' party of North Plainfield in the present campaign and now we must draw your attention to another. Perhaps few of our readers know it, and therefore we state that in the borough a weekly newspaper (?) is published. The paper in question says editorially: "To show the wonderful economy (?, of the present borough administration we would call attention to an ordinance now being published in two daily newspapers in the city of Plainfield. This ordinance amounts to about forty folios of 100 words each, and will cost the borough in the neighborhood of one hundred and fifty dollars for the advertising alone. The law governing the publication of borough ordinances contemplates that same shall be printed in a newspaper published in the borough and does not say, nor is it necessary to publish them in more than one newspaper." The real fact is that instead of $150 the insertion of the advertisement in question in the two dailies cost the borough exactly $77.40, and the bills for this amount were approved without objection at the last meeting of the Council. The law says that such advertisement may be posted, or published in at least one newspaper. It is almost unnecessary to call a sensible public's attention to the reason the borough corporation advertisements are not published in the borough newspaper (?). The aim of advertising is publicity. What publicity would be obtained by an announcement in the borough weekly? Wouldn't posting on telegraph poles and trees be even better? The Plainfield newspapers circulate generally in North Plainfield and we would not swap the paid circulation of The Daily Press along one street of that borough for the entire circulation of the borough sheet. The advertisement in question concerned the establishment of a paid fire department and was of great importance to the citizens of that borough. Consequently it demanded the utmost publicity, and the administration saw that it was accordingly given. It is not necessary to point out to any man with common sense why publication in a daily newspaper of undeniably large circulation is preferable to that in a paper, which many do not even know is in existence, especially when the advertising rate is the same. We have "nailed the lie" and hope we have shown that the administration is carefully looking after the interests of the citizens when it inserts the advertisements in the Plainfield dailies.

After stating that "we hear that there weren't any newspaper men at Noah Raby's funeral," the New Brunswick Home News says, "The reporters in Plainfield are not often caught napping, but they were certainly dozing on Tuesday when they let their newspapers go to press without anything about the death of Noah Raby." The Piscataway poor farm where Raby lived is in the territory supposed to be covered by the New Brunswick papers and is far out of the way for Plainfield reporters, who nevertheless have gotten many a rich beat there during the old man's life time. The fact is that the Plainfield papers did not hear of old Raby's death in time for Tuesday's edition but they had men on the spot to "cover" the funeral, whereas the New Brunswick Home News did not, which accounts, no doubt for its not hearing that any representatives of the Plainfield papers were there.

The Home News is right when it says that Plainfield reporters are not often caught napping. There is not a single reporter in this city, we believe, who does not grind out more good, legitimate local news in a day than is contained in any single issue of the New Brunswick Home News. If the patrons of a Plainfield newspaper were supplied with such a sheet as is issued in New Brunswick, its telephone would be kept busy by persons cancelling their subscriptions.

The full-page newspaper advertisement is not so modern as is generally thought, for the Rhode Island Advertiser traces it back nearly a century and a half in the old files of Providence newspapers. The Providence Gazette, a daily established in 1760, carried full-page advertisements in 1766, the first appearing on November 22, that year, advertising the firm of Joseph & William Russell, dealers in dry goods, house furnishings, hardware, wines and liquors. A long list of these articles gave it a semblance to the bargain ads of today, but no prices were printed. Two rival firms had full pages on January 10 and 17, 1767.—Printers' Ink.

The Pennsylvania man who stayed at home for fifty years and then went on a week's visit to Elizabeth has a lot to answer for.—Newark Advertiser.

Nothing at all to answer for. The gentleman's coming to this city simply proved that no matter how much or how long he may have been determined to keep to himself, he simply could not have helped hearing about Elizabeth and being impressed with the advisability of paying us a visit in order to be able to better appreciate the rest of the world. — Elizabeth Times.

Right you are. You can't help hearing about Elizabeth and you'll certainly appreciate the rest of the world when you once see that unprogressive municipality.

The Passaic Daily News says:

"Former President Cleveland has been offered the Tammany nomination for the Presidency. If elected, he would probably send Leader Murphy as Ambassador to the Court of St. James."

Strange that the editor of the Passaic Daily News does not visit a specialist on brain disorders.

Evidently Grover Cleveland, chief of police of the Democratic party, has not got "the lid" down on W. J. Bryan.

If "Just Us" will send his name to this office his communication will be pbulished.

Nominations for township offices were made by the Republicans and Democrats of Warren township in Mt. Bethel Saturday. The primaries were lively and witnessed sharp contests for some of the places on the tickets. Ambrose Mantz was selected for constable by both parties. By the Republicans, this ticket was named: For town committeeman for three years, Reuben Coddington; for constable, Ambrose Mantz; for poundkeepers, William Spencer and I. P. Mundy. The appropriation for the poor fund was $500, and for care of the roads, $2,000. These candidates were named by the Democrats: H. P. Williams, for town committeeman for three years; for constable, Ambrose Mantz; for poundkeepers, Rudolph Sachs and J. V. Adams. The amount appropriated for the poor fund was $500, and for roads, $2,000.

W. J. R. Hegeman, of Sycamore avenue, is quite ill with the grip.

Mrs. Frank Pierson, of Youngstown, Pa., is visiting at the home of her brother, F. S. Cutter, of Sandford avenue. Mr. Pierson, her husband, expects to soon return and again become a resident of Plainfield.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Says "Cits" Are Begging.

Editor, The Daily Press:

A letter begging for subscriptions to the campaign fund of the Citizens' movement, was shown in the Republican headquarters on Saturday night by the prominent boroughite to whom it was addressed. It was signed by A. V. D. Honeyman and promised that he would attend to the expenditure of any money sent in response to the appeal. Perhaps scores of others have received similar letters. It is said that the liquor dealers of the borough have contributed largely to the campaign fund. They naturally oppose the Republican party because it advocates higher license. In view of the "Citizens'" published statement that they will use no money to influence the result of election, wonder was expressed as to what will be done with their campaign fund, and who Mr. Honeyman will account to after election.

Truth.

Mr. Swackhamer's Reply.

Editor, The Daily Press:

My attention has been called to an article in a recent issue of your paper and signed "Consistency." Why the writer should be ashamed of his name and suppress it, I will not be unkind enough to say. This hidden, ambushed personality effects to feel that the bill in question was not sufficiently advertised. In answer I beg to say first, that this bill was advertised exactly the same as the hundred others that have been introduced; second, that it was not only mentioned in the papers generally, but its character was discussed; third, about ten days before the bill came to a vote Mr. Reed was at Trenton on the Goodwin case and had a copy of this bill and discussed it with me. He is Borough Counsel and drew the paid fire department ordinance. Your paper says that the defeat of the bill was due to his influence. If so, the will of the tax payers who desire to vote upon the question of a paid department and the discharge of the faithful volunteers was thwarted, but how could he defeat the bill if he did not know of its existence. A great statesman has said that "Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed" and that "the people can be trusted with the control of their own affairs." I am sorry to see them lose this right. I tried to secure it for them for I felt that an expense of thousands of dollars should not be put upon them without their consent, but it seems that Mr. Reed has ordered otherwise. I will not resort to the low practise of calling names—it is a poor kind of argument and bears witness to a sad state of the morals. Indeed I feel sorry for "Consistency," that, in the hope of gaining a small political advantage, he should misrepresent, all names and then hide his own. Mr. Editor, I know not what tricks or secret schemes Consistency may have attempted, for he declines to reveal himself and shulks in the darkness, but as for myself, I have had but one purpose, viz., to serve my constituents as well as I could.

Borough Tax Rate.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Mayor Smalley has certainly exerted his influence in borough affairs for the past few years and in his official capacity has had to do with the borough tax rate. On the other hand Mr. Cooley and Mr. Honeyman have both been members of the Board of Education and have had to do with school expenditures. As the latter gentleman was credited with making the attack of last Saturday on Mayor Smalley's administration accusing it of extravagance, it may not be amiss to compare the records of the two, showing the changes in both borough and school. Here it is:

	Borough.	School.
1900, tax rate,	85c.	Special school, 76c
1903, " "	85c.	" " 91c

An increase of fifteen points in the school tax rate and none at all in the borough, and yet these are the people who want to take control of borough affairs and run things to suit themselves.

Mrs. Sarah Stryker has returned from a visit with Philadelphia relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James Corning, of Brooklyn, spent yesterday visiting at the Mountain View House.

NEW MARKET.

Miss Angie Warren has been entertaining Mrs. Fred Halstead and daughter, of Newark, for a few days.

A special meeting of the Township Committee has been called for Thursday afternoon for the purpose of deciding on a franchise for the North East Telephone Company, of New York.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

I desire to announce to the voters of Fanwood Township that I have accepted the nomination for Township Committee on the Democratic ticket. Any support which my friends give me will be appreciated. Theodore R. Bruchmann. 3 5 2

Henry Myers has donated the use of the apartments in which the Scotch Plains Industrial School is being conducted.

The Brookside Gun Club held a well attended weekly shoot on the grounds along Green brook Saturday afternoon. Several trap shooters from out of town were present. The scores made were creditable for amateurs who only gather for pastime and sport.

Rev. W. H. Hubbard, the newly elected president of the Baptist Ministers' Weekly Conference meeting, has been the guest of Rev. G. M. Shott at the Manse. During his stay the president and Mr. Shott arranged the slate of committees, etc., for the next six months.

William Borkowsky, formerly of the village, but now of New York, was the guest Sunday of friends in town.

The leaders and candidates of both Republican and Democratic parties are incensed over an article appearing in another paper on Saturday night, stating that it was reported that John Robison, candidate for Freeholder on the Republican ticket and Theodore Bruchmann, Democratic nominee for Town Committeeman, had formed a combination for the purpose of strengthening themselves at the election on Tuesday and downing Charles Haberly, the Democratic nominee for freeholder and Charles Ball, the Republican nominee for town committee. The article is branded as false by both candidates and leaders of the parties.

It is said that the borough voters intend to do some great scratching on the police department appropriation at the election tomorrow.

David Patterson, of Johnston avenue, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gray, of East Front street.

Miss Jennie Johnston led an interesting weekly gathering of the Epworth League at the Methodist church last night.

Tomorrow the annual election for township officers will be held, the polls in the town rooms will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. The leaders of both parties are working hard to get the vote out, as much depends on which party loses the most by the stay at homes. The township is nominally Republican by a safe majority but the township elections generally brings a division of honors. This is principally on account of factional disturbances in the Republican ranks, but all claim that the hatchet has been buried and an effort will be made to carry the whole ticket, but the tally of votes on Tuesday night is the only way this can be verified.

The weekly meeting of the Baptist Young People's Society was held last night in the parlors of the Baptist church.

The borough voters held their primary Saturday night in the fire house. Contrary to the usual custom everything appeared to be harmonious and from present indications only one local ticket will be in the field tomorrow. For the purpose of allowing a choice in the vote for freeholder it was decided to print two tickets, one to be called Republican Citizens' ticket and the other the Democratic Citizens. The local ticket nominated is as follows: Councilmen, John P. Stevens and Wright Babcock; justice of the peace, Charles Sheelen; commissioner of appeals was left blank, a committee being appointed to fill the vacancy.

Scotch Plains has practically decided upon putting another team on the diamond next season. Final action on the matter has been put off by the club until the next meeting, but enough interest has been manifested in the proposed nine to make it safe to count on its organization for another year. A general survey of the field was taken by the club at a meeting Saturday night. Manager Johnston gave the organization an estimate of cost for a fast team, and a lively and interesting discussion followed. Illness prevented several prominent members from attending the meeting, and final decision on the project was postponed until they could get to a conference. There is a general feeling in the 'Plains that the team ought to be run as a business proposition, if for no other reason. The games bring money into the town and keep money there that the large number of fans would take to other places if there were no team. Subscriptions enough to warrant the maintenance of a team all through the season are desired at the outset. Manager Johnston has declared that he will not sign players unless he can guarantee a full season's work.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Miss Gussie Clawson is spending a few days at Mount Pleasant.

Monroe Pyatt, of Clinton avenue, is confined to the house by illness.

Mrs. William Clawson has returned from a visit with friends in New Market.

Mrs. Nathan Blackford has been quite ill for the past few days.

The legal voters of the school district of Piscataway have been notified of the annual meeting to be held at the New Market school house on Tuesday afternoon, March 15, for the purpose of electing four members of the Board of Education, also to vote for the following budget for the coming school year: For current expenses, $4,500; for transportation, $1,800, for repairs, $300; for books and supplies, $375; for deficiency, $500. The question of voting to place in the South Plainfield and Pierce School buildings steam heaters and fire escapes will also be considered.

Peter Lent, who resides on the Henry Garretson farm, will sell at public vendue his personal property on March 16, at 12 o'clock.

The new bridge over the Raritan river which was built by this county, has lost 200 feet of its length by the ice flow. The Freeholders recently viewed the ruins and decided to look to the contractors for the damage, the bridge being too light.

THE COTTON WEEVIL

PLAYS HAVOC WITH CROP ON PLANTATIONS OF TEXAS.

No Method Yet Discovered of Exterminating the Little Pest—Has Cost Planters of Texas $15,000,000.

When cotton goes a soaring and one looks around for the cause he generally discovers that the price has a very close connection with the production. Cotton is high, and we find this condition of the market a reflection of last year's production. It is not probable that there will ever be a more generally unfavorable year for cotton culture in the United States than that of 1903. Toward the close of the preceding year (1902) the bureau of statistics of the United States department of agriculture reported a condition of the cotton crop, resulting from insect ravages and unfavorable climatic conditions in Texas, little short of disastrous. But the season of 1903 has had as many unfavorable features, and in addition the drawback that planting was unavoidably uniformly thrown from four to six weeks late. This was especially unfortunate, as early planting is the most important step in avoiding damage by the weevil. Many planters were unable to put in one-half of their normal cotton acreage. The late planting season was followed by very irregular rains. As a rule, severe droughts alternated with heavy rains. The result would have been to cause a small crop regardless of damage by the boll weevil, and this was especially noticeable in central Texas. Accurate figures are not obtainable, but statistics drawn from acreage and production indicate that the boll weevil causes the amount of land required to produce a bale to be practically doubled, and upon this basis, it is estimated that during the past season the pest has caused the planters of Texas a loss of fully $15,000,000.

The accompanying map shows the territory at present affected by the weevil in Texas and Louisiana. On the north it has been found in the vicinity of Sherman, only a few miles south of the Red river. The nearest approach to Shreveport is in Morris county, about 50 miles away. It should be observed, however, as indicated on the map, that in the region from about the latitude of Dallas to the Red river the pest is only scatteringly present and has caused no general damage.

Map showing distribution of cotton boll weevil in the United States. The heavy line indicates the limit of the region in which the weevils have multiplied to such an extent as to be found in all cotton fields; the remainder of the shaded portion indicates the region in which isolated colonies are known to exist.

The steady extension of the territory affected by the weevil from year to year, until the northern boundary is far north of the center of cotton production in the United States, has convinced all observers that it will eventually be distributed all over the cotton belt. In ten years it has gradually advanced a distance of about 500 miles, and will undoubtedly invade new territory at about the same rate. It is not at all likely that legal restrictions of any kind would prevent or materially hinder this spread. The slowness of the progress up to the present time indicates that the principal means of spreading are only natural ones, like the winds and a simple overflow from field to field, and that the artificial agencies like transportation in seed or in other commodities are comparatively unimportant; otherwise, with the extensive shipping from Texas, instead of being confined to that state as at present, the pest would now be found in many localities throughout the south.

The adult weevil averages about one-quarter of an inch in length, and has a beak about one-half the length of the body. It is of grayish or reddish-brown color. The insect exists in four stages—egg, larva, pupa, and adult. All the stages except the last occur only inside of the cotton square or boll. The egg is deposited by the female weevil in a cavity formed by eating into the fruit of the plant. It hatches under normal conditions, in two or three days, and the grub immediately begins to feed. In from seven to 12 days the larva or grub passes into the pupal or quiet stage, corresponding to the cocoon of the silk worm. This stage lasts from three to five days. Then the adult weevil issues, and in about seven days begins the production of another generation. Climatic conditions cause considerable variation, but on an average it requires from two to three weeks for a weevil to develop from the egg to the adult.

SAVED BY A PARROT.

Polly Gave Alarm When Would-Be Suicide Fell Heavily to Employers' Parlor Floor.

Amanda Rasp, a domestic employed at the home of Matthew C. Llwellyn, at 136 Prospect avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., and who now is at the emergency hospital suffering from the effects of carbolic acid self-administered, probably owes his life to a large green parrot owned by her employer.

The girl had steadily refused to say she took the caustic with suicidal intent, though she admits having bought it at a near-by drug store shortly before. The Lewellyn family had retired when the girl returned from a visit to some friends. So far as can be learned she went directly to her room and there took the poison from her dresser. Then, fully dressed, she went to the front parlor downstairs and there swallowed the acid. Semi conscious and suffering terribly, she fell to the floor. The sound of the fall, it appears, did not arouse the Lewellyns, and there is little doubt the girl would have died had not a large Mexican parrot in an adjoining room given the alarm.

The bird apparently surmised something had gone wrong, for it set up such a screeching as to awaken Mr. Lewellyn, whose room is on the second floor.

Mr. Lewellyn hurried to the ground floor to investigate. He found the girl in the parlor gasping for breath. The emergency ambulance was called, and after a hard fight the surgeons said the girl was out of danger.

Once before, when the Lewellyn house was afire, the bird saved the lives of the occupants by making a noise.

WIFE HOLDS UP HUBBY.

Comic Results of a Saturday Shave Afford Amusement to the People of Marion, Ind.

A correspondent, writing from Marion, Ind., to the Indianapolis Sentinel, says that George Sullivan, a merchant, who has been wearing a full beard for a long time, had it shaved off one Saturday night before going home.

When he entered the house his wife thought he was a burglar, seized a revolver and commanded him to hold up his hands. Sullivan declared he was not a burglar, but the head of the house. Mrs. Sullivan was excited and determined.

Sullivan, fearing he would be shot, extended his hands. His wife commanded him to stand in that position and not to move or she would shoot. Mrs. Sullivan told her daughter to telephone to police headquarters, which she did. The husband attempted to reason with his wife, but she warned him that she would shoot if he spoke another word or moved. The police station is ten squares from the Sullivan home, and the unfortunate man was compelled to stand with his hands extended above his head for nearly a half hour before the police arrived.

"HOLD UP YOUR HANDS!"

Sullivan told the police who he was, but his wife refused to believe him until she discovered he wore a necktie which she had given him.

Clog Making in Wales.

The manufacture of wooden shoes or clogs is quite a picturesque industry of Wales. There is a large demand for these shoes, for they are the popular footwear, not only for the Welch countryfolk, but for hundreds of men, women and children who work in the factories.

New Acid with Big Name.

Dr. William Foster, of the department of chemistry at Princeton university, has discovered a new acid, hereafter to be labeled with the interesting name trisulphoxyarsenic acid.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

LET US BE HAPPY

Helen Keller's Optimism

HELEN KELLER, the blind, deaf mute scholar and philosopher, has lately written an essay on optimism, an utterance so remarkable that it ought to sting with shame those who, having full possession of all their senses and faculties, still poison the lives of themselves and those around them with a chronic evil tempered pessimism.

Helen Keller pictures herself as she is—to all human knowledge hopelessly blind and deaf for life. Then she asks us what would be the result if she should simply sit down and rave and scold her life away because she can never see or hear. This impotent raging would do no good; it would do harm. It would keep her nerves harrowed up and hysterical, ruin her health and bring her at length to insanity. Instead of doing that, this heroic soul, with nearly every avenue of communication with the outside world cut off, has become a classical scholar, a speaker on sociological topics and a writer whose every line is read with interest.

She tells us she has made up her mind to be happy in spite of everything, to learn all she can and do all the good she can. It is true Helen Keller is comfortably provided for financially by her parents, but with her intellect and determined optimism she would be the same cheerful, helpful girl if she were a pauper in a public deaf mute asylum. It does look as though this grand human soul is permitted upon the earth only to show the race how much can be achieved by a human being who can neither see nor hear. The one sense of practical use to her she has cultivated to such a degree of fineness that once she touches the hand of a human being she recognizes the person ever after.

Three-fourths of us women go at life all wrong. The things about which we fret and fume and rasp ourselves night and day are exactly the things we cannot remedy. There are wives who regard themselves as virtuous martyrs because they continue to live with drunken, worthless husbands. They scold and nag the wrongdoing man and snap at him whenever he is in their presence, but they continue to live with him, sometimes when he is hopelessly brutalized and has even treated them to a black eye or a blow. A friend asks perhaps the very natural question:

"What do you live with him for?"

Then the woman who considers herself a virtuous martyr flashes up and angrily asks in turn what the questioner knows of the feelings of a wife and mother. Then she goes on and raves and scolds and nags and whines again from morn till dewy eve. How good it would be if some one who had absolute authority could seize such a woman by the neck and say to her finally:

"Either shut up or get out!"

That's it! Shut up or get out! Two of the divine faculties of spirit that have play in this life are the reasoning power and the godlike will. Are your troubles more than you can bear? No trouble more than we can bear or get away from is ever put upon us. Sit down quietly and think how many of the matters that distress you can be remedied by yourself. Put these in a group by themselves. Then put on the other side the griefs that no effort of yours can remedy. Make sure of your two groups.

Then rise and calmly work henceforth in trust and faith to put right the wrong things in the first group. Fill your mind with this so fully and enthusiastically that the other woes—the things that you can't possibly help—will in time drop out of your mind.

Remember this always: By fretting constantly over the things we cannot help we weaken and ruin our power of dealing with the things we can help. It is no sign of womanly tenderness to fume and weep over relatives gone wrong. On the contrary, it is dead sure proof of womanly silliness and weakness. Such a woman is only hysterical and scatter brained.

Let us use the godlike will that is in every one of us. Let us train ourselves day by day to be happy and cheerful in spite of the arch fiend himself. There are heavily laden women who are doing this all the time. All happiness is within us. If it is not there, we shall never get it from outside sources.

FEEDING THE BIRDS

RESULTS OF THE EFFORTS TO SAVE THE SONGSTERS.

They Were More Successful Than Was Generally Expected—Many People Have Become Interested in the Movement.

When, a short time ago, the work of saving the starving birds was begun by distributing food in the gardens, fields and woods, many people were very skeptical as to results. I heard honest doubts expressed concerning the probability of the wild birds approaching very close to food which lay in the fields, on the bare spaces cleared with the snow shovels. It was suggested that these spaces would look so unnatural that most birds would be suspicious and would keep away on general principles. The results have shown that in future no one need allow such doubts to deter them from handling a snow shovel in this good cause; whatever suspicions the birds may have had, they evidently laid them aside very promptly, and took care that whatever other evils might befall, death by starvation should be avoided.

In my own town, Stoneham, Mass., 40 men and boys, mostly students of the high school, in one morning established about 50 feeding stations for the birds over an area of about ten square miles, and in many cases there were immediate results. The leader of one squad reported that at one point, even as the grain was being scattered on the uncovered ground, a flock of 20 quail approached within six feet of the relief party, and moved away only because a newspaper representative who was present tried to get too close a snapshot of them. This flock of quail returned to the spot the next day, and with them two ruffled grouse, and as they were unmolested, it is not to be doubted that they will visit this feeding station as often as they find themselves in need of food.

Personally, I was present at the establishment of eight feeding stations, and when I inspected these the next day I found that every one of them had been visited by birds. Judging by the foot prints in and about the cleared spaces, two had been patronized by crows only, but small birds were feeding or had been feeding at all the others. At one place two blue jays were enjoying themselves, hopping about and filling their throats and bills with cracked corn, afterwards flying off with their cargoes. At another point I saw a mixed flock of 20 juncos and tree sparrows; at another a flock of ten tree sparrows with a house sparrow among them, and at still another there was a flock of 30 snow buntings. At one place where suet had been tied to the branches and trunk of a tree, there was a flock of eight chickadees, all busy eating or carrying away little lumps to store in the bark of other trees, and not far off, on the side of a road, a red-breasted nuthatch was hammering vigorously at a piece of frozen fat which he had discovered nailed to a branch. Reports from other members of the relief party showed that of the 20 feeding stations inspected within 48 hours after their establishment, there were only two which did not show signs of having been visited by birds. One of the two cannot properly be counted, as it consisted of a quantity of suet which, to all appearances, had been carried off by a red squirrel. Many birds were seen in the act of feeding, tree sparrows, juncos, chickadees, house sparrows and snow buntings having been observed in the greatest numbers.

That this movement has been spreading from the start, and that it is still spreading rapidly, is due very largely to the efforts of the press. Editors all over the country, realizing that an effort to save the wild birds was of national importance, have given, and are still giving, to the subject an amount of space out of all proportion to its actual news value. Marked copies of papers are coming in from everywhere showing that not only have articles and editorials been written concerning the best way to relieve the birds, but that these articles and editorials have been copied and recopied by the papers which were unable to get the facts at first hand. That this good work of the press is bearing the fruit it deserves, is evidenced by the numbers of letters which reach us here from people who have read of the work done in other places, and who are now doing all they can in their own part of the country. And their efforts are, in many cases, being directly rewarded, by a closer friendship with the birds themselves. One lady writes that "her" chickadees have become so tame that they alight upon her hand to be fed, and a man reports that a flock of snow buntings which feed on hay-seed scattered for them on the lawn, actually fly toward him when they see him coming.

ERNEST HAROLD BAYNE.

CHANGED INTO MUTTON.

Strange Adventures of a Man Who Starts Out to Lose the Body of Cat He Had Killed.

Sneaking by the friends he met in the streets, with a guilty feeling that they might guess the package he carried contained a dead tomcat, a certain East Orange (N. J.) man was amazed when he reached his home to find that the cat wasn't a cat at all, but a fine leg of mutton. This man had heard about cat being served under other names in 35-cent table d'hote restaurants in New York city, but the reversal of that dinner custom puzzled him for a time.

He is in business in New York and is a pigeon fancier. Recently vagrant cats have been killing his pigeons, so he lay in ambush with a gun and shot one of the four-footed bird fanciers. He started to bury the dead cat in his back yard; then thought prying neighbors might think he was hiding a murder.

"I know what I'll do. I'll wrap the corpse in paper and throw it off the ferry boat when I cross in the morning," said he. The neat bundle was in his hand when he boarded the train in the morning. But on the boat he was surrounded by friends, and he reflected he might have to make an embarrassing explanation if he threw the bundle overboard. "An ash barrel in New York will doo," he thought. But, on reaching Manhattan, he found it hard to carry out his plan.

"I'll throw it overboard on the way home," said he. But on that trip he met more acquaintances, and as a result the cat still was with him when he boarded the train. He laid the package down beside him and tried to become absorbed in his paper, but the cat haunted him. When he reached his station he picked up the package and went home.

"Here," said he to the cook, "bury this in the back yard." She went out, but came back in a few minutes, looking surprised. "Why d'ye want to bury that, sir?" she asked, and she held out just as nice a leg of mutton as ever graced a table. He stared; then guessed the truth.

"I hope the other fellow who took that cat home doesn't learn who I am," said he, and he told the cook they'd have mutton for dinner. But what the other family ate is a painful question.

STOLE TO BURY BABY.

"I Can't Lock Him Up," Said the Police Captain After Hearing the Prisoner's Story.

It is reported from Kansas City that Charles Gartman was arrested in the act of robbing a public telephone box of $8.

"What are you crying about, you big baby?" asked a policeman, when he saw tears in the eyes of the prisoner as he was being searched at the Central station.

"There is a dead baby out at my house," the man answered, in a voice broken by sobs, "and my wife is sick. I didn't have a cent to bury the child."

There was a hush, and then Policeman McGinnis was sent to Gartman's home to investigate. The man had told the truth. The wife was very ill and the dead child lay on the bed by her side. When the policeman reported the captain ordered Gartman released.

"WHAT ARE YOU CRYING FOR?"

"I simply couldn't hold that man," said the captain. "It would be too heartless. It's our duty to lock him up, I know, but I can't do it. If the telephone company wants to prosecute him they will have to swear out a warrant."

Comfortable the Year Around.

VETERAN WARRIOR DEAD.

Count von Waldersee, One of Germany's Heroes, No More.

HANOVER, Germany, March 7.—Count von Waldersee, the famous German soldier, is dead.

The count's health had been impaired since his return from China, about three years ago, and various minor maladies indicated that his strength was leaving him.

Countess von Waldersee was Miss Mary Esther Lee of New York, whose first husband was Prince Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein. She went to New York last summer on account of the illness of her brother, who died while the countess was at sea.

Count von Waldersee, whose name has occupied a foremost position in the history of Germany for a generation and who was appointed by the German emperor generalissimo of the allied forces in China in 1900, was one of the principal surviving officers engaged in the Franco-Prussian war. He entered the German army about fifty-four years ago, when he was nineteen years old, and passed through many hard fought campaigns.

After his long and brilliant service the count was selected by the present emperor to fill the place of the celebrated strategist, Von Moltke.

Just before the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian war he was appointed aide-de-camp to the king of Prussia, and throughout that terrible campaign his bravery and intelligence led him to be considered as one of the most valuable officers of the Prussian army. He was commander of the Ninth army corps in 1891, in 1898 he acted as inspector general of the Third army corps and in 1900, when the crown prince of Prussia became of age, received the coveted reward of a field marshal's baton.

Cleveland and the Negro.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 7.—Thomas E. Watson, well known historian and lecturer and former Populist candidate for vice president, in a public card has stated that certain newspapers which published the letter of former President Cleveland denying that C. H. J. Taylor, a negro, ever dined at his table go too far when they announce under scare headlines that "No Negro Ever Ate at Cleveland's Table." Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Watson says, confined his denial strictly to Taylor. Continuing, Mr. Watson says: "It might not be fair to recall instances where negro representatives dined at the White House at state dinners, but it is perfectly fair to remind Mr. Cleveland of Fred Douglass. This negro, who had married a white woman, was not only treated with official consideration, but when Mr. Cleveland had his bride come to the White House, that he might wed there, he invited Fred Douglass and his wife to attend the reception."

Did Mrs. Dye Send Poisoned Candy?

BOONE, Ia., March 7.—Mrs. Sherman Dye is under arrest here charged with having sent poisoned candy to Miss Rena Nelson at Pierre, S. D. Miss Nelson, who is reported to be in a dying condition, was formerly an operator in the Boone Telephone Exchange. When arrested Mrs. Dye denied any knowledge of the poisoning of Miss Nelson, but admitted that she had cause for grievance against the young woman. Mr. and Mrs. Dye are reported to have been separated since last Christmas. Mr. Dye when told of the arrest of his wife declared that he did not believe there was any foundation for the charge against her. He admitted that he knew Miss Nelson.

Great Strike on April 1.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 7.—Two hundred thousand miners employed in the bituminous coal fields of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania will lay down their picks and refuse to return to work after April 1. This was determined upon when the miners in joint conference rejected the 5 per cent reduction from the operators, which had been offered as a compromise and also as the last and best bid that they would make to prevent a suspension.

High Cotton Shuts Down Mills.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 7.—A number of the cotton mill owners in Mexico have announced their intention to close down temporarily owing to the increased price of the raw material. They say that the increase they would have to make in the prices of manufactured goods would place them out of the reach of the poorer classes, and they declare that the manufacture of cotton goods in this country cannot be continued on the present basis.

Reward For Snyder's Slayer.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 7.—Sheriff Yeomans of Wayne county has offered a reward of $500 for the capture of Jerome Dermody, charged with the murder of Desmond Snyder near Lyons. The authorities appear to have exhausted every clew to the man's whereabout. Dermody has covered up his tracks completely. He bore the reputation of being about half witted, but he has baffled his pursuers in a way that would seem almost incredible.

Cincinnati's Oldest Banker Dead.

CINCINNATI, O., March 7.—William Austin Goodman, Sr., president of the National Lafayette bank and largely connected with other enterprises, is dead here, aged eighty-one. He had been longer in the banking business than any other citizen of Cincinnati.

Boer Contingent For St. Louis.

PRETORIA, March 7.—The Boer contingent which will give exhibitions at the St. Louis exposition have left here for St. Louis.

Decatur (Ill.) Fire; Loss, $75,000.

DECATUR, Ill., March 7.—The Race Clothing and Manufacturing store has been entirely destroyed; loss, $75,000.

SPORTING NEWS.

GOLF.

Providing the weather is favorable the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will open the season some time during April.

In addition to golf, the Westfield Golf Club expects to locate tennis courts near the clubhouse and devote considerable time to increasing the interest in this sport.

The Cranford Golf Club is beginning to arrange for the coming season and in a short time a schedule will be announced. It is predicted that this season will be the best in the history of the club.

TENNIS.

The Park Club has applied for admission to the East Jersey Tennis Association, recently formed, and there is no doubt but what the club will be accepted and prove to be a strong factor in the association.

ROD AND GUN.

The Bound Brook Gun Club will hold an all-day shoot at Bound Brook on Saturday. Merchandise prizes will be given.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Y. M. C. A. team will bowl the Letter Carriers' five next Saturday on the association alleys.

The postponed games between the Parks and the Cranford Casino bowling teams in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament, will be rolled on the alleys of the Park Club on Thursday night. The next regular match will be rolled between Roselle Casino and the Parks on the Park Club alleys, on Monday, March 14.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Dr. M. O'M. Knott, of Putnam avenue, has added two valuable hounds to his pack, purchasing them from the Meadbrook Hunt Club.

A delegation of thirty boys from the Rahway Y. M. C. A. was entertained by the members of the boys' department of the local association Saturday morning and afternoon. The features of the morning were basket ball, a tug-of-war won by the Plainfield boys, tag and a series of hustle ball games.

BASKET BALL.

After a hard battle in Orange Saturday night, the business men's basket ball team of the local Y. M. C. A. was defeated, 33 to 17, by the Orange Y. M. C. A. second team.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

"Little boy," inquired the minister, who had called to see the man of the house, "is your father a Christian?"

"Yes," replied the boy, "I think he is, but I don't believe he is working at it these days."—March Lippincott's.

President Charles Cuthbert Hall, of Union Theological Seminary, who is to speak at Hope chapel March 10, at 8 o'clock, was the third prominent representative of Christian scholarship to be sent as Haskell lecturer to India. This lectureship was established following the World's Congress of Religions at Chicago in 1893 for the purpose of presenting the appeal of the Christian religion to the most highly educated of the Eastern people by one who would be intellectually trained to meet their best thinkers on their own ground.

"Well, Bobby, how do you like church?" asked his father as they walked homeward from the sanctuary, to which Bobby had just paid his first visit.

"It's fine!" ejaculated the young man. "How much did you get, father?"

"How much did I get? Why, what do you mean? how much what?" asked the astonished parent at this evident irreverence.

"Why, don't you remember when the funny old man passed the money around? I only got ten cents."—March Lippincott's.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Baptist church, will hold its annual meeting on Friday night. Reports will be presented and officers elected.

Rev. L. G. Leggett, who has had charge of the work at the East Third Street chapel, is now assisting Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman in a series of evangelistic services at Pittsburg, Pa. The two evangelists are having considerable success.

An unusually encouraging Gospel service for the members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. was led by Harry Thompson yesterday afternoon. The speakers were Harry Thompson, Francis Anderson and William Flanders. Charles Titsworth sang a solo and the boys' orchestra played.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian church, will be held Friday. The subject will be "Stewardship."

The Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian church will meet tonight.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, will preach on the opera, "Parsifal," next Sunday evening.

Under the auspices of the music committee of the Congregational church a musicale will be given in the church on Thursday night.

Special services will be held every night, except Saturday night, in Vincent chapel, this week. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, the pastor, will be in charge. A special invitation is extended to all to attend these services. On Wednesday night the pastor will speak especially to men and Friday night the topic will be on Sunday-school work.

James R. Joy will give his illustrated lecture, "The Yellowstone Trail," under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, of Grace M. E. church, on Thursday night, March 17, to be followed by a sale of various articles.

Owing to illness, Arthur Drake, organist at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, was unable to preside at the organ yesterday. In the morning, Dr. E. W. Hedges and Herman Greinert, the latter of the choir, alternated as organist and at night Dr. Hedges acted in that capacity.

W. W. Clark, of New York city, will occupy Dr. Schenck's pulpit at Trinity Reformed church next Sunday morning and evening.

The meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church, to be held in the church parlors on Tuesday afternoon, March 8, at 3:30, will be the annual meeting and one of special interest. Rev. John Sheridan Zelie will give an address. Tea will be served at 5 o'clock and all are cordially invited.

Henry A. Pearce, who is preparing for the Presbyterian ministry at the seminary in New York, occupied the pulpit at Hope chapel last night.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Children's Home, 146 Jackson avenue, corner Westervelt. Mrs. Sarah A. Hendrickson, matron. Take Somerset street car to Jackson avenue and walk east two blocks. tf

—George Stevens, of Grant avenue, and F. T. Woodhull, of West Front street, have lost a number of valuable chickens recently through the depredations of stray dogs.

—Antonio Colanevi, of Cranford, who a few days ago fell on some ice, sustaining a fracture of the scalp, and who has been under treatment at Muhlenberg Hospital, has left the institution on his own responsibility. He refused to remain and be treated further. His condition is not favorable and his action may result disastrously for him.

In the future Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., will meet every Thursday night in the Knight of Columbus lodge rooms.

PLAINFIELD WORKMEN TO FIGHT THE PLAN

Delegation of Local A.O.U.W. to Attend the Grand Lodge Session on Thursday.

ASSESSMENT SCHEME

COLUMBIA AND CENTRAL LODGES AGAINST PROPOSED CHANGE.

Majority of Organizations Throughout the State Are Opposed to Supreme Lodge's Plan—A Hot Fight Is Expected.

Members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen are speculating as to the outcome of the meeting of the grand lodge, which will convene in Trenton Thursday morning.

Prominent Workmen from both local lodges will attend the Grand Lodge to register vigorous protest against the new rate. Those who have definitely decided to go include Past Grand Master Workman V. W. Nash, who has become the recognized leader of the anti forces throughout the State; J. W. A. Bauersachs, William Newcorn, C. T. Rogers, and Past Master Workman Wilson, of Central Lodge. Several others besides these will probably accompany them.

Both Columbia and Central Lodges are unreservedly committed against the proposed change and it is expected that their representatives will vote in accordance with those sentiments.

A prominent local Workman said yesterday that the great majority of the lodges throughout the State are opposed to the rate. The representatives, however, have been moulded under the influence of the Grand Master Workman, who is hotly in favor of the change.

While routine business and the work of electing officers will consume much of the time of the session, the most important item of business to be considered and decided will be the report of a special committee appointed to consider the new plans adopted by the Supreme Lodge and recommended to the grand lodges throughout the country as the correct financial basis upon which to run the entire order. This special committee has signed a report which declares in favor of the new plans, and its recommendation is that the grand lodge discard its present system and take up that outlined by the Supreme Lodge. This report will bring the question squarely before the representatives who assemble in Trenton and their votes will decide, for the time being, at least, whether the gradn lodge of this jurisdiction will continue under the old plan, or try the new one.

The history of the controversy extends over a period of more than six months, during which time the subject has been debated in nearly every lodge in this State. When the Supreme Lodge adjourned word was flashed throughout the country that the rates had been raised, and without waiting to understand the full text of the new law, many members began to condemn the action of those supreme representatives who voted for the new plans.

Pneumonia Service Certain.

Weather conditions of the last week or two may have inspired in some minds a doubt that spring has arrived. But it is here. Surer sign than the arrival of robins and blackbirds is heralded by the Public Service Corporation that the grim season of colds and grip and pneumonia is again "in our midst." An open car, one of the green line relics, was run this morning about 8 o'clock on the Arlington avenue line.

West End's Last Meeting.

There was nothing of a social nature to mark the last meeting of the West End Hose Company last night. There was a lot of political talk at the session, however, and final arrangements for the firemen's assault on the Republican ticket were made with a deputation of Warren Engine Company members who were in attendance.

Hose Carriage to Stay.

Besides transacting routine business last night, the members of the Exempt Firemen's Association voted unanimously to approve the report of the Board of Trustees declining to allow the Amity Hose silver carriage to be sent to St. Louis.

CITY AND BOROUGH SCHOOL RECIPROCITY

Plainfield Board of Education Agrees to Plan Suggested by North Plainfield Board.

MR. MAXSON'S REPORTS

REV. R. S. M'ARTHUR ANNOUNCED AS COMMENCEMEMT DAY SPEAKER.

State Authorities Pleased With Plainfield's Exhibit for St. Louis—Reports of Medical Examiners Were Made.

"Whereas, it occasionally happens that a pupil who is attending one of the city schools becomes a non-resident through removing to North Plainfield after the school year has begun, thereby suffering some loss through the enforced change in his school under the present rules of the Board, therefore

"Resolved, that in case such change of resident occurs after the first of October in any year, the superintendent of schools may permit such uppils to finish the school year in the city schools without charge for tuition,

"Provided, that the Board of Education of North Plainfield shall agree to reciprocate by giving similar permission to pupils in their schools who move to Plainfield."

The foregoing resolutions were presented to the City Board of Education at its March meeting last night by L. N. Lovell and adopted. Mr. Lovell had conferred on the matter with Samuel Townsend of the Borough Board and ascertained the practicability of the plan.

Supreintendent H. M. Maxson made his report on his recent trip to Atlanta, where he attended the convention of the National School Superintendents Association. The results of the discussion of the convention particularly mentioned were the importance of paying good salaries to teachers and limiting their classes to twenty-five pupils, and the necessity for teaching thoroughly the main point in a course of study, treating the minor points briefly. The report is given in full in another column.

Mr. Maxson announced that the speaker for the High School commencement exercises would be Dr. R. S. McArthur, of Calvary church, New York city. He also reported that the school exhibits for the St. Louis exposition had been sent to Trenton and that the State committee had expressed high approval of their general excellence. The best work of the pupils in each grade, Mr. Maxson explained, was exhibited on wings of a cabinet. There was sent also an exhibit by classes including papers prepared by each pupil, the whole bound at the expense of the State in thirty volumes of 150 pages each. Photographs of the classes at work completed the collection.

The matter of changing the time for receiving and advertising proposals to furnish fuel and school supplies was broached by Mr. Lovell and laid over until the next meeting. Owing to the severity of the winter, the supply of coal for heating the schools has run short, more coal being necessary this year than for many years past. The purchase of at least twenty more tons will be required.

It was announced that $2,223.60 had been received from the tax collector. The custodian of school moneys reported the disbursements of the month as $6,637.45 and the balance on hand as $28,350.65. The sum of $526.50 was received for tuition. The Board has improved over its last year's record of expenditures by $7,000. The medical examiners announced that they had examined ten pupils.

P. H. S. Honors.

The Board of Directors of the City High School, yesterday granted the privilege of wearing the P. H. S. insignia to J. L. Tweedy, F. H. Lock, C. H. Briggs, F. G. Gavett, R. Guinn. Tweedy, Lock and Briggs are hockey players and Guinn and Gavett basket ball.

REJECTED APPLICANTS MADE A BOLD ATTEMPT

Turner and Goff Tried to Get the Council to Reconsider Their Petitions.

BOTH TURNED DOWN

WEST THIRD STREET APPLICANT FILED A LENGTHY DOCUMENT.

Councilman Tyler Fought Councilman Lee's Scheme—No Reconsideration of Matter to be Given by the Council This Year.

The liquor interests of the Fourth ward made a bold attempt at the regular March meeting of the Common Council to have previous good work undone. A determined effort was made to secure liquor licenses for E. P. Turner for a saloon on West Third street, and for John J. Goff, of West Front street, near Clinton avenue. Both of these applicants were refused a license ten days ago at the time when all liquor licenses were considered, and the Common Council last night refused a reconsideration. Immediately after the first meeting the friends of the two rejected applicants began a house-to-house canvas, with the result that two big petitions signed by an innumerable host of Fourth ward people were presented asking that the applications be reconsidered and granted. The petitions were started with the signatures of William Fitzgerald, R. B. VanArsdale, Stephen H. Schleif, Randolph Marsh, T. J. Lyness and all of the names filled many pages of paper. At the request of the members of the Common Council all of the names were read.

In addition to these petitions, there was a communication from E. P. Turner, the applicant, in which he set forth certain facts in his claim for a license. Accompanying the communication were the affidavits of every man who signed his application, attesting to the fact that he owned property and that he signed for E. P. Turner.

Mr. Turner stated that John Shea was only acting manager at the saloon, that his failure to place the proper sign with his own name over the door of the saloon was an oversight, that he did not believe the Council could conceive of his wilfully violating the city ordinances thereby forfeiting his right to his license. On these grounds he asked for a renewal of his license. John J. Goff made no special plea on his own behalf.

Despite the fact that all of this business consumed a great amount of time, the Council unanimously, after a caucus, voted not to reconsider the applications, thus deciding the matter definitely for this year at least.

There were about one hundred people interested in these license applications seated in the lobby and they were obliged to remain throughout the greater portion of the meeting before learning of the result. The session was a long one and considerable business was transacted before the license question was taken up. Mr. Lee moved that the Council take a recess for ten minutes. Mr. Tyler at once wanted to know if it was intended to consider the license matter. Mr. Lee replied in the affirmative. He objected and a vote on the motion for a recess was called for. Messrs. Bullock, Daniel, Garrigues, Tyler and Wilson voted in the negative, while Messrs. Lee, Randolph, Gloak, Tolles and Higham voted in the affirmative. Mr. Murphy, who perviously took a decided stand against all license applications, was not present and it looked as though those favoring the applications were going to take advantage of his absence The vote to take a recess was lost for the time being and the matter was thrashed out partially in open Council.

Mr. Lee then called up E. P. Turner's application for a saloon license.

Before any action was taken, Mr. Tyler spoke at some length concerning the subject. He said that he judged that the crowd in the lobby favored the granting of the two applications asked for and considered the plan a pre-arranged one. He then related a story to illustrate his feelings and views on the subject. The story was humorous. At the conclusion Mr. Gloak suggested that the member confine himself to the subject. The member then expressed surprise over the action taken and cited the fact that Mr. Murphy, who took a stand against all licenses at the last meeting called for that purpose, was absent. He thought it unfair to railroad the matter through on short notice, while in the first instance everyone had plenty of time and opportunity to know what was being done. He told his fellow members that they all knew where he stood on the license question and that he opposed saloons in the residence sections of the city.

Mr. Tyler then proposed that the applications be left until such time as all of the members of the Council should be present, unless he could be convinced by some member that there were substantial reasons for immediate acation or a change from the first vote. He said he wanted to be perfectly fair in the matter and that if the members would agree not to vote on the two applications at this meeting he would vote to reconsider, or he would agree to caucus on the petitions presented provided a vote was taken afterward at the same meeting.

Mr. Lee at first refused to be bound by any such agreement. He said that at a previous meeting Mr. Tyler charged forgery in the case of E. P. Turner's license application, but now that the applicant had proved that his signers were all right and affidavits to hat effect had been presented, the thought that sufficient ground for granting the same.

Mr. Randolph stated that he voted against the application the first time on the same ground as Mr. Lee, but now that the matter had been explained he considered it unfair to turn the applicant down, especially as he had an established business. He said that he did not believe that any one could show him any irregularity in the application.

Mr. Bullock said he considered it unfair to take a vote at this meeting, when the full membership was not present.

Mr. Lee said that according to the ordinance it was absolutely necessary to consider the applications at this time, if at all this year, it being cited that such applications must be considered at the next meeting following the one call to act on them in case a reconsideration is desired. He mentioned the fact that the petitions presented at this meeting were signed by twice as many members as those at the previous meeting. In conclusion he agreed to Mr. Tyler's proposition, although he thought Mr. Murphy should be present to attend to business.

Mr. Garrigues said he could see no objection to taking a vote at this meeting. All the members were in a position to vote intelligently on the subject.

Mr. Lee spoke again saying that inasmuch as the other petitions against the applications were given full consideration he could see no reason why those in favor should not receive equal consideration.

Mr. Gloak finally moved that a recess be taken. This motion was carried with the full understanding that as amended it meant that the petitions should be considered and a vote taken on the applications. This being agreed to the Council took a recess and after due deliberation returned and unanimously voted on Mr. Tyler's motion, which was seconded by Mr. Lee, that there should be no further consideration of the two applications for liquor licenses. This ended the discussion and other business was considered.

GUN CLUB TO OWN RANGE

INDEPENDENTS PROPOSE TO PURCHASE THE MAPLE AVE. GROUNDS.

Plans have been made by the Independent Gun Club for an improved club house and range. At the last meeting of the club it was voted to vest a committee with power to purchase the grounds on Maple avenue on which the range is situated, and the committee has acted favorably on the project. A forfeit has been posted with the owner, and at the meeting to be held by the club tomorrow night final action in authorization of the purchase is expected to be taken.

There is a house on the grounds that the organization has been using, but it is the intention of the club to remodel the structure and make it much more appropriate to the character of its new owners, and add to its features as a comfortable headquarters for gunning enthusiasts.

It is probable that changes will also be made to the ranges and traps. They are in good shape and highly satisfactory, but the members aim at putting the club in the very first rank of its kind hereabouts in equipment.

BOROUGH ELECTION CLOSEST IN HISTORY

Heaviest Vote Ever Polled, indicating Goeat Fight to Down Administration.

THE LEADERS SANGUINE

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN PLAYING IMPORTANT PART IN BATTLE.

Mayor Smalley Leaves a Sick Bed to Marshal Republican Forces—A. V. D. Honeyman Directing the Citizens' Movement.

The borough is in the throes of the most hotly contested election in its history today.

Votes have poured into the ballot boxes in both districts since the minute the polls opened at 6 o'clock this morning, both sides working with intense energy to get every possible voter out.

Up to 1 o'clock a total of 610 votes had been cast in both districts, the record for that time. The registration is 1400. The firemen were on hand with their votes almost as soon as the polls opened. Fifty-seven of their sixty ballots where cast by 6:45 o'clock, and all but one of the full number were in by noon.

Both sides are still confident of a clean sweep. To a Daily Press reporter, who interviewed them at 1 o'clock, Mayor Smalley, who left a sick bed to marshal his forces, for the Republicans, and A. V. D. Honeyman, Walter Linbarger and Dr. Cooley, for the Citizens, said they expected to win every office at stake. They acknowledged that the vote would be close.

Besides the Mayor, the Republican fight is directed by B. A. Hegeman, Samuel Townsend, John Valiant and Charles F. Nichols. A. V. D. Honeyman, Dr. Cooley and Walter Linbarger are at the head of the Citizens' forces.

Senator Reed was seized with a heavy cold last night, and is too ill to take an active part in the electioneering. He is expected to come out tov ote, but will return to his home directly after. The polls close at 7 o'clock.

MAYOR RE-ELECTED CHAIRMAN

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE CHOSE OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR.

The Republican city committee organized last night in the offices of the secretary, William Newcorn, re-electing its officers: Chairman, Mayor O. L. Jenkins; vice chairman, Ernest R. Ackerman; secretary and treasurer, William Newcorn. The rules governing the 1903 committee were adopted and a committee of four was appointed by the chairman to revise the rules to conform with the new primary law. The committee consists of William Newcorn, J. Hervey Doane, Charles Foster and J. F. Buckle. Messrs. Acekrman, Smith, Doane and Buckle were appointed a finance committee.

The personnel of the city committee this year is the same as last with Charles Foster substituted for John H. Cose. It consists of O. L. Jenkins, J. F. Buckle and Horace Adams, from the First ward; J. H. Doane, J. E. Kesley and W. N. Runyon, from the Second ward; E. R. Ackerman, W. E. Kimball and Charles Foster, from the Third ward; and William Newcorn, Frank H. Smith and James Morrison, from the Fourth ward.

The 1903 committee completed its unfinished business for the year and adjourned sine die.

Sick Teachers.

Three of the borough High School teachers are detained from their classes by illness: Miss Ruth Hill, Miss Laura Sydenham and Miss Grace Anderson. Miss Hill was taken ill with grip at her home in Cortlandt, N. Y., where she was called by the serious sickness of a member of her family. Miss Susie Glass and Miss Emma Dorr returned to their duties at the school yesterday after several days' illness with grip.

Invited to Elizabeth Dance.

The Criterion Club has been invited to attend a dance to be held by the Elizabeth Dancing Class in Elizabeth on March 17. The invitation has been accepted.

Birthday Surprise.

Orrie P. Baker was surprised by a party of twenty last night at his home on Watchung avenue on the occasion of his twenty-first birthday.

BAKERS HESITATE TO INCREASE PRICES

Wheat Market Quotations in Flour Show Uncertainty That May Lead to Decline.

DISCUSSED BY BOSSES

IDEA TO CHANGE SIZE OF LOAF MEETS WITH OPPOSITION.

Association Adopts Set of By-Laws—All the Trade in the Movement—Another Meeting to be Held Tomorrow Night.

No action regarding the threatened rise in the price of bread was taken by the bakers at their meeting last night. The subject was again discussed from different standpoints, but it was felt that the state of the wheat market was too uncertain to warrant a decision as to an advance in price as yet.

There was a slight drop in wheat quotations yesterday, and the bakers were not sure that the price of flour would go to, or stay at, a point making a rise in the cost of bread necessary. The bakers are not desirous of putting up the price, and will hold off from that step just as long as they possibly can.

There has been some suggestion outside the bakers' ranks that the size of the loaf be reduced instead of a rise in price. This was adversely at the meeting last night. The bread makers are averse to reducing the size of the loaf. If any measure of self-protection is made necessary, they will put the price up.

Further steps in the permanent organization of the bakers were taken at the meeting. It was decided that the combination be known as the Boss Bakers' Association, and a set of by-laws were put together and adopted.

Five of the largest bakers in the city were at the meeting. The rest of the trade in the city are with them, and will join the association, bringing the membership up to about eleven.

CLEARING OUT CULVERTS

STREET COMMISSIONER ENGAGED IN OPENING SLUICEWAYS.

Aided by the thaw and the flooding rains, the street department is making rapid headway in cleaning the ice from the culverts. As a result of the peculiar weather conditions of the winter, the culverts all over town have been blocked completely by the ice, and the street men are just beginning to get the sluiceways free from the choking formations.

The condition of the culverts has been unusual, and the department is combatting a trouble it has not been confronted with in years. The block was the result of peculiar weather changes against which Street Commissioner Gavett could not prepare. A snowstorm, rain storm and a thaw sent a lot of slush into the culverts and a quick drop in temperature froze the mess in the ditches into solid masses of ice that choked the way as completely as if they had been cemented up.

The culverts were attacked immediately, but the cold weather, holding the ice to the iron lovers, made the work hard and slow, while the rain made the work disagreeable yesterday, the loosening of the ice blocks took away much of the difficulty of the task, and expedited it to a very appreciable extent.

Last week an attempt was made to thaw out the culverts with a big steam generating machine furnished by A. M. Griffen, but the experiment was not successful. While the machine was a good-sized one and bored through the ice to a certain extent, it was unable to do the work as quickly as the pick-axes of the street men.

Yesterday Commissioner Gavett's force worked on the big culvert at Park and Crescent avenues. There are a dozen more that are to be cleared. When the present task is finished the street men expect to be free from similar trouble until the possibilities of another winter confront them. It is not at all probable that the same peculiar weather conditions will arise again this season.

The prize of $5 in gold to the man who sold the most admission tickets to the Company K fair was won by Private Frazee who sold 170. A meeting of the fair committee was held last night and another one will follow next week for the settling of business connected with the fair.

COMMON COUNCIL'S IMPORTANT SESSION

Report of Myrtle Avenue Extension Commission Approved Last Night.

THE CAB DRIVERS' PLEA

CITY FATHERS UNABLE TO MAKE DONATION TO MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL.

Necessary Action Taken on Proposition to Erect High School—Garbage Disposal Committee's Report Delayed.

Before the regular order of business at the March meeting of the Common Council, last night, was considered, Mr. Gloak presented the report of J. Wesley Johnson, George Griffen and David Smalley, commissioners appointed to assess benefits and damages and inquire into the matter of opening up and laying out Myrtle avenue from the centre of Compton avenue to Green brook. The commissioners presented a lengthy report in which it was shown that they had completed their labors. They found the benefits greater than the damages and in a majority of cases the adjustment was a "stand off." A map accompanied the report and later in the evening Mr. Gloak offered a resolution, that as the cost of opening and laying out Myrtle avenue will cost $806.60 and that a just and equitable settlement has been effected with the property-owners, and no person appearing to oppose the improvement, the action of the commissioners be ratified and confirmed. This resolution was adopted.

In the regular order of business a communication was received from local cab drivers in which they asked the Council to amend the ordinance regulating their business, in that they will be permitted to stand at the curb at the North Avenue Station and solicit passengers; that that part of the ordinance compelling them to wear badges on their coats be repealed; that they be allowed to place the card-rate of fares underneath the seat in the cab instead of hanging it up and that a flat rate of 25 cents be fixed for each passenger, instead of fifteen cents for additional ones after the first passenger. The instances cited, it is claimed by the cab drivers, have a tendency to injure their business. The communication was referred to the proper committee.

Considerable time was taken up in the presentation of the necessary papers relative to the proposed High School building. Mr. Daniel introduced the matter, which has been made necessary by reason of the fact that a recent school law was declared to be unconstitutional. This necessitated that the Council adopt a new ordinance, readvertise for bonds and practically start anew in the whole matter. The ordinance was introduced and adopted, ordered advertised and that part relative to the issuance of bonds was properly attended to. It will be remembered that the sum decided upon for the purchase of land and the erection of the new school is $125,000 to be raised through the issuance of bonds, they to mature at different periods for a series of years.

In connection with the petition of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital asking the Council to appropriate $1,500 annually to that institution, Mr. Daniel presented an opinion from the city to do this. However, he believed that should the Board of Governors enter into a contract with the city to care for the indigent poor at the hospital, it would be proper to appropriate a sum of money for this purpose, thus escaping the provision of the law which prohibits donations. In view of this Mr. Daniel made a motion that the City Clerk communicate this opinion and the circumstances to the Board of Governors informing them that if such a contract can be made the Council might see its way clear to vote $1,000 to the hospital.

Mr. Tyler wanted to make the sum $1,500 and amended Mr. Daniel's motion. The amendment was lost.

Mr. Daniel said it would be necessary for the Council to retrench. Council did not desire to increase the tax rate, nor exceed appropriations, and care must be exercised.

Mr. Daniel also presented an adverse opinion from the corporation counsel on the petitions from the Firemen's Relief Association and the American Sabbath Tract Society, asking for exemption. Inasmuch as the two organizations were refused exemption by the commissioners of appeal, the

Many a Plainfield Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Plainfield people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Plainfield. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit avenue, says: "I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties."

FORTY-TWO CHILDREN.

Mormon President Finishes Trying Ordeal—Five Days Before Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—After having Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, on the stand in a long and trying ordeal for five days before the senate committee on privileges and elections, which is investigating the right of Reed Smoot to sit as a senator, both the prosecution and the defense announced that they were through with him, and another witness was called. This was Mrs. Clara Mabel Kennedy, who told some secrets of the Mormon church which if not broken down will prove as important as the statements of President Smith that he and other officers have been persistently cohabiting with plural wives in violation of the law. Mrs. Kennedy said she was married by Brigham Young, an apostle of the church, to James Francis Johnson, a polygamist, since the manifesto of 1890, and she has had two children by that husband. The marriage was performed in Mexico, according to the witness, at the home of a high official of the church.

The liveliest incident in the examination of President Smith came when Mr. Smith said that Reed Smoot became an apostle April 9, 1900.

"Right here let me ask you when your last child was born?" said Attorney Worthington.

"I don't know whether that has any bearing on the case," said Mr. Smith, "but I believe it was on the day Mr. Smoot became an apostle."

"Then there has been none since?" asked Mr. Worthington.

"No, sir."

"Then so far as you and Mr. Smoot are concerned you were in harmony?" remarked Senator Burrows.

Mr. Worthington inquired whether at any of the joint meetings of the first presidency and the apostles the question of polygamous cohabitation had been discussed. Mr. Smith said it had not either in an advisory talk or in regard to taking official action to prevent the practice.

He declared that when Mr. Smoot became an apostle the status of most of the polygamists had been fixed many years before. In answer to questions by Mr. Worthington and Senator Burrows, Mr. Smith said Senator Smoot had never advised for or against continuance of polygamous cohabitation.

Flood Threatens Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—"There is imminent danger of another great flood in this region," said Weather Observer De Main. "The north and west branches of the Susquehanna and the Juniata rivers are rapidly rising, and the indications are we will have the highest stage of water ever known in this locality. If the Sunbury gorge does not give way before the water above comes down the river here tonight, the Susquehanna will have reached as high a stage as last February. If the gorge gives way before the water comes down, the water in this region will go up still higher, and we will have a most disastrous flood."

Son Told Mother's Crime.

DETROIT, Mich., March 8.—A special from Harrisville, Mich., says: "Mrs. Chris Heinhold has confessed to a coroner's jury that she killed her husband at her home near Mikado, Alcona county, with an ax and buried his body in a snowbank. She said it was her intention to burn the corpse before the spring thaws would reveal her crime. Her five little children went to school and kept their mother's secret, but when an older son returned home Saturday night and heard his mother's story of his father's death he went to a neighbor's for the night and on Sunday informed the authorities."

Megaphoned Over Flood.

YORK, Pa., March 8.—By means of a megaphone communication has been established with the marooned inhabitants of Shelly's island, and all are reported safe. No news can be obtained from Duffy's island, the residents of which are also cut off by the flood and ice gorge in the Susquehanna river. A crop of Sumatra seed leaf tobacco belonging to I. B. Hostetter of York Haven has been destroyed. J. A. Dempwolf, who designed the York Haven power plant, estimates the damage to the property at $10,000.

is an argument that is bound to carry weight—that will compel consideration from those who can appreciate an opportunity absolutely without precedent or probable parallel. That war disturbances in Japan have advanced the cost of silks, and that woolens are higher now than they have been for years, are matters of history. In view of existing conditions and the fact that nearly every yard of goods involved in these vast assortments was secured before the rise and at splendid concessions, will undoubtedly make this the most talked about of all our extraordinary retailing achievements.

KOREANS RETALIATE

Russian Soldiers Killed While Robbing Natives.

SECOND ATTACK ON VLADIVOSTOK

Report That Americans Have Offered to Fit Out Ships With Letters of Marque to Prey on Japanese Commerce on the High Seas.

LONDON, March 8.—An official dispatch says the Japanese are again bombarding Vladivostok.

A late dispatch said that the Japanese were preparing to attack again.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says telegrams received from Vladivostok say that seven Japanese ships approached that port at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, entered Ussuri bay and after some maneuvering steamed out seaward.

It is reported from Seoul that the Russian soldiers operating in the vicinity of Anju are committing all manners of excesses, maltreating the native women and perpetrating robbery upon every opportunity.

Korean soldiers attacked a body of the invaders and succeeded in killing thirty of them.

It has been learned from an official source that the Russian authorities have been approached indirectly by American shipping firms desiring authority to fit out privateers to prey on Japanese commerce, but that they met with no encouragement.

In just what forms these offers came or in whose behalf they were made cannot be ascertained, as the government would not even consider them and has announced officially that Russia will not issue letters of marque.

The funds available for Red Cross work amount to $3,000,000. The scope of the work during the next six months contemplates the expenditure of $4,000,000.

Up to a late hour the Japanese legation here had received no official information regarding the bombardment of Vladivostok. It is believed at the legation, however, that the Japanese are now between the Russian cruiser squadron and Vladivostok, and there is reason to believe that the Russian squadron is in the vicinity of Possiet bay.

Russian official dispatches do not mention this squadron, and this fact lends color to the belief that the Japanese warships have shut it out of Vladivostok.

It is pointed out at the legation that if this is true the Russian vessels are in a critical condition since they must run the gantlet of the Japanese squadron off Vladivostok or the Japanese squadron off Port Arthur before reaching a Russian port.

A cable from Pingyang, Korea, says that 2,000 Russian cavalrymen, with seven guns, have retreated through Kusong and Sonchon toward Wiju. They destroyed the telegraph lines.

A Tokyo bulletin says:

"It is believed that the Vladivostok squadron is now in the vicinity of the mouth of the Tumen river engaged in covering the movements of Russian troops from Possiet bay to the valley of the Tumen."

A Chefu report says it is expected that the Japanese will reach the left bank of the lower Yalu on Thursday. A large force of Russians is strongly intrenched on the hills in the Antung district, adjacent and parallel to the river. Their position is similar to that which the Boers held on the Tugela river.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the czar has received a telegram to the effect that the Japanese fleet bombarded Vladivostok all day yesterday. Only trifling damage was inflicted, but one or two Japanese cruisers were sunk.

A Tokyo dispatch says a Japanese squadron has taken possession of Haiyangtao, one of the Elliot group of islands. They found only stores of coal and signaling flags there, the Russians having evacuated the island.

Catching Russia on the Hip.

LONDON, March 8.—Answering a question in the house of commons, Premier Balfour said the government considered of greatest importance Russia's declaration that she proposed to treat coal as contraband of war. He was aware that the Russian plenipotentiary at the west African conference at Berlin in December, 1884, declared that Russia never would accept an interpretation that coal should be considered by international law as contraband of war and that his government would categorically refuse to consent to recognize coal as contraband either in relation to the Kongo or any other district whatever. In view of this, Mr. Balfour concluded, the British government was taking steps to obtain more precise information in regard to the interpretation of the Russian declaration respecting contraband of war.

Spilling of Acid Caused Big Fire.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., March 8.—More than half of the local plant of the Fiberloid Manufacturing company, manufacturers of celluloid collars and novelties, was destroyed last night by a fire started through the accidental breaking of a carboy of acid. The loss will exceed $70,000, of which $20,000 is on the building and the remainder on manufactured goods.

To Probe High Price of Paper.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Representative Lilley of Connecticut has introduced a resolution in congress directing the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate the cause of the present high price of white paper used for the printing of newspapers and whether it is caused by a trust or combination.

AN OHIO LYNCHING

Batters Springfield Jail Door to Get Negro Murderer.

POLICE OFFICER SHOT IN COLD BLOOD

Crowd of Fifteen Hundred Takes Prisoner From Jail, Riddles Him With Bullets and Hangs Body to a Telegraph Pole.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 8.—At 11 o'clock last night the negro Richard Dixon was taken from the jail and shot to death in the jailyard here, and the body was taken from there to the corner of Main street and Fountain avenue and hung to a telegraph pole, where the mob spent the next half hour riddling the body with bullets from several hundred revolvers.

The mob forced an entrance to the jail by butting in the east doors with a railroad iron. At 10:50 the mob melted rapidly, and it was the general opinion that no more attempts would be made to force an entrance.

At 10:45 the police were satisfied that there was nothing more to fear, and they, with other officials and newspaper men, passed freely in and out of the jail. Shortly before 11 o'clock a diversion was made by a small crowd moving from the east doors around to the south entrance.

The police followed, and a bluff was made at jostling them off the steps leading up to the south entrance. The crowd at this point kept growing, while yells of "Hold the police!" "Smash the doors!" "Lynch the nigger!" were made, interspersed with revolver shots.

All this time the party with the heavy iron railing was beating at the east door, which shortly yielded to the battering ram, as did the inner lattice iron doors. The mob then surged through the east door, overpowered the sheriff, turnkey and handful of deputies and began the assault on the iron turnstile leading to the cells.

The police from the south were called inside to help keep the mob from the cells, and in five minutes the south door had shared the fate of the east one.

In an incredibly short time the jail was filled by a mad mob of 250 men, with all the entrances and yard gates blocked by fully 1,500 men, thus making it impossible for the militia to have prevented access to the negro had it been on the scene. The heavy iron partition leading to the cells resisted the mob effectually until cold chisels and sledge hammers arrived, which were only two or three minutes later in arriving.

The padlock to the turnstile was broken, and the mob soon filled the corridors leading to the cells. Seeing that further resistance was useless and to avoid the killing of innocent prisoners, the authorities consented to the demand of the mob for the right man. He was dragged from the cell to the jail door and thence down the stone steps to the paved court in the jail yard. Fearing an attempt on the part of the police to rescue him, the leaders formed a hollow square. Some one knocked the negro to the ground, and those near to him fell back four or five feet.

Nine shots were fired into his prostrate body, and, satisfied that he was dead, a dozen men grabbed the lifeless body, and with a triumphant cheer the mob surged into Columbia street and marched to Fountain avenue, one of the principal thoroughfares in the town, where the body was hung up and riddled with bullets.

Collis was shot by Dixon while the latter was in his room in a hotel here removing his baggage. He had decided to quit the place, and, fearing trouble with Anna Corbin, a woman with whom he was acquainted, Dixon asked Collis to go to the hotel with him. While in his room Dixon and Miss Corbin quarreled, and Dixon is said to have shot her in the breast. The policeman then attempted to arrest Dixon, when the latter fired into the officer's body, inflicting fatal wounds.

Train Robber Broke Jail.

ROANOKE, Va., March 8.—A telephone message from Staunton, Va., says that John Kennedy, the train robber under sentence to hang next Monday, escaped from the Staunton jail last night. The jailer left a negro to guard the condemned man. Taking advantage of his opportunity, Kennedy seized a club and dealt the negro a blow on the head, felling him to the floor. Kennedy then escaped from a window, using a section of rubber hose to reach the ground.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

It is suspected that Elmira's (N. Y.) $200,000 fire which burned two theaters was incendiary.

There was no decision yet at Washington in the supreme court on the Northern Securities case.

The New Jersey legislature may postpone till next year a decision as to the abandonment of the Morris canal.

A condemned murderer has escaped from prison at St. Joseph, Mo., by locking the jailer and sheriff in his cell at a pistol's point.

The mine workers' national convention at Indianapolis, Ind., has voted to refer the operators' wage offer to the locals for decision.

The British war secretary has announced that a new field and horse artillery gun, unrivaled in Europe, has been adopted for the army.

George H. Secor, cashier of the freight department of the Lackawanna railroad, has been arrested charged with stealing $10,000 from the company. He says he loaned it to employees.

AULES, FAVORITE, WINS.

Racing at New Orleans Went Against Choices.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—Aules which won the fifth race by a head in a drive, was the only winning favorite. Fuller has been engaged to ride Ostrich in the Crescent City Derby on Saturday.

First Race—June Collins won, Our Jessie second, Boundling third.

Second Race—Dr. Loder won, Sparrow Cop second, Weird II. third.

Third Race—The Regent won, Luralighter second, Clangor third.

Fourth Race—Prodigal Son won, Bengal second, Jake Weber third.

Fifth Race—Aules won, Sabinal second, Hickory Corners third.

Sixth Race—Gracious won, Louis Kraft second, Weird third.

Exciting Races at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 8.—The fifth race furnished excitement at Ascot. There were only four starters, and they ran abreast for a mile. Then Namtor and Mezzo drew away a length and fought it out to a nose finish, the former getting the decision in the last jump. Jockey Arthur Redfern, who was ruled off the track last Friday for refusing to obey the judges' orders to ride Laureatea, was reinstated. The order, however, still holds good against Redfern's father, who was ruled off at the same time.

Sunday Ball at Ridgewood.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8. — "The New York American league club will play exhibition games at Ridgewood park, New York, on Sundays during the coming season." This announcement was made by President Ban Johnson of the American league upon his arrival in this city last night. Mr. Johnson explained that he had had a conference with Garry Herrman of the National league on the matter and that the result arrived at was that the New York Americans would play at Ridgewood.

Swimming Record Broken.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., March 8.—A wonderful swimming match between "Splash" Cavill, champion of the antipodes, and Aleck Wickham, a colored native of the south sea islands, took place at Farmer Domain's baths, near Sydney. The race was a 100 yard invitation race. Cavill won the race and broke the world's record of 58 3-5 seconds, covering the distance in 58 seconds. The American tank record is 1 minute 1 2-5 seconds, made by Harry Le Moyne at the New York Athletic club.

Lord Won at Pinehurst.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The qualifying round for the Pinehurst Golf club championship was played on Saturday. A. E. Lord, Columbia Golf club, Washington, had the best gross as well as the best net score. As he could only take one prize under the circumstances, he selected the gross score trophy, while the net score prize was given to the next best man, J. P. Crane, Winchester Country club, Massachusetts.

David S. Beat Pat Morrissey.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—At Oakland the track was very muddy, and the public did not have much success in picking winners, only two favorites winning. One of the surprises came in the fourth, when David S. beat the heavily played first choice, Pat Morrissey, half a length.

Wrestling Match a Draw.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The wrestling match for the lightweight championship of the world between George Bothner and Eugene Tremblay, the Canadian champion, was declared a draw after two hours of wrestling.

Two Consulates Burned.

COLON, March 8.—The German cruisers Vineta and Falke have arrived here. The Falke brings news of an extensive fire at Bocas del Toro which destroyed almost the entire commercial part of that town. The fire burned for seven hours. In all about 100 buildings were destroyed. The damage is estimated at $500,000. The American and German consulates were destroyed. The buildings of the United Fruit company and Delder's retail store were saved. The Falke landed all her crew to fight the flames, and without their timely assistance the whole town would have been totally wiped out.

Steamer Essex Sank Schooner.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 8.—The five masted schooner Gardiner G. Deering, Captain Ross, from Boston, was run down and sunk by the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company's steamer Essex, Captain Johnson. Captain Johnson of the Essex on arrival refused to make a full statement regarding the accident. It is said that the heavy fog on Chesapeake bay was responsible for the collision. The crew of the schooner, numbering eleven men, were picked up by boats from the Essex.

Naval Appropriation Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The senate has passed the naval appropriation bill, which has been before it for the past four or five days, and then took up the army bill. The principal question debated in connection with the naval bill related to the price and method of supplying armor plate for battleships.

Malt Kiln Blaze; Loss, $100,000.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Fire has almost destroyed a malt drying kiln operated by the George Bullen company, causing a loss of $100,000. John Hubbard, a fireman on the fireboat Illinois, was so severely injured by the bursting of a water plug that he died.

Town in Which Negroes Are Only Inhabitants—Visitors Warned to Go Before Sundown.

Indian territory has several exclusive negro towns. One is called Rentiville, after one of the promoters, and is located 15 miles south of Muskogee, on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad. The Creek nation has a number of other negro towns, among them being one known as Widcat. It is a government town site. Everything in the place is the property of colored people. The people of no other race are allowed to settle there, says the Kansas City Journal. It is said of those acquainted with the place that if an occasional white person chances to come in on business or otherwise the word is soon passed around to him: "White man, don't let the sun go down on you here." A hint is all that is necessary.

Another negro town is Wybark, located on the Arkansas river, at the point where the Oklahoma branch of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad leaves the main line north of Muskogee. This place is a shack town and is well known to commercial men making the territory. By many it is regarded as upper "tendom" in colored society on account of the location of a negro academy within a short distance.

Canada and Scotland.

Canadian exporters are year by year gaining a stronger position in the Scotch market. About half of the apples imported now are from the Dominion. The system of inspection at Canadian ports and at British ports, whereby the quality of the fruit is in a measure guaranteed, has proved useful to the shipper as well as to the buyer.

Fine Cattle Country.

All the region of the upper Amazon and its tributaries offers magnificent facilities for cattle ranching. When the higher lands are reached there are vast stretches of prairies, or "savannas," as they are called, with a climate like spring all the year, where cattle enough to supply a continent can be raised, practically without expense.

Severe.

Chinese brides are carried to their bridegroom's residence in closed sedan chairs, and no one is allowed to see them. The other day two young men at Tsing-kiangpu pulled aside the curtains to get a peep at the frightened girl. They were promptly arrested, condemned and beheaded.

What Geologists Think.

Geologists have come to the conclusion that Australia and Tasmania were formerly united by a land bridge, and that it was on it that Tasmanian animals entered Victoria.

FIRST BLOOD FOR HILL.

Choice of Albany Does Not Harmonize All Democratic Camps.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The effect on the political situation in the Democratic party of the choice by the Democratic state committee of Albany as the place for the state convention which will be held on April 18 has been far from harmonizing. Arraying as it did the adherents of Charles F. Murphy and David B. Hill into hostile camps, with first blood for the Hill contingent, it opens up possibilities of a session in Albany next month of a livelier character than the party has experienced in years.

The local fight between Leader Murphy of Tammany and State Committeeman Patrick H. McCarren of Kings, the man who overthrew McLaughlin and who voted with Hill on Saturday, bids fair to be a fight to the death. Murphy has designated William A. Doyle as dispenser of patronage for Kings county, vice McCarren. The friends of the two leaders say that the breach between them cannot be bridged and that so long as Murphy is leader of Tammany there will be no truce with McCarren.

TO DEFEND CANAL.

Two Battleships and Two Battalions Must Be on Continuous Duty.

WASHINGTON, March 8. — The comptroller of the treasury has received a communication from the secretary of the navy, who, after quoting the act of June 28, 1902, which authorizes the construction of an isthmian canal and its defenses and appropriating $10,000,000 toward the project, says:

"After a conference with the president on the subject this department proposes to keep on or near the isthmus of Panama for the 'defense of said canal, harbors and defenses' two battalions of marines, each consisting of about 415 men and officers. Provision must be made for the temporary housing of these men in barracks of some sort while on this duty, which may be of extended duration inasmuch as protection of this character will perhaps be required during the entire period of the construction of the canal.

Allentown Has No Light.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 8.—Allentown is having its first flood experience of the season. Not an electric light in the street or in the home is burning except where there are individual plants. The power house of the Allentown Electric Light and Power company is flooded. Trolley cars are still running, however, the company's power house being located on higher ground than that of the light company. The temporary bridge built by private capital over the Lehigh river at a cost of $15,000 nearly two years ago, when a flood had swept away the county bridge, was carried down the stream by avalanches of ice, cutting off road connection with Bethlehem and Easton.

Red Tape Sets Suspect Free.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—William Hill, the alleged slayer of James Morris at Greensboro, N. C., July 4, 1900, who was arrested in Harrisburg ninety days ago on a charge of murder, was set free because Governor Pennypacker refused to honor requisition papers from the governor of North Carolina.

Eight-year-old Boy Crushed.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 8.—While attempting to board a moving Lackawanna shifting engine here Archie Roach, the eight-year-old son of Policeman Thomas Roach, fell under the wheels and was crushed to death.

A MERCHANT MARINE

Secretary Shaw's Plea For Encouragement of Shipping.

"WE STAND AT FOOT OF THE LIST"

"With More Natural Resources and With a Larger Foreign Commerce Than Other Nations, Our Transport Facilities Are Poorest."

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night at the Union league by the bankers of Philadelphia. Among the guests present were many prominent bankers from Boston, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Albany, Newark, Trenton, Pittsburg and Chicago. Thomas DeWitt Suyler presided. Secretary Shaw responded to the toast "Our Merchant Marine." He said in part:

"In proof of the fact that the American people are becoming interested in international transportation facilities, I have only to cite the fact that at the present session of congress nearly a score of bills have been introduced for the avowed purpose of encouraging the growth of our merchant marine.

"The American people are not proud of the fact that, while the United States ranks first in natural resources and in developed resources, with a larger foreign commerce than any other nation save one, she stands at the very foot of the list in her facilities for transporting these resources to the ports of other countries.

"Those who advocate a subsidy are accused of being in league with a shipping trust. There is no shipping trust, except it be in the ownership of vessels built in foreign yards, of foreign materials, with foreign labor and foreign alien colors. These cannot participate in an American subsidy.

"Do not understand me as intimating the only way to secure a merchant marine is by means of subsidy. I do desire to be understood, however, as favoring a merchant marine.

"It is a demonstrated fact that a merchant marine will not grow as weeds grow. Our manufacturing interests have been developed under the fostering care of the government. Our transcontinental railroads are the fruit of wise, though severely criticised, legislation. We are fast acquiring a navy to be proud of and are fast becoming proud of the navy we have. Yet the American people are willing to pay the price of a merchant marine.

"Let us hope that before congress adjourns a commission will be created to investigate the subject. Let us hope that at the convening of the next session this commission will file a well considered report. Let us hope that thereupon such action will be taken as in the wisdom of congress shall be deemed appropriate. The end is of such farreaching importance as to justify the most painstaking investigation and most fearless statesmanship."

Rochester Arcade on Fire.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 8.—Following close on the heels of the disastrous fire of ten days ago came another fire on Main street, which appeared so threatening at the start that a general alarm was sent out. The fire was located in the historic Reynolds' arcade, near the corner of Main and State streets. The loss is estimated at $23,000. When the firemen once got at the source of the fire it was soon put out, but not before it had spread to the airshaft of the Elwood building, on State street, an office building, causing a general exit of the tenants.

Prisoner Killed by Policeman.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 8.—Silas Jones, alias "Fortune Teller," was sot and killed while attempting to escape from officer "Hank" Smith, who had him under arrest. The police for a week have been looking for Jones, who was released from the penitentiary about ten days ago, where he had served three years for window smashing and robbery. During the time he has been out of jail three burglaries have been committed which the police claim to have traced to the negro killed by Officer Smith.

Sentence of Embezzler.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 8.—John T. Shoener, ex-clerk of the Schuylkill county courts, has been sentenced by Judge Marr to undergo three years' imprisonment at separate and solitary confinement with labor, to repay the county all money still due and to pay the costs of the proceedings against him. This is the conclusion of the action brought against Schoener for retaining liquor license fees, he having been convicted of technical embezzlement.

A. O. U. W. Suit Settled.

BOSTON, March 8.—An agreement was reached by the contending factions of the Massachusetts grand lodge, A. O. U. W., in the United States circuit court here by which the officers of the grand lodge who favor continued affiliation with the higher body promise to expend none of the lodge's funds unless it be for death benefits.

Collieries Flooded Near Shamokin.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 8.—Most of the collieries in this section of the anthracite region have been flooded so badly by high water that they were forced to shut down. Shamokin creek has overflowed its banks, doing considerable damage in the farming sections in addition to the flooding of the mines.

Office of Coroner Abolished.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 8.—The senate has passed Senator Elsberg's bill abolishing the office of coroner in New York city.

SUPT. H. M. MAXSON REPORTS MEETING

Deliberations and Results of National Gathering of Superintendents at Atlanta.

METHODS IN EDUCATION

MORE MANUAL WORK CONSIDERED AN IMPORTANT NEED.

Too Much Time Devoted to Minor Points, and Essentials Not Given the Attention They Demand—Better Pay for Teachers.

The report of Superintendent Henry M. Maxson on his recent attendance at the convention of school superintendents at Atlanta, Ga., was submitted to the Board of Education at its meeting last night. It is as follows:

"Through the favor of the Board, I attended the meeting of the National Superintendents' Association, at Atlanta, during the week of Washington's birthday. There was a large attendance of delegates from practically all the states east of the Rocky Mountains, eleven being present from New Jersey. The weather was admirable, being too warm even for a spring overcoat during all our stay in Atlanta.

"The discussions were interesting and profitable, the chief subjects being as follows: Education at the St. Louis Exposition; The Course of Study; Recognition of Teachers' Cerificates; Supply and Compensation of Teachers; Improvement of Rural Schools; Administration and Supervision; and The Extension of Public School Privileges in the way of lectures, evening schools, and other uses of school buildings.

The most interesting and instructive of the subjects seemed to me to be the discussion of the Course of Study. It was held that the course of study should be formed by the superintendent but with the advice and co-operation of principals and teachers. That in carrying it out the individual teacher should be given great freedom of action, but the superintendent should supply stimulus to enable her to carry it out in the most intelligent and effective manner. It was thought that the course should contain more manual work than it usually does in the form of basketry, weaving, knife work, cooking, and similar occupations. It was interesting to note that no one raised the question as to whether the course should include the subjects that it now includes; there was general agreement that no subject should be dropped, that while there should be more manual work this should not mean less of the knowledge subjects.

At the same time, there was a strong opinion that much special matter and many minor topics might be eliminated from the work. Too often a teacher is governed by an excessive idea of thoroughness and seems to think that everything which a subject contains must be included. The modern thought seems to be that, while we should strive for thoroughness, it should apply to the general treatment, that the main point in a subject should be well taught and the minor points and non-essentials passed over with very brief treatment. In arithmetic, for instance, many of the old-time subjects are now omitted, as reduction, ascending and descending, for more than one or two steps; the greatest common divisor, and least common multiple; stocks and bonds; compound interest; true discount; compound proportion; cube root, and similar subjects. In geography we now make a careful study of the United States but only a general study of the other continents. In history we follow lines of development but lay little stress on wars and battles. It was maintained that the aim of the school is not so much the accumulation of knowledge, as it is the formation of good habits and the fitting of the child for success in the environment that is to surround him in manhood.

In the discussion of administration, the prominent points maintained were that it is not wisdom or economy to give a teacher more than thirty pupils. It has been our own rule to keep the number down to thirty-five as far as circumstances would permit, but I regret to say that at present very many of our classes run above this number because we lack accommodations for formation of new classes. It was held that the teachers should be required to obtain ample preparation for the work before entering upon it, and that the best teachers should be sought far and wide regardless of residence. Also, that teachers should be paid salaries that will enable them to mingle with good society and travel to some extent during vacation. At present, the salaries in most places do not permit this, and each year the profession is suffering from dearth of good talent because salaries have not been increased in proportion to the cost of living and the rise in other occupations.

On the return trip, I took occasion to stop off and inspect Hampton Institute, and found much that was interesting and instructive.

Respectfully submitted,
H. M. Maxson.

Council cannot grant the request.

The following changes in the city park commission were announced by President Tolles: Mr. Tolles takes the place of J. F. Buckle, W. A. Garrigues succeeds Jan. vanHerwerden, the latter takes the place of George P. Mellick, Daniel F. Ginna takes the place of S. A. Ginna, while D. S. MacLaren succeeds E. T. Barrows.

A. L. Otterson and other residents in the vicinity of Evergreen and Hillside avenues, asked the Council to extend the hack and cab ordinance to that territory. The matter was referred. James W. DeGraff's petition to have Randolph road macadamized was also referred.

A petition presented by Elston M. French to the State Board of Taxation was referred. Mr. French claims that an excessive value has been placed on some lots of his. The bond of Constable Gjettlesen was presented and referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Gloak offered a resolution ordering the purchase of two additional sprinkling carts, at a cost of $325 each. This will give the city eight carts in all, a sufficient number for the work. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Gloak introduced an ordinance relative to the removal of snow, ice and weeds from sidewalks, ordering the removal of ice and snow within twelve hours after daylight and weeds and other obstructions after three days' notice. The ordinance was adopted on its usual readings and ordered advertised with minor amendments.

Mr. Tyler asked for an extension of time on the garbage commission report and Friday, March 18, was set for its presentation.

Mr. Lee stated that 2,000 feet of new hose for the fire department had arrived. Mr. Randolph reported that sanitary traps have been placed in the cells at police headquarters.

MISS DURYEA'S REPORT.

Address Before Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed Church.

Mrs. Amy Duryea, of Newark, who has been engaged in the Indian mission work at Colony, Oklohoma, under the direction of the Reformed Church in America, addressed the members of the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday afternoon. She told of the excellent work being done among the Indians.

The society voted $25 toward the erection of a memorial parsonage at Colony in memory of the late Mrs. Horton, who for years was secretary of the Woman's Executive Board of Home Missions. She died at Cranford several months ago.

JOE BARRY DEAD.

Well-Known Baseball Player a Victim of Pneumonia.

Joseph Barry, one of the most popular baseball players in the city, died this morning at his home 529 South Second street, after a brief sickness from pneumonia. He was catcher on the St. Mary's nine from its organization, playing last season in the outfield. He was about twenty-one years old and was employed by the Crescent Embossing Company. He is survived by his mother, two sisters and two brothers. He was prominently identified with Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, and with the St. Mary's T. A. B. Society.

Poles Punished.

Two of the seven Poles captured in the raid on Saturday night were punished by Recorder Doud in the borough court last night. One was fined five dollars and the other was imprisoned in the borough jail. The other five asked a postponement and will be heard tomorrow night.

Trolley Service Stopped.

Trolley and vehicle traffic has been suspended over West Front street at De Kalb avenue by the breaking of a culvert and the flood sent down by the heavy rain. Wagons are sent through the fields, and the P. S. C. is transferring its passengers.

Enjoying Old Age.

Mrs. Agnes Pangborn, of 27 Jackson avenue, celebrated the eighty-fourth anniversary of her birthday on Sunday. She possesses excellent health.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The followers of baseball in the borough will be pleased to learn that the star twirler, Ettlinger, will again pitch for the local team this season. Mr. Ettlinger had planed to spend the summer at the St. Louis Exposition but has now decided to stay in the East and will cast his lot with us on the diamond.

Joseph Kelley has returned from a few days' visit with friends in Connecticut.

Work on the new turn-table is almost completed and it is expected to be in operation in about a week.

The postponed bowling match between the local team and Bound Brook will come off this evening on Taylor's alleys.

Two cars of a west bound freight train jumped the track at Greenbrook late Sunday night and blocked the two west bound tracks for about an hour. The cars were soon replaced and the damage was trifling.

Miss Mildred Tinan has returned to her home in Newark after a few days' visit with her aunt, Mrs. John Logan.

William Giles, the crack short stop, has denied the report that he has signed with the Alis team, of Plainfield, for the coming season, and states that he intends to play on the local team. This is very gratifying to the management as Giles is a good all-round man and his loss would be felt keenly.

Theodore Apgar has broke ground on Front street for a new six-room dwelling.

Considerable interest has developed in the present election during the past few days. Both parties seem confident in carrying their ticket but the wise ones say the returns tonight will give them all a surprise.

The man killed at Greenbrook Saturday night has proved to be John Linning, of Brooklyn. A brother identified him and the body will be taken there tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Kissam, of New York, have returned home from a visit with Mrs. Kissam's sister, Mrs. James Craig.

The recent rains have caused several wash-outs on West Front street between Clinton avenue and Dunellen.

The local lodge of the Jr. O. U. A. M., has challenged the Foresters to a bowling contest to be decided in the near future.

Action on the freeze-up of the culverts was taken by the Council at its March meeting last night. The committee on streets was ordered to open them as soon as possible. Bills to the amount of $1,200 were ordered paid. Contrary to expectations no communications were received from the Board of Trade.

The Council confirmed the election of Fire Chief Charles Wyhusky last night.

NEW MARKET.

Charles Ward, who has been laid up for the past week with lumbago, has returned to work.

William VanNuis has returned from a visit with friends in Middlebush.

Miss Cora Dayton has returned from an extended visit with her aunt, Mrs. Drake, of Piscataway.

Edward Winder and family, of West Dunellen, have taken up their residence on Chestnut street.

The meeting of the Y. M. A., which was to have taken place last evening, was postponed until next week.

Miss Ada E. Williams, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis in Muhlenberg Hospital, is rapidly improving and expects to be able to resume her duties in the High School shortly.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Edward Johnson is confined by illness to his home on Park avenue.

Clinton Clark is ill at his home on Front street.

The Byno fire on Saturday night showed that the local fire department has not become familiar with the location of the fire hydrants in town. The hose cart was run nearly to Stansbury's corner when the nearest hydrant to the fire is near the Liberty pole on the green. Another thing was proven that allays the fears of many of the hydrants are not frozen up as was feared.

Fanwood Council, R. A., meets in the library rooms tonight. A full attendance of the members is desired as there will be an initiation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Files, of East Sixth street, have been visiting Mrs. Files' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Frentz, of Westfield avenue.

The members of the K. O. G. Club will hold another of their series of dances in the fire house, Fanwood, on Thursday night.

George H. Guest and family have taken possession of their new house on Stout avenue, the change taking place on Saturday.

Miss Cora Miller, who has been detained at home for several days with a severe attack of grip, is recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Henry, of West Fourth street, have been visiting Mrs. Henry's sister, Mrs. George A. Clark.

Miss Susie Parse has returned from a visit of several days with Mrs. John R. Cochrane, of Vanderbilt avenue, Brooklyn.

Miss Ruth Shott, of The Manse, has been detained at home for several days, suffering from a severe cold.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold a smoker in their rooms on Thursday night of this week. Delegations from several neighboring councils are expected and the entertainment committee is arranging a programme of special interest to the Juniors.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

M. W. Payne is repairing the house on Dr. W. J. Nelson's farm in Piscataway.

Registerar of Deeds Established.

The bill passed by the Legislature providing for the establishment of the office of registrar of deeds in Union county has become a law, Governor Murphy having attached his signature to the measure yesterday. Collector F. H. Smith, of this city, is slated for the job.

Y. M. C. A. Dinner.

The Y. M. C. A. committees just appointed by President Stephen Cahoone for 1904, will be entertained at dinner in the association hall on Saturday night.

Justice VanSyckel Out.

Justice Bennett Van Syckel, of the Supreme Court, has sent to Gov. Murphy his resignation, to go into effect at once. Poor health is the cause.

—At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, P. H. Latourette, auctioneer, will conduct an auction sale for John Ross, at 339 East Sixth street. See ad.

—The boys' entertainment of the Y. M. C. A., in which A. E. Hendrickson, shadowgraphist and magician, will perform will take place tonight. Violin selections will be given by W. Frank Malin.

JINRIKISHA COOLIES

IMPORTANT PART THEY PLAY IN JAPANESE WAR PROGRAMME.

Every Regiment Provided with a Corps of These Strong, Nimble Men for Packing and Hauling and Heavy Work.

The Japanese army is unique in its possession of a corps of workers which lessens the demands upon the fighting men of the army and makes their burdens lighter, thus giving them greater mobility and swifter movement, and saves their strength for the actual conflict on the battlefield. No other military organization in the world has a similar service, and this is probably due to the fact that no other nation has its jinrikisha men from which to form such a valuable army adjunct. For centuries the method of travel in the little island kingdom of Japan has been by means of man power. Before the inventive genius of an American gave to the Japanese the convenient and easy carriage on wheels called jinrikisha, the kago, or basket car, was used. These were carried by two or four men.

Thus there came to exist in the nation a class of coolie labor which was inured to carrying heavy burdens and trained at covering long distances in incredibly short space of time. There are between 50,000 and 100,000 of these men in Japan, Tokio alone being credited with having 40,000. The opening of an electric road in that city has worked considerable hardship to the jinrikisha men, who up to the introduction of the modern method of transportation had been the sole means of conveyance.

The outbreak of the war has come just in the nick of time. While the jinrikisha men were mournfully watching the trolley cars go whizzing by, carrying many a fare which they had been wont to receive; while they were standing idly by and wondering where the modernizing of Japan would land them, the call from the army came. And they are eager to go. The spirit of patriotism burns deep in Japan. From the lowliest subject of the mikado up to the royalty which surrounds his person there is love of country and devotion which makes the little nation a unit as it faces its big and formidable foe, Russia.

The jinrikisha corps is a regular part of every Japanese regiment, and these men go for two reasons: First, because they are true patriots, and second, because the service which is asked of them is exactly what they are fitted for. Generation after generation has followed the same line of business and a race of strong, lithe men has been the result. And the presence of these men in the army is an addition which would prove invaluable to any army.

With his blanket and his lantern the jinrikisha man joins his regiment, and attends to the packing and the hauling of the accoutrements and baggage of the soldiers, and he does the heavy work which would lessen the fighting powers of the soldiers. The remarkable mobility of the Japanese army is recognized by all the powers whose armies operated alongside the Japanese troops. Not even the soldiers of the United States, who excell those of any other nation but Japan, could keep up with the Japanese troops in the march upon Peking, during the recent troubles in China, when all the principal powers had a fighting force in the Celestial kingdom.

The reports of the campaign tell of how the American soldier, loaded down like a pack horse, broke down or threw away his load, as was the case at Santiago, while the nimble soldier of the Japland scampered here and there and came up at the end of each march as fresh and smiling as their tireless leader, Gen. Fukushima. The secret of it was that the Japanese coolie, or jinrikisha man, did the coolie work, and formed the transport corps which was mobile and swift as compared with the American four-mule army wagon trains or the British India tonga cart service. The human pony could look after himself, and when there was a stream to cross or a mud slough to argue with two coolies could take the jinrikisha on their shoulders and with cat-like tread pass over and leave the irate teamsters hours behind.

And this is the adjunct to the Japanese which is going to help fight the battles with the slower moving Russian troops. The Japanese army will be able to strike a blow and get away before the Russians can bring their guns to bear upon them, and when the Russians get into action, the Japs, like the proverbial flea, will be in some other place of safety.

Slow.

Some men are too slow to make successful pallbearers. — Chicago Daily News.

FIRE ORDINANCES OF 1815.

Those in Force Nearly a Century Ago Were Quite Stringent and Covered Many Points.

Fire ordinances are by no means modern or even complicated, at least in proportion to the new inventions and causes, electric lights and other elaborate and inflammable fixtures, and to the various inventions and methods of prevention. Nearly a hundred years ago there were ordinances as numerous and as long for the prevention and extinction of fires. In 1815 Detroit had an elaborate fire ordinance. It ordered every householder to provide a pair of water buckets and a wooden vessel holding 20 or 25 gallons, "with two loops strongly attached thereto," which were always to be kept full of water in a place where it could not be frozen and to have a lever or pole of sufficient weight and strength to sustain said vessel. To each chimney of his house he must attach a substantial ladder, to be fastened to the roof, and another ladder long enough to communicate with the first.

Every male person capable of giving

ANCIENT FIRE APPARATUS
(In Use in the City of Detroit Almost 100 Years Ago.)

assistance must, on the alarm of fire, repair to the scene, carrying one or more of such vessels, and obey the orders of one of the trustees. Twelve householders appointed by the board of trustees were to provide themselves each with "a good felling ax" and repair to the place of the fire. Six others were to be provided by the corporation with three battering rams, to be used at fires. There were also 24 to be provided with "fire-hooks." Every shopkeeper must provide himself with two three-bushel bags with which to beat out the fire.

For neglecting to provide these various implements a fine of five dollars was imposed; for neglect of duty at fires, a fine of ten dollars.

The present habit of disregarding fire ordinances would seem to be an inherited one. But at least this cannot be said of the failure to enforce the ordinances. The record shows that at least once a week there was some complaint of noncompliance. An entire session, July 2, 1821, was taken up with the business. Nearly 40 delinquents were fined from 75 cents to $1.25 for being "deficient" one or more ladders, having ladders in bad condition, lack of bags or buckets, or for not having their names on them. All would seem to have gone to the fires, for no fines are recorded.

TOGO IS A CRUEL FIGHTER.

Japanese Admiral in Charge of Port Arthur Fleet Always Shoots to Kill.

Vice Admiral Togo is one of the popular heroes in Japan. He is called the "fighting admiral," a title which he won during the war with China. He was at that time in command of the second class cruiser Naniwaand, which struck the first blow at the enemy. During the war, this ship and her commander, who was then only a captain, saw more service than any others in the navy.

Togo is by no means a humane man.

VICE ADMIRAL TOGO.
(Japanese Commander, Who Won the Battle at Port Arthur.)

He is a fighter, and an arbitrary one at that, and what he says he means.

When the British ship Kowshing, loaded by the Chinese with soldiers and stores, was caught near the Corean coast and refused to obey Togo's orders to follow him, he warned all Europeans to leave the ship and then promptly torpedoed her and blew her up, not even helping the Chinese who were struggling for their lives in the water.

Snake Torpid in a Tree.

Charles McGuire and John Crouch, of Zionsville, Ind., felled a large tree which stood on a farm owned by James Brendel. When the tree had fallen to the ground a large hole, which appeared to be a squirrel den, was found in the forks of the tree, about 30 feet from the butt. In this hole a torpid blacksnake five feet long was found. Mr. Snake had crawled into this hole last fall to lie in wait for squirrels, and had unexpectedly been caught by the cold weather.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

MILLINERY MODES.

The Outlook For Spring Fashions In Women's Hats.

For one thing we can be really and truly thankful, and that is that the big and untidy pompadour is doomed beyond the power of resurrection, though it may die hard. In its place we have a composite arrangement which may take different minor shapes adjusted to each person's peculiar style. In a swell establishment I was informed that many faces will be framed becomingly with the very old fashioned "topknot," while others will wear plain, though slightly waved, bandeaux with a twist at the nape of the neck. Some may look better with the twist higher up on the back of the head. A few will still wear rats of horsehair to set the hair out on the sides of the face, while others will depend entirely upon their own hair, slightly puffed so that it will form a resting place for fancy combs for day wear and for dainty wreaths for evening. In the majority of the new styles of hairdressing the principal point seems to be to have a distinct knob, either directly on top of the head or low down in the back, according to which style proves most becoming.

Fancy combs are almost fine enough to be classed among the jewels. Some of them are fairly studded with imitation diamonds, pearls and other precious stones, set in real or imitation tortoise shell. The most refined taste, however, would tell a woman that these are better suited for evening wear than for the street.

For the decoration of the hair for evening there are some of the daintiest and most poetical little wreaths of tiny blossoms. They are mostly what used to be called multiflora roses, though some call them picayune roses. These are now made in all colors, from pale yellow to dark red with white and all the shades of pink and helio thrown in. These infinitesimal roses are made into wreaths, large or small, as one likes best, and are twined in with small green leaves, though not all rose leaves. Still that does not matter since they form the necessary relief for the blossoms. These are tied with baby ribbons.

For the corsages of the gowns, when these dainty wreaths are in use, there are many arrangements of flowers. They are twined around the neck, festooned along the shoulders, and in fact made into such a list of fancies that it would not be possible to speak of all. Some have tiny bunches of blossoms tied with many strands of ribbon festooned across the bust at the shoulders, at the waist and sometimes down the skirt. Violets, forgetmenots and several other very small blossoms are made into this sort of trimming. Hats have the entire brim covered with them, and the crowns are made entirely of overlapped leaves.

A few advance Easter hats are to be seen, but they are not very remarkable. Yet the straws are handsome when well made. I saw one of rough smoked straw with a brim about three inches wide turned up sharply all around. It had tan velvet milliner's folded ribbon run in so as to bring it up in a fluted shape, which also made it a high turban. The whole crown was covered with tiny button roses in shaded tan to brown. Here and there a small green leaf brightened it up a little. In the back was a cascade of the tiny roses hung on baby ribbon to match the shades in the hat.

Another very pretty straw had a flattish brim, rounded up very slightly at the outer edge, along which were small tan and brown grapes. These grapes were in bunches, with a few leaves shaded in russet colors, with a velvety overbloom. The grapes were apparently laid along the brim as if to see how they would look before sewing them on. There is very much of this pretty combination of shading in the light drabs, biscuits and browns. It admits of the use of any kind of color of blossom, though green, pink and violet are, I think, the most artistic.

There are many wire frames and straw braids of which to make hats, and many ladies really love to dabble in such work. There are also chiffon hats sewed with as many folds as one wishes. These are untrimmed; so, with a bunch or a wreath of the pretty blossoms, one can have hats galore at reasonable cost.

A NEW GOLD ZONE

IT IS WHOLLY WITHIN THE TERRITORY OF ALASKA.

Extends, It Is Said, Over a Distance of 2,000 Miles in a Curved Line from White Horse to Bristol Bay.

The veteran miner and prospector will always tell you that he believes there are as good gold mines yet undiscovered as have already enriched the world with their yellow treasure. And he keeps prospecting. He keeps track of every district which promises gold, and watches for a strike that will prove its value as a gold producer. The Nome district in the far northwest of Alaska, and the Klondike region on the eastern border line of the territory, have so long held the attention of the reading public, and occupied the efforts of the gold seeker, that the news of a new gold zone comes as a sort of unexpected surprise.

It is said that new discoveries indicate the existence of a second gold zone lying considerably to the south and west of the present Klondike region. The first strike in the new zone has been made in the Tanana hills, and last summer rich new placers were found in the Alsek country considerably to the west of White Horse. Gold has been discovered in the Sustina and other streams of western Alaska, while still other placers, it is said, are being worked on Bristol bay.

A zone in mining parlance conveys something the same meaning as that of the term used in geology. In the latter connection it has nearly the same meaning as horizon. A stratum or group of strata, may be characterized by the presence of certain assemblage of fossils, or by one particular fossil, and in such cases the most abundant or typical fossil may give a name to the subdivision in which it occurs. The mining zone of course is marked by the presence of gold or other mineral which may characterize the zone. The first gold zone extends from the Klondike in the east along the Yukon river, the Yukon hills, and on the west to the Nome district. The zone follows a straight line as though nature in planting her gold mines had followed something of the regular system of the farmer in planting his rows of corn.

The new zone as we have already intimated is to the south of the old zone and apparently extends from near White Horse, the head of the Yukon navigation, along the northern foothills of the McKinley mountain range and thence westward and southward to Cook inlet and Bristol bay, a distance of 2,000 miles. As indicated on the map here produced the zone in this case follows a curved line, keeping close to the mountain ranges all the way. It is altogether conjecture at the present time as to the value of the new zone as a gold producer. That there is really gold there is certain from the present diggings, and that it probably extends over the district is reasonably sure.

Gold was first discovered in Alaska in 1879, and since that time over $60,000,000 worth has been taken out of the mines there. There has been a steady increase in the production from year to year, except in 1901, when the production, which was $6,885,701, was over a million and a half less than the production of the year before. It may not be generally known that some silver is also produced by the mines of Alaska, but such is the case. In fact, where gold is found there is nearly always some silver. In 1902 there were $48,760 worth of silver produced. The first discovery of gold on the Klondike was made in August of the year 1896 by a man named George McCormick, and the miners from the United States and Canada were not slow in rushing to the new Eldorado. Whether there will be similar scenes in connection with the gold discoveries of the new zone remains to be seen. It largely depends upon the reports which come from the new fields.

SLEEPS ON THE PORCH.

Miss Margaret Dwyer, an Albany Girl, Has No Fears Whatever of Cold Weather.

With the temperature at nearly zero, Miss Margaret Dwyer occupied her cot on the rear piazza of her home on Ten Broeck street, Albany, N. Y.

When asked the all-important question: Why? Miss Dwyer responded: "First, because I cannot sleep well indoors and can in open air. When I returned from last summer's vacation it was very warm in the city, so one night when I could not sleep at all I got up and went out on the porch, where I easily fell asleep on a couch. After that I just drifted into the habit. This has been a pretty cold winter, but I have not been at all cold in bed on the back porch, and have spent several of the coldest nights out this winter. I feel fine in the morning, and did not have a cold until my uncle interfered." At this point Miss Dwyer's uncle, John J. Jansen, explained that coming in one blizzardy night, with his clothes covered with snow, he absolutely refused to let his niece sleep in her exposed bed. A few days after that she developed a cold, and the uncle regretted his interference and believed that had he allowed Miss Dwyer to pursue her own course she would never have had her one cold.

The bed that Miss Dwyer sleeps in is an ordinary cot, with woven wire springs, situated against the partition which separates her uncle's from his neighbor's back porch. Her bedding consists of a pair of fleece-lined sheets, a rose blanket, a comfortable and a pillow. She disrobes in the house, dons a nightdress, a bath robe, a pair of knitted bootees and a hood, which, while it protects her ears, leaves her face entirely exposed. Thus attired she seeks a couch almost under the broad expanse of the heavens. Her fancies are somewhat poetic and she says it is the most sublime sensation to watch the myriads of stars overhead until sleep closes the eyes.

CAUGHT DANGEROUS PET.

Servant Lately Arrived from Old Country Thought Fierce Wild Cat Could Be Tamed.

John Stephens, a farmer who lives in the Alleghenies about five miles west of Altoona, Pa., was awakened from his slumbers several mornings ago by an unearthly squealing in the lower portion of his home. Seizing a revolver, he sprang down three steps at a time to the kitchen, where he found his new Swedish cook placidly preparing breakfast, while a mass of squirming something near the fireplace spat out a vocabulary of feline invective such as he had never heard before.

"I got you pretty puss," she said, smiling at Stephens. "I got him in the stable ven I milk. I catch him vit horsefly nettings so he can't scratch. Yes; he is von fine big cat."

The farmer looked at the struggling animal. It was a wildcat which weighed at least 75 pounds, and had claws like a small tiger. He scratched his head in perplexity. He could not cut the animal loose, and it was equally impossible to allow it to remain in the house. Suddenly a ripping was heard, and, with a wild howl, the cat began to extricate himself from the netting. The farmer dragged the girl into an adjoining room and locked the door. A minute later the animal leaped through a window to liberty.

"Him vas von nice cat," said the maid, regretfully. "I vish him would stayed."

PRIMITIVE FARMING

SPAIN WOEFULLY OUT OF DATE IN AGRICULTURAL METHODS.

Labor Is Far Too Cheap in That Country to Justify the Purchase of Labor-Saving Machinery.

Spain continues to disregard her natural advantages in agriculture as well as in other directions. Agriculture is too often left to the poor to eke out a precarious existence, unsupported by those who ought to be the first to devote their capital to the improvement of the soil. Irrigation, too, is neglected, and practically the only irrigation works are those constructed by the Moors during their occupation of the country, which have brought such prosperity to the districts of Valencia and Granada.

The cost of hand labor in all parts of Spain is very cheap and does not seem to justify the farmer owning very small farms using even the modern plow. However, on some of the larger farms agriculturists not only can but do use labor-saving machinery of the most recent types.

In the northeast portion of Spain, comprising a section where the farms are all small and labor extremely cheap, the sale of labor-saving agricultural machinery would be almost impossible. Labor is so cheap that there is not much inducement to lay out money on what is looked upon as costly machinery.

The daily wage of a laborer in the fields varies from 1.50 to 5 pesetas (12 to 70 cents), according to the locality and the season of the year. The landed proprietors also take little interest in their estates, which are parcelled out and sublet to small farmers in return for payment in kind. These farmers are, as a rule, entirely dependent on the result of the crops for their livelihood and have no capital to spend on improvements. The country, too, is mountainous, and there is no wide extent of arable land.

In the province of Almeria the farms are small and the area suitable for cultivation is extremely limited. The single vega is small in acreage and can only be used for the production of garden truck. Again, a great deal of the available soil which might possibly be employed for the raising of wheat and barley is given over to grapes, and these form the great source of income to the farmers.

Most of the wheat and barely used in this province comes from the district of Granada and Jaen. Even with more attention paid to legitimate farming, modern implements would be of no use, owing to the mountainous conditions and the entire absence of any large farms. In the interior of the province the mountain sides are spotted here and there with small cultivated spots, usually barley or wheat, where it would seem as if man or beast had a hard time in working.

The land in Asturias is divided into small holdings and farmed by the owners and their families, outside help being very seldom required. In cases where help is needed laborers are hired at 2.50 to 4 pesetas (37.5 to 60 cents) per day. Modern agricultural implements are in this province coming into use, and the primitive methods which have prevailed are gradually giving way before the newer and better methods.

In 1868 a law was promulgated with a view to inducing capitalists to found agricultural colonies in different parts of the country for developing its natural resources. This law allows all implements used by these colonies in cultivating the soil, harvesting the crops, and preparing the fruit to be imported at the nominal duty of one peseta (19.3 cents) per 100 kilograms (220.4 pounds). In spite of the inducement thus offered, the scheme for establishing these farming colonies has not met with the response that was expected.

Until 1900 modern agricultural machinery was practically unknown in this country, and reports from all parts of the agricultural districts show the larger farmers and experimental farms are all commencing to use modern machinery.

The Y. M. C. A. bowlers trounced the team that represents the Crescent Embossing Company last night on the association alleys, winning three straight games with lots to spare. The Crescent five had an "off" night, particularly in the first game, when their total reached only 485. The average of scores was low, as indicated by the fact that Capt. Morris Sutphen's 149 in the first game was high mark of the match. The scores:

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The supper planned to be given at the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, has been given up. The money needed by the society will be voluntarily contributed by members of the church.

The subject of next Sunday morning's sermon in the series on the "Christian Life" at Hope chapel will be "Temptation," and the speaker will be Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, of Brooklyn.

There will be an especially important mid-week Lenten meeting at Hope chapel next Thursday night. Rev. O. O. Hall, D.D., president of Union Theological Seminary, a speaker whose services are much sought, will describe the "Work for the Kingdom in India and Japan," giving an illustrated report on his experiences in the Orient.

During his four years as pastor of the Baptist church of Scotch Plains, Rev. G. M. Shott has delivered 686 sermons and officiated at twenty funerals. Mr. Shott entered upon the fifth year of his pastorate last Sunday and in recognition of the event gave a brief review of the work of the church in the past.

On Sunday, March 13, parents will have an opportunity to present their children for baptism at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and those desiring to do so are requested to notify the pastor during the week.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian, church will meet in the chapel of the church tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, the pastor, will make an address.

Those members of the young people's class that united with the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Sunday will meet the pastor on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, attended the weekly meeting of the Baptist Ministers' Association in New York, yesterday.

Arthur Gaskill, of 135 Duer street, and Miss Katherine Piney, of 150 Somerset street, are two new members of the International Sunshine Society, having joined the New Jersey branch.

"The Wise and Foolish Virgins," will be the topic of the mid-week prayer-meeting at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow night.

Thursday and Friday, October 6 and 7, are the dates set for the eighteenth annual convention of the New Jersey State Christian Endeavor Society. It will be held at Elizabeth.

Rev. Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall president of Union Theological Seminary, will give an illustrated lecture at Hope chapel on Thursday night, telling of his experiences in the Orient in his trip around the world.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will meet in the chapel on Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 for sewing.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian church, will hold its annual meeting in the chapel of the church on Friday afternoon.

The Young People's Association, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian, church will meet on Friday night. W. D. Murray will conduct the Bible study on the subject "For Whom was the Third Gospel Written?" and there will be a talk by Mr. Zelie on "The Men Who Wrote the Bible."

The choir of the First Baptist church will conduct a praise service next Sunday night.

Rev. Francis E. Whiteside is spending a few days in town prior to the opening of the Newark Conference of the M. E. church to be held at Newark within a short time.

Rev. W. W. Clark, of New York, who will occupy the pulpit at Trinity Reformed church next Sunday morning and evening, is a member of the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed church.

Rev. Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church, will deliver the regular weekly Lenten sermon in St. Mary's church tonight.

It was not possible to hold a meeting of the vestry of St. Stephen's church, last night, as there were only four members present, one short of a quorum. Another date will be fixed for a meeting, possibly on Sunday.

Miss Edith Mooney, of Westfield, has entered the choir of Trinity Reformed church, as soprano soloist. This gives the choir two soloists and a total of twenty-three voices.

PERSONAL.

Matthew Coon, of Watchung avenue, is very ill with an attack of rheumatism.

Fred Phillips, of West Front street, has recovered sufficiently from a recent severe illness to be out again. He expects to return to work this week.

Miss Evelyn Slater, of Somerville, has been spending several days with friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Tunison, of Somerville, have returned home after a visit with relatives in this city.

Mrs. Smith, of Duer street, is quite ill at her home with the grip. Her daughters, the Misses Florence and Clara Smith, who have also been ill with the same malady, have recovered.

Frank Neal spent Saturday in New York city.

Lawrence Maloney is recovering from a severe wound in his foot, caused by a sharp nail upon which he stepped one day last week.

Miss Mary Hoffman, of Allenhurst, has been the guest of Mrs. George Coles, of West Front street.

Mrs. Thomas Leary, of West Fifth street, has been suffering from a heavy cold.

Miss Madeline Ostermoor, of Nether wood, has returned from a visit in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McVoy, of East Front street, entertained relatives from Jersey City Saturday.

On account of a sprained wrist resulting from a fall, Miss Milligan, of Grove street, has been detained for the past two weeks at Hampton Junction, N. J.

Mr. Frederick's Condition.

Wilson S. Fredrick, of Dunellen, continues to improve and it is believed that he will eventually recover his full health and strength. The physician in charge has pronounced the skin-grafting a success and he believes that in a month's time he will be able to sit up a portion of the day and is able to move his legs without much difficulty.

CITIZENS' PARTY VICTORIOUS IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE!

Coalition of Democrats and Dissatisfied Republicans Rout the Administration's Candidates, George F. Brown, for Collector, Alone Escaping Defeat.

BOROUGH WITNESSES A MOST BITTER FIGHT.

MAYOR SMALLEY ADMITTED REPUBLICAN TICKET'S DEFEAT SOON AFTER POLLS CLOSED—THE DETAILED RESULT OF THE CONTEST—FACTORS THAT BROUGHT ABOUT SUCCESS TO THE ENEMIES OF THE DOMINANT PARTY.

From the hottest election in the history of the borough the Citizens' ticket has emerged victorious.

With the exception of John H. Whitenack, the nominee for collector, all the anti-administration candidates were elected by good-sized majorities. George F. Brown, the Republican collector nominee, had a narrow escape.

For council, Frank C. Krewson defeated Nelson A. Miller by 105; J. H. VanWinkle won by 97 over A. M. Stine, and J. P. Humble defeated Charles L. Nichols by 82.

Collector Brown won his re-election by the narrow margin of 27 votes.

Dr. Cooley won the assessorship from John P. Emmons by 63 majority.

Lewis A. Hummer defeated A. S. King for justice of the peace, by 79 majority, and Sylvester Scribner captured the same office from G. M. Hoagland by 70.

Assemblyman Swackhammer.

David J. Carney.

For freeholder, John Emmons defeated B. S. Braider by 93 majority.

John T. Case won the fight for commissioner of appeal by 65 votes over William O. Smith.

The Republicans carried the First district very narrowly, and the Citizens' made a clean sweep of the Second. Brown ran far ahead of his ticket in both districts. He had 51 majority in the First, while his nearest running mate there had only 15. In the Second, Whitenack only beat him by 24. Krewson also ran slightly ahead of his ticket.

Majorities in the two districts for the principal nominees were as follows: Council, Second district—Krewson, 109; VanWinkle, 163; Humble, 97; First district—Miller, 4; Stine, 6; Nichols, 15. Collector, First district—Brown 51; Second district—Whitenack, 24. Assessor, Second district—Cooley 84; First district—Emmons 21. Freeholder, Second district—Emmons, 162; First district, Braider 9.

Out of a registration of about 1,400 a total of 1,112 votes was cast, a higher precentage than that of a presidential year. 525 votes were cast in the First district and 587 in the Second.

There was a lot of scratching. Party lines were lost sight of almost entirely in the general balloting, and the electors voted more as pro-administration and anti-administration than under any other classification.

The defeat of the Republican ticket was made apparent a few minutes after the polls closed, when the voting machine in the First district gave up its returns. This district was the hope of the administration party, and when the result was announced they lost heart. Normally, it is Republican by about 150, and the leaders expected it to turn out at least 100 majority. When the slim majorities became known Mayor Smalley and the other chieftains on his side gave up hope.

Even Collector Brown, in the face of his big lead, conceded his defeat. A short time after, before the count in the Second had fairly started, the Mayor and his aides went home. The Mayor's illness, aggravated by his labors at the polls, made it imperative for him to leave, or he would probably have stayed to see the count out.

As the vote in the Second went on, making the victory of the Citizens' more and more certain, Republicans became fewer and fewer on the scene, and there was a comparatively small number about to rejoice over the salvation of Collector Brown when his close victory was made known.

The victors were in full possession of the business part of Somerset street, and they celebrated in approved style. The firemen let themselves loose, and with Chief Stahl and other prominent Warren Engine Company members in the lead, paraded about the borough behind the drum corps, carrying lighted brooms and red fire. They serenaded at the house of Samuel Townsend, John Valiant and Councilman Lee. Mayor Smalley had asked them to be quiet about his residence on account of a sick daughter, and in consideration of this request the rejoicing firemen marched by his home silently, and held their shouts and music for two blocks beyond. Warren Company will celebrate the Citizens' victory with a banquet on Monday night.

There never was an election in the borough so bitterly contested. Workers for both parties hustled at fever heat from the minute the polls opened until the last of the votes had been cast.

Usually the flow of ballots fluctuates through the day, but yesterday they came in with a steadiness that reflected the unusual energy of the workers. By noontime more than half the vote had been cast.

Everywhere about the two polling places, crossing and recrossing the street from district to district, Mayor Smalley kept the Republican forces moving. He was sick enough to be under the doctor's care, but, muffled closely in a long overcoat, he worked with the indomitable energy characteristic of him in all his political battles. His presence was felt at every stage of the battle, and there is no doubt that his absence, which was feared by his followers when the news of his illness came out yesterday, would have had a decidedly adverse effect on the Republican vote.

The regular Republican headquarters in the store at Somerset and Race streets was practically deserted all day. The leaders gathered for conferences and list-checking in Collector Brown's office a few doors below. From there Councilman Nichols and VanArsdale, and Messrs. John Valiant and Samuel Townsend, B. A. Hegeman and lesser lights of the borough went out at intervals to circulate among the electors in support of the energetic chief.

Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer was the active head of the Citizens' forces. He spent the day between the two polling places, shaking hands and unloading a brand new batch of stories from group to group. Walter Linbarger was his chief assistant, and those two, with David Carney, formed the leading representatives of the Democratic division of the Citizens' army. Dr. J. H. Cooley, nominee for assessor, A. V. D. Honeyman and Dr. J. H. Buchanan, directed the Republican contingent of the anti-administration warriors.

Every possible vote was brought out. Carriages were kept going continually by both sides, and runners hustled unremittingly after dilatory electors.

Toward the close of the afternoon, when the commuters began to arrive in town, the electioneering was carried into this city. Carriages and workers met every train at the depot, and the returning commuters were hurried to the booths.

There was absolutely no disorder during the balloting. No arrests of any character were made, and not a scrap was reported anywhere. Only one little incident approaching excitement occurred. Early in the forenoon John Valiant stopped Assemblyman

Ex-Senator Reed.

Swackhamer near the polling place in the Second district and repeated his charge of inconsistency in his attitude toward Mayor Smalley, made in his letter to The Daily Press Monday. Mr. Swackhamer acknowledged that he had a high feeling of friendliness toward Mayor Smalley personally at

DAUGHTER SUES HER FATHER FOR SERVICES

Miss Galbraith Claims $3,000 for Nursing Her Mother and Paying Burial Expenses.

DEFENDANT IS IN JAIL

JOHN GALBRAITH, SR., OWNS PROPERTY IN THIS CITY.

Woman Cared for Her Mother During Latter's Last Illness—Affidavit of Merits Filed—A Novel Case.

Trouble between father and daughter is responsible for a suit in the Supreme Court in which Miss Mary Galbraith, of West Fourth street, claims $3,000 as due her for services in nursing her mother and paying her burial and medical expenses. John Galbraith, Sr., the plaintiff's father, against whom the suit is brought, is at present serving a fifty days' sentence in the Union County jail for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was arrested in a disreputable house on Madison avenue recently raided by the police. He owns two houses on West Fourth street, and it is alleged that his daughter is looking for a share in the estate.

The action is based on an alleged claim for services in nursing the defendant's wife from June, 1901, to her death in April, 1903, a total of ninety-three weeks. Galbraith alleges that no agreement was entered into by himself and daughter, and that the daughter was giving her services as a matter of duty and affection. He says that Miss Galbraith is thirty-five years old and has been supported at the home of her parents during her entire life.

In regard to payment of the bills of the undertaker and physician, Galbraith says that he wanted a particular doctor and a particular undertaker and that his daughter wanted and succeeded in getting another in each case. He also claimed that he never received a bill from either.

Affidavit of merits was filed yesterday for the defendant by his counsel, V. W. Nash, Jr. The plaintiff is represented by William Newcorn, Esq. The case will probably be brought to trial in May at the next term of court.

NURSES' HOME DECIDED UPON

HOSPITAL'S BOARD AGREED UPON AN IMPORTANT STEP.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital have decided to make a determined effort to erect a nurses' home near the new hospital at the earliest possible time. This decision was reached at a meeting held Monday night at the Public Library. There is now a sum of money in the hands of the treasurer for this purpose and the needs of such a home have become so urgent that the members of the board unanimously decided to take the matter up and push it forward to an early completion. An adjournment was taken to Tuesday night, March 22, at which time definite steps will be taken and plans formed to carry the project through.

The report from the hospital showed that the month of February was one of the busiest in the history of the institution. There were a total number of sixty-four cases treated, including thirty-four in the dispensary. There were forty-three patients admitted to the hospital, of which number twenty-six were discharged cured, two discharged improved, three discharged not improved and four died. There are now thirty-five patients at the hospital, the largest in its history.

Mr. Kane's Purchase.

Alexander Kane, of Filmore avenue, has purchased the Netherwood livery stables of Ira L. LaRue and intends to tear the building down to use the materials for selling at second hand. The building is 175 feet square, two and a half stories in height with an L extension of 120 feet. Mr. Kane has also bought of Mr. LaRue a coach house, 25x42 feet, containing eleven rooms. Both buildings are located in the rear of the Netherwood hotel.

Candidates for Judgeship.

James J. Bergen, of Somerville, and W. Holt Apgar, of Trenton, are prominently mentioned as possible successors to Justice Bennett H. VanSyckel of the Supreme Court. Mr. Bergen was speaker of the house in 1892 and Mr. Apgar is worshipful grand master of the New Jersey grand lodge, F. and A. M.

CHIEFTAINS TELL OF THE ENCOUNTER

Conspicious Leaders of the Borough's Political Contest Express Their Views.

HONEYMAN'S TART TALK

MAYOR NEWTON B. SMALLEY ACCEPTS VERDICT, BUT WILL FIGHT ON.

Assemblyman Swackhamer and Walter Linbarger, Heads of the Democratic Host, Express Opinions—Many Views.

The Citizens' leaders made no effort to conceal their delight over the result. They all saw a rebuke to the administration in the vote, and regarded it as a sign of Mayor Smalley's political death.

"The people wanted a change," said Walter Linbarger, in commenting on the outcome. "I am very much gratified."

"Everything is highly satisfactory," said Mr. Swackhamer. "The result shows a general dissatisfaction with the present administration. I regard the outcome as sign of Democratic victory here in the presidential campaign next year." Mr. Swackhamer said he did not regard the election in the light of a vindication of himself.

"The outcome was brought about by dissatisfaction with the administration," said Dr. Cooley. "It is very satisfactory."

Mr. Honeyman, leader of the Citizens' party, said: "Naturally I am delighted at the result, but there is no reason to extend to me any credit for yesterday's victory. While in a humble way I had something to do with marshalling Citizens and Democrats into one solid party of opposition to the Smalley administration, there were dozens of men who were more potential in securing the real results. The attacks made on the Citizens' party that they were opposed to a new schoolhouse, which had not a scintilla of basis, only nerved them to new energy. We do want a new schoolhouse, and shall vote for it when given an opportunity. It was not a difficult task to unite all whom we expected to unite in opposition to 'one-man power,' because the principles of opposition were in the air. People desired to be free, and they understood that their only guarantee of freedom was in the right exercise of the ballot yesterday.

"The fight against Mayor Smalley began at the time of the annexation movement and has been gathering force ever since, for the reason that after that defeat the Mayor did not learn from that experience, but kept right on in ignoring these results. Only two months after that election, while a member of the County Republican Committee, he secured the election of a Democratic candidate as Assemblyman out of mere spite. One year later he undertook to reverse that position because Assemblyman Swackhamer had not obeyed his commands. But this time he got left pretty badly. Not content with this second defeat, he originated the paid fire department scheme, out of what Josh Billings used to describe as 'pure cussedness.' Then came along the high-handed outrage upon John Goodwin, who was protecting church property from trespassers, and whom he ordered locked up without a warrant. All these things together made the settling time hasten along, and yesterday was the day when the balances were made up and the public verdict of 'Found wanting' was rendered. I am glad to have walked along in the procession as a plain soldier, and shall keep right along in that path, as I am not any aspirant for office.

Mayor Smalley was asked how he felt over the result this morning.

"Between 500 and 600 men voted the ticket because they are satisfied with the present government," he said, "and they are to be congratulated on their large number when all circumstances are considered. We were defeated by the concentration of the forces who oppose business being done in straightforward manner.

"I never felt better over the result of an election that was lost than this time. The character of the men voting the Republican ticket yesterday is satisfying enough; the best people of the borough were with me. The men of both parties who voted the Republican ticket are of such type as to make me feel good even though the ticket lost."

"Are you down and out, according to the Citizens' ukase?" he was asked.

"This is only the beginning of the

SOCIETY WOMEN BOWL ON THE CLUB ALLEYS

Contest a Feature of Reception Given Women of the Town and Country Club.

ELIZABETHIANS WON

MISS VALIANT MADE HIGH SCORE IN FINAL GAME.

Visitors Won Two Out of Three Games—Social Time Followed Contest—Refreshments Served During the Evening.

The women members of the Park Club entertained their sister members of the Town and Country Club, of Elizabeth, last night, a series of bowling games being the chief attraction. This is the first series of the kind among the fair sex and it was so thoroughly enjoyed that no doubt other games will be arranged. The Park Club team of five lost two of the three games, winning the last one by a score of 578 to 508. The first game the Elizabethians won by a score of 533 to 515 and the second one by a score of 549 to 534.

The individual scores of both teams were good, being the equal of some of the work of the men. Miss Valiant held high score for the Parks, 152 in the third game, while Miss Townsend's score of 139 could not be surpassed by the other visitors.

During the games the friends of the women bowlers cheered them heartily and at times the enthusiasm was great. At the conclusion of the bowling there was a social time and refreshments were served.

This is the detailed score:

MISSIONARY SOCIETY ELECTS

WOMAN'S ORGANIZATION OF CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH HOLDS MEETING.

Encouraging reports of the past year's work and the election of officers occupied the attention of the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, at the annual meeting held in the chapel of the church, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Sheridan Zelie presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Samuel Milliken.

The report of Miss Emily B. Tracy, treasurer, showed that from all sources the sum of $1,363.26 was received for foreign missions. This is an increase over the amount received a year ago and is very encouraging to the members.

These officers were chosen for the coming year: President, Mrs. Samuel Milliken; vice presidents, Mrs. Lawrence Myers, Mrs. John Sheridan Zelie, Mrs. Noble C. King; secretary, Miss Julia S. Scribner; treasurer, Miss Emily B. Tracy; secretary for literature, Mrs. Isaac Field; Young People's secretary, Mrs. F. B. Clark; superintendent of collections, Mrs. D. N. Groendyke.

Following the business session the members listened to an able address by Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the church, who spoke in a general way on the subject of foreign missions. After the address there was a social tea. Mrs. F. A. Clark and Mrs. Daniel T. Ginna presided at the table and they were assisted by a number of young women.

Concert for Athletes.

For the benefit of the athletic fund, the N. P. H. S. A. A. will hold a concert at the Casino on March 24. The Columbia Glee and Mandolin Clubs will furnish the entertainment. Although the tickets have not yet been issued a large number of seats have already been subscribed for. The following committee is in charge of the affair: William Messersmith, chairman; Leslie H. Backer, Carl Steiner, W. Nischwitz, L. Mantz, E. K. Powlison, Grover Kipsey.

Dr. Chambliss to Speak.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been secured to deliver the commencement sermon at Peddie Institute, Hightstown, on June 12.

In Justice Nash's Court.

17TH CENTURY DRAMA SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Prof. A. H. Smyth Talks Interestingly of Garrick and the Theatre of His Time.

MANAGER AND ACTOR

ADDRESS BEFORE MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB AT THE CASINO.

Christopher Marlowe Set Example for Type of Play Produced by William Shakespeare—Garrick a Friend of Great Men of the Time.

An admirable lecture on David Garrick, the actor, was given at the Casino Monday afternoon by Dr. Alfred H. Smyth, dean of the department of English literature in the Central High School, of Philadelphia. The lecture was before the Monday Afternoon Club, in conection with the year's study of the eminent men of the eighteenth century.

Dr. Smyth prefaced his remarks on Garrick by reference to early opinions on the rank of acting among the arts and the efforts made by some writers to put all the arts on a common basis. He said Christopher Marlowe set the type for the drama that Shakespeare brought to perfection in the days when the theatres were simply octagonal or round buildings without any roofs or scarcely any seats. They followed the earlier performances in barns and court yards of inns. The admission of a penny received in a box has given the name to the office that is called today the box office. The crudeness of the stage fittings was dwelt upon by Dr. Smyth, there being no scenery and no historical costumes. No women appeared upon the stage until the seventeenth century and it was in this century, he said, Barton Booth, an ancestor of the famous tragedian, Edwin Booth, was the first to invent scenery.

According to Dr. Smyth, the artificiality of the stage in England, the verse making, the sing-song tone adopted or chant used were all revolutionized by Garrick, the prince of actors, who was the first to speak, read and act in a natural manner. Born at Hereford in 1717 he showed his bent in the direction of the stage, when ten years old he managed an amateur performance with a recruiting officer for the subject of the play. Being placed in care of Dr. Samuel Johnson in 1736, at Lichfield, the two men soon went to London in search of the fame that came to them both.

The lecturer's account of Garrick's failure as a wine merchant and his phenomenal success when October 19, 1741, he made his appearance in the character of Richard III at Goodman Fields, was extremely interesting. He said his success was uncontested, instantaneous and epoch-making. Dr. Smyth told further of his success as manager of a theatre when he purchased Drury Lane and surrounded himself with the best actors of the day and instituted order, decency, correctness and beauty. Pope said of him: "This young man has never had his equal on the stage, and never will."

In the speaker's opinion, the naturalness of Garrick's acting was his great charm, and he had also great versatility in depicting a variety of passions with rapid change. His width of range in thought and feeling was said to be unparalelled.

Dr. Smyth dwelt at some length on Garrick's intimacy with the great men of his time, Samuel Johnson, Emmund Burke, Oliver Goldsmith, Joshua Reynolds and other members of the club that met at the Lurk's Head in Girard street and that still in 1904 is the foremost club of London.

In telling of Garrick's death in 1779, Dr. Smyth quoted Dr. Johnson's declaration that it "eclipsed the gaiety of nations and impoverished the stock of harmless pleasure." The funeral cortage was two miles in length. His widow, he said lived until 1822, being ninety-nine years of age. She gave to Kean, the actor, the shoe-buckles Garrick had worn, and the following couplet was made on the occurrence. "Thy buckles, Oh Davy, another shall use
But no other man shall stand in thy shoes."

Claims She Was Slandered.

Summons has been issued in the case of Salvador Paretta and Madeline Paretta against Dominico Revere. Suit for $5,000 in tort is instituted against the defendant the plaintiffs charging injuries to Mrs. Paretta's reputation. William Newcorn, Esq., represents the plaintiffs.

AMUSEMENTS.

It is the Garden Theatre of which Henry W. Savage is to take the management. Monday he received from the directors of the Madison Square Garden a lease of the theatre beginning on March 1 next and covering a long term of years.

Of all the season's offerings at the various metropolitan play-houses, none has scored so instantaneously and emphatically as the new comic opera "The Yankee Consul" with Raymond Hitchcock in the star role, which is filling the big Broadway Theatre, New York, to its capacity at every performance. It came to Broadway out of the West, saw and conquered Manhattan, horse, foot and dragoons, and is the talk of the town. Its producer, Henry W. Savage, has gauged the public taste accurately in the present instance, just as he did when he produced "The Prince of Pilsen," "The Sultan of Sulu," "King Dodo" and "The County Chairman." In Raymond Hitchcock, Mr. Savage has found a comedian, whose droll and quiet humor affords positive relief to the theatre-goer, weary with the efforts of the average machine-made comedian of latter-day musical productions. The book by Henry M. Blossom, Jr., is bright and amusing and the music by Alfred G. Robyn is tuneful and sprightly. The dramatic critics of the New York press without a dissenting vote pronounced "The Yankee Consul" an unqualified success, and their judgment has been endorsed by the crowds that have witnessed every performance given at the Broadway. The piece will enter upon its fourth week on Monday evening, March 14, and will unquestionably draw immense audiences for many weeks to come. Matinees are given on Wednesday and Saturday during the present engagement. Local play-goers visiting the metropolis will make no mistake in seeing "The Yankee Consul" at the Broadway Theatre—it is a sure cure for the blues.

The seventy-fifth performance of "The Virginian" at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, on Monday, March 7, suggests the great success of this drama from Owen Wister's popular novel. The Manhattan is crowded at every performance, and there is every indication that the conventional "end of the season" in New York will find this play still at the height of prosperity, with a lively possibility that it can run into hot weather. There have been so very few real successes in New York theatres this season that the run of "The Virginian" is all the more noticeable. To any one who visits the Manhattan, however, there is no mystery whatever as to the vogue of this romantic play, which presents the essence of the book in a captivating way. Those who have read Mr. Wister's novel are sure to take delight in the stage version of it, for the most vital and dramatic parts of the story have been put on the stage with rare skill in the assembling and with unusual judgment in the selection of actors for the various characters. Particularly happy was the selection of Dustin Farnum to play the part of the Virginian. Women take a special delight in the Wednesday matinees at the Manhattan, as souvenir pictures of Mr. Farnum as the Virginian are given on that day.

THINK MRS. FAIR DIED FIRST

PHYSICIANS SO TESTIFY IN MRS. NELSON'S SUIT FOR $7,000,000 ESTATE.

There has been received in New York a transcript of the testimony taken in San Francisco in relation to the action brought by Mrs. Hannah E. Nelson, of New Market, mother of Mrs. Caroline D. Fair, to set aside the agreement by which she released her claims to the estate of Mrs. Fair and her husband, who were killed in an automobile accident in France in August, 1902. Those examined in San Francisco were Herman Oelrichs, husband of Theresa Alice Oelrichs, a sister of Mr. Fair; the two physicians who made the autopsy when the bodies were returned to San Francisco, and the two undertakers who interred them.

Dr. Williamson, who performed the autopsy on the bodies after they reached San Francisco, testified that the skull of Mr. Fair was not fractured and that his death was not instantaneous necessarily. He expressed the opinion that a person injured as he had been might survive a short time, possibly an hour. From his examination of the body of Mrs. Fair he expressed the opinion that her death was almost instantaneous.

DAMAGING FLOODS.

Wilkesbarre Completely Cut Off From Wyoming Valley.

LANCASTER, YORK HAVEN, ROCHESTER

Many Driven From Their Homes In Water Covered Sections—Two Bridges Go Down—Railway Tracks Submerged.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A Wilkesbarre dispatch says the Wyoming valley is in the grasp of another mighty flood. The situation has been serious two days, and it is feared the worst is yet to come, the gorges in the Susquehanna river to the south of that city and the great mass of ice to the north being a menace so long as they remain intact as they do.

Wilkesbarre all day long has been completely cut off from the rest of the Wyoming valley, and for miles up and down the river the lowlands are completely covered with water and ice. The early morning scenes and during the entire day were most exciting. There are but few people in the homes of the flooded sections.

The current is raging on all the lowlands in the southern resident section of this city, many houses being completely wrecked by the huge cakes of ice jamming against them.

Advices from Lancaster, Pa., say the danger point on the lower Susquehanna river has shifted from Bainbridge, Columbia and Washington borough to Safe Harbor, the lower parts of which are practically submerged.

About 3 o'clock the great gorge at Washington borough broke, hurling tons of ice and an immense volume of water against the Turkey hill gorge, a few miles below. The latter gave way before the tremendous impact. A new jam then formed just below Safe Harbor, where the Conestoga creek enters the Susquehanna. Back water rushed up the creek, demolishing the Pennsylvania railroad stone bridge and sweeping away the county bridge, some distance farther up the stream.

The stores of John D. Tripple and H. H. Stauffer at Safe Harbor were completely submerged and partly demolished, while the dwellings of J. S. Gramling and Joseph Temple were torn from their foundations and washed away.

The Exchange hotel is just showing above water. All the houses had water on their lower floors, and in a number of cases residents were forced to abandon their homes from the second story in boats. The loss of live stock is said to be heavy. The county bridge over the Pequea creek has been swept away.

The greatest damage done by the flood in York county sections was at York Haven and vicinity. The power building of the York Haven Water and Power company, which was badly damaged last Saturday, has been completely wrecked, the ice jam leaving only its tower remaining. It is believed most of the machinery will be saved. The York Haven paper mill, nearby, was also seriously damaged, parts of it being destroyed. The money loss cannot be estimated at present.

A late report from Rochester says reports of floods and inconveniences are coming in there from all quarters. Every brook in western New York is out of bounds, but so far there has been no serious damage done. The New York Central railroad tracks were under water at Palmyra, causing much delay in traffic. The West Shore tracks east of Newark are flooded, and trains are being sent over the New York Central. Trains on the Dansville and Mount Morris railroad have encountered high water, and it is reported that the water ran through a passenger coach, running in one door and out the other, compelling passengers to take to the seats.

A report from Stroudsburg, Pa., says the massive ice gorge in the Delaware river at the Water Gap remains intact, but is momentarily expected to break. Word has been received from the head waters of the Delaware to the effect that the ice there has started to move.

Negro Delegate From Tuskegee.

TUSKEGEE, Ala., March 9.—The Republican congressional convention for the Fifth Alabama district met here. Fifty-two delegates, one-third of them negroes, were in attendance. J. O. Thompson of Macon county and John W. Jones of Lowndes county were elected delegates to the national convention. Jones is a negro. Resolutions were adopted instructing the delegation for Roosevelt. W. B. Walker was nominated for congress.

New Road For Binghamton.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 9.—Chief Engineer Harvey has returned from a meeting in New York of the men interested in the Binghamton and Southern railroad, the proposed new railroad from this city to Williamsport, Pa. He says that arrangements are being made to award contracts soon for constructing the entire line.

If You Have Any Spare Time

We Want to Make You a Proposition for Its Use

THE magazine subscription business has grown enormously within the past three years, and hundreds are finding it a pleasant and lucrative employment, especially at this season of the year. A large sum will be spent in every community this winter in subscribing for new magazines and renewing old subscriptions. Most of the money would ordinarily go direct from subscriber to publisher; but the latter would just as soon receive it through an agent, and the subscriber would usually prefer to patronize a "home industry" by placing his subscriptions through a fellow-townsman.

By putting this idea into practice, one of our subscription representatives, in a recent month's canvassing, earned $524.00; another, in the same month, $494.00, and still another, $334.00. And this, mind you, at work calling for investment of not one penny, and no previous experience. You may do as well. Will you try it?

in every community this winter to whom we can send lists of expiring subscriptions for renewal, also to obtain new subscriptions. The pay is the largest offered by any first-class magazine, and the assistance rendered subscription-getters the most helpful. Any person of average intelligence and energy can earn much more in this way than could be earned in any ordinary salaried position.

$50,000.00

at least, will be earned in commissions and cash prizes by our representatives within the next six months. Write today for our proposition and special methods of work.

OUR BRILLIANT SPRING OPENING

is bringing more smart and stylish women together than ever before assembled under one roof in New Jersey.

Every woman knows before she comes here that we have the only real fashion treat in store for her that Newark can show, and she finds the display far beyond her expectation in beauty and magnitude.

There is one day more of the primary or introductory opening. Then will follow a series of daily openings, for new goods will arrive right along, away into the summer. Stout women and very thin ones do not always see what will suit them at an opening, but they'll see prettily fitting garments here.

The matron and the maid, the connoisseur, the critical garment fashioner and and the expert tailor, have no hesitancy in pronouncing our display the best, biggest and most satisfactory Newark has yet seen.

Whatever was anticipated for the style and fashion centres abroad was marked to our good, that we might simultaneously present them to the smart dressers and costume experts. Never such a galaxy of fascinating modes exhibited at our opening.

Misses are about the most particular in style exactions. These young girls will be mightily well pleased with our style showing.

NOTE—Our costume section covers nearly an acre—almost as much space as the next biggest store in New Jersey devotes to its entire stock.

The New Suits A greater and more attractive stock than we have ever before shown, comprising all the latest and most approved ideas.

The New Skirts An immense stock of the new skirts for Spring. All the very latest styles, and many of them are exclusive with us.

The New Waists The largest and most authoritative showing of new waists in New Jersey, and a rival of any in New York.

UNIFICATION LAW.

Education Bill Receives Signature of Governor Odell.

NEW REGIME IN POWER APRIL 1.

Republican Caucus Has Selected Dr. Andrew S. Draper to Be Commissioner of Education For the Initial Term of Six Years.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—The educational unification bill has become law, Governor Odell having attached his signature to the measure. The two houses of the legislature will in separate sessions today elect under the provisions of the new law eleven regents of the university, selected from the present board, and a commissioner of education. Tomorrow at noon in joint session the journals of the two houses will be compared and the elections ratified.

The law takes effect immediately, but the new regime in the educational system does not assume actual sway until April 1, when the present board of regents and the state superintendent of public instruction, Charles R. Skinner, will go out of office and the new board of regents and the commissioner of education will assume control.

The new board of regents will have jurisdiction over the entire educational system of the state through the commissioner of education, whose acts and appointments will be subject to its approval. Of the powers of the old board it retains under its exclusive supervision the colleges and technical and professional schools. With these the commissioner of education is to have nothing to do. He is given, however, subject to the approval of the regents, complete jurisdiction over all primary and secondary education, the administration of the consolidated school law and other functions of education now in the hands of the superintendent of public instruction. He is empowered to create departments, appoint their heads and fix their salaries as well as those of their subordinates and to administer all appropriations of public money in support of the schools. This amounts to more than $4,000,000 a year.

The commissioner will be elected this time by the legislature, and his successors are to be elected by the regents. His salary is fixed at $7,500, his term of office at six years.

The Republican caucus last night selected the eleven candidates for regents who will be elected today at the joint session of the legislature. The term for which each will serve was arrived at by lot, as follows: First Judicial District—Whitelaw Reid, nine years; Edward Lauterbach, seven years; Eugene A. Philbin, five years; Charles A. Gardner, six years. Second District—St. Clair McKelway, two years. Third District—Dr. Albert Vander Veer, one year; Charles S. Francis, eleven years. Fifth District—William Nottingham, three years. Sixth District—Daniel Beach, four years. Seventh District—Pliny T. Sexton, ten years. Eighth District—T. Guilford Smith, eight years.

The caucus then selected Dr. Andrew S. Draper, president of Illinois university and former superintendent of public instruction, to be commissioner of education for the initial term of six years. The nominating speech was made by Senator Raines.

The Democratic senators and assemblymen caucused in the afternoon and at the suggestion of Senator Grady decided to vote "No choice." A statement in explanation of their attitude will be submitted by Leaders Grady and Palmer. The statement will insist that the unification bill is unconstitutional.

The present board of regents consists of twenty-three members, nineteen elected hitherto for life terms, and also by reason of their office the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction. The new law provides for no ex officio regents and drops eight of the existing board as follows: United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew, Chester S. Lord and Lewis A. Stimpson of New York city, Right Rev. William Croswell Doane and Robert C. Pruyn of Albany, Charles E. Fitch of Rochester, Henry E. Turner of Lowville and William H. Watson of Utica.

President Will Fight Libel Case.

MOBILE, Ala., March 9.—Dr. J. B. Lindsay, president of the International Quarantine association, has arrived from Havana to stand trial on an indictment charging criminal libel. In articles published last year Dr. Lindsay charged members of the quarantine board of Mobile bay with using their office for personal gain by overcharging for the fumigation and disinfection of vessels from infected yellow fever ports. Dr. Lindsay says he will fight the case in the courts.

Suicide Suspect Was Ill.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., March 9.—The body of Mrs. C. C. Holmes, who disappeared last Wednesday from the home of her son-in-law, Colonel Charles K. Darling, United States marshal in Boston, has been found in the harbor off Crocker park here. Articles identified as having belonged to Mrs. Holmes were found on the shore last Friday. It is believed that the woman committed suicide owing to ill health.

Burkhart Elected Mayor.

BATAVIA, N. Y., March 9.—At the municipal election here the Republicans re-elected Dr. H. J. Burkhart mayor. Five out of the six aldermen elected are Republicans.

BOYS AMUSED.

Members of Junior Department of Y. M. C. A. Entertained.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department were pleasantly entertained last night by A. E. Hendrickson, shadowgraphist and magician, whose novel sleight-of-hand performances completely mystified them and whose pictures, formed by the shadow of his hands thrown on a screen, kept them in continual laughter. Mr Hendrickson is clever at his work, some of the best of his shadowgraphs being pictures of a jockey, old man with a pipe, balcony scene and serenade, and tramp attacked by an indignant householder. W. Frank Malin rendered several violin selections, accompanied by Miss Waterbury.

Want to See a Real City.

The junior members of the New Brunswick Y. M. C. A. will come to this city Saturday morning to be the guests of the members of the boys' department of the local association. Two basket ball games will be played between the older and younger of the boys of each association. Physical Director Borden will accompany the New Brunswick delegation. The New Brunswick papers states that the K. O. K. A. bowling team of that city will play a series of games with the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., their team to consist of Sedam, Bullock, Boylan, Loblein, and Watson.

Back to the Woods!

Abe Davy, of Elizabeth, was an interested spectator at the March meeting of the Common Council, Monday night. IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The Children of Mary, of St. Mary's church, will attend their monthly communion, at the 6:30 mass Sunday morning. They will hold their meeting in the afternoon.

Rev. Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church, preached a very able and instructive sermon in the Lenten series in St. Mary's church last night, before one of the largest congregations of this penitential season.

Rev. Lester Girard Leggett, the evangelist, who has been assisting Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman in a series of meetings at Pittsburg, will have charge of the meeting at the East Third street chapel tomorrow night. It is expected that Mr. Leggett will have something of importance to announce.

Carney's Work.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The victory of yesterday is a triumph for David J. Carney. His judgment and foresight in crystallizing the sentiment which was expressed at the polls by the Citizens' movement was sound. Carney is a straight ticket man under ordinary circumstances, but the feeling was so intense that it could not be stopped, so he early handled the loose ends and fastened them together. He dictated who should be named on the ticket, and when the most important candidate failed to qualify he readily found a new one in John Whitenack for collector of taxes. Mr. Carney has already been spoken of as a candidate for Sheriff of Somerset County, and inasmuch as the county office now held by Democrats are largely due to Republican disaffection in the borough, Mr. Carney's claims will be very strong. Loyalty.

Taxes Not Going Up.

Editor, The Daily Press:

One of the chief arguments against the Republican administration is that taxes are going up. The only item of taxes which comes within the control of the borough Council is the "borough tax." Reference to the tax bills will show that the "borough tax" rate for the past four years has been as follows: 1900, 85 cents on $100; 1901, 84 cents on $100; 1902, 82 cents on $100; 1903, 85 cents on $100.

That item is therefore exactly what it was four years ago. It is true, however, that taxes have gone up. But it is the "school tax" item which is responsible for most of that. This item comes within the province of the Board of Education, and the Mayor and Council is not in any way responsible for it. Any one can verify these statements by examining the books in the office of the collector, George F. Brown, where they can be seen all day Tuesday.

Consumers' League Meeting.

There will be a meeting in the interest of the Consumers League on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parlors of the Congregational church. Mrs. Florence Kelly, National secretary of the Consumers League, will speak of the work of the League and J. G. Phelps Stokes, of New York, will speak on Child Labor.

Mayor Asked to Assist.

An invitation to join a union of municipal chief magistrates of this State has been received by Mayor Jenkins. The organization is designed to further a plan for equal taxation, which is enthusiastically backed by Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City. All the New Jersey Mayors have been asked to join.

Soon They'll Marry.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Edward Gould, night superintendent of the local P. S. C. car barn, to Miss Daisy Conover, of Pittstown. The ceremony will take place Wednesday, April 6, at the home of the bride's brother in Quakerstown.

Billie Grogan Dead.

William H. Grogan died yesterday at the age of fifty-one at his home in Westfield. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. He was a member of Elizabeth Lodge, B. P. O. E., and formerly lived here.

In Justice Hand's court, summons has been issued in the suit of Arthur Scott against William H. Gray for possession of premises.

West End Lumber Yard

Having closed our Watchung Avenue yard, we are now most conveniently located on Rock Avenue, along the tracks of the C. R. R. of N. J., where we have every facility required for an up-to-date Lumber and Masons' Materials Yard. We have at present sixty car loads of dry lumber under cover, and this is only a start.

Mr. John E. Dunn is in charge of this yard and his Call is 201. Call him up, or, better go and see him.

The East End Yard, corner North Avenue and Berkman Street, is, as before, in charge of J. D. Loizeaux, where you will receive the same prompt service. Telephone 218. If you want ten feet of lumber or ten million feet, you will find us in either case eager to quote you the lowest possible prices. Call on either of these yards and be convinced. Hoping to receive at least your inquiries, we are,

Yours Faithfully,

J. D. LOIZEAUX LUMBER COMPANY.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The Council ordered the construction of a culvert at Jackson and North avenue Monday night. The street committee is undecided as to the particular kind of culvert to install but is inclined to favor stone. This will be decided at a meeting called for March 14.

The culvert at the corner of Jackson and North avenues, which have been closed for several weeks and has caused the streets to be flooded with water, was opened yesterday and the water was allowed to run off.

Owing to a bad wash-out on Front street the large cars ran only as far as DeKalb avenue yesterday. A small car was run between there and Dunellen for the convenience of passengers for the borough.

A special meeting of the baseball team will be held this evening at the home of Lewis Dailey. The question of entering the proposed league will be taken up.

The street commissioner has repaired the culvecrt at Jackson avenue, thus allowing the water which has accumulated there, to run off.

The Board of Education held its monthly meeting last night. It was decided not to hold another meeting before the school election.

The bowling contest between Dunellen and Bound Brook, which was to be decided last night, has been postponed.

Robert Love, of Plainfield, conducted the weekly prayer meeting in the Presbyterian church last evening.

Charles D. Boice, of Washington avenue, will remove to the Hamilton house on Jackson avenue April 1st.

The Dunellen Brick Company will open up its yard for the coming season within the next week or so.

Mr. Davenport, of Hunterdon county, will move to the borough about the first of the month.

E. A. Craig and Albert Apgar have gone into the electrical contracting business in Plainfield.

The Daughters of Liberty held their regular monthly meeting in Apgar's Hall last evening.

The home of N. E. Hall was gladdened, yesterday, by the arrival of a boy baby.

The Afternoon Card Club met yesterday afternoon with Miss Marjorie Burke.

Albert Rojarette has moved into the Bradley house on Jefferson avenue.

The Board of Education held its regular March meeting last night.

Lenten services will be held in St. John's church this evening.

Walter G. Runyon has installed a new safe in his office.

The Juniors held their regular meeting last night.

Election day passed off very quietly.

NEW MARKET.

The Piscataway Township Committee will meet tomorrow afternoon and take up the question of granting a franchise to the N. E. Tel. Co., of New York, for the privilege of running a pole line through the township.

The water in the lake and Greenbrook is higher now than it has been for the past two years. The dam has been strengthened in order to withstand the great pressure.

Freeholder Manning has rented W. B. Smith's house on Main street and will move about April 1st.

George Ryno, who has been confined by illness some weeks, is somewhat better.

The high water has done considerable damage along the brook below the village.

The New Market band has decided to hold another dance on March 16.

Ferdinand Titsworth has recovered from a severe cold.

W. B. Smith will move to Jersey City this spring.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The junior base ball team is already beginning to arrange a schedule of games for this coming season. As soon as the weather will permit, practice will be begun. Willie Reynolds has been elected captain and manager of the team.

The members of the I. D. K. Club, of Plainfield, and a number of young people of the village, will hold a dance in Myers' Hall tonight. Admission is by invitation only.

Donald, the young son Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fullerton, of Washington Valley, is seriously ill with pneumonia. Two trained nurses are in attendance.

Mrs. Frederick Sheelen, of Jerusalem road, who has been dangerously ill for some time, continues to improve slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gray, of East Front street, have been entertaining Mr. Gray's brother from Newark for a few days.

I. C. T. GETS VERDICT

REV. J. P. TAYLOR LOSES SUIT FOR POSSESSION OF CENTRAL HALL.

The I. C. T. Club won a signal victory yesterday afternoon in its attempt to retain its present quarters on the third floor of the Taylor building on North avenue. The club's landlord, Rev. J. P. Taylor, brought suit for possession of premises in Justice Huff's court, intending to let the rooms to the Democratic Club, which was extremely desirous of securing them. His claim was that the I. C. T. Club's lease expired March 1, the club having made use of its privilege of renewing a six months' lease last September. It was alleged that the rooms had been already let to the Democratic Club at an advanced rent, the agreement being dated February 27.

The defense was that a verbal agreement had been entered into between Mr. Taylor and V. W. Nash, Jr., and Leonce Texier, authorized representatives of the club, on February 1, the plaintiff's statement that he wished the club to remain being accepted as a virtual new lease.

The jury decided, after twenty minutes deliberation, that the verbal agreement constituted a new lease for a full year at the same rent as at present. Two ballots were taken, the jury standing 11 to 1 on the first and agreeing on the second.

One of the points in the defendant's favor was the admission of the plaintiff that the club had paid its rent promptly, and been in fact one of his best tenants in that respect. The suit was brought by J. P. W. Taylor, attorney in fact for J. P. Taylor, represented by Robert L. Eaton, Esq., of Elizabeth. W. S. Angleman, Esq., appeared for the club and was assisted by V. W. Nash, Jr., Esq.

ASSESSORS COMING.

State Board Will Explain Workings of Revised Tax Law.

The State Board of Taxation will meet at the Court House at Elizabeth tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock for the purpose of explaining to the various assessors and collectors the working of the new tax law.

The revised law, which went into effect on December 20, 1903, has made a number of changes in the time and manner of assessing and collecting taxes in this State. Tomorrow's meeting is to give the State Board an opportunity to meet the various assessors and collectors and explain the workings of the new law.

Pipe Cleaning Device.

Patrick Kane, of Cottage place, has invented a machine for the quick cleaning of sewage pipes of cement or tile construction. He claims that his device will clean out a pipe choked with grease or roots in less than a minute. Mr. Kane will not have his device patented, believing that it will be safer from imitators and infringers if he keeps its specifications to himself.

—Robins and blackbirds, the first of the season, have made their appearance in this city. Several flocks were noticed by Michael Quinn at his farm at Avon Park.

APOSTLE AS WITNESS

Lyman, Chief of Utah Twelve Before Senate Committee.

SMOOT DID NOT KNOW HIS WIVES

Senator Hoar Cornered the Witness at Several Points and Made Him Take Back Previous Assertions as Prevarications.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The senate committee on privileges and elections in the investigation of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot of Utah brought out a variety of testimony, of which the most sensational was that given by Francis M. Lyman, president of the twelve apostles of the Mormon church and the man chosen to be the successor of President Smith.

His admissions were similar to those previously made by Mr. Smith pertaining to the church government. He is more free of speech than the president of the church, and his testimony, though not materially differing, caused several of the apostles present to shake their heads at the witness for the purpose of compelling more discretion in answering questions. Mr. Lyman is angularly built, his face is covered with a growth of bushy red whiskers, and his speech is blunt.

Four witnesses were on the stand. They were Mrs. Kennedy, her mother, Mrs. Matthews; Charles Merrill, the son of Apostle Merrill, and Mr. Lyman.

Mr. Lyman in his evidence said the principle of getting consent was that a shepherd could not leave his flock of sheep until his successor came to take charge, and therefore it was required that officials must get authority before leaving their official duties in the church.

"Apostles Grant and Teasdale were chosen by revelation to President Snow," said Mr. Lyman, "and a revelation also was given me in regard to these men."

He explained that the latter revelation came after President Snow had told him the names of the men he wanted chosen to the vacancies. Mr. Lyman was asked what distinction he made between the revelations he obeyed and those he did not obey.

"I suppose you mean the laws I have confessed that I have violated in cohabitation with plural wives?" he asked.

When told that was what was meant he said:

"I trust myself to the mercy of the Lord."

"Have you ever repented of that disobedience?" asked Mr. Hoar.

"Not yet."

"Did Senator Smoot know you were living with plural wives?" was asked.

Mr. Lyman answered that Senator Smoot did not know, as he never had met any one of his wives. He said that the people in general in Utah knew, but that he did not think Mr. Smoot had any knowledge of the fact. He said he was so generally known and his reputation was so wide that what was admitted as a fact in regard to him would be accepted by the people as true.

Chairman Burrows insisted on knowing if the people of Utah knew in regard to his life why Senator Smoot could not know just as well. The witness responded several times that the people must have known, but that Senator Smoot did not, whereupon Senator Hoar demanded to know what the witness meant by such answers. The witness then said that Senator Smoot probably knew just as much about the question as the people in general.

"Do you take back what you said, then, that the people knew and Senator Smoot did not know?" asked Senator Hoar.

"I take that back."

"Don't you think, Mr. Apostle, that it behooves you to be a little careful about what you say, so that you will not have anything to take back?" asked the senator severely.

Senator Hoar followed this question by asking the witness if he had received a revelation concerning what he was to testify to on the stand and whether such a revelation could be responsible for his change of mind in regard to the questions asked.

"Are your answers hereby ordered by the Lord? Are they given in your human or inspired capacity?" the senator asked.

"I answer as the spirit of the Lord directs."

"Then it was the spirit of the Lord which directed you to make the answer you just took back and which you said was a mistake?"

The witness hesitated, and Senator Hoar remarked:

"Well, if you can't answer that I don't blame you."

Mr. Lyman told the story of an effort on the part of Prophet Joseph Smith to get rid of one of his high counselors who had been chosen by revelation and the refusal of the people to submit to the change. This was for the purpose of showing that the will of the people is stronger than the wish or command of the president of the church.

"Do you mean to say," asked Senator Hoar, "that a revelation from the Lord which has been rejected by the people would count for nothing?"

"It would count for nothing for those who rejected it."

"Would it be binding upon the instrument of the Lord who received the revelation? I mean if the revelation should be received by you and the people refused to accept it would it be binding upon you to follow the revelation or to follow the wish of the people?"

"We should follow the wish of the people."

"Well, how about you?"

"I should be bound by what the people direct."

"Then," said Senator Hoar, "the voice of the people is of more authority than the mandate of the Lord?"

"The law of the Lord is whatever is done by common consent."

"Then the Lord submits to the people whatever he desires to have done, and if the people like it they give their consent. That is your belief, is it?"

"People have their rights, and they must be respected," answered the witness. "The Lord can't make the people do right or accept his laws. Man is left to follow his own agency in regard to religion, business and politics."

"Then," persisted Senator Hoar, "where the Lord has chosen certain persons as apostles and the people do not care to accept the selection what happens?"

"The man always steps aside when the people reject."

"They have a sort of veto power over the Lord, then?" remarked Senator Hoar.

Both the prosecution and defense announced they had concluded with Apostle Lyman, and he was discharged.

Charles J. Merrill, a son of Apostle Merrill, was called to the stand. He said he was the son of his father's third plural wife and is himself a polygamist. In answer to questions concerning his own marriages Mr. Merrill said he was married first in 1887 to a wife that died in 1889 and that he married his "legal wife," Chloe Hendricks, in 1891 and had five children by her. He had married another wife in 1888, the ceremony being performed in the Logan temple.

"The marriage to my legal wife in 1891," said Mr. Merrill, "was solemnized by my father."

"Were you living with Anna B. Stoddard when you married the woman you call your legal wife?" was asked.

"I was, although she had no house. She stayed at the home of her father and her mother, and I lived with my mother," answered the witness.

In answer to questions from Chairman Burrows Mr. Merrill said he now has two wives and is cohabiting with both.

INDOOR ATHLETICS.

New York Club's Great Meet at Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, March 9.—For the first time in twenty-seven years the New York Athletic club held an indoor athletic meet. The programme was a varied one, and the contests took place in Madison Square Garden before a select and keenly appreciative gathering of men and women.

A great deal of interest centered in the intercity regimental relay race at one mile, in which the Thirteenth regiment team of Brooklyn defeated a team representing the First regiment of Chicago by twenty yards, with the Twenty-second regiment team of this city third, six yards back, the time of the winning team being 3 minutes 34 2-5 seconds.

The fleet footed runners of Yale university captured first honors in the one mile and two mile relay races, but Cornell defeated Yale in the four mile relay, in which each member of the four men teams ran one mile. New indoor records were made in the two longer distance relay races, Cornell's representatives covering four miles in 18 minutes 20 4-5 seconds, which is over seven seconds better than the previous record.

The Cornell man led from start to finish, Ithaca's last relay, W. E. Schutt, finishing nearly a thousand yards ahead of C. B. Alcott. In the two mile relay race open to colleges Yale defeated Columbia by thirty yards, the time being 8 minutes 9 3-5 seconds, by far the best indoor time on record for this distance. H. Lemoyne of Harvard, who was on scratch in the sixteen pound shot putting handicap, went within two inches of equaling Gray's American record of forty-seven feet, establishing an indoor record of forty-six feet ten inches.

Lord Melbourne's Victory.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—Lord Melbourne scored a clever victory in the Six and a Half Furlongs handicap, which was the feature of the card at Oakland. He was one of the outsiders, Kenilworth being the favorite. The heavy going just suited Lord Melbourne, and Oliphant, who had the mount, clearly outrode Knapp on Nigrette. Kenilworth led for a time and finished third. Most of the winners were well supported, especially Keynote, who took the last race cleverly.

Inspecting Dead Letter Office.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The postoffice inspectors who have been investigating the dead letter office of the postoffice department have completed their work, and the report will be submitted soon to the postoffice department. It is probable that some dismissals may follow as one of the results of the investigation made by the inspectors.

Vicar General and 100 Priests Attend

SANDY HILL, N. Y., March 9.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Very Rev. J. J. O'Brien, dean of the diocese of Albany, was celebrated here by services at which Bishop Burke, Vicar General Lavelle of New York and 100 priests were present. The services were followed by a banquet.

Village Switched Over.

LYONS, N. Y., March 9.—The Republicans elected their whole ticket in the village election, including village president, three trustees, assessor, collector, police justice and treasurer. The village had been solidly Democratic for nine years past. The election was the most exciting in many years.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

COLORS AND MODES.

Wide Belts and Shirt Waist Suits, Green Being Revived.

There is at present a craze for wide belts, and this applies to all styles of dress, from the simple walking costume to the most elaborate evening or reception gown.

Gowns made with skirts clearing the ground all around and the waists blousing back and front over a wide knit belt are ultra smart. The waists of such gowns are usually made with a long shoulder effect and neatly stitched tucks. The skirts are very full and kilted, being merely held down as far as the knee. If the costume is of blue serge or linen a pretty idea is to have the tie and belt of scarlet. The same touch of scarlet may be repeated in the French sailor hat which goes with this.

Green is a color now being industriously "boomed" by the shops and dressmakers. It will be much seen in foulard.

Pale green cloth is being made up by smart dressmakers. It is combined with a heavy silvery white lace worked out with much embroidery.

Ruffled undersleeves are the prettiest and the newest. The foundation is of china silk or mousseline, and on this is sewed row upon row of narrow lace or chiffon ruffling edged with a tiny beading, often of a contrasting color. Thus a pair of undersleeves designed to go with a blue cloth gown were of pale blue mousseline de soie edged with tiny beading in black and white.

The picture shows a gown of putty colored chiffon. The bands of lace and fichu collar are dyed to match.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NOVEL FASHION FEATURES.

Shirrings of Every Sort the Rage. Dyed Lace Very Popular.

Shirred effects are the most prominent feature of fashion just now. A dress recently made for a bride had a wide shirring of many rows, like a collar, which came well over the shoulders. Below this the fullness spread out into a blouse, which pouched over a chiffon velvet belt both at the back and at the front. The same shirring extended well over the tops of the sleeves, which were very full and were confined at the wrist in a wide cuff of veiling lined with a double frill of lace. Around the neck and falling down the front there was a stole of chiffon velvet with fringed ends. The skirt was very full, with three wide tucks for sole trimming.

Dyed lace has become so popular that it is now almost the rule instead of the exception.

The picture hat is very much out of place with the tailor made gown. With the latter should be worn one of the small trim shapes now so much the fashion.

SPRING STOLE AND MUFF.

The all black hat is coming back into style again, particularly with the gray gown, and this is a very French combination.

A cream lace hat properly made looks well on a woman of any age.

Accordion plaited costumes will be seen again both for house and street wear. Nothing can be smarter than an accordion plaited bolero and skirt of fine black cloth worn with a lacy white waist and a big white hat.

The cut shows a spring stole and muff of taffeta in plain and shirred bands.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SHALL SHE GO FREE?

Mrs. Dye, Poison Candy Murder Suspect, May Escape Even a Trial.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 9.—Mrs. Sherman Dye of Boone, accused of sending poisoned candy through the mails to Miss Rena Nelson at Pierre, S. D., of whom she was said to be jealous and from which Miss Nelson died, cannot be extradited for the crime. Neither can she be tried for murder in Iowa.

This is the purport of a decision handed down by Governor Cummins after a consultation with Attorney General Mullan and upon the advice of the attorney general.

Governor Cummins says that the Iowa law will have to be amended in this respect, and he will send a special message to the legislature recommending such change. In his decision, which covers one of the first cases of the kind ever raised in Iowa, the governor says:

"The ruling I am compelled to make upon this application exhibits a grave defect in the law.

"Under the federal statute, as construed by every recent decision of the supreme court of the United States and by an older case in our own supreme court, I have no authority whatever to extradite Mrs. Dye.

"The holdings in this opinion are clear and explicit to the effect that to warrant extradition the person accused must have been personally in the state where the crime was committed and must have fled therefrom after the commission of the crime.

"Mrs. Dye was not in South Dakota and therefore could not have fled from that state.

"I regret this conclusion, because if Mrs. Dye is guilty of murder she must be tried for that offense in South Dakota or not at all unless the statute be changed.

"I have submitted the matter to the attorney general, and this ruling is made under his advice."

RACE WAR AT SPRINGFIELD.

Governor Herrick Has Been Asked For Military Protection.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 9.—Threats throughout the day and last night to burn the Levee, the negro district of the city, has confirmed Mayor G. J. Bowlus in his belief that more trouble is brewing, and he has asked Governor Herrick for troops. Two companies from Dayton and one each from Miamisburg, Urbana and Columbus have been promised to re-enforce the two local companies.

Many of the negroes of the city are surly and moody, and it is realized that only a spark is needed to set off the magazine of a race war. Crowds of whites are gathering in the vicinity of the levee, and all the day police have been ordered to report for duty for the night.

Upon urgent representations from Mayor Bowlus of Springfield that a race war is imminent as a result of the lynching of the negro Dickerson, Governor Herrick has ordered eight companies of state militia to that city to preserve order.

A Grand Trunk Pacific Road.

LONDON, March 9.—The Grand Trunk railroad shareholders at a meeting here ratified the agreement with the Canadian government for the construction of a grand trunk line to the Pacific. The Canadian government will assist the Grand Trunk Pacific company to construct the road, which is to extend from New Brunswick to British Columbia. The eastern terminus is named as Moncton, N. B., a city not on the seacoast. Opponents of the government claim that Portland and possibly Boston will be the real outlet on the Atlantic.

DREDGERS BRING UP GOLD.

Unique Industry Which Is Assuming Gigantic Proportions in Some Parts of California.

One of the strangest methods of mining in the world is being carried on in the Feather river meadows, below the city of Oroville, in Butte county, Cal. It consists in removing thousands of tons of gold-bearing mud and gravel from the bottom of Feather river, which in some places is more than 20 feet in depth.

From 15 to 20 great dredges are employed in the Oroville district, each having a capacity of from 2,000 to 3,000 cubic yards every 24 hours. Some of the great floating mines burrow down into the river bottom as far as 25 feet, 50 feet from the surface being the lowest depth at which the big shovels operate.

The success of the dredgers has been phenomenal. Last year the floating mines produced about $1,000,000. This year the miners expect to double that record. The ground worked averages from 15 to 75 cents, and often more, per cubic yard, but the cost of operating the dredgers, including an allowance for wear and tear on machinery, is in many of the dredgers only four cents per cubic yard, and in none of them does it exceed 12 per cent.

It is only from 25 to 30 feet to bed rock, and this deposit is easily excavated. The dredgers at work at the present time are taking out 25,000 to 30,000 cubic yards of gravel daily.

Two classes of dredgers are used. The more popular form consists of an endless chain of buckets. These lift the gravel on an inclined plane to the head of the sluices and concentrating tables attached to the dredger. The machinery which operates the bucket belt also pumps the water used in the concentrator in separating the precious contents from the dross.

The principle in extracting the gold flakes and minute nuggets is identical with that adopted by the old placer miner in the days of '49, when he washed the gold in his cradle in some of the very localities where the dredgers are now operating.

The other type of dredger is the scoop dredger. Attempts have been made to "work" these river beds with suction dredgers, but these have not been successful, as the high specific gravity of the gold enables it to escape from the suction when the cutter breaks down the pay dirt.

ADMIRAL SOTOKICHI URIU.

Japanese Hero of Chemulpo Is a Christian and Was Educated in This Country.

Admiral Sotokichi Uriu, the hero of the battle of Chemulpo, was among the first of his nation to take advantage of the privilege of being educated at Annapolis. He was an earnest student while there, and acquired a thorough mastery of every study he took up.

Outside of his studies his chief interest lay in religious work. He is not only a Christian in theory, but he has lived his life according to his professions.

At Annapolis he was president of the Y. M. C. A., and often led and addressed meetings. Phil. McGiffin, the hero of the battle of the Yalu during the Chino-Japanese war, was one of Uriu's classmates and close friends, though the two were absolutely unlike each other and seemed to have nothing in common.

After his Annapolis course Uriu went to a technical school in England and then returned to Japan as an aid in the admiralty. He has ever since maintained a correspondence with his friends here, and has been kept closely posted on the deevlopment of naval affairs in this country.

Uriu's wife was also educated in the United States, being a graduate of Vassar.

JAPAN AND KOREA.

Why Marquis Ito For Special Deal With Hermit Kingdom.

LONDON, March 9.—A Tokyo dispatch says the forthcoming visit of Marquis Ito as a special ambassador from the emperor of Japan to the emperor of Korea claims the general attention of diplomats here. It was originally planned to send a prominent Japanese to Seoul as a permanent resident adviser to the Korean government, and various names were suggested. The announcement that Marquis Ito is going is a surprise. In official circles it is insisted that the object of Marquis Ito's visit to Korea is not politically important, but his visit at this crisis is significant.

The Japanese government, it is said, is considering the advisability of seeking to secure immediately a loan in America and Europe. Although it is estimated that enough bonds can be sold at home to provide sufficient money to prosecute the war for at least one year and a half and although many Japanese statesmen and financiers believe that Japan is capable of waging war to a conclusion without borrowing a single cent abroad and have in a spirit of national pride counseled that no foreign loan be sought, yet it is felt that there may arise in a year or two a contingency when money may be seriously needed.

It is thought that it would be better to place a loan now if possible rather than attempt to do so in a future crisis when money may be badly needed.

A St. Petersburg report says Viceroy Alexeieff has sent the czar the following message from his headquarters at Mukden:

"I have the honor to communicate to your majesty the following details of the bombardment of Vladivostok:

"The enemy's squadron approached the city toward 11 o'clock in the morning, having passed near Askold island. After several maneuvers which involved changes in the squadron's order of battle two cruisers were left to the north of the island, and the remaining vessels of the squadron steamed along the coast of Ussuri bay parallel to the shore and keeping about fifteen versts (approximately ten miles) therefrom. Upon arriving off Mount St. Joseph and the Ussuri bay battery the squadron, preserving the same order, made toward the battery. The ships opened fire from both sides, evidently first using blank cartridges in order to warm their guns. At 1:35 p. m., when at a distance of eight versts (approximately five and a quarter miles) from the shore, the leading ship opened fire with her forward guns, and then the entire squadron steamed along the shore, firing their port guns as they came in range. The enemy did not fire while turning. After the third turn the squadron at 2:25 p. m. ceased firing and steamed off to the southward about ten miles to the right of Askold island, finally disappearing at 5:30 p. m.

"In all the enemy fired about 200 shells, with no effect. No damage was done to the fortress or the intrenchments, and in the town and at other parts of the fortifications the damage was insignificant.

"The garrison is in excellent spirits, and the operations of preparing the batteries for action were carried out in perfect order."

The military commandant at Vladivostok has ordered all foreigners to have their passports vized by the local government and commercial agents of their respective countries.

Most of the residents of Vladivostok are sending their families into the interior. The girls' school and boys' gymnasium will also be transferred into the interior. The prices of foodstuffs are becoming exorbitant.

The Russian Kennel club at St. Petersburg has offered to provide the Red Cross society with dogs trained to find and relieve the wounded on the battlefield and in rough country districts. The offer probably will be accepted. These dogs carry restoratives and a first aid package attached to their collars.

The offer of a society woman to raise a body of 2,000 amazons to fight against the Japanese has been greeted with laughter at the war office.

The Gazette urges a boycott of British goods and ships.

A dispatch from Tokyo says it is reported that the Japanese fleet engaged the Russian Vladivostok squadron at sea yesterday. The result of the engagement is not announced, but it is believed that the Russian ships were destroyed or captured.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Alis will bowl the Saturday Night Bowling Club, of Westfield, at Westfield, next Saturday night.

The date of the bowling match between the Y. M. C. A. and Letter Carriers' five has been changed from Friday to next Monday, March 14.

The postponed bowling match between the Parks and Cranford in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament will be rolled tomorrow night on the Park Club alleys.

The series of games rolled between the Westfield Club and the Roselle Casino in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament on Friday night last, were won by Roselle. Their scores for the games were 860, 922 and 863, while Westfield rolled 854, 838 and 849. The work of both teams was good and the individual scores were quite close. The result brings Roselle nearer first position, with 22 wins and 11 lost games.

This is the standing in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament:

	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	24	9
Roselle	22	11
Parks	10	20
Cranford	7	23

BASKET BALL.

The concluding game of the Leal's-High School series will be played Friday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

The Y. M. C. A. basket ball team expects to meet Orange Y. M. C. A. in the local gymnasium Monday night, March 14. The teams have played one game in Orange.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Alis Club baseball team for the coming season is to have a handsome coat to match the uniforms of gray. The coats will be of an attractive shade of gray with dark red cuffs and collars. The front will be adorned with large buttons.

The baseball management of the Alis Club has closed with the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., team for two games on Decoration Day. Both will be played on Crescent Oval, and as this team is one of the strongest in the Metropolitan district, two good games should be anticipated.

THE CITIZENS' PARTY WINS

the time he left the Council, and declared that he still adhered to the conviction that the chief executive had treated him with kindness and courtesy while in office. His present attitude of opposition, he said, has been the result of the administration's policy, and not because of personal feeling toward the Mayor. Mr. Valiant spoke vigorously, and Mr. Swackhamer did not look happy during the inquisition. The Republicans enjoyed the memory of the incident all day.

Former Senator Charles A. Reed, who helped Mayor Smalley to carry the Republican campaign through, was too ill with grip to take any part in the electioneering. He left his sick bed to vote, and returned immediately to the house. A. T. Smalley, who has been ill a week, did the same thing for his brother's ticket, and John Goodwin, one of the Mayor's bitterest opponents, braved just as serious an illness and left the house for the first time in weeks to cast his ballot for the Citizens.

The Citizens' victory wiped out a normal Republican majority of 250. A prominent Citizens' leader alleged last night that Brown had been saved at the last minute by trading. He declared that the Republican leaders saw their ticket was doomed in the afternoon, and concentrated everything on the collector, swapping votes for Krewson in exchange for Brown ballots.

Yesterday's election divides the borough Council evenly between the administration and anti-administration parties. Mayor Smalley having the deciding vote, the control of the body still rests with the regular Republicans. Of the new councilmen, J. P. Humble, is Republican and the other two are Democrats. The new Council will be composed as follows:

M. C. VanArsdale, R; Charles A. Lee, R; James K. Arnold, R; F. C. Krewson, Cit; John H. VanWinkle, Jr., Cit; Joseph P. Humble, Cit.

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP.

Republicans Win Everything, But Town Committeeman, Bruchmann Being Re-Elected.

The entire Republican ticket, with the exception of township committeeman, was carried at the Fanwood township election yesterday by an overwhelming majority. The result being a surprise to the leaders of both parties. Out of a registry list of 330, 232 votes were cast. This is considered a light vote but it gave the Republican ticket a majority of sixty, and came near defeating Theodore Bruchmann, the Democratic nominee for Township Committee, who has held the office for several terms. Charles Ball, his opponent, making a good run and only lost by a majority of nine votes. Outside of this office and the appropriation but little cutting was done by either party.

The votes for the several officers were as follows: Freeholder—John Robison, R, 162; Charles Haberly, D, 64; township committee—Charles Ball, R, 108, Theodore Bruchmann, D, 117; constable—Robert Walpole, R, 144, (no opposition; overseer of the poor—August Klemser, R, 146, (no opposition); commissioner of appeals—William H. Johnston, R, 140; Charles Eiler, D, 86; surveyor of highways—Andrew Schaffer, R, 145; Louis B. Coddington, R, 142; George Scudder, D, 83; Samuel Lee, D, 85; poundkeeper—Henry S. Littell, John Edwards, Nicholas Delivero, all Republicans. Appropriations—Roads, $2,000; sidewalks, $250; poor, $400; police, $100; fire, $300; no town building.

FANWOOD BOROUGH.

The borough election at Fanwood proved to be one of the quietest elections for local offices held in years. Only one ticket was in the field, the voters being given a chance to distinguish their choice for freeholder, by voting either the Citizens Democratic or the Citizens Republican ballot. Very little scratching was indulged in, all candidates and appropriations running pretty well up with the ticket. The result was as follows: Freeholder — John Robison, R, 62; Charles Haberly, D, 17; giving a majority of 45. The vote on the local ticket was: Councilmen—Stevens, 76; Babcock, 76; justice of the peace—Charles Sheelen, 78; commissioner of appeal—Harry Robinson, 50. Appropriations—Light, $1,000; streets, $800; sprinkling streets, $175; water, $200; police, $600; expenses, $300.

DUNELLEN.

Borough Carried by Republicans, Election Being Without Exciting Features.

The Republicans carried Dunellen as usual, putting through their entire ticket. For councilman, Wilson Frederick, a victim of the Westfield wreck, was successful with 33 majority, capturing 138 votes against J. Alfred Wilson, D., the largest number cast for any individual candidate. Fowler Vail, his running mate for Council, won by 39, over John F. G. Kinney, D., the vote being 136-97. There was no excitement at the polls. No issues had been drawn during the campaign and the results were conceded from the start. The administration of the past year has been satisfactory, particularly in a financial way there being a balance in the treasury for the first time in years.

The fight for commissioners of appeal was somewhat closer than for councilmen. George Huff, R., was chosen for three years, receiving 127 votes against 116 for Theodore Apgar. George F. Giles, R., for commissioner for one year captured 125 votes to 112 for his opponent, Winfield R. Hetfield, D. Charles W. Blaine was named for constable on both tickets, his total vote being 240.

The appropriations voted were $3,000 for borough purposes, and $100 for the support of the poor.

NEW MARKET.

The Republicans elected the entire ticket in Piscataway township yesterday with the exception of freeholder, Alexander Manning being chosen to a fourth term. Nelson M. Giles was elected township committeeman by 150 majority. Silas Dewey Drake was chosen justice of the peace. There was no other candidate for the office. Albert L. Boice and Richard Dalafield were elected surveyors of highways. All the appropriations were carried.

NEW PROVIDENCE.

New Providence township elections were hotly contested, 93 votes being polled out of a registration of 111, the results being divided between the Republican or township ticket and the citizens. John F. Wahl, Republican candidate for freeholder, was re-elected, receiving in the township a majority of 17, while in the borough of New Providence, his opponent, Bradford Jones, received a majority of only 10, leaving Wahl seven to spare on a vote of 54 to 47.

WARREN.

In a hot fight in Warren township, the Democrats were barely victorious, running in Henry P. Williams for township committeeman for three years by 11 voting a township normally Democratic by 75. Williams beat Reuben Coddington 121 votes to 110.

UNION FREEHOLDERS.

There is a gain of one in the Republican majority in the Board of Freeholders. It stands 12 to 8.

Clark township elected Benjamin King, R, Springfield returned Peter Meisel, R; Union township went for Noah Woodruff, D; Fanwood re-elected John Robison, R; New Providence, John Wahl; Roselle, Henry Krouse, R; Cranford, E. K. Adams, R.; Mountainside, Elston Darby, R.

fight, and we will win eventually," was the prompt reply."

"Fight on what?"

"Matters in general," said the Mayor with a smile.

"What is the new Council to do?"

"The policy of the administration will be unchanged. I am expecting great things from the new members of the Council."

Former Senator Reed said:

"Barnum, the great showman, once said that the American people love to be fooled and that he was undoubtedly right to a great extent has been many times proven. Mr. Honeyman is an artist in this line and when it comes to stating half truths and appealing to the ignorance and prejudices of the community his abilities entitle him to even more success that he has achieved. That the 600 votes which his ticket polled probably represent less than twenty per cent. of the taxes paid in the borough should be sufficient to explain the man and the movement to all intelligent people."

Mrs. Moore Passes Away.

Mrs. Henrietta Augustusa Moore, widow of William B. Moore, died in this city yesterday after a long sickness. She was seventy-seven years old and is survived by a son, Fred Moore, of East Second street, a daughter, Mrs. Wyckoff, of New Brunswick, and two grandchildren of this city, William H. Moore and Mrs. Charles Geer. Funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Moore's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Moore, 500 East Second street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Lynch Dead.

Mrs. Patrick Lynch, of West Second street, died this morning after a long illness. She is survived by her husband, a former police sergeant in this city at present employed as watchman in the banking house of Harvey Fisk & Son, of New York, a son, Edward Lynch, and a daughter, Miss Mollie Lynch, both of this city.

Former Plainfielder Dead.

Isaac Laing, who was a resident of this city before the Civil War, died at his home in Elizabeth Sunday night, following an illness with pneumonia. He was a carpenter by trade. He is survived by a widow, who is a sister of the late Col. Rufus K. Case. The funeral services were held from the late home, last night.

Infant's Death.

Angelina Petruccione, one year and five months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petruccione, died yesterday afternoon at the parents' home, 1359 North avenue. The funeral will take place this afternoon and the interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

—Jacob Voehl, Jr., of East Front street, seriously cut his hand on a piece of glass yesterday afternoon, severing two arteries.

PLAINFIELDERS AT A. O. U. W. CONVENTION

Supreme Representative Nash and Others Go to Trenton to Fight Assessment Plan.

ADOPTION DOUBTFUL

COLUMBIA AND CENTRAL LODGES OPPOSE THE SCHEME.

Sessions Begin Today—J. W. A. Bauersachs is a Member of State Finance Committee—Hard Fight is Expected.

Plainfield's delegation to the A. O. U. W. convention, which begins today at Trenton, left this city yesterday afternoon. Lively sessions are promised from the start, as it is expected that the matter of adopting the new assessments will be the bone of contention from the time Grand Master Workman Tomlinson, of Elizabeth, makes his introductory speech. If Mr. Tomlinson refers to the subject of assessments in his opening remarks, as is his privilege, there will probably be an immediate contest that will give a fair indication of the general sentiment of the 110 delegates present. It ought to be possible to make a reasonably safe prediction as to the action on the assessments, by the end of today's sessions, though final action is likely to be deferred until near the end. The sessions will close tomorrow.

Before leaving this city, Supreme Representative Nash, who has marshalled the forces of those opposed to the assessments, said that he expected a hard fight The Supreme Lodge will have its most able and active supporters present in force to prevent the ruption of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey and the Supreme Lodge which will be the certain result of a refusal to adopt the proposed plans. This result has already taken place in Massachusetts where the Supreme Lodge is involved in a suit in which it attempts to force the Massachusetts Grand Lodge to support it as heretofore.

A two-thirds vote will be necessary to carry the proposed assessments through, and from a Plainfield standpoint, their adoption seems doubtful. Mr. Nash has been successful in convincing the members of such lodges as his health has permitted him to address of the fairness of his views, and the Plainfield and Westfield delegates will be a unit in rallying to his support. The main strength of the advocates of the new plans lies in South Jersey, though even there as all over the State the sentiment is divided. Inasmuch as but one more than one-third of the vote is needed to defeat the plans and as the division of sentiment is so even, it seems more than likely that Mr. Nash will carry his point. He has made the fight unaided and even if he has gained nothing else has forced his opponents to accept his interpretation of the benefits of the order as insurance rather than "protection."

Preliminary business of the grand lodge was transacted last night, with Mr. Nash as sitting past grand master. Plainfielders in attendance are Mr. Nash and J. W. A. Bauersachs, member of the State finance committee, from Columbia Lodge, and William Newcorn, C. T. Rogers and Past Master Workman Wilson, of Central Lodge.

Tea for Miss Bell.

Cards have been sent out by Mrs. L. N. Lovell and her daughters, the Misses Lovell, of 112 Crescent avenue, for a tea in honor of Miss Bell to be given Friday, March 11 from 4 to 6.

Annual Meeting.

The borough Board of Health will hold its final meeting of the fiscal year tonight.

LUNCHEON AT PARK CLUB

FIRST OF SEMI-WEEKLY AFFAIRS CONDUCTED BY THE WOMEN MEMBERS.

Beginning a series of semi-weekly affairs, the women members of the Park Club gathered for an informal luncheon and sociable at the clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

About sixty of the clubwomen attended the luncheon, which passed off delightfully. Roses decorated the tables.

After lunch the women spent the afternoon in an informal way, cardplaying forming the principal diversion. In keeping with the character of the affair, no prizes were offered.

The luncheon was arranged by the entertainment committee, which is made up of Mrs. Charles A. Reed, chairman; Mrs. A. V. Heely, Mrs. G. T. Rogers, Mrs. Clifford McGee and Mrs. George D. Hallock. Similar affairs will be held every two weeks for a time, the next one being set for March 23.

A JUNIOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

COMBINATION MAY BE COMPOSED OF FOUR BOYS' TEAMS.

Another of the junior teams has come out in support of the proposed league among the school boy and other minor baseball nines. Manager Harold Robert, of the combination representing the classes of '06-'07 at the High School, announced yesterday that he was in accord with the Y. M. C. A. and West End Branch Y. M. C. A. junior teams in the project.

The High School boys will have a strong team. Phillip Smith and Malcolm Davis, the regular school battery, will be in the points for them, and there is an abundance of good material for the rest of the positions. Among the boys picked out to play are Elliot Taylor, Paul Collier, Dudley Strong, Sidney Rockwell, Leon Walters, Jack Douglas and William Douglas.

The team will begin outdoor practice in a day or two, and will probably be in complete shape for play by April. Games with any team in the same class are desired, Y. M. C. A. Juniors preferred. Manager Robert may be communicated with at the High School.

It is beginning to look as if the junior league were an assured thing. If the Whittier School turns out a team, it will certainly be in favor of the league, and the four teams will be sufficient to make a combination that should arouse and sustain a lot of interest among the younger baseball enthusiasts.

A meeting in reference to the league formation will be held shortly at the Y. M. C. A.

GROWING INSTITUTION.

Plainfield Trust Co. a Factor in the Metropolitan Banking District.

Among the financial institutions of the State the Plainfield Trust Company has taken a leading and prominent place. Almost the youngest of its class, the company is yet recognized as a strong and permanent factor in financial circles in the metropolitan district.

Its strong financial condition, and the standing it has taken, is indicated by the comparative statement for the year that has just been made public. At the close of 1903 the resources were $1,007,571.89; on March 5, 1904, they had increased to $1,091,076.80, and they are still growing. In the same period deposits increased from $806,359.34 to $883,534.11.

Plainfielders of high financial standing compose the board of directors. The body is made up as follows:

Ernest R. Ackerman, J. Herbert Case, Frederick Geller, Aug. V. Heely, Francis de L. Hyde, James W. Jackson, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Chas. W. McCutchen, Henry A. McGee, Walter M. McGee, George P. Mellick, Isaac W. Rushmore, Samuel Townsend, Lewis E. Waring, Orville T. Waring.

Building Addition to Clubhouse.

Work has been started on the new addition to the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse, whereby larger floor space will be allowed for social affairs and dinner parties. It is hoped to have the improvement completed during April. If the weather will permit the course will be opened during that month, but it will be a little later before the season's schedule will be in full swing.

Colored Couple Wed.

Tipton Goldston and Miss Molly Henry were married last night by Rev. E. E. Jackson, of Mt. Olive church. The ceremony was performed at 110 West Front street.

TAX EXEMPTION KNOCKED OUT

ASSEMBLY RECEIVES ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S ADVERSE OPINION.

Speaker Avis has laid before the House at Trenton a communication from Attorney General McCarter in relation to Assembly bill No. 199, which is intended to exempt from taxation the real and personal property, to an amount not exceeding $500 of its assessed valuation, of active and exempt firemen, members of any salvage corps, general and staff officers, field officers, commissioned and non-commissioned officers generally, musicians and privates of the National Guard and honorably discharged soldiers and sailors. The Attorney General calls attention to the fact that the Supreme Court, in the recent case of exemptions had been allowed without any constitutional warrant. The Attorney General adds:

"The application of this decision to Assembly bill No. 199 is apparent, and I therefore am forced to the conclusion that, for the same reasons, it is unconstitutional. I am informed that an appeal has been taken from the decision of the Supreme Court to the Court of Errors and Appeals in the Tippet case; but, of course, so long as that case remains unreversed we must accept it as the law. I should add that no implication is to arise from what I have said that it is my opinion that the decision just referred to will be reversed."

DUNELLEN'S NEW MINISTER

HADDONFIELD CHURCH ACTED ON MR. CASSELBERRY'S RESIGNATION.

After considering calls, Rev. W. W. Casselberry, of Haddonfield, has decided to accept the one tendered him by the Dunellen Presbyterian church. His resignation was accepted by the session of the Haddonfield church last night.

In Rev. Mr. Casselberry the Dunellen church has secured a head of marked executive ability. In the eleven years of his pastorate at Haddonfield, he has built up the church membership from 50 to 200, and put his charge in the front rank of the Presbytery in missionary and benevolent work.

Rev. Mr. Casselberry was born in Spring City, Pa., and graduated from Princeton University in 1861. Three years later he received a diploma from the Princeton Theological Seminary.

BOYS' ORGANIZATION.

Lads Change Name of Club and Prepare for Baseball Season.

Arrangements for the reorganization of the A. B. C. Athletic Club, one of the principal junior organizations of its kind last year, will be made at a meeting to be held next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of Gordon Stuart, of 819 Park avenue, the secretary.

While the objects of the club will remain the same, the name will be changed and the organization will be made upon a different basis. The name is to be the F. B. H. C., the significance of which will be kept secret from everybody but the members.

With a lot of good material in sight, the boys expect to put a strong baseball team, averaging fifteen years, on the diamond. Later a football team will be organized, and a hockey team is to uphold the club standard in proper season.

New Jersey's Mayors Met.

Nine Mayors of New Jersey municipalities attended the meeting in the office of Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City, yesterday afternoon to form an association to secure equal taxation. Those present were the Mayors of Englewood, West New York, Bayonne, East Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, Hoboken, Arlington and Jersey City. Letters of regret were received from the Mayors of Paterson, Trenton, Camden and Perht Amboy, expressing sympathy with the movement. Mayor Fagan predicted that not much would be accomplished this year, but the purpose was to keep up the work until the next session of the Legislature and become a formidable force backed by a strong public sentiment that the legislators could not ignore. He declared that equal taxation will be an issue in the next campaign, and that neither political party will dare dodge it.

—Several handsome and valuable prizes are to be given to stamp collectors by the Blue Exchange Stamp Company between this date and April 9. The company has a large advertisement in this issue of The Daily Press, which explains the offer.

NEW JERSEY MASONS' ANNUAL COMMUNICATION

Jerusalem and Anchor Lodges Represented at 117th Session Being Held in Trenton.

ELECTION FOR TODAY

THERE ARE 18,000 MEMBERS OF THE CRAFT IN THE STATE.

Plainfielders in Attendance—Banquet Held Last Night—Lodge of Instruction—Grover Cleveland to Receive Degrees.

The one hundred and seventeenth communication of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey F. and A. M. met yesterday in Trenton, and there being 178 Masonic lodges represented, when Grand Master W. Holt Apgar opened the lodge. Worshipful Master F. J. Pope, of Jerusalem, No. 226 and Worshipful Master Francis Montogmery, and Senior Warden, Wm. N. Runyon, of Anchor, No. 149, as well as D. C. Adams, and R. A. Osmun, both of Jerusalem, were the Plainfielders present. Dr. Adams is grand commander of the Knights Templar of New Jersey, and Mr. Osmun is senior warden of Jerusalem lodge. The morning session was occupied in hearing reports from the Grand Master and from the various committees.

Last evening H. M. Haines, of Mount Holly, held a lodge of instruction exemplifying the three degrees of the blue lodge. Today Senior Warden M. Fithian, of Newark, will be elected Grand Master and W. Holt Apgar made a past Grand Master.

The reports yesterday showed that there are over 18,000 Masons in New Jersey.

The feature of yesterday's meeting was the presence of thirty-one members of the Grand Lodge of New York, headed by Grand Master Chandler. Grand Master Carrolton W. Chase, of Kentucky, was also present.

After the session yesterday the Masonic Veterans' Association held a banquet at the Hotel Sterling.

Former President Grover Cleveland, at the age of 67, has taken the first steps in Masonry, and would have been raised two weeks ago only for the bereavement caused by the death of his daughter Ruth. Grand Master J. Holt Apgar, of Trenton, has arranged to convene the Grand Lodge in Princeton and give Mr. Cleveland three degrees at one time. This prerogative is seldom employed by the grand master, and is done only in emergency cases. President Roosevelt became a Mason two years ago in Oyster Bay. A distinguished company from New York and other States saw him raised to the third degree.

A FIREMEN'S CELEBRATION

WARREN ENGINE AND WEST END HOSE COMPANIES TO GATHER MONDAY.

It will be a fire department celebration, the last gathering of the old-time organization, and not merely a Warren Engine Company supper, in the borough Monday night. Both companies have conferred and a social affair in the nature of a joint farewell to the old life has been decided upon.

The supper will be held in Graceley's Hotel, on Somerset street. There will not be any particular programme to mark the farewell nature of the affair, but a number of speeches will be made. It is understood that Mayor Smalley and other borough officials will be invited to attend, as at previous fire department gatherings.

Arrangements are being made by the following joint committee: Warren Engine Company, William Debele, James Walker, Charles Stahl, Jacob Higgins, William Doud; West End Hose Company, Herman Klinsman, John Bremmer, Charles Keller, Peter Stram, Frank Perry.

Mrs. Waterbury's Address.

The address by Mrs. N. M. Waterbury, home secretary of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions at Boston, given last evening in the lecture room of the First Baptist church was full of interest. Her story of two heathen boys for whom she cared, when during the life time of her husband she was a missionary in India, was full of pathos and charm that brought laughter and tears to the faces of her audience.

SHOOT FOR NATIONAL TROPHY

ATTRACTIVE PRIZES FOR MARKSMEN OF THE NATIONAL GUARD.

It will be of interest to marksmen in the National Guard of New Jersey to know the conditions under which the National trophy match will be shot this coming summer. It will be open to teams of twelve men, and there will be slow, rapid and skirmish fire. The distances will be slow fire at 200, 600, 800 and 1,000 yards; rapid fire at 300 and 500 yards; and two skirmish runs. There will be two sighting shots and ten shots for record at each range. The position will be standing at 200, and prone at the other ranges.

It will take three days to shoot the National match. On the first day the firing will be 200 and 600 yards slow fire, and 200 and 500 rapid fire. The 800 and 1,000 slow fire will be shot on the second day and the two skirmish runs on the third day. The rules governing the contest are those published in general orders No. 73, of April 27, 1903.

The first prize will be the National trophy and $500 cash; the second prize the Hilton trophy and $300 cash; the third prize the Soldier of Marathon and $200 cash; the fourth prize, $150 cash; the fifth prize $100 cash; the sixth prize $50 cash, and each member of the winning team will get a medal. The place and time for the match has not as yet been determined.

The National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice has recommended that rifle associations in the several States of the Union become affiliated with the National Rifle Association, of which General Bird W. Spencer, of Passaic, is the president.

CLOTHING CO.'S OPENING

GREAT DISPLAY OF SPRING CLOTHING AT NEW YORK STORE HERE.

The New York Clothing Company, M. Weinberger, manager, will have a grand opening sale of spring clothing in its new store, 202 204 West Front street, on Saturday. Without doubt this is one of the finest clothing stores in the State and with the additional room, the large stock of clothing and men's furnishings, there should be a marked increase in the business. Mr. Weinberger has for several years conducted a first-class clothing business here and his policy has always been one of progress.

As to the quality of the goods sold there has never been any question. They represent the product of the best manufacturers. In addition to the ready-to-wear clothing, Mr. Weinberger has secured the services of a new up-to-date custom tailor and clothing will be made strictly in accordance with the styles and to your fancy. Considerable attention will be given to first-class men's furnishings and Mr. Weinberger gives all a cordial invitation to visit and inspect his new store. Attention is called to the company's large advertisement in The Daily Press today.

SOMERSET'S BOARD.

County Freeholders Now Composed of Seven Democrats and Three Republicans.

As a result of Tuesday's election in Somerset county the standing of the board politically is now seven Democrats to three Republicans, as follows: Bedminster, David Philbower, D.; Bernards, J. A. Whitenack, D.; Branchburg, Henry W. Baird, R.; Bridgewater, William J. Logan, D.; Franklin, T. E. Gibson, D.; Hillborough, R. W. Hoagland, R.; Montgomery, Walter M. Vreeland, R.; North Plainfield, William M. Demler, D.; North Plainfield borough, J. Emmons, D.; Warren, Joel Coddington, D.

MR. SCHOOLEY DEAD.

Died From Complication of Diseases at His Home.

George W. Schooley, aged fifty-five years, who for fifteen years was in the employ of the Worthington Pump Company, of New York, died this morning at his home, 328 East Second street, following an illness of nearly a year with a complication of diseases. He was born near Albany and when a child removed to Brooklyn, where he lived until four years ago. He had been a resident of this city since then

He is survived by a widow and three children, Miss Lottie Schooley, Charles and Herbert Schooley, also two sisters, Mrs. Chas. Lezott, of Adirondack Mountains, and Mrs. James Bailey, of Brooklyn. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

David Krymer, foreman at Potter's Press works, is confined to his home by illness.

CREGAR, AMBULANCE SURGEON

ASERGEANT OF COMPANY K PROMOTED BY COL. COLLINS.

Through an appointment made by Col. Collins, Dr. P. B. Cregar has been saved from the necessity of resigning from Company K.

Dr. Cregar, who held the rank of sergeant, was impelled to leave the company on account of pressure of professional business, which prevented his attendance at drills. He was averse to severing his connection with the command, however, and when Col. Collins heard of his dilemma, he solved it by appointing the physician as ambulance surgeon of the regiment, attached to Company K. This will keep the doctor in his rank of sergeant, but relieves him of the necessity of attending drills.

This appointment will make vacancies in the line of corporals and sergeants. The elections are practically assured, but the company members will not make the probable promotions public.

CLEARING SAENGERBUND HALL

REMOVAL OF DEBRIS HAS BEEN BE GUN BY THE OWNERS.

Work on the clearing of the debris from the Saengerbund Hall ruins has been started with the advent of thawing weather. All through the winter, the wreckage and charred stuff inside the ruins have been frozen solidly together by the snow and rain, and clearance was almost impossible.

A week ago some of the work had been done, but the weather interfered again and compelled a cessation. Yesterday Henry Haurand resumed the task, and it is hoped to hurry it through to a completion during the early spring thaw.

While digging up the half-frozen debris a week ago, Mr. Haurand unearthed a large framed picture of F. W. Steines, of South River, a former leader of the Singing Section, that had hung upon the hall wall. The glass covering had been melted by the intense heat of the flames and the frame had been almost entirely burned away, but the picture itself was unmarked in any way. It was found face down beneath a pile of the grimiest wreckage, and the condition in which it came up is remarkable when the circumstances are considered.

Mr. Haurand has had the picture reframed to keep as a souvenir.

REMOVED OBSTRUCTIONS.

Gang of Men Open West Front St., at DeKalb Ave., for Traffic.

After a day and a half of hard work, the street commissioner's force and the Public Service Corporation workmen put the flooded section of West Front street at De Kalb avenue into shape and opened the way for the resumption of trolley traffic by dusk Tuesday night.

Street Commissioner Gavett's men replaced the broken stone culvert with a 22-inch pipe across the road, and the water was speedily carried off. Inspector Maguire's trolley men worked swiftly on the damaged roadbed, and by 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon the through service was resumed to Dunellen.

With the new piping in place, it is not believed that the same trouble from heavy rains is to be expected again.

Mr. Stafford's New Position.

James A. Stafford, of College place, has resigned his position as assistant manager of the American Writing Machine Company, of New York, which manufacturers the New Century typewriter, to accept the position of manager of the National Typewriter Company, at Toronto, Canada. The latter concern does a large business in the sale of typewriters in the province of Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Stafford will leave for Canada on Monday and they will probably settle permanently in the Dominion.

In Justice von Minden's Court.

Judgment for the plaintiff has been rendered by Justice VonMinden, of New Market, in the landlord and tenant case of Paul Kratzel against Harry Ensley. In the same court, John P. Field, plaintiff on contract, against William McCullough has been awarded judgment for $162.20. Henry C. Suydam, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Swick Buried.

Funeral services for Mrs. Catharine S. Swick, wife of Joseph B. Swick, were held yesterday afternoon at the late home, 137 Berckman street. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church, officiated. The body was taken to Bound Brook for burial.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF BOROUGH COUNCIL

Talk Concerning Mayor Smalley's Attitude in Making Up the Various Committees.

POLICY UNCHANGED

CITIZENS' PARTY COUNCILMEN EXPECTED TO BE ACTIVE QUANTITY.

Lee to Continue as Chairman of Police Committee, and Arnold Still to be Head of Street Committee.

Discussion as to the make-up of the committees and others matters of the organization of the new Borough Council has begun among the transbrook politicians. The body will meet for organization next Monday night, and big delegations from both Republican and Citizen ranks are expected to attend.

There is hardly any doubt that Mayor Smalley has the committee appointments decided now, but he will allow no hint of them to escape until after the session. The great question among the speculating boroughites outside of the Mayor's confidence is the successor of Councilman Nichols in the chairmanship of the finance committee. Councilmen Lee and Arnold, two of the hold-overs, are supplied with berths by the rumormakers, so the finger of fate points to Councilman Van Arsdale. He is an able business man, and the highest efficiency could be looked for from the committee under his guidance.

Councilman Lee is almost certain to be re-appointed to the chairmanship of the police committee, and Councilman Arnold's re-appointment as head of the street committee is regarded as just as certain.

Councilmen Nichols and Northrop are the ones who go out of office. Robert M. Clark went out by resignation a week ago. In the latter's place Joseph P. Humble goes in, and Frank Krewson and John H. VanWinkle, Jr., fill the other two vacancies.

Just what treatment will be accorded the new members in the councilmanic proceedings, and the course the new members themselves are to follow, is causing a lot of speculation. Mayor Smalley said yesterday that his policy would remain unchanged, despite the supposed rebuke of Tuesday's vote. "I expect great things from the new members," he said a little later, and those who know the Mayor appear to interpret this as meaning that he will give them an unhampered swing on the floor of the Council, and leave them severely alone between sessions. It is an open secret that he and his followers are hoping to see the new members prove that the result of the election was a great error by mistakes and breaks in legislating.

Elected on a platform as much anti-Smalley as anything, it is expected that the Citizens will take every opportunity of curbing the Mayor's supposed dictation. Regular Republicans are wondering whether the reformers will try purely obstructionist tactics, and whether the coalition will hold after the acrimony of the election is forgotten. As to that, the Citizen leaders expect the opposition to Mayor Smalley to remain strong enough to keep the reform trio solidly arrayed against him as long as they remain in Council.

Although they are nominally in the minority, the Citizens have a strong hope of wresting the control of the Council from the Mayor. "Now that the people have spoken in unmistakeable terms," said one of the Citizen workers yesterday, "there is some hope of getting one of the other councilmen." This is taken to mean that an effort will be made to win over one of the hold-overs into coalition with the anti-administration trio.

Scandinavian Thule's Ball.

The annual ball of the Scandinavian Thule in the hall of the Coward building on Park avenue was attended by about 100 people last night. The affair was thoroughly enjoyable. It was arranged by a committee consisting of Gustave Berdwall, Carl Blomgren, Bernard Fallquist, August Oberg and Charles Dahlin. Suhr's orchestra furnished the music. Dancing was the feature from 9 o'clock until 2. A collation was served.

Invited to a Hoe-Down.

Several society folk of the younger set of this city have received invitations to attend a dance to be given by Mrs. Westcott at Somerville on Friday night, March 18. The affair will be a "genuine hoe-down."

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Nothing but the highest approval is expressed by the patrons of the Hotel Kensington, Plainfield's leading hostelry.

Why not be good to yourself and your family by buying your baked goods of John Wirth, the baker, of West Front street.

For fine wines and cigars, for pure, sparkling lagers, drop in the Hotel Waldorf, on East Front street. The luxuriously appointed cafe will please you.

There are many men who sing the praises of M. C. Dobbins' five-cent Yara cigar. Those smokers who do not know the Yara are missing a fine low-priced smoke.

Have no hesitancy in trusting any kind of electrical construction work in house or store or shop to A. B. Laing, of North avenue. His way is the right way and never any other.

Jewelry or silverware can be made to look attraction, but the important question is will it wear well? The kind sold by J. Hervey Doane, of Park avenue, not only looks attractive, but is guaranteed to wear for years and give satisfaction.

If Chas. Conover & Co., the painters and decorators of Elmwood place, contract to do your work, you can rest assured that it will be done to your satisfaction. Only the best men are employed for painting and papering and the highest quality of goods used.

In purchasing jewelry, choice should not be made hastily. Mistakes of costly character are easy to make. For gifts, trinkets and articles of personal adornment the wise intending buyers will go to L. Moraller & Son's store on Park avenue. Go there, too, if you have watches or jewel pieces to be repaired.

The proof of tender juicy meat, poultry or fresh fish is the eating, and it is for his reason that Roth & Co., the East Front street butchers, are having success in their business. The meats, poultry as well as the fish always are found to be reasonable, thus enabling the purchaser to save considerable in dealing with this firm

The H. E. Gayle Hardware Company is prepared for the spring and summer business. All persons intending to refurnish their homes or those going to housekeeping will find just what they want at this store at reasonable prices. The goods are of the best quality and will stand long usage. The company keeps anything from the smallest nail to a large stove or range, while a specialty is made of builders' materials.

M. Weinberger, the clothier, is preparing to open his new store on West Front street, where he will offer greater bargains than ever in men and boys' clothing as well as men's furnishings. The clothing sold by Mr. Weinberger has always given complete satisfaction, the quality of the goods standing the test of hard wear. As for the prices they are much lower than elsewhere considering quality. The new store will be one of the finest of the kind in this part of the State.

There are big bargains every week at the Great A. and P. Tea Company's store on West Front street, but there are some specialties this week that will astonish you for their big values. You will be repaid by an inspection of their stock which is the largest in the city and has more low-priced, high quality goods. Are you a collector of trading stamps? If not, you should be. It is the most attractive method of saving without effort and the mecca for all stamp collectors is the A. and P. Tea store.

AMUSEMENTS.

Harry Ellsworth, lecturer, will present his elaborately illustrated story of "Oberammergau, its Play and its People," every Sunday night for the remainder of Lent, at the Majestic Theatre, New York city. Singularly appropriate to the season is this lecture as it is elevating and also instructive. There are two hundred and thirty superb colored views, illustrating every part of the Passion play and selection from the original music will be rendered at various intervals during the lecture. Mr. Ellsworth, who has lived for years at Oberammergau is a particularly interesting speaker. The prices are 75c., 50c., and 25c. The first lecture will be given Sunday night, March 13.

J. A. Staats, of the Hotel Kensington, is spending a few days at Netcong, N. J.

Andrew W. Johnson, of Duer street, has been confined to his home for over a week with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton M. Nagle, of West Front street, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloodgood, of Perth Amboy.

John V. Haas, of Millington, formerly of this city and a brother of Mrs. J. O. VanDyke, of East Fifth street, is critically ill with an attack of pneumonia

CITY POLITICIANS WATCH FIGHT

PLAINFIELD OFFICEHOLDERS WITNESS THE SCRAP IN THE BOROUGH.

City politicians took a lot of interest in the election over the line. At various stages of the day men prominent in the Republican party here went over the brook to watch the progress of the exciting events. They saw something similar to their own campaign last fall in the Citizens onslaught on the administration.

Late in the afternoon Collector Frank H. Smith and City Judge William N. Runyon appeared on the scene. They did a little handshaking, but took no part whatever in the battle.

During the count and when the Citizens were warming up to their final outburst of jubilation George Tobin, Councilman Randolph and Chief of Police Kiely joined the crowd. They held themselves largely in the background, but watched the excitement with a reminiscent interest.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Plainfield Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Plainfield people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Plainfield. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit avenue, says: "I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

BRUNSON'S MATCH MACHINE

BANK PRESIDENT WORKING ON INVENTION WHEN AFFLICTED.

It was in experimenting with a match-making machine, and not a quick-veneering process, as generally reported, that A. J. Brunson lost his sight at the secret factory on Rock avenue several weeks ago.

Over a year ago Mr. Brunson became interested in a scheme to cheapen the production of safety matches, and finally became convinced that he was on the track of a evolutionizing commercial discovery. The invention, however, was not in final shape for patenting, or else Mr. Brunson feared to make its details known through patent specifications, and he built his mysterious work-shop. There, guarded zealously from prying eyes, with a steady refusal to answer questions with regard to his work, the banker experimennted painstakingly on the invention until the unfortunate day when an exploding gasolene engine wiped the sight from his eyes.

While Mr. Brunson himself has refused to speak on the subject, it was learned from an authoritative yesterday that the banker believed himself to be in possession of a contrivance or formula that would change the match-making business completely. Whether or not the invention will be carried out now is not known. If the explosion has not demonstrated its impracticability in some way, Mr. Brunson, those who know him say, will probably turn the invention over to some trusted agent or friend.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Smith, of Duer street, who has been quite ill with the grip, is convalescing.

Mrs. John Groendyke, of West Front street, is now convalescing from her recent illness.

Donaldson Wean, of West Fourth street, has about recovered from an attack of bronchitis.

P. Perlee VanCleef, of Forest Hill, Essex County, has been the guest of relatives in this city.

A. I. Smalley, of Somerset street, who has been quite ill at his home, is reported as being much improved.

Stephen Blazier, of Chatham, who has been spending several days with relatives in this city, has returned home.

James Atwood, of Trenton, has returned home after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. I. L. McVoy, of East Front street.

Dr. Lillian Willis, of Jersey City, has returned home after a visit to Mrs. M. F. Elderton, of East Front street.

E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue, who has been detained at home by illness for some time past, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George P. Howan, of West Front street, who was taken ill a few days ago with pneumonia, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Adleberg, of West Front street, have returned from Perth Amboy, where they attended a society wedding.

R. M. Fountain, of Jackson avenue, district school clerk, who has been very ill with erysipelas, shows little sign of improvement.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—A set of ten new lockers has been installed in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

—The band concert minstrels will rehearse in I. C. T. rooms tonight at 8 o'clock.

—John McCarty has resigned as agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

—John Vroom, of this city, has taken a position with the Prudential Insurance Company.

—There was a regular meeting of the Board of Governors of the Park Club Tuesday night.

—Nothing but routine business was considered at the meeting of the First National Bank directors held Tuesday.

—Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., was entertained with a programme of songs and recitations Tuesday night by the Women's Relief Corps, No. 10.

—The World on Tuesday announced Harry Manchausen Rapp, of 724 Carlton avenue, as the writer of one of the "Mr. Peewee" prize headlines. The headline read this way: "O'DELL LOVES to criticise TOM PLATT."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Corning, who were married a week ago today in this city, are stopping at Atlantic City. They will soon return to Baltimore, where the groom is engaged in business, and reside at "The Plaza."

—The local real estate dealers are looking for a large number of summer residents this year, many inquiries already having been made for houses. Perhaps while they are here they will be impressed with the city's natural beauty and advantages and induced to become all-year-round residents.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 10, 1904.

There's nothing helps a feller in politics as much as a blamed good licking.—Henry Rogers, of Warren township.

Apostle Smith may be a loyal supporter of Roosevelt's ideas, although the fact that he has forty-two children does not necessarily prove it.

Trading stamps are given with every copy of the New York American. How many would Mr. Pee Wee give for that Presidential nomination he is coveting.

Ignatz Frischmann, the man who introduced the "frankfurter roll" to Coney Island, is dead. We've had a grudge stored up against that man since we made the acquaintance of the "frankfurter"; but peace to his ashes.

Mr. Daniel's statement that the policy of the Common Council must necessarily be one of retrenchment at this time is borne out by the facts and there is no fear that the city fathers will not take every precaution to keep within the limit.

Why should a groceryman advertise spasmodically? His clerks work every day, his capital is invested every day, people buy groceries every day, and his wagons deliver every day. Why not keep his advertisement running every day?—Western Publisher.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The W. R. Hearst Club will meet at its headquarters, 430 Watchung avenue, tonight and those who believe in Mr. Hearst's candidacy irrespective of political faith, have been invited to attend.

When shown the Washington despatch that he is talked of as Republican National Chairman, Gov. Murphy said: "Any talk of who will be chairman must necessarily be speculative. Of course, the fact that President Roosevelt is certain of a renomination causes much interest to be taken in every phase of the situation. It is to be expected that the wishes of the Presidential candidate will be respected in the matter of selecting a chairman, just as the gubernatorial candidate of each party in New Jersey names the chairman to conduct his campaign. As I said at the outset, the discussion of the matter at this time is premature."

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gulick, of East Fourth street, have moved to Somerville.

—Under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps a lunch-box social will be held in G. A. R. Hall tomorrow night.

—Fred Endress will give one dollars worth of Blue Exchange Stamps with all purchases of 50c worth or over and the coupon in The Daily Press today.

—The contract case of George Conover & Son against Harriet and David Brittin, was adjourned yesterday two weeks to Wednesday, March 23, in Justice VonMinden's court.

—Last night's mechanical drawing class of the Y. M. C. A. was instructed by George L. Eager, who is temporarily substituting for Clarence M. Rogers, who is unavoidably absent on a trip South.

—The case on contract of Hand against Naylor in Justice Huff's court has been adjourned to next Monday, March 14. Marsh against Jarnaux is returnable on the same date and Manning against Probasco was adjourned Tuesday one week.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will meet at the church Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Preparatory services will be held at Bethel chapel tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Norman E. Waterbury, a returned missionary from Burmah, India, described mission work at last nights regular prayer meeting at the First Baptist Church.

The first anniversary of the Young Men's Brotherhood, of Warren chapel, will be observed at the chapel tonight. Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church, will speak.

Rev. John MacMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will address the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church Monday night on "Some Phases of Temperance Work."

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, met his class of young people yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The class is composed mainly of those who recently united with the church.

Rev. Charles C. Hall, D.D., president of Union Theological Seminary, will describe the mission field in India and Japan, with stereopticon illustrations, tonight, at Hope chapel. Dr. Hall is a speaker of unusual power and Plainfielders are fortunate in their opportunity to hear him.

Fred. S. Goodman, who is one of the International secretaries of the Y. M. C. A., will give an address, illustrated with stereopticon views at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Goodman, who was formerly State secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of New York, is an attractive speaker. The male quartette will sing. Mr. Goodman will speak on Bible study at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., conferred the third degree upon three candidates Tuesday night.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet tonight and consider matters of interest to every member.

Plainfield Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, admitted one new member and received three applications at last night's meeting.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., will meet tonight in its new rooms on East Front street, and initiate several candidates.

Three candidates were put through the third degree at Anchor Lodge Tuesday night. The meeting was largely attended.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The young women who conducted the recent leap year dance in Apgar's Hall, are arranging for another dance to take place in the near future. They made such a success of the first that there is little doubt that the second will prove far more enjoyable.

Joseph Bradley has returned to work after being laid up for the past week. He received a painful bruise on his knee, caused by a fall from a freight car on the Central.

It is reported that representatives of a large brewery have been in the borough in quest of a site upon which to establish a brewery.

There were several violin solos rendered at the weekly prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church last night.

Frank Marenschank, of Jefferson avenue, intends to erect a large barn on his property this spring.

The regular weekly prayer meeting was held at the Methodist church last evening.

Craig & Apgar have completed a contract for wiring a house at Westfield.

The plumbing work in Frank Randolph's house has been completed.

Mrs O. D. Boice is confined to the house by an attack of grip.

Mrs. Edmond Teel has the grip.

NEW MARKET.

The special Township Committee meeting for the granting of a franchise to the telephone company was not held this afternoon on account of the inability of the township counsel, Judge W. A. Coddington, to be present. Mr. Coddington is ill with the grip and will be unable to be about for several days. The franchise matter will be taken up by the Committee at the next regular meeting, March 19, at which time the new Committee meets to organize for the coming year.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The next thing of interest to the voters in the township and borough is the annual school meeting to be held on Tuesday night. The election of seven trustees and the regular appropriations will be the business considered by the taxpayers.

The members of the I. D. K. Club, of Plainfield, held an enjoyable invitation dance in Myers' Hall last night. About fifty couple from the village and Plainfield enjoyed the pleasant affair. Music was furnished by O'Rielly's orchestra.

The police appropriation, which was carried at the borough election on Tuesday, shows that the majority of the boroughites are willing to pay the increased taxation for the safety the one-man department gives their homes during the night.

Township Clerk Edward L. Hand, who has been detained at home for the past two weeks with a severe attack of grip, was able to go out for the first on Tuesday. Mrs. Hand's condition is reported as being somewhat improved.

Fanwood Council, R. A., received nine applications for membership and initiated one candidate at the semi-monnthly meeting held Tuesday night. This makes thirteen applications Fanwood has under way.

Miss Osgood, teacher in the grammar department of the public school, is ill at her home in Plainfield. During her absence, Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Jr., is acting as substitute teacher.

The large vote cast for the Republican ticket at the township election shows that the factional fights in the local ranks are beginning to be a thing of the past.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., holds a smoker in the library rooms tonight. Delegates are expected from Westfield, Milburn and Mount Bethel Councils.

A modern fire proof safe has been placed in the township rooms for the purpose of preserving records, etc., belonging to the township, in case of fire.

The members of the Bible Study Class held their weekly meeting last night at the home of Miss Marion Goodman.

The K. O. G. Club holds another of its series of dances tonight in the borough fire house.

William Fields was out yesterday for the first time since his long illness.

Jacob Coles, of Front street, is ill.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The Lehigh Valley trains from the West have been late the last day or two, on account of the ice and high water. The trains have run over the D., L. and W. road from Waverly, N. Y., to Scranton, Pa., and from there to Wilkesbarre on the D. and H.

An extra gang of men is working at the local storage, on account of the high water.

The Onlake Poultry Farm shipped three cases of eggs for hatching purposes to Cincinnati, Wednesday.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Circle met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Manning.

Miss Blanche Thorn and friend, of Plainfield, called on friends in town yesterday.

William Riley, Democratic candidate for constable, was elected Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Smith, of New York, visited her parents here yesterday.

Mrs. Oscar Farley is suffering with an attack of the grip.

John Geary and George Smith are victims of the grip.

PERSONAL.

Miss Laura Jones, of West Fourth street, is ill.

W. R. Codington has recovered from an attack of grip.

George Whitley, of Essex street, has returned from a ten days' stay in Boston.

Herbert McVoy, of Sandford avenue, is recovering from an attack of grip.

Mrs. M. F. Elderton, of East Front street, is recovering from a slight illness.

Mrs. F. Merton Lunger is confined to her home on Jackson avenue by illness.

Miss Ethel Walsh, of Lee place, is confined to the house by an attack of measles.

Miss Sara Todd, of "Grandimere," Hamden, Hunterdon County, is guest of Miss Lillian A. Force, of Duer street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lowe and son, Franklin Lowe, of Fairview avenue, left today for a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Harry Busby, of West Front street, is at the American Sales Book company at Elmira, N. Y., setting up a press for Potter's Press works.

Miss Lillian A. Force, of Duer street, and Miss Ernestine C. Smith, of Madison avenue, have returned from a delightful six weeks trip in Florida. They made their headquarters at Daytona, as the guests of Miss Smith's aunt, Mrs. A. S. Briggs, spending a portion of the time at Palm Beach and St. Augustine. They arrived in New York last night on the Clyde line steamer, "Seminole."

Swackhamer Killed Robin Bill.

Another attempt to legalize the wholesale killing of robins was made in the Assembly yesterday and it was frustrated, largely through the work of Assemblyman Swackhamer. Assemblyman Robbins, of Burlington, introduced a measure that was identical with the one recently defeated, except that the word "shoot" took the place of the words "kill or destroy."

Surprise Party.

Thirty or more young friends of Harry Hedden surprised him at his home on Summit avenue last night. Games, music and refreshments were the features of the affair.

—E. H. Clevely, has just had a handsome metal ceiling placed in his popular lunch-room on North avenu, thereby adding to the attractiveness of his well-appointed place of business.

—H. J. Wierenga, the truckman, has just signed a contract with the Williams' Manufacturing Company to carry all the radiators, plumbing material from the freight house to the Mountain Park Inn.

SIDE-LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

It was the opinion of Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh that the Council could appropriate a sum of money to Muhlenberg Hospital, provided that the Board of Governors would enter into a contract with the city to care for the indigent poor. The law does not allow the city to donate money to such institutions otherwise, hence Mr. Daniel's recommendation that this opinion be communicated to the Board of Governors of the hospital. Undoubtedly satisfactory arrangements will be made whereby the hospital will receive $1,000 annually.

There is talk in certain circles, however, that inasmuch as the Council will likely contribute toward the hospital it should be entitled to representation in the Board of Governors. The same argument has been advanced regarding the Board of Freeholders of Union County, who contribute a generous sum to the hospital annually.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 13: "Appetites That Unmake Men."—Dan. v, 1-5; 25-28.

The physical appetites are among our most precious possessions. Hunger and thirst have more to do with keeping us in health than is usually realized. But for the constant guard they keep it would be next to an impossibility to regulate the supply of nutriment needed to maintain the body in strength and to know the proper times when it should be furnished. No amount of reasoning ever greatly improves on the native regulative instinct which acts independently of the rational powers.

Our great danger lies in another direction. The satisfaction of these cravings is always pleasing. When in eating we not only satisfy hunger, but also find some foods particularly good to the taste, there will come an impulse to eat such things simply because they taste good regardless of the fact that we are not hungry for food or that such things may not at that particular time be the best food for giving the needed strength. Such eating is not good. It is for gratification of taste and not to satisfy hunger. It will result in derangement of digestion and induce disease if persisted in and also has a moral effect in weakening the will power and putting the control of life under the power of physical cravings instead of under direction of highest reason. It may grow into vice which will wreck all virtue and leave soul and body ruined forever.

The same holds true of thirst and every other appetite of the body.

So of every craving of mind. All are to have their proper place and scope, but none are to usurp control and be allowed gratification simply for the sake of the agreeable sensation. The test of their right is not the good feeling produced. That is only incidental.

Belshazzar was not in fault because he drank and ate, nor because he made a banquet feast to his lords. Such things have their time and purpose. But when a hostile army is at the gates of the capital it is no time for feasting. His place was with his soldiers, and his duty was the defense of his people.

Not all this story lies on the surface. The king not merely banquets at an inopportune time, debauching himself and all the leaders on whom the safety of his empire depended, but his revelry is in honor of the gods of gold, silver, brass, iron, wood and stone. They put dependence on the strength of their walls and the material resources of their stronghold. This is the meaning of their praise of gross, material things. As if this was not enough, he will show still further his contempt for the spiritual powers worshiped by his besiegers by desecrating the dedicated vessels of Jehovah, who is, above all others, the God who is to be worshiped as Spirit. It is a mad, wild orgy; a drunken, licentious, impious defiance of the God who rules the spirits of men. It was the dethronement of reason and the installation of brute lust and insane passion. It proclaimed the disregard of all rights and duties. The king is no longer leader in government and worship, but despicable prey of vilest passions. His appetites have unmanned him. He has overthrown the kingdom from within, and nothing can prevent the enemy from without entering and ruling. Gods of gold and silver cannot stand against men who worship the God of spirit.

This is a picture to be hung on the world's walls of memory. "Numbered, numbered, weighed, divided." No prophet who serves the gods of gold and silver can read the inscription. To all Daniels it is clear as one's native speech.

Who serves his appetite shall lose his kingdom. Who makes his appetite serve him and his God shall take the kingdom and find himself a man—a king.

Endless Blessedness.

God's promises are ever on the ascending scale. One leads up to another fuller and more blessed than itself. In Mesopotamia God said, "I will show thee the land;" at Bethel, "This is the land;" in Canaan, "I will give thee all the land and children innumerable as the grains of sand." It is thus that God allures us to saintliness. Not giving us anything till we have dared to act, that He may test us. Not giving us everything first, that He may not overwhelm us, and always keeping in hand an infinite reserve of blessing. Oh, the unexplored remainders of God! Who ever saw His last star?—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

"The Boys."

"God bless the boys!" our hearts repeat
Through all the hours of day;
They're with us at the mercy seat,
Oft as we kneel to pray.

"God bless the boys!" whose better thoughts
Have ripened into gold,
Whose feet a better path have sought,
With faces toward the fold.

"God bless the boys!" with sunny days
And loves to sweeten life,
And purity and peace and grace
And home and child and wife.

"God bless the boys!" who lead the van
Of temperance and right;
Make each a brave, true hearted man,
With lance and honor bright.

"God bless the boys!" The hour may come
When each alone must stand
And battle with the demon, rum,
As knights fought hand to hand.

"God bless the boys!" and help them still
To tread a free land's sod,
As cavaliers, with steel-like will,
Marched in the "truce of God."

"God bless the boys!" and as they fall,
Each with his armor bright,
Tablets shall tell the world, "They all Fell battling for the right."

"God bless the boys!" and when no more
The noise of war they hear
May Christ's "Well done," at heaven's door,
Welcome each victor there.

—Rev. A. Parke Burgess, D. D.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 13.

Topic.—Appetites that unmake men.—Dan. v, 1-5, 25-28.

It has been calculated that over 90 per cent of men who start out in a business career in life fail in it some time and that the vast majority of men who live to be threescore years and ten are at that age dependent upon some one else. This is a sad record. Failure in business, failure in self support, are not pleasant experiences, and yet there are failures that are even worse than these. Many men who do not fail in business are nevertheless unmade men, and, taken together with all others who are unmade morally and spiritually, they compose a great host of men. And what is sadder in life than an unmade man, the failure of one who possessed talent and opportunity and yet by yielding to some base appetite unmakes himself—a Brutus, unmade by inordinate ambition; a Mark Antony, unmade by sensuality; a Belshazzar, unmade by an inordinate desire for show and vainglory; a Napoleon, unmade by gluttony!

The appetites that unmake men are not a few. They are intemperance, lust, gluttony, ambition, the greed for gold and many others. Nor is it the appetite itself that is at fault, but the inordinate and immoderate development and exercise of it. Every appetite of life has its legitimate place and purpose, but if it be abused in many cases it leads to ruin and destruction. When God looked upon the world which He had made His verdict upon it was that it was very good, and the world is still good today if we use it properly. It is not the use of the world that unmakes men, but the abuse of it. It is one of the sad facts of life that that which is good may be abused and become an evil. Proper ambition is most worthy, and without it success in life is highly improbable. But the pathway of life is strewn with the wrecked lives of an inordinate ambition. The desire for wealth is not of itself a fault, but when greed becomes a god the better self of the man is soon unmade. The physical appetites play an important part in our lives when properly controlled, but when they are abused, when they are debased into gluttony, intemperance and lust, how soon they unmake the man.

When it comes to the appetites, therefore, the problem to solve is how to use them and not abuse them, how to control them instead of having them control us, how to have their influence in making us what we should be rather than in unmaking us, and this is no light problem. To solve it successfully we need the wisdom and grace of God as well as the exercise of our best care, judgment and power of will. Constant carefulness should be our attitude. Some things, such as intemperance, should be guarded against altogether. Total abstinence is the only safeguard against strong drink. In other cases, where proper indulgence of the appetite is necessary, we must by divine and personal power keep ourselves masters of the situation. Every appetite must be held firmly in hand. Therefore let us "watch and pray that we enter not into temptation."

A Well Known Endeavorer.

Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., is one of the most widely known evangelistic preachers of the day. He is an enthusiastic Christian Endeavorer and has had flourishing societies in each of the churches of which he has been pastor. He has made a large reputation as a conductor of Quiet Hour services in connection with international Christian Endeavor conventions, has written several books for Christian Endeavorers and was counted one of the best presidents the New York city union has had. He also served one term as vice president of the New York state union.

REV. J. WILBUR CHAPMAN, D. D.

Evangelistic Study Classes.

I wish there might be in every society an evangelistic study class where we shall study our Bibles and methods of work in preparation for personal effort. I am convinced that we have not given this line the consideration which it deserves. Shall it not be the motto of every society this year, "Something definite for souls?" If this is to be realized, we shall need, first, a new grip on God. Whatever we do must be done under the guidance of His spirit and with a simple dependence upon Him. Then a new grip on ourselves. Let us gather up every gift and grace which He has intrusted to us. Then a new grip on our work, that all we are and all we have may be invested, as He intends it shall be, for His glory and the salvation of the lost.—New York State President Hallenbeck.

For All.

Never think that a Christian Endeavor society is a coterie of young people of like ages who come into a meeting for a good time once a week. It ought to be for every young person within reach.—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care, without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR SPRING WEAR.

The Proper Cut For Smart Gowns, Sleeves and Boleros.

Skirts for spring wear grow more and more ample, and the same is to be said of the sleeves. Boleros will almost entirely replace the long coats seen so much this winter, and there is a practical reason for this as well, for, owing to their looseness and smallness, they can be worn even on very hot days.

BLACK HAT.

The smartest boleros are made with half sleeves, which open out to allow a wide puff of lace work and embroidery to be seen or else a succession of ruffles. The fussy undersleeve is indeed a feature of all gowns with any pretensions to style except walking costumes and plain dresses for morning wear.

The full skirts will be very pretty carried out in muslin, veilings, grenadines or any of the thin, semitransparent materials.

The very full, ungored skirt is an extreme of fashion to be avoided by the well dressed woman. It is unsymmetrical and becoming to no one. This fullness can be modified by the use of a few gores and judiciously shaped hip yokes.

When a gown is not extensively gauged it is made in layers and bands, and this is carried out alike in skirt, bolero and sleeves.

The illustration shows a hat of black straw and chiffon. It is trimmed with two white tips under the brim.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

DAINTY GOWNS.

Lavender Crepe de Chine Again Smart—Net and Chiffon Blouse.

Lavender crepe de chine gowns were ultra smart last summer, and they will be again much worn.

The dainty cravat or chic jabot of lace is indispensable with the stiff tailor made, as most women need a softening touch near the face.

For afternoon wear skirts are long and almost train as much as early in the season. The sides and fronts of the skirts in particular are made extra long, and this extra length allows even a little woman to wear the large picture hats which are so quaint and becoming.

Smart blouses are made of chiffon, accordion plaited mousseline, shot and brocaded silk peau de cygne and the supple crepe de chine and louisine. Pretty waists are made of net, much shirred and incrusted with narrow insertions and lace appliques. The lining is of soft satin or china silk.

All over lace waists are further enriched by hand embroideries.

There is no doubt about it, the new fashions are not made for short people. They abbreviate the length of the waist line, thanks to the berthas and wide belts, while the full, drooping sleeves and the gathered skirts add the finishing touches. The trimmings, too, are all horizontal instead of perpendicular, so that if the short, plump woman follows the styles closely she will look decidedly dumpy. Short people must always remember to dress in one color and to try for the long lines as much as is possible. Above all they must never wear striking trimmings, which divide them into sections, as it were.

The picture shows a lavender crepe de chine gown trimmed with bands of narrow eyed lace and a V shaped yoke. The skirt is very full.

JAPS IN MANCHURIA

Mikado's Army Now on Russian Side of the Yalu.

SHELLS FLY INTO FORT OF DALNY

Engagement Between Togo's Ships and Vladivostok Squadron Has Been Reported at Tokyo—Tidings Anxiously Awaited.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The government has received an official telegram from Chefu saying that Japanese forces are at Fungwangchang and Takushan, both well into Manchuria. This information, while received with incredulity in some quarters, is regarded as of the greatest importance. If it be true, the Japanese have got in the rear of the Russian advance into Korea and are in position to control the southern end of the road running by a roundabout route from Takushan to Newchwang, over which the Russian troops now in Korea must obtain their supplies.

The reason for the incredulity mentioned is that Fungwangchang is far from the place where the Japanese advance was last reported and a considerable distance in the interior of Manchuria. Fungwangchang is on the Great Peking road, which runs through Korea, and is, in fact, the only road of importance in that country. It is about 165 miles northwest of Pingyang, where the advance of the Japanese army was encamped at last accounts and where Russian scouts were encountered. Takushan is thirty-five miles to the west of the Yalu's mouth and a few miles from the sea.

If the Japanese are at Fungwangchang they are out of the mountainous region that overruns most of Korea and the eastern part of Manchuria.

How they got there is a mystery.

In some quarters the information from Chefu is regarded as confirming the report that a Japanese expedition has been landed near the mouth of the Yalu.

A Tokyo dispatch says Japanese warships have bombarded the forts at Talienwan (Dalny) and afterward made an attack on Port Arthur.

It is believed at Tokyo that there has already been a decisive naval engagement in the vicinity of Vladivostok, and tidings of it are anxiously awaited.

The Japanese fleet did not, it is said, go to Vladivostok for the purpose of bombarding the town, but to locate and attack the armored cruisers Gromoboi, Rossia, Rurik and the cruiser Bogatyr, the Russian fleet under the command of Captain Reitzenstein stationed there.

A dispatch from Weihaiwei says:

"It is reported on good authority that a collision between Japanese and Russian troops has occurred near Haiju, Korea, fifty-four miles northwest of Chemulpo, which resulted in the defeat of the Russians."

It is reported that the Japanese advanced from the Yalu river, captured Fungwangchang and drove out the Russians in the vicinity to the Takuling eastern pass and are in force seventy miles east of Newchwang. The Russians, with 35,000 men, are intrenched strongly at Liaoyang and Haicheng, where fighting is imminent. Some small engagements already have been fought, the Russians retiring, with losses.

The Japanese are using the same tactics and advancing along the same route they followed during the Chinese war.

Reports say that the Japanese have appeared fifty miles northwest of Antung and well to the westward of the Yalu river.

This is the only news on this subject yet received in London, and to some of the military critics it is inconceivable that Japan really can have executed such a sudden, unexpected and successful turning of the Russian position on the Yalu river.

It is said in London that if the news of this strange and marvelous collapse of Russian power on land is true there is nothing to prevent the Japanese from seizing Mukden and the railroad. There has been nothing to compare with this move, experts say, since Napoleon staggered Europe by appearing in the plains of Italy, having descended from the Alps as from the clouds. Its effect throughout the east will be stupendous.

MORMON POLYGAMY

Many Latter Day Saints Testify In Smoot Inquiry.

UTAH SENATOR HAD BISHOP ARRESTED

President Smith, After Six Days' Ordeal, Is Excused—Missionaries Do Not Discuss Polygamy—Teasdale Evidence Unprintable.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Several officials of the Mormon church testified in the Senator Reed Smoot case before the senate committee on privileges and elections that they had plural wives and had continued to practice polygamous cohabitation since the manifesto of 1890. Just before adjournment for the day the committee held an executive session for the purpose of having read the unprintable testimony in the Teasdale divorce case. The prosecution stated that it had no more witnesses ready to put on the stand on account of the failure of several summoned officials of the Mormon church to appear. President Joseph F. Smith was asked to use his influence with the witnesses and promised to get into communication with them if it was possible to do so.

Lorin Harmer testified that he was a bishop for five or six years, but had been sent to the penitentiary in 1899 upon conviction of unchastity and lost his good standing. He said he had two wives, Ellen and Ida, and had lived also with Ellen Anderson, but never as her husband. He said she had two children by him, one since he had returned from the penitentiary. He now lives in Springville.

He said Ellen Anderson supports herself and that he had contributed nothing for the care of herself or her children. He said she had property of her own.

Mr. Harmer was asked if Mr. Smoot had anything to do with his arrest.

"I think he caused it," he said. "He was counselor at that time to the president of the state, who was then away. He called me to Provo and told me the church proposed to take away my bishopric and other offices. I asked him to give me time to prepare my family, and then I started home."

"Why was he going to take away your offices?"

"Because I had committed a crime."

"What crime?"

"Adultery, to be frank."

"Why do you think Mr. Smoot caused your arrest?"

"Because before I reached home the sheriff overtook me and put me under arrest. I blamed Mr. Smoot for sending the sheriff after me. I thought he might have given me more time, although the crime was a bad one. I don't know that Smoot was responsible for my arrest, but it looked like it."

Hiram M. Smith, thirty-two years old, a son of President Smith and one of the twelve apostles, read a speech he had made in 1894 in Brigham City at one of the quarterly conferences, in which he said each one in the matter of obeying laws does as he pleases, but that each must bear the consequences of his acts. He said that was his view. He explained at length the manner of sending out missionaries and said polygamy was not talked and that polygamous cohabitation had never been talked at a conference at which Mr. Smoot was present.

At other meetings he had heard discussed the question of a continuance of plural marriages, and the apostles had taken steps to prevent it. Polygamous cohabitation, he said, had not been considered.

When he (Smith) went on a foreign mission to Great Britain he had been instructed not to discuss polygamy. He never had discussed it as an apostle, but when he was a missionary he had told certain persons who assailed the doctrine that it was a teaching of the Bible and had ended the controversies by referring the persons to the Bible so "they could judge for themselves."

Senator Hoar—Did you commend upon prospective converts the rule of your church against polygamy?

"I always refrained from arguing on polygamy."

At the request of Attorney Tayler for the prosecution the committee went into executive session, and the testimony in the Teasdale divorce case was read. It was agreed that counsel for and against Senator Smoot should endeavor to come to an agreement on a statement of facts in the case. Consideration was given to the proceedings in executive session because of the unprintable character of the testimony and a dislike on the part of the committee to spread the facts before the country.

Andrew Jensen, assistant historian of the church, giving testimony said he had two wives, who were sisters, and that they both lived in the same house, though he lives with the first. Mr. Jensen said he was not sealed in eternity to the mother of the two wives.

To Make Polygamy a Crime.

CHICAGO, March 10.—The investigation in Washington of the case of Senator Smoot of Utah has stirred the Women's Christian Temperance Union to action, and the organization will make a united effort to have polygamy placed on the list of crimes against the constitution of the United States. To bring about the desired result Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, national president of the W. C. T. U., has prepared a circular letter, which is being sent out broadcast from the national headquarters at Evanston, urging submission of an amendment to the constitution of the United States prohibiting plural marriages.

HOTEL AT WASHINGTON ROCK

NEW YORK MAN TO BUILD SUMMER RESORT ON HISTORIC SPOT.

Washington Rock is to be the site of a big summer hotel, according to reports from an authentic source.

Some years ago there was a vacation resort at the Rock, but a fire, that is remembered vividly by old residents here, destroyed it completely. It is on or near the site of the old-time hotel that the proposed resort is to be erected.

A prominent New York man is named as the backer of the new house. Plans for a striking and attractive hostelry have been made by the promoter's architect, and the work on the structure will be started very shortly.

The old hotel was one of the most successful of its kind in the State, and the new one is expected to attract just as much patronage. It is not known whether Mountain Park Inn will be re-opened next season, but even if it is the new hotel will be the most prominent one in this vicinity. Its location, and the traditions around it, constitute an advertisement that will go far to insuring a big success to the place.

Increase in Publications.

The American Newspaper Annual, for 1904, published by N. W. Ayer & Son, Philadelphia, has been received by The World library. It is the most complete publication of the kind yet issue by the publishers and contains information of inestimatable value to publishers and advertisers the world over, being a complete catalogue of American and Canadian newspapers, together with publications issued in the island possessions of the United States, Cuba and the West Indies. There is also a description of every city, town and hamlet in the United States and Canada, with fifty-eight colored railroad maks, and tables giving the census and the vote by States and counties at the Presidential election of 1900. The annual shows a net gain of one hundred and sixty-four newspapers and periodicals during 1903. Oklahoma has a gain of thirty-one towns and thirty-five newspapers, leading the country as to new towns, but in newspapers North Dakota leads the Territory by one. The Annual is beautifully bound and its contents are so indexed that any information sought can be found at a glance.

A handball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. will begin Saturday, March 19.

The direct results of advertising may fall short of expectation for some reason, but the cumulative effects will still make the advertising profitable, says the Philadelphia Record. Thus a merchant who advertised a special sale of chinaware at bargain prices had only a small sale on the day his announcement appeared; but his sales of chinaware during the week were larger than ever before.

Joe Barry's Funeral.

Joseph A. Barry, the popular baseball player, was buried this morning from St. Mary's church. Services were held at his late home, 531 South Second street, last night, by the members of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, and this morning at 8:30 o'clock. Solemn high mass was offered at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock, Father Egan, the celebrant, being assisted by Fathers Delehanty and Miller. The members of St. Mary's T. A. B. Society and Watchung Council and many of Barry's baseball associates were present.

A Fresh Air Cure.

Entirely cured by the newly-famed outdoor treatment, Miss Mamie Leahy, of Richmond street, is preparing to return home from the institution at Saranac Lake, Adirondack Mountains, where she went last June to escape an affection of the lungs. Her health has been restored completely, and she will return to this city on March 28.

W. H. Smalley Passes Away.

William Henry Smalley, aged sixty-seven years, died this morning at his home at Greenbrook. He was a well-known resident in that section. The funeral services will be held from the son's residence, Goldson Smalley, Greenbrook road, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Gun Club Decides to Purchase.

Confirmation of the committee purchase of grounds for range and clubhouse was voted by the Independent Gun Club last night. The ground accepted is the old brickyard on Maple avenue. Henry Haurand was chairman of the committee. As stated in The Daily Press, the club will remodel the house on the grounds and put the ranges into first class shape, but no action on this matter was taken last night. A special committee to act on it will be appointed later.

BOROUGH SCHOOL MEETING TUESDAY

Three New Members of the Board to be Chosen at the Annual District Session.

A HOT CONTEST LIKELY

TERMS OF MESSRS. JOY, BURTIS AND COOLEY WILL EXPIRE.

Discussion as to Site for Proposed Schoolhouse—Anti-Administration Folk Say They Want the Building, But Not the Site.

Those of the borough voters who have not had enough of the anti-administration fight will have a chance for more excitement along the same line at the school election to be held in the Somerset street schoolhouse Tuesday night. As the election draws nearer it is becoming plain that the electors will be sharply divided on the lines of the late general contest.

Four vacancies are to be filled, three for the full term of three years and one for a year to fill an unexpired term. Generally, in the past, the school elections have been quiet and featureless, but this time the voting will be as exciting as the councilmanic election. Two printed ballots will be used, and the contest will probably be waged with a lot of bitterness over the anti-administration issues.

James R. Joy, the president of the Board; Dr. Cooley, the newly-elected assessor; and Murray Burtis, are the members whose terms expire. All three have been mentioned for renomination, and will probably run again. Dr. Cooley's factional sympathies are well known; President Joy and Mr. Burtis are friends of the adminstration. Robert Clark, Jr., whose recent resignation from the Council furnished one of the sensations of the late campaign, has been also mentioned as a candidate. It is not known whether Dr. Cooley and Mr. Clark will consent to run. Dr. Cooley has been chairman of the building committee, and his loss would be felt in the practical workings of the board. For this reason in particular he will probably consent to accept a renomination.

So much has been said since the special school election on the undesirability of the lot on Grove street, that it is expected someone among the disinterested friends of the schools will have something to say on the question of location, in order to bring out some expression of opinion on that aspect of the matter from the people.

No matter which way the election goes, the new board will almost certainly put the question of a new schoolhouse before the voters again within a month. There can be no finality about an adverse vote, because the needs of another school is felt more and more each day, and the Board can do nothing but go back to the people with their request time after time, until it is granted.

Notwithstanding the defeat of the project at the last special election, the friends of the new school have many reasons to expect that it will go through by a big majority the next time it is submitted. In the bitterness of the political campaign an erroneous impression of the general feeling of those who voted down the school appears to have been spread.

Prominent men among the antis, and leaders of the firemen, have told a Daily Press reporter within the past few days that their votes and the votes of the great majority of their followers were not cast against the school but against the site. They say the whole project was wrapped into one proposition and they had to kill the school to get at the location. They say the lot is badly chosen as to place, that it was overvalued. These men say outright that they want to see another school built, and that they will vote and work for it if the electors are given a chance to say what lot they want, or one wisely chosen is offered.

Among those who have said that they are in favor of a new school in a satisfactory location are ex-Mayor John H. VanWinkle, one of the leaders among the anti-annexation Democrats, and Chief Stahl, of the fire department. Both of them wield a lot of influence.

These things have been realized by the members of the school board, and when the proposition next goes before the voters the question of location will be submitted separately. An effort will be made to have the new structure up and ready for the pupils by next September.

ARMSTRONG MULFORD WEDS MISS THOMPSON

A Well-Known Real Estate Man Takes Miss Mabel F. Thompson as His Bride.

QUIET NUPTIAL EVENT

CERRMONY TAKES PLACE IN FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CHAPEL.

Miss Cora Young and Frank Marcley the Only Witnesses—Southern Wedding Trip—Groom a Leading Real Estate Broker.

Miss Mabel Florence Thompson, eldest daughter of Mrs. Catharine L. Thompson, of 43 Prospect place, North Plainfield, and Armstrong Mulford, of East Fifth street, were quietly married at 6:30 o'clock last night in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Herring. The only ones present to witness the ceremony were Miss Cora Young and Frank Marcley, both of this city, who attended the couple as bridesmaid and best man.

The bride was gowned in crepe de Paris, trimmed with lace and she wore a hat to match.

Soon after the ceremony the bride and groom and their attendants went to New York, from which place the couple left for the South, where they will visit Richmond, Old Point Comfort and Washington. They will be absent a week and upon their return will reside in East Fifth street.

The bride was for a long time engaged at Woodhull & Martin's store, and the groom has for years been one of the leading real estate and insurance brokers in the city.

PARK BOWLERS WIN SERIES

CRANFORD CASINO TEAM CAPTURES ONE OUT OF THREE GAMES.

Although the Park Club team cannot win The Daily Press Bowling League tournament, there are signs for a decided improvement in its standing, the aggregation having won two of the series of three games from Cranford Casino on the local alleys last night. The Parks captured the first game by a score of 849 to 819 and the second by a score of 898 to 824, while the last game they lost by a score of 815 to 779.

Ralph T. Willis for the Parks rolled the highest score, 210 in the second game, while F. O. Ball, maintained his good work by putting up a score of 204, in the same game. The individual work of the Parks was good, very few breaks being made in the first two games. As for the Cranford team the members made a determined effort to win. It will be noticed that they rolled over 800 in every game. Although not a 200 score was rolled by any member, the general average was good.

This is the detailed score:

Parks.
Wm. McCutcheon	188	153	158
R. T. Willis	154	210	150

REV. DR. C. C. HALL LAUDED THE JAPANESE

President of Union Theological Seminary Warmly Received at Hope Chapel.

ABOUT INDIA AND JAPAN

TOLD OF THESE TWO COUNTRIES AND THEIR INHABITANTS.

High Praise for Pluck of Flowery Kingdom's People for Resisting Russia—Stereopticon Views—Lecturer Received Applause.

High praise and sympathy for Japan in her war with Russia by Rev. Charles Cuthbert Hall, D.D., president of Union Theological Seminary, evoked a storm of applause at Hope chapel last night. Dr. Hall gave an illustrated lecture on "The Work for the Kingdom in India and Japan" in the fourth of the series of mid-week Lenten meetings at the chapel. He lauded the high purpose of Japan, expressed admiration for the character of her people and her courage in resisting Russian aggression in Asia.

Dr. Hall's stereopticon views of Japan and India were well chosen as to subjects but were not more interesting than the word-paintings with which he accompanied them. The illustrations of India pictured the character and customs of the natives and many of the most beautiful buildings and bits of attractive scenery. A set of three illustrations showing the process of extracting poison from a hooded cobra through the offices of a physician and snake-charmer were particularly good. The poison is injected into the blood of horses, from which it is taken again after the animals have become thoroughly inoculated, subjected to a chemical process and sent in the form of a powder all over the country to serve as an antidote to snake bites. The effects of the intense heat of the Indian sun were noted in the costumes of both natives and foreigners.

The results of Christian missions in India were revealed in pictures of those natives who have come under the influence of the missions and whose appearance of happiness and well-being contrasts strikingly with that of the victims of native castes and religions.

The Japanese pictures showed clearly the intelligence of the people, their quickness to learn, and the benefits that a progressive Christianity has brought to so many of them.

EXPLAIN LAW TO ASSESSORS

STATE BOARD MEETS UNION COUNTY ASSESSORS AT ELIZABETH.

To give the Union County Board of Assessors information on the new tax law, the State Board of Assessors met yesterday at the temporary court house in Elizabeth. There was a large gathering of the county assessors from Elizabeth, Roselle, Roselle Park, Westfield, Cranford, Rahway and this city, and nearly all had some point which they desired explained by members of the State boards, who have given the new taxation laws a thorough and comprehensive study.

William Eckerson, president of the county board, inquired whether a property bought from the trustees of the State school fund or other State institution and a mortgage given for a part of the consideration, would be exempt to the extent of the mortgage. Major Lentz replied that it would not be.

A Plainfield assessor raised the question as to whether firemen and members of the National Guard are exempt to the extent of $500, as under the old law. Under the new law, however, they are not exempt, except from poll tax. Although the matter has been carried to the Court of Appeals, the assessors said that under the recent decision of the Supreme Court the law does not allow an exemption.

The attention of the county assessors was also called to the separate assessment of buildings and land. This is applicable in Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway, although it has not been the practice in the last-named town. The assessors explained that in all cases where there was any conflict between a municipal charter and the new State tax law the latter must be strictly adhered to and the charter disregarded. Uncollected taxes are governed by the new regime, except those due previous to 1903.

REFUSE CARPENTERS' DEMAND

NO INCREASE IN WAGES TO BE GIVEN JOURNEYMEN IN THIS CITR.

According to reports received through bosses, the Carpenter's Union has blocked the attempt of several journeymen to start agitation for increase of pay.

It was reported yesterday that at a conference between the bosses and the representatives of the Union, a demand for more pay had been argued down, and the men agreed to work through the rest of the year at the old rate of $3 per day. Several prominent bosses were interviewed last night, including Wyman & Haberle, John Abbott, Charles F. Wilson, and all of them denied any such conference. They acknowledged having heard of some agitation for higher wages among the men, but said the Union had voted the idea down.

It is said that the discontented journeymen wanted $3.25 per day, with half holiday on Saturday and full pay. After considerable outside discussion, in which there was some strike talk, the matter was brought up at the meeting of the Union this week. Discussion of the situation there is said to have dispelled the idea of an advance, and the organization voted strongly in favor of remaining satisfied with the present rate for the rest of the year at least.

NASH DEFEATS AMENDMENT

STATE A. O. U. W. REFUSES TO ACCEPT NEW ASSESSMENT PLAN.

The long controversy over the question of adopting the assessment rates voted by the Supreme Lodge, A. O. U. W., for the Grand Lodge of New Jersey ended last night at 8 o'clock when by a vote of 78 to 17 they were defeated. The result is a triumph for Supreme Representative V. W. Nash, of this city, who has fought the new assessment plans from the time of their announcement.

Yesterday afternoon was devoted to the discussion preceding action. Judge Nash was unable to speak because of a severe cold, but the measures were energetically fought by Past Grand Master Workmen Tussey, McCullough, Nichols and other prominent men of the order. The session was largely attended. A vote was reached at 8 o'clock last night. A number of minor amendments were discussed.

The session is the thirtieth annual of the Grand Lodge. Past Grand Master E. C. Stahl spoke in favor of the plans and said that no secession from the national order would take place, no matter which way the question was decided.

LUNCHEON TO REGENTS.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall Among the Guests at D. A. R. Gathering.

Mrs. Cornelius Hook, president of the Old Barracks Association, gave a luncheon to the State Regents of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Old Barracks, and among the guests was Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, regent of Continental Chapter, of this city. Souvenirs made at Willett's pottery, consisting of a tray ornamented with a blue print of the barracks, were presented by Mrs. Hook to each of the guests. An authentic signature of George Washington will soon be placed in the halls furnished by Mrs. Hook.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Jeffersonian Democratic Club, of Trenton, will hold its third annual banquet at the Hotel Sterling, tomorrow night. The following have been invited to make addresses: John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi; Charles F. Cochran, of Missouri; Francis E. Shober, of New York; Clarence D. VanDuser, of Nevada; Allan Benny, of New Jersey. James E. Martine has received an invitation.

Mrs. Moore Buried.

Funeral services for Mrs. Henrietta A. Moore, widow of William B. Moore, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Moore's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Moore, 500 East Second street. Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson.

—A horse and buggy left standing in front of Moore & Scheelin's city market on North avenue from 8 o'clock this morning until noon was taken by Patrolman Higgins to Cole's stables on West Second street. The horse's blanket and harness were frozen to his hide. It was thought at the market that the owner of the rig came from Fanwood.

MUSIC HALL BECOMES A STORAGE HOUSE

Theatre, Where Langtry, Modjeska and Jefferson Played, Now a Thing of the Past.

TEARING OUT INTERIOR

PLAYHOUSE NOT A PAYING VENTURE WHEN IT CLOSED ITS DOORS.

Opened Many Years Ago—Theodore Thomas and His Orchestra the First Attraction—Well Patronized in Those Days.

Stillman Music Hall as a place of amusement is now practically a thing of the past for it is doubtful indeed if the hall will ever be opened again for its original purpose. The owner, William M. Stillman, who secured the property a few days ago at a sale in the county clerk's office, Elizabeth, is making the building suitable as a storage house. Work has been started closing up the windows with bricks and the interior will be arranged to provide for the storing away of all kinds of goods. It is understood that the main floor will be placed on a level, the private boxes and seats will be removed and the space will be divided off into sections.

There is probably no institution in this city that has had a more varied career than Stillman Music Hall. It was opened years ago by local capital, under the most auspicious circumstances, by Theodore Thomas and his orchestra. Afterward such well-known people as Joseph Jefferson, Robert Mantell, Lillian Langtry, Modjeska and many other stars in the theatrical world appeared to delight large and fashionable audiences. In those days the theatre-loving people of the city did not think of going to New York for the best productions were brought here. But eventually the hall failed to pay and its management fell into other hands. Maze Edwards, now of the Casino, gave his best effort and endeavor to please the public. Finally, the only paying affairs were the annual concerts given by the Plainfield Choral Society. It has been argued that the hall was never adapted as a first-class theatre and every theatrical man who has seen the place has been convinced that many changes would have to be made to bring it up to modern requirements and make it attractive. It is also argued that so long as the people can go to New York and see the best productions at a moderate expense they will not patronize a local amusement house.

However true this may be, there was a time when the hall did pay and it is the hope of many that some day in the near future, the city will again have a suitable theatre, one that will be in keeping with the best that the town can afford. Such a place has a larger territory than ever to draw from and if conducted along the best lines should be a paying investment.

TO KILL R. R. EXEMPTION

UNION COUNTY'S CITIZENS IN MASS-MEETING AGAINST TAX EXEMPTION.

Mayor O. L. Jenkins has received an invitation to attend a public meeting of the citizens of Union county to be held in Jacobs' Theatre, Elizabeth, tomorrow night, to consider the subject of "Unjust Exemption from Taxation of Railroad and Canal Property in New Jersey," and he may join with other mayors and leading citizens of the county in adopting some plan whereby a fair amount of taxes may be received from the railroads.

While this city is affected, it is principally in "junction" towns, like Elizabeth and Newark, that the question is of great importance. The speakers at tomorrow night's meeting will be Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City, who has taken the initiative in the matter; Mayor Ryan, of Elizabeth; City Attorney Record, of Jersey City; Assemblymen Fielder and Hamill, of Hudson county, as well as other prominent citizens of Elizabeth and the county.

The invitations for the meeting are issued by the Elizabeth Board of Trade and it is cited that the subject is of vital concern to every citizen and taxpayer of the entire State, especially those of Union County.

Efforts are now being made to secure legislation at Trenton that will tend to equalize and secure what is termed a just tax from the railroads.

G. L. VanEmburgh, of East Second street, is not able to be at his place of business on account of a heavy cold.

UNEXPECTED INCREASE IN MUNICIPAL TAXES

Plainfield's Coffers Enriched by the Decision Holding Exemptions Unconstitutional.

BOROUGH ALSO GAINS

MEANS A MATERIAL DIFFERENCE IN THE LOCAL TAX RATE.

Total Assessed Valuation of Plainfield Over $9,000,000—Taxes in North Plainfield Amont to $66,000—Takes Effect Immediately.

There will be an appreciable difference in the tax receipts on both sides of the brook as a result of the order issued by the State Board of Assessors, officially declaring the exemption removed from the holdings of firemen and militiamen. It is extremely probable that the rates will come down.

In this city, the levy last year was $9,330,000, which represents about $370,400 in actual tax receipts. Last year the deductions resulting from the exemptions amounted to $133,250 in the assessment. Payment upon this sum on the basis of 2.52, this year's tax rate, would amount to $3,100.

Across the brook the total of taxes received figures up to $66,000. The amount that will come in if the hitherto exempt amounts are collected, figured on the current rate of 2.59, is $1,500. This figure is of peculiar importance in the borough, because the amount will go far, if not entirely, toward paying all the expenses of the paid fire department.

Collector Smith, in conversation with a reporter for The Daily Press, expressed some doubt of the collection of the increase. An attempt to pass a new law that will stand the test of constitutionality is to be made at the present session of the Legislature, he said, and appeared to think the attempt would succeed.

CHURCH BROTHEREOOD AFFAIR.

Young Men's Organization of Warren Chapel Hold a Reception.

In celebration of its first anniversary, the Young Men's Brotherhood, of Warren chapel, held a reception and musicale last night. It was well attended. An address of welcome was delivered by President C. F. Bryan, and Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church, spoke to the young men of youthful ideals.

Included in the musical programme were selections by the choir, mandolin duets by Theodore Gavett and Chester Briggs; piano solos by Mrs. J. O. McKelvey, violin and piano duets by George Spier and Edward Spier; trio by Messrs. Spier and E. E. Wheeler, flute. The committee in charge was made up of C. F. Windham, C. F. Bryan, William Welsh and Fred Winn.

BILLS IN ASSEMBLY.

Measures Introduced Yesterday of Interest to Citizens of Plainfield.

These were among the important measures introduced in the Assembly at Trenton yesterday: Placing the control of primary elections in the hands of the county board of elections instead of county and municipal clerks; authorizing the Governor to have a medal prepared and presented to each honorably discharged soldier of the rebellion who served in New Jersey regiments, the cost not to exceed $10,000; giving common councils in cities power to regulate the size, height and dimensions of all fences between adjoining lands.

Disturber Fined.

Caesar Taylor, colored, was arrested in the borough yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Cary, colored, of Westervelt avenue, who accused him of using profane and indecent language. The colored colony around the Cary house testified that Taylor is a disturber of the peace, and last night Recorder Doud fined him $5.

Arthur Martin Dead.

Arthur Martin, twelve years old, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin, died yesterday at his home on Cottage place. The boy's father was at one time a local mail carrier and special policeman. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Mt. Olive Baptist church.

—A good meal without good butter is a failure. If you want butter that is sweet and pure go to Neuman Brothers' grocery store and ask for Rockdale prints, Rockdale creamery and Elgin creamery butters. They are right as to quality and right as to price.

FILTHY HABIT TO BE STOPPED BY LAW

North Plainfield Board of Health Passing Ordinance to Prevent Spitting on Streets.

REACHES 3RD READING

CORRESPONDENCE WITH NEW JERSEY STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Advocates of Measure Declare That Many Malignant Diseases Are Spread by the Nasty Practice—Provisions of the Ordinance.

Just as soon as the necessary advertising of the ordinance can be done, spitting on the streets, in cars and in public places in the borough will be banned by law, under penalty of fine or imprisonment for each offense. An ordinance covering the matter was passed by the North Plainfield Board of Health at its meeting last night, on first and second readings.

It is the unanimous opinion of the Board that the ordinance should be passed as quickly as possible, and enforced in every case detected. Dr. Adams, a member of the Board, in the discussion on the subject last night, declared his conviction that spittle on the sidwalks spreads malignant diseases more than any other agency. There was no question, he said, that women's trailing skirts caught up and carried many disease germs into the houses.

The question of penalty has not been decided by the Board. According to the State law, the Board can fix no lower penalty than $10 for violations of any of its ordinances. This amount the Board feels is excessive. Correspondence has been opened with the State Board, to discover if there is no way of fixing the fine at $2, which the Board regards as the proper amount for the offense. Should there be no other way, the Board will fix the penalty at $10, and exercise its power to remit part of it in each case.

Last night's meeting was the annual session, and the usual business was transacted. Andrew Love, Sr., was re-elected president, and Rev. W. R. Honeyman was named again as secretary and treasurer. Inspector Pangborn was reappointed.

According to the inspector's report, the borough buried 41 cats, 34 dogs and two horses during the year. 191 vaults and 277 cesspools were cleaned, and 60 houses were fumigated. The inspector recommended that all nuisances be cleaned away between March 10 and May 10, in order to escape the aggravating conditions of warm weather.

In the matter of contagious diseases the borough has had one of the best years on record. Only twenty-seven cases of communicable disease were reported, the majority of which were diphtheria and scarlet fever. Only two cases of typhoid fever developed. There were 128 complains, all of which were attended to. At present there is only one case of contagious disease in the borough. Treasurer Honeyman presented a highly satisfactory report. J. O. Osgood and Dr. Adams, the auditing committee, passed on the report.

Enforcing Building Ordinance.

Forgetful of the fact that a building ordinance had been passed in the borough recently, Oscar Moore started a frame barn on his place at 62 Duer street three days ago. The attention of the borough officials was called to the violation of the law, and yesterday J. K. Arnold ordered the work stopped. This is the first action taken under the new law. The barn had reached a partially completed stage.

Brown Turns Over a Leaf.

William Brown, accused by his wife of abusing her while drunk, was released by City Judge Runyon this morning on his promise to amend his ways. Louis Lavine, a junk dealer, caught peddling groceries without a license, admitted his mistake and was dismissed on suspended sentence.

Trolley Purchase.

A rumor that the purchase of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company had been effected by the Public Service Corporation was carried to Superintendent Maguire of the local lines this morning. Mr. Maguire had received no official confirmation of the rumor.

Banished.

Charles Kuronheim, the New York baker who was arrested for drunkenness on Somerset street Tuesday night, was released under suspended sentence last night by Recorder Doud, after promising to leave town at once.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Freedom from worry makes for long life. You never worry about you baggage when you entrust it to Hoagland's Park avenue express.

Tender meats, fresh and juicy, and everything else that goes to make up a first-class meat shop characterize M. R. Giles' place on Park avenue.

Careful housewives and fastidious men will make no mistake if they send their linen to Meissner's laundry. It betters old-fashioned home work.

Thinking of your spring house painting? Don't take any step in that direction without seeing Woolston & Buehle, North avenue. Their work is nonpariel.

A. M. Harper, of Park avenue, offers to the public a fine grade of stationery and writing materials of all kinds, besides an attractive assortment of toys and dolls.

Among some of the specialties advertised by Putnam & DeGraw, the dry goods merchants, are men's and boys' negligee shirts, plain and fancy hosiery for women and children, fancy and figured piques for shirt waists, spring ginghams and percales.

When the inner man is well fed the man is able to do good honest work. That is why the patrons of Timbo's restaurant on North avenue constitute a large proportion of those in this class. Good substantial food is well cooked and served at this restaurant.

A shirt waist and wrapper sale is attracting considerable attention at the Boston Cloak and Fur store at 245 West Front street, M. Gaimao, proprietor. This fine line of waists and wrappers are offered at very low prices. The telephone number is 485 L.

It isn't right to compare Peck's dry and fancy goods store with other stores. It is unkind to the other stores. Peck's goods are unequalled anywhere in town and many of them can't be matched even at New York stores. If you are particular about what you buy, go to Peck's, West Front street.

At this season of the year a good tonic is necessary if one hopes to pass through the spring and summer season in good health. L. W. Randolph, the West Front street druggist, offers Bland's iron pills as something that will invigorate and generally tone up the system. They improve the appetite and impart genuine strength.

Good dresses go a long way toward making women handsome and attractive. It is a big step in the direction of modish appearance for women to be fitted with skirts, suits, wraps, jackets at The Fair, in the Babcock building. All its garments are well-cut, handsome in design, and perfect fitting. And the prices are low enough to meet the exigencies of almost any purse.

Substantial bargains in high grade clothing are offered every day in the Plainfield Surprise store on West Front street, but there are some specials this week that will astonish you for their cheapness and excellent quality of material. Among them are men's and youths' fancy mixed fine cassimere suits in the latest styles and patterns, and an assorted lot of exceptional offerings in men's, women's and children's shoes. An entire line of Bay State Boston rubbers is being closed out at prices that are rock-bottom.

—Patrolman Mesler is off duty on account of sickness.

—Plans for a dance on March 22 have been made by the Criterion Club. It will be held at the Casino.

—More than $800 was realized by the sale of the groceries of Daly's store on East Front street, at which Hezekiah Hand was auctioneer for J. Fred MacDonald, assignee. Andrew Love, Jr., was clerk of the sale. The goods were all disposed of at good prices.

SOME GUBERNATORIAL BEES

SWACKHAMER'S CHANGE OF TACTICS IN LEGISLATURE AND ITS MEANING.

Gubernatorial ambitions are held to be accountable for the lack of oratory on the minority side in the Senate and House this session. In the law-making period of last year one Samuel S. Swackhamer, of Somerset County, facetiously termed Samuel Swingarm Swackhamer, had the majority members frightened out of countenance by the vigor of his verbal attacks and the sting of his sharp tongue. But this session the tall man from Somerset, who has adopted a long-tail coat and Websterian hair, has been dignified and has declined to use his command of anecdote to adorn his speeches or to put his antagonists to rout.

The belief exists in the House that the Somerset man's change of front is due to the boom which he has received for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and a desire to win in his fights by the force of argument, rather than by overwhelming his opponents with ridicule. Not once since the session began has he resorted to his tactics of last year, and not even when an Essex yearling, Edward D. Duffield, ventured to tackle him with his own familiar weapons did he respond, but preserved his new dignity and let the youngster get away with the honors.

The gubernatorial bee is alleged to be putting in overtime in the little Senate chamber, also, where Senators Samuel Shannon Childs, of Somerset, and Thomas M. Ferrell, of Gloucester, are rivals in point of dignified forebearance. Senator Ferrell was the choice of one wing of the Democracy when the nomination went to James M. Seymour two years ago and the Gloucester man is credited with a superstition that the lightning which came so close to him at that time may be better aimed this fall. Mr. Childs, too, according to the tales of his friends, would not be averse to trying conclusions with former Senator Edward C. Stokes, or any other Republican for the comfortable chair now occupied by Governor Murphy.—Trenton State Gazette.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. B. M. Jackson, of John street, has been confined to the house by illness.

Frank Clarkson, of East Seventh street, has returned to work after a short illness.

Mrs. E. S. Weaver, of South avenue, is slowly recovering from a severe illness.

Louis A. Clement, of Central avenue, is confined to the house by a severe attack of the grip.

Rev. F. E. Whiteside, of Central avenue, has gone to Brooklyn to engage in evangelical work.

Hugh Sweeney, of the Pond Machine Tool Works, is ill with the grip at his home on Liberty street.

Miss Edna VanCleef, of East Millstone, who has been visiting relatives in this city, has returned home.

George J. Plank, of this city, who has been spending several days with Raritan relatives, has returned home.

Charles W. McCutchen and family, of Rockview avenue, who are in Egypt on a pleasure trip, will not return home in time for the Easter celebration. They are expected a few weeks later than that period.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Hard Lines for Samuel.

It is sad to note how frosty has become the atmosphere about Samuel S. Swackhamer, of Somerset, who one year ago was hailed as the Moses of the Democracy, albeit raised from the bullrushes of a county that was wont to be inimical to Democratic good things. Samuel shot across the Assembly horizon last year like a meteor, trailing sparks of wit and humor that caught the fancy. Jealousy, pique or what not has chilled his wonted exuberance, taking the quirk out of his talk and frozen his influence. Not even a borough bill will throb at his touch, and the Democratic minority turns its face the other way. And Samuel really thought of the Governorship nomination, too.—"Freeholder," in the New York Press.

Jersey Journalism a Field.

The late W. C. Whitney had the distinction of having put one of New Jersey's young editors into practical business life and made a millionaire of him. Colonel George B. McClellan Harvey, at that time running the old Journal, in Newark, became acquainted with Mr. Whitney, through ex-Senator Smith, and Mr. Whitney started him on the road that led to his ownership of the North American Review, and the presidency of the great Harper Publishing Company. Colonel Harvey is not the only Jerseyman, however, who enjoys prominence in New York business and literary circles. Richard Watson Gilder, the editor of the Century Magazine, can still remember the time when he was a poor, and by the way, not oversuccessful newspaper editor in Newark. If he doesn't, old Dr. Merritt Hard Cash Vail does. William C. Reick, the autocrat of the Herald, began his newspaper career, too, on a Newark newspaper. Chester Lord, of the Sun, is the son of a Metuchen minister, and Julian Ralph, known all over the English-speaking world for his fine writing, wrote his first lessons on a Red Bank weekly.—Life in New Jersey.

—James Leahy, who formerly worked in local machine shops, is meeting with success in business in California. His parents live on Richmond street, and he has many friends here.

—Angelina Petruccione, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petruccione, was buried Wednesday afternoon from the late home at 1359 North avenue. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

James E. Martine, of Cedar Brook, has received from Eckart P. Budd, of Mt. Holly, a cordial letter thanking him for his message of congratulations on the occasion of Mr. Budd's appointment to membership of the State Board of Assessors. Mr. Martine was himself a candidate for the office and accepted his customary defeat with his equally customary good grace, assuring Mr. Budd that he was satisfied of the fitness of the Governor's appointment.

There was one well-fed dog in the borough Saturday. He had ten pounds of roast beef all to himself. James W. VanSickle, the North avenue butcher, delivered the meat at a borough house. The family was away and the butcher left the beef behind a door. The dog caught the scent of the meat, tracked it down, and did things to it without losing any time. When the remains of the roast were discovered by the family, Mr. VanSickle was told the dog banquet was on him. He gracefully delivered another ten poundes, but nobody knows what he would do to the dog if he happened to get him in charge.

AMUSEMENTS.

George Ade's quaint comedy, "The County Chairman," has now been running for sixteen straight weeks in New York at Wallack's Theatre, where the permanency of its stay will evidently be regulated by other matters than the measure of its popularity. "The funniest play in town" is a comment that has already been made by several of the conservative newspapers and freely accepted by the public at large. The progress of each performance is accompanied by a ripple of laughter broken in upon at frequent intervals by an outburst of uncontrollable merriment which almost shakes the building. Many New Yorkers find so much that is novel and amusing in "The County Chairman" that they go to see it over and over again—some of them indeed making regular weekly pilgrimage to Wallack's. The management has established a series of Wednesday matinees with the idea of meeting the requirements of out-of-town patrons who cannot well go to the theatres at night.

On Monday evening, March 14, at the Grand Opera House, John C. Fisher and Thomas W. Ryley will present their latest musical production, "The Medal and The Maid," which has just completed a successful engagement at the Broadway Theatre, New York. "The Medal and The Maid" is in two acts, the book by Owen Hall, the author of "Florodora" and "The Silver Slipper" and the music by Sidney Jones, of "San Toy" and "The Geisha" fame. There are addition lyrics by George Rollit and Paul Rubens, who has achieved the success of the season in New York with his "Three Little Maids." These well known managers have made a mangnificent and elaborate production of their latest importation and with the well known comedian James T. Powers, in the leading comedy role, there is little doubt but that "The Medal and The Maid" will prove a worthy successor to "Florodora" and "The Silver Slipper," which are under the management of Messrs. Fisher and Ryley.

The French Grand Opera Company will be the attraction at the Casino for the next three weeks commencing Monday night. The engagement is limited to three weeks and the sale of tickets was begun yesterday. La Juive will be rendered Monday night by one of the greatest troupes of operatic soloists that has appeared in the Metropolis for some time. On Tuesday night Carmen will be produced and other equally elaborate operas will follow nightly.

CHURCH CONCERT A TREAT

BIG AUDIENCE AT CONGREGATIONALIST'S MUSICALE WELL PLEASED.

An audience of 500 that filled the Congregational church to the last pew was delightfully entertained last night by a musical and readings presented by the music committee of the church. The talent was local, and the programme of wide range as to variety.

A quartette consisting of Elmer D. Cutting, first tenor; Morris C. VanArsdale, second tenor; Ralph K. Miner, first bass, and Fred S. Cutter, second bass, accompanied by C. A. Braider, rendered "Water Lillies," "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son," a selected quartette, and responded to several encores which their quality of work called forth. Mr. Cutting, accompanied by Mr. Braider, gave a selected solo which was heartily received. "Lend Me Thy Fillett Love," "Where Are You Going?" and "The Woodbird's Song" were presented by a mixed quartette consisting of Miss Cornelia Miller, soprano; Mrs. Ralph K. Miner, contralto; Fred B. Tallamy, tenor, and Fred S. Cutter, bass. The selections were among the finest on the programme.

A duet by Miss Cornelia Miller and Mrs. R. K. Miner, "On the Wings of Music," evoked enthusiastic applause, and a "Serenade" by Miss Miller and Mr. Tallamy was equally appreciated. Fred S. Cutter was obliged to respond to an encore by his rendering of Tosti's "The Armourer's Song" and "Beauty's Eyes." The most amusing numbers on the programme were readings by Miss Aimee Louise Emmons, "Her First Visit to the Butcher Shop" and a satire on the "Sweet Girl Graduate." These were finely rendered. The programme concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the entire audience.

The music committee which made the arrangements, consisted of Frank A. Weeks and Morris C. VanArsdale. The ushers were Charles B. Morse, Samuel H. Craig, William Morgan, Willard Wadsworth, Charles Belknap and Warren Weseman.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The devotional committee of the Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary met yesterday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Mrs. George H. Babcock. The committee on social work, of which Mrs. L. M. French is chairman, also met yesterday afternoon.

—A permit has been granted R. B. VanArsdale by Inspector T. O. Doane to build a barn at 426 Orchard place. F. C. Langhorne, of Truell Court, has received permission to build bay windows and make other additions and alterations to his house at 534 East Front street.

—The sale of tickets for the Hope Chapel Y. M. A. minstrels is gratifying to those in charge of the affair. There is an unusual demand and even now it is difficult to secure a choice of seats. Of course the greatest call is for the first night, but there is also a rush this year for the second and third night performances.

PERSONAL.

J. B. M. Jackson, of John street, is recovering from the grip.

Miss Clara Long, of Park avenue, has been visiting her cousin at Somerville.

William Tallman, of North Plainfield, still continues to improve from the injuries he received in a recent fall at Elizabeth.

Miss Coles, of West Sixth street, is convalescing from a severe affection of the eye, which at one time threatened serious consequences.

Irving Cooley, son of Dr. J. H. Cooley, of the borough, who has been employed at Buffalo, has given up his position there and will remain in Plainfield for the present.

J. A. Staats, of the Hotel Kensington, who returned yesterday from a visit at Netcong, N. J., says that the people in that part of the State are still enjoying sleigh-riding.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The Epworth League, of Grace M. E. church, is planning a sociable, the exact nature of which has not been decided upon.

Congregational prayer meeting at Warren chapel tonight, at 8 o'clock. Subject: "Reward of Resisted Temptation," Matt. 4:11, James 1:12.

Every number of The Churchman is illustrated, and the first issue in each month has a decorative cover and enlarged contents and illustrations.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian church, will hold its annual meeting in the chapel of the church this afternoon.

Officers will be elected and reports will be presented at the annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Baptist church, tomorrow night. A full attendance of members is desired.

There will be special music at the First Baptist church on Sunday night, the choir rendering extra numbers. It is quite likely that in the future at least one Sunday night a month will be devoted to special music with a short sermon.

Rev. Johnson L. Miner, of Brooklyn, has been called to the pastorate of the Flemington Baptist church For several weeks past he has been supplying this puplit and the congregation of the church is favorably impressed with him as a preacher and pastor. Mr. Miner will probably accept.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Several new members will be initiated at the meeting of Mispah Lodge, No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L., on Monday night.

There will be a district meeting in the rooms of Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., on Thursday night, March 17, at which time it is expected that the Grand Lodge officers will be present.

Next month, when the strictures of Lent will be removed, Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a reception in its handsome new rooms on East Front street. The furnishing of the chambers is going on steadily, and when the Council gets through its rooms will be among the handsomest in the State.

The one hundred and seventeenth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey, F. and A. M., terminated yesterday afternoon upon the conclusion of the installation of the newly-elected officers: R. W. grand master, John H. Wilking, Newark; R. W. deputy grand master, Benjamin T. Wakefield, Passaic; R. W. senior grand warden, Walter Chandler, Elizabeth; R. W. junior grand warden, Austin MacGregor, Newark; R. W. grand treasurer, Charles Bechtel, Trenton; R. W. grand secretary, Thomas H. Redway, Trenton; R. W. deputy grand secretary, William D. Rulon, Newark; grand chaplain, the Rev. J. Strother Jones, Trenton; grand pursuivant, Dr. Ira O. Leedom, Trenton; district deputy grand master, William F. Burk, Trenton. The selection of Thomas H. Redway as grand secretary is the fourteenth time he has been so honored. A stone taken from King Solomon's quarries, Mt. Moriah, Jerusalem, was presented to the Grand Lodge by Jacob Ringle, occupied a place on the platform during the session.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Grading contests in the boys gymnastic department of the Y. M. C. A. resulted in several promotions yesterday afternoon. From the third to the fourth and highest grade, McAfee and Steiner were promoted; Thorn and Whitall advanced from the second to the third; and Stephany, Fleming and Strong moved up from the first to the second.

Luncheon at Park Club.

The second of the series of luncheons will be given at the Park Club on Wednesday, March 23, by Mrs. A V. Healy and Mrs. Clifford W. McGee, of the entertainment committee.

—Jeremiah TenEyck, of South Plainfield, has purchased the Hetfield coal yard on Madison avenue.

John G. McLaughlin, of Somerset street, is able to be out again, having recovered from an attack of quinsy sore throat.

Great Removal Sale.
You can't afford to miss this money-saving opportunity.

We've put prices down to a notch never before reached.
Here's why:
Just a few days more and we shall move to our new quarters at 214 West Front Street, next door to the 5 and 10 cent store.
We've an enormous stock of goods now on hand, and can't afford to go to the expense and trouble of transferring them to our new location. We'd rather sell them at cost.
And cost in this case means a mighty little figure. Fact is, we bought the entire stock of Hirschman Bros. Co., Binghamton, who were retiring from businesss, at 40 cents on the dollar.
These are the goods we're offering AT COST.

Prices Absolutely Unprecedented.
Plainfield never saw such goods sold so cheap before, and quite likely never will again.
It's surely up to you to call early and take full advantage of these tremendous reductions.
Money talks. Look at these sample figures:

$14.00 Suits now $4.98.
All our stylish, handsome 10.00, 12.00 and 14.00 suits now offered at 4.98.
All 15.00 and 18.00 suits now 9.98.
All 25.00 and 30.00 suits now 14.98.

$3.50 Skirts now $1.25.
All 4.00 skirts now 1.98.
All 5.00 skirts now 2.98.
All 8.00 skirts now 4.50.
These are extremely stylish and well made skirts, for both ladies and misses.

DON'T WAIT.
Strike while the iron is hot. These most remarkable bargains are for a few days only.
Every garment is right up-to-the-minute in cut and finish. Fabrics are blacks, blues and mixtures. Eaton style exclusively.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

John Hill was bitten in the hand by his pet dog yesterday. While he was feeding the animal it sprang at him and seizing his hand, lacerating it badly. He will be unable to use his hand for some time to come.

Ground will be broken for George Apgar's new house on Front street as soon as the frost has left the ground.

J. McMahon has given up his position with the Port Reading Railroad and has returned to Dunellen.

Mr. and Mrs T. W. Day are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.

Edward Leimpeter visited friends in the borough yesterday.

John Beekman is suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

John McMahon paid a visit to Newark yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The smoker held last night by Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., was one of the most pleasant events the Council has ever held. The members were out in force and this together with the delegations from the visiting Councils made one of the largest meetings the Juniors have held in some time. After a short business session the entertainment committee took charge. An informal programme of speech-making and phonograph selections was enjoyed while the members enjoyed their cigars and coffee. The local Council has been taking in a number of new members during the winter and the new blood is beginning to show in the social life of the Council.

Now that it has been decided that Scotch Plains will have a baseball team again this season, Manager Johnston will begin selecting his material for a strong line-up. As soon as Edward L. Hand recovers from his illness the arranging of the schedule of games will begin. Manager Johnston promises the baseball loving public one of the cleanest and fastest games of baseball in the State if he is supported.

The Industrial School is settled comfortably in its new quarters in Meyers' Hall. The Thursday afternoon meetings of the school are well attended and a good work is being done among the younger element of the town.

The members of the K. O. G. Club and their friends held an enjoyable dance last night in the borough fire house. Guests were present from Westfield, Plainfield and the village. Music was furnished by Suhr's orchestra

Mrs. Charles Frentz, who has been spending the winter in North Carolina, is spending several weeks with relatives and friends in town.

Summons has been issued in Judge Clark's court in the case of Schenck-Strait. The case will be heard Monday afternoon, March 14.

The Suburban Club bowling team meets the Bound Brook team, tonight, in a match game on the local alleys.

A trolley waiting room, and fruit and candy store is to be opened in the village soon by Edward Walters.

Rev. G. M. Shott will lead the weekly teachers' and prayer meeting at the Baptist church tonight.

The weekly shoot of the gun club will be held Saturday afternoon on the range along Green brook.

The Chautauqua Boys' Club held its regular weekly meeting last night at the Methodist church.

Louis B. Coles continues to improve from a severe attack of grip.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The regular weekly meeting of Camp 41, P. O. S. of A., was held last night. Several members are on the sick list.

The bi-monthly convenant meeting of the Baptist church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The electric light, which has been out of use a few nights past, has been repaired.

George W. Smith is suffering from an attack of grip.

LINCOLN.

The Misses Egel gave a musicale at their home last evening. Madame VonMinden played and sang and Professor Weber rendered selections on the mandolin accompanied by Miss Pangborn. The Misses Egel sang a duet. Guests were present from Plainfield and Bound Brook.

Doctor Rushmore will sail tomorrow from Boston by the White Star steamer Canopic for a short visit to Italy.

Chiffoniers

Has arrived—they should have been here for the first week of the February Sale. This time, surely, the delay in transit has worked to your great advantage. The price should be at least 10.98, and it would be a bargain at that; but on account of the delay we have decided to price this so that all will be sold by March 15th. It's just like the picture—and there are two carloads of them.

Solid Oak Chiffonier at 7.98

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

DRESSY GOWNS.

Skirts Made In Tiers Are Fashionable, but Not Becoming.

Skirts made in tiers are once more in full favor. This style, which consists in alternate bands of shirring and of some wide plain material, should be religiously avoided by the small or the heavily built woman.

Many gowns now being made abroad are of thin material, flounced to the waist line. Some of the most beautiful are scalloped and have embroidered edges. Others show flounces trimmed with handsome embroideries or lace embroidered with gold thread.

The gown all in one tone gives an effect of simplicity and elegance not otherwise to be obtained. Embroideries, shirrings and fagotings all tend to show off the best lines of the figure and enhance the richness of the material.

MOUSSELINE DE SOIE GOWN.

The silk gowns are very quaint, for they nearly all have the wide pointed Marie Antoinette belts and very full skirts.

Soft oriental satin forms one of the prettiest materials for reception gowns. It is combined with accordion plaited chiffon or very fine lace.

Concerning tailor made gowns there is much to say, and many of the newest costumes are neat in style and built for hard wear. At the same time they have just that feminine touch in their fashioning which makes them far more becoming to many women than the "mannish" models we have sometimes seen. A charming gown in currant red cloth has a long basqued coat with revers and buttons in velvet of a darker shade. The skirt has flat frills on it at intervals. Another dress is in putty colored cloth, with a chic little coat of the reefer variety, strapped and adorned with small oval gold buttons. This goes with a short, plaited walking skirt.

The picture shows an orange mousseline de soie gown banded with gold. The loose bolero is of Japanese embroidery. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SPRING MILLINERY.

It Partakes of the Useful at This Time of the Year.

Millinery at this time of the year runs to toques and small hats of every description. These are capable of standing any amount of wind, rain and dust, for they are of the tailor made order and depend for their becomingness on eccentric angles and curves.

Wings and rosettes comprise the most desirable trimming for this sort of hat and black and white the most popular combination.

In Paris they are introducing a black picture hat lined with red and trimmed with jet cabochons. This is said to be very becoming to a creamy skin and black eyes and hair.

TAILOR MADE HAT.

The broad brimmed toque with the hussar decorations will soon be of the past.

Owing to the prevailing low dressing of the hair all hats and toques will cling to the head in the back, and as a result they will project far over the face in front. This is one of the most becoming millinery styles we have had for some time.

The attempt to revive bonnets has failed, and they are relegated to very old ladies.

The illustration shows a tailor made hat of black straw trimmed with black velvet and a black and white wing.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
Plainfield, N. J., March 7, 1904. City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

TO PROVIDE FOR THE REMOVAL OF SNOW AND ICE, GRASS, WEEDS AND OTHER IMPEDIMENTS FROM SIDEWALKS.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the owner or owners, tenant or tenants, of lands abutting or bordering upon the sidewalks of public streets, avenues and highways of the City of Plainfield, shall remove all ice and snow from that part of said sidewalks lying in front of their respective premises which is covered with flagging, broken stone or other artificial covering within twelve hours of daylight after the same shall be formed or fall thereon. Any person violating this section shall on conviction be punished by a fine of Five Dollars for each offence.

Section 2. That the owner or owners, tenant or tenants, of lands abutting or bordering upon the sidewalks of public streets, avenues and highways of the City of Plainfield, shall remove all grass, weeds and other impediments (not specified in the first section of this ordinance) from those portions of said sidewalks lying in front of their respective premises, within three days after notice to remove the same, which said notice may be given by the Street Commissioner either orally or in writing. Any person violating this section shall on conviction be punished by a fine of Five Dollars for each offence.

Section 3. That whenever the owner or owners, tenant or tenants of lands abutting or bordering upon the sidewalks of public streets, avenues and highways in said city, shall refuse or neglect to remove snow, ice, grass, weeds or other impediments therefrom, as required by the foregoing sections of this ordinance, or any notice given thereunder, the said, snow, ice, grass, weeds, or other impediments shall be removed by or under the direction of the Street Commissioner, and in the event of the removal of such snow, ice, grass, weeds or other impediments, as provided in this section, the cost of removal as nearly as can be ascertained shall, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, be charged upon the books of the City against the lands abutting upon or bordering the said sidewalks, and with interest thereon shall forthwith become a lien on the said lands and shall be added to and form a part of the taxes next to be assessed and levied upon such lands, and shall be certified by said Street Commissioner to the Collector of Taxes for that purpose, and be collected in the same manner as other taxes.

Section 4. That in all cases in which ice shall be formed upon or adhere to that portion of the sidewalks of any public street, avenue or highway of the City which is covered with flagging, broken stone or other artificial covering, it shall be the duty of the owner or owners, tenant or tenants of lands abutting or bordering on such sidewalks to cause such ice to be strewn with ashes, sawdust or sand within four hours after the same shall have formed upon or adhered to such sidewalk, except when the ice shall have formed upon or adhered to such sidewalks during the night, and in that case then within four hours after sunrise of the next following morning, and to keep said ice so strewn with ashes, sawdust or sand until said ice shall be removed as provided in section 1 of this ordinance. Any person violating this section shall on conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding five dollars for each offence.

STATE CONVENTION

Campaign Opened by Rhode Island Democrats.

CLAIM NOTABLE VICTORY OVER QUINN

Elected Five of Their Supporters and One Delegate Who Had Been Classed as an Opponent Who Voted Fitzgerald Ticket.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 11.—John J. Fitzgerald of Pawtucket, leader of the Democrats in the state house of representatives, won a notable victory in the state convention for the purpose of choosing delegates to the Democratic national convention at St. Louis. Mr. Fitzgerald, assisted by former Mayor George W. Greene of Woonsocket, Democratic national committeeman, routed the forces led by Colonel Patrick H. Quinn of Warwick, chairman of the state central committee, and Colonel Samuel R. Honey, the leader of the "old time" Democrats, electing five of their out and out supporters and one delegate who had been counted as an opponent, but who voted with the Fitzgerald-Greene faction. Having done this, they permitted the leaders of the opposition, Colonel Quinn and Colonel Honey, to be named in completing the delegation. The delegates elected were:

John J. Fitzgerald, Pawtucket; George W. Greene, Woonsocket; Samuel E. Daubney, Providence; David J. Barry, Providence; Andrew W. Farrell, Westerly; Dr. Thomas H. Connelly, Bristol; Colonel Samuel R. Honey, Newport, and Colonel Patrick Henry Quinn, Warwick.

Following the convention a meeting of the six Hearst delegates was held, at which the presidential candidacy of Mr. Hearst was indorsed and lengthy resolutions favoring the adoption of the unit rule by the delegation in voting were passed.

It was expected before the convention that a contest would be made over the question of instructing the delegates, but this did not develop, the candidates being uninstructed. Mr. Fitzgerald, however, in addressing the convention announced that he would vote for Mr. Hearst for the presidential nomination, and afterward it was stated that the six Fitzgerald-Greene delegates would support the New York man. On the other hand, Colonel Honey announced himself as an opponent of Mr. Hearst, saying that he would vote against the man "first, last and all the time."

There was considerable interest in the day's proceedings on account of the anticipated attempt to have support given Mr. Hearst's candidacy in the convention. The first New England state assembly to choose delegates in the 1904 campaign and the failure of the convention to instruct its delegates is taken by politicians to mean that Mr. Fitzgerald was satisfied with gaining control of the state organization, which is conceded to him as the result of his present success.

Mine President on Trial.

BUTTE, Mont., March 11.—F. Augustus Heinze, president of the Montana Ore Purchasing company; Superintendent Trerise of the Rarus mine and Superintendent Frank of the Johnstown mine, Heinze properties, were arraigned in the federal court before Judge Knowles on the charge of having refused admittance to federal inspectors sent to the Rarus mine in an effort to learn whether, as is charged by the Butte and Boston company, the Heinze miners are stealing ore from the Michael Davitt mine. After hearing pleadings Judge Knowles decided that the order of inspection recently made by Judge Beatty covered every part of the Rarus mine and must be obeyed.

Ten Pound Carp Stops Mills.

GRAND RAPIDS, Wis., March 11.—Carp for several days have filled the river around Mustingford in such numbers that sawmills and grist mills have been obliged to shut down, as the fish get into the water wheels and make it impossible for them to run. The fish are of large size, ten pounders being common. This is the spawning season for carp, and they leave the big streams and crowd into water two to four feet deep.

Joy Caused Mother's Death.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 11.—Joy because of the return home of her son caused the death of Mrs. Lucy Springsteen of this city. Her son, William Springsteen, returned home from Toronto. His mother had not seen him for two years and was greatly excited by the pleasure of seeing him. She was found dead in bed, heart disease having resulted from her excitement.

To Be Excommunicated.

ROME, March 11.—The Giornale d'Italia declares that the holy office, whose members are bound to the strictest secrecy, has decided upon the excommunication of Abbe Loisy, who has refused to renounce his methods of biblical research, but has submitted to the suppression of his writings.

Boston Strike Ends.

BOSTON, March 11.—The strike of book and job printers has been settled at a joint meeting of representatives of Typographical union No. 13 and the Boston Typothetæ. The settlement was in the nature of a compromise, and a contract between employers and employees was signed.

BASKET BALL.

The Y. M. C. A. basket ball team had fast practise last night in preparation for Monday night's game here with Orange Y. M. C. A.

This afternoon's basket ball game between Leal's School and the High School will be called at 3:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The game will decide a series of three for the school championship of Plainfield and will be the last on the season's schedule for the High School. In the preceding games each team won one by a narrow margin and the final promises to be a hot one. The probable line-up for the High School will be Thompson and Long, forwards; Freeman, centre; Gavett and Fenno, guards.

ROD AND GUN.

There will be a merchandise shoot at North Branch, March 19, under the auspices of the gun club of that place. It is expected that several local shots will attend.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Daily Press Bowling League tournament will be concluded next week, when the two remaining series of games will be rolled. On Monday night Roselle Casino will meet the Parks in this city and on Tuesday night Westfield will meet Cranford at the latter place.

Two teams from the Y. M. C. A. boys' department of New Brunswick will try their fortune against the local boys in basketball tomorrow morning. The K. O. K. A. bowlers of the New Brunswick association will also be on hand to try conclusions with a quintette of Plainfield boys.

HANDBALL.

The Y. M. C. A. handball tournament will start Friday, March 18 The winner will be awarded a silver medal. R. M. Smith is the present holder of the championship.

GOLF.

A number of improvements are being made to the Westfield Golf Club house prior to the opening of the golf season.

BUILDING LOT FREE TO FIRST COUPLE

Justice of the Peace Silas Dewey Drake's Offer More Tempting Than Hand's.

INDUCEMENT TO WED

LINCOLN'S MAYOR ATTEMPTING TO CORNER THE MATRIMONIAL MARKET.

First Pair That Swears "for Better or for Worse" Before Him to Receive a Handsome Present—No Conditions Attached.

"A house lot in the town of Lincoln to the first couple I marry."

That in effect is the proclamation issued by Silas Dewey Drake, "mayor" and postmaster of Lincoln and newly elected justice of the peace of Piscataway township, who desires to celebrate fittingly his entrance upon his high office.

Mr. Drake will not allow Lincoln to be outdone by any Plainfield "J. P." who may see fit to perform marriage services free of charge with special presents to the bride as extra inducements. He proclaims his supremacy as a purveyor of balm to torn hearts by offering to start a young couple on the highway of married life with a desirable building lot as a wedding gift.

The rules and regulations governing the contest for the chosen ground have not yet been announced. It is possible that the competition for the honor of being the first couple married by the justice of Lincoln may be so keen that a special footrace or walking match may become necessary as the only fair method of deciding the winner.

The vision of a half dozen aspiring couples at the starting point of a race course in rural Lincoln, with timers, stop watches in hand, at the finish ready for the momentous decision; and in the background the grave and reverend judge in the paraphernalia of his office prepared to do his worst provokes a fleeting smile.

Another blow has been struck at the institution of singleness that is called blessed. Not since the extraordinary leap year proclamation of Judge Hezekiah Hand has there been so much trepidation in the bosoms of the matrimonially inclined, and the bashful swains who have been gradually coming out of the lairs in which they have lured since the excitement of Judge Hand's leap year bombshell have again retired to Dismal swamp.

CHURCH SOCIETY ELECTS

ANNUAL MEETING OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Officers were elected by the Women's Home Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian church, at its annual session yesterday. The session was well attended in spite of the inclemen weather, and a good deal of interest was manifested in the proceedings.

It was a most successful year that the meeting closed. Mrs. E. M. Shotwell, the treasurer, was not present to offer her report, but it is known that the finances of the organization are in very good shape. The society has more than held its own in membership, a total of about 60 names being on the roll. One of the most successful departments has been the Sewing Circle, under the direction of Miss Kendall. Detailed reports on the notable work that this department has done will be made at a meeting to be held next Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Dunn.

Only one new officer was elected, Mrs. Lester Leggett, wife of the temporary pastor of Third Street chapel, to the vice presidency. All the other officers were re-elected, as follows:

President, Mrs. H. A. Pope; secretary, Mrs. Alvin E. Hoagland; treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Shotwell; secretary of literature, Mrs. John Johnson; secretary of sewing department, Miss Kendall.

Veterans' Reunion.

The members of the Second New Jersey Brigade, which was at the forefront of twenty-three battles of the Civil War, will meet at Mount Holly, Saturday, April 9, for their seventeenth annual reunion and dinner. Among the veterans belonging to the brigade are Capt. William Hand, T. O. Doane, William Payne and Isaac Randolph, of this city.

—Neuman Brothers' butters are the best. Ask for Rockdale prints, Rockdale creamery or Elgin creamery butters.

PRESBYTERIANS TO GATHER

MEMBERS OF HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETIES TO ASSEMBLE HERE.

There will be a large gathering of Presbyterian women in this city on Thursday, March 24. On that day the Presbyterial Society, which includes all the Women's Home Mission Societies in the Elizabeth Presbytery, will hold its annual session in the First Presbyterian church.

It is expected that every church in the Presbytery, which includes a large number of towns in this vicinity, from Pluckamin to Elizabeth, will be represented. The session will be an all-day one. The programme has not yet been arranged in full, but it will undoubtedly be of unusual interest to Presbyterian women in general. Plainfield members will take part in it.

One of the social features of the day will be a luncheon which the women of the First Presbyterian church society will tender to the visitors. Mrs. H. A. Pope is chairman of the committee in charge.

TALKED ON CHILD LABOR

J. S. P. STOCKS MADE ADDRESS BEFORE THE CONSUMERS' LEAGUE.

Child labor was the subject of an address by J. G. Phelps Stocks, of New York, yesterday afternoon, at a meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church in the interest of the Consumers' League of New Jersey. Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' League, described the League's work. Miss Mary K. Whiton, of this city, is secretary of the State League.

The dwarfing effects of labor early in life were indicated by Mr. Stokes. He said that if children are to be expected to grow into good, intelligent citizenship they must have a care-free childhood. Time for play is necessary to develope them physically and mentally.

Investigations made by the League and its crusades against child labor were dealt with by Mrs. Kelly. She laid stress upon the importance of awakening the public conscience and said that if purchasers insist that their goods be made under healthful conditions, the producers will be forced to yield to their demands. Manufacturers must supply what consumers demand. Thus the responsibility for present conditions rests ultimately with the purchasing public.

CULVERT CAVE IN.

Much Repair Work at Plainfield Avenue Made Necessary.

A cave-in at one end makes a lot of repair work necessary on the large culvert on Plainfield avenue at the city line. This culvert has been repaired in different places during the past few years, and this bit of work will put it into first-class shape all along its 180 feet.

Most of the northern section has been repaired, and all the proposed work will be confined to the south end, where the cave-in occurred. All the section not previously fixed up will be repaired in the spring.

It is at the mouth of this culvert that the proposed Plainfield avenue storm sewer will empty.

Another Birthday Party.

In honor of his eighth birthday, Harold Phifer, 442 East Fifth street, entertained a number of his friends yesterday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent by the young people in playing games and a phonographic selections were given by Mrs. John Taylor, and at a later hour refreshments were served. Among those present were Gretchen VanZandt, Sadie and Madeline Leacock, Madeline and Marion Blair, Helen Weseman, Margaret Keenan, Ruth Seals, Rubie and Lara Taylor, Thomas Claridge, Clifford Love, William Dodd, Craig Blair, Harold Sharkey, Harvey Thorn, Earnest and David Hand.

Child Buried.

The young son of Nelson B. Ford, of Mountain avenue, was buried yesterday in the Methodist Cemetery. Services was held at the home of Mrs. Perrin, of Grandview avenue, Rev. John McMurray officiating.

Surprise Party.

A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Carrie Somerset, at her home by Miss Mary Gordon. There were twenty-five present. Games and music were the features, during which refreshments were served.

Culvert Stopped Up.

Ice has choked up the large culvert laid by the railroad along South avenue at the Netherwood station. The company has been notified to clear it at once.

DIVORCED MONDAY AND WED WEDNESDAY

After Encountering Some Obstacles, Couple Tries a Second Matrimonial Venture.

THE SECRET LEAKS OUT

THEO. COX, OF NEW YORK, RELATIVE OF "SUNSET" COX, THE GROOM.

A Miss Norwood His Bride—Presbyterian Minister Refuses to Tie the Knot, But Groom Overcomes the Difficulty and Two Are Made One.

Divorced in the metropolis Monday, a well-known New Yorker launched himself anew on the sea of matrimony in this city two days later. He must have been determined to embark again, because he persisted in putting on the bonds of wedlock after one clergyman here had refused to perform the ceremony.

Theodore Cox is the earnest seeker after matrimony, and his bride was a Miss Norwood. On Monday Mr. Cox was divorced from his first wife, and it was not long after that he made arrangements to wed his second. A friend suggested this city as the place for the Hymeneal altar, recommending the pastor of one of the large local churches for the ceremony.

Acting on the friend's suggestion, Miss Norwood and Mr. Cox came to Plainfield on Wednesday afternoon, and proceeded directly to the house of the minister whose name had been given to them. He was preparing to unite the couple when he elicited the fact that Mr. Cox had been divorced. Then he politely but firmly told Mr. Cox that he could not perform the ceremony. Argument was useless, and the New Yorker and his intended bride were confronted with something of a dilemma.

This was finally solved by driving to the parsonage of All Souls' Unitarian church. Rev. A. C. Nickerson, the pastor, was at home, and he speedily made the determined New Yorker and Miss Norwood one. Immediately after the ceremony the couple returned to New York, where they will make their residence.

Mr. Cox is well known to a number of Plainfielders, and has visited here several times. He was a relative of the famous S. S. (Sunnset) Cox, and is prominent among the younger New York lawyers. Miss Norwood is socially prominent in the city.

When Secretary to the President Cortelyou was named for the Department of Commerce portfolio, Mr. Cox was mentioned as his successor.

PHILLIP BREEN IS DEAD

FORMER RESIDENT OF PLAINFIELD DIED AT HIS HOME IN ELIZABETH.

Phillip Breen, for many years a well-known resident of this city, died at his home in Elizabeth, last night. While in Plainfield Mr. Breen was engaged in the painting business and for several years he was chief of police here, being an efficient and able head of that department. He afterward was appointed warden of the Union county jail, which position he filled to the entire satisfaction of all. Later he was a detective for the New Jersey Central, which position he held until recently. In politics Mr. Breen was a sterling Democrat and he enjoyed the fellowship of a large circle of friends. He is survived by a widow, two daughters and one son. Mrs. Margaret McGinley, of East Third street, is a sister of Mr. Breen.

LUNCH-BOX SOCIAL.

Woman's Relief Corps of Winfield Scott Post Holds Affair.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., a successful lunch-box social and entertainment was held in G. A. R. Hall, last night. There was a very good attendance despite the stormy weather and a neat sum was realized as profit from the sale of lunch-boxes. The entertainment consisted of phonographic selections, piano selections by Mrs. John Manley, Miss May Smith and mandolin selections by Miss Clara Barton Smith. After the entertainment there was a social time. The affair was in charge of Mrs. W. C. Smith and Mrs. Sadie Baglin, assisted by other members of the Corps.

—Justice Hezekiah Hand left today for Buffalo on a business trip in connection with the sale of a large property.

SPECULATION OVER NEW APPOINTMENTS

Boroughites Wondering Who Will be Named by Mayor at Council Meeting Monday.

CAMPBELL FIRE CHIEF

AUTHENTIC REPORT HAS POLICE DEPARTMENT HEAD SHIFTED.

The Lawyers on This Side of the Brook Are Agitating the Appointment of Francis J. Blatz as Borough Recorder.

As the organization meeting of the borough Council approaches, interest in the appointments that Mayor Smalley is to make grows keener among the borough voters. Speculation is indulged in on all sides, but the Mayor has kept his counsel pretty closely to himself, and the majority of the interested ones are more or less at sea.

Interest naturally centers about the fire department appointments. While the chief magistrate has steadfastly refused to give any hint of his intention in this direction, it is certain that Chief of Police Campbell will be transferred to the head of the new department. It is said that this appointment will not be particularly pleasing to the ex-volunteers.

Chief Campbell's successor in the police department is likely to be George Weiss. At any rate, he has been mentioned for the position.

Recorder Doud expects a re-appointment, but the lawyers on this side of the brook have revived the F. J. Blatz boom for the place. Some lawyers have not gotten along very well with Judge Doud and they claim an attorney should conduct the borough court to prevent the possibility of decisions not sound legally, and unjust rulings. A petition asking for Mr. Blatz's appointment has been prepared by the lawyers, and practically all the legal fraternity in the city, including the most prominent counsellors, have signed.

It is understood that Mayor Smalley and the regular Republican councilmen will hold a caucus tonight. All the matters likely to come up at the meeting on Monday will probably be settled then as far as the administration's action is concerned.

MRS. LYNCH BURIED.

Funeral Services Held Over Remains of Patrick Lynch's Wife.

A large number of relatives and friends were present this morning at the funeral services for Mrs. Alice Lynch, wife of Patrick Lynch. The funeral took place at 8:30 o'clock from the late residence, in West Second street, and from St. Mary's R. C. church at 9 o'clock. Requiem mass was said by Rev. Father Egan. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery and the pall bearers were Michael Flynn, John Flynn, T. Mack, John Walsh, John Hickey and Francis Quass.

Fire at Oil Company's Plant.

The interior of the pump house of the Standard Oil Company on East Fourth street was burned out shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Some oily waste was lit by Isaac Taynor, who is employed about the place and placed under the pump "to thaw it out." The tank containing gasoline to run the engine was probably leaky, and the escaping gasoline caught, the flames spreading rapidly. The only danger from the fire was from the proximity of the pump house to the oil tank which might easily have caught from sparks. The firemen handled the blaze without much trouble. The building contained nothing of much value and the loss was slight.

ALIS CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Dr. Arthur H. Dundon, of the Borough, Chosen President of Athletic Organization.

REPORTS ENCOURAGING

SOME BASEBALL GAMES ARRANGED FOR THE SEASON.

John McLaughlin Vice President—Large Attendance of Members—Many Baseball Season Tickets Have Been Sold.

Officers were elected, reports were received and an announcement made of a schedule of five games with Westfield, was the principal business considered at the annual meeting of the Alis Club, held last night at the clubhouse in Arlington avenue. There was a good attendance of members and much enthusiasm was shown in the affairs of the club. These were the officers chosen for the coming year:

President, Dr. A. H. Dundon; vice president, John G. MacLaughlin; secretary, A. P. Egan; financial secretary, J. A. Wilson; treasurer, W. A. Boone; trustees, J. J. Slevin, B. A. Mumford, E. A. Brown, G. H. Burt and R. T. Phillips. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were encouraging and it was also reported that thus far 171 season baseball tickets have been sold by the members.

There have been arranged five games between Westfield and Alis the first game to be played on Crescent Oval Fourth of July morning. The second game will be played at Westfield on Saturday, July 23, the third on Saturday, August 13, at Crescent Oval. The fourth game will be played at Westfield on Saturday, September 10 and the place for the fifth game, Saturday, September 17, will be decided later. It will depend somewhat on the result of the preceding four games.

President Dundon announced that in all three hundred season tickets are assured of being taken and the club voted to give season tickets to Mayor Jenkins, City Judge Runyon, Chief of Police Kiely, Chief T. O. Doane and the newspapers. Dr. Dundon also announced that a total of twenty-four dates for baseball games have been closed, which will carry the season up to the opening of the foot ball season. The club will hold a "smoker" on Friday night, March 25.

PYTHIANS FRATERNAL VISIT

SOMERVILLE MEN THE GUESTS OF PERSEVERANCE LODGE, EO. 74, K. OF P.

Pythian Knights from Somerville were the guests of Perseverance Lodge last night. The visitors were warmly entertained, a big delegation from Unity Lodge helping the Perseverance members to welcome their guests.

The visitors represented Somerville Lodge No. 83. They came in large numbers, headed by Past Grand Chancellor Commander Daniel Rockfellow. Chancellor Commander Hetfield welcomed the Somerville delegation to Perseverance. Asa Pope, J. R. Brown and Councilman Robert Lee also spoke for the local knights. Past Grand Chancellor Commander Rockefellow, and other members of the Somerville lodge spoke in response.

Among the features of the entertainment programme were phonograph selections by Elmer D. Cutting and Philip Jahn; songs by Mr. Cutting and selections by the Jews Harp Quartette, composed of Asa Pope, Frank Putnam, Robert Lee and William Mills.

There was an abundance of refreshments, and informal sociability reigned while they were being served.

The committee in charge consisted of V. W. Nash, Jr., chairman, John Cose and Aleck Muir.

Wm. Hosinger Dead.

William H. Hosinger, son of Albertina and the late Frank Hosinger, aged 30 years, died last night at his home, 428 Watchung avenue, following an illness with pneumonia. He was a machinist by trade and was employed in this city. He was a brother of Mrs. E. L. Hand, of Scotch Plains, who has also been seriously ill with pneumonia. He is survived by a widow. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home on Watchung avenue, and interment will be in Scotch Plains.

—There are now thirty-two patients at Muhlenberg Hospital, four of them having been discharged from the institution during the past few days.

FORESTERS' PLAN HIGH COURT

ARRANGE TOGETHER TO INITIATE CANDITATES FROM FIVE LODGES.

There was a large attendance of members and visiting brethren at last night's meeting of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, to listen to addresses by Deputy W. T. Bingham, of Elizabeth; High Chief Ranger W. J. O'Brien, of Jersey City, and Past High Chief Ranger H. H. Lowrie, of this city. It was announced that special prizes would be offered by the High Court of New Jersey for members securing the greatest number of new members during April and May. It is proposed to hold a High Court initiation of candidates from Courts Watchung and Plainfield, of this city, Dunellen, South Plainfield, Westfield and Bound Brook in the latter part of May. After the speaking last night, vocal selections were given by John J. Bishop, G. Dowling and J. J. Conway, the entertainment closing with a smoker.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL A WINNER

CAPTURES BASKET BALL CHAMPIONSHIP IN INTER-SCHOLASTIC CONTESTS.

Barely pulling through a winner in the second half of one of the hardest fought basket ball battles on record for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the Plainfield High School team won the championship of 1904 for Plainfield schools yesterday afternoon, downing Leal's, 9 to 8, with but a single goal from foul separating the two at the finish. Excitement was high throughout both halves, with the lead seesawing and no apparent advantage for either team. It was even up all the while with the supporters of both fives including a fair representation of girls yelling themselves hoarse. The High School rooters were directed by Francis Anderson and the Leal's backers by Richard Lovell.

High School drew first blood, Thompson making good for the first two points about seven minutes after play began. Leal's quickly tied the score. Abbott and Doane threw baskets for Leal's in this half, which ended in Leal's favor, 4 to 2. It was a tight race in the second period, the High School boys tiring their opponents somewhat towards the end and forcing the play all the time. Thompson landed two baskets in this period and one goal from foul which, with Guinn's goal, made seven points and the odd one necessary to win the game. Chapman, for Leal's, made one goal from the floor and one from foul and Abbott scored on a foul.

The liveliness of the game at times approached roughness. Excellent guarding rendered much of the attempts at team work ineffective for both fives. Thompson score seven of the High School's nine points and played a star game throughout. He was well supported. Leal's presented a well balanced team.

The score:

High School—Freeman and Thompson, forwards; Guinn, centre; Gavett and Fenno guards. Leal's — Doane and Chapman, forwards; Abbott, centre; Strong and Haughey, guards. Goals from the floor—Thompson, 3; Guinn, Chapman, Doane, Abbott. Goals from fouls—Thompson, Chapman, Abbott. Referee—Dr. Browning. Umpire — Kenneth Robbie. Scorer—John H. Doane. Time—20-min. periods.

MRS. LOVELL'S TEA.

Many Society Folk Attend Affair Given in Honor of Miss Bell, of Grove City, Pa.

In honor of Miss Bell, of Grove City, Pa., who is their guest, a tea was given yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 by Mrs. Leander N. Lovell and her daughters, the Misses Lovell, at their home, 112 Crescent avenue. There was a large attendance of society folk during the hours set for the function. The receiving party was composed of Mrs. Leander N. Lovell, the Misses Lovell and Miss Bell, while several young women assisted in the dining room. The decorations consisted chiefly of roses.

Children's Affair.

To mark the birthday of her young son, Mrs. Robert H. Keenan, of East Fifth street, held a childrens' party yesterday afternoon. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by a large gathering of little ones.

Birthday Party.

In honor of her nineteenth birthday, Miss Nettie Bauersachs, of Grandview avenue, entertained a score of friends, at her home last night. Games, music and refreshments were the features.

PLANS TO PREVENT FLOODS IN EAST END

Mr. Gavett Has a Scheme to Relieve a Bad Condition Caused by Heavy Rains.

HE IS UNCOMMUNATIVE

IDEA EXPECTED TO WORK OUT ALL RIGHT IN REASONABLE TIME.

Deepening of Cedar Brook Suggested as Means of Bringing Some Relief—Matters at Their Worse in the Vicinity of Hill Street.

Plans for the relief of the lowlands in the East End from floods after rain are being made by Street Commissioner Gavett. The plan deals with the conditions that convert the streets about the water tank, in the vicinity of North avenue and Hill street, into a miniature sea whenever anything like a heavy rainfall occurs. Commissioner Gavett believes he has found the right plan, but refuses to say anything about it for publication at this time.

Topographical conditions so combine at the points mentioned that the surplus water can do nothing but flood the section badly. The chief feeder of the flood is the Fanwood cut, through which the water pours in a steady, whelming stream every time the clouds empty themselves of anything more than a summer shower.

Conditions around Richmond street are bad enough, as is generally known, but the flooding of the streets in the section further east is worse by a good deal. A good sized spring rain covers the throughfares so deeply with water that childern float tubs down the center of the streets. Commissioner Gavett is authority for that statement.

Mr. Gavett said yesterday that his plan for correcting the flood conditions might work out in two years. Further than this he would say nothing.

Some slight relief of the western end of the low section might be obtained if the suggested deepening of Cedar brook is done. This work is being considered by the city officials, who regard the problem created by the overflow of water from the brook as a serious one.

There is no doubt that if the brook were widened and deepened, it would carry off all the rain water that flows into it, and save Richmond street from floods.

Property owners about the brook have become aroused and a good deal of pressure is being put on the city officials to insure some action. It has been suggested that the deepened brook be paved at the bottom, but there are good objections to that, because the stream is largely fed by springs, which concrete paving would choke up.

MR. WHITESIDE AT AMITYVILLE

YOUNG PLAINFIELDER ASSUMES TEMPORARY WORK ON LONG ISLAND.

At Amityville, L. I., the Rev. F. E. Whiteside, of this city, will begin his work as assistant to Rev. Theodore Henderson, in the latter's far-reaching scheme for evangelical work among the Methodist church, tomorrow. Rev. Mr. Whiteside will fill the pulpit of the Amityville pastor, who will be away on an evangelical visit to one of the other churches in Mr. Henderson's organization.

In going into the work in New York East Conference, the young Plainfield preacher has identified himself with a movement that is designed and destined to become national, and perhaps worldwide, in the Methodist church. As one of those to enter it first, and the man most closely associated with the originator and leader of the movement, Mr. Whiteside will undoubtedly become highly prominent in the Methodist church.

The movement is of more than passing interest to Plainfielders at this time, because the Methodist ministers here are heartily in favor of it, and one of them has said that he earnestly desired its establishment in this conference.

Got a Heart to Heart Talk.

Hiram Hunt, Dominick Parretto and Louis B. Mulford threw stones yesterday and broke the window of Albert Brown's blacksmith shop on Richmond street. They were arrested on Brown's complaint and lectured severely by City Judge Runyon this morning. Sentence was suspended.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

It's merely a matter of fact that the best and freshest fruit is always to be obtained at Alex. Lusardi's store on Front street.

Spring is the proper time of the year to have your house painted, papered and decorated, and J. C. Hansen, East Front street, is the man to do it.

Makeshift work is never to be feared if W. H. Kirch is the contractor and carpenter on your job. He is careful, thorough, expert and painstaking.

People who are particular about what they buy in the line of drugs and medicines always trade at T. S. Armstrong's drug store on Park avenue.

Pure drugs and all kinds of toilet articles of high quality, may be obtained at B. J. Schreiner's pharmacy on Park avenue. Prescriptions quickly and carefully filled.

TenEyck & Harris, the coal dealers, handle only the very best anthracite and it is always uniformly good, that is you get the best results with the least possible waste.

If you need a tonic of any kind go to Dudley Miller's pharmacy on Park avenue and you will find just the thing you need. All kinds of prescription work is done promptly and carefully.

When you purchase silverware, jewelry, watches or diamonds at Charles E. Vail's store in Park avenue, you have the assurance that you are getting the best values a reasonable prices. Mr. Vail also examines eyes free and fits glasses satisfactorily.

You never see one of the hats from H. A. Bonn's store on West Front street that is not in the best of taste, trimmed and shaped according to the most approved and up-to-date styles, and sold at the most reasonable rates. Examine their stock of hats made of straw braid over wire frames, in black or colors and simply trimmed for present wear.

S. Sobener & Co., the grocers and butchers of West Front street, call your attention to their large stock of high grade goods. The firm carries only the best goods, the kind that gives entire satisfaction. By way of comparison you will find the goods and prices the equal of those in the larger cities. While the prices are low the firm never sacrifices quality for them. Prompt deliveries are made to all parts of the city and vicinity.

There is no doubt that the borough is growing each day. In line with its general advance towards metropolitan character is the establishment of a high class livery stable at 108 Somerset street. The place was bought from John Schorb by James D. Fraser. The latter has put in a number of handsome and stylish carriages, traps and station wagons, and his horses are shapely and good looking. Mr. Fraser will make a specialty of family driving, and will also have saddle horses of superior breeding for hire.

AMUSEMENTS.

Keith's bill for the coming week is one of the most remarkable of the season. Headliners and feature acts are almost too numerous to mention, and from first to last the programme is one of unequalled merit and strength. Among the deservedly prominent vaudeville artists who will appear is Mlle. Helene Gerard, the beautiful equestrienne, who, with her horses does one of the most beautiful animal acts ever seen. She uses two finely formed specimens of horseflesh, and the ease and grace which she shows in the saddle, together with the promptness and accuracy with which all the movements are executed is most pleasing to all classes of patrons.

There's nothing funnier in New York than "The Girl from Kay's," at the Herald Square Theatre, which has become known as The Temple of Laughter. It has had one of the longest runs of any attraction of its kind in years and its kind is humor of a high order. Sam Bernard and Hattie Williams are among the stars, and they compose a team which is hard to beat in the race to please an exacting public. An enormous caste supports them. March 28 will mark the 150th performance. You'll crack your chapped lips and split your fat sides at the one-continued round of merriment in "The Girl from Kay's."

Particularly appropriate next week will be the engagement of J. K. Murray at Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street Theatre in the late Dion Boucicault's famous Irish melodrama, "Arrah Na Pogue." Mr. Murray, who has abandoned the operatic for the dramatic stage, has been very successful in this production, and it is promised that the piece will be presented with great elaboration. His success as an interpreter of Irish roles is pronounced extreme. He will have, moreover, the assistance of a clever company, including Clara Lane, Daniel Gilfeather, who for years has been identified with Scanlon, Olcott and Andrew Mack, M. P. Farnum, T. C. Hamilton, Maud A. Scott, Lou Ripley, Nye V. Melshaw, Frank Kendrick, May Clark, John Birch, Irving J. Schloss and others. A special matinee will be given Thursday (St. Patrick's Day.)

"He Won't be Happy 'Till he Gets it," the new song in "Babes in Toyland" has stood the test of public criticism and is now admitted to be a success. Majestic patrons, many of whom have seen the Babes perform again and again, are delighted with the re-arrangement of the last act. Charles Barry's grotesque dancing the rendition of the new song causes paroxysms of laughter and the swift but rhythmic motions of the troupe of widows is the most happy and Miss Barrison's singing is perfect. Among the Babes there is much attention paid to the game of pool these days, many of them indulging daily in pool playing in an uptown private pool parlor. Miss Albertine Benson, the Moth Queen, claims that she is the champion woman pool player of the world and Miss Hilton, another expert, and Miss Benson have issued challenges to meet all comers in a pool tournament. Members of the chorus of another company, it is said, are considering taking up the challenge. Public interest is also given to Gus Pixley, many patrons upon purchasing tickets, saying they were anxious to see Gus Pixley, "Inspector Marrenduke" of the cast.

Is This a "Hoodoo" Year?

The year 1904 has started off very badly in the way of great disasters, and more, even greater than those we have already had, are promised by people who look into the future. If you care to be on the safe side you had better read what these seers have to say of the present year. A painter of portraits is always interesting, especially when his work receives the sanction of such notable persons as the Pope and many society people. H. Jones Thaddeus, of London, who is in New York at present, is probably the foremost painter of people today, and a very interesting specimen of his work will be seen in next Sunday's World. Easter is almost here, and you will be interested in knowing what the very latest and smartest novelties for women are to be. The model modern house is fitted with a hospital room that you ought to know all about. What is the greatest triumph of mechanical art? The modern battle-ship, some say. You can make up your own mind after reading some things about it. A young man's life ambition has just been blighted by the loss of a finger. You will sympathize with him. These are only a few of the subjects treated in the Sunday World's magazine for the coming Sunday. You should order it in advance.

L. A. Clement, of Central avenue, has returned to business after a short struggle with the grip.

The grandchild's condition is not so serious.

New Central Railroad Bridge.

The New Jersey Central Railroad Company has in successful operation the first half of the new steel bridge over Newark Bay between Bergen Point and Elizabeth, across which all main line trains pass. The structure was eighteen months in building and it is expected the other half will be completed this year. The bridge is of the "rolling lift" type and instead of being swung around is raised like the blade of a jackknife. One man is able to raise the structure.

SPECIAL MASTER'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

Between E. Frank Vail complainant, and Joseph B. Miller et. als, defendants. Fi. Fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of Fieri Facias, to me directed and delivered, I will expose for sale at public vendue on Monday, the fourteenth day of March, A. D., nineteen hundred and four, between the hours of twelve and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at two o'clock p. m., at the Hotel Rosell, in the City of Plainfield, Union County, New Jersey, all that certain tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the city (formerly Township) of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey, and a portion thereof situate, lying and being in the Township of Piscataway, in the County of Middlesex, and State of New Jersey, and is thus described:

Being known and designated as Lots Nos. 46 and 47 in Block (4) four, on a map of Building Plots at Evona, sold at auction September 11, 1873, by Betts, Burnett & Co., which taken together are described as follows:

Beginning at a point at the intersection of the southeasterly corner of South avenue with the southwesterly line of Rock avenue as laid down on said map; thence running in a southeasterly course along the line of Rock avenue one hundred feet to a stake and corner of Lot No. 48; thence running in a southwesterly course along the line of that lot, two hundred feet to a stake and corner in the line of Lot No. 45; thence running along the line of that lot in a northwesterly course one hundred feet to the southeasterly line of South avenue and corner of lot No. 45; thence running in a northeasterly course along said avenue, two hundred feet to the place of beginning. Together with the land in front of the same to the middle of South and Rock avenue to be used as public streets forever.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 12.—By a decision handed down by Judge Gager of the superior court late yesterday afternoon, based on a demurrer to answers to an appeal by William J. Bryan from the decision of the probate court, which ruled against him in the Philo S. Bennett will case, Mr. Bryan has the right to contest for the $50,000 bequest to himself by proving that the sealed letter is a part of the will. Judge Gager's decision is largely in Mr. Bryan's favor on questions raised in the demurrer.

The demurrer was to nine paragraphs in the answer, and upon each the court specifically rules. The eighth and ninth paragraphs in effect claim that Mr. Bryan by taking the office of executor waived his right to prosecute the appeal from the decision of the probate court in reference to the bequest to himself of $50,000.

The court says in substance that the action of Mr. Bryan in accepting the position of executor does not estop him or cause him to relinquish any right that he may have in this appeal to establish the validity of certain papers as a part of the will, which papers if he succeeds in so doing must necessarily be in conflict with the terms of the trust he has undertaken to carry out.

The court further says that such action on Mr. Bryan's part is not an issue in the present case. The seventh paragraph in the answer had to do with the relationship of the "sealed letter" to the will. The court says that when a will is presented to the probate court the question before such court is whether the will shall be accepted or rejected. The question of right of appeal cannot be passed upon by the probate court. Judge Gager's decision gives Mr. Bryan the right to prove that the "sealed letter" is a part of the will.

The latter paragraphs in the answer refer to the details in the case, particularly as regards the time of Mr. Bennett's death and the surroundings. Paragraphs five and six, however, touched upon correspondence between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Bennett, and the court in passing says they appear to relate to matters outside the scope of the present suit. In this connection the court says the ruling is without prejudice to the right of the appellee upon trial to offer proof of the facts alleged if the same are considered by the court to be germane to the statutory issue raised by the appeal.

Judge Gager's decision probably will result in the trial on March 22 before a jury of Mr. Bryan's appeal from the decision of the probate court refusing to admit the "sealed letter" as a part of Mr. Bennett's will.

BUFFALO BILL'S DIVORCE.

Says Mrs. Cody Tried to Poison Him and That She Was Cruel.

DENVER, March 12.—A petition for divorce filed in the district court of Big Horn county, Wyo., Jan. 9, by Colonel William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") has just been made public.

The complaint charges cruelty and alleges that on Dec. 26, 1900, Mrs. Cody attempted to poison the plaintiff. Another ground on which plaintiff asks a decree is that the marital relations has been intolerable to him by his wife's refusal to entertain his friends at his former home in North Platte, Neb.

Mrs. Cody, who is in North Platte denies her husband's charges and will contest the suit. Colonel and Mrs. Cody were married in St. Louis on March 6, 1866.

Dietrich Inquiry Opens.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The senatorial inquiry into the charges against Senator Dietrich of Nebraska has opened before the special committee in Senator Hoar's committee room. The inquiry, which was instituted upon the demand of Senator Dietrich, is for the purpose of probing the charges on which the senator was indicted last fall in Nebraska and which were dismissed on demurrer. The committee consists of Senators Hoar, Platt of Connecticut, Spooner, Cockrell and Pettus.

Cause of Darlington Disaster.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Henry Parsons, an expert on building construction, retained by District Attorney Jerome to investigate the collapse of the Hotel Darlington, in which a score of workmen lost their lives, reported last night that the collapse was caused by improper assembling of iron work made possible by and due to loose bolts in the columns, beams and girder connections.

Coolies For the Transvaal.

LONDON, March 12.—Colonial Secretary Lyttleton has telegraphed to Lord Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, saying King Edward will not disallow the Asiatic labor importation ordinance. Mr. Lyttelton added: "The ordinance can, however, be brought into operation at the present."

Fatal End to Coasting.

LENOX, Mass., March 12.—A double runner carrying five high school students crashed into a lamppost at the foot of Courthouse hill, on Main street here, causing serious injuries to four young women, two of whom, it is believed, will die.

DESTROYERS SUNK.

Russian Torpedo Boats Make Sortie From Port Arthur.

EACH NATION HAS BOAT DESTROYED

Makaroff Cleared Channel of Disabled Retvizan, Hoisted His Flag and Sallied Forth to Engage the Japanese Fleet.

LONDON, March 12.—An official St. Petersburg cable says Viceroy Alexieff has sent the following message to the emperor:

"The Russian torpedo boat flotilla left Port Arthur at broad daylight Friday morning and attacked the Japanese fleet.

"One Japanese torpedo boat was sunk and one Russian torpedo boat destroyer, the Bezposhtchadni, was sunk.

"Admiral Makaroff has inaugurated his assumption of the command of the Russian fleet at Port Arthur by a complete change of tactics. As soon as he arrived he ordered the removal of the battleship Retvizan, which was stranded at the mouth of the harbor and barred the channel at certain stages of the tide, making the egress of battleships impossible.

Admiral Makaroff, commanding the Russian fleet, reporting yesterday's action at Port Arthur, says:

"Six torpedo boats which went out to sea the night of March 10, four of them being under the general command of Captain Mattoussevitch, encountered the enemy's torpedo boats, followed by cruisers.

"A hot action ensued, in which the torpedo boat destroyer Vlastini discharged a Whitehead torpedo and sunk one of the enemy's torpedo boats.

"On the way back the torpedo boat destroyer Stereguschtchi, commanded by Lieutenant Sergueieff, sustained damages. Her engine was disabled, and she began to founder. By 8 o'clock in the morning five of our torpedo boat destroyers had returned. When the critical position of the Stereguschtchi became evident I hoisted my flag on the cruiser Novik and went with the Novik and the cruiser Boyarin to the rescue. But as five of the enemy's cruisers surrounded our destroyer and as their battleship squadron was approaching I did not succeed in saving the Stereguschtchi, which foundered. Part of the crew was made prisoner and part was drowned.

"On the ships which participated in the night attack one officer was seriously and three others were slightly wounded, two soldiers were killed, and eighteen were wounded.

"At 9 o'clock fourteen of the enemy's ships assembled before Port Arthur, and a bombardment was begun with the heavy guns of their battleship squadron at long range.

"This lasted until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It is estimated that the enemy fired 154 twelve inch shells. The damage to our vessels was insignificant, and they are again ready for battle. Our losses were one officer slightly wounded and one soldier killed and four soldiers wounded.

"The illumination of the sea at night by the searchlights mounted at our batteries was most satisfactory, and several times isolated shots from our batteries forced the enemy's torpedo boats to retire.

"With the commencement of the bombardment at dawn the guns of the fortress replied to the enemy's fire.

"The crews of all the ships engaged gave proof of remarkable coolness in action. Below decks the work of the day followed its ordinary course in spite of the shells falling between the vessels and covering them with fragments.

"A bombardment at such a distance must be considered ineffective, but the Japanese cruiser Takasago is reported to have been seen to suffer serious damage, the extent of which, however, it was impossible to ascertain at a distance of five miles. Many shells were fired at a range of seven and a half miles."

"In the fight between our torpedo boats and the Japanese cruisers Captain Mattoussevitch, Ensign Alexandroff and Mechanical Engineer Ellnoff received slight wounds and Ensign Zaeff was severely wounded in the head, losing his right eye.

"The commandant at Port Arthur reports the following details of the bombardment of the fortress there: As soon as the enemy opened fire our batteries replied. Six of the enemy's ships remained behind the Liaotishin promontory and opened fire on the fortress over that shelter. They ceased bombarding at 1:15 p. m. The enemy fired about 200 projectiles. One shell from Battery No. 15, on Electric cliff, damaged a Japanese cruiser seriously.

"The results of the bombardment were insignificant. Six soldiers were wounded. Three inhabitants of the town were killed, and one was seriously wounded.

"According to General Stoessel's report, the officers and soldiers in the shore batteries displayed exemplary courage and fired their guns in perfect order."

General Kuropatkin, who left St. Petersburg today for the far east to take command of the military forces there, had a long farewell interview with the emperor. He also paid parting visits to the empress and the grand dukes.

The emperor in bidding him farewell expressed the greatest confidence that he would bring glory to Russian arms.

Later in the day General Kuropatkin received a deputation from the municipal council, who presented him with an address and a triple ikon, or sacred picture, representing the warrior saints, Alexander Nevsky, Alexis and George. The general received the ikon on bended knee and kissed it. In returning thanks to the deputation he spoke modestly and said:

"It is necessary to be calm and patient. The army will make faithful efforts to accomplish the task intrusted to it by the emperor. Slight reverses are possible. Our troops are assembling slowly, and in this everything depends on the railroad. I am firmly confident that God will respond to our prayers and bless Russian arms."

It can be asserted positively that there will be no conflict of authority between Viceroy Alexeieff and General Kuropatkin. The former is to retain administrative control of the viceroyalty. General Kuropatkin, although nominally a subordinate, will exercise complete control of the land operations, and Vice Admiral Makaroff will command the fleet in the far east.

About 5,000 men are going forward over the Siberian railroad every day, and by the middle of April all the troops necessary to put into effect the plans of the government will be in east Asia. The land railroad around Lake Baikal is expected to be completed by the middle of April, and thereafter the transportation of supplies and munitions of war will not, it is believed, give any further trouble.

AMERICAN PROTEST.

Russia Proposes to Close Kinkow, Commander Sawyer Wants It Open.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—An important dispatch has been received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic squadron, in which he reported that Commander Sawyer of the gunboat Helena, now in mud dock at Newchwang, had made a protest to the Russian authorities against the sinking of boats at the entrance to the harbor of Yinkow. Yinkow is the port of entry for Newchwang, and the announcement that the Russians intended to block the entrance was received with some surprise.

Immediately upon the receipt of Admiral Evans' communication Secretary Hay and Secretary Moody had a conference, and it was decided to uphold Commander Sawyer's action. Newchwang is one of the neutral treaty ports of Manchuria, and the action of this government in protesting against its blockade means an insistence upon the neutrality of the port.

The matter was discussed at the cabinet meeting, and Admiral Evans' dispatch was read by Secretary Moody. Under one interpretation of the replies of Russia and Japan to Mr. Hay's note Newchwang, being a part of Manchuria, might have been regarded as within the theater of war. If this interpretation is sustained, Japan would have the right to land troops at Yinkow for the purpose of attacking the Russians at Newchwang. The recognition of the neutrality of Yinkow and Newchwang carried with it an objection to the landing of these troops and continues the open port to outside traffic.

Admiral Evans reports that the Japanese had appeared at Fungwangchwang and at Tashang and that it was reported an engagement had occurred at the former place.

Two submarine torpedo boats have been shipped by rail from Port Arthur to Vladivostok and will be utilized by the Russians there for harbor defense.

Japanese Officers Going Home.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer Celtic, from Liverpool and Queenstown, were twenty-eight Japanese army and navy officers returning home from European countries and Right Rev. Joseph C. Hartzell, missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church to Africa.

New Russian Destroyers.

NIKOLAIEV, Russia, March 12.—Three fast torpedo boat destroyers and the cruiser Kagul are nearing completion at the local dockyard. The machine shops are preparing engines of 10,000 horsepower for two new battleships of the Kniaz Potemkine Tavritchesky type.

Koreans Help Russians.

KHABAROVSK, Siberia, March 12.—The Korean and Chinese residents here are contributing to the funds being raised for the Russian Red Cross society.

Battle With Burglars.

CLEVELAND, O., March 12.—Two burglars entered the saloon of Philip Oppenheimer, 1296 Case avenue, and with revolvers pointed at the proprietor's head ordered him to throw up his hands. Oppenheimer, however, dodged behind a counter and grabbed his revolver and began shooting at the burglars, who returned the fire. A fusillade of shots followed that smashed mirrors, windows and bar fixtures. Finally the intruders started to retreat, firing as they backed out to a waiting buggy in the street and closely pursued by Oppenheimer. One of the intruders ran and escaped. The other attempted to jump into the buggy, but Oppenheimer sent two bullets into the horse, and it dropped to the pavement. At this point the police arrived and captured the burglar.

Troops Leaving Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 12.—After another quiet night and every indication of order the withdrawal of part of the troops has begun. Seven of the eighteen companies will remain over Sunday, and if there are no more demonstrations all will be withdrawn by Monday.

Santo Domingo Cut Off.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The central cable office of the Western Union Telegraph company announced that, owing to the interruption of the Mole St. Nicholas-Cape Haitien cable, telegraphic communication with Santo Domingo, Curacao and Venezuela is interrupted.

PROBING MORMONISM.

Critchlow Told of the Church's Power In Worldly Matters.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The only witness on the stand in the investigation of the Senator Reed Smoot case before the senate committee on privileges and elections was E. B. Critchlow. He was formerly assistant United States attorney for Utah.

He continued his history of the Mormon church, detailing instances where the high officials of the church had manifested their power over the members in order to compel obedience in all matters and where excommunication had been the price of an independent spirit. The witness when asked concerning Senator Smoot's power to prevent the violations of the laws in regard to polygamous cohabitation said:

"By one word Smoot could either stop what is going on or cease to be an apostle."

Senator Beveridge assisted in the cross examination of the witness, and his attempts to prove certain evidence incompetent livened what otherwise would have been the dullest day of the hearing.

THE MESSENGER MADE RECORD.

Favorites' Good Showing on the New Orleans Track.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—Favorites were in good form here, Sharp Bird and Roue being the only ones to suffer defeat. In both of these races the winners were well backed second choices. Scorpio in the handicap equaled the track record, and The Messenger in the fifth race reduced the mile and a half mark from 2 minutes 34 seconds to 2 minutes 33 3-5 seconds.

First Race—Tally H. won, Moderate second, Lady Contrary third.

Second Race—Fitzbriar won, Sharp Bird second, Hemlock third.

Third Race—New Mown Hay won, Wreath of Ivy second, Vestry third.

Fourth Race—Scorpio won, New York second, Roue third.

Fifth Race—The Messenger won, Mauser second, Free Admission third.

Sixth Race—Apache won, John Coulter second, Lady Mistake third.

Many Upsets at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 12.—There were many upsets at Ascot park, and the talent suffered in consequence of them. The best race of the day was the fourth, a free high weight handicap, and it resulted in proving Fustian one of the gamest horses now racing here. Sals was the favorite at 7 to 5, with E. R. Brattain second choice. Fustian was well supported at 4 to 1 and later at 8. Fustian was left at the post and when he got straightened out was ten lengths behind Brattain, the leader. He closed the gap and turning into the stretch was a length behind. Under the vigorous riding of Lewis he came like a whirlwind and won by a nose from Brattain.

International Hockey Game a Draw.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A fast and stubbornly contested game of hockey which was played at the St. Nicholas rink between the Wanderers of this city, champions of the Amateur Hockey league, and the Victoria team of Montreal resulted in a rather unsatisfactory draw, each side having scored eight goals. As a fancy dress carnival was on the programme immediately after the international game, the referee decided not to call for an extra period, and neither team was anxious to continue.

Arabo Fooled the Talent.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Fine weather favored the racing at Oakland, but the track was very muddy. A six furlongs handicap, which brought together some clever sprinters, was the main attraction. Kenilworth was a heavily played favorite, with Albula and Elliot next fancied. The result was unexpected, as Arabo, an outsider, led all the way and beat Kenilworth handily. Surprises were the order of the day, as only one favorite landed.

Cornell Fencers Beat Columbia.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 12.—Cornell's fencers defeated Columbia last night by a score of 7 to 2, winning two bouts out of the first three, two in the second set and all three in the last. Cornell's best work was done by Bowman and Pino, each of whom won all three of his bouts.

Black Bill and Jackson Draw.

BALTIMORE, March 12.—Claude Brooks ("Black Bill") of Merchantville, N. J., a colored heavyweight, boxed fifteen rounds to a draw last night with Young Peter Jackson of Baltimore before the Eureka Athletic and Social club.

PANDEMONIUM RULED

Congress Hot Seven Hours Over Postal Fraud Affairs.

CANNON NAMED FOR NEXT PRESIDENT

Climax Came When W. Alden Smith of Michigan Condemned Every Executive Branch of Government For Arrogant Conduct.

WASHINGTON, March 12. — The house of representatives indulged itself in nearly seven hours of explanation, accusation and vituperative denunciation and then ordered, with only two negative votes, an investigation of postal affairs so far as members of the house are concerned by a special committee of seven members to be appointed by the speaker, who likewise are to examine into the origin of the Bristow report so far as it concerns members of the house. The demand of the minority for a sweeping investigation of every branch of the postoffice department was not granted. The test on this question came on a vote which resulted 144 to 125, a strict party vote.

The climax of the day was reached when Representative William Alden Smith (Mich.) condemned every executive department of the government for its arrogant treatment of the only branch of the government in direct touch with the people of the country, the house of representatives, and shouted out the nomination of Speaker Cannon for president of the United States. The house thundered its acquiescence, members rose to their feet and fairly shrieked their assent, Democrats waved whatever was in their hands, Republicans pounded their desks, and the packed galleries took up the enthusiasm and echoed the applause. When the speaker bent low over his desk and wielded his gavel vigorously for order his raps only served as an impetus for a fresh outbreak of enthusiasm. Meanwhile Mr. Smith's time ran out, and when he endeavored to continue, in opposition to the ruling of the speaker, he was urged on by the cries of members on both sides, but without avail.

The parliamentary struggle between the Republicans and Democrats came late in the day. The recommendation of the committee that the Hay resolution lay on the table was brushed aside unanimously. The Democratic demand for a full investigation finally came to a vote in the shape of an appeal from the decision of the chair and was defeated—144 to 125, a strict party vote. A resolution for an investigation of the connection of members with the department, offered by Representative McCall (Mass.), then was agreed to, only Representatives Lind (Dem., Minn.) and Gillespie (Dem., Tex.) opposing it.

FROZEN BODY IDENTIFIED.

Martha C. Drennan, a Fanatic, Missing Sine November Last.

SALEM, N. J., March 12.—The headless body of the woman found frozen in the ice close to the body of a man in Delaware bay off Bay Side has been identified as that of Martha C. Drennan of 3937 Ridge avenue, Philadelphia.

The identification was made by Michael Drennan, a brother, and Mrs. M. Burns, an aunt of the dead woman. They described minutely the clothing worn by the woman at the time she disappeared. They also mentioned the ring and scapular found on the body.

Michael Drennan stated that his sister disappeared on Nov. 29 of last year. She was nineteen years old and somewhat of a fanatic on religion. After her disappearance it was believed that she had either fallen or jumped into the Schuylkill river. The condition of the body indicated that it had been in the water for a long time. The severing of the head was caused, it is now believed, by the ice.

Coroner Hall at first thought the woman had been murdered. The story of Drennan and Mrs. Burns does away with this theory and removes all doubt as to how the woman met her death.

No relationship has been established between the woman and the man whose body was also found off Bay Side.

Firemen Saved a Town.

RICHMOND, Vt., March 12.—Brigades from Waterbury and Winooski checked a fire which broke out here and saved the business section of the town after a damage of $25,000 had been done. The fire, which originated in George Green's furniture store and undertaking rooms in a large two story building, destroyed the structure and a dwelling owned by Charles Perry and partially wrecked the Park hotel.

Suicide's Sweetheart Is Dead.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., March 12.—Miss Mary Wyker, the schoolteacher at Erwinna, this county, who was shot by Paul Weaver, is dead from the effects of her injuries. Weaver was Miss Wyker's rejected sweetheart, and after shooting her because she refused to have anything further to do with him he committed suicide. Both were about twenty years old and were well connected.

Made a Prelate by His Holiness.

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., March 12.—Rev. C. G. O'Keefe, rector of the Highland Falls and West Point Roman Catholic parishes, has received a cablegram from Archbishop Farley of New York, now in Rome, informing him that he has been made a domestic prelate by Pope Pius X.

Blaze at Frederick Cost $100,000.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 12.—Fire here has destroyed an entire block of business buildings; loss, $100,000.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 12, 1904.

The Daily Press will donate $25 to the Children's Home, in North Plainfield, if the owner of The North Plainfield Review will prove the statements contained on his editorial page today, concerning the paid fire department ordinance and all other matters in which The Daily Press is concerned, excepting the fact that he is a subscriber to The Daily Press on terms made by himself. The borough weekly is pursuing a policy characterized by malicious falsehood and we do not propose to use space each week in exposing it to the public. We do not ask him to put up one cent in this matter, but we propose to give him an opportunity to prove assertions.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Edgar J. Boice has been drawn as a petit juror for the April term of court.

Public worship and communion at the Baptist church tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock, with sermon by the pastor. Evening service at the usual hour, preaching by the pastor on the subject: "Putting Things in Their Right Relations."

The horse belonging to Gross Brothers, of Fords, who were in town Thursday, became frightened and ran away, and colliding with the wagon belonging to Frank Miller, caused an upset which threw Mr. Miller and William Coulter out, and broke up their wagon considerably. No one was hurt seriously.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. Dr. Schenck, of Trinity church, will preach at Marconnier chapel tomorrow afternoon.

In nearly all of the local churches rehearsals are now being held for the annual Easter celebration.

There will be a special musical programme by the choir at the First Baptist Church, tomorrow night, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, will deliver a short sermon.

The work of Rev. A. E. Finn, as pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, is meeting with good success and considerable interest is being evidenced in the services of the church.

At the last meeting of the Young Men's Brotherhood of Warren chapel the following officers were elected: President, C. F. Bryan; vice president, C. D. Wheeler; secretary, C. F. Windham; treasurer, William Newmiller.

Fred S. Goodman, who as a secretary of the Y. M. C. A. International Committee has special charge of the department of Bible study, will talk on that subject at a special meeting for men in the Y. M. C. A. building tomorrow morning, at 9:30.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, will not be able to deliver his sermon on "Parsifal," at the church tomorrow night, and Rev. George B. Shaw, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, will occupy Mr. Herring's pulpit in the evening.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Edward Overton, of Rockview avenue, has commenced the shorthand course at the Plainfield Business College.

—"The Beers that made Milwaukee famous." Have you ever drank them? I have just received a supply of Schlitz and Pabst Bock Beers. They are delicious and wholesome, and a splendid spring tonic. Also have Beadleston & Woers Bock. All are especially good this season and I strongly recommend them to all who are run down and who complain of loss of appetite. Do not forget to send your orders to Frank Linke, 227 West Front street. 3 12 4 s m w s

John McLaughlin, of the borough, has been confined to the house by illness.

—Frank Hedden, of East Fourth street, purchased a handsome cob at Flemington Thursday.

—The local and Ridgewood Y. M. C. A. orchestras will give a joint concert at Ridgewood, Monday night, under direction of their instructor, Martin A. Korff. Four selections will be given by the two orchestras together and two by the Plainfield orchestra alone. Violin solos will be given by B. A. Paroubek, cornet solos by Whitney Frazee and a trombone solo by C. Kenneth Shupp, of this city.

Great Removal Sale.

You can't afford to miss this money-saving opportunity.

We've put prices down to a notch never before reached.
Here's why:
Just a few days more and we shall move to our new quarters at 214 West Front Street, next door to the 5 and 10 cent store.
We've an enormous stock of goods now on hand, and can't afford to go to the expense and trouble of transferring them to our new location. We'd rather sell them at cost.
And cost in this case means a mighty little figure. Fact is, we bought the entire stock of Hirschman Bros. Co., Binghamton, who were retiring from businesss, at 40 cents on the dollar.
These are the goods we're offering AT COST.

Prices Absolutely Unprecedented.
Plainfield never saw such goods sold so cheap before, and quite likely never will again.
It's surely up to you to call early and take full advantage of these tremendous reductions.
Money talks. Look at these sample figures:
$14.00 Suits now $4.98.
All our stylish, handsome 10.00, 12.00 and 14.00 suits now offered at 4.98.
All 15.00 and 18.00 suits now 9.98.
All 25.00 and 30.00 suits now 14.98.

$3.50 Skirts now $1.25.
All 4.00 skirts now 1.98.
All 5.00 skirts now 2.98.
All 8.00 skirts now 4.50.
These are extremely stylish and well made skirts, for both ladies and misses.
DON'T WAIT.
Strike while the iron is hot. These most remarkable bargains are for a few days only.
Every garment is right up-to-the-minute in cut and finish. Fabrics are blacks, blues and mixtures. Eaton style exclusively.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The annual school meeting of the borough will be held in the Borough Hall on Tuesday evening next at which time the taxpayers will elect four members of the Board of Education and be called upon to vote on the proposition to raise by tax the sum of $3,200 for current expenses, $500 for repairs and $300 for text books; $4,000 in all. Permission will also be asked to borrow $800 to pay a deficiency caused by the employment of another teacher and the heating of Lincoln School.

The other evening John Campbell had an argumen with a hobo near the railroad, during which things began to look very serious for John. But the hobo was soon put to flight by one of John's famous "corkscrew jabs at long range." When last seen the hobo was making record time across country.

Frank Touzeau, one of Dunellen's most popular young men, intends to go to Idaho about the first of April. Mr. Touzeau is vice chief ranger of the local Foresters and a member of the Presbyterian church. His departure will be keenly felt by his large circle of friends.

There will be a school election for four members of the Board of Education, held at the Whittier school building, next Tuesday evening. The polls will be open from 7 to 8 p. m. A number of appropriations will be voted for.

Owing to the icy condition of the sidewalks last night, the middle of the street seemed to be very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. George Trimmer moved into their new house on Walnut street last Wednesday.

C. W. Blaine will represent Dunellen in the Middlesex petit jury during the April term of court.

J. H. L. Peters, Jr., has been confined to the house for the last few days.

Communion will be celebrated in the Holy Innocents' church Sunday.

Robert Roach has moved from Clinton avenue to Main street.

The Foresters will hold its regular meeting Monday night.

Albert Doolittle reports his safe arrival in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. James Touzeau has been very sick for the past week.

Mrs. Lloyd Nelson has the grip.

NEW MARKET.

Several dogs got into C. S. Rogers' chicken-house early this morning and killed about eighteen chickens before they were discovered. Upon hearing them Mr. Rogers went out and tried his markmanship with the result that some one is looking for Fido, in vain. Mr. Rogers is unable to find out who that somebody is, however.

Philip Jenner's New Market "Maid" will be put in to active training at once, for the coming races. She showed up very fast in her work last fall and great things are expected of her this coming season. She is by Alfred G., consequently she is a half sister to the Great Charley Herr, whose record is 2:07.

Edgar J. Boice, George Harris, Harry Piddington and Peter R. Letson have been drawn for the April petit jury.

Miss Nellie Tabb has returned from Montreal, Canada.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Inspector John Miller, of the electric light company, has a great deal of trouble keeping electric light bulbs in the lamps along the line of the trolley. Mr. Miller has his suspicion and some evidence as to where the lights are going and an investigation will probably be held.

Rev. G. M. Shott, of the Baptist church, will preach tomorrow in the Stewart Street Baptist church, of Providence, R. I. Rev. George Shaw, of the Seventh-Day church, of Plainfield, will occupy the local church pulpit at both services.

Mrs. Edward L. Hand, who has been dangerously ill with pneumonia for two weeks, continues to improve slowly. The crisis has been past and unless a relapse occurs her recovery is assured.

Miss Osgood, of the corps of teachers of the public school, who has been quite ill for the past week, is improving and will soon be able to resume her work in the grammar deparment again.

The usual services will be held tomorrow at the Baptist church. Sunday-school, 9:30; morning preaching, 10:45; B. Y. P. U. meeting, 7 p. m.; evening service, 7:45.

The Township Committee meets in the town rooms tonight for the purpose of organizing and swearing in the newly elected township officers.

Mrs. J. K. VanNess, of East Front street, is improving from a severe cold, which at one time threatened pneumonia.

Miss Mamie Gallagher, of Metuchen, has been spending a week with Mrs. William H. Lee, of Front street.

The annual school meeting will be held Tuesday night in the assembly room of the school building.

Judge Clark, who has been confined to the house for a week with illness, is able to be around again.

C. A. Healey and family, of the borough, will remove shortly to New York, their former home.

Dr. Merriam, formerly of this city, but who has been travelling extensively during the past few months, is now visiting friends and acquaintances in town.

TALK OF WASHINGTON

TIMELY COMMENTS FROM THE CAPITOL OF THE NATION.

WORK OF CLEVER WOMAN

Accomplishments of Mrs. Arthur Powell Davis — Monsieur and Madame Jusserand of the French Embassy.

Washington.—One of the cleverest women in Washington is Mrs. Arthur Powell Davis, whose work is known throughout the maritime world. In this short sketch, I can only tell of a few things she has done. For 16 years she has calculated the ephemeris of the sun for nautical almanac published every year by the United States government. Every ship that sails the sea uses the figures this mathematical genius makes, and she has never made an error in them! She secured the position through a most difficult civil service examination, in which graduates of Yale and Harvard and other universities participated. Finally, all left the room defeated by the difficulty of the problems except the fair, young girl who was then Miss Elizabeth Preston Brown, of Virginia. She won the place over all competittors and holds it still by virtue of merit alone. A problem in higher mathematics pleases her as much as a new novel interests most women. She computed the development of the perturbative function, and made other special computations in connection with Prof. Simon Newcomb's "Tables of the Sun" and his tables of the different planets.

She calculated the orbits of several comets, which were published in the Astronomical Journal and Sidereal Messenger.

She visited Europe with Mr. Davis a few years ago and found her reputation was well known abroad. Both were recipients of many courtesies from distinguished scientists and the nobility of Europe. They visited Windsor and Warwick castles by special invitation.

Monsieur Jusserand, ambassador to the United States from France, thinks Americans attach too much importance to their Anglo-Saxon origin and neglect their Celtic ancestry. He is a man of rare accomplishments and is an acquisition to the national capital, both from a literary and social standpoint. He speaks English fluently, having served in a diplomatic capacity at the court of St. James a number of years.

The affairs pertaining to the building of the Panama canal and the press of business the world's fair is giving M. Jusserand more work to do than his predecessor had for some years. France is making a brave show at the exposition. She remembers Napoleon "signed away an empire" when he sold the Louisiana Purchase territory. There will be many Celtic visitors to our shores within the next few months. The American descendants of French settlers, Huguenots, Acadians, refugees from France during the reign of terror and others, who will greet unknown kinsmen at the fair. This influx of well-to-do and frequently distinguished foreigners to our shores will give the diplomats and consuls accredited to our country extra work.

Madame Jusserand is a beautiful woman of the best French type and makes a charming hostess at the legation. Washington has been fortunate in regard to many of the foreign ladies who preside over the homes of the diplomatic corps stationed here. One very popular chatelaine was an American woman, Miss Elverson (the daughter of a wealthy newspaper man of Philadelphia. She married Monsieur Paternotre while he was French minister here and entertained elegantly at her father's splendid villa on the heights of Georgetown. The Paternotres left here for the court of Madrid, where the American wife of the ambassador became at once popular.

Many of the foreign female contingent complain that our capital is dull compared with the gay capitals of the old world, especially on Sundays! Across the water, the fun starts immediately after mass Sunday morning. Theaters and concerts are in full blast during the afternoon and the cafes do a big business. They have special singers and a band of music, psalms and hymns are not on the programme! It was perhaps to pander to the tastes of our foreign distinguished population that the congressional library and Corcoran gallery of art throw open their doors at noon Sunday!

Crowds throng both buildings during the entire afternoon of Sunday and they are not all foreigners by any means! In fact, it is about the only time the government clerks have for enjoying the advantages offered by both institutions and they make the most of it. The librarian of congress had to put an extra force of clerks on Sunday afternoon, and it is sometimes almost impossible to elbow your way through the crowds in the main galleries of the Corcoran art gallery. The theaters, too, are frequently opened here on Sunday evenings for the rendition of an oratorio lecture or sacred concert. In a few years it looks as if the diplomatic corps will cease to complain that Washington is "dull and provincial."

American nurses are going to the seat of war to care for the Japanese sick and wounded. The Japanese minister has received a cable message from his government accepting the offer made by Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, of Washington, D. C., to take to Japan a party of trained nurses who have seen field service in the camps and hospitals of the United States army. No one is eligible to join the party except graduate women nurses who have been in the army.

The first party will sail early in March and proceed to Osaka, Japan, the port on the Inland sea, which is the base to which disabled troops will come when sent home from the battlefield. There they will place themselves under the orders of the military authorities to be sent wherever they are most needed. All may be together or they may be divided into different parties. There is in Japan a large official Red Cross organization which furnishes immense quantities of supplies to the army, and the American nurses will work side by side with the members of that society.

Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, who is at the head of the movement, and will take the first party to the war district, is a native of Washington. She is president of the Society of Spanish War Nurses. She was appointed acting assistant surgeon of the United States army in 1898, and is the only woman who ever held such a position. She was assigned to duty in the surgeon general's office, in charge of the army nurse corps, which she organized. When congress approved this work by making the nurse corps of trained women a permanent part of the army the pioneer stage was passed, and she resigned December 31, 1900, and has been engaged in literary work since until she took up the present project.

Washington the most beautiful city in the world; a Washington that is architecturally in keeping with the standing of the nation among the world powers, is the dream of Franklin Webster Smith, a local architect of note, and a man of sufficient means to make his calling a pleasure rather than a commercial occupation.

He has been figuring on an ideal Washington for several years, and though his plans meet with but slow recognition from congress, he is not discouraged and feels that he can afford to wait for results. He has two schemes on foot which, if he is able to work out, will make Washington the most beautiful capital on the globe. He has already spent at least $100,000 in bringing these plans to perfection. Congress has already appropriated money to buy land on which to build a hall of records, in which the official documents of the governments are to be kept. Mr. Smith has invented a fireproof concrete, out of which he has modeled a hall of records somewhat after the style of the tabularium of Julius Caesar at Rome.

The other plan is the outgrowth of the halls of the ancients erected in this city by Mr. Smith and another public-spirited citizen. It is to erect on the old naval observatory site a reproduction of the most famous temples of antiquity, beginning with the Partheron. The group will show Assyrian, Egyptian, Moorish and all the distinctive styles of ancient and modern architecture. It will be an important educational factor in the growth of the nation's capital and if Mr. Smith's plan, which has received the endorsement of Senator Hoar and other leading senators, is carried out the travelers of the old world will come here to see a most beautiful sight.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

PLAIN AND ELABORATE.

Spring Neck Pieces—Chiffon Velvet. Rough Weave Tailor Mades.

The ordinary chiffon ruffle is a thing of the past, but flat cape effects of lace and of feathers will take its place. In many cases muffs of the same dainty materials will accompany these stoles. Artificial flowers are used sparingly, and decorations of harmonious embroideries and dyed laces seem to be taking their place.

GREEN CHIFFON HAT.

Chiffon velvet gowns will be worn for another month and a half at least, and dresses of this beautiful material will by no means be discarded even during the summer months. It is indeed almost as light as silk.

Rough textures of light weight are favored for street wear. They are trimmed by smooth flat strappings in the way of contrast. Sometimes a narrow collar band and cuffs of vivid, contrasting velvet add a smart and becoming touch to an otherwise dull costume.

For street wear fashion dictates that the hat, the gloves and the waist must be on or of the same shade.

Wide belts are a feature of smart tailor made suits as well as gowns. They are enriched with handsome buckles and little tabs of embroidery. In fact, the belt is one of the most important parts of the costume.

All the new coats have very roomy sleeves to allow for the extra fullness in dress sleeves.

The illustration shows a hat designed to be worn with a green foulard gown. It is of tucked green chiffon trimmed with a rosette of darker green velvet and a spray of white roses.

THE WORLD OF FASHION.

Up to Date Styles Worn by Up to Date People.

Pink is very fashionable just now, particularly the soft shades that come in foulards and veiling. It is combined with touches of black or deep bronze, and with it are worn pretty rose trimmed hats which fit closely to the hair.

The wide belt is the most important feature of the up to date gown.

Jet is being used more and more as a trimming. It is particularly used on dressy white gowns.

Entire toques of white tucked tulle or chiffon are trimmed with sprays of gold or silver flowers, from which springs a silver cockade.

One of the smartest hats seen recently was a French sailor hat of heavy white lace, having a wide velvet band around the brim and a cluster of white roses, with a fall of black chantilly lace as trimming.

Sleeves remain flat on the shoulders but are rapidly becoming fuller otherwise.

The ruche still holds its own as the popular trimming.

The short blouse coats which are designed for warmer weather are very dainty. They have of course the wide flaring cuffs filled in with ruffles of lace or embroidered frilling. Then many of them have a deep yoke effect cut into fanciful points. Elaborately stitched into this yoke is fulled the blouse portion.

The picture shows a dress of velvet goods trimmed with bands of lace and ruching. The belt is of dark velvet.

NEW YORK'S SOCIETY

FINDS DIVERSION IN RENDEZVOUSING AT THE BATTERY.

CORBIN STIRS SMART SET

Mrs. Mackay as a Novelist—Wealthy Japs Show Loyalty to Home Land —Hammond's Gift to Yale— Other New York Gossip.

New York.—For the moment society people of New York find it not odd to rendezvous at the Battery, where belles and beaux of the old Dutch regime displayed their graces and paid their court.

On the Battery.

The Battery is the landing place for the government military post on Governor's island, where Maj. Gen. Corbin is now installed in command of the division of the Atlantic.

Gen. Corbin is the first commanding officer Governor's island has had in a long time who has made any social stir in the city. His marriage two years ago to a Miss Patten, of Philadelphia, who, to considerable wealth unites high social standing in that city, explains the change.

Gen. Corbin is a man of mountainous physique, huge and commanding in stature, ready of wit and abounding in business ability. His war record has not greatly endeared him to the old soldiers of the fighting type about Washington, and he came at times perilously near snubbing in exclusive military circles in the capital. But anyone who imagines that without much of a military record a man can rise to be major general in the army without ability makes a great mistake. Corbin has made himself invaluable to successive commanders because of his executive ability. He is keen and coldly intellectual, never shrinks from making enemies when necessary, and knows how to obey orders. The department of which he is the head stretches from Maine to Porto Rico and includes many smaller posts.

For years New York enjoyed the rather odd social factor of a Col. Hamilton, a member of the famous family of Alexander Hamilton, in command of Fort Hamilton, named after his illustrious kinsman. Col. Hamilton is now retired.

Mrs. Duer-Mackay's Book.

If it were not for their women, some of our ultra rich young men would be heard of more seldom than they are. Mrs. Katherine Duer Mackay has just published a novel which braves criticism as if its author were not the owner of the finest country house in America and the wife of a many times millionaire.

The "Divine Frenzy."

Mrs. Mackay is no novice in letters. With her sister, some years ago, before her marriage, she published a book of poems, some of which were grave and of fine quality, but none of which more strongly appealed to the Long Island "smart set" than the lines about "I went to Long Island City—Oh, smell! Oh—!" The tracks of the Long Island railroad from that point run past fertilizer works, dye houses and other odorous things. Which explains. Mrs. Mackay's aunt, Elizabeth, has written several articles for Harper's Magazine of late, and she herself published last year in the North American Review a long poem which has been translated into German for theatrical presentation. Her new novel, "The Stone of Destiny," a rather daring allegory, in which the world-old contest between man's work and woman's love is presented.

Mrs. Mackay is an extremely clever writer, though she does not as yet rival Mrs. Van Renssalaer Cruger, who from the inner circle of the smartest set of New York and from the vantage point of her old Dutch aristocratic lineage, has poured out some passionate outgivings in story form to which the name of "Julien Gordon" has been appended. Mrs. Burton Harrison is another society woman well known by her rather slight stories, but as a rule New York society women are less likely than those of London to shine in the literary world.

The Japs in New York.

Remarkable is the contrast between the Chinese and Japanese residents of New York.

"Jap" and "Chink."

There are ten of the former for one of the latter, but the Japanese, few as they are, count easily for ten times as much in the financial life of the city.

There are wealthy Chinese merchants and restaurateurs in New York, plenty of them, but the typical Chinaman is still the familiar "laundry" man with his homely face and his small needs. The 1,600 or more Japanese in the city sustain a high average of personal ability and financial solidity. Some small portion of the number are engaged as domestic servants, chiefly by persons who have traveled in the far east; some students are working their way through college by doing housework. But by far the larger number are either experts in oriental good employed by the big department stores, or are themselves merchants upon a substantial scale. In either case they are educated men, speak English almost without an accent, and dress as other prosperous merchants do. Excepting in the consular office, I do not know a Chinaman in New York who speaks English as well as any one of 500 Japanese do.

The exploit of the New York Japanese in raising money for the cause of Nippon against Muscovy has rather astonished some old New Yorkers who haven't kept pace with new developments. The personal character of the Japanese here has not a little to do with the great favor in which their cause is held by most New Yorkers. But I do not suppose most of our people even yet appreciate to how great an extent these Japanese act as volunteer political agents of their home land. There is no country which is more devotedly served by its citizens abroad with valuable information than is Japan. It is the policy of the government to encourage its people to scatter widely upon business bent, and its students to seek education in different lands. It is recalled, for instance, that Admiral Uriu, who won the first victory of the war, is a graduate of our naval academy at Annapolis, his Japanese wife a graduate of Vassar.

Hammond's Thank Offering.

An echo of another dramatic war is furnished in John Hays Hammond's gift of $100,000 to Yale college.

When Yale Won.

No one can have forgotten that Mr. Hammond is the distinguished mining engineer who stands at the head of his profession in South Africa. It may be forgotten by some, however, that Mr. Hammond was once a prisoner under death sentence. He was taken by the Boers under suspicion of complicity with other "outlanders" in the ill-fated raid of Dr. "Willie" Jameson, Lord Willoughby and other hair-brained young men, and was shut up in Johannesburg prison.

The American government got busy to save Mr. Hammond's life. In the end, as we all know, no one of the prisoners was executed, but for a time their prospect was decidedly stormy. It was at this time that Mr. Hammond made what would have been called 300 years ago a "vow" that if he ever got out of that scrape alive he would make a thank-offering to Yale college. And he did not, as some have done in like cases, forget all about it, though he has required some years to complete the gift.

Mr. Hammond was a very close friend of the son of Secretary Hay, who went for a brief period as United States consul general to the Boer republic, and who was afterward killed by a regrettable accident at Yale.

Why do they say that American men never marry English women? An exception is the case of the handsome and gallant Gen. Thomas L. James, brave soldier in the war and postmaster general under President Garfield, who has just wedded a beautiful English girl of less than half his years. Gen. James is the president of the Lincoln national bank of this city. The bride is a daughter of an alderman of Stratford-on-Avon, who is also proprietor of the famous Red Horse hotel at Stratford, where Shakespeare in his day often caroused with other wild young blades, and where Washintgon Irving and other Americans of fame have from the beginning of all travel "put up."

The New Style—Walking.

Yes, it is a fact that walking is fashionable. It is perhaps an accident of the most extraordinary winter that society has spent in some years.

And Now They Walk.

The trouble began in Steel Common, Asphalt and a lot of other things of more or less value, in backing which society fortunes were hard "hit." One result of this was that people have stayed in New York all winter who haven't done such a thing before in a dozen years. The season has been perfect, albeit cold, with an unusual profusion of clear, rainless days. Within the past three weeks the spectacle has been seen of the most often advertised society leaders walking briskly about town as to leave no doubt that this form of exercise has suddenly become the mode. It does not take long for such news to travel and for hundreds to follow suit.

Cruel and unsympathetic men assert that the vogue of walking is due to nothing in the world but a desire to keep down the ever-encroaching fat. This greatest enemy of beauty is more than ever apparent among New York women since they gave up golf, tennis and other active pursuits for automobiling, which stimulates the appetite without giving the muscles any work.

These things are something to make us thankful for the cold winter. Most of all, it is fortunate that it did not come a year earlier, upon the heels of the great coal strike.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Milder Weather Has Brought More Activity In Business.

NEW YORK, March 12.—R. G. Dun's weekly review of trade says:

More seasonable weather has brought increased activity in business, normal conditions existing for the first time this year at many points, and there is evidence of an effort to recover lost ground and prepare for a large spring trade. Collections are also improving, and structural operations revive with the higher temperature, stimulating the markets for building materials and increasing real estate transfers. There has been great damage from floods, although the severe winter had caused unusual preparation for troubles of this nature.

Manufacturing returns are favorable as to steel and footwear, but textile mills are not active, and a further curtailment of cotton spinning is probable. Settlement of several important labor controversies has been accompanied by new strikes, and soft coal miners have not yet reached an agreement with the operators.

Stock market inertia is chiefly responsible for the decrease of 37.3 per cent in bank exchanges at New York, while at other leading cities there was a loss of 6.1 per cent.

Last week's tendency of the leading staples has been accelerated, resulting in some wide fluctuations in quotations. Cotton continued to advance with scarcely any interruption, the leading interest dominating the market and receiving more support from individual traders than at any previous time this season.

Grain continued to react from best prices, wheat leading the early movement, but corn subsequently developing the wildest fluctuations downward. Uncertainty regarding the new crop of winter wheat helped to sustain the market, but nothing definite can be known for some time regarding the size of the next yield.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for March amounted to $2,542,400, of which $1,059,077 were in manufacturing, $954,866 in trading and $528,457 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 259 in the United States against 239 last year, and 25 in Canada compared with 22 a year ago.

DEWEY DID NOT LAND.

Dominicans Disappointed Not to See the Hero of Manila.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 12.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Mayflower, with Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Taylor, and Assistant Secretary of State Loomis on board, called at Santo Domingo on their return trip here.

United States Minister Powell went on board the Mayflower to pay his respects to Admiral Dewey and his party and had arranged for a meeting between the visiting Americans and President Morales and his cabinet. For some unknown reason the officers from the Mayflower did not land. Preparations had been made and troops had been brought together to give Admiral Dewey a befitting reception, and there was great disappointment in government circles and among the people when it was learned that there would be no official visit.

Insurgents have attacked Pajarito, a suburb of Santo Domingo. In the engagement that followed several men were killed or wounded, and the government troops finally obliged the insurgents to withdraw. The government captured several guns, a number of horses, some prisoners and 4,000 rounds of ammunition.

It is said that the troops of President Morales are being defeated all over the republic. Porto Plata is again in the possession of General Jiminez, and it is expected that the capital, Santo Domingo, will surrender soon.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Orange Field Club will meet to discuss plans for the baseball season Monday night at 305 East Front street. The meeting will be important and a full attendance of members is desired.

The Alis Club will not be able to entertain the members of its baseball team tonight. Owing to unforeseen circumstances all of the members cannot come to town at this time and the entertainment has been abandoned.

Minnihan, the well-known baseball pitcher from Orange, who is being given a trial by Manager McGraw, of the New York Nationals, pitched a portion of a game at Savannah on Thursday and showed up well. It is believed that he will "make good."

The Sherman A. C. boseball team of Harrison, N. J., is desirous of playing any team, whose members average 19 years, in or around Plainfield, where a suitable guarantee is offered. All games to be played on the opponents grounds. Address O. Eisfeld, 13 Paterson street, Harrison, N. J.

BASKET BALL.

The Leal's-High School basket ball game yesterday closed the season for the two teams with the possible exception of games with teams from the intermediate and business men's departments of the Y. M. C. A.

The line-up of the local Y. M. C. A. basket ball five in its game here Monday night with the Orange Y. M. C. A. will be made up from the following: Smith, Denton and Hand, forwards; Soult or Cahoone, centre; Neal and Heinecke, guards.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—James C. Foster has removed from Grove street to 10 Howard street.

—Miss Marion Porter, of this city, has taken a position in New York.

—A party of borough young people attended a dance in New Providence last night.

—Patrolman Messler has returned to his duties after having been laid off for a few days on account of illness.

—There will be a regular meeting of the Retail Clerks' Mutual Aid Association on Monday night, at which time several new members will be received.

—Griffith Jenkins has resigned his position at Hill & Shupp's store and will return to his former home in Plymouth, Pa., where he will take a position.

—"Truell Inn," is the name given to the Park Avenue Hotel by the new owner, Mrs. J. R. Truell, and a large sign bearing the new name is now seen on the front of the building.

—Miss Miriam Wilcox is now assistant cashier at Woodhull & Martin's store, taking the place vacated by Miss Thompson, who was married Thursday night to Armstrong Mulford.

—Under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the Park Club music will be furnished for dancing at the clubhouse tonight. These dances have become popular and the attendance is always large.

—A horse owned and driven by J. A. Blatz, of Somerset street, fell this noon on Park avenue and was slightly injured. Patrolman Higgins helped to untangle the animal which had thrown its hind leg over the crossbar.

—Luther Anthony, son-in-law of Mrs. Manning, of Grant avenue, who is well-known in this city, has just purchased the store of the late Senator Moore, at Kingston. He formerly resided at Lamington, an adjoining town.

—The goods and chattels of the old MacMurray homestead, near Glenside Park, will be sold at auction by Hezekiah Hand, Wednesday, March 30. The homestead was originally occupied by the father of City Clerk MacMurray.

—The success attained by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company in this city is a source of gratification to that company. There are today 1,100 telephones in operation in town and the prospects for an increasing number are excellent.

Suburban Bowlers Won.

By two games out of three, the Suburban A. C. bowling team defeated the Wednesday Nigh Club, of Westfield, on the Suburban's alleys in Fanwood last night. Westfield won the first game, 698-626, but the local men took the other two games by big margins: 700-608 and 769-698. Arrangements are being made for a return game in Westfield.

Warden Dodd at Funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dodd, of Elizabeth, were present today at the funeral services for Mrs. Patrick Lynch, of West Second street. Mr. Dodd was Plainefild's chief of police when Mr. Lynch was a patrolman and the two were closely associated. Mr. Dodd is now warden of the county jail at Elizabeth.

Sweeney Goes to Japan.

William R. Sweeney, recently back from Japan on the Standard Oil ship "Juteopolis," expects to sail again Monday on a return trip to Japan. He will again act as purser.

The condition of Mrs. Dan Roberts, who is ill with pneumonia, is precarious today.

Dr. J. T. Fritts, of Park avenue, was the guest of friends in Whitehouse Thursday.

Councilman Lee's Statement.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Feeling that you have failed, through the columns of your paper, to correctly report that part of the proceedings of the Common Council on Monday evening last, the 7th inst., relating to the two petitions asking for a reconsideration of our action in refusing licenses to Edward P. Turner and John Goff, I wish to make a few statements that are more in the nature of the truth as to what actually took place at that meeting.

In your head lines is the following statement:

"Councilman Tyler Fought Councilman Lee's Scheme."

If there was any scheme in my efforts to represent (not misrepresent), the people who elected me to the office of a member of the Common Council from the Fourth ward, then I plead guilty.

When the matter of the applications of John Goff and Edward P. Turner first came up, and the first one referred to was opposed by a large number of petitioners, I, knowing that it was my duty to those who elected me to represent them, gave due consideration to their petitions, not for five minutes, but about five hours time, and so voted against the application, both as a member of the license committee and when it came upon the floor of the Council. As to the first petition of Edward P. Turner, it is on record that I made the motion to grant this license, and after getting certain information I withdrew the motion and made one that the license be not granted, and this is a matter of record also. I made no promises, either for or against any license application, and therefore was free at any time to vote as would seem best. Consequently your insinuations, as published on February 26th in your paper, were not true.

When a petition is presented to the Common Council from the residents of my ward, were it only for the placing of an additional fire hydrant or the laying of a cross-walk which would be of benefit to a certain locality, I know what my duty is with respect to such petition. If I did not, I am pretty certain in saying that some one else would represent the ward in my place. A petition from my constituents is considered by me to be worthy of the greatest efforts I can put forth to see that it gets consideration, and I will not stand by unheard and see any such petition tabled, pigeonholed or killed in any committee, no matter what the personal views of myself or other members might be. I am not there to represent myself or a minority, but a majority at all times.

There was not the slightest intention or desire on my part to take any unfair advantage of any one, nor did I say that I intended to vote for or against either of the applications for licenses, even if the motion for a recess was carried. My course all through the debate was to see that justice was given, and my remarks were in a gentlemanly strain, and contained no insinuations against the integrity of any member of the Common Council. This cannot be said of some of the remarks made at that meeting.

Was there anything hidden or unseen in my answer to the question, "Was the recess asked for the purpose of considering the license matter?" No! That answer was yes, open and above board. I stated in addition, that the reason why I wanted the recess was to give due consideration to the petitions of the large number of citizens of the Fourth ward, the ward which I have the honor to represent.

The statement was made by one member that as Mr. Murphy was not present it looked as though those favoring the applications were going to take advantage of his absence. This was immediately resented by me as not being the fact. The matter of giving or refusing a license to either of the applicants was not considered until the recess, therefore those remarks were unnecessary, entirely uncalled for and beggared the question. I failed to see at the time, and it was afterwards shown, what the difference the absence of Mr. Murphy would make. Therefore these accusations were false.

Your closing paragraph puts the lie to your head lines. One of my aims is to be consistent, but if I make a mistake, and am convinced, I will acknowledge it. There was, however, no mistake made by me at that meeting in standing back of a petition signed by a very large number of the residents of my ward, in order that it should receive due consideration.

My duty to that petition was ended upon the motion to take a recess having been carried and the matter brought up in the committee room. Then it became my duty to see if a majority of my constituents would be served by granting these two licenses, and my vote shows where I stood on that question, and is a matter of record which can be seen by any one.

When you publish the proceedings of the Common Council, please give more consideration to the facts and less to your own views, as they are the acts of eleven representatives of the citizens elected to administer the affairs of the city, and we are not there for the purpose of making news for private gain.

Respectfully,
Robert L. Lee.

New Brunswick Boys Here.

The New Brunswick boys' Y. M. C. A. department was represented by two basket ball teams here this morning. In a game between teams of the older boys of the departments Plainfield was victorious, 11 to 8. The younger Brunswick boys won out 19 to 8. Bowling was also a feature. Lunch was served at noon, the Brunswick boys as guests.

—Mrs. Charles Emmons, of the borough, who recently underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital, is now convalescing. Her condition at one time was critical.

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America, meets tonight. Important business will be transacted.

A special session of the State Camp of P. O. S. of A. has been called for Thursday night, April 7, at Trenton, to consider an important change in the mortuary payment fund, with which the subordinate camps are connected. The delegates who attended the last annual session at Somerville, in August, are entitled to attend the special session to be held next month.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, became a member of the New Jersey Hospital Bed Fund Association Thursday night. The fund is provided to care for all members requiring hospital treatment whether at home or in another State. The officers of the association were present to explain the aims of the fund. They were President Irving, Secretary Van Zandt, of Jersey City, Treasurer Knowlton, of Hoboken, and Chairman Farrell, of the executive board, of Passaic. Three members were initiated into the council and three propositions for membership were received.

—Car. No. 950, of the Elizabeth line, was put out of business for a time on East Front street, yesterday afternoon, by the fusing of a wire beneath the flooring. It burned out with a vivid flash that frightened several passersby and attracted a small crowd, but no harm was done. Inspector Maguire was on the car and put the crew to work repairing it at once, and the line was cleared before a blockade started.

—Gilbert Murray, of West Fourth street, will leave Hedden's stables to go into business as a junk dealer April 1.

—Papers are returnable Monday in the case on contract of Frank against Boss in Justice Smalley's court, in the borough.

THE LADIES favor painting their churches, and therefore we urge every Minister to remember we give a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez Paint toward the painting.

Wears and covers like gold.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a paint label on it.

8 and 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M., and mix 6 gallons pure Linseed Oil with it, and thus get paint at less than $1.20 per gallon.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

PASSING OF BOROUGH FIRE COMPANIES

North Plainfield Volunteer Firemen Had Long and Creditable History.

BEGINNING MADE IN 1869

STORY OF COMPANY'S APPARATUS AND ITS RELATION TO SUIT OVER TAXES.

The Department Has Several Times Given Valuable Assistance to Plainfield's Fire Fighters—Its Last Appearance at Saengerbund Fire.

In the passing of the North Plainfield volunteer firemen, the veteran firefighters on this side of the brook virtually see the last of their old system. North Plainfield's volunteers were at one time a part of the city organization, and the borough system was the direct outgrowth of the volunteer department on this side.

It was in 1869 that the actual beginning of what is now the North Plainfield department was made. At that time Gazelle Engine Company bought a steamer, and discarded its hand engine. John Cass, who has since died, and several other boroughites conceived the idea of organizing a North Plainfield company, and, not long after, Warren Engine Company No. 3 was formed, with the old hand engine, which dated from 1853, as its apparatus. At the same time the house on Somerset street was built.

The companies on both sides of the brook were incorporated as the Fire Department of Plainfield and North Plainfield, with a joint board of fire commissioners as the direct governing body. North Plainfield was supposed to pay one-sixth of the taxes levied for the maintenance of the department. The companies covered certain fire districts, which did not include the whole of either municipality.

Outgrowing the old hand machine, the borough company, sometime about 1876, decided on the purchase of a steamer. In 1879 T. O. Doane, now chief of the city department, heard of an Amoskeag engine that the city of Hartford desired to sell, and reported the fact to Warren Engine Company. He, George and J. H. Carney were appointed a committee to inspect the machine and the trio accordingly went to Hartford. It was just what the company wanted, and the steamer was purchased and installed in place of the old Gazelle engine. This steamer, which was built for Hartford in 1862, is the one in the possession of the company today.

In 1888 the question of the Commissioners' right to levy taxes for the department was raised, and in a test case the Supreme Court decided that while the department itself was legal enough, the Board had no authority for taxation. While the matter was in the courts the city had paid all the bills, and when the decision was rendered Plainfield took over the entire department. Warren's possessions went with the rest, because the borough was in debt to the city for unpaid taxes.

The next year the borough firemen decided to form a department of their own, and after negotiations with the city North Plainfield purchased the Somerset street house, the Amoskeag engine and a hose cart, and formed its organization. Warren No. 3 was reorganized as the whole department under the name of Warren Engine Company No. 1.

H. J. Martin was the first chief of the department. He was followed by George Fairchild, David Bodine, William Debele and J. J. Stahl. The latter is the present chief, with Herman Klinsman, of the West End Hose Company, as assistant chief.

With the growth of the borough the need of another company was felt, and in 1896 the West End Hose Company was organized in the western section of the town, with headquarters on Harrison avenue. For a short time the company used Warren's old hose cart, but in the fall of 1901 it had a handsome two-horse cart built at W. J. Conroy's shop in the borough.

Charles Keller was West End's first foreman.

Its record and work has given North Plainfield's department the reputation of being one of the best of its kind in this section of the country. While the borough has been fortunate in escaping any very serious fires, the department has done valiant and effective service in the biggest blazes on this side of the brook. Warren helped the city men to subdue the Cook lumber yard fire, the fierce

MISSION WORK IN PHILIPPINES

REV. JOHN W. WOODS TELLS OF WHAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED.

Rev. John W. Woods, corresponding secretary of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal church, preached on mission work at Grace P. E. church yesterday morning with special reference to the work in the Philippines. He spoke of Manila as the centre of the work which he said lies among two classes of people. One class consists of the American population with which the missions often take the place of absent home associations. The natives and Chinese compose another class. Special mention was made of advances in hospitals and clinics and in the institution of settlements. In the various islands of the group the work lies chiefly among the natives. The Right Rev. Charles H. Brent has the field in charge for the Protestant Episcopal church.

PROPOSED SITE WAS SANITARY

ARGUMENT THAT ASHES MADE LOT UNHEALTHY ANSWERED BY MR. DOANE.

After the heavy vote against it, there is very little likelihood that the suggested lot on Grove street will be considered as a site for the proposed new school in the borough, but an expert's opinion on the criticism of its sanitary features, which formed so prominent a part of the argument against it, is of interest to the boroughites. Such an opinion was given by Building Inspector Doane, in answer to a request by a reporter for The Daily Press, who wanted to find out if the lot is really as unwholesome and undesirable as its opponents claim.

One of the chief criticisms of the lot is that it is filled in with ashes.

According to Inspector Doane this is a virtue, and a high one. "The cellars of buildings built over ash-filled lots are the driest it is possible to find," he said. "Ash is the most sanitary substance of its character; Mother Earth is the standard deodorizer and absorbent, but ash is even better."

Inspector Doane cited the Perrin glove factory on Washington avenue as an example. This building is built over ashes and it is said to have the driest cellar in the city, despite the fact that it is built squarely alongside the brook.

Inspector Doane admitted the force of one argument against the lot, that the foundation would have to be laid very deeply. If the building were put on the lot, the foundation would not be safe unless driven right through to the ground.

LISTENED TO FORMER PASTOR.

The Members of Hope Chapel Gave Cordial Greeting to Mr. Newell.

Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, who left the pastorate of Hope chapel three years ago, filled his old pulpit yesterday at both services in the West End church. Rev. L. B. Howard, of Hope, occupied Mr. Newell's pulpit in Brooklyn.

Mr. Newell was warmly greeted by his old parishioners. At both services there were large congregations, the members of his former flock making a special effort to meet him again in the little chapel.

The clergyman held a reception after each service.

In the afternoon Mr. Newell addressed the Sunday-school. He told of some of the differences in the work of the school at his present charge and that of Hope chapel, and contrasted the combinations under which they labor.

Thanked for Good Service.

Superintendent James R. Joy, of the First M. E. church Sunday-school, at yesterday's session, took occasion to make a few remarks concerning the resignation of James A. Stafford, after a faithful service of ten years as secretary of the school. Mr. Joy referred to Mr. Stafford's efficient service and the fact that he had always been prompt in the performance of duty. He also expressed the regret of all in his departure. Mr. Stafford responded briefly, thanking Mr. Joy and everyone for the kindness and courtesies shown during his term and expressing regrets upon being obliged to sever so many pleasant relations.

Anybody Found a Watch?

Miss Pauline Denton, of Washington avenue, suffered the loss of a valuable gold watch and bracelet yesterday afternoon, while walking from Prescott place to her home. The watch bore the initials "E. D. B.," and the bracelet the name "Emma D. Brown."

PROGRESS AMONG HOME MISSIONS

Rev. Dr. Clark Told About It Yesterday at Trinity Reformed Church.

MADE FOUR ADDRESSES

LIKENED CHARACTER BUILDING TO A NEW YORK SKYSCRAPER.

Solid and Deep Foundations Necessary—Mission Work in the West Described—Dr. Clark is Field Secretary of Reformed Church.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Clark, field secretary of the Reformed Church of America, had a busy day yesterday in this city, where at various services he enlisted the interest of those who heard him in the cause of home mission work.

In the morning he occupied the pulpit at Trinity Reformed church. He explained the work of the home mission department of the church and in an interesting manner told of its progress, giving a clear idea of how and where the money contributed for this work is expended. He spoke especially of what has been achieved in Michigan, Dakota and Oklahoma, and also mentioned other States, including New Jersey. His text of the morning "The harvest is white, but the laborers are few," was appropriate and his earnest words held the close attention of all, and will no doubt, stimulate all to contribute more to this work.

In the evening Dr. Clark spoke on character building, comparing it in a unique way to the erection of the large buildings in New York referring to the solid foundations necessary, as well as the other important details. A matter of interest was the facts related by the speaker relative to the height of the large buildings, depth of foundations and other data.

In the afternoon at the Sunday-school session, Dr. Clark gave a brief talk of the mission work in the West, relating many incidents concerning both church and Sunday-school work. He also referred to the perseverance of the people in accomplishing Christian work. An hour previous to the evening service at Trinity Reformed church, Dr. Clark spoke at the German Reformed church in Craig place, where he also referred to the work being carried on by his department in the home mission field. At each one of these services the greatest interest was manifested over the wealth of facts given by the speaker. Next Sunday a collection will be received at Trinity Reformed church for this work.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

The Mt. Zion A. M. E. is Celebrating by Holding Meetings Every Night This Week.

The Mt. Zion A. M. E. church is making special observance this week of its eleventh anniversary. Rev. John H. Bean occupied the pulpit yesterday in the morning and E. B. Maynard at the evening service. A meeting will be held every night this week with the exception of Saturday. Mr. Bean will lecture tonight. A prayer and praise service will be held tomorrow, and Wednesday a programme of recitations and music by a mandolin club will be a feature. Thursday night, there will be a reception by the Helping Hand Society of which Mrs. E. B. Maynard is president. The choir of Mt. Olive church will assist. On Friday there will be a reunion of officers, stewards and trustees of the church. The stewards are Edwin B. Maynard, H. T. Everett and Major Selby; the trustees, William H. Grobe, Alfred White, Wesley Lane and E. B. Maynard; and the stewardesses, Mrs. Henrietta Grobe, president, Mrs. L. Brown, Mrs. Sarah Marsh, Mrs. Lucy J. Henry, Mrs. Alletta Maynard and Mrs. Sarah Wood.

No Verbal Rural Delivery.

According to the latest order, rural mail carriers are prohibited from carrying verbal messages on their routes. The proper method of communication is to write a letter or a postal to be delivered by the carrier. The government desires all the revenue possible from this service and expects those who are benefitted by it to pay for it.

—Announcement is made by M. M. Gassner of the spring opening of pattern hats and bonnets at 308 West Front street, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday. The display will include the very latest designs in headgear and will surely please all women.

BOROUGH FIREMEN DISBAND TOMORROW

The Last Formal Roll-Call for Both Companies Will be Read at Midnight.

A JOINT CELEBRATION

WARREN HAS COMPLETED PLANS FOR ORGANIZING AS SOCIAL CLUB.

The Old Democratic Headquarters Rented—Interest in New Department—Campbell Slated for Captaincy and Woolston for Chief.

When the clock strikes twelve tomorrow night the borough volunteer fire department will pass out of existence. To mark the occasion the two companies, Warren and West End, will hold a joint celebration at Graceley's Hotel, on Somerset street.

A feature of the disbandment will be the formal roll call of each company, which will be read at midnight. Every member of the department who can possibly be present will attend to be mustered solemnly out of service.

Immediately after the call the men will adjourn to the hotel, Warren marching afoot and West End coming down in its wagon. The celebration will be informal in nature.

Warren has completed plans for the organization of a social club among its members. The old Democratic headquarters in the Heyniger building, on Somerset street, has been rented, and at 10 o'clock the company will move its possessions there. The place is to be fitted up as a cozy club room.

All the firemen are intensely interested in the make-up of the new department, and particularly in the appointment to the chiefship and captaincy. Practically the entire department will attend the Council meeting tonight to see the questions settled.

It is an understood thing that Chief Marshal Campbell will be made the captain, and Howard Woolston is said to have been selected by the Republican caucus Saturday night for chief.

DAMAGE BY A RUNAWAY

A BAKER'S HORSE SPILLED CAKE AND ROLLS AFTER COLLIDING WITH WAGON.

One of Herman Klinsman's horses attached to a baker's wagon made a wild run from Dunellen to this city this morning, causing damage to the wagon and spilling rolls, cake and bread in all directions. The runaway crashed into Gus. Mobus's horse and wagon at a point on West Front street near the First Baptist church, throwing Mobus's horse to the ground and demolishing the wagon. Klinsman's animal, scratched and bruised, was finally stopped at the corner of Watchung avenue by William Ayers.

Old Offender Rearrested.

Fred Willabald, at one time a well-known character in this city, and who was released last Wednesday after serving a three months' sentence in the county jail on a charge of highway robbery, was arrested Saturday night on a similar charge and re-committed to jail. This time he is accused of having held up a woman at Cranford and taking $20 from her.

Swackhamer After Dinner Speaker.

Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer has received an invitation to deliver an after dinner speech at the banquet of school superintendents and school boards to be held after the convention in Somerville on March 26. Mr. Swackhamer has not yet chosen his subject.

Filed Answers in Goodwin Case.

Recorder Doud, of the borough, filed his answers to the questions put him by S. S. Swackhamer, counsel for John Goodwin, in the Supreme Court at Trenton today. Proceedings in the certiorari matter will be continued by argument on brief.

The freshman baseball team at Fordham College has scheduled a game with the Plainfield Athletic Association for May 11 in this city.

Considerable satisfaction is expressed over the arrangement between the baseball management of the Alis Club and Manager Denman, of Westfield, in that the first game between these two teams is to be played on Crescent Oval. Although an earlier time for the game than July 4 would have been preferred, still the date is looked upon as a good one. The game will be in the morning and should attract a great crowd. Both teams will be in fine condition by that time.

POISONED CAKE SENT TO CRUDUP FAMILY

Sister and Daughter of Pastor Taken Ill Under Suspicious Circumstances.

ALLEGED PERSECUTION

COLORED MINISTER THINKS AN ENEMY IS TRYING TO INJURE HIM.

Alleged That Rough-on-Rats or Other Poison Was Sent in Frosted Cake for Colored Man—Crudup Accused of Criminal Conduct.

Poisoned cake nearly caused the death of the entire family of Rev Essex J. Crudup, the colored Baptist minister, last week. The cake was sent to the house by an unknown colored man, and Rev. Mr. Crudup makes sensational charges of a plot against him.

It was on Thursday afternoon that the cake, a cocoanut affair with a frosted top, was delivered at the house by a storekeeper nearby. The shopkeeper said later that it had been left at the store by a colored man with the request that it be sent to the Crudup house.

Shortly after the cake was received Mr. Crudup's sister and his six-year-old daughter ate some of the frosting. A few minutes later they were taken violently ill, and grew rapidly worse. A little before 8 o'clock Dr. A. W. Love was called in, and he immediately suspected poison from the symptoms After an examination of the cake he declared that the frosting was impregnated with rough-on-rats or some similar poison.

Both the woman and the child were greatly weakened, and in order to save their lives Dr. Love was compelled to clean out their stomachs and administer strong stimulants. The child was better the next morning, but the woman is still ill from the effects of the dose.

Judging from the effects produced by the little frosting eaten, Dr. Love declared that in his opinion the whole family would have died had the entire cake been eaten by them.

Word of the occurrence was carried to the police on Friday, and the department took charge of the cake. This afternoon the case will be laid before the county prosecutor, and careful analysis of the cake will be made.

Crudup, who was recently arrested upon two charges of misconduct, declares the alleged attempt at poisoning is part of a plot to drive him from town or kill him. The criminal charges he has all along insisted were concocted by enemies.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

Mr. McMurray Told of Victory Over Saloons and Encouraged W.C.T.U.

Recounting the incidents in connection with the recent victory for the cause of temperance in this city, Rev. John McMurray, of the Monroe Avenue church, gave a most encouraging talk at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union rooms, yesterday afternoon. He urged the members and their friends to press forward their work, adding that they would soon accomplish much in the abolition of saloons. There was a large attendance at the meeting and the speaker's address resulted in increased interest and enthusiasm. At the close of the meeting Mr. McMurray received congratulations for the notable part he took in the recent agitation over the license question.

Mr. Schooley Buried.

Short funeral services over the remains of the late George W. Schooley were held from the home on East Second street, Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon services were held from the Marcy Avenue Baptist church, Brooklyn, in which city the dead man lived for many years. The interment was in Brooklyn.

Expensive Toot.

Charged with drunkenness and resisting arrest, Dominick Burns and Michael Reddington were arraigned before Judge Runyon this morning by Officer Kelly. They were arrested on West Front street Saturday night. They were fined five dollars apiece.

All Ready for the Show.

Everything is in readiness for the opening night tomorrow of the Hope minstrel show. A full dress rehearsal will be held tonight.

—Neuman Brothers' butters are the best. Ask for Rockdale prints, Rockdale creamery or Elgin creamery butters.

BOROUGH SCHOOL EXHIBIT

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL SHOW PARENTS RESULTS OF THEIR TRAINING.

Parents and friends of the borough school children will have an opportunity tomorrow afternoon and evening of seeing what the pupils have been doing for the past year in manual training work. The different classes of work will be shown in full variety in the Manual Training Department of the Somerset street school, from 1 o'clock until 9. There will be examples of what the pupils do in woodwork, sewing and drawing. Most of the elaborate and fine work made by the boys and girls were given away at Christmas for gifts, but enough is to be shown to give a good idea of the general character of the training.

Instructor Sanders will be in charge of the exhibit.

WORLD WANTS MISSIONARIES

DR. CARROLL TELLS WHY WORK MUST BE DONE IN FOREIGN LANDS.

In connection with the annual collection for the Missionary Society, Dr. H. K. Carroll, missionary secretary of the Methodist church, preached at Grace M. E. church yesterday morning. The congregation was large, and Dr. Carroll's sermon elicited liberal contributions.

Insisting that missionary work is the paramount task of the Christian church, Dr. Carroll dwelt forcefully upon the theme that "the Gospel must be preached among all nations." Christ's life, he said, had been completely dominated by "must;" He had given up everything because He "must" go to Jerusalem, He "must" be betrayed, "must" be sacrificed that the world be saved from eternal punishment. And because His life was dominated by "must," His followers can do nothing but feel that they are bound too, and "must" preach the Gospel among all men.

Five great reasons Dr. Carroll cited why the missionary work must be done: The world wants it; the world needs it; it makes the world better; the world should not be without it; Christianity needs it.

MRS. FRASER DEAD.

Was Formerly Well-Known in This City From Which She Moved to Chicago.

Mrs. S. L. Fraser, a former well known resident of this city, died yesterday in Chicago The body will be brought to this city for burial in Hillside cemetery. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from Trinity Reformed church.

The dead woman was Miss Sophronia Demarest, daughter of P. M. Demarest, at the time of her residence here. She moved West immediately after her marriage. Mrs. P. N. Drake, of Somerset street, is a sister. Her mother, Mrs. P. M. Demarest, is living in Syracuse, N. Y. She is expected to arrive here this afternoon for the funeral.

HER NINTH BIRTHDAY.

Twenty-Four Friends of Miss Madeline Baldwin Helped Her Celebrate.

Miss Madeline Baldwin, of Somerset street, celebrated the ninth anniversary of her birthday Saturday, and, in honor of the event, a party was given in the evening by her aunt, Miss Jennie Baldwin, at her home on West Front street. There were twenty-four young people present and the evening was spent in playing games. Several of the guests entertained with vocal and instrumental music. Features of the affair were two birthday cakes, one of which was decorated with nine candles. Each of the guests wore decorated paper hats. Miss Baldwin received a number of useful presents. Miss Uhrhahn, of the borough, assisted in planning the affair.

Speakers for Princeton Dinner.

Among the speakers at the Princeton dinner to be given at Elizabeth on Thursday night, March 24, will be Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and James R. Joy, of North Plainfield. The latter will respond for Yale. The chief speaker of the evening will be Hon. Job E. Hedges, of New York.

Same Old Story.

Miss Daisy Houston, of 935 West Front street, lost a black hand bag on Thursday, advertised the same in The Daily Press. Frank Throne, of the West End, a regular reader of The Daily Press, found the lost article, and through the advertisement was able to return it to the owner.

Y.M.C.A. COMMITTEEMEN TENDERED A SUPPER

President Cahoone Entertained His Recent Appointees Saturday Night.

FORTY WERE PRESENT

FRED S. GOODMAN, INTER-NATIONAL SECRETARY TALKED ABOUT BIBLE.

When He Had Finished, His Audience Subscribed $250 to Assist the Work of Bible Study Among Associations.

About forty members of the newly appointed committees of the Y. M. C. A. were entertained Saturday night at a supper tendered them by President Stephen Cahoone. There were four tables presided over by Stephen Cahhoone, Edwin L. Bonny, Orra S. Rogers and George M. Rittenhouse. A committee from the women's auxiliary, Mrs. L. M. French, chairman; Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. J. W. Gavett and Mrs. T. R. Stevens, served the supper. The small hall of the association building was tastefully decorated for the occasion in bunting.

At the table presided over by Mr. Cahoone, were these committeemen: J. W. Gavett, A. L. Schomp, L. H. Bigelow, F. K. Armstrong, Phillip Suffern, Noble C. King, W. D. Murray, Dr. Probasco and W. S. Tyler. At Mr. Bonny's table were I. W. Travell, J. H. Case, H. M. Maxson, E. R. Taylor, H. O. Newman, Robert Love, A. J. Gavett, A. B. Beers. At Mr. Rogers' table were seated Kenneth Robbie, Walter E. Cahoone, A. F. Randolph, A. J. Spicer, L. T. Rogers, Lindsay Best, H. S. Brokaw, T. H. Stafford, N. Douglas Drake, W. F. Oliver and S. T. Smythe. Mr. Rittenhouse presided over A. C. LaBoyteaux, H. E. Gayle, Charles Dayton, J. H. Manning, Nelson Runyon, H. J. Martin, C. F. Bryan, Charles Zimmer and C. E. A. Heywood.

At the conclusion of the supper, Fred S. Goodman, who was a guest, gave a short talk. Mr. Goodman is the international Y. M. C. A. Bible study worker who spoke at yesterday afternoon's meeting for men. Subscriptions to the amount of $250 for the support of the international Bible study among associations were secured at the end of Mr. Goodman's talk.

The chairmen of the several Y. M. C. A. committees as appointed by President Cahoone are: Executive committee, William D. Murray; religious work, George M. Rittenhouse; educational work, I. W. Travell; rooms, Nelson Runyon; physical work, John Valiant; boys' work, O. S. Rogers; auditing, E. L. Suffern; repairs, F. H. Martin; missionary, J. W. Gavett; visitation of the sick, Robert Love; finance, A. B. Beers; social, J. W. Gavett; entertainment, H. M. Maxson; membership, Nelson A. Miller.

ATE VEAL; TAKEN SICK.

Fred Kirch Was Poisoned, He Thinks, by a Meal in a New York Restaurant.

Fred Kirch, of West Front street, who is employed at A. M. Griffen's hardware store, is recovering from a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning, which he thinks he is the result of eating roast veal in a New York restaurant. On Wednesday of last week, Mr. Kirch with two friends, visited a restaurant for dinner of which roast veal formed the principal dish.

It was not until on the train coming home that Mr. Kirch felt the effects of his meal. He was taken ill suddenly and with difficulty reached home.

Ex-Surrogate Clark Dead.

Former Surrogate Addison H. Clark, of Union County, and for two terms a Freeholder, died Saturday night at his home in Westfield from pneumonia. He was seventy-eight years old and had been a resident of Westfield for forty-six years, going there from Savannah, Ga. He was surrogate for two terms and for a number of years was chairman of the Council at Westfield. A widow, son and daughter survive him.

At Same Old Stand.

William Jeffery, the real estate agent, has renewed the lease of his Plainfield office, room 4, Vanderbeek building, 221 Park avenue. He will build a private office in it for the reception of customers and use the rest of the room as a general office. Charles Force, who at present shares the office with Mr. Jeffery, will remove to other quarters on April 1st.

Miss Ethel Lorton, of Watchung avenue, is ill with the grip.

Candy perfection is realized in the confectionery that is sold by H. Mehrten's, of East Front street. Try it and be convinced.

Don't make contracts for your spring house painting until you have talked with Herman Hansen, of East Front street. Expert work at reasonable prices.

There is no better dessert for a dinner, formal or otherwise, than ice cream—if it is pure. The best cream in the city is furnished in any quantity by John H. Tier, of Bank place.

Horse owners and stock raisers have no right to consider themselves properly equipped without Fleck's Stock Food. J. P. Powers, the Somerset street pharmacist, has the agency.

I. N. Wyckoff, of West Front street, is now making contracts for spring and summer work in painting and paper-hanging. His goods are the best and the workmanship always satisfactory.

William Hand & Son, of East Second street, will be very busy during moving time and for this reason it will be well for you to place your orders early for any work in his line. The greatest care and the best men are employed by this firm.

Good furniture more than anything else gives the house the appearance of comfort and attractiveness. The furniture in Plainfield that leads in beauty and durability is the furniture that comes from Powlison and Jones' store on West Front street.

The end of the week specials that R. H. Keenan, the grocer and dealer in meats and provisions, of East Fifth and Richmond streets, sells, present Plainfielders with their greatest opportunity for saving money on the necessities of life and getting the best at the same time.

The old fogy methods of making bread have been done away with since the introduction of the "Universal bread maker and raiser," which is sold by A. M. Griffen, of East Front street. This handy device actually mixes and kneads bread thoroughly in three minutes and it is an indispensable article in any household. The housefurnishing department at this hardware store is filled with useful articles for the kitchen, while builders' and shelf hardware is a specialty.

Woodhull & Martin's store is just now the centre of attraction, for the firm has commenced to display the new spring and summer dress goods. Of course, every woman is anxious to know what will be worn during the coming season and she will find out by watching the display at the above store. The firm has arranged for a large assortment of the best quality of dress goods in all the popular shades and weight and women in search of such goods will find it to their advantage to trade here. Every other department will also be brimful of new goods at popular prices.

ST. MARY'S BASEBALL PLANS

STATUS OF TEAM TO DEPEND ON THAT OF OTHER LOCAL NINES.

Announcements of some definite character regarding the make-up and policy of the St. Mary's baseball team for next season are expected by the followers of the nine within a very short time. Conferences by the leading spirits of the club, and general meetings, have been held at intervals all through the fall and winter, and the group of enthusiasts back of the combination are pretty close to a decision as to what they are going to do for the combination.

When the discussions and conferences first started in October the ideas were all of a paid team on the plan of the one with which the club romped through the closing period of last season. Since then the baseball situation and outlook have changed considerably, and the club has been talking a half-and-half team and a purely amateur one.

John Owens, who piloted the team through the hair-raising finish of last season, had something to say of the prospects the other day. "We have decided on one thing," he said. "St. Mary's will have the best team around here. Whether that will be an all-paid combination, a semi-professional one, or purely amateur has not yet been fixed. It all depends on what the situation here is when things settle down."

That expresses the state of the St. Mary's baseball mind at this juncture. But there is a decided trend toward semi-professionalism, and those who are in close touch with the backers are looking for a decision to run a team like those under the Alis and Westfield colors. This idea is strengthened by the fact that Alis has committed herself to semi-professionalism, which gives St. Mary's an incentive to go back into the fast company she travelled with last season.

Negotiations of tentative character have been made with Driscoll, the first baseman who captained the team last year, and he is ready to go back with the team again. If the club decides on semi-professionalism Driscoll will be put in charge of the combination. This statement comes from the most authoritative source, and the fans can put it down as certain.

The club held its most recent meeting early this week, and while nothing much was done in the way of actual progress, the atmosphere was cleared considerably. The trend of ideas went toward semi-professionalism, and another meeting is very likely to see the club committed to it.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Waglow, of Elm place, will move April 1 to their new home on South avenue.

—The class of 1904, city High School, is holding rehearsals almost daily for the production of the "School for Scandal," which will be presented next month.

—There is a rumor that the Lackawanna and New Jersey Central will erect a union station on the "V" shaped piece of ground between the two railroads at Phillipsburg.

—The ninth annual banquet of the State Normal Alumni Association of North Jersey will be held at the Hotel Vendome, Broadway and Forty-first street, New York, on Saturday, March 19.

—"After burying 4,000 persons during his career as an undertaker," says the Hunterdon Gazette, "Albertus Simmerman, of Woodbury, reached the hands of the undertaker himself, last week."

—If Vice Chancellor Reed can be persuaded to consider the appointment to the Supreme Court bench to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Van Syckle, it is more than likely that it will be tendered to him.

—A franchise has been granted to the New Jersey Traction Company to construct a trolley line between Rockaway and Dover. According to the terms of the franchise the fare between the two towns shall not exceed five cents.

—The home of John K. Boniface at Morristown, was visited by the stork a few days ago for the twentieth time. All the children are living and all but two, who are married, reside at home. The father is a prosperous merchant at Morristown, and it is said that his dining room occupies a goodly portion of his house.

Dr. D. C. Adams has recovered from a brief illness.

Miss Margaret Cain, of this city, has returned home from a visit with Raritan friends.

Mrs. Fred Dixon, of West Sixth street, has returned from a visit of two weeks' duration with relatives in Perth Amboy.

Harry McGee, of the borough, who accompanied his mother abroad to meet Mr. McGee at Port Said, has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee are now making a trip around the world. At present they are a Singapore.

A.O.U.W.'S CLOSING SESSION

GRAND LODGE NOT TO WITHDRAW FROM SUPREME LODGE.

After the defeat of the proposed assessment plans of the Supreme Lodge, A. O. U. W., in the convention of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey, it was announced that there would be no separation from the Supreme Lodge. It was said that the action meant a continuance of the present assessment with the Grand Lodge paying the Supreme Lodge the additional per capita.

The largest lodge in this State is Fidelity No. 8, of Camden, with 771 members. At the close of 1903 there were seventy-five lodges in this State.

In the matter of membership the year 1903 closed with 7,240 in this jurisdiction. While the net increase is not great, the grand officers are gratified to know that a loss will not be reported. In the report on membership it was stated that No. 48, of this city, had 215 members, and No. 58, of this city, 144 members.

A movement to appoint Past Grand Master Workman V. W. Nash grand master workman would have been successful but for Mr. Nash's declination, on account of his condition of health. Had Mr. Nash consented to serve, it would have been probably the only case where a past grand master workman had been honored by reappointment as grand master.

J. W. A. Bauersachs, of this city, was reappointed to the State finance committee.

LITERARY.

Each number of Lippincott's contains a complete novel, chosen for its quality alone. Often they are by the best-known and most popular authors, but in many cases also they are by the coming writers of fiction—not yet famous, but still fresh and unspoiled. This feature has for years distinguished Lippincott's, and given it a place with the reading public different from that held by any other magazine—yet a place much envied and striven for, as many feeble attempts at imitation testify.

The Burr McIntosh Monthly reflects the latest achievements in the art of reproduction. Each number contains about forty handsome panel full page pictures, including beautiful women, famous men, art studies, hunting, golfing, football and athletic events and R. F. Outcault's latest drawings. A number of magnificent colored prints and gravures. Enfolded with a multi-color cover and bound with silk cord. All pictures are of convenient size for passepartouting or framing. Special offer—Six Burr McIntosh pictures, free, with each yearly subscription.

A Knight of Columbia, by General Charles King, a story of the war, illustrated by George Gibbs. In this charming and romantic novel, General King seems to have surpassed all previous efforts. The hero, a graduate of Columbia College, first meets the reader in the Academy of Music, New York city, on the occasion of commencement day, in 1861, at the breaking out of the war. His magnificent speech, "A Menace to the Flag," deliverede on that occasion, full of the fire of patriotism, created the most intense excitement, the vast audience expressing their approval or otherwise according to their political preferences, for as yet the question of "which flag" was unsettled in the hearts of many. Then comes his enlistment, and he is fully launched on the troubled seas of those stirring times. His varied fortunes are closely followed, both in love and war, there being two fervent love stories running through the entire book. The plot is intricate and exciting, holding the reader in a tense grasp from start to finish. The historical scenes of battle are depicted in a manner worthy of this talented author, who now tells for the first time The Truth About Chancellorsville, exonerating the Ill-fated Eleventh Corps from the odium that has always been heaped upon it, thus flatly contradicting previous accounts. This alone will be of great interest to soldier and also to civilian. The atrocities of the mob during the draft riots in New York come in for stirring descriptions, and altogether the story is one "to warm the cockles of the heart" and arouse that healthy and vigorous enthusiasm that we all enjoy. Published in one style of binding only, 12mo, 340 pages, price, $1.50. Address all orders The Hobart Company, publishers, 114 Fifth avenue, New York city.

Miss Kate Bourke, of Raritan, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Reynolds, in this city.

Miss Theresa McGinley, of this city, who has been visiting relatives at High Bridge, has returned home.

Miss Estella Brooks, of the borough, who has been spending several days with Bound Brook friends, has returned home.

Mrs. Baltus Melick, of North Branch, has been spending several days with her mother, Mrs. Moulton, of West Fourth street.

ALL THREE TO HANG

Car Barn Bandits Condemned to Death at Chicago.

MUST PAY PENALTY FOR MURDERS

Desperadoes of Indiana Dugout Battle Must Suffer For Cold Blooded Murders of Unresisting Street Car Employees.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Hanging for all was the verdict of the jury in the murder case against the so called "car barn bandits," Harvey Van Dine, Peter Neidermeir and Gustav Marx, who attained notoriety by a desperate all day battle that started in a dugout near Liverpool, Ind., where the trio had taken refuge after a series of remarkable crimes, including the murder of two employees of the Chicago street railway at one of the company's barns in this city, the motive in each instance being robbery.

Emil Roeski, who was with the bandits in the dugout and who participated in many of their crimes, is to be tried separately, not having been implicated directly in the murder for which his associates were first arraigned.

The verdict of the jury was delayed twenty-four hours on account of a temporary division of opinion as to making the punishment alike for all the defendants.

A confession on the part of Marx led to the discovery of the hiding place of the other bandits. Marx entered a plea of guilty and begged for mercy, while the other bandits attempted to brazen out a plea of innocence. Epilepsy, the result of heredity, was also pleaded in the case of Van Dine. All three defendants are mere boys.

The bandits heard their doom stolidly. The mother of Van Dine was in the courtroom. Neidermeir's mother was also present. Neither woman made any outcry. The mother of Marx did not appear. She was said to be at home in a state bordering on collapse.

Fear Pro Patria Is Lost.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 14.—No news having been received from the French steamer Pro Patria since she left St. Pierre-Miquelon for Halifax fourteen days ago, fears are now entertained that she has met with disaster. She should have reached this port on the 2d inst. The Pro Patria carried a crew of twenty men, under command of Captain Lafonreade, and on board were forty passengers, an unusually large complement for this season of the year. Among the passengers, it is stated, were a number of wealthy Parisians bound for their homes in France. None of the incoming steamers have sighted the Pro Patria. Telegraphic inquiries have been made at ports along the eastern shore of Nova Scotia from this city to North Sydney, but no news of the missing craft has been received.

Nat Goodwin's Valet Arrested.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 14.—Nat C. Goodwin, the actor, caused the arrest of his English valet, A. Mitchell, on the charge of stealing jewelry belonging to Goodwin valued at $2,000. Mitchell is in a cell at the police station. Mr. Goodwin employed Mitchell in New York four months ago and was pleased with his services until three weeks ago, when a four carat ruby ring, valued at $1,700, disappeared while Mr. Goodwin was playing in New Orleans. When asked about the ring Mitchell said he lost it. A detective was employed to watch the valet, and the latter was caught in the act of pawning a watch and a pearl pin belonging to Mr. Goodwin.

Springfield Now Quiet.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 14.—While there have been many reports of a contemplated clash between the blacks and the whites, nothing has developed to cause the authorities any uneasiness. The city has been crowded with many people coming from the surrounding cities and country. A number of the younger element jeered at the soldiers. It is reported that ten sticks of dynamite have been stolen from Mills Bros.' quarries, west of the city. It is feared that this dynamite may be used by the negroes, who threaten revenge after the soldiers have gone.

Senator Tillman Better.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Senator Tillman, who for a week has had serious trouble with his throat, is reported to be very much improved, and confidence is expressed that he will be able to leave the city for the south during the present week for a period of recuperation. The marked improvement is due to the relief experienced from the lancing of another abscess. The senator swallows readily now and is able to converse without difficulty.

Kaiser at Dover.

DOVER, England, March 14.—The North German Lloyd steamer Koenig Albert, on its way to the Mediterranean with Emperor William on board, touched here en route. A large crowd welcomed the emperor, but as the visit was unofficial no salute was fired. Sir William Henry Crundall, former mayor of Dover, went on board the Koenig Albert and delivered some dispatches, after which the vessel proceeded.

St. Louis Inspector Shot Dead.

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—John Kiely, son of Chief of Police Kiely, shot and killed City Sanitary Inspector John Silence here. It is said Silence criticised Chief Kiely in his son's hearing, and in the altercation that followed young Kiely was shot in the hand and Silence in the abdomen. Kiely immediately surrendered to the police.

IS BISHOP RAPHAEL

First of His Faith to Be Consecrated In America.

RUSSIAN HOLY SYNOD'S APPOINTEE

New Dignitary Ranks as Bishop of Brooklyn and Second Prelate In Aleutian Diocese—Elaborate Ceremony of Consecration.

NEW YORK, March 14.—In accordance with the decision of the holy synod at St. Petersburg a third bishop was added yesterday to the Russian Orthodox church in America, when Raphael Hawaweeny, archimandrite, pastor of the Syrian Arabic Church of St. Nicholas of Brooklyn, became Bishop Raphael, the first of his faith to be consecrated in America.

At least 2,000 worshipers and sightseers so jammed the building that with the heat of hundreds of burning tapers three women fainted just before the actual consecration of the new bishop.

Bishop Tikhon of North America and Bishop Innocent of Alaska, attired in robes heavy with gold and silver designs in needlework and wearing their miters of gold studded with jewels, sat together upon a throne facing the altar. To the right, representing the czar, head of the church, were A. N. Bobroff, secretary of the imperial Russian embassy, and Count Nicholas de Lodygensky, consul general at New York.

The newly nominated bishop was led to the holy table through the royal gates to the inner temple. There he knelt while the bishops placed their hands upon his head and invoked the Holy Ghost to descend and bless him.

As the nominated bishop knelt at the inner table of the sacrament Bishop Tikhon, bearing upon his head the holy gospels, placed them upon the head of the kneeling priest, who rose to be questioned three times as to his belief in the creed of the church. His replies being satisfactory, the priests took from him the priestly vestments and robed him in the insignia of the higher office, these being seven, including the golden bracelets, called manuples, symbolic of the fetters binding church. His crown was placed upon his head, and he walked from the inner sanctuary through the royal gates to meet his fellow bishops, who sang in unison the axions "He Deserveth." The three bishops kissed one another and jointly blessed the clergy, acolytes and assembled people, who sang the axions.

Bishop Raphael ranks as the bishop of Brooklyn and second prelate in the Aleutian diocese.

Tragedy Broke Up Festival.

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 14.—In a fit of jealousy Bert Washington, a negro of Donora, aged about thirty-two years, has shot and almost instantly killed his wife. He then fired two shots into his own forehead and died within a few feet of where he murdered the woman. The murder and suicide occurred in the yard surrounding the A. M. E. church of Donora and within a few feet of the church door. Domestic troubles, leading up to a quarrel a few days ago, are said to have almost crazed Washington, who went to the church, where a festival was in progress, prepared for his murderous work. The festival was broken up by the tragedy, and the negroes in attendance were thrown into a panic.

Ships Talk by Wireless Eighty Miles.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 14.—The wireless telegraph station at the Pensacola navy yard got into communication late last night with Admiral Barker's fleet of battleships, bound from Guantanamo to Pensacola. The vessels when spoken were between seventy and eighty miles at sea and kept in constant communication after dark, when they were about fifty miles off the port. The vessels will arrive off Pensacola bar some time during the night and will enter the harbor this morning, provided the present heavy fog lifts. The fleet consists of the Kearsarge, Alabama, Missouri and Massachusetts.

Three Hundred May Be Thrown Out.

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 14.—There are indications that the plant of the Canonsburg Steel and Iron company will be closed today indefinitely unless the employees agree to go back to work at a 20 per cent reduction. A reduction had been accepted by the men, but a misunderstanding arose over the scale. The matter was referred to the Amalgamated officials, but on Saturday a notice was posted at the works that unless the men returned to work today under the provisions of the scale that had been drawn up and signed they would be discharged immediately. Over 300 men are involved.

Wants His Hush Money Back.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 14.—It has come to light that during the investigation into the robbery of the sporting goods store of Frederick Monier in this city $500 and a note for $1,500 had been given to the owner of the store to hush the matter up by Levi Blinn, the grandfather of Francis Blinn, one of the men accused of the burglary. The other man accused is Charles Hamilton. Monier refuses to prosecute the case. Hamilton and young Blinn have been arrested, and the elder Mr. Blinn will bring a suit to recover his hush money.

Future Kaiser a Good Drill.

BERLIN, March 14.—Emperor William, after inspecting the Second company of the First Guards regiment, of which the crown prince, Frederick William, is captain, at Potsdam, shook hands with the prince and complimented him on the company's precision, drill and soldierly bearing.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 14, 1904.

The Providence Journal suggests Roosevelt and Taft as a presidential team. The Journal is an independent paper and this is Taffy for Teddy.

The New York millionaire who bestowed one dollar upon the individual who found $300 belonging to him will never die from enlargment of the heart.

At the meeting of the Business Men's Association of Tamaqua, Pa., it was decided in the future to buy no tickets for festivals, suppers, church entertainments, etc., and to do no advertising in programme or other advertising schemes. Newspaper advertising was heartily indorsed.—American Press.

The women attending the Smoot inquiry at Washington may think that they are doing good work in following up the anti-Mormon cause, but they must be a morbid crowd when they can sit and listen to the nasty testimony being produced. The "gentle sex" should be excluded from the investigating room.

The anti-cigarette bill has passed the House. When the measure becomes a law, it will be a misdemeaner to sell these "coffin nails" to lads under fourteen years of age. The purpose of the proposed law is a good one and should be strictly enforced. Tobacconists who earn their living by stultifying the growth of immature persons are an irreprensible crowd and should be brought to justice.

If the fact that the P. S. C. ran an open trolley car on a local line the other day is to be taken as an indication of what is to come, it is already high time to register a "kick." It would seem that the corporation has enough on its shoulders already with accidents, unaccommodating time service, and cars poorly heated and lighted to account for. Open cars in March! B-r-r-r-r-r-r! Perish the thought—but let the poor abused patrons of the road live.

Numerious reports are received of cock fights taking place in outlying districts of this city and surrounding towns, but no one has as yet heard of any very strenuous efforts on the part of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals or other humane organizations to stop the practise. Probably each society thinks that the matter is in the jurisdiction of the other. Then too, perhaps evidence in cases of such violation of the law is not easily obtainable by the police. "Sportsmen" who support cock fights do not work in the open.

—The Children of Mary, of St. Mary's church, held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. In the morning they attended communion service in a body.

—"The Fair," now occupying the old Woodhull & Martin's store in the Babcock building, will move April 1 to that part of the store vacated by Hill & Shupp and owned by the Conklins, of West Front street.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. T. E. Davis, of West Fifth street, with a party of tourists, has gone on a pleasure trip to Florida.

The net proceeds from the New England supper given at the First Baptist church by the Young Ladies' Missionary Society, were $67.50.

The ordinance of infant baptism was observed at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, officiating.

The annual business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Baptist church, postponed from last Friday will be held at the church on Friday night.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, will hold a regular meeting this Friday. The bad weather last week caused a postponement.

There will be a regular meeting of the Sunshine Mission Band, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The subject will be "Africa."

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Baptist church, will hold a social in the lecture room of the church on Thursday night. All members and friends are cordially invited.

"What it means to be a Presbyterian" will be the subject of a talk to be given at the meeting of the Young People's Association, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Friday night.

Rev. Dr. Earp, of Grace M. E. church, was too ill with grip yesterday to preach. In the morning Dr. Carroll occupied the pulpit, and the evening service was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. R. Bryan.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, will hold its postponed meeting in the parlors of the church tomorrow afternoon at the usual hour. A full attendance is desired.

The Junior Endeavor Society, of Trinity Reformed church, will give an entertainment in the lecture room of the church on Thursday night, March 17. No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken.

Seven young women and one young man were received into the First Baptist church yesterday by baptism, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor, officiating. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor emeritus, assisted by offering prayer.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of Warren chapel will hold its yearly meeting on Friday afternoon, March 18, at 3 o'clock, at which time Mrs. J. A. Frazer, president - secretary, will speak. Tea will be served after the meeting.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the asylum, and after the short business meeting a social time with the members of the Commandery will be spent.

The mid-week Lenten meeting at Hope chapel Thursday night will be a union meeting with the Woman's Missionary Society. The "Progress of the Kingdom in Our Country" will be the subject of the meeting and the speaker will be Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church. A silver collection will be taken up.

The special musical service attracted a very large congregation to the First Baptist church, last night, at which time the choir, in addition to the regular musical numbers, rendered several extra anthems. The solo parts were taken by Miss Luella C. Harris, soprano; Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto; William Holmes, baritone and George Smith, tenor.

In addition to the musical, the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, gave a short sermon on the subject of "The New Song," taking his text from Revelations. It is proposed to have similar services at least once a month. Howard Case, organist, was in charge of the service last night.

—The March meeting of the Retail Clerk's Mutual Aid Association will be held tonight.

—Isaac P. Runyon, Esq., has decided to build a handsome residence on Coddington avenue during the coming season. When completed he will occupy the house himself.

—The members of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders took a trip to North Branch on Saturday to inspect the damage done by the recent floods. Plans for necessary repairs are now being considered.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met Saturday night to take action on the death of their brother member, William Hosinger, who died at his home on Watchung avenue, Friday night. The members decided to attend the funeral services, which are to be held this afternoon at 2:30 from the house. Mr. Hosinger was a charter member of the local Council and until his removal to Plainfield several years ago, took an active interest in the work of the order. Interment will be in the family plot in the Baptist cemetery. The services at the grave will be in charge of the Juniors.

The Suburban Club bowling team defeated the Westfield team Friday night three out of four games bowled. The Bound Brook team, which was scheduled for a game with the Suburbans, cancelled the game at a late hour, and the Westfield team was taken on instead.

A number of the members of the Brookside Gun Club participated in the big shoot held at Bound Brook Saturday afternoon. The local shooters made a good showing against some of the crack shots of the State, Manager Johnston, of the baseball team, beating out several of them in sweepstake matches.

Borough Colector Charles Sheelen, who was elected justice of the peace at the borough election held last week, will probably refuse to qualify for the office although his friends are urging him to fill the position and give the boroughite a local court of justice.

In the absence of Rev. G. M. Shott, yesterday, the pulpit of the Baptist church was occupied by Rev. George Shaw, of the Seventh-day Baptist church, of Plainfield. Both services were well attended and Mr. Shaw's sermons were profitable for all.

The annual school meeting of the township and borough will be held tomorrow night in the assembly room of the school. Seven trustees will be balloted for and the usual appropriations will be raised.

Mrs. John Radin, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia for several weeks past, has recovered and is able to go out now for a short time each day.

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Freedom Castle, K. G. E., will be the guest of the New Brunswick knights tonight.

Ex-President Cleveland will become a member of the Masonic fraternity soon. Mr. Bryan was raised two years ago.

First Degree.
When Grover joined the Masons and tapped upon the door
The goat it fairly chortled at thought of joy in store.
'Who knocks?" " 'Tis Grover Cleveland, a-fleeing from the foe."
"So mote it be!" The door swung wide. The goat it cried, "Ho-ho!"
"Be not alarmed," the warder said, "and do not greatly fear."
"Afraid? Not I!" the answer; "but—is Brother Bryan here?"

Second Degree.
When Grover joined the Masons and crossed the Kedron brook
He begged, "Oh! pause a minute while I drop a baited hook!"
Said they, "Are you a godly man?" Said he, "Now that's the worst
Of useless questions, surely! Am I not opposed to Hearst?"
"And will you be a friend in need to all who signal clear?"
"I will," replied the novice; "but—is Brother Bryan here?"

Third Degree.
When Grover joined the Masons and the Crucial moment came
To call upon his courage and to demonstrate the same,
In supplicating pose he knelt, a bandage round his head.
The fretful goat with deadly aim upon its mission sped;
Unleashed, it struck that shining mark, and needed none to steer.
"Alas! I knew," the target sighed, "that Bryan would be here!"

Miss Carrie Mulford, of East Fifth street, is convalescing from a severe illness.

JOYCE'S VICTORY.

New York Irish Athletes at Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, March 14. – John J. Joyce's remarkable victory in the ten mile A. A. U. championship brought to a close one of the most successful sets of games ever held by the Greater New York Irish Athletic association, which included relay races for schools and colleges, short dashes and field events. The games were held in Madison Square Garden, which was comfortably filled when the men were sent to their marks for the first event.

One record was broken, John Flannagan, veteran weight thrower, hurling the "fifty-six" fourteen inches beyond the world's mark, set by himself some years ago. The record holds in the throw from stand, limit three feet.

Joyce's performance in the ten mile event was one of the prettiest exhibitions of distance running seen on an indoor track. There was a large entry, and it required several laps to string the men out, so that the cracks could settle down to steady going. H. Cohn set the pace in the first mile, coaching Joyce, his clubmate, who was in second place. The order soon changed, however, and Mellor, one time winner of the Marathon race, made the going, which was fast throughout.

Frank Pierce, the Indian runner, was going easily in third place, with Carr close up. Both were fresh and strong at the half distance, but Joyce had the speed of the lot. The old champion shot into the lead after seven and a half miles had been covered and, sprinting cleverly, opened up almost a lap on Carr, his nearest rival. Hitting up the pace in the last 175 yards, Joyce drew rapidly away from his laboring competitors and finished a long way ahead.

Virginian Beach For Auto Race.

NORFOLK, Va., March 14.—The test conducted by the Automobile Club of America on the beach along the Virginia coast has demonstrated that conditions at the present time render the course impracticable for the James Gordon Bennett cup races. Owing to the past winter having been the worst in thirty years the beach has been made soft by the seapage of water from the higher ground, the thaw not yet being ended. F. A. Laroche made six miles at an average speed of 1 minute and 10 seconds. The club will make another test of the beach in the middle of April, when conditions are expected to be more satisfactory.

The Gale Won Two Races.

NEWBURG, N. Y., March 14.—One of the best day's ice boating of the season was enjoyed by the members of the Orange Lake Ice Yacht club. The ice was in superb condition, and a good, strong southwest wind blew all day long, which at times became squally. Owing to the direction of the wind the boats made fast time, as most of the sailing was windward work. The Gale finished first in two races, and the Junior took the Kidd champion pennant.

Crescent Beat Yale at Traps.

NEW YORK, March 14.—"Welcome, Yale!" spelled on the ground in front of the firing line in letters formed of clay pigeons was the greeting of the Crescent Athletic club's marksmen to their visitors and rival trap shooters on the grounds at Bay Ridge. The New Haven men had challenged the Crescents to shoot in a team match, with five men on a side. Yale's team was beaten by sixteen points.

Oarsmen Out on the Potomac.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Three Georgetown varsity crews had their first outdoor practice of the season on the Potomac. Of last year's crew, which finished second to Cornell and defeated Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Columbia at Poughkeepsie last June, six are eligible this year. Coach Dempsey is again in charge of the men.

New Outbreak In Balkans.

VIENNA, March 14.—Reports have been received here from Sofia, Bulgaria, that revolutionary circles are stirred up in consequence of the attitude of the sultan on the gendarmerie question, and it is believed that the revolutionists are preparing for a new outbreak. The Zontcheff party has directed its supporters to commence the collection of arms and money, and the internal organization has sent messages to Macedonia to ascertain what preparations for a fresh campaign are being made. No open revolution is expected because of the presence of a large Turkish force, but activity on the part of revolutionary bands soon may be evidenced.

Fighting In Santo Domingo.

SANTO DOMINGO, March 14.—After severe fighting which lasted for two days San Pedro de Macoris has been recaptured by government forces. President Morales has returned here from San Pedro, leaving Luis Tejera to act as governor of the town. The rebel leader Rodriguez escaped. Many men were killed or wounded on both sides during the fighting.

Holy Rosary Academy Burned.

BAY CITY, Mich., March 14.—Holy Rosary academy, maintained by the Dominican Sisters in Essexville, a suburb, was destroyed by fire at midnight, entailing a loss of $25,000. The fire was of mysterious origin, apparently starting outside the building. Thirteen sisters and forty-five children were in the institution. Some had narrow escapes.

East Douglas Has $50,000 Fire.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 14.—Fire has wiped out the main buildings and Methodist church of the village of East Douglas, entailing a loss of $50,000.

NEVADA HOLDS ONE RECORD.

In Its Statehood Existance of Forty Years It Has Had But Six United States Senators.

Nevada was admitted into the union as a state in 1864 and its first representatives in the United States went to Washington in that year. They were William M. Stewart and James W. Nye.

Forty years have elapsed and William M. Stewart is still the senior representative of Nevada in the senate, the position which he took in 1864. He has not held the place continuously, however.

He had as successors two mining magnates, as they were called at the period of their election, William Sharon and James G. Fair. In 1887 Senator Stewart was reelected, and he has been senior senator continuously since that time.

The post of junior senator from Nevada has had only three incumbents—Nye the first, John P. Jones the second,

HON. FRANCIS NEWLANDS.
(Sixth, and Youngest, United States Senator from Nevada.)

and Francis Newlands, the present senator, the third. His term will not expire until March, 1909.

Mr. Jones, a Welshman, was senator from Nevada for 30 years, from 1873 to 1903, when Mr. Newlands succeeded him. He was not a candidate for another term, and his name was not presented in the caucus which chose Mr. Newlands.

It is an unusual thing for an American state to have so few changes of representation as Nevada. Oregon, admitted only five years before Nevada, has had 15 United States senators. California, with 54 years of statehood, has had 23.

Nebraska, admitted to the union three years later than Nevada, has had 14 United States senators, and Utah, which became a state only eight years ago, has had five.

USED TO ASIATIC WARFARE.

Gen. Linievitch, Grizzled Russian Veteran, in Charge of the Czar's Army in Siberia.

One of the most distinguished of the officers serving under Admiral Alexieff in Manchuria is Lieut. Gen. Linievitch, who is in command of the Siberian army corps. He is an expert in Asiatic warfare, having passed the greater part of his life in the Caucasus and the eastern dominions of the czar. Gen. Linievitch is now in his 66th year. He fought in 1859 with great gallantry against the Caucasian mountaineers, and won the cross of the St. Anne order for valor in the field. During the Russo-Turkish war in 1877 he commanded the Second Caucasian rifle battalion, and again signalized himself by his daring and military skill. His services in Turkey earned him the cross of St. George, a golden sword of honor, and the rank of colonel. In 1884 Gen. Linievitch was promoted to the command of the Eighty-fourth regiment of infantry. In 1889 he took charge of the Transcaspian rifle brigade, with the rank of lieutenant general. In 1895 he was transferred to the Usouri as commander of the local military district, and in 1900, at the time of the Boxer outbreak, he was ordered to Manchuria at the head of the Siberian army corps. He was in command of the Russian forces which operated against Pekin in that year.

LIEUT. GEN. LINIEVITCH.
(In Command of Russian Force at Siberian-Manchurian Border.)

Coffins to Go with Troops.

The Third regiment, United States army, now stationed at Fort Thomas, will have as part of its baggage, should it go to Panama, 25 coffins. Quartermaster Jackson made requisition on the quartermaster's department for that number of coffins just for the trip. Judging from the grewsome literature the officers and men have been reading concerning the climatic disadvantages coffins may be much in demand.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

FASHION HINTS.

Chiffon Voile Gowns and Vellings For Summer and Evening Wear.

Chiffon voile gowns are useful for summer wear, and they are economical, for they can be worn out the following fall and winter at evening affairs.

White canvas weaves and vellings of all sorts will be more popular than ever, as these clean delightfully and look well both for day and evening occasions.

The most fashionable headgear is the pointed turban, but there are many to whom this proves unbecoming, and they may substitute the Breton sailor shape, the round watteau shape or the old fashioned turban. With these hats is worn the lace or chiffon veil, gracefully thrown back to soften their hard outline.

The imported tailor made gowns show a vast deal of braid, and the blue cheviot suit trimmed with many rows of black braid and oxidized silver buttons is very smart.

Walking costumes are cut just to escape the ground, and they are especially smart when worn with a wide kid waistband.

Transparent collars are seen on many of the smart gowns, and this is a particularly becoming style to youthful girls and women.

Some new linen dresses are being shown in the shops. They are daintily embroidered with cluny lace in rich designs. This lace is not quite white, and it gives the linen for this very reason a rich effect. The skirts are made habit back, with the fullness starting almost immediately from the hips, however, and the waists, many of them, are bloused both back and front over a wide white satin or silk belt.

The illustration shows a chiffon voile gown trimmed with lace and tiny sprays of chiffon rosebuds.

PRACTICAL STYLES.

Smart Effects In Shirt Waists and Three Piece Suits.

A practical material for cool weather blouses is delaine. It is a little thinner than flannel, washes admirably and comes in a variety of patterns. These blouses should be made as simply as possible, with neat stitched effects and stocks with bows to match.

Dark blouse waists matching the skirts with which they are worn are fashionable, particularly when the belt and stock match each other and are of a contrasting color to the costume. In many cases the coat, skirt and shirt waist are made of the same material. These three piece costumes are ultra smart.

Bronze effects are gaining favor from the deepest to the palest shades.

Horizontal trimmings have come to stay, especially in the form of bands. These are of braid, different widths of cloth and even contrasting material.

Accordion plaited tucks are smart for evening wear trimmed with wide lace flounces.

An almond colored frock seen recently was trimmed all over with graduated bands of white satin.

The cut shows a shirt waist gown of blue relieved by a scarlet tie and belt. The skirt has a slight fullness over the hips.

PORT ARTHUR FALLS

Reported From Tokyo, Tientsin and Shanghai.

DETAILS OF TOGO'S GREAT VICTORY

Engagement Ended With Retirement of Only Russian Cruisers In Fight, the Novik and Bayan—Patrols Clash Near Kasan.

LONDON, March 14.—Dispatches from Tokyo, Tientsin and Shanghai assert that Port Arthur has fallen and that the Russians have virtually abandoned the city and its defenses. There is great excitement at Shanghai over the news.

Tokyo advices say official and private reports both indicate that Admiral Togo's last attack on Port Arthur was the most effective since the first assault of a month ago. One Russian torpedo boat destroyer was sunk and several Russian torpedo boat destroyers seriously damaged. The fortifications and city were subjected to a heavy bombardment lasting nearly four hours.

The naval bombardments of the land works have generally been ineffective, yet the peculiar topographical conditions of Port Arthur make immunity from serious loss from bombardment almost impossible. Admiral Togo's torpedo flotilla opened the action by boldly steaming in under the batteries and successfully placing a number of mechanical mines at the mouth of the harbor.

Following that there was a desperate bow to bow encounter between the torpedo boat destroyers, in which the Japanese appear to have scored a clear victory. Then followed a long range duel between the cruisers, ending in the retirement of the Novik and Bayan, the only Russians engaged.

The closing action was the bombardment of the inner harbor, in which the Russians suffered the loss of twenty soldiers and two civilians killed and three civilians injured. Colonel Vershinin, governor of Port Arthur, was slightly wounded. The Japanese used three or four hundred Russian shells which they found on the captured transport Manchuria.

Only four Japanese cruisers were actively engaged. The forts replied with several shots whenever the Japanese left cover of Laothieshan promontory. Besides the Retvizan the battleship Petropavlovsk received slight damage from a shot.

The action of Vice Admiral Makaroff of the armored cruiser Novik in taking a portion of the fleet out of the harbor on Friday morning appealed to the patriotism and excited the admiration of the garrison.

It is reported that a Japanese cavalry patrol engaged a part of the Russian scouts near Kasan, west of Anju. The Russians numbered thirty.

Marquis Ito, accompanied by a numerous suit, has arrived at Chemulpo, Korea, by special steamer, the Hongkong Maru. Marquis Ito had an audience with the mikado before leaving Tokyo and was given a letter for the emperor of Korea.

A cable dispatch from Peking says reports received there state that the whole of Manchuria is in utter confusion owing to the Russians having seized all food supplies and other commissariat necessities. The natives are streaming south toward the ports and are suffering great hardships. The late military governor of Kirin has committed suicide owing to his inability to relieve the people's distress or stop the Russian depredations.

A dispatch from Moscow says General Kuropatkin dined on board his private car and left at 8 o'clock last night for the far east amid popular demonstrations. Great numbers of clergymen with sacred banners were at the railroad station to see him off.

"More American Meddling."

ST. PETERSBURG, March 14.—The circulation here of an untrue report to the effect that the Washington cabinet had decided to support the protest of the commander of the United States gunboat Helena, now at Newchwang, against the action of the Russian authorities in sinking Chinese junks in the channel of the Liao river and that Washington would notify Russia that the neutrality of Newchwang must be respected has created something of a flurry. The Novo Vremya makes this the subject of an editorial article entitled "More American Meddling," in which it is contended that, as Newchwang is within Manchuria and is only six miles distant from the railroad to Port Arthur, Russia has a perfect right to take defensive measures there and that unless the United States is seeking a cause of quarrel it would not insist upon supporting the protest of the commander. Fortunately a denial of this story reached here in time to head off what might have proved a fresh cause of irritation.
